Chapter 211 - The real culprit behind the kidnapping case

Alvin waved his hand and walked over to Adriana, holding Vivian's arm, "Let's go."

"Up ahead, they're up ahead, hurry up and catch up."

"Stop, don't run!"

"Hurry up and let the people go if you have the sense to do so."

"Brothers, hurry up."

Suddenly, a shout came from behind, from far and near, the pace is also slowly and clearly into the ear.

"Mr. Grant, people are coming, you guys go first, I'll take a few corners with the brothers."

The one bodyguard in the lead said.

"Good."

Alvin nodded and said to Adriana, "Let's hurry up."

"Good."

Night, dark and borderless, a little light can be seen not far away, and the number of people seems to be quite a lot.

Adriana, worried about Vivian's safety, immediately helped her and walked with Alvin towards the car.

A few people just get on the car, they heard a few people behind the fight together, listen to the sound, there is a little bit of tragedy, Adriana heart vaguely some concern.

"Senior, are they going to be okay?"

The subordinates of people like Brenden must not be good, and Adriana felt that those people were dangerous.

"No need to worry, let's go first."

Alvin started the limo and headed towards the city center.

"Thank you Mr. Grant."

Vivian thanks from the bottom of her heart.

"No need to be polite, you are Adri's friend, you are my friend." Alvin smiled gently, like a spring breeze.

"Vivian, did they beat you? Abused you? I'm sorry, it's my incompetence, I'm so sorry for dragging you into this."

Adriana wrapped her arms around Vivian with a pang of guilt inside.

She threatens Brenden, hoping that Brenden will come to his senses.

Who expected to provoke Brenden, he turned a corner and hit Alvin's car hard, with a loud bang, the car shook, the whole carriage moved in the direction of the side, nearly overturned.

Adriana was held tightly by Vivian to avoid falling down.

"Hahahaha, now that Peter knows, all the more reason for you to die! Only by dying can we shut your mouths!"

His voice is eerie, evil laughing, eerie laughter like a stern ghost in the dark night, chilling the back.

Adriana scorns Brenden from the bottom of her heart and feels that he is an uncompromising devil.

"Brenden, there's something we can talk about. You let them go, and I'll be your hostage. Explain, and you can have Peter come to my rescue with what you want!"

After thinking about it, Adriana is ultimately unwilling to let Alvin and Vivian pay a terrible price for her.

Vivian is innocent, and Alvin is even more innocent.

"Shut up, Adriana, you're crazy!"

Alvin growled in slight anger.

"Ms. Hale, don't be a fool, Brenden is simply trying to kill us, even if you go down, it's useless."

Vivian followed suit and advised.

"Tsk says I have a point."

Brenden thought about it and decided to accept Adriana's method and said, "You have ten seconds to stop the car and get down. I'll let the people in the car go! Otherwise, next year's date will be the anniversary of your death!"

"Good."

Adriana answered and hung up the phone.

"....."

"Stop it, it's not possible!"

Alvin sped up the car and the sedan sped down the road as if it were a bolt of lightning, extremely fast.

However, Brenden was a professional racer, and no matter how fast Alvin was, he could not resist Brenden's professional level.

Soon, Brenden's car came after them again and kept crashing against their car.

Two cars collided, sparks with lightning, shaking Adriana and Vivian two brains, fearing that the next moment the car overturned, they will be killed in this.

"Senior, stop the car and let me down. Hurry up!"

Adriana shouted loudly, really not wanting to see them take such a risk.

"I told you, no way. If I left you here, Peter would still have to skin me!"

Not to mention how Peter's attitude, it is unlikely that he would let Adriana off the bus simply by following his heart.

He is a man, even his beloved woman can not protect, then live is not the same as a waste!

"You!"

Adriana was speechless and didn't know what to do.

Brenden kept banging into their car, sometimes left, sometimes back, sometimes right, and Alvin didn't dare to fight back in order to protect her and Vivian, for fear that they would get hurt.

With such a disadvantage, there is a real fear that they just roll over and something happens when they get back to the city center.

Adriana sat in her seat, looking at the fork in the road in front of her, mulling over the idea of going a little faster, just to get to the outskirts of the city, but who knew that two cars were suddenly intercepting at the right fork in the road, constantly hitting Alvin's car.

On the ground, the wheels rubbed the ground with an ear-splitting sound, the carriage swayed around, and Adriana, if not a good determination, I'm afraid even the overnight meal will have to throw up.

"Sit tight!"

