Life at the Top Chapter 2074-Jasper did not say anything. He smiled meaningfully and watched the dramatic scene in front of him.

At this moment, Dean walked toward Jasper. If Jasper did not show up, he would really have been forced to step down today!

“Mr. Laine... I...”

“Okay, don’t say anything.” Jasper waved his hand lightly before turning his head and looking at Rio with interest.

“Jasper, I’m telling you, don’t be such a savage!” Rio yelled.

Today, Rio was definitely the one who had been hit the hardest. In just a few minutes, he had fallen from heaven to hell. Just now, he almost succeeded in taking the position, but Jasper appeared in time, and in just a few words, all the partisans were frightened and his dream was shattered.

“Rio, do you know what it means to not see the wood for the trees? There will always be people better than you, do you understand?” Jasper said with a grin.

“Nonsense, of course, I know that!” Rio became more and more emotional. He was completely different from his usual calm and experienced self.

Jasper shook his head. “You’ll know soon.”

Jasper had already arranged for Jake and others to carry out a crackdown plan against the Potter family’s industry, stocks, and so on. He believed that they would get the news soon, hence Jasper walked toward the door after saying that.

Dean hurriedly followed behind him. “Mr. Laine, wait for me... Thank you, Mr. Laine...”

“You don’t need to thank me. As the saying goes, a great favor is not enough to be thanked with words. You just need to remember the words in your heart, and you don’t need to say them. Also, as of today, I can be sure that no one in the Haddock Chamber of Commerce will covet for your place again. Next, you should work hard and manage the Haddock Chamber of Commerce well. It's best if you lead Haddock to further glory."

To be honest, Jasper was expectant of this.

He had high hopes for Dean, and he even felt that Dean's achievement in the future would not be inferior to Gale's.

A great favor was not enough to be thanked with words?

Dean knew very well that Jasper's help toward him today was very important, and it could be considered a great favor. However, to Jasper, it required a very slight effort.

"Mr. Laine, to be frank, I was so envious of you just now. You just said a few words and those people from Haddock were scared into retreating. If I had your ability, I wouldn't have been bullied by Rio." Dean chuckled.

"Remember, everything in this world is made by your own hands. The only person you can rely on is yourself. I hope you can become stronger in the future."

After speaking, Jasper became silent.

Dean had the Haddock Chamber of Commerce as his backing. As long as he managed the Haddock Chamber of Commerce well in the future, his future would be boundless. He was wondering if the two would become enemies because of their interests in the future.

Jasper did not know either, but he could only hope they would not.

"Mr. Laine, let me treat you to dinner tonight, I know a new restaurant..."

"No need, I still need to take care of some things over in Harbor City, so I have to go back."

Dean nodded when he heard Jasper say that.

"Well, when you're done with what's going on in Harbor City, you must come to find me."

"Sure."

Jasper did not speak anymore. He nodded slightly and left. He bought the ticket and returned to Harbor City that night.

7.30 pm, Lane Automotive Factory.

Knowing that Jasper was back, Rowan hurriedly waited at the door.

“Mr. Laine, Homer announced that they would increase their investment in the country. I don’ t know what they want to do.”

‘Increase their investment?’ Jasper smiled softly.

“I think Homer wants to quickly expand in the domestic market and seize the market opportunity. If they seized the key moment, they would occupy the majority of the market share...”

Suddenly, Jasper remembered the memory of his previous life. In his last life, Homer ventured into the domestic market at this time and quickly established themselves in Somerland. So much so that later, everyone would think that cars from Sunrise Land were better.

This concept continued to influence the people for many years.

In truth, Homer made clever use of the preconceived psychology of the masses. However, this time, Jasper was back, and he was familiar with the development trend of the automobile industry in Somerland in the previous life. Therefore, he had to seize the opportunity. The ultimate fate of Homer was either a reverse acquisition or a complete withdrawal from the domestic market.

