

Lazily 526

Chapter 526: Like A Prisoner

Sealey Family

"Marry a mere maid?" Mr. Sealey couldn't help but yelled when he heard the craziest idea he ever heard. "Is she crazy?"

"Honey, I don't understand why she would insist that Harry marry someone like this maid when we could easily pay her."

"Call her and tell her we are going to pay for the damages! Tsk." Mr. Sealey thought Gabi visited his wife because she wanted to get close to her. After all, his wife was known because of the dresses that she wore during events. Actresses would do everything to get close to his wife because they wanted her to introduce them to some designers abroad! Who would have thought that Gabrielle Sutton was actually a malicious woman who wanted to ruin his family? "And Harry are you sure that someone else schemed this?"

"Yes, father. I am not that drunk, however, I felt dizzy, and a bit numbed. So I asked Alfons if he could take me to the guest room, as I needed to rest. However, he told me that he needed to do something first and told me that Gabi's room was the guest room. I didn't think that he would do this to me."

"Hmph! Then do you think Alfons Sutton actually schemed against you?"

"I think Alfons didn't want to scheme against Harry intentionally. I believe he wanted to scheme against Gabrielle. However, some accidents happen and now we are in this mess."

"Tsk. Did you already call her?"

"I cannot reach her number.' His wife answered. "I sent her a text and told her we wanted to negotiate."

"That woman actually dared to do this to my family?"

"Father, what are we going to do now? If she releases the article to the media, then my name is ruined!"

"Honey, Harry is right. If the article gets released, no one would care if it's the truth or not. They would immediately bully our son. What are we going to do now?"

"Let me think." Against Gabi, Mr.Sealey and the whole Sealey family weren't that defenseless. However, Gabi had the backing of the Ren Family. And becoming an enemy of the Ren Family is practically like trying to attack one country! "That woman is not known in the upper echelons. She shouldn't have enough influence. However, because of her grandfather, people still respect her and send her invites to Galas and private tea parties.

But Gabrielle Sutton never actually joined these parties.

Still, people respected her because of her late father and the Ren Family. "She doesn't have any social media presence. Not even a single photo online! This woman "

"She replied."

"Huh? What did she say?"

"This "

"What?" he walked towards his wife and snatched her phone. Then she started reading the text message. Soon, he realized that it wasn't actually a text message but an image of an article. Then a text followed.

[I took a Screenshot of the article that will be sent to the media later. Do you think the title is attractive enough?]

"Damn! Damn this woman!"

"What is it?" Harry looked at the phone and almost immediately, his face turned ugly. "This "

"Look at those bruises! And someone really dared to take a picture of you while you were in bed with that maid?"

"What?"

"This is embarrassing Harry! You How dare you to embarrass the Sealey Family like this?"

"Father I "

"Marry the maid! Since she treasures this maid too much, they marry her!"

"What? Father, I have a girlfriend. What about Riri? You know that I love her!"

"Keep her for now. We can always negotiate with that maid after your marriage and pay her enough to agree to a divorce. We just needed to satisfy Gabrielle Sutton's conditions. She didn't say we cannot divorce that woman."

"But "

"If your woman loves you, then she would understand that you only wanted to protect your family name." Mrs. Sealey said. "I agree with your decision. You secretly marry the maid. There is no need for any extravagant wedding. A secret marriage will do. She is but a maid. She doesn't deserve to have a luxurious wedding. And she can stay at the other house. At the back of the mansion."

"This is a good idea. Yes, she can indeed stay in that house. No need to spend some nights with her and to avoid any complications you should make her drink some anti-pregnancy herbs just in case, she would try to scheme against our son."

And just like that, the Sealey family decided that Harry is going to marry Aren. At ten in the evening, Gabi received a confirmation that Harry would marry Aren.

"Miss? Is there something wrong?" Aren asked Gabi. Right now, Gabi took the time to see Aren and check for the condition of her body.

"He agreed to marry you. I will talk to them tomorrow. However, do not expect a Cinderella love story. This isn't a fairytale." Gabi said. "I am sure that they would do everything to separate you and ostracize you from the family. Meaning, there will be no grand wedding and they are going to let you stay somewhere else. Maybe in a village somewhere. They would give you everything but treat you like a prisoner. They would keep this marriage a secret too."

Aren nodded.

"It seems that you are already expecting this?" Gabi asked. "However, don't worry. I will agree to give them a copy of the evidence that I have against them but I will not delete my own copy."

