Chapter 81 Entering the company

He told Theresa one by one.

"What? How how did this happen?"

Theresa was amazed and looked back at her, "Adriana, is that really true?"

She was going to marry Peter, so she conceived the idea of marrying Brenden. "But Uncle still has Auntie."

"The hospital says Auntie doesn't have much time left." Peter explained.

At that, Theresa immediately looked back at Adriana, "Does this matter have anything to do with you? I heard that Hayley was the one who caused the car accident, isn't that your sister?"

Therefore, Theresa believes that Auntie's car accident is directly related to her.

Adriana knows in her heart that not only Theresa thinks so, but I am afraid that many people will think so.

She felt doubly tired and didn't know how to explain for a while.

"No, it doesn't matter."

Adriana denied it outright, but what a pale and feeble explanation.

"No?"

Theresa was deeply puzzled, and her critical eyes surveyed Adriana with a tight frown, "Adri, I really hope you're not that kind of person."

She put the thermos bucket in her hand on the table and went to sit down on the sofa, "Come here, I have something to ask you."

Adriana looked gloomy and glared at Peter with dissatisfaction, cursing him silently in her heart.

Bastard, can't you just not reveal yourself in front of Theresa?

Do you have to betray her to do that?

He also walked to Theresa's side, sat down and sighed, "If there's anything you want to ask, just ask."

What else can be said after all this?

I had wanted to find a suitable opportunity to explain to Theresa, but now I won't bother to find the right one.

Legal Department.

After the morning's burglary, all the colleagues in the legal department had a better view of Adriana.

Officially onboarded and with her own job title, Adriana took the previous cases from the legal department and concentrated on the cases.

Knock Knock-

Suddenly someone tapped on her desktop.

Adriana looked up and realized that the person standing in front of her was Hayley.

"What's wrong?" She asked.

"You come out with me." Hayley's attitude was not amiable, and he turned away with a cold face.

Adriana closed the case and got up to follow.

In the hallway of the company, in front of the large floor-to-ceiling window, Hayley stood with her back to Adriana, "When did you and Uncle fall in love?"

Open the door and questioned unceremoniously.

The arrogant posture, as if she and Brenden are very close to each other seems to be.

Adriana's lips lifted in an arc, smiled lightly, walked to the window and looked out, sighed, "Brenden and I are between us."

From the moment Brenden appeared in the legal department, Adriana felt Hayley's hostile eyes.

Even though she was innocent and wronged, but it is dumb to eat the bitterness.

Threatened by Brenden, the secret cannot be revealed, so she has to keep it to herself.

"Adriana!"

Hayley turned around, her brow furrowed as she glared at her angrily, "You know I like Uncle, why are you trying to steal it from me?"

"Like? You and Brenden have only met twice, how can you talk about liking?"

Delusions of grandeur.

Chapter 83 Meeting Luis

In all the time I've worked at Alston Group, it's the first time I've fallen into the hands of a woman, which is unbearable.

"Nelson, Alonso, be alarmed."

Adriana calmly, gentle smile, "today's incident I know you also have no choice, so this matter will not be pursued, and I hope we can get along peacefully in the future. After all, we are all working for others, why make things difficult for ourselves. Don't you think so?"

She deliberately plays the good guy and tries to resolve the conflict with Nelson Dean and Alonso.

One more friend is much better than one more enemy, such a simple truth, she could not not understand.

"Yes, Ms. Hale is right. In the future, let's make peace and hope we can work well together."

Realizing the seriousness of the situation, Alonso was very appreciative and grateful to Adriana for not pursuing the matter.

"No good."

Nelson Dean, as a company executive, felt humiliated by his colleagues and would not look at Adriana in a good light.

Adriana doesn't care and turns around to enter the department office.

When the dust settled, Adriana stayed up until the end of the evening and called Vivian when she walked out of the office.

"Vivian, how are things going on your end?"

Adriana was very relieved to leave the money in Vivian's sole hands.

"Ms. Hale, everything is going well, you can come over and take a look."

"No need, leave it to you I am at ease. Recently there are more things, you should also pay more attention to rest."

Vivian has to manage the company's decoration design as well as contacting old colleagues from the previous company, Alexander.

But she can't show her face now, or it would be even worse for Peter and Brenden to know about her company.

I should not have talked about the cooperative company in front of Hayley, but now I feel that Hayley is like a time

He beamed, not to mention how sad and upset.

Peter didn't like her and was justified in not allowing Luis to meet with her.