“They will expose themselves sooner or later if they have ulterior motives. Just focus on our own matters first. As for Homer... I’ll see how many tricks they still have.”

After listening to what Jasper said, Rowan admired him even more in his heart.

“Okay, then let’s wait and see how it progresses silently.”

Jasper nodded and remembered one more thing before warning Rowan.

“It’s a critical period right now and I’m worried that Homer will not give up their evil ways. They will definitely try to create problems from within the Lane Automotive Factory, so you have to keep an eye on the car factory.”

Rowan patted his chest and assured him, “Don’t worry, I’ll definitely pull myself together to make sure that even a trouble-making fly won’t be able to enter the factory.”

“Great!”

After Jasper hung up, he was lost in thought again. If he based it off the trajectory of his previous life, then Homer would definitely increase their leveraged investment now. Then, they would use huge funds to carry out comprehensive coverage of advertisements in the country as propaganda.

Now that he was able to predict Homer’s next move, he naturally had to strike first...

Life at the Top Chapter 2075-In the blink of an eye, three days had passed. In these three days, the turnover of Homer’s factory reached nearly one billion dollars. The shares of Homer Group also skyrocketed by nearly 20 points in just three days. However, at this moment, the outside world suddenly delivered some bad news.

In the past three days, Homer’s sales were on the rise. It was a pity that such a grand event only lasted until the morning of the third day before coming to an abrupt end. This was because the attention of all consumer groups was attracted by another electric vehicle newly launched by Lane Automotive Factory.

The advertising slogan of Lane Automotive Factory was ‘the era of smart electric vehicles is coming, and it’ll only take one hour to take you to any place in the world!’

Such a fanciful advertising slogan captured the hearts of a large number of consumer groups. Not to mention the cool appearance of this new energy electric vehicle that was even more eye-catching.

The advent of this smart electric car attracted the attention of all car dealers in the outside world, but there were also various doubts associated with it.

However, even if there were significant doubts, it could not change the unstoppable strength of Lane Automotive. One had to know that consumers were always curious about new things.

“Mr. Laine has completely rewritten the history of automobiles in Somerland this time!”

Jasper glanced at them with a smile and said in a flat tone, “Okay, I’m fine if it’s someone else, but stop sucking up to me, you two. The renewal and reformation of an era is not so easy, and the various problems that will arise next are the real tests for us. However... The reason why we were able to catch Homer’s factory off guard this time is because of everyone’s cooperation. You all did a great job.”

“No, it’s all thanks to your superb leadership, Mr. Laine.” Beckett touched the back of his head a little embarrassedly and said.

Jasper smiled and did not speak. Instead, he simply drank the half glass of red wine in his hand.

“Tomorrow I will visit the Laws and then go back to Nauritus City. I will hand the car factory in Harbor City to you then.”

Upon hearing that Jasper was leaving so soon, both Rowan and Beckett looked reluctant.

“Mr. Laine, are you leaving so soon?”

After getting along with them during these days, Jasper had already forged a deep friendship with them. Now, they were genuinely reluctant for Jasper to leave.

Jasper glanced at them and could not help frowning. “Say, what’s that expression on your face? I’m just going back to Nauritus City, I’m not going to die. If you miss me, just come to Nauritus City at any time to find me!”

Rowan smiled and suggested again, “Well, why don’t we call the gang and celebrate tonight? I know a new food stall that just opened on Queen Road. The location is good and many beautiful women will go there to stream at night...”

Jasper smiled and said, "Do you want to go eat with me or see beautiful women?"

"Uhm... Do I have to distinguish it so clearly? Can't I look at beautiful women while eating?" Rowan smiled and shrugged.

Jasper pondered for a while, thinking that things in Harbor City had basically come to an end.

After he went back this time, he would not know when he would be back again. Hence, he nodded.

"Okay, I'll see you tonight!"

After Rowan and the others left, Jasper got another call from Larry.