"But what if they asked you to delete it?"

Gabi laughed. "Then I will tell them I deleted it." Isn't that simple? Just tell them what they wanted to hear. "They won't know it. Once they try to hurt you I will release it in the press."

"Miss" Tears pooled in Aren's eyes.

"Don't cry now. You will have a long long way to go." Gabi said. "Now, I want you to be very careful. The Sealey Family may look kind on the outside but they are different inside that mansion." In short, they would probably try to kill Aren. "Do you understand what I am trying to say?"

Chapter 527: Conditions

"Miss Sutton it must be nice to use your maternal family name all the time." These were Mrs. Sealey's first words when Gabi walked inside the private tea room that the Sealey Family booked in advance.

"I should ask myself about that after I sent the article to the press." Gabi opened her phone. However, before she could do anything, she heard Mr. Sealey's voice.

"Miss Sutton, my wife is only joking. Please don't take it seriously."

"I don't know about that, Mr. Sealey. I am a bit irritated. After all, I almost got rap*d by some random man."

"You "

"Apologize." Mr. Sealey said in a low voice. "Now."

"But " Mrs. Sealey's face reddened. "I'm sorry Gabi. I didn't mean to say that."

Gabi snorted in response. If she was the same as Gabi in the past, she would have fallen for this act. It was the classic bad cop, good cop. And it was as fake as the gold-plated chair that they were sitting on.

These two were just acting. They wanted to show her how hesitant they were to have Harry marry Aren. That this isn't what they wanted. Then, they would take this opportunity to make her lower her guard down and let her think that she already won.

Oh, dear.

She was just starting.

Gabi didn't say anything. She took her seat and looked at Harry, who had his head lowered. They were inside a room with a circular table for at least six people, so there was enough space for more people. Maybe they expected Aren to come as well?

"The wedding is going to happen on this date. The dowry and venue, I will take care of that. These are the guests that I wanted you to invite and "

"Miss Gabi, we are not planning to do a proper wedding." Mr. Sealey interrupted her.

"Why? I always thought that the Sealey Family favors Harry. Am I wrong?"

"Miss Gabi" Mr. Sealey started. He leaned forward, his hands rested on the table. "We don't want to embarrass our son further."

"Oh? Do you think marrying a maid is an embarrassment? What about being a rapist?"

"Miss Gabi, you cannot use this excuse all the time."

"Mr. Sealey "Gabi smirked. "This isn't an excuse. I am stating facts. He is a rapist. Is he not?"

"Please let us talk like adults and avoid saying such childish things in the future."

"Then let's talk about the wedding."

"I already said there will be no formal wedding."

"And what makes you think you can demand such things?"

"Miss Gabi please let's be civil and rational."

Again, Gabi snorted. "Being civil and rational means giving the evidence to the police. Is that really what you want, Mr. Sealey?"

A thick, suffocating silence filled the room. Seeing this, Gabi continued, "I thought so too. Now I want a wedding. It's not big. This is why I only invited ten people. You can invite another ten to your party. There will be ten people on my side and ten on your side. Twenty witnesses, no press, no coverage, no announcements." She watched as relief flashed across both of their faces.

She already expected this.

All she could do was laugh inwardly.

Gabi already asked someone to follow Harry around and by now, they have already obtained a few photos of him and his college sweetheart, who also happens to be an actress. If Gabi predicted it right, Harry would still continue his relationship with the actress while leaving his wife at home.

Then the Sealey family would wait for a few months to negotiate with Aren for the divorce. But what would happen if Harry and his sweetheart's relationship would be revealed to the public while he was still married to Aren?

Isn't that fun to see?

"Alright, we will agree to these terms. How about the original files of the proof that you have?"

"Naturally, I will give it to you once the marriage is registered. You can do what you want with it." Gabi wasn't planning to include any clauses for divorce. She knew that the Sealey Family would do everything they can to get rid of Aren. And if Gabi would tell them that divorce isn't allowed then the best way to get rid of Aren would be to kill her.

Obviously, Gabi didn't want Aren to die.

To Gabi, Aren is a pawn a useful one.

There is no need to get rid of a useful pawn.

"And you will no longer file any lawsuit for my son?"

"No. It has nothing to do with me anymore." Gabi said. "Aren grew up in the Sutton Family estate. She started working for her brother to have a decent life. I consider her one of my people. So if you are planning to hurt her "

"We would never do that." Mrs. Sealey answered. "We are kind people Miss Sutton."