"So, you snuck out alone?"

This is the core key to the problem.

Luis grinned and acquiesced.

"Come on, get in the car with me."

Adriana was very uneasy about Luis' condition and carried him to the car and drove to the underground garage.

"Mommy, what have you been up to lately?"

"Mommy, did you miss me?"

"Mommy, have you lost weight again?"

Luis, who was sitting in the back row, kept asking questions as if she was really his mommy.

Adriana shook her head helplessly, "Luis, I'm not your mommy, so don't call anyone at the office later, okay?"

Now the relationship with Theresa is very tense, in case something happens on Luis' side will definitely make the relationship between her and Theresa more and more conflicting.

"You're my mommy, that is, that is."

Luis doesn't care what Adriana says, as long as it's the mommy he's decided on, it won't change.

Adriana: "....."

This kid, it really got her going.

After parking the car in the underground garage, Adriana pushed the door open and got out, just pulling open the back door and carrying Luis out, she heard a shuffle of footsteps behind her.

When she looked back, she found a dozen bodyguards in suits and sunglasses surrounding her, blocking her path.

Adriana shuddered in fear, slightly puzzled, "Who are you? What do you want?"

After all, now that Peter is with Theresa, it's always bad if she gets too close to Luis.

"Mommy."

Luis struggled and flung himself out of Peter's arms and ran up to Adriana on short legs to hug her thighs, "Mommy, don't you go, okay?"

In this scene, it looks like Adriana is a cruel woman who abandoned their father and son.

For some reason, Helen's lovely face suddenly appeared in her mind, and the two cute little faces seemed to be carved out of the same mold, so she couldn't bear to refuse.

So, raising his eyes to gaze at Peter, he waited for his choice.

Peter looked complicated, pulled his lips, did not know what to choose.

"Luis really misses you so much, can you stay with me."

Luis was once again in tears, choking and sobbing like a tearful man.

It was so pitiful that one could not bear to refuse.

"Stay with him, I command you."

In the end is his own son, see Luis crying heartbreaking, Peter how will not be heartbroken?

"This"

Adriana was a little hesitant.

"Mommy no, if you don't like it, Luis can call you auntie, as long as you stay with Luis, OK?"

The words fell, Luis could not help but sob a few times, trembling little body, like a very aggrieved kitty.

"Okay, okay, promise, promise."

Adriana sighed and helplessly leaned down to hug him and turned to Peter, "Just this once."

"Just this once."

Peter agreed in a cold voice.

From the bottom of his heart, he did not want the relationship between Adriana and Luis to be too cordial.

The group of three walked towards a limousine, Peter pulled open the door of the limousine and Adriana got into the car with Luis in her arms.

Adriana followed behind, a little nervous.

There are so many people in the amusement park, if you run away, it can really be the end.

trotted up and took Luis' hand, "Don't run around, hold my hand, or I'll lose you, your daddy won't spare me."

"Oh, okay ta."

Luis nodded his head and readily agreed.

Then, pointing to the carousel not far away, "Auntie, Luis wants to ride the carousel, will you accompany me?"

Adriana shrugged, rather helplessly, with a choice?

There is simply no choice.

"Okay, let's go."

Adriana took the ticket and handed it to the ticket checker at the carousel, waiving the queue because she bought a premium VIP ticket.

"Go play."

Adriana took Luis and carried him on the merry-go-round, "You play by yourself, I'll wait for you."

"Well, okay."

Luis sat on the wooden horse, holding the safety bar, looking at so many small children sitting around him, happy.

Over here, Adriana stood aside, Peter appeared at her side at some point.

The music started, the carousel with the rhythm of the music slowly turn up.

"You are quite good at pleasing children, what exactly is your purpose?"

Peter put his hands in his trouser pockets and gazed at Luis, his voice as cold as ice.

"The heart of a villain is the heart of a gentleman."

Adriana smiled sarcastically, finding Peter's poor thinking repulsive.

"Yeah?"

He coldly responded and added, "I don't care what conspiratorial purpose you have, but it's best not to hit Luis' attention. Otherwise, you will be responsible for the consequences."

"If you think I'm conspiring against Luis, why am I still here."

Subsequently, the children played a lot of projects in the playground, but there were limited projects for children in the playground, and most of them were also for adults.

Luis took Adriana and Peter's hands and said, "Mommy, daddy, look at that, it's a super big roller coaster, it's so much fun. You guys go play together, okay?"

"No."

"No."

Both spoke in unison and refused, raising their eyes to look at each other.

