

Chapter 29 Let's Fight together

Now that idiot

Hercules had put his mark in the sky right under Erick's nose he couldn't ignore such a prophecy anymore. Because if Hercules was there, that could only mean that his companion, the last daughter of the moon, must also be nearby and he was there, letting himself be carried away by feelings for a strange wolf who loved to smell pillows and give kisses in corridors.

Looking at the guards

standing facing the sky Erick says:

"What are you waiting for? Search the entire royal academy, check everyone's security, and all suspects must be taken to the dungeons for questioning, if Hercules is here I want to know where and who exactly he is", turning to Joshua he says "I think that means I won't be able to postpone it any longer, let's go to the royal house and talk to my father it's time for me to assume what is rightfully mine".

Joshua looks at Erick with admiration, at these times it becomes clear that he, in addition to being the most powerful being, is also responsible and takes his obligations as the supreme Alpha king seriously.

We runners have a very strange encounter, Peter and Gaby bump into each other, both coming from completely opposite directions, and seem to be running away from something.

"Where are you coming from?" Peter asks Gaby

"I was going to ask you the same thing", replies Gaby

"Haa screw you," says
Peter and goes on his way.

Gaby shakes her head
and also hurries to pavilion one.

Draco keeps his eyes
fixed on the mark for a long time.

Then his body is taken by a tremor, and he runs to his room looking for his ancestors' notes, as he will need all the help possible to fulfill his role in this power game.

Upon leaving the walls of the royal academy, Erick realizes that things go much further than the appearance of the mark in the sky, as Pedro comes to meet them and reports the kidnapping of the child, the horrible scene of the sacrifice and the words of the boy found at the scene.

This makes Erick's blood boil and his eyes glow red, how dare this despicable being harm na innocent in his territory.

But Pedro is more interested in his nephew's panicked expression, as Joshua has never been fearful, and on closer inspection he sees the mark on his nephew's neck.

"I think they're going home royally, would you mind lending me Joshua for a moment", says Pedro to Erick.

Erick knew that Pedro

was worried about his nephews, so he nodded but said looking at Joshua:

"Don't be long, I'll need you", and turning around, he goes on his way to the royal house.

As soon as he is sure they can no longer be heard Peter says:

"How is your sister, and that mark on her neck, and how Erick has been behaving..."
"Hey calm down one question at a time, and I also have a few, but come on Eduarda has the power of the fire of the Goddess did you know that?"

"What?", asks Pedro perplexed "Your father and mother told me that you were special, but they didn't tell me much more than that, they said it was for my own safety", says

Pedro thoughtfully

"Okay my turn," says Joshua, "Is Draco trustworthy?"

"In the past I would trust him with my life, but now he has been very strange", says Pedro, not understanding the reason for that question but knowing that he has little time

"To answer your question, I found my mate and better not freak out anymore she's a Vampire," says Joshua

"Wow, one sets people on fire and the other is a vampire's companion!, Explaining about your question, if you have to trust Draco, trust suspiciously, do only what is necessary" says Pedro, between scared and proud of his nephews

"Uncle promise you won't scream?" says Joshua as he needed to get this out.

"Spit it out boy", says Pedro looking around to make sure they weren't being followed.

"I think, not actually I'm sure that Eduarda is Erick's partner", says Joshua softly

Pedro loses all color in his face, as he knows the hatred that Erick has developed for his partner.

Not really knowing what to say he sighs, and thinks it actually makes sense.

"Joshua, take care of your sister, your father used to call you a little protector, now with this Crazy Hercules on the loose and if Eduarda is Erick's partner, she is also the person Hercules is looking for", says Pedro very seriously.

Joshua feels like hitting himself, how can he forget the prophecy involving Erick, his mate and that Hercules, not to mention himself and his own mate.

"You need to go now, stay close to your friends and be suspicious of everyone else, remember that nobody knows what Hercules looks like", says Pedro, hugging his nephew tightly.

Pedro knows that the time has come to fully trust his nephews, even if it means dealing with dark secrets and revelations.
"Joshua, my trust is in you. Take care of your sister and be by Erick's side. You are the hope of this lineage. The destiny of all of us is intertwined in this imminent battle", says Pedro, with an intense look.

And then he stands and watches Joshua go to the royal house, feeling fear and pride.

As Joshua hurries toward the Royal House, concern and determination mix within him. He knows that the prophecy is unfolding before his eyes and that his role is crucial to the outcome of this story. With each step, the responsibility weighs on your shoulders.

Upon arriving at the Royal House, Joshua is greeted by a tense atmosphere. Guards are on high alert and royals are gathered, discussing strategies for dealing with the situation. Erick is in the spotlight, his glare reflecting the rage that consumes his being.

He approaches Erick, who is immersed in his own rage. Erick's eyes shine with an intensity that indicates the importance of his role in the prophecy.

"I will fight this war with you, and Hercules will be once and for all defeated" he says to Erick.

Joshua's words trigger mixed emotions in Erick. He looks at Joshua, finding a mix of understanding and determination in his friend's and beta's eyes.

"Then let's fight together", Erick replies, with a mixture of resignation and determination. "My fate and Hercules' are intertwined. Let's protect what's ours and put an end to this evil."

With a mutual nod,

Joshua and Erick prepare to face the unknown.

They know the path ahead will be fraught with danger and sacrifice, but they cannot back down. The wolves' bloodline, prophecy, and the love that binds them together are at stake.

"Now there's only one important piece missing", says Erick sighing, "my companion".