"Of course. That is so obvious, Mrs. Sealey." Gabi responded without hiding the sarcasm in her voice. "The registration of the marriage will happen tomorrow," Gabi added, surprising everyone, including Harry.

"Why?" Harry asked. "Why does it have to be tomorrow?"

"I said, you can decide the date of the wedding ceremony but the registration has to be tomorrow."

"Why?"

"Well Mr. Sealey, you already did something indecent to her. She could get pregnant anytime. I don't want to avoid complications. After all, the child is innocent."

Just as expected, everyone's face turned serious. They looked at each other, probably trying to read each other's eyes before Mr. Sealey said. "I understand. I agree with your terms."

"Good. Let's remember the mistake of the parents is not the mistake of the child." A gentle smile appeared on her face. "Isn't that right, Mrs. Sealey?"

"Uh? Yes that's right. A grandchild wouldn't be that bad."

Gabi nodded in satisfaction. "Now I want Aren to report to me weekly. I wanted to make sure that she isn't maltreated in any way. After all, I already considered her family."

"Miss Sutton, it seems that you don't really trust us." Mr. Sealey said.

"You are right, Mr. Sealey. I don't trust you." Gabi responded almost immediately. "Now shall we talk about the living arrangements of the newlyweds?"

"Miss Sutton, I don't think you should involve yourself in this matter anymore. We will assure you that we will treat Miss Aren fairly. My wife already said this but I want to repeat it. We are kind people. We don't have any malicious intentions."

Chapter 528: Felice Brent

And just like that, the marriage of the second young master of the Sealey Family has been decided.

Gabi looked at the images in front of her. All of them were in the greatest resolution, something that she really love. "Who took these photos?" she asked Kasper.

"It was a lone paparazzo who accepted the task. He is known as Rabbit."

"Rabbit. I like that name. Give him some bonus. Thank him for his work. Twenty percent of the rate."

"Understood."

Now that Gabi already has photos of Harry and that actress, all she had to do now is wait and focus on increasing her troops. Right now, the Sealey family should have known that the person who tried to scheme against them was actually Alfons. She was able to successfully ruined the relationship between the two.

"Miss, the Sealey family has been asking when are you going to send Miss Aren to them."

"Not until I confirmed if she is pregnant." She answered. "Tell them I don't want to send her without knowing that she is perfectly fine. Psychologically, of course." While it was extremely cruel for her to involve a child in this matter, Gabi just wanted to make sure that the child was safe. If worse comes to worst, she was even prepared to prepare a new identity for this child.

After all, a child is innocent and he or she shouldn't pay for the sins of the parents.

It has been a few days now since that meeting ended and until now, Gabi still couldn't forget the Sealey Family's shameless words. They had been trying to emphasize that they were good people. Kindhearted and generous.

Just the thought of it made her laugh.

"Miss, the dress that you are going to wear later for Mr. Alfons graduation is already here. As well as Miss Tina for your hair and make-up."

"Ah, Tina." Gabi smiled. It had been a few months since their cooperation started and so far, everything was doing well. Right now, she already has three more branches of the salon in northern cities and two in southern cities. "Can you tell me that time of the graduation celebration again?" Gabi didn't attend the ceremony but decided to join the celebratory banquet instead. This was the same banquet where she got drunk in the past and was linked to Harry Sealey.

The only reason she wanted to join this celebration is because of the few people that she would meet tonight.

"It would start at six."

"Hmmm. Alright."

After a few hours, Gabi left the mansion wearing a white knee-length dress.

"Sister, I am glad that you were able to join us tonight." Alfons was wearing a black suit. He smiled at her as if he didn't just scheme against her a few days back. Gabi smiled in response before she roamed her gaze around the crowd of new graduates.

Alfons was at the top university in the country. It is not only expensive, but the standard of education is top-notch too. Because of this, the school had strict requirements for their graduating student. Usually, only the best of the best we're able to graduate from this school.

Becoming a graduate of this school would ensure someone a good job in the government and more business opportunities for a lot of people. After a round of introductions, Gabi was finally alone.

It was actually the same in the previous life.

Many people inside this school knew her name as Alfons' sister, the clingy sister. The only people who knew that she was from the Ren Family are the ones from other prominent families. Of course, Gabi never cared about any of this. Right now, she only has one goal. Meet some people that would help her in the future.

