Chapter 61 Peter is exposed

The police chief also knew that there was something fishy about the matter, but could not assume without any evidence.

"Investigate immediately, I will only see the results."

Peter's face became increasingly gloomy, frowning slightly, rarely serious.

"This thing is getting fishy. But if we can't find the real culprit behind the scene, will the real danger be Brenda?"

Adriana made a simple analysis, then murmured, "If it wasn't for your misbehavior, the other side wouldn't have had to make a big deal out of Brenda's affair against you."

Giving Peter a vicious glare, he felt deeply sorry for Theresa.

Whether or not Peter is the mastermind of this incident, the fact that he slept with Brenda is also a nail in the coffin.

"Am I the kind of person who is hungry in your mind?"

Peter grimaced.

"Or what?"

Adriana's eyes dodged, not daring to look directly at Peter, after all

Although the mouth said Peter bastard, in fact, Adriana many times self-doubt, after all, she also betrayed Theresa, although the victim, but in the end is still sorry for her.

Looking down at the small woman in front of her, her white cheeks like good sheep's fat jade are white and red, perhaps because of blushing, so the skin is pink and tender and attractive.

Peter took a glimpse of her expression, as if he could detect her guilt and uneasiness, and couldn't stop his lips from raising an arc, "Are you talking about yourself? Don't forget, we're all in the same boat."

"Who's in the same boat as you?"

"You."

"Nonsense!"

"You slept through it all and now you don't admit it?"

"Peter, you you bastard."

Chapter 62 Investigating the Truth

Out of the hospital, Peter got into his car and slammed the door.

Assistant Hank gave Adriana a meaningful look, but seeing that his boss didn't say anything, he had to go around to the driver's seat and start the sedan.

Adriana stood by the side, in addition to Peter's bodyguards will be surrounded by those reporters, talking, seemingly endless questions and words.

Faced with such a situation, Adriana did not know how to get out of the whole body.

Suddenly, a sense of fear was born.

Looking blearily at Peter sitting in the car, perhaps she herself did not realize that at this moment, she pinned all her hopes on Peter, hoping that he would take her away from the place of right and wrong.

Just then, the car window slowly lowered, revealing Peter's familiar and handsome face, "Still not up, waiting to die?"

"Oh."

Adriana answered, stepped forward and pulled open the limo door and sat in it.

The car started up and left in the dust.

The three people in the carriage are silent, the atmosphere is low and gloomy.

"Peter, I I really didn't mean to do it." She opened her mouth once more to explain, "I didn't expect things to brew up like this either, I"

"Isn't that what you like to see? You have a grudge against me for ruining your Hale Cobb Law Firm, and you're using Brenda's case to make a big splash and ruin my reputation."

The man obviously didn't believe her.

"Stop the car." He commanded.

Hank immediately pulled the car over to the side of the road and Peter spoke again, "Get out."

"You"!

Adriana pursed her lips, a cavity of anger, pushed open the door of the limousine immediately get out, and slammed the door of the limousine, as if in the heart to vent the discontent.

The car started up again and left in the dust.

What do you want Theresa to say if you don't lie to her?

Is it hard to say that Peter escorted her to the hospital yesterday?

Adriana never wanted to be a marriage wrecker for the two of them, only that Peter was of bad character and not good enough for Theresa.

Even though she wanted to take advantage of Brenda's opportunity to let Theresa recognize Peter's character, Theresa not only did not believe, but also angrily disliked her for not interfering.

Now, Adriana tried to explain, and Theresa would not believe it.

In that case, what else could she say.

"Adriana, you disappoint me so much. Do you know that this afternoon is an important day for the Coastal Bay Project bidding? Because of the fermentation of the incident, Alston Group was directly disqualified from bidding, and lost billions of dollars invested in the project for nothing!"

Theresa was so angry that her face turned red, clutching her handbag tightly in her hand, and said angrily: "Since Peter has compensated your company, please go and talk to the media clearly. Besides, you'd better leave the country after you've dealt with the matter. I don't want to see you again."