"Jasper, you must be very proud of yourself now, right?"

"Well, not really," Jasper replied in a flat tone.

Larry, who was on the other end of the phone, had a dark look on his face. "Jasper, do you know what will happen to me if you do this? I know you have a lot of capital, but even a dog will jump over the fence if it's driven to desperation. Do you really want to drive me into a dead end?"

Jasper did not want to continue talking nonsense with Larry, but now that the other party had taken the initiative to call and threaten him, he had to retort.

"Larry, do you think you have a chance to make a comeback? To put it bluntly, the real controlling party behind Homer is foreign capital, and you are just a lackey. This time, your employer has suffered a heavy loss. Instead of spending the time to threaten me, you might as well think about how you can survive!"

Jasper hung up the phone after he finished speaking.

And just as he said, after this, Larry never appeared in front of his eyes again...

Life at the Top Chapter 2076-At eight o'clock in the evening, Jasper drove directly to the food stall. Of course, Rowan and Beckett had arrived early, and the waiter was bringing barbecue and beer to the table.

“Mr. Laine, you’re here!” Rowan grinned at him and waved.

Jasper glanced at them, strode over, pulled out a chair, and sat down.

Beckett filled the glass in front of Jasper.

“Mr. Laine, have you heard? The news broke an hour ago that Homer held a domestic press conference and decided to officially withdraw all production lines from Somerland!”

Jasper lowered his eyes when he heard this. He was not surprised by the news coming from Beckett. On the contrary, all this was actually what he expected.

“With the strong rise of Lane Automotive Factory, it is inevitable that foreign-owned cars will gradually withdraw from the domestic first-tier market. However, domestic cars still have a long way to go in the future. You should continue the process even when I’m not here.”

“Haha! Of course, of course!”

“Don’t worry, Mr. Laine, we won’t let you down!”

Rowan, Beckett, and the others patted their chests to assure him.

Just as he was talking, a Maserati drove over and stopped by the side of the street. Then, the siblings, Henry and Anna, got out of the car. Anna’s exceptional temperament and gorgeous face immediately attracted a lot of attention when she appeared. However, to her, aside from Jasper, no one was good enough for her.

“Jasper, I’m sorry, something happened at home so that’s why we’re late.” Henry walked toward them with a smile.

Rowan deliberately joked, “It’s not too late, but if you were a little later, we would have already gone home.”

Anna ignored them and went directly to Jasper to pull out a chair before sitting down.

“Jasper, I heard you’re going back to Nauritus City soon, right?”

Jasper nodded. "I've dealt with the matters here in Harbor City and it's time for me to go back."

There was a trace of reluctance in Anna's eyes. She said, "I was originally going to go to Swallow Capital, but there are a lot of things going on at home recently, so I can't leave. But when I'm done, I'll go to Nauritus City to see you."

"Okay, then I'll be waiting to see you in Nauritus City," Jasper said with a smile.

At this time, Henry said, "By the way, Jasper, before we came, Grandpa asked me to bring you a message. He said that he wanted to see you and had something to talk to you about."

Jasper nodded when he heard that. "What a coincidence. I planned to visit him tomorrow too."

Upon hearing that, Henry suggested again, "Why don't you come back with me and stay at our house tonight so that you can save yourself a lot of trouble tomorrow morning."

"Alright."

After the party, Jasper went to the Law Manor with Henry and Anna.

It was already two o'clock in the morning and Old Master Law had already gone to rest. Hence, Jasper did not bother him anymore.

Anna asked the family's servant to arrange a room for Jasper.

He had drunk a lot today and after entering the house, he took a shower and went straight to sleep.

In his dream, Jasper saw that five years later, Somerland was prospering, engulfing the entire world... It was not until he woke up the next day that Jasper realized it was just a sweet dream. However, it did not matter because he knew that this day would come sooner or later.

It was nothing but a matter of time!

After washing up, Anna came to look for him.

