Chapter 181 - The War of the Men

If it weren't for Brenden's threats, why would she be living in fear every day, under his authority, living a humble life?

But what can be done?

She is unable to secure her position, unable to protect Helen's well-being, and when she encounters power, she can only choose to submit and bow down.

Survival in the cracks!

"Not good, not good. The two ladies go down and take a look, your husband got into a fight."

At this moment, a shopper downstairs hurried up, the atmosphere straight gasping.

"What? A fight?"

Theresa was so shocked that she could no longer care less about the slap she had received from Adriana.

Carrying her fishtail evening dress, she trotted down the stairs.

Adriana stood her ground, without a hint of panic on her face.

This seems to have become commonplace.

A man went and sat down on a resting seat by the window and let out a deep sigh.

The right hand on the knee slowly spread out, Adriana hanging her head to look at the red palm.

That is the mark left by hitting Theresa too hard just now.

I never thought I would do it to Theresa, but she did, severing the last thread that had been tied between their friendship.

"Theresa, I don't owe you anything."

She murmured a voice, the face that seems to keep smiling all the time emerged a little depressed and sad look.

The large Waverly, seemingly embroidered and prosperous, the traffic, but there is no place for her.

Even in the heat of summer, can not cover the slightly cold heart, cold almost numb.

"Miss, do you want to go down and have a look?"

The shopper on the side asked tentatively.

Adriana's tightly knitted brow gradually relaxed, got up, carried her bag and went downstairs.

"Adriana, you are finally down. uncle is hurt, you should take him to the hospital."

Theresa said immediately when she saw Adriana walking down.

Trying to get away from Adriana in a hurry.

Adriana takes her eyes off Theresa, only to meet Peter's eyes unannounced.

From a distance, she could vaguely feel his sad and frustrated air from that cold face.

Suddenly, the heart faintly jerked, surging a kind of unspeakable pain.

"Brenden, are you okay?"

Just a moment's glance, she immediately looked at Brenden, an extremely worried look walked to Brenden's heel, looking at his nose and face, not to mention the heart of how happy.

But the face does not show the slightest.

Holding his wrist, he stared back, glaring angrily at Peter: "Peter, are you sick? Hit Brenden at every turn, what do you mean? Think I'm dead!"

Sharp eyes, in addition to pomp and circumstance, can not see a trace of other sentiments.

She said, "From today onwards, Brenden is my man, don't you dare touch him again!"

To outsiders, Adriana looks offensive, dominant and handsome.

I don't know, every word, every word from the throat, are like knives on the skin, the pain, only she knows.

Peter, I would like to show all the ruthlessness in front of you, not to ask for your forgiveness, but to ask your to be able to forget this, to put down, even hate!

"Adriana, are you out of your mind?"

Seeing her so protective of Brenden, it seems that her suppressed anger was ignited and burst into flames.

Pulling Adriana's wrist and clutching it in her hand, she growled with a fierce face: "Can't you see Brenden's true nature? He's using you, are you an idiot or just stupid enough not to see it?"

"Peter, who do you think you are? And who am I to you? Have that time, mind your fiancée and stay out of my business. I've seen a lot of men like you who are so disgusting that I'm nothing but disgusted. Even touching me makes you feel dirty!"

She mercilessly shook off Peter's hand and took Brenden's hand, her voice becoming gentle, "Brenden, let's go, to the hospital."

Chapter 183 Adriana heard the shocking secret nearly died

Walk slowly according to the memory of the terrain in your mind. Suddenly, the sound of a man speaking came from the front. She couldn't help but wonder how anyone could be here. But on second thought, you will appear here, it is not surprising that someone else appears here. As they were about to walk towards the front, they heard one person say, "Are you all ready?" "Don't worry, Alvin will die today." "Well, handle it cleanly, don't leave traces, or it will implicate the third master."

With a buzz, Adriana's brain exploded. A thousand calculations, but did not expect to actually eavesdrop on the big secret. Alvin? Oh no, Alvin is in danger.

The umbrella held in Adriana's hand fell leisurely as she lifted the hem of her dress and tiptoed around to leave.

Fortunately, it was not long before I walked in, and I did not get lost within the maze.

She just walked a short distance, the two people talking over there came out from behind, a glance at the ground to see the umbrella, abruptly face changed, said: "Oh no, someone heard our words, people did not go far, chase!"

The two men were athletic, wearing leather shoes and extremely fast.

Adriana wore a pair of high heels, already can not run fast, and now being chased all the time, she was scared three souls lost, stifling her head and keep running.

"Stand still!"

"Don't run away, you can't run away."

Fang just ran out of the maze, the two have caught up.

Adriana lifted her skirt and ran while looking back, only to see the two gradually closing the distance to her.

She wanted to cry, just feel sure to die here today.

At that moment, even though she tried to control her emotions, she could not restrain her pounding heart, restlessness and anxiety.

"Adriana!"

The man's eyes narrowed slightly, one hand propped up beside her, one hand hooked her chin and ordered, "Open your eyes and look at me!"