Putting down a sentence, Theresa directly turned around and left.

Looking at her back, Adriana opened her lips, but in the end did not say a word.

Adriana genuinely sees her as her best friend, and it all started with Theresa's engagement ceremony, but the fatal one was on the day of Alvin's birthday party, when she was inexplicably drugged, and although she investigated the surveillance afterwards, she didn't find out who drugged her in the end.

If not for that one time, how could she have had sex with Peter?

Adriana helplessly raised her hand and slapped her forehead, "What a meltdown!" Silently walked to the side of the bench and sat down.

But she didn't know that Peter's fiancée would have been her if Theresa hadn't conspired to take away her very precious necklace.

She also didn't know that the person who drugged her that time on the cruise ship was her best friend Theresa.

It was also Theresa herself who sent Adriana to Peter's bed by mistake.

"Peter, I've figured out a way to deal with you."

After sitting in the cell for a long time, Adriana finally decided to intervene in the matter, and only after solving Peter's crisis, he would step in to solve Hayley's matter.

Adriana had no choice but to do so.

"Waste, the district can't even find a manager."

Peter chided.

Suddenly, his eyes narrowed slightly, stunned a smooth, but the corners of his lips could not help but raise an arc, smiling strangely.

"Okay, it's getting late, get off work."

Raising his wrist to look at the time, it was after six o'clock, just after closing time.

Hank was in a fog, "Such a big thing happened in the company, the outside news is brewing fermentation, boss really don't care, Night KTV manager is the key figure in the incident, can't find him what to do?"

"Why don't you have this time to investigate who got those people in custody killed."

Peter is almost certain that Adriana must be responsible for the disappearance of the Night KTV manager.

From the beginning, he didn't care about Brenda and didn't bother to investigate.

Brenda, on the other hand, was the only person he investigated, but came up empty-handed.

"So should we interrogate Brenda? That woman is also very suspicious." Hank said.

"No need, put a long line to catch a big fish. I'd like to know who is laying the groundwork, deliberately exposing so many suspicions and loopholes, how can their purpose be as simple as appearances?"

"Is this the boss's plan to put a plan in place?"

Meanwhile, the fifth floor of an abandoned building.

"Uhhhhhhh"

The man tied to the post struggled and howled, but with a cloth in his mouth and blindfolded, he could not see anything.

Adriana stood aside and said to her bodyguard, "Let him talk and take off the blindfold."

Suited and well-trained bodyguards removed the cloth from the man's mouth as well as the blindfold.

"Tomorrow Peter will hold a press conference, you can clarify it in person, and I will give you a million as compensation afterwards."

"One million? Really?"

"Yes."

"Okay, I got it."

The mention of money really worked well, and Brenda easily agreed.

But Adriana can't forgive herself for lying to Brenda.

This one thing is too much suspicion, all things are clearly directed at Peter, she and Brenda is just a pawn used by the backroom manipulator.

Even Van did the same.

However, Van has already paid an irreparable price, and Adriana does not want Brenda to fall deeper into it, fearing that Van's downfall will be Brenda's downfall.

The next day, the Alston Group held a press conference and Brenda was there. Peter produced video evidence and the forensic report of the Public Security Bureau on Brenda's mother's death, all of which proved that everything was a false accusation.

Peter claimed to the outside world that it was a backroom manipulation by his peers to discredit Alston Group.

The launch event ended perfectly and the crisis of Alston Group was lifted.

Afterwards, Brenda approached Adriana, who transferred a million dollars directly to her bank account.

Everything seemed to be solved perfectly and a storm was killed in the cradle just as it was brewing.

But that's just the appearance.

The killer behind it does not show up and no clues can be found.

And the Alston Group lost a lot of money because they lost the Coastal Bay Project!

Alston Group.

"Boss, all leads were cut off after Van's death." Hank walked into the office and told the truth.

Peter stood in front of the floor-to-ceiling windows, overlooking the large Waverly, and fell into contemplation.