“Jasper, my grandpa has woken up and is waiting for you in the dining room now.”

Jasper simply packed up and followed Anna to the dining room.

He saw that only Old Master Law was present, but Henry was not there.

He smiled and greeted, “Old Master, you’re up early.”

Old Master Law looked at him kindly. “I heard good news about you again. In truth, I couldn’t wait to see you yesterday. However, I figured you might not have any free time, so I waited until today.”

Jasper was keenly aware that Old Master Law had something to say to him.

“I wonder what you want to say to me, Old Master Law.”

Old Master Law chuckled. He first glanced at Anna and instructed, “Jasper and I have something to say, you should go do your thing.”

“Okay, I’ll leave now.”

Anna stuck out her tongue as she spoke. Then, she winked at Jasper before leaving.

After Anna left, Old Master Law spoke slowly again, “Since you signed a non-interference agreement with Soros and the others some time ago, Harbor Stocks began to quickly recover. Shares in the liquor, metals, and information industries that were previously sanctioned in the United States also rose sharply. At present, Harbor Stocks is showing an upward trend in a large area. Furthermore, the ecological balance that was destroyed before has now completely returned to normal.”

Old Master Law said and looked at Jasper, his expression a little excited.

“You have contributed greatly to the recovery of Harbor Stocks to what it is today, Jasper!”

Life at the Top Chapter 2077-Jasper bowed his head and smiled. “Old Master Law, don’t praise me like that, I’ll become arrogant.”

Old Master Law sighed and said with emotion, "With the recovery of Harbor stocks, the Laws have basically recovered during this period. With the Lane Automobile Factory listed, Harbor City's economic circle is completely thriving right now!"

However, as he said this, Old Master Law paused, and his expression became a little dignified.

"It's just that, of course, even if part of the economy has recovered, it will take some time for the financial circle of all of Mainland Somerland to fully recover. In my opinion, those who hide in the depths will not give up, so you must be careful."

In reality, the main purpose of Old Master Law meeting Jasper today is to remind him of this. Old Master Law valued Jasper, someone of the younger generation, from the bottom of his heart. Even if he knew very well that as long as Jasper existed, his grandson Henry might have to live under his shadow for the rest of his life.

If it were someone else, Old Master Law would definitely erase their name and person from Somerland. After all, no one would want to see an insurmountable obstacle in front of their children and grandchildren in the future. However, this person was Jasper...

Old Master Law, an old fox who had been through so many ups and downs all his life, knew that he could only win over people like Jasper and not offend them. Besides, Harbor City has been moving closer to Swallow Capital recently. Their family also urgently needed to find an ally like Jasper to pave the way for their future transfer to the mainland.

After listening to what old Master Law said, Jasper nodded with a smile. "I have already thought of this a long time ago. After returning to Swallow City this time, I will definitely face a more difficult test. But since I have chosen this path and pledged my allegiance to my ideals, then I will move forward no matter how difficult the road ahead is."

When Old Master Law saw how high-spirited Jasper was, he felt as if he was looking at himself when he was young.

After breakfast, Jasper bade farewell to the old man and drove directly to the airport.

In the afternoon, Jasper was going to go back to Nauritus City to have a look at JW Group, but he received a call from the crippled Brown on the way.

“Jasper, are you free these two days? Do you want to come to my house?”

“I was just about to get on the plane, you’re so well informed,” Jasper said with a smile.

“Alright, I originally wanted to go back to JW Group first, but it’s fine, I’ll go to you first.”

After he finished speaking, he hung up the phone. Jasper changed the itinerary. After a few hours of flight, Jasper landed in Swallow Capital and came to the crippled Brown’s house.

As soon as he walked in the door, he saw both Adele and Celine.

The crippled Brown was sitting on the sofa with a cup of hot tea in his hand. After he spotted Jasper, he asked with a smile.

“This is the Darjeeling that was just delivered from Southville. Would you like some?”