Adriana pursed her lips and slowly opened her eyes, her eyes reflected in the man's enlarged face, well-defined, deep and good-looking features, especially the pair of ice eyes like dark stars, mixed with some complex emotions, giving the illusion of a wild and unrestrained, sexy and seductive.

The handsome man is so handsome that she falls into it.

Bang, bang, bang--

Adriana's heart was pounding, and even her breathing seemed rapid and disordered.

The hand hanging at the side of her body clutched the hem of her dress, restraining her fluttering emotions, pretending to be calm and averting her eyes, "Mr. Alston, it's not good to flirt with a girl in broad daylight, is it?"

"I'll tease you, how's that?"

He was straightforward and honest.

"Mr. Alston is that hungry? Today Brenden and I are going to announce our engagement to everyone. From now on, I'll be your Auntie, are you planning to commit incest?"

Adriana raised her eyes, a pair of eyes like a crystal immersed in water as clear and bright, releasing a faint starburst.

"Hungry for food?"

The man's other hand was propped up on her other side, and the two maintained a titillating pose, his tongue gently licking his lips, his narrow Danfeng eyes slightly narrowed.

Suddenly, his eyes flashed, the corners of his eyes skewed aside, the side of his lips raised an unfathomable smile, "Good, then I will be hungry to show you."

After saying that, he leaned down, his warm lips covered her warm and soft lips, his big palm clasped the back of her head, and broke into her territory with domineering frenzy, sucking roughly.

"Well"

Adriana's eyes widened, never expecting Peter to be so shameless.

The man did not move at all, but it seems that her actions were more ambiguous.

How could she believe Peter's side of the story?

"Peter, you"

"You don't believe me? That day at the hotel, you took Luis' used cup to the hospital for a test, and I had it swabbed. That's why the test results showed that you weren't related in any way."

Peter, who has never been good at explaining, in order to make Adriana believe, actually took the unprecedented patience and explained to her slowly.

"No way."

Adriana was half convinced.

Luis and Helen are strikingly similar, with identical eyes, nose and face shape, as if they were carved out of the same mold.

But it could also be just a chance miracle.

"Impossible? Luis, born on the 30th of October, had a difficult birth on the day of birth, so LuisRene was unharmed, but when Helen was born, she was already in a state of asphyxiation. Two million, you helped me to give birth, but afterwards you took Helen. right or wrong?"

There are so many ways to get Adriana to trust.

Before this, Peter was reluctant to say so much, but today once again saw the parting of life and death with her, the kind of cone of pain, he did not want to bear a second time.

I just want to keep the little woman by my side and take good care of her.

"You you"

Adriana's jaw dropped and she looked at the man in front of her, stammering for half a second but unable to say a word.

"Impossible, impossible If that's true, why are you saying it now?"

The sudden euphoria shocked Adriana hard and incredibly.

"Because Theresa is your best friend, I don't want to embarrass you. I have repeatedly targeted you, not because I hate you, but because you are Luis' biological mother. theresa has been kind to me and I can't live up to that, but I also can't let you marry Alvin, let alone let you be with Uncle. Do you understand?"

He added, "I sent you abroad because I wanted you to start your own life, but I didn't expect that I would have trouble controlling my emotions and let you into my heart. My heart is very small and can only hold one person, my feelings cannot be divided, if I continue to marry Theresa, it would be unfair to her.

Chapter 186 Adriana's Hospitalization

All at once, various news headlines appeared in Adriana's eyes.

She flipped through the news app, on which many, many news items were between her and Peter and Brenden and Theresa.

Click on the news, the above is nothing more than the journalists to add to the jealousy of the words, the following message is even more unpleasant.

"Adriana is such a shameless bitch."

"Fire and security against girlfriends, what the heck."

"The woman who is towards the Qin and the watery woman."

"This kind of woman in ancient times should be dipped in a pig cage."

A comment with sharp words.

Despite that stinging cone, it was expected by Adriana.

She said early on that she was Theresa's best friend and would never be with Peter even if they both broke up.

Fear of gossip, I do not know what people say can be fearful, those words seem insignificant, but in the protagonist, but like an invisible knife, she can be lingering.

"Why."

Adriana clutched her phone with both hands and slowly closed her eyes as a wave of aggression surged through her heart.

God is too good at playing tricks on people.

She closes her eyes and lies down on the bed.

Suddenly, there was a loud bang and the door of the ward was opened.

A number of flashbulbs crackled as a group of reporters swarmed in, holding microphones up to Adriana's side and questioning her in harsh terms.

"Ms. Hale, may I ask if it's true that you stole Theresa's fiancé?"

"You and Theresa are BFFs, and you didn't feel a twinge of guilt for stealing her fiancé?"

Because they can't be together, but who knew it would end this way.

Peter stood beside her, "I know it hurts you a lot, you can hit me and scold me, but don't carry it all by yourself."

For several years, people around him have been instilling the idea that he is not qualified to fall in love or to love someone for who he is.

Peter controlled his emotions from time to time and gradually became indifferent, originally thought that a deeply hidden heart has long been frozen, even with Theresa's engagement, but only a superficial form.

