

Chapter 35

Mathew took Lucy upstairs, and as soon as he opened the door, she was overwhelmed by the scene before her.

She looked at the roses scattered around the room and turned to Matthew with a complicated expression. "Do you usually stay in rooms like this?"

Matthew was stunned too.

His room had always been black and minimalistic. There had never been anything fancy like this.

Hearing Lucy's question, he looked at her blankly and confessed, "No, the rooms I stay in are usually dark and minimal. I don't know what's going on today."

Lucy and Matthew just stood there and stared at each other.

Finally, Lucy could not bear staring at the marvel that was his face any longer, so she looked away.

Matthew was relieved that she looked away, or else he would not have been able to keep himself in control.

He hurriedly explained. "Lulu, you have to believe me. My room is not usually like this. You've seen my room. It's dark and minimal."

Lucy's ears were still red. She nodded without a second thought.

"I believe you."

Matthew's heart felt warm. How could she be so cute?

He smiled at her to help her relax.

"This is the presidential suite. I usually stay in the master bedroom, but there's a second bedroom too. Take a look and see if you like it. If not, I'll have someone come up and change everything in it."

Lucy shook her head. "It's okay. I don't mind staying anywhere. I don't understand why there are roses everywhere, but I quite like it."

Matthew nodded and made a mental note to add a few more flower pots at home since she liked flowers. Actually, he could just build a greenhouse and hire someone to take care of it.

That way, Lulu could see flowers all the time without having to take care of them.

Lucy was not aware of what her husband was thinking, but she would have been extremely flattered if she did.

All she said was that she liked flowers. She never intended for Matthew to build her a greenhouse.

However, she would not find out until much later. When that time came, she would be pleasantly surprised because Matthew had prepared an even bigger surprise inside it.

As of right now, Lucy was just happily wandering into the second bedroom.

Although Lucy and Matthew were married, they had not reached that point in their relationship yet. Thus, they still slept separately. Well, Matthew sneaking into her room did not count.

Before she could get a good look at her room, Matthew called her name, "Wait a minute, Lulu."

Lucy stopped to look at Matthew curiously.

Matthew said calmly. "When you're done touring your room, don't forget to open the wardrobe. The staff should've prepared a bathrobe for you inside. I'll take you to the hot springs in a while.

"If you don't want to wear the bathrobe, the staff should've also prepared a bathing suit inside," Matthew quickly added, but it sounded like he had something to hide.

Lucy was momentarily stunned. Why did he sound like he was looking forward to her joining him in the hot springs wearing a bathrobe?

Was it just her imagination?

No, dear Lulu.

It was not just her imagination. Matthew did want to see her in a bathrobe.