“Okay, it seems that I came just in time for good tea.”

Jasper knew that the crippled Brown had a tea estate at Southville.

The tea produced yearly was specially dedicated to the upper class of Somerland because the annual production was very little. It could be said that it was extremely hard to obtain.

At this time, Adele giggled and said, “Jasper, my brother and I have heard about your record in Harbor City this time. You’ve made a name for yourself internationally the last time you single-handedly forced the Rothschild people to back away. This time, you came up with electric cars and caught everyone off guard. In the future, you might gain the title father of domestic cars.”

Celine also said with a smile, “Yes, I was really not optimistic about the domestic auto industry. If I had known that you still had this in you, I should have invested in you!”

When he heard them saying that jokingly, Jasper shook his head with a smile. Then, when Adele also saw that his brother had something to say to Jasper, she got up and grabbed Celine.

“I bought a few paintings at the auction two days ago. Would you accompany me to see them?”

Celine nodded understandingly, “Okay.”

After the two women left, only Jasper and the crippled Brown were left in the room.

The crippled Brown took a deep look at Jasper and said directly, “Originally, I was not optimistic about you going to Harbor City to engage in the auto industry, but the result has once again refreshed my understanding of you. Sure enough, you always catch us off guard and it seems there’s nothing you can’t do.”

Jasper shook his head with a smile and glanced at the crippled Brown when he heard this.

“You didn’t specially call me here just to compliment me like the outsiders, right? If that’s the case, I’ll go first so that you won’t waste your time.”

The crippled Brown shook his head with a chuckle and said calmly after taking a sip of tea.

“I warned you long before you went to Harbor City. Those people have been eyeing you since the last financial war. But they didn’t do anything before. This time, you’ve made such a commotion in Harbor City. I’m afraid those people can’t wait to sharpen their knives to teach you a lesson.”

Jasper laughed when he heard that “What are you afraid of? Worse comes to worst, I’ll just adopt measures appropriate to the actual situation. If I was afraid of these things, why should I stand up and oppose the people from the United States in the first place?”

Jasper was right, but the crippled Brown was still a little worried and added, “Anyway, you still have to be careful.”

Life at the Top Chapter 2078-After chatting with the crippled Brown for a while at his house, Jasper got up to leave, went directly to the airport, and flew back to Nauritus City.

Jasper had always been resolute in his work. After running around for a long time, he was also desperate to go home.

When he got back to his house, he opened the door and saw Wendy lying on the sofa while flipping through the pages of her documents. She looked surprised when she saw Jasper.

“Why did you come back so soon without calling me in advance?”

“I wanted to give you a surprise,” Jasper said as he undid the tie around his neck with one hand. “Look at you, you are off the clock, but you are still working. The body is the capital for revolution.”

Then he stepped forward and picked Wendy up before walking to the bedroom.

“Were you missing me these days?”

“What are you doing? We’re in broad daylight...” Wendy bowed her head shyly.

Although the two had been very intimate, whenever she felt the fiery temperature coming from Jasper’s body, her face would still turn red and her heart would race.

Jasper put her gently on the bed. Then, he stared into Wendy’s eyes heatedly.

“We’ve been together for so long, so why are you still shy?”

As he spoke, he kissed her lips, frantically plundering the fragrance between her lips and teeth. They were intertwined with each other from the morning till midnight. Finally, Jasper spared Wendy when she was too exhausted.

The next morning, Jasper woke up, but he did not immediately get up. Instead, he looked down at Wendy’s sleeping face in his arms. There was a look of guilt on his face.

Wendy never complained to him, but he also knew that it must be very hard for a woman like Wendy to be in charge of the huge JW Group during this time. However, to ensure he did not worry about her, she silently bore all the pressure. This moved Jasper very much.

He could not help lowering his head and kissing Wendy's forehead gently. Coincidentally, Wendy woke up at this time. When she saw Jasper's actions, she protested coquettishly.

