Chapter 1061: Biohazard Invasion (1) Chapter 1061: Biohazard Invasion (1)
Facing the attacks that swept over from all directions, Zhu Wuyang found it difficult to deal with them. However, because these attacks were not focused enough and their coordination was extremely poor, Zhu Wuyang still found an opportunity to take advantage of them.

Zhu Wuwan effectively used the power of Heavenly Punishment to block the attacks of many demons and ghosts, or used these demons and ghosts to resist the power of Heavenly Dharma.

Moreover, these demons and ghosts were not united among themselves. Zhu Wuyang could easily catch their flaws and beat them at their own game, escaping the attacks time and time again.

Gradually, these attacks did not make Zhu Wuyang's situation more difficult. Instead, it made his situation better, and he fled faster and faster.

However, it was under such circumstances that the surrounding demons and ghosts were still unwilling to leave for the sake of the generous Heavenly Dao rewards. They even continued to fight among themselves, trying their best to prevent others from killing Zhu Wuyang. They all wanted to kill Zhu Wuyang themselves so that they could obtain the most generous rewards.

Facing enemies with serious internal strife, Zhu Wuyang was getting more and more relaxed. Only at the beginning did he almost die. What he faced next was all good things.

Just like that, Zhu Wuyang got closer and closer to the Evil Abyss, and the heavenly punishment of the Evil Thought World became more and more terrifying. However, with the help of a group of stupid teammates, Zhu Wuyang was actually a little more relaxed than at the beginning.

Moreover, from the Divine Punishment, Zhu Wuyang could also see that the Malicious Will World was gradually reaching the end of its strength. This should be its final glory. After all, with Zhu Wuyang's actions, the Divine Punishment that had descended at this moment had already exceeded the limit. Even the Will of the Heavenly Way of the Malicious Will World had to follow the basic rules.

The reason why the Will of the Great Path of the Evil Will World was so powerful was that it followed the rules of the Great Path. The power of the rules was the most powerful power in any world because every world was composed of basic rules.

Therefore, if one did not even follow the basic rules, it would inevitably lead to damage to the will of the Great Path and even collapse. It might even affect the rules of a world and bring great harm to this world.

It was precisely because of this that Zhu Wuyang was not instantly killed by the Heavenly Dao rules of the Evil Thought World. Otherwise, if a macro world tried its best to suppress it, even Zhu Wuyang's main body would be instantly crushed into powder, let alone a clone.

Looking at the Evil Abyss that had already appeared in front of his eyes, Song Ankang laughed loudly. All kinds of power surged in his body, and the golden light suddenly erupted with most of its power. In an instant, he fled into the Evil Abyss and disappeared from the World Mountain under the frustrated gazes of the group of demons and ghosts.

At this moment, the Tian Fa that was chasing after Zhu Wuyang also stopped abruptly and dissipated very quickly. Clearly, these Tian Fa were indeed spent.

Seeing that Zhu Wuwan had successfully escaped, the Evil Thought Great World's Tian Fa was also powerless and could only escape.

Even Zhu Wuyang's avatar in the Evil Will World had not been killed, let alone now that he had returned to the Dongyuan Continent. Even though the area of hundreds of thousands of miles around the World Mountain had been enveloped by the rules and will of the Great Path of the Evil Will World, Zhu Wuyang still managed to escape easily. Soon, this avatar had reunited with the main body and left the area of the World Mountain.

At this moment, the area with the World Mountain as the center had been occupied by demons and ghosts. With the addition of the Will of the Great Path and the rules of the Great Path of the Evil Will World, the overall strength of these demons and ghosts far surpassed many high-level cultivators. They beat these high-level cultivators into fleeing in panic, and those who were slightly slower were killed.

Many demons and ghosts had the help of their innate divine abilities, which could activate the power of laws. Their power was far superior to the strongest ultimate skill of a Human Immortal undergoing tribulation. Moreover, most of the cultivators in this area were not Human Immortals undergoing tribulation.

Therefore, the demons and monsters of the Evil Will World were invincible. They devoured the intelligent life forms of the Dongyuan Continent at an astonishing speed, howling excitedly from time to time.

“As expected of the Upper Realm. The life here is really too delicious, especially the humans here. They are far more delicious than the humans in our world by ten or a hundred times.”

“The Upper Realm is just so-so. I originally thought that there would be a bitter battle. I didn’t expect these cultivators from the Upper Realm to be so vulnerable. They were easily swept away by us.”

“It’s all thanks to the help of the Mother of the World that we suppressed the power of laws in this Upper World. Otherwise, we probably wouldn’t have been able to deal with these cultivators from the Upper World.”

“As long as we devour these Upper Realm lives and plunder the various resources of the Upper Realm, we can obtain the reward of the World’s Origin. What are you waiting for? Let’s plunder this area to our heart’s content.”

” With the help of the world’s origin energy, we might be able to break through the limits and surpass the level of cultivators of the ninth rank. We might be able to truly grasp the power of laws and no longer be bound by the Mother of the World. ”

Many demons and ghosts pounced on the cultivators of Dongyuan Continent crazily, plundering everything they saw in order to earn more of the world’s origin energy.

At the same time, the countless clones that Song Ankang had left in the Vile World also started to move. They brought batches of the Sixth Generation Virus to the gathering place of life in the Vile World and poured the virus into those places.

In the face of the modified Biohazard Virus, the low-and middle-level cultivators were infected almost instantly, turning into biochemical demon beasts, biochemical monsters, biochemical ghosts, and biochemical monsters without much intelligence. It roared and pounced on the surrounding lives that had not been infected.

The same scene happened in thousands of places in the Malevolent World, and soon, it set off a huge wave. The vast Malevolent World was enveloped by the Sixth Generation Biohazard Virus at a speed visible to the naked eye. The speed of its spread far exceeded the biochemical viruses in the movies on Earth.

At the same time, Zhu Wanhao could clearly feel a large amount of the world's origin surging towards him, continuously entering his body. The speed was even faster than before the evil thoughts world had invaded Dongyuan Continent.

Zhu Wanwan was also a little surprised. However, after thinking about it carefully, she knew what was going on. It must be that the actions of the Vile Thoughts World had damaged the Dongyuan Continent. Therefore, as long as they caused damage and losses to the Vile Thoughts World and prevented it from attacking the Dongyuan Continent, they would be able to obtain additional rewards, which were more World Origins.

At this moment, not only did the World Origin that Zhu Wanhao obtained not decrease, but it also increased. That was why he could obtain so much World Origin.

This was obviously a good thing for Zhu Wuwan, so her depressed mood instantly improved a lot. If this was done properly, not only would Zhu Wuwan not suffer any losses, but she would also obtain unimaginable benefits.
