Chapter 111 We are the best girlfriends

So much so that now when the door to the room rings, her heart trembles with it.

"Here it comes."

With her make-up packed, she hurriedly got up to answer the door.

At the door stood Theresa.

"Theresa? You" she wanted to ask something but didn't say anything in the end, she just opened the door and let her in, "Come in and sit down."

Theresa nodded and walked in.

Adriana closes the door.

"Theresa, what just happened was really a misunderstanding, I"

"Adri, you don't have to explain so much to me, you're my best BFF and I believe you."

She took her hand and pursed her lips with a guilty look, "It was my bad just now, I shouldn't have yelled at you, let alone mistrusted you. Peter told me all about it, and I realized I misunderstood you."

Theresa pulled Adriana over to the window and they sat face to face in chairs, looking at each other.

She propped her elbows on the table, ruffled her hair, looked out the window, and sighed with emotion, "You and Anne are the only ones around me who are my best girlfriends. Of course I trust you. It's just that, as you should know, facing Peter, the man I've loved all my life, I really love him too much to care that much."

Hearing Theresa's words, Adriana couldn't help but remember last night when Peter said he didn't love Theresa at all.

Then asked tentatively, "What about Peter, does he have deep feelings for you?"

It was in concern for her though.

But the words fell on Theresa's ears but changed the flavor.

She looked at Adriana in amazement.

Adriana immediately realized that what she just said was wrong and could easily cause misunderstanding, and explained, "I was trying to say that if Peter loves you too, you should cherish it. However, things are unpredictable, what if, what if one day, he does not want to be with you anymore, can you accept it?"

The only reason why I ask is to know if Theresa can leave Peter.

If she could, Adriana truly would not want Theresa to be with Peter.

She beamed with aggression and looked heartbreaking.

"Mommy is not back, miss you to death." A kiss on the cheek of the little girl, full of doting eyes.

Next to her stood a girl of Adriana's age, with handsome short hair, wearing a black smart shirt and pants, and earrings in her ears.

Cool unisex dress, handsome provocative.

In particular, a clean, white face, three-dimensional features, heroic, to stand there, is absolutely men and women kill.

"Anne!"

She got up, walked up to Anne and gave him an intimate hug, "Long time no see, you are getting more and more handsome, turn around and change your name to Handsome."

More and more, I find that Anne's name does not match her temperament, it is simply the opposite.

"That's fine, after the sisters have taken you in, you can change my name to whatever you want me to."

"Fuck you, think nice. However, when the sisters are old and no one wants them, they can consider taking you in."

The two men joked with each other.

Suddenly the smile on Anne's cheeks froze and her gaze went around Adriana to look behind her, "Who's that guy?"

"Who is it?"

Adriana asked as she turned back.

The moment she saw the man walking not far away was Peter, she blushed and immediately looked back at Anne, "Oh no, he's Theresa's fiancé, don't let him know that Helen is my child, otherwise if word gets out to Theresa, it's all over."

"What about?" Anne was also out of focus.

"You you just make up a random reason, say your cousin or cousin's daughter ah. Anyway, you have a lot of relatives."

Adriana begged.

"Okay."

Anne nodded her head and immediately hugged Helen and said to her, "Helen baby, let's play a game, okay?"

"Hee hee, yeah."

Helen grinned and nodded.

"You're the one who forgot who you are."

Peter held the steering wheel with both hands and concentrated on driving, his lips spitting out ripples of syllables, extremely disdainful of her words.

"I just had an appointment to meet a friend."

Adriana said helplessly.

I didn't even think that I would be stalked even though I have no human rights here in Peter?

This is still the domineering and arrogant, unbeatable arrogant president?

Seeing that he was silent, Adriana added: "Theresa is here, why don't you spend more time with her?
She came all the way here to see you, why don't you cherish her feelings for you at all?"

Snort--

Adriana's body inertia leaned forward and was pulled back by the seat belt, her head hit the car seat hard and she was dizzy.