"Hey, why did you kiss me when I'm sleeping?"

Jasper smiled, his face filled with love.

"You're my wife. Can't I kiss you whenever I want to?"

After he said that, he pressed his lips against her small lips. A sweetness immediately filled his mouth, which slightly intoxicated Jasper. After a long while, he finally released her.

"Alright, it's morning. I have to go to the office later. There's a senior meeting today..."

Wendy glared at him and said, "I really want to be an idler, but you left the JW Group to me at the beginning and now the JW Group is in a period of rapid growth, so I have to go over and manage it in person."

"Well then, I'll pick you up from work later. Shall we go to the movies at night?" Jasper suddenly suggested.

Wendy nodded. "Okay, that's fine."

Since solving the problem of competing with the stock market in the United States, the international status of JW Group was also rising, which also brought them unprecedented exposure and opportunities. However, at the same time, Jasper was busier than ever.

He originally thought that after signing a non-interference agreement with Soros and the others, he could live a peaceful life. However, soon after, Jasper was sent by the old man above to Harbor City to clean up the mess, which also caused the young couple to be separated for some time, let alone have time to watch a movie...

"Okay, it's time for me to get up."

After being entangled with each other for a while, Wendy finally made up her mind to break free from Jasper's arms.

"I'm going to the office, see you tonight."

"Goodbye, honey."

Jasper leaned back on the bed and waved at Wendy with a smile.

After Wendy left home, Jasper also got up to wash up. Then, he went to the kitchen to find something to eat as he received a call from Dean.

"Mr. Laine, I heard you went back to Nauritus City yesterday, right? I just arrived in Nauritus City. Do you have time?"

Jasper thought for a while. It seemed that he had nothing scheduled for the time being, so it would not be a bad idea to have a meal with Dean and then learn about the latest news in the Haddock Chamber of Commerce...

"Yes, of course. You should set a place and I'll head over later."

"Okay then, Jasper, you can just come directly to a manor. I will send the address to your mobile phone later."

Just when Jasper hung up the call with Dean, he suddenly received another call.

"Sir, I have the latest news here..."

"Alright, go on. Jasper's expression became heavy.

The person he had arranged for would not call him if there was no important matter.

"After Soros signed a non-interference agreement with you last time, there seems to be a big difference in opinion among the Rothschilds, especially with Miss Bella!"

"Bella?" Jasper frowned slightly, the arrogant and domineering girl's face appeared in his mind again.

"What does she want?"

“Bella seems to be in preparation to go to Somerland. Although she hasn’t set off yet, if she does go to Somerland, you should pay more attention to it, Sir. That woman is a lunatic!”

Upon hearing this, the look in Jasper’s eyes turned a little more solemn.

“Okay, I got it.”

After a pause, he asked again, “By the way, is there anything else going on in the United States recently?”

Life at the Top Chapter 2079-After a moment of silence on the phone, the person replied, “After the last financial war, the Rothschilds were severely affected, and recently, they are cleaning up the mess. Apart from Bella, who is still eager to try again, the others will not fight Somerland and you for the time being. But the Freemasons have been doing a lot of things recently. Judging from their current actions, they seem to be on the verge of making a move!”

Upon hearing this news, Jasper’s expression became even more solemn.

“Okay, I see, you should continue to observe the situation over there and tell me in time if there is anything unusual.”

After hanging up, Jasper made himself a cup of coffee, sat down on the sofa, and started to think.

Freemasonry’s influence and control over the United States and the West were very strong.

In the beginning, he used the method of a military expedition and finally forced the Rothschilds to back up, which then allowed the domestic economy to recuperate. If the people from the Freemasons wanted to do anything at this time, he would be in big trouble. However, in any case, the current global situation was just like this.

Global finance would never be peaceful, and as long as there was capital, there would be conflict. Even so, he had nothing to fear!

