

The Return of the Last Dragon

Chapter 15 - Escape!

Chapter 15: Escape!

It didn't take long for the two humans to finish talking. After all, their topic was just how to make Falkor stronger.

Well, technically, they were just talking about how to make Falkor an adventurer.

However, an adventurer must be strong, so Falkor had to become strong.

That was why they also talked about how Falkor could become stronger.

"And that's it...you would be able to use this knowledge as soon as you get to the nearest city here." Isobel said as she sat back.

It seems that she was quite tired from explaining all this to Falkor.

Well, Falkor asked a lot of questions and even repeated questions.

After all, Falkor was a dragon. There's no way he would be able to understand things right away.

Besides, Falkor was also from another world. The knowledge from this world was different from his world.

That was why it was normal for Falkor to get lost in this discussion.

"Hmm. You've been a great help. I appreciate it." Falkor said as he puffed out his chest.

It seems that he was truly a little bit prideful as he couldn't say his thanks directly.

Well, Falkor was truly thankful for what Isobel has done for him. It could be said that what Isobel did today would affect Falkor's journey.

It was that impactful, and it was that big for Isobel to share information about Allland with Falkor.

However, there was still something that Falkor has not learned about this whole situation.

He knew now that the forest was owned by the Lors Kingdom and that he was inside it.

In other words, Falkor now knew that he was actually trespassing.

And because it was the property of the Lors Kingdom, there would be guards around it.

That was why Falkor was getting worried about all this.

He was safe because he was with Isobel, but there were probably some women or men who were looking for him.

After all, that Dragon Roar he unleashed just earlier was really loud.

That was why Falkor spoke as he looked at Isobel with hopeful eyes.

Isobel was extremely helpful, and that was why Falkor was hoping that it would be the same with this case.

"So, Isobel...how do I get out of the forest?"

This was the question that Falkor had. After all, with the knowledge that he has now, Falkor could see no exits in this place.

That was why he was trusting Isobel to deal with this one, too.

However, it seems reality was somehow disappointing as Isobel spoke with a shocked face.

"Ah! I don't know..." She said.

After all, it was just impossible for her to know everything.

Besides, it's not like Isobel tried escaping from this place. That was why Isobel didn't know how to get out of here.

It was then that Falkor spoke with wide eyes. After all, what Isobel just said was shocking.

"Then...how do I leave?"

"I don't know...ahhh!"

Isobel said as she pushed herself forward. It seems that it was also shocking for her to realize that she didn't know about the most crucial part.

After all, Falkor would have no use of the knowledge that she gave if he wouldn't even be able to get out of here.

It would all be pointless, and that was why Isobel spoke once more.

"How about sneaking out?! I think it is possible if you go now!"

However, it seems Falkor did not believe that he could sneak out of this place.

"You just told me that this place is heavily guarded! There's no way I could sneak out of this place!"

And because of what Falkor said, Isobel was panicking now.

After all, no matter how much Isobel wanted to help Falkor, there was nothing she could do.

"Ahh! How about...how about..."

How about...Isobel could only repeat those words as nothing came to mind.

Of course, Falkor, too, saw no light in this situation.

To think that the most basic thing that they had to cover was the last thing they talked about.

Well, that was just life, and Falkor was quick to accept it.

After all, Falkor was a dragon. He was not a human, even if he had a body of one now.

That was why Falkor was currently thinking of ways to get out of here.

However, it's not like things would get magically fine just because he started thinking.

What's more, Falkor never really used his brain. After all, he was a dragon! He could just destroy things if he didn't like them.

He could just force his way out if he were stuck in a situation just like this.

He could even just kill the people who were guarding this forest to get out of here.

However, Falkor could not do that as he wasn't in his dragon body.

It was such a pitiful state for the one hailed as the mighty dragon.

It was then that something hit Falkor like a thunderbolt.

It was an idea, and that idea came from the fact that Isobel was a royalty.

"Hey, Isobel, you're a royalty, right?"

"And if you're a royalty, that means the guys who are guarding this place are your subordinates, right?"

"Is that right?"

Falkor said without missing a single beat, and his eyes just stared intently at Isobel.

And due to the pressure that Falkor had right now, Isobel could only nod her head.

Well, it was also mainly because Isobel wanted to help Falkor.

"Right, so how about you order them to get out of the way while I sneak out?!"

And what Isobel heard was the most logical way to solve this problem.

After all, Isobel was a royalty. She could probably order the people guarding this place.

However, it seems that reality really was not lenient to Falkor as Isobel spoke.

"I don't have any authority...I can't do that."

Isobel said as she couldn't even leave this place on her own.

However, it seems that she got an idea that could possibly solve this crisis.

She then spoke as she planned it together with Falkor.

"How about this then..."