"What are you doing?"

She questioned a bit explosively?

Peter glanced sideways, his pupils glowing with a harsh sharpness, "Who do you think you are? My life, need you to guide me?"

He was a little angry, and his fingers on the steering wheel tapped once or twice, a little restless.

The tip of the tongue arched the cheek, and then licked his lips, penetrating a wild and arrogant unrestrained.

"Doing something wrong to your best friend and still talking so righteously about it, you're really a rare hypocritical woman I've ever seen."

His words were full of disgust, as if he was extremely disgusted with Adriana.

Adriana put her hands on her lap, squeezing them uneasily, her indignant pupils staring deadly at Peter, "I am kindly reminding you, you love to listen or not!"

When he finished, he unbuckled his seat belt and got right out of the car.

Bang--

With a loud bang, she slammed the limo door heavily, venting her frustration.

The car was shaken and shuddered.

Peter sat in the car, watching the back of the little woman walking quickly towards the front, some complex emotions emerged from his eyes.

Theresa shook her head, "I'm waiting for you guys to come back."

"Well, just in time, let's go down to dinner together." It was getting late, just about time for dinner.

"Mr. Alston, Theresa, you guys go ahead and eat. I'm a little tired and want to go back and rest."

Adriana imperceptibly brushes Theresa's hand away and walks toward the room.

Peter glanced at Adriana and then said to Theresa, "Let's go."

"So hasn't Adri had her meal yet?" Theresa's face showed concern, and there was not the slightest trace of acting, which would not make people suspect that her concern for Adriana would be fake.

"It's okay, I'm not hungry."

Adriana came back into the room and was about to close the door when she said, "Enjoy your meal."

The door, closed, isolated the three from view.

Theresa had no choice but to follow Peter downstairs.

Adriana returned to her room and sat helplessly, not without some anger.

Damn Peter, who clearly could have given her a vacation, but wouldn't.

Now, well, it is easy to want to meet with the girl, but only for an hour only.

But even so, she was in a much better mood.

Later that night.

Adriana was called out by Peter, "Tomorrow, to meet Reka, the president of Hetrua Firm, have you decided on the time and place?"

"It's the same request as last time is it?"

The environment should be a good private restaurant, Chinese restaurant.

"Yes."

"Okay, I'll arrange it."

Adriana nods her head.

Peter handed Adriana another important piece of information, "Go back and take a good look at this information, you'll need it tomorrow."

Adriana's eyes flashed slightly, her vermilion lips opened, but she wanted to say something.

Chapter 115 Adriana in Distress

Adriana was so raw that she didn't know what to do.

Looking at the time, it was already late at night at twelve o'clock, she had to choose to make a distress call.

However, before a call could be made, Peter's call had already come through.

"Where are you?" He inquired.

Seems to be worried about Adriana's situation.

"I'm in road."

Adriana told Peter the name of the road, and after finishing it suddenly realized that Peter was not familiar with Los Angeles at all, and even if the specific address was given, he could not find the location.

"You"

"Ah!"

Peter was about to say something when suddenly, the front of the car Adriana was sitting in sank once again, and her whole body was already in a forward leaning position.

"What's going on? What's going on?"

On the other side of the phone, Peter listened to a scream from Adriana and asked with concern.

"No, it's fine."

Adriana covered her mouth and held back the situation, unwilling to let Peter know too much.

He is now with Theresa, if Peter knows about her condition, he will definitely rush over, which will only add to the misunderstanding between Theresa and Peter.

Or, to deepen the misunderstanding between her and Theresa.

Either way, it was an outcome she did not want to see.

"Ask you one more time at the end, what the hell is going on?" Peter's tone was aggravated and low.

An inexplicable anger can be clearly felt across the phone.

Adriana bit her lip, stunned by the moment, and immediately yelled, "I said, it's okay, can't you hear me!"

Somehow, it was clear that Peter was concerned.