"Pull back and stay put. Have someone keep a careful eye on Brenda."

There was silence for a while before he admonished, and then added, "Strengthen the protection of Luis recently."

Both before and now, Adriana is very uncomfortable with parting.

After bidding goodbye to Vivian, Adriana went downstairs with her gift.

I just walked out of the elevator lobby on the first floor, but I found Alvin and Flora walking out from outside.

She panicked a little and immediately turned around and walked to the entrance of the stairway and hid inside.

"Alvin, what did you think of that movie just now, was it good?" Flora's sweet voice came from outside.

"It's okay." Alvin replied without walking away.

"Have you seen the movie with Adriana?"

"She?" Alvin hesitated a bit, then shook his head, "No."

"Really? That means I'm the first person to see a movie with you? How nice. Let's go, the elevator's here, let's go in."

And then the voices outside quieted down.

Adriana stepped out from the stairway and looked at the elevator monitor that kept changing floor numbers, she pursed her lips.

Senior, I'm leaving.

A brief encounter, followed by separation.

Adriana was a little dripping with emotion and seemed to really dislike the feeling.

With her baggage in hand, Adriana took a taxi straight to Waverly Airport, where she picked up her ticket.

Standing in the large airport lounge, Adriana looked at the ticket in her hand and felt infinite emotions in her heart.

I have to leave Waverly after all, maybe it's not really the right place for her.

"Let's go, Waverly."

With a sigh, Adriana carried her bags towards the ticket gate and stood in line.

As he spoke, he raised his hand and tapped the Ipad on the desktop, indicating something.

"Mr. Alston, are you threatening me? A society under the rule of law, not afraid of going to jail?"

Adriana forced herself to be calm, but her mind was unbelievable.

Brenden spread his hands with a look of indifference, "I'll let you go as long as you can afford to put me in jail."

The implication is that you simply do not have that strength, unnecessary and useless struggle.

"You"

Faced with his arrogant and carefree attitude, Adriana is a little broken, but inside she is very worried about Helen's situation.

The two men looked at each other, four eyes, and the sword-armed atmosphere was slightly condensed.

She tried her best to force herself to be calm, and then walked to the sofa and sat down, picked up the tea and took a sip.

said, "There is one thing I am rather curious about, Mr. Alston has gone to such great lengths, may I ask what my value is?"

After saying that, Adriana immediately added, "I just want to hear the truth."

"With a monthly salary of 100,000, just do a good job. You don't have to know too much about the rest."

His attitude was slightly cold, unwilling to tell Adriana the real situation.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Alston's insincere attitude makes it difficult to comply."

Adriana did not want to continue talking to him and got up to leave, also taking this opportunity to test Brenden's attitude.

Wanted to see exactly what he would do.

"If you don't want to never see that cute little girl Helen again in your life, just go."

The breeze threatens, eating up Adriana seems to be.

"Mr. Alston, what exactly do you want to do? I am just a lawyer, if you are in shortage of talents I can recommend you many sage talents, even those who are more capable than me have many candidates. You keep clinging to me, but do not tell me what purpose, why should I cooperate with you!"

Adriana was a little angry and didn't want to continue talking to Brenden at all.

"I know in my heart whether you have value or not, just go to work honestly at Alston Group and get a two-way salary, why not?"

Then, the man took out another bank card and put it on the table, "Here is fifty million dollars, your reward."

"Uncle, what are you talking about, Auntie is in the hospital and now you're hooking up with another woman, is that appropriate?"

Peter looked cool, "Not afraid of being known by grandpa?"

"Peter, you don't have to ask questions about Uncle's business. Just do as I say." Brenden's attitude is hard, as if not to discuss with him.

"No way."

Peter refused outright.

If it had been another woman, it would have been fine, but the fact that this person was Adriana was unacceptable to him.

"Adriana, you're a real bitch, you couldn't get Alvin and now you're hitting on me, Uncle?"

He really doubts that Auntie's car accident is directly related to Adriana.

