

Chapter 27

None of the reporters present were looking at Timothy.

Even a fool could tell that Matthew was someone of high status. They dared not get into trouble with someone like him.

Only an idiot like Timothy would call this imposing man someone's love affair.

They had already gotten their hands on a piece of breaking news, so it was better for them to stay low and not offend anyone.

The reporters had it all figured out.

Matthew, the supposed lover boy, smiled nonchalantly. "You're not wrong."

Lucy and Chelsea looked at Matthew in disbelief.

Was he out of his mind? After spending a few days with him, Lucy was certain that Matthew was not short of money at all. It was likely that he owned a business.

What was he thinking, admitting that he was her lover?

On the other hand, Chelsea was having different thoughts.

Holy fuck! That man really was a freeloader! He was really putting his looks to good use...

If he was using Lulu's money and planned to live off her, he should at least be nice to her...

After encountering an asshole like Timothy, it was unlikely that Matthew would be worse than him.

Chelsea's imagination ran wild. Fortunately, no one could read her thoughts because if they could, Lucy would be the first to pounce on her.

Chelsea's thoughts would have mortified her.

Unconcerned about what other people thought about him, Matthew continued, "I have to thank Mr. Lucas. It's only because he failed to cherish Lulu that I got my chance.

"I would like to thank you for that, Timothy. However..."

Matthew's face darkened. "If you ever cause trouble for Lulu again, you'll be getting yourself in muddied waters.

"I've made a mental note about what happened today. As for my revenge, you'll hear from me very soon."

After saying that, Matthew did not even spare a glance at Timothy. He took Lucy's hand and gave her a warm smile. "Let's go home."

Lucy felt dizzy just looking at Matthew's smile, and she dreamily followed him, even forgetting about her best friend.

Good thing Chelsea was quick enough to follow them when she saw her best friend leaving with her so-called husband.

The three of them walked to the Rolls-Royce limousine while everyone watched. Only then did Timothy realize that something was off.

That car was a worldwide limited edition car. It was extremely rare as there were only 20 of them worldwide.

The people who could own that car had to be extremely wealthy.

As far as he knew, Lucy did not have a car like that in her garage. She could not afford it, which meant that the car could only belong to...

No! There was no way. He must be overthinking.

Why would such a rich and powerful man fall in love with the stodgy and stubborn Lucy?

The next second, Timothy felt like he had gotten slapped in the face. Matthew took out the car keys to unlock the car, but instead of getting in, he opened the door to the front passenger seat.

Lucy instinctively got into Matthew's car, while Chelsea sat in the back seat.

Under everyone's watchful eyes, the three of them left.

Chapter 28

Timothy looked at the car speeding off with a sullen face. It seemed like Lucy had found herself a powerful man. The man's threat earlier gave Timothy a bad feeling.

Luna had a bad feeling too, so she said to Timothy worriedly, "Tim, what did he mean by that? Is everything going to be okay?"

The sight of Luna's pretty face calmed his anger. He smiled at her and said, "It's going to be okay. I'll take care of anything that comes our way."

After hearing his words, Luna felt a wave of relief wash over her.

In the luxury car, Chelsea was sitting in the back seat, staring blankly at the interior for a long time.

In the front passenger seat, Lucy looked at her best friend worriedly. Why had she not said anything? Was she still mad at what Timothy and Luna had said to her?

Lucy called out to her, "Chelsea."

Chelsea finally came to her senses. She looked at Lucy in shock and blurted, "Lulu, is this your car?"

"Pfft."

While driving, Matthew laughed at what she said. Then, he cleared his throat and said, "This is my car, but since we've gotten married, it's Lulu's car too."

Lucy blushed as she was not used to public displays of affection in front of her best friend.

Dumbstruck, Chelsea looked at Lucy and Matthew before saying, "No way. Stop being all lovey-dovey and try to be more considerate of my feelings, okay?"

She calmed herself down after complaining. She could tell from the car alone that Lulu's husband was not an ordinary person. He must be rich or even filthy rich!

Not just anyone could get their hands on this car. Even the Quinn family and the Lucas family had never owned a car like this before.

Chelsea completely crossed out her initial thought that Lucy had found herself a boy toy.

She was embarrassed that the thought even crossed her mind even though no one could read her thoughts.

She forced herself to think of another reason.

Perhaps the man fell in love with Lucy's beauty at first sight.

However, she crossed that out too as she did not think that Matthew was that shallow. Chelsea continued to ponder seriously. Was he nice to Lucy? If he was that rich, would he one day abandon Lucy just as Timothy did?

The more she thought about it, the more worried she became. Chelsea quickly leaned into her best friend's ear to ask her something.

"Lulu, where did you find this man? Is he good to you? Don't be fooled by his pretty face!"

She looked at her worriedly without realizing that Matthew could hear everything.

He did not know how to react. After glancing at Chelsea, he could tell that his wife's best friend genuinely cared about her. It was her wild imagination that was the issue.

Chelsea was unaware of Matthew's movements and had no idea he heard her, so she continued blabbering into Lucy's ear.

"Lulu, you must choose a man wisely. Look at Timothy, for example. He looks normal on the outside, but he's a giant asshole.

"You should be very careful with this lightning marriage of yours.

"Even if you think you know someone, you can never know their true nature. There are plenty of other fish in the sea. You don't have to settle down now."

The more Chelsea spoke, the more her heart ached for her best friend.
