Chapter 251 I will all walk with her side by side

Knock Knock-

I don't know how long it took, but Adriana was awakened by a knock on the door, and then the room opened.

Alvin came back with a thermos in his hand, "Get up, it's time to eat."

Open the thermos box, take out the breakfast, one by one on the table, "I don't know what you like to eat, just buy it."

"It smells so good."

Adriana's appetite was whetted by the smell of the room.

For her, every time she is in a bad mood, eating can make her really happy and really forget her troubles.

"This one is one of the best nutritional restaurants in Waverly, and it's pretty good."

Alvin handed her chopsticks, "Try the dumplings, egg rolls, vegetable congee and soy milk, all are not bad. "

"That much?"

Adriana held her chopsticks, her gaze slightly hesitant, and added, "Senior, you should eat some too, I can't finish it all by myself."

"I've eaten."

"Really?" Adriana expressed doubt.

"Do it down, don't you have two sets of chopsticks? Let's eat together."

Adriana pulled Alvin into a chair as soon as she could, "I don't have an appetite to eat alone, it's better to eat together."

Eventually, the two sat down together and talked over food.

Adriana is a woman who is not happy about all things, even when there are scandals flying around, she still manages to be calm and unconcerned about anything.

Alvin held his chopsticks, took a bite of the dumpling and sucked in the soup, but his eyes were on Adriana all the way through.

A pause for deep thought.

"Any thoughts on what to do?" He asked suddenly.

"What about? You mean ..... about yesterday?" She took a bite of the porridge with a spoon, blew on it, took a sip, and couldn't help but nod and sigh, "It

"Naming names, obviously well aware of my fiancée's identity and Mr. Soto's identity, if so, why did the other party notify me anonymously? It is obvious that he did not dare to let everyone know his identity."

Peter explained.

"But even so, Ms. Hale and Harlee are still together, and both have been photographed."

"Facts speak louder than words."

"Is Mr. Alston saying all this to excuse Ms. Hale?"

"Even so, it doesn't wash away her watery behavior."

"Is that so?"

Peter's eyes narrowed slightly, cold smile, threw the USB to one of the reporters, "Then please report truthfully, do not add oil and vinegar, otherwise, do not blame me for being ruthless and flattening your newspaper. Aren't you guys very idle? Please help me to find the mastermind behind the scene, then, I will definitely thank you with a generous gift."

After speaking, he gave way to the reporters and walked directly into the hotel. Alvin also followed, asking curiously in his heart, "Peter, what exactly is it that you gave the reporters?"

Peter, who had walked to the hotel lobby, turned back and his cold eyes scanned Alvin, "Since I promised you that I would take good care of Adri, I will definitely do it. You go back."

Peter was somewhat moved to anger, a sudden rage that left Alvin in a daze.

It was only after the truth was revealed that Alvin understood exactly why Peter was angry.

Peter went upstairs and knocked on the door of the room.

"Here it comes."

Adriana's voice came from inside.

After a while, the door to the hair room opened from the inside and Adriana peeked her head through the doorway.

The two just sat there in silence, not saying a word.

Adriana then lay down on the bed, pulled the bedding over her head and went to sleep.

Perhaps because she was too tired and exhausted, Adriana actually fell asleep.

At some point, she opened her eyes and scanned the clock in the room and found that it was already after 2:00 pm.

"What took you so long to sleep?"

She muttered to herself.

"Are you hungry?"

A voice suddenly came from the side, Adriana looked sideways and not only frowned, "Why are you still here?"

Peter came over at noon and thought that after sleeping for so long, he had left. But I didn't think it was still here.

"I'll go get you dinner."

He got up and, without waiting for Adriana to answer, went out to get her lunch.

"Peter."

Adriana suddenly shouted.

The man's pace is a beat, leisurely turn around, a good-looking handsome face actually with a little longing and joy.

"We are not a good fit."

Adriana was silent for a moment, then added: "Even without the mutual misunderstanding, there would be many people to prevent us from being together, and I, from the beginning, did not like who we were to each other, worlds apart and destined not to be together. And why do you have to force others to do so?"

Yesterday and now, Adriana has thought about many, many things.

Agreeing to be with Peter was something that her mind struggled with countless times before deciding.

But now, in exchange for such a situation, is not at all what she wants.

"I admit, I am weak, not as strong as you think. But I'm just a woman, I can't afford so much gossip and gossip, all I want is a calm and comfortable life, even if it's hard, it doesn't matter. But with you, let me feel a lot of pressure, I need to constantly struggle to forge ahead, but also can only see your back. I know I'm not good enough for you, and I don't want to ask for too much, so I just hope you don't steal Helen from me.

Flora took her hand and shook it gently, pampering Adriana like a little child.

"Come on, stop it."

Adriana brushed her hand away, "Flora, this has nothing to do with you, you don't have to come over and apologize to me. I'm tired and want to rest."