Chapter 116 Rainy Night Brings Peace of Mind

She closed her eyes in indignation, her fists clenched together in anger, "Adriana! Adriana! You deserve to die, damn you! You should have died six years ago!"

Thinking of six years ago, Theresa reached out and covered the small of her back, unable to stop the tears from welling up, "Why? Why? Oooh"

Six years ago Adriana should have died in the plan, but as a result, Adriana not only did not die, but also let her ride a uterus, and ended up in a lifetime of infertility.

This revenge, she will never forget in her life.

Theresa's face showed a fierce look, his fists clenched together, "If you are unkind, don't blame me for being unrighteous!"

Half an hour later.

Adriana went to great lengths to finally contact a towing company and get someone to come and help with the tow.

As the rain poured down, she stood in the rain and helped guide the tow truck to drag the car out.

But because of the sedan sinking more powerful, coupled with heavy rain, the operation is very troublesome.

"Sorry, your car is stuck and you can't tow it out right now." A man came up to Adriana and explained to her.

"Then what to do? Now the rain is so heavy, the car is not towed out I simply can not go back ah."

In truth, it is possible to go back and just be heartbroken about that one expensive million dollar luxury car.

"The rain is too heavy, the ground over there has cracks, if we continue to tow the car, it will drag our car with us, it is likely to be trapped as well."

The other side patiently told her the situation.

Tic-tac-toe -

At that moment, suddenly, a car appeared across the street, with double flashes and honking the horn.

Adriana glanced at it and didn't care; after all, it was too dark to see anything.

"Please guys, if you don't help me, this car will get stuck."

Adriana was haggard and felt that the rain had really tortured her enough.

Chapter 117 Sudden Kiss

The heart beats uncontrollably faster, almost leaping out of the throat.

The tension that almost suffocated her was not because a slap had angered Peter, but because her heart was racing from his sudden and dominant kiss.

That clear emotion sprang up, causing her to panic.

But only with this method to push him far away, the farther the better.

Just because, he is the fiancé of his best friend.

"Adriana, do you want to die?!"

The man's pupils are slightly narrowed, the narrow Danfeng eyes contain a stormy and furious breath, the momentum is forced.

Adriana's body was leaning tightly against the car seat, trying to back up, but there was no room to back up.

"I I'm just trying to keep you awake."

She tilted her head to look out the window with mixed feelings.

The man's angry fist slammed hard on the steering wheel, touching the horn and emitting a beep-beep-beep sound, especially clear in the silent compartment.

The two leaned back in the car seat, staring ahead, the windshield, the wipers kept turning, but still could not stop the trickle of rain on the glass.

After an unknown amount of time, Peter started the sedan and turned on the heat.

Drive, towards the direction of the hotel.

On the way, the two were silent.

It seems that ever since they met Peter, both of them were in the middle of an argument, not at all as quiet as this moment.

It is such a quiet and embarrassing situation.

"That sedan I will contact someone to take care of it tomorrow." The first person to break the awkward situation was Adriana, who took the initiative to say.

"No, I'll arrange for someone to take care of it."

The man replied coldly.

"Oh."

Adriana responded, and then didn't know what to say again.

"Hahahaha"

Brenden listened quietly to her words and suddenly burst out with a maniacal laugh, "Something interesting, something interesting, hahaha."

The laughter echoed in the carriage, especially the irony that crept her out.

Even though the heart of the ruthless Brenden some scruples, but Adriana also have to endure the internal fear, and he negotiated a deal.

A deal that is even more favorable to her!

"Mr. Alston is sitting on a mountain of gold, a mere 300 million is just a drop in the bucket for you."

Her beautiful eyes look forward to, smile slightly raised, only the smile slightly seems so unnatural.

As the ancients used to say, always accompany the king's side, accompany the king like accompanying the tiger.

At this point, Adriana felt that Brenden was more volatile than the king. The king, a word, and he, a treacherous and unpredictable nature.