Alvin a foot on the gas pedal, want to speed through their block, but although the right side suddenly came a car, the front of their car drifted ninety degrees, the whole direction has changed.

Vivian screamed repeatedly, her little face pale and colorless with fear.

Behind them, the car step closed, towards them crashed, Alvin had no choice but to go towards the front, to go.

"I'll go with you."

Alvin was worried about Adriana, so he didn't have the heart to go back and rest.

Instructed Vivian, "You are a girl, better go back, stay with us, we are too busy to take care of you."

The implication is simply that you, a woman, with the past not only can not solve the problem, but will add trouble.

Vivian knew it by heart, listened to the two, obediently got into Hank's car, and left.

"Where's Adri, didn't you turn on real-time location sharing with her? Where is she now?"

Alvin was anxious and worried about Adriana.

"The phone is disconnected, the phone can't be reached, so I guess Brenden found it. There is no surveillance at all on this stretch of road, and it's as hard as hell to find someone."

Peter rubbed his hair in annoyance, "Damn, why didn't I find out about this earlier."

These days are spent immersed in the days with Adriana, not bothering with anything else.

But I didn't expect this to happen.

"It was just an accident, and you don't need to blame yourself. The most important thing now is to find Adri urgently."

When Alvin saw Peter's guilt and remorse, a wave of indescribable emotions came over him.

The two men got into the car and left.

Alvin told Brenden's license plate number to Peter, who ordered people to investigate the license plate number at various intersections, but could not find any clues.

Peter guessed that Brenden's car should have had fake license plates.

The matter has come to a head, we can only quietly wait for Brenden's call.

Brenden is also experienced and must have been defensive of Peter, which is why he was reluctant to talk to him too much.

"Narrow it down, he's bound to call again later, keep monitoring."

With that, he made another call to his special assistant and asked him to prepare $5 billion.

After hanging up the phone, Alvin asked, "You're not really going to give Brenden 5 billion, are you? By the time the money is given, depending on his methods, he may not necessarily release Adri."

"With your bullshit."

Peter all but looked like I already knew.

Not long after, Peter received a call from Hank, "What's the situation there?"

"Fortunately we came just in time, Mrs. Alston and Miss and Miss Lindsay received a shock and were not seriously hurt. Now my brothers and I have stood guard here."

Hank told Peter the specifics of Orchard House as it happened.

"Good. Give me a good fight, protect everyone, in case there is any mistake, the consequences will be self-responsible."

"Yes, boss."

Hanging up the phone, Peter leaned against the car owner, closed his eyes and frowned sadly.

Now he can't find Adriana, he is distracted, plus he knows Brenden, he knows he is a ruthless person, that's why he is so worried about Adriana's situation.

"Big brother, don't worry, Adri is smart and should be able to protect herself."

Alvin and Peter have always been good brothers, although Adriana is now with Peter, he as a brother, even though the envy will not go to hold a grudge.

Peter was silent, and the atmosphere in the carriage seemed slightly depressing.

After waiting for quite some time, Peter's phone rang once again, "Is the money ready?"

On the other side of the phone, Brenden directly questioned about the money.

Adriana had a pained expression and a few wails, which drew the attention of several men who came over.

A man kicked Adriana hard in the abdomen with great ferocity, "Woman, be honest with me and don't play tricks. Or I'll get you killed."

"Brother, look, she's bleeding."

"How can it suddenly bleed? Will it make any human life ah?"

"Yeah, the boss told us to keep an eye on her, but he didn't let her die. What can we do about this?"

.....

Several people were instantly confused and didn't know what to do.

"What's the panic?"

The burly man in the lead grunted coldly, walked up to Adriana and asked, "What the hell is going on?"

He was kicked by a pale face, forehead sweat overflowing Adriana really pain to the extreme, shook his head, extremely difficult to say: "Can you let me go to the bathroom? I had a miscarriage my stomach hurts"

She made up her mind, just to avoid a few people's supervision.

Several people looked at each other, and one of them, a small, thin man, beckoned them to step aside to discuss.

Adriana waited quietly, and in a moment, they discussed.

She cried out in pain and pleaded for help, "Please, please help me, okay? My stomach hurts, I'm going to die if this goes on!"

"I would like to ask you, Peter and I are looking for you all over the world, how come you are unconscious at the pond not far from the side of the national road? I really don't know what would have happened if someone at the pond hadn't been spotted watching the fish pond at night."

Alvin sweated deeply for Adriana.

She sighed and just felt weak, "Brenden put me under house arrest in a room, and I escaped."

