Chapter 17 Unexpected Visitors

Betany is now really scared, and she is sure that something very strange happened to Eduarda on the trip here.

She had seen with her own eyes Eduarda release a red glow from her hands and burn the hands of that stupid Lycan who wasn't even good enough to kill Eduarda.

But what was worrying her now was the monster prince's reaction, he would have killed the Lycan if Eduarda hadn't stopped him, so she can only imagine his reaction when he found out how it all started.

She's pacing the bathroom because she doesn't think he'd come in there after her, and there was Joshua who probably wouldn't let her go.

Two senior students enter talking to each other, completely ignoring Betany there, but as if Betany didn't have enough concern, what she hears makes her even more terrified, one of the girls says:

" You heard? Looks like Tiffany is going to lose her hand, whatever the weird thing the newbie used on her, the Lycan isn't able to heal, and the hand is practically falling apart", just as they entered they left without paying attention to Betany it had lost all color.

Now as if it wasn't enough to worry about Erick and Joshua, Eduarda was literally burning people alive, and if she decided to get revenge on Betany .

Betany has na idea that could get rid of the three of them, but it would take a lot of courage as she would have to face the three of them at once, and look very convincing.

Now at the end of classes she is heading to the infirmary, and when she passes by one of the rooms and sees Tiffany moaning in pain, this only serves to increase her fear, her hands are sweating cold.

She arrives at Eduarda's room, knocks once and enters wearing a repentant character.

Eduarda looks at her immediately as soon as she enters, and looking at her like that Betany didn't notice anything different, so where did the strength and shine that burns from earlier come from? It is the question that is on her mind as she deliberately ignores Erick and Joshua and says to Eduarda without getting too close, not giving her a chance to touch her:

"By the Goddess Eduarda I was so scared, I'm really sorry, I didn't trip on purpose, I never imagined that Lycan would do what she did", she says managing to make two lonely tears run down her face.

Erick, who watches the scene from the corner of the room next to Joshua, cannot repress a smile when he observes the safe distance that Betany kills from Eduarda.

Joshua, who also noticed the same thing, had na idea, and heading towards Betany, he pushed her towards Eduarda, who extended her hand to help her cousin without waiting for Betany's terrified reaction, who threw herself on the ground as if she had been running away from a bullet shot in her direction, and when Eduarda made mention of extending her hand to help her again, she left dragging herself out of the reach of Eduarda's hands, and when she finally manages to get up from the face with Erick who leaves the eyes turning red to be the icing on the cake, Betany jumps back and leaves the room asking for forgiveness and saying that she will never cause problems for Eduarda again.

Eduarda, seeing that scene, turns to Joshua and asks:

"But what was that?", and that was enough for him and Erick to burst out laughing.

And they had barely recovered when the door opens again and a Tiffany enters, but this time there is nothing funny about the scene, as soon as she enters Erick's aura of fury fills the room, but the Lycan was so desperate that she decided Ignore the fury of Erick and Joshua, who promptly put themselves in front of their sister's bed, but to everyone's surprise, she says in a tearful voice to Eduarda.

"Please make this stop, I can't heal myself, the doctors couldn't help me, you need to make this stop."

Eduarda is extremely bothered by the other's words, and feels sorry for her when looking at her hand that seems to be falling apart.

"But I didn't do that", says Eduarda, pointing to her hand.

Tiffany loses her cool and tries to approach Eduarda but is stopped by two furious growls. Erick and Joshua were ready to attack her which makes her retreat.

Suddenly the door opens and a very old man enters, Eduarda realizes that he must be someone important, because Erick and Joshua nod in respect.

"I was called to see a certain wound", he says looking at Eduarda lying on the bed "are you my young lady?"

"It's not my hand," says Tiffany, holding her hands out to the old man.

The old man's expression changes at the same time and Erick asks:

"What was healer?"

"Amazing, this is instinct or missing for ages"

Now Eduarda knew that the old man was a wolf healer, they were very rare and they knew almost everything about wolves.

"Stop stalling and just say what you're talking about", says Erick, losing patience.

"These wounds were only caused by a special breed of wolves endowed with certain powers, but they became extinct a long time ago", he says and carefully holds Tiffany's injured hand, "where did you get that wound dear".

Eduarda feels like disappearing because everyone is looking at her, Tiffany, Erick and even Joshua's traitor, and she wonders how she's going to manage to explain that she wasn't the one who did whatever it was with the Lycan's hand.

"Interesting" says the healer, "there is a very easy way for us to know if it was really this young woman" and looking at Tiffany says "he extends his hand to her"

"I'm not going to let her burn me again" says a terrified Tiffany

"Let go of being a silly Lycan, only those who released the power can stop this process, but we can also amputate your hand and hope it hasn't spread to your arms" says the sage as if it were the most normal thing in the world.