When worse came to worst, he would just adopt measures appropriate to the actual situation.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, Jasper went to the manor that Dean had booked. As soon as he entered the door, Dean stepped forward and greeted him with a smile.

"Jasper, you're here, please sit down! Today, I asked the chef to prepare 108 unique dishes according to the eight major cuisines!"

"It's just a meal, why do you have to do so much?" Jasper shook his head with a smile.

Dean said, "I should do this. If you hadn't supported me, Jasper, I'm afraid I'd already be kicked out of this position as the head of the Haddock Chamber of Commerce."

Speaking of this, Dean's expression was extremely sincere. Then, he said, "Actually, I invited you to dinner today mainly because there are a lot of things I want to tell you."

Jasper glanced at him and did not speak. Then, he went straight to the table and sat down. Soon, the waiters began to bring exquisite delicacies to the table.

"Jasper, try this cherry blossom sea cucumber..."

As Dean spoke, he enthusiastically pushed the dishes in front of Jasper.

Facing a table of countless delicacies, Jasper did not move his fork. Instead, he looked at Dean and said, "You didn't invite me here just to eat, right?"

"Jasper..." Dean looked at him. He wanted to say something, but he stopped himself a few times.

Jasper sighed and said, "If you have anything, just spit it out. It's not like you to dilly-dally."

After hearing this, Dean had a sad look on his face and said, "Jasper, since the last time you helped me deal with Rio and those who used their seniority to ride roughshod over people in the Haddock Chamber of Commerce, the situation in Haddock is finally stabilizing."

Jasper raised his eyebrows and asked again, "Isn't this a good thing, Why are you still making such an expression?"

Dean shook his head, an even more bitter smile appeared on his face. “Jasper, you don’t know. When my grandpa was around, the Haddock Chamber of Commerce had a certain authority in Haddock Province and even in the whole of Somerland. Though those people out there covet the Haddock Chamber of Commerce, they wouldn’t dare to mess with Old Master Hurlbutt. But now with the passing of Old Master Hurlbutt, although there is no clear sign, I have found that some people have begun to eye the Haddock Chamber of Commerce and have taken action.”

After Jasper listened to Dean quietly, he asked again, “Then do you know who those people are?”

Dean smiled wryly and shook his head. “I don’t know yet, they managed to hide very well. And at the moment, they have only made a few tentative attempts at the Haddock Chamber of Commerce and there is no concrete action yet, so it is difficult for me to determine their identities.”

Speaking of this, Dean suddenly raised his head and he became more serious.

“However, I have a hunch. Those people are likely to be high-level families of Swallow Capital, but they are hidden so deeply that people can’t detect them at all!”

Dean was actually very worried about this. The Haddock Chamber of Commerce had a lot of power, but in the huge country of Somerland, there were still quite a few chambers of commerce like the Haddock Chamber of Commerce. Moreover, no one knew if the Haddock Chamber of Commerce would still perform as well as before now that Gale was not around.

If the top family of Swallow Capital was really eyeing them this time, then the Haddock Chamber of Commerce might be in trouble.

Life at the Top Chapter 2080-When Dean thought that he might destroy Gale’s hard work with his own hands one day, he would be too shameless to face Old Master Hurlbutt after he died.

After a moment of silence, Jasper took a deep breath, and after listening to what Dean said just now, he was keenly aware of something in his heart.

In order to fight the financial war with the United States the last time, almost all of Somerland's capital was now intertwined to fight the outside world under his call. However, now the crisis on the outside had receded, the people in the country were starting to only once again focus on their own affairs.

This naturally included those who did not want to see him rise and those who could not tolerate his existence. However, right now, his JW Group had become famous and it had even been recognized by the old man above. The people behind him naturally did not dare to blatantly take action against the JW Group, but they could start with the people around him, such as the Haddock Chamber of Commerce and Dean.

Thinking of this, Jasper's hands that were on his knees clenched into fists.