With a non-alcoholic beverage in hand, Gabi walked towards the terrace of the second-floor hall where the party was held. This party was held inside the school and the security is really tight because of people who joined were sons and daughters of ministers and ambassadors.

For a few seconds, she enjoyed the view of the circular fountain that was in the building's front. It has a Lion and a serpent on it, the logo of the school. Gabi couldn't help but wonder if that person that she was waiting for is already there. She looked left and right and sigh when she didn't see anyone else. Everyone seemed to be too busy socializing inside ah.

Earlier, Gabi already met a couple of people that she needed to meet for her goals. She just needed to meet the last one in this place. Or it should be in this place, right? After all, this terrace is empty. This was a perfect venue for suc*de.

As if on cue, she heard someone's sobs.

She hid the smile on her face as she walked to the other side of the terrace and found a woman in red, crying. She was sitting on the floor as she hugged her knees. Because this part doesn't have the proper lighting, she couldn't really see the woman's face, but it was pretty obvious that she was crying.

"Are you alright?"

"Please leave me alone." The woman responded almost immediately as she turned her head away from Gabi.

"Here" Instead of walking away, Gabi handed her a handkerchief. "Take it."

"Please leave me alone "

"Sorry," Gabi said. "I can't do that." Saying nothing else, she put the handkerchief on the woman's knees and increased the distance between them. Seeing that she didn't leave, the woman started sobbing once again.

"Are you not going to take some photos of me like this? If you want to take it, no need to hide your phone. Just put it directly on my face. That would make it more obvious that it was me."

"Why would I take photos of you?"

Gabi's question was only met with silent sobs. "My name is Gabrielle Sutton, how about you?"

For a few seconds, the woman just sobbed without saying anything. Gabi added, "Do you want me to help you out of here?" Just as she expected, the woman turned towards her.

"You can do that?"

"Yes."

"I I am called Felice Brent."

"Nice to meet you, Felice come let me take you out of this place."

Chapter 529: Barking Dog

"How did you know there were some stairs there?" Felice asked her while tying her long, black, curly hair into a comfortable blond.

Gabi shrugged in response. "I studied it. In case I needed to escape some certain situations." Of course, she already researched every part of this building. She came prepared.

"You are peculiar. Aren't you the daughter of the late prime minister?"

"Yeah."

"I'm so sorry about what happened."

"It can't be helped. People die all the time." Gabi smiled. "You are one of the graduates?" Right now, they are already walking in the garden, surrounded by the smell of roses and wet soil.

"Yeah."

Gabi nodded. In the previous life, Felice k*lled herself on the graduation celebration. No one really knows the reason why she did it. They just found her body on the terrace after the party. At that time, she was still alive but was soon declared brain dead three months after that incident. She stayed in a vegetative state for one year before she finally succumbed to her death. Gabi didn't take the time to investigate this incident before simply because it didn't concern her.

However, at the end of this year, Brent Enterprise, which was owned by Felice's family would win some international awards and become top in the corporate world. Few people know this, but the current chairman of Brent Enterprise is actually friends with her own grandfather. So, when the Ren Aesthetics started to fall, the Brent Family didn't hesitate to help them.

In the end, they also suffered and soon ended up just like the Ren Family.

That's right. Gabi saved this woman as payment for what happened in the past. "I heard my grandfather talked about you before," Felice said. "He said you graduated at nineteen and was a young genius."

"Really?"

"Yes. He also said you are a genius that would become the future prime minister of this country."

Interesting. Gabi smiled and lifted her head to look at the sky. Prime Minister, huh?

That was never one of her ambitions. Politics is just too complicated.

"You will not ask me why I was crying?"

"No," Gabi said. Silence followed her words.

"Would you believe me if I tell you now that you just saved my life?"

Gabi turned towards the woman. Now that she could see the woman's face, she thought Felice looked really beautiful. Not the seductive type of beauty, more like the innocent and quiet one. She had a really gentle and sad gaze which immediately reminded Gabi of herself in her previous life.

"Yes," she nodded. In response, Felice smiled at her.

"Can I invite you sometimes? For some tea? My grandfather would love to meet you."

"No problem." Gabi handed her a calling card.

"Ah? Alright thanks. I uh you look and don't act like the Gabi from the rumors."

"Rumors?"

"They said that you always follow Alfons around. You are timid and didn't like talking to other people. There are a few harsh rumors out there too."

