Chapter 84: Come Back and Save Me

"Whoa! Stay away from me!" Xie Jun almost jumped out.

Seeing him run away from her as fast as the lightning, Lyca couldn't help but laugh. Was she so scary? She shook her head inwardly. Xie Jun was too dumb to play this game, his changes and actions were too obvious. It immediately made Lyca suspicious. Coming in here and talking to her was like telling her 'hey I am nice because we have an evil plan.'

Such a novice. Lyca sneered. Well it's not like she doesn't have something planned against them too. All she needed now is to wait something that she is very good at. Lyca leaned against the baluster waiting for Long Yi to come and find her. However, instead of Long Yi, another person found Lyca on the balcony first.

"Lyca Huang."

She squinted at the woman whose breath smell of vodka. Wearing a black low cut halter top, the woman who approached her is someone insignificant. She eyed the woman's thick makeup, red lipstick, and intricate hairstyle. This should be Zhang Zhi's fiance but she had actually forgotten her name.

Seeing Lyca examined her clothing, the woman beamed and twisted her hips as she walked towards Lyca, emphasizing her ample breasts and perfectly crafted legs. She stood in front of Lyca, her eyes squinted. "Why are you here?" the woman asked.

Lyca tried to remember the woman's name but immediately realized that she couldn't. Was it Ling something?

When the woman saw Lyca just stared at her in a daze, she snorted. She hated how everyone wanted to have this woman by their side. And she hated how she needed to cooperate for this crazy plan.

Just what was so good about Lyca?

The woman let out a sigh inwardly. Acting like she's f*cking drunk is not easy for someone like her whose alcohol tolerance was considered high. She immediately reminded herself about the things that Long Yi would give to her Ling Family once the plans succeed.

"Why are you here?" Again, the woman asked.

Still, Lyca didn't answer and turned her attention to the lights. She had been waiting for them to finally make their move. She had been wondering if Long Yi would use Zhang Zhi against her, but it seems that he was smart enough to use the fiancée? A weak woman against another woman.

"Hey! Why are you ignoring me?" The woman tried to touch her shoulders but Lyca already took a step back, avoiding her hand. "You "

"You're drunk. Go to sleep." Lyca met the woman's eyes. She was unsure if this woman was really drunk or pretending to be one. But if this woman would dare hurt her, Lyca wouldn't hesitate to make her sleep forever.

"Hmph! So arrogant! Just because you are Zhang Zhi's cousin doesn't mean that I would put up with your disrespect." The woman said.

"Ling Something" Lyca uttered. "Are you in love with Long Yi?"

"" The woman stilled. Her eyes turned wide. When she saw the ridicule in Lyca's smile, her expression turned ashen. How did Lyca know? Was it because she volunteered to come with Long Yi and Lyca the first time that they met? "What What are you talking about?"

Lyca shrugged. Obviously, this woman didn't like that dumb cousin of hers. Just like Huang Xiaoxuan, this woman liked Long Yi too. That man had so many women liking him, his wife would have to fight a lot of women. Such complicated life is only suited for the male lead in the series that she was watching.

"You should tell him."

"Stop it!" The woman hissed. "You know nothing!" Lyca's words were nonchalant and direct. She hated it. How could someone engaged to another guy tell someone that they liked them? At least, her dignity wouldn't allow her to do such things.

Lyca pressed her lips together. Having too many complications in a relationship is to hassle. She would be too lazy to deal with that. "Poor Long Yi." She mumbled. Long Yi must have thought that he was lucky to have this many women like him. But how could he deal with too much drama in the future? Moreover, Huang Xiaoxuan Long Yi's rightful wife is not someone that would allow other women to approach her husband.

Lyca was sure that Huang Xiaoxuan would raise hell once Long Yi would sleep with another woman. Pitiful. But Lyca is excited to see the drama unfold.

"Hmph! Don't act as if you don't like Long Yi! You are just too weird to notice it now!" The woman roared as if trying to attract the attention of other people.

Lyca just stared at the woman, waiting for her to finally make her move. Lyca couldn't help but wonder about Long Yi's creativity. Is this Ling Woman going to act as if Lyca bullied her? Maybe she would provoke Lyca into hurting her? Maybe she would suddenly act like Lyca pushed her and she would trip and fall?

This This is like all the concubine's schemes as they fought for the emperor's attention!

"If you hated to be with the student council so much then why join?" The Ling Something woman added. Still, her voice was loud. This time, Lyca was certain that she was trying to attract an audience. Seeing this, Lyca opened her phone and sent a text to Shen Qui.

[Come back and save me]

"Why are you ignoring me?" The woman tried to snatch the phone from Lyca's hands. Soon enough, the woman realized that Lyca is stronger than she looks.

"How disrespectful," Lyca uttered lazily. "You want my phone so much?" She lifted an eyebrow before she shoved her phone in the woman's face. "Then eat it!"

Surprised at her actions, the woman screamed and staggered. Her eyes wide, mouth agape. How could a woman be this aggressive? "You "

"Next time you touch me, I will kill you," Lyca said coldly. Was she someone that would allow insignificant people to bully her? She smiled and enjoyed the fear in the woman's eyes.

The woman used the baluster to support herself as tears started streaming down her face. "How dare you threatened someone from the student council?"