Adriana said, "You're still a child, what if you lose it."

Luis' eyes glanced between Peter and Adriana and then pointed to a haunted house not far away, "Can you take me there, Luis loves haunted house adventures."

"A haunted house?"

Adriana looked sideways at the haunted house adventure project over there, couldn't help but gulp and shook her head, "You just go with your daddy."

Born timid, most do not like the kind of haunted house adventure project.

"No, no, no, auntie, if you don't take me with you, Luis will call you mommy when he sees you."

Luis silently plots little plots in his mind and threatens Adriana.

"You"

Adriana, exasperated and helpless, raised her hand and poked his forehead, "Why so bad?"

"Don't dare is not dare, and blame Luis."

Peter seems to have discovered Adriana's timid side, and with the intention of teasing, he deliberately general." Who, who said he didn't dare."

Unwilling to give in to defeat in front of Peter, he huffed and held Luis, "Just go, what's the big deal."

See her stride towards the haunted house, and then that pace is getting slower and slower, Peter lips can not help but emerge a faint smile.

Standing at the door of the haunted house, Adriana listened to the creepy sounds coming from inside and turned a few shades white with fear.

"So you're not going to leave here?"

Feeling the little woman in the arms of the water crying, nostrils filled with the faint smell of her body, familiar and unfamiliar.

But this feeling haunts his dreams and haunts him from time to time.

So much so that Adriana such close, actually let his heart so anger all gone, just like a kind of protective desire.

The complex and subtle sentiments are out of Peter's control, making him exceptionally annoyed as well.

"No, no. I I can't walk anymore."

Originally Adriana did not want to give in front of Peter, but just in really scared her, now just feel weak legs, simply can not walk.

She was born timid and had never been in a haunted house before, this time she was pushing the limits.

The results are predictable.

The words fell, and a light laugh came from beside his ears as if it were not there.

The sound is especially unclear and not so realistic over the clamor of ghostly screams.

And then, Adriana suddenly felt her body hanging in the air, being held in his arms.

A sudden sense of security came over Adriana as she snuggled into his arms, and the fear was not as strong as it had been earlier.

But really freaked out.

So behind her are closed eyes, her head buried in his arms, hands holding her arms in a death grip.

The torturous process passed minute by minute, until a sudden brightness in front of her, the sharp and horrible shouts beside her ears disappeared, she opened her eyes.

Found already walked out.

In a short time, Luis came out, gleefully holding the hands of the two, "Daddy, auntie, Luis is so happy today, oh."

"Just have fun."

"What else does Luis want to play?"

The two men spoke in unison.

Luis' little head looked around and pointed to the water park over there, "I want to row a boat yeah."

"Okay, auntie will accompany you."

The three went straight to the lake and got on the boat after putting on their life jackets.

Sitting in the boat, stirrups rafting, the breeze passing by, refreshing the coolness, refreshing.

"Wow, it's really too much fun, yeah."

Luis was holding a fishing net in his hand and lying on the side of the boat playing in the water.

Peter and Adriana both stirred their stirrups.

Adriana suddenly felt that the stirrups were heavy and glanced at Peter, and found that he was not moving.

"Hey, you stomp, I can't do it alone."

Adriana reprimanded in a light tone of voice.

The man looked sideways, coinciding with a breeze passing, lightly brushing his bangs, hiding the cold between the eyebrows, revealing a handsome and stunning face, handsome and unparalleled, tantalizing the soul.

To be fair, Adriana is not a womanizer, but at this time, she saw Peter and was attracted to his handsome face.

"Nymphomaniac."

The man inspected her slightly stunned and disoriented gaze and teased.

At these words, Adriana retracted her thoughts and blushed slightly.

"You're the nymphomaniac. I was just disgusted to see you with eye poop in the corner of your eyes."

Adriana is not willing to be defeated and deliberately teases Peter.

Peter's mind was blank, and kept pressing on Adriana's chest, doing artificial respiration, not daring to stop for a moment.

In a flash, everything is fixed, as if surrounded by a pale, only he and Adriana left in the world.

Peter exerted all his efforts and did not know exactly how many times he pressed, but eventually the person did not respond at all.

He clenched his fists, his angry appearance is like a lion on the rampage, hideous and horrifying appearance seems to devour everyone seems to be.

The sudden situation was too much for Luis to take, and he jumped into Peter's arms and bawled.

Peter held Luis tightly and closed his eyes, feeling the real pain, the pain into his bones.