I can't believe I even pretended to look confused that day and pretended not to know Brenden.

Now that I think about it, I feel like a joke.

"Peter, I"

He was a humiliation, Adriana angry red face, just want to retort, but heard Brenden said: "your Auntie things and Adriana has nothing to do, but hospital side came to say that your Auntie time is not much, when the time likely you will have to address Adriana as Auntie."

He smiled mysteriously and raised his hand to pat Adriana's shoulder, "Adriana, with me, you don't need to be afraid now, and you don't need to leave the country. In the future, honestly go to Alston Group legal department to work, I go back to my father to say a word."

This time, he did not consult Peter's opinion, directly take The Alston family head of the family to suppress Peter.

"I have something else to do, Peter, you can take Adriana back later." After saying that, he left directly.

For a while, the large room was left to Peter and Adriana.

Peter strolled over to the couch and sat down, carefully analyzing a problem in his mind.

The sudden birth of Brenden caught her off guard, and she didn't know anything about Brenden.

But Brenden knows her very well, and this feeling makes her extremely uneasy, even terrified.

Just as Adriana was drowning in endless panic, suddenly her cell phone rang, causing her to shudder in fear.

Raised his hand and gently patted his chest to calm his nerves.

Looking down at the phone screen, it was Jenkins' cell phone number.

"Brother, is something wrong?" Adriana asked.

"Adri, finally got through to you. In fact, I just wanted to call you to thank you for setting things right on this side and The Alston family not taking responsibility."

Across the phone Adriana could feel Hayley's happy mood.

Some people are happy and some are sad.

"Well, it's good that it's okay."

Subconsciously, Adriana felt that the incident had nothing to do with Hayley and that all the circumstances seemed to be Brenden's calculations.

Otherwise, how could it be so coincidental?

Hayley just bumped into Peter's Auntie, and he, Uncle, comes to her door and threatens to keep her from leaving?

If I'm not mistaken, Adriana will not only threaten Helen if she doesn't agree to Brenden's demands, he'll use everyone in The Hale family as a bargaining chip!

"When do you have time, why don't I take you to dinner?" Hayley was in a good mood and took the initiative to invite.

"No, I've been rather busy lately."

"Adri, do you dislike me so much that you won't even give me face on this side?" Hayley lowered her attitude.

Adriana was a little helpless and had to agree, "That's fine, just send me the address and time on my phone."

"Gee, Jenkins what are you kids talking about? I brought her up with a handful of shit, now it's only right that she help you out a little."

Thelma changed her attitude again and said to Adriana with a smile, "Adri, I was right about you kid at first, it's really good."

Jenkins was fed up with Thelma's villainous face and chided.

"But I have one condition, the company is a company rule and cannot be involved with family. No relatives or friends can be hired, and any major changes need to be discussed. Sign the contract in advance if you can, but if you can't, call it quits."

Adriana is smart and knows Thelma's nature too well. With her greedy nature, she will definitely stir up the company's affairs when the time comes.

"Okay, I promise." Jenkins didn't think twice about it.

"Adriana, what exactly do you mean, who are you defending yourself against? Defending against me?" Thelma's face didn't look good, and she was furious.

"You're overthinking it, we're just doing business."

Even so, she would not admit it to Thelma's face.

"Okay, that's finalized for now. I'll bring Vivian over to discuss things with you later, you have a good rest, I'll go first."

Seeing that it was getting late, Adriana left straight away.

Waiting for her to leave, Thelma immediately came up, "Jenkins ah, I told you that Adriana that little girl thief fine thief, you must keep an eye out, you know?"

"Mom, you've had enough!"

Jenkins couldn't stand it, "Didn't you hear what Adri said? She has the resources of her clients and she had her own company before. With a million dollars to start a company and resources in hand, she could have done without me. This is to give me a share of the pie, how can you be so greedy and so stupid!"

Hayley, who was standing aside, was envious and came forward, "Brother, can you ask Adri to give me some shares? That way I'll be able to say that I have a lot of face, and I'm also a company owner."