Turned and entered the room and closed the door.

Not giving Flora any chance to speak at all.

Outside the door, Flora knocked again and shouted a few times, but Adriana did not answer before she left in disgust.

In the afternoon, Adriana changed her clothes and left the hotel with her bag.

Take a taxi and go straight to YY Law Firm.

Just walking into the office, Jenkins, Vivian and Flora gathered around.

Adriana, however, had a high cool posture and walked straight into her office, "You guys go out, I have work to do."

The company has a large number of cases on its plate recently, and it can't even handle them.

"Ms. Hale, why don't you just rest at home, the company will be fine with us."

They have all watched the recent news, so they more or less understand what is going on.

Vivian then added, "The scandal that day has been cleared up, so you don't have to feel so burdened, okay?"

"What? Clarified?"

Adriana was a bit taken aback, "How was that clarified?"

No wonder I didn't see those reporters in front of the hotel when I just came out of the hotel.

Ben thought he was sent away by Peter.

"You still don't know?"

Flora's jaw dropped, "Adriana, are you a primitive? You don't know anything about the recent news?"

Adriana quickly walked in front of him and blocked his way, "You have to give me an explanation for this."

"Heh, coincidentally. Don't tell me you're the owner of YY Law Firm downstairs?" Harlee Hirsch gazed at Adriana with a look of an alien, "Tsk ..... looks like Peter didn't treat you too badly, he actually gave you a company."

Hearing his words, Adriana was instantly upset, "Who told you that the company was given to me by Peter? It's my own business."

"Is that so? I couldn't tell."

Harlee a smile, "downstairs company and I do not know, a short time to create less than six months, rapid development, amazing performance, with you, how possible to do?"

He bypassed Adriana and walked straight inside the floor being renovated.

Adriana stood still, her mind reverberating with what Harlee had said, not without some loss and ..... despair.

This is the result of being with Peter. Any result that you have fought with your own hands will be said to be given by Peter.

YY Law Firm did have an impressive track record, and that was because after the collapse of Hale Cobb Law Firm, the old staff still had the client resources in their hands, so the new YY Law Firm had an impressive track record in the short term.

Even though Peter has introduced her to many clients this month, it does not negate the performance of her company.

Inside the office, Harlee stood there, looking at Adriana's back through that one glass window, and could somehow feel her sad and despondent air.

Heartfelt compassion.

Damn, he's actually going to pity a mother who has a child?

Seeing her like that, Harlee got annoyed and walked out of the office, "Hey, what are you doing standing there?"

Adriana glanced at him, turned around and walked away, "None of your business."

"Don't you want this floor? Little Master can let you have it." Harlee also did not expect that the company downstairs would be Adriana's.

How could it be such a coincidence?

I never thought it would be such a coincidence.

Adriana took a step and took a deep breath to calm her emotions, "Conditions." She asked.

How could Adriana know that it would be him?

"Nonsense, does not it fit the temperament of the young master."

Adriana smiled awkwardly, "Yes, yes, yes, yes, yes, it fits, it fits." It simply does not fit too well.

"Hurry up and add back to me or I'll go straight to your company now." His words came out as a threat.

"Got it."

Adriana answered helplessly, hung up the phone and immediately added him back.

"Wandering lunatics? Why not just call it crazy, wouldn't it be more appropriate."

She grunted coldly, put down her phone, and devoted herself to her work.

Adriana frowned in some boredom and opened her phone to look at the avatar and knew it was a message from Harlee.

It was a voice message, and after clicking on it, I heard the other party say, "We are already friends, can't we say hello?"

"Well, hello."

Adriana replied with a voice message that was extremely perfunctory.

Then, received back: [.....]

An apostrophe.

Adriana was amused by the apostrophe, but with her busy schedule in hand, she didn't have time to talk to Harlee that much and replied, "I'm busy, I'll chat when I have time."

She's not as relaxed as Harlee.

Now the company piled up a pair of cases that she needs to deal with, there is no time to chat with him.

A glass of red wine poured over the head, immediately wet Adriana's small face, dripping down the chin on the white professional dress shirt, stained a mess.

Adriana closed her eyes, took a deep breath, and then slowly opened them, pulling out a tissue and wiping the wine stains from her cheeks.

A stern gaze was directed at Harlee, expecting him to give an explanation.

He put his hands together and made a begging gesture towards her, and then he said to Sloane: "What are you doing? Adriana is my friend, why are you spilling your guts here?"

Sloane's facial muscles twitched in anger, and he heavily placed the tall glass in his hand on the table, "Harlee, who do you want to hang out with, but you want to get together with this bitch Adriana? My brother even washed his hands of her two days ago, I think you two are having an adulterous affair. You're an asshole too!"

She was furious, "Harlee, I'm telling you, from now on, I, Sloane, am done with you, and don't you come looking for me."