"Ah."

"I don't think you are like that. You look confident."

Gabi nodded. In her previous life, there were rumors she was actually in love with Alfons and that was the reason why Harry divorced her. There were also rumors that the reason Alfons was single was that she was trying to sabotage her relationship. "Thank you."

"Then uh are you still going back to the party?"

"No. How about you?"

"No. I look like a mess. People will only laugh at me."

"People?"

"My classmates."

"Why would they laugh at you?"

"You don't really know why?" Felice asked. "Ah, sorry. I forgot you don't attend gatherings and galas. Anyway, it is just because I got here because of a scholarship. My family could pay for the expensive tuition, but our influence is not enough to get me in. As you know, this university only accepts a maximum of thirty students per class. It's not just luck and grades, influence too. And the Brent Family never has that kind of influence."

So, those people treated her badly because of this? Wait, was this the reason for the Brent Family's sudden rise? Felice's suicide must have triggered the family! "So, they bullied you?"

"Bullied? I don't know about that."

"" What does she mean by that?

"I am our class' servant."

"And you didn't retaliate?"

"Can I really retaliate against a minister's daughter? Against a billionaire's son?"

Gabi said nothing. As someone who grew up homeschooled all her life, she didn't have the chance to witness this kind of stuff. Without her past life, Gabi would have been someone ignorant about all this.

"Sorry, I am blabbering. Please don't mind me."

"It's alright," Gabi said. "The world isn't an easy place to live in. Especially for people like us."

A sigh escaped Felice's lips. "Hey, I'm hungry. Do you want to eat somewhere?"

"Sure."

"Uh that man following us"

"My secretary."

"You have your own secretary?"

"Yes." Kasper had been following behind them since they left the building.

"And he is kinda like a bodyguard too?"

"Something like that."

"Then should we go to a restaurant somewhere?"

Gabi looked at Kasper, who was about five meters away from them. The man immediately approached them. "Miss?"

"Please recommend a place to eat. Something hot."

"There is some noodle shop a few blocks away. Shall I prepare the car?"

"Yes, we can't really walk with these heels."

Kasper nodded, and the three of them walked towards the parking lot. However, just as they waited for Kasper to get the car for them, a few people from the party also approached the parking lot.

"Isn't this Miss Brent?"

"And oh Miss Sutton?"

The condescending voice made Gabi smile inwardly. "Miss Quigley so it's you," she responded. "I thought I heard someone's dog. It was actually human. How surprising."

The group of four people stopped walking and looked at her, surprised and apparent in her eyes. Since this was actually the first time that Gabi acted like this, it was reasonable for them to be shocked.

"You are you calling me a dog?"

Gabi chuckled, then turned her attention to the car that was now in front of them.

"Hey, I am talking to you!"

Of course, Gabi ignored the woman. She started walking towards the car with Felice.

"Hey! Gabrielle! Are you deaf?"

"What the did she just ignore me?" Lyle Quigly could only grit her teeth as she watched, Gabi got into the car with Felice.

Chapter 530: Transactional Relationship

"Did you see her face? Did you see Lyle's face?"

Until now, Felice couldn't stop talking about what happened earlier. They already arrive at the noodle shop and even finished ordering but Felice is still talking about Lyle.

"She is your junior, no? How did you know her?" Gabi asked.

"She always followed Alfons around and even join all the organizations that he was a member of."

Gabi smiled. That's right, Lyca is already borderline-stalking Alfons. What would happen if she do something to make Alfons marry that woman? Gabi was already smiling because of the potential chaos that it would cause Alfons' life. However, there is also the possibility that Alfons would start controlling her and her family.

If that happens then, it meant Alfons would have strong backing.

But then again, someone like that is a double-edged sword.

In fact, the reason Alfons didn't marry anyone in his previous life is that he didn't want any family to tie him down. He was ambitious and always thought that this country is just a stepping stone for his dreams. Then should she just let those two marry each other?

"Why are you smiling like that?" Felice rested her chin on her palm. She was sitting across from Gabi. The same gentle smile was on her face. This time, however, there was a hint of mischievousness inside that smile.

"My brother doesn't like her."

"Really?"

"Isn't it obvious?"

"Well if he doesn't like her, then he should stop leading her on, no?"

"Leading her on?"

"Yes. Many people assumed that they were together and Lyle would blush around him and act like a cute puppy. I don't know how to explain this, but Lyle and Alfons are not really together. However, Alfons is using Lyle for some things in the school."