Since the other party took the initiative to provoke them this time, then they should not blame him for being merciless to them when they truly started acting.

After a long silence, Jasper spoke again, "I understand what you said, but right now, they are hiding in the dark while you're in the light. If they did not want you to notice their identity, there is nothing you can do."

"But if that's the case, what should I do?" Dean said anxiously.

Jasper lowered his eyes and pondered for a moment in his heart. Then, he suddenly thought of something and said, "Well, you can cope with the shifting events by sticking to a fundamental principle and not doing anything. Just wait quietly for the other party to take the initiative to expose themselves. If there is anything later, remember to tell me as soon as possible."

After hearing his words, Dean was so moved his eyes turned red. Then, he said in a slightly choked voice, "Thank you, Jasper, since the passing of Old Master Hurlbutt, you are the person I trust most!"

"You're welcome..." Jasper said lightly.

After returning from Dean's place, it was past six o'clock in the evening.

Jasper was driving during the rush hour when he suddenly remembered something. He almost forgot that he had agreed in the morning that he would go to the movies with Wendy in the evening, so he quickly took out his mobile phone and called her.

“Honey, are you still at the company?”

“Yeah, I just finished a meeting here and I’m going home now. Where are you?” Wendy asked.

Jasper breathed a sigh of relief and said, “Alright, I’ll pick you up from the company now and we’ll watch a movie together...”

On the other end of the phone, Wendy was looking forward to it after she heard Jasper saying that. After all, women were like flowers, and they would also yearn for the nourishment of the rain...

When Jasper and Wendy went home after watching the movie, Lord Alvarado called Jasper before they could enter the house.

“Jasper, you jerk, you’ve been back in Nauritus City for a few days, but you didn’t invite us to your house.”

Lord Alvarado’s tone was like that of a neglected wife, and it made Jasper feel inexplicably embarrassed. He came back to his senses and said, “Are you near my house already?”

“I knew you’re a smart guy who can guess anything!” Lord Alvarado said with a smile.

“Alright, you can tell me what’s going on when you’re here. I’ll wait for you at home,” Jasper said with a smile. It seemed that he could not spend alone time with Wendy tonight.

After a while, Lord Alvarado, the little prince, and others arrived at Jasper’s house.

Jasper greeted them, “We don’t have a housekeeper in our house so there is no one here to serve you. Just behave casually.”

However, at this time, the little prince suddenly asked with a serious look, “By the way, Jasper, there seems to be a problem with the Haddock Chamber of Commerce recently.”

When he heard this, Jasper’s expression suddenly became serious, and after looking at the little prince and others, he said, “As far as I know, some people from Swallow Capital have been eager to take action recently.”

Lord Alvarado also touched his chin and said thoughtfully, “Originally, Swallow Capital has a lot of different forces and they couldn’t stand Jasper’s meteoric rise. If I were them, I would definitely try to prevent Jasper from continuing to grow and develop.”

“Otherwise, once Jasper’s foundation is solidified in the future, it’ll be too late to take action against him,” After his voice fell, the room fell silent for a moment.

This was such an obvious intention and people like Lord Alvarado could easily see through it. So, he continued, “If I guessed correctly, Swallow Capital will soon set off another invisible bloody storm!”

At this time, Simson was the first to speak, “In short, in any case, everyone’s interests are now firmly tied together. If those people really want to do something to Jasper, it will be difficult for us as well. When worse comes to worst, everyone will become losers. I want to see who will win in the end.”

“Yeah, that’s what I thought too,” Moses stood up and echoed Simson’s words.

For a while, all eyes were on Jasper, waiting for his statement. However, Jasper’s cell phone suddenly rang, and he glanced at everyone, “I’m sorry, I need to go into the room to answer this call...”

After speaking, he stood up and walked into the room. Then, he closed the door, pressed the answer button, and spoke in a relaxed tone.

“Mr. McNeal, why are you calling me at this time?”