Every second of his silence was a torment to Adriana, always calming down and all but forcing herself to do so.

The panic and confusion, the tightly clasped hands, have betrayed her heart.

"With such important information Peter gave you, how do you know it's not a trap?" Brenden hit the nail on the head.

Adriana knew Brenden was smart, but she didn't expect him to be wise.

"Mr. Alston is so clever." Adriana shook her head, lamenting.

"Didn't you use me to get close to Peter because you knew how Peter felt about me? Moreover, he already knew that I was your man, and he knew my identity as a spy long ago. Since he knew my identity well, how could he take a false information? Besides, I personally met with the president of Hetrua Firm and the information is true and correct. And as Peter's temporary secretary, I directly told Hetrua Firm that Peter's proposal had a big bug and could not be signed for the time being."

Her tone is extremely slow, just listening to the tone of voice when speaking, as if everything is in the bag.

The Alston family will know everything when Peter returns home. The Alston family will know everything when Peter returns to China and will definitely punish Peter. by then, you can take this revised proposal to negotiate with Hetrua Firm and I'm 100% sure you'll get the contract."

She blinked her big, beautiful eyes, and Peter's miniature was reflected in her clear pupils.

But the handsome face in front of the magnified at this time is cloudy, like a storm is about to come.

Adriana swallowed and composed herself.

"Act, keep acting!"

Peter said in a cold voice, almost through his teeth, "Adriana, I really underestimated you. Why did you betray me, and how much did Brenden give you?"

His angry look like a jungle beast enraged, open a bloody mouth, showing sharp fangs, as if the next moment will be Adriana to devour.

" Oh, Mr. Alston said this ah?"

Adriana raised her eyebrows, a smile swirling on her cheeks, "Benefits? Of course I received it."

She pointed to her phone, "Brenden just gave me $30 million back. But he said the $30 million was for me to buy clothes and designer bags and cosmetics. Is that, is that a benefit?"

Deliberately playing tricks with him.

At this point on the verge of eruption Peter's fists clenched, the bone joints at the sound of clacking, as if the next moment she will be crushed alive.

"Pretending to be confused, Adriana, you are really good. Leaking company secrets and reporting to the judiciary, you will be punished for more than ten years, imo, you want to spend the rest of your life in prison?"

Peter took a deep breath and tried desperately to adjust his emotions.

God knows, a man as high and mighty as he is, has never trusted a person easily.

Since we met Adriana, we have experienced doubts and questions until we finally chose to trust.

In the shadow of his anger, the woman's scream was like a stimulant, making him more and more savage, reckless.

Time passes

Adriana kept struggling after, tired lying corpse general, and then later, has been tortured worse than death, exhausted, passed out.

But the man didn't let her go, again and again, for who knows how long, seemingly with inexhaustible energy, torturing her to the bone.

Adriana doesn't know how long he tortured that night, but knows that it was the night of a lifetime.

Tired, endless weariness swept over her mind, and she woke up and closed her eyes again, falling into endless darkness.

The following day.

The weather was fine and the birds outside the window were chirping happily, making a moving melody.

It also woke up Adriana.

She opened her eyes, and all she could recall in her mind was the scene from yesterday.

The eyes are vacant, staring at the ceiling, tears, out of the sockets, slowly dripping on the bedding, stained a white.

For some time, she slowly got up and went to the bathroom to take a shower.

Looking in the mirror, looking at the marks on her body, she was filled with disgust, pressed half a bottle of body wash and rubbed it on her body, rubbing it hard, not wanting to be able to rub off a layer of skin.

Two hours later, she walked out of the bathroom and looked at the mess in the bedroom, so she ripped off the sheet that had been imprinted with countless disgusting marks and laid down a clean sheet and quilt.

Then, for the rest of the day, she just nestled in her messy room, sleeping, sleeping, sleeping.

I can't wait to sleep until the end of the world, unconscious.