"But do you know that Peter thought you had been taken away by Brenden and chased you abroad overnight?"

"What, chasing abroad?"

Adriana is not at all sure about what happened last night.

Alvin shook his head helplessly and had to tell Adriana all about what happened last night, and how Peter was worried about Adriana, in every detail.

After hearing this, Adriana was silent, hanging her head without saying anything.

It was Alvin who sighed, "With my knowledge of Peter, he has never been so defiant for a woman. You, are the first person. Enough to see that he really likes you, and you are Luis' mother, why not give yourself a chance, and give Peter a chance too?"

Although he also likes Adriana, he wants her to be happy even more.

Such a woman, naturally, is doting on the child, if she is allowed to separate from the child, she will certainly be unhappy, rather than let her accompany Peter, so that a family is complete, the party can be happy.

"I"

Adriana didn't know how to answer, so she digressed, "Brenden he's out of the country, can you catch up?"

Alvin shook his head, "That's not necessarily true, Brenden is too deep in hiding, there must be an expert behind the scenes to help him, how can it be so easy to find him?"

"Also."

Adriana thought Alvin's words had merit.

Adriana responded, "Give me the keys first, then you go to the school and pick up Helen, make sure you do it quickly and don't make anyone suspicious. Just say I've been hospitalized and asked Helen to come along to see me."

She thought of an idea and instructed Jenkins.

Jenkins took Adriana's hand with a gruff look, "What's going on, are you hiding something from me?"

Looking at Adriana's nervous look he knew that she must have something to do, and his intuition told him that Adriana was leaving.

Adriana frowned and her eyes flashed, "Brother, there are some things I will explain to you later when I have time."

Brushed away his hand, trotted into the district, from time to time turned back and said, "Within ten minutes, the rendezvous at the entrance of the district, must be fast."

"Good."

Jenkins slightly hesitant, but see Adriana that panic look, then can not continue to ask questions, afraid to delay her time.

Back at home, Adriana found a spare phone, and ID and passport, just not any available cash or bank cards.

Simply packed up the line and left.

Walking to the entrance of the district, she pulled the suitcase, looked back at the familiar neighborhood, has lived for several months, now have feelings, suddenly to leave, really some reluctance.

"Mommy?"

Helen's voice suddenly sounded behind her, Adriana looked back, smiled at her, walked over and hugged with her, "Good girl."

Finally, a white SUV sedan pulled up in front of her.

Adriana went up, knocked on the window, the driver lowered the window, and she said, "Hello, sis, can you give us a ride?"

"What are you orphans and widows doing here?" The car was driven by an older sister, somewhat suspicious and defensive of Adriana's presence.

"We came from the city, met a black car, and got kicked off." Adriana sought an excuse.

"Well, come on up."

"Thanks, sis, you're very nice."

Adriana smiled sarcastically, hugged Helen and carried her suitcase to the car.

In the car, she took the initiative to talk to the car owner, "Sister, where are you going?"

"I'm going to Yaprua, to see my daughter."

The warm-hearted older sister was unguarded and chatted animatedly with Adriana, and as she did, Adriana asked a few more questions and learned that Yaprua is a very lively town.

She then went along with the car and took it directly to Yaprua, then took a bus at the town station in Yaprua to go somewhere else, and in the middle of the journey, she changed buses on the road, back and forth, many times, and finally found a private car, negotiated a price, and went directly to the next province.

In the car, Helen couldn't help but ask, "Mommy, are you avoiding Daddy?"

She is still young but a smart kid and knows that Adriana has been switching cars just to avoid Daddy's search.

When Helen asked this question, there seemed to be no reason for Adriana to continue hiding.

Helplessly, she nodded, "Right. So, Helen, do you blame Mummy?"

Helen a pair of dark big eyes unblinkingly looked at Adriana, shook his head, clearly small face full of aggression, big eyes full of overflowing layers of fog, but she stubbornly said: "not blame."

The beaming lips could not restrain the trembling, "But, Mommy, what should Helen do if she misses Daddy and Brother?"

"Where's Adriana?"

He questioned simply and directly.

Jenkins sighed, looked up at him with faint eyes, and said, "As I've said, I took Adri out on the outskirts of town, and then she got off. Now, where she went, I don't know."

Peter's cold eyes narrowed slightly and he raised his foot, kicking Jenkins in the chest, "My woman, you dare to take her away too?"

Jenkins was unstable and fell directly backwards from the couch to the back of the couch, landing heavily on her feet.

A muffled sound, Jenkins covered his chest and struggled on the ground for a long time before standing up.
