Chapter 24: Picking up where we left of

Meanwhile in Eric's room...

Erick faces the scene of Eduarda smelling his pillow and wonders if she already has a wolf's sense of smell.

"Does it smell good?" asks Erick, surprising himself with how hoarse his voice is.

Eduarda immediately drops the pillow on the bed and turns to Erick, and her eyes widen when she sees him almost naked with only a towel around his waist, she realizes that he has just taken a shower, as his hair falls damp on his forehead, and on his chest there are still droplets of water.

It would be normal for Eduarda to run away, or look away, but something stronger than her urges her to look at every detail of that magnificent body.

Erick stays there, and to her surprise it's as if she could caress him with just her eyes, and without him being able to stop it, he gets erect as he's never been in his life. As if an invisible force attracted him, he walks slowly towards Eduarda, who takes small steps towards her too.

Neither of them can explain what is happening there. Only they're dealing with something they can't stop because the attraction they feel is too strong.

When they get a step away from each other, Erick insists:

"You didn't answer me, I think I smell good"

Taken from a strength and courage that she doesn't know Eduarda looks Erick in the eyes and says:

"Maybe it would be if it weren't, so mixed up with several girls", and feels his heart tighten at his own words.

Erick without understanding why he feels guilty when he hears those words. And he shortens the distance between them by saying:

"You can feel it pure right here" and points to a point between the junction of his neck and collarbone exactly where his mate's mark was.

Eduarda knows she should stop there, but instead she stands on tiptoes and resting her hands on his arms, she touches her nose to the point indicated by him, letting his scent invade her body and senses, without noticing she licks the point and is startled by the hoarse and serious moan that Erick releases, which seems to reverberate inside her.

Erick puts one of his hands around Eduarda's waist and says:

"Now it's my turn"

And he bends over her, putting his nose to the same spot on her neck, and for a moment he seems to smell the best smell in the world, but it's so fast he can't be sure, and soon her scent is gone completely, but he follow her lead and run your tongue over that particular spot.

Eduarda hears a guttural moan and realizes that the sound came from her.

Taken by a moment of lucidity Erick says:

"Eduarda, this is the time to get out of here or I can't guarantee that I can hold back"

She opens her eyes and gets lost in those black eyes, and standing on tiptoe again brushes a wayward lash out of her eye.

And she puts her hand on her chest, lifting her head exposing her open mouth to Erick she closes her eyes.

Eduarda doesn't know exactly what she's doing, she just knows that she wants to feel more of those sensations that only Erick causes her.

As he watches over there, Erick mutters to himself:

"Fuck you," and kisses her with a passion he didn't know he was capable of.

Eduarda moans into his mouth and tries to reciprocate with the same passion.

One of Erick's hands travels along Eduarda's back while the other squeezes her buttocks.

Eduarda delicately explores his chest with her hands, and following a primitive instinct she uses his hand on her buttocks as an impulse and wraps her legs around his waist and intimate part of her is pressed against his erection.

Pulling her out of hers and breathing hard, he says:

"By the Goddess, you're tearing me apart", and he walks with her to the bed, lays down leaving her on top of him, who is now completely naked.

Eduarda advances uncertainly towards his neck, she finds it so good, so pleasant to suck that special spot.

Erick wants to take off Eduarda's clothes but is content with putting his hands under her blouse, while the other moves her hips up and down, causing a pleasant friction in her private parts.

Eduarda moans and whispers his name, it makes him more and more crazy. She can't believe those sounds are coming out of her mouth.

Leaving Erick's neck, she throws her head back, and this gives him the opportunity to reach her breasts, which he massages, Eduarda feels her body fill with sensations she's never felt in her life, Erick can't believe he's almost coming without even taking her clothes off.

And as if by agreement they both lunge for each other's necks, their fangs growing, they kiss, lick and graze their fangs over that sensitive spot, testing for readiness.

Eduarda now doesn't need Erick to move her hips, now she rubs against him chasing something she doesn't know what it is.

And then the two explode in an intense orgasm, Erick literally screams Eduarda's name, and she whimpers his.

And amazingly he can smell her arousal, wolves can only smell their mate's arousal especially during her heat or when she is very excited.

But ignoring the fact that that is impossible, smelling that smell makes him, instead of being flaccid as expected after that orgasm, erect and hard ready for more.

He looks at her and sees beautiful blue eyes and red irises and it's clear that for her it wasn't enough either.

"Damn Eduarda, I want to get inside you", says Erick, fighting the strong desire to possess her and mark her as his.

Waiting to hear a no or a no from her, I'm saving myself for my partner, because that would be a bucket of cold water that would bring him to sanity, but what Eduarda says is:

"Please"

And it's the end both move towards each other again, and...

"Erick man can I come in? Do you know where my sister is?"
