Chapter 210: Bullying

Lai Su gulped as he looked at the slight smile on Lyca's face. She was calmly sitting across Long Yi, Xie Jun, and Zhang Zhi. Of course, the fuming Son Yani and Huang Xiaoxuan were also inside the office of the restaurant where Son Yani and Lyca destroyed.

DESTROYED.

That is the only word that Lai Su could use to describe the place after Lyca ran around while Son Yani chased her while throwing some stuff like meat, her shoes, and handbags or anything else that Son Yani could get her hands to.

As someone who worked with Son Yani, Lai Su knew that she grew up spoiled by her rich father. He remembered that Son Yani's father was working as the director of the research department of a school where Lai Su took his third Ph.D. At that time, Son Yani was only in her early twenties. However, she had been really childish and loved to cause problems around the school.

When Lai Su decided to work for the school's research department, Son Yani had been one of her colleagues. Then Son Yani's father recommended both of them to work for that pharmaceutical company. At first, Lai Su thought that he could just avoid the annoying woman. Sadly, her father wanted him to work for the same department as his daughter so he could help her out.

In the end, this woman stole one of Lai Su's research so she could finish her own research. Lai Su tried to do something about it, but Son Yani's father immediately came to her rescue. It had been years since that happened, and it seems that this woman hasn't changed at all. She was still as spoiled as before.

This woman was so used to getting what she wanted that her sense of reality had been affected. She had become delusional, thinking everything had to be fixed by her powerful father. Too bad. They met someone who was not afraid to offend people.

Lai Su lowered his head, wondering why Lyca did what she did earlier. To someone who doesn't know Lyca, she looked a little childish and careless, laughing in a very mocking manner as she ran around with a woman following her around. Moreover, Lyca looked like a man a handsome one at that. Earlier, many people thought that Son Yani was his ex-girlfriend who can't accept that the handsome Tang Xi broke up with her.

It was just a really peculiar scene.

"Alright I want her out of my sight." Tang Xi said as she crossed her arm across her chest. "I want you to fire her in your company for bullying me." She shamelessly said.

Long Yi looked at Lyca in disbelief. What bullying? Clearly, the person who had been bullied was Son Yani.

"People who throw food are bullies. She should pay for the damages in this place." Lyca added.

"You you dare treat me like this?" Son Yani squealed. She was about to attack Lyca again when Long Yi raised his hand immediately halting her steps.

"Yani calm down." Huang Xiaoxuan uttered. By now, she already noticed the difference in Long Yi's treatment towards the handsome man that Son Yani chased earlier. Long Yi, Xie Jun, and even Zhang Zhi all had grave expressions on their faces. The trio personally came but didn't bother greeting her or Son Yani. All of them immediately approached Lyca. "Let's just listen to their conversation."

"I want to call my father!" Son Yani declared.

"How old is she? Five?" Lyca's mocking voice only made Son Yani more furious. No wonder this Son Yan was friends with Huang Xiaoxuan, she too had the tendency to 'call her father' when everything goes wrong.

"Yani don't listen to him. Let's just leave for now. Let Long Yi handle this." Huang Xiaoxuan held Son Yani's hands. On the outside, Huang Xiaoxuan looked really calm, but she was currently fuming. She never once thought that she would one day become this woman's baby sitter!

At one point, Huang Xiaoxuan wanted to strangle this woman who clearly had problems in her brains. How could she drag her into such an embarrassing situation earlier? Huang Xiaoxuan would never forget the embarrassment she felt when Son Yani started throwing tantrums inside the restaurant.

"I will call my father!"

Lyca only smirked in response. How could Long Yi employ someone like this?

"Mr. Tang." Xie Jun forced the words out of his mouth. He gritted his teeth as he recalled Long Yi's words about Tang Xi's tendency to be a little unreasonable. Of course, this should have something to do with the fact that this guy was a psychotic killer. "What happened earlier can we just forget about it? We can make Son Yani and Huang Xiaoxuan apologize if they have disrespected you."

His words made both Huang Xiaoxuan and Son Yani silent. The two looked at Lyca, wondering who the hell he was.

"No." Of course, Lyca refused. "I never thought that the Long Company would actually hire people who act like a child. I don't think I would allow such a company to hold Mr. Lai's research. Isn't that right, Lai Su? This woman bullied you and even said that you harassed someone. Why don't we sue her for defamation?"

Lai Su lifted his head and looked at Lyca. Was she doing this because of what Son Yani said earlier? "Yes, Mr. Tang." He said as he balled his hands into fists. Right now, he was certain that this wasn't a part of her plan. However, she still compromised because of what Son Yani did. Lai Su felt a little warmth in his cold and lonely heart.

"Mr. Tang "

"If you don't want to fire her. Then I can't force you." Tang Xi stood up and shoved his hands into his pockets. "Of course, I would think that all employees working in the Long Company are like this." He smiled at Long Yi. "Take care of the damages. That's the last thing that you can do to make the meat feel better." He shook his head. "What a wastrel."

"Mr. Tang this "

"Also cancel the appointment. I don't want to talk to the Long Company anymore." Tang Xi started walking towards the exit. "A company with no morals. Wasting food and not firing an employee like that tsk"

"Wait Mr. Tang!"