But the appearance of Adriana changed everything.

"Peter, you"

Adriana pointed at him, wanting to get angry, but restrained herself.

Flicking his sleeve, wiping the tears from his cheeks, he asked, "It has come to this, what do you intend to do?"

"Call off the engagement with Theresa and give her fair compensation. Marry you and give Luis and Helen, a complete home."

He said it without even thinking about it.

It seems that this answer was in his mind for a long, long time.

"Marry me? A home for two children?"

Adriana pursed her lips and suddenly snorted a cold laugh, "Five years ago, you gave me two million dollars just for a child. Mr. Alston, have you forgotten? From the moment the child was born, from the moment Luis was taken away by you, he was not my child. My child is only Helen, and it will never change."

She swallowed and calmed down, "You're right, all this time, Brenden was near me for you, but I knew it all. But even so, so what? What can change? Your appearance has disturbed my peaceful life, which is not what I want. Do you understand? Everything is clear now. I am going to take Helen and leave, from now on, please don't appear in front of me and don't make me hate you again!"

Peter got angry and curled his hands slightly.

Suddenly, he calmed down, "Even if you act like you hate me, I know that you have me in your heart. adriana, give me some time, I will take care of everything and give you a satisfactory answer."

With that, he turned around and walked away.

"Stand still!"

People just a few steps out, Adriana roared, said: "Peter, The Alston family has the power, like you a lot of women, the ring fat and thin, enchanting pure or charming, let you choose, why must be me?"

"Because, in the underworld, there is a God."

He stood still in place, with a sideways glance and thin lips lightly parted.

Adriana leaned on the head of the bed, wrapped in the bedding, covering the piece of spring, sighed and said: "That's just your wishful thinking. You said you love me, since you love, let me go. Otherwise, I will really die in front of you."

She pressed on to death, "You should know very well that I can do it when I say so."

One word, said lightly, but let Adriana's own heart cut like a knife.

The same goes for Peter.

Standing still for a long time, his face was cold and his fists were clenched.

"Delivery, or supervision?"

"Think what you will."

He dropped a line, seemingly not really wanting to talk too much to Adriana, turned and left directly.

After the others had left, Adriana took a deep breath and closed her eyes.

Leaning her head against the wall, she closed her eyes and thought deeply. From the time she returned to China until now, was she really the one who did the wrong thing?

Thinking about it, Adriana didn't think about what she had done wrong.

Perhaps it was wrong from the very beginning, wrong that she gave Peter a child for money.

Bang--

Over here, Adriana had just gotten a moment of peace when someone suddenly pushed open the door.

The wind and fire rushed in, startling her.

"Adri, something's wrong, Vivian's missing."

Jenkins walked in in a hurry, "I heard you were injured and wanted to come see you, but I called Vivian for the past two days and no one answered. Today I went to her house and knocked on the door and no one answered me."

"What?"

Hearing his words, Adriana sat up straight, thinking carefully, "I also called her several times yesterday, but did not answer, I was looking for her busy, and did not pay attention."

Adriana is too distracted to care about anything else and is now worried about Vivian's situation.

"When was the last time you saw her?" She forced her composure and pondered the clues.

Jenkins thought for a moment, then said, "It was the night before last when we had dinner together."

"The night before last?"

It was the day that Helen was sent to Jenkins.

"Did you call her after that day?"

"No."

Chapter 190 Old Mr. Alston talks to Adriana

"Ms. Hale, are you trying to get the old man to stand in the doorway and talk to you?"

The maid on the side spoke up at the right time.

Adriana came to her senses and nodded, "Oh, oh, come on in."

Open the door of the room and make a gesture of invitation for the two to go in first.

The two men entered the room where Old Mr. Alston was sitting on the sofa while Old Mr. Alston's personal maid was standing by.

Adriana made a cup of tea for Old Mr. Alston, "I only have West Lake Longjing at home, so Old Mr. Alston will have to settle for it."

Old Mr. Alston pestled his cane, resting his hands on the handle, glanced at the cup of tea, and then at her foot, "You hurt your foot badly?"

"Fine, fine." She smiled sardonically, "I wonder what Old Mr. Alston's visit today is about?"

Old Mr. Alston's eyebrows wrinkled, holding a tealight and taking a sip of tea, the calm and relaxed look seems to deliberately oppress Adriana with its own aura.

However, Adriana, who had been through the storm, was able to cope with him despite her fears.

"Old Mr. Alston has something to say."

Adriana stood across from him with a nonchalant, unassuming attitude

But as the head of the family, she was standing and Old Mr. Alston was sitting, to the point where she was a bit embarrassed by the way she was taking over.

Old Mr. Alston's hand holding the tealight stalled slightly and slowly put down the cup, his gaze glanced around the living room and asked, "Where is Yan girl?"

So, Old Mr. Alston is here to ask for her?

Suddenly, Adriana's heart plummeted and a bad feeling came over her.

"She's not here. old Mr. Alston is here for Helen today?" Adriana asked bluntly.