Then, raising her hand, she pointed at Adriana, "And you, shameless woman, don't ever appear in front of me again."

Knocking the goblet off the table, he turned around in anger and left in a huff.

Harlee stood in place and shouted in a disgusted tone, "Sloane? Sloane? Don't you get mad Sloane....."

The voice sounded like guilt mixed with a little bit of repentance, but Adriana looked up and found Harlee's handsome, demonic face with a smug smile of successful schemes.

Asshole!

Adriana was furious and would have stormed out if it weren't for the fact that Sloane had just left and she was afraid of any head-on confrontation with Sloane.

"I'm sorry to put you through this."

Harlee handed over a few tissues.

"Involved? Heh, sure it's not Mr. Gu a scheme in the first place?" Just now, he said he was Harlee, but now he thinks he is an old fox all the time.

Glancing around, it was good that it was still early and there was no one in the western restaurant, otherwise Adriana felt she must have lost face.

"I didn't really mean to do it. You also know Sloane kind of nature, until the yellow river heart will not die, I just want to break off the relationship with her."

Adriana slowly lowered her head, both eyebrows against the locked spring mountains, a haze under her eyes, "Peter, I need quiet now, please don't disturb me, okay?Helen is at your place, I am very relieved, take good care of her and Luis."

Peter is Helen's father, and she is very relieved to be placed in his care.

In any case, The Alston family is very fond of Helen, even though they don't like her.

"What will it take for you to forgive me?" Peter was so helpless in a hundred ways that even his words were slightly frustrated and disheveled.

In the business world, he has never felt the taste of failure, but he was repeatedly frustrated with Adriana, which once made him doubt his life.

Adriana's eyes fell on his hand resting on the backrest of the executive chair, brushing it away gently, turning the aspect to look at the contract on the table once more, "There is no anger, what is forgiveness."

This sentence is said with all sincerity.

Perhaps yesterday, or the morning is still angry, but gradually she has let go of all.

The reason why I am angry is because I am not capable enough to get a foothold beside Peter and rule the world with him.

"I know this whole thing is really my fault, but can you not stay angry like this? Don't want to see me, I can not appear in front of you, but the child is innocent."

Peter some wretched, spread his hands, can not say helpless, actually do not know how to be good.

"It's good that the child has you."

She said coldly.

Standing aside the man's eyes narrowed slightly, patient apologies, repeatedly not accepted, his pride made, and even some anger.

Nodded, "Good. Then wait until you think about it before you go see the baby."

Say it, Peter turned around and left directly, without looking back, walking with determination.

Adriana stood still, carrying her duffel bag, looking up, looking up at Peter, "See? It should be clear to you that we are not right together. the presence of Theresa, the obstruction of The Alston family, the opposition of your mother and your sister, will all be a hindrance between us. As I said, a marriage without a blessing cannot be happy."

Every time The Alston family got in the way, it left a shadow in Adriana's heart.

Even though countless times I told myself that I could try to get together.

But she really tried, tried hard to take the first step, only the results were very unpromising.

"Are you okay? Did you hurt anywhere?"

Peter took her hand with a look of concern.

The big palm just touched Adriana's hand, she retracted and took a step back, distancing herself from him.

"Peter, there's no need to avoid the topic, some things can't be solved without you thinking about them. The matter of the child is a misunderstanding, but it is not a shackle between us."

Once again, she asserts her position.

Peter's face was chilly, and his thick eyebrows, which were dyed like ink, wrinkled, "What, want to take Helen away and get out of my sight once again?"

"I gave birth to the child, why not?" She didn't give an inch.

"Is that so?"

The man's face was gloomy, "You seem to forget that at first it was just a deal between you and me. I gave you money, the child is my Peter, even though you raised her to adulthood, you can not ignore the contents of the contract. I can pay you, but the child cannot be taken away."

It was Peter's decision.

After saying that, he added, "You only have two choices to make. One, leave on your own, or two, stay and be the mother of two children, my Peter's wife."

Adriana was busy in the office for a while when there was a knock on the office door and someone pushed in, "Ms. Hale, Mrs. Alston is here."

Vivian walked in and said.

"Let her in."

Adriana hesitated for a moment, but then she realized what Mrs. Alston was doing here.

There is always no escaping the meeting and accountability, so we can only face it honestly.

Vivian's eyes were a little uneasy, and she withdrew with a grimace. Mrs. Alston came in, and Vivian closed the door and stood outside.

"Auntie, what brings you here?"

Adriana adjusted her mind, kept a light smile, and motioned for Mrs. Alston to be seated. In turn, she went to pour her a cup of tea and handed it to her.

But the tea in her hand was sent out, Mrs. Alston did not take it at all, but only stretched out his hand, his right hand playing with the nails of his left hand, the gesture leisurely, vaguely revealing the disdain and contempt for her.
