

Chapter 3 Weak

Meanwhile, at the royal academy...

Joshua watches Erick destroy for the thousandth time this year the fourth.

As a future Beta it's up to him to try to calm his best friend and real Alpha, but it's getting harder and harder.

In the last year, in some inexplicable way, Erick has established an emotional bond with his partner, even though I've never met her, but the problem is that the girl, whoever she is, is going through severe abuse, going hungry, being beaten, and owner of a huge low esteem, and Erick began to feel how she feels.

At first he moved earth and heaven to find her, after failing, he tried to sever the bond, but nothing worked.

Now he looks like a ticking time bomb that explodes at any moment.

Right now he's trashing the room because according to him she's so scared she can hardly breathe.

But what really worries Joshua is that Erick has started to harbor anger towards his partner, because he thinks that she doesn't do anything to help herself or else someone would have already intervened in her situation, and thus he is condemning not only himself to suffering but also is taking him along.

"Weak, that's what

she is Joshua, a weakling"

"Dude she might be stuck somewhere"

This seems to calm

him down a bit, not because he wishes her harm, but because it would explain why she doesn't react, ask for help, or simply run away.

Joshua's cell phone starts ringing, looking at the number on the screen he gets worried because his sister never calls him, he always calls.

"Hello"...

Erick watches his Beta talking on the cell phone, and realizes that something is very wrong.

As soon as he ends the call he asks:

"Did something happen to your sister?"

"It happened," says Joshua running his hands through his hair, and thinking that no matter how or what he had to do, he was going to protect his little sister, "someone put her name in the lottery, and she's coming over here."

"And why is that a problem?"

"Something went wrong with my sister dude, she never turned, she doesn't even have access to the healing powers that a normal omega has"

Erick begins to understand his friend's concern, the real academy wasn't child's play, people died there during training, a normal omega wouldn't stand a chance, imagine one without any power.

"And who put her name?"

"My uncle suspects

that it is someone who doesn't want her to take over the gang, since by right now that I'm not going back, she would be Luna of the gang, or that her partner would take over, and to try to kill her they put her name in the draw and they arranged for her to be chosen "

"The person who did this will face the consequences I promise, but maybe it's better for her to get out of there, after all they can decide to just kill her and alone there, she wouldn't have the slightest chance, here I can protect her"

"Please man stay away from my sister, don't get me wrong, but you hate weak, innocent people, my sister is both, she is so pure that sometimes it seems like she's not from this world"

"Hey relax, when I said I'm going to protect her, I meant

I'm going to help you keep her alive, not that I'm going to make her one of my girls", that's how he called the girls he went out with.

"Thanks man" says

Joshua, "she must be scared"

"How does a wolf like you end up with a human for a sister?"

"I don't think she's human, just that something prevented her transformation, my wolf already sensed a presence in her, it's just blocked"

"I've never heard of cases like this, but if she has a wolf Kairon, she'll feel it, and maybe Tron can get to her"

Usually a werewolf,

they are two beings that complete each other, a person and a beast that inhabit a body, but in Erick's case he was born with two beasts, a Lycan and a wolf, Kairon and Tron.

Suddenly, Erick is taken over by another wave of fear and nervousness, which he knows is not coming from him. He takes a deep breath, and tries not to let the anger get the best of him.

Until a year before, he didn't feel anything from his partner, but from a year ago, it was as if her life had been turned into hell, which made her emotions run amok and she was able to reach out to him, at first he tried to look for her, but it was like finding a needle in a haystack, then he reinforced the vigilance in all the packs, to repress mistreatment or crimes against wolves, but nothing worked, finally he tried to cut the bond, but how to reject it someone you don't know?

Kairon and Tron were increasingly nervous about the situation, as it was frustrating to have so much power but not be able to protect your own companion.

Now Erick was determined to sever the bond as soon as he laid eyes on her.

But deep down he always asks himself: "where are you little one".

Erick was aware that he would not be able to delay much longer to take over the kingdom.

Even more so with the rumors that Hercules was alive, a century ago, a hybrid son of a vampire and a wolf, he became obsessed with power, and in his search he found ancient manuscripts containing our history and a prophecy about becoming the son of darkness, he followed the ritual step by step, it is not known very well what this ritual involved since the manuscripts were lost, it is only known that he did terrible things, and that it worked.

The earth entered na age of terror, even humans began to be affected, and that's when the races joined, vampires and werewolves against Hercules and his followers, Hercules was defeated, and fled in search of the last item that would make him invincible, the blood of Luna das Lunas.

And this led to the extinction of a powerful race of wolves, as Luna das Lunas could only be a daughter of the moon, snow-white wolves, endowed with gifts given by the goddess. But with the incessant hunting of Hercules and his followers were instincts, and only traces showed that a certain wolf or she-wolf had children of the moon in their ancestors, as was the case with Joshua with the spot in his eyes and white tail.

When this story began to be forgotten, a wise old woman, known for the gift of predicting the future, predicted a new war, which would either be the definitive end of Hercules or the earth as we know it, Erick did not even believe in this fanciful story, but the old woman predicted that there would be a union, a predestined bond between the Luna das Lunas and a beast that, unlike all, would be the home of three and not two, which if united with the Daughter of the Moon would destroy forever, but if Hercules united with she first, will be eternal chaos.

Hercules

It turns out that after a hundred years that she predicted that Erick was born and his body is the abode of three and not two like the others, which gave strength and credibility to the prophecy and now there were rumors that Hercules was moving, and that he had found a trace of the son of the moon. If it was true or not Erick didn't know but if he was moving, he also needed it, but one thing he was sure of, his companion was not Luna das Lunas, she was weak, maybe the bond of the prophecy referred to a bond like that of a Beta and his Alpha.