"Interesting."

"Ah" Felice's face turned scarlet when she heard her words. "Please don't think that I am stalking them or something. I just heard a few rumors about it. I always stay in quiet places alone and sometimes, I witness things, you know?"

"I understand what you mean. So can you tell me the things that you heard about those two?"

"Hmmm. You really want to know?"

"Yes. I hope you don't mind."

"Then do you know that Alfons is the president of the student council, right?"

"Yes."

"Lyle is his personal assistant."

"I didn't know about this."

"Well, it's not written, but Lyle does everything for him. There is really no formal announcement that she is his assistant, but she is acting like one. She is acting like a servant and even prepared his clothes every morning."

"Really?" This university has a dorm and to make their students comfortable, the dorm is only enough for one person. The dorm is just like a studio with its own toilet and bath, a place to cook, eat and entertain visitors. It wasn't that big, but definitely comfortable enough. "So she sleeps in his dorm?"

"What? That is not allowed."

Their order arrived and the two of them started eating before Felice continued. "She just prepared it during the night before she goes back to her own dorm. She also prepares all documents for him, like uh reports. Lyle is pretty good with those kinds of things."

"But Alfons never told this to anyone?"

"Of course not. It would damage his pristine image."

"And how did you know it?"

"I heard Lyle said it."

"Hm?"

"Lyle complained to Alfons and told him you embarrassed her. I don't have specifics about this but she was pretty angry and said that if only you knew she was the one making all those reports, then you would probably hire her as your secretary almost immediately."

"That's crazy." That should be around the time that Lyle applied to become her secretary, right? Was that the reason why Lyle was really confident that time? She knew Alfons would not do anything to her because of the things that she did for Alfons.

Then

How come she didn't know anything about this in her previous life? If Alfons already has a talented person like this woman by his side then how come Gabi didn't know of her existence?

She lowered her gaze as she tried to recall anything about the Quigly family. Just like the Ren Family, they are pretty influential too. However, they aren't as low key as the Ren Family. Lyle and her family loved extravagant parties and gifts. They don't really do anything to hide the fact that they are wealthy.

In her previous life, Lyle never stopped pursuing Alfons. She would do everything to impress him.

But what if it was all an act?

What if Alfons purposely hid the fact that he and Lyle were working closely together?

"I know, right? But judging from your reaction, the interaction with Lyle and that secretary thing happened. Am I right?"

"Yes, you are." Gabi nodded. "She applied as my secretary a couple of days ago but Ramik was more capable than her." Now that she thought about it, why would Lyle want to work for her? Why did she even apply in the first place?

It seems that she needed to look into this Quigly Family.

Without any hesitation, she opened her phone and sent a single text message to Aden's number, asking him some information about the Quigly Family. By now, Archy must have known about the second young master of the Sealey Family, right?

"Ah, that's right. I also heard that Lyle declined a few marriage prospects this year. She really wanted to marry Alfons but the Quigly's wanted someone with an excellent influence in the society."

"That is understandable." The two started talking about Felice's plans now that she just graduated before they finished their food. After dropping Felice off at the Brent estate, Gabi also went home with Kasper.

"Miss, Mr. Alfons had been calling you since you left the party. He sent a total of ten texts messages. I answered one of his calls and informed him that you are leaving because you are not feeling well." Kasper said. She already told him to tell Alfons some random reason when she left the party earlier.

"Thank you. You are doing a great job. Please go home now. Have a good night." She sat on the chair near her bed staring at the two phones in front of her. One of them was the one that she entrusted Kasper, the other was used to contact Aden and hopefully Archy soon.

She stared at the phones for a few minutes before letting out a sigh. She was actually expecting to receive some sort of response from that man, but it seems that he wasn't interested in this time. Oh, well

They have is a transactional relationship so maybe... they wanted her to provide some sort of payment first?

'Tsk.' She really wanted to use this opportunity to talk to the big boss Archy and maybe even meet him. But it seems that he wasn't interested at all? Does this mean that the ruckus that she created inside the Sealey Family wasn't enough?

She opened her phone once again and texted.

[Send me the price and account number.]

She was about to stand when her phone vibrated.

"Hello?"

"You were waiting for my call, right?" Aden's voice drifted towards her and it immediately made her frown. "Are you blushing right now?"

She clenched her fist. What is wrong with this man?