

Life Changing 32

Chapter 32 A Luxurious House

At the entrance of an extravagant residential estate in Xing Zhou City, a BMW drove inside at a constant, moderate speed.

Bai Chen, who was inside that car, widened his eyes a little. He looked out the vehicle's window and saw gigantic and beautiful houses along the way.

He had never thought that Long Xu In would be living inside this extremely luxurious estate.

"Xu In, you live here?" Bai Chen calmed down and turned to ask this question of the driver, Long Xu In.

She looked at Bai Chen a little with a frown.

Judging from his demeanour, he was probably faking his astonishment. Long Xu In understood that Bai Chen was a son of a rich family whose wealth had reached its second generation.

She seriously took this as fact.

And the magic glasses were the cause of it. The glasses were made from pure gold, which confirmed her belief even more.

"Yes." She nodded in reply. "We'll arrive soon."

Bai Chen gulped when he heard her answer. It looked like this Long Xu In was really wealthy.

When he thought of the fact that she was actually a computer science genius, Bai Chen came to realise why she had her wealth.

Barely five minutes later, the BMW car reached a dead-end. In front of them was a massive and beautiful silver-coloured stainless steel sliding gate.

Next to it was a small gateman's box.

There was a middle-aged man inside. He was watching a YouTube video on his phone.

When the man saw the BMW in front of the silver-coloured stainless-steel gate, he quickly put his phone down and pressed a button to open the gate.

The silver-coloured stainless-steel gate slid open all the way in a blink of an eye.

Long Xu In drove in as soon as the gate was wide open.

Bai Chen stared at the gate with a dumbfounded expression. He thought it was really like the movies he had watched. A rich person's house had an automatic front gate like the one in front of him now.

Having driven inside, Long Xu In parked the car in the garage. There were several other luxury cars inside.

Bai Chen got out of the BMW with Long Xu In. He could not help but think about how rich she was, because just the four cars that she had cost about twenty million yuan.

“Follow me.”

Long Xu In did not care much about the expression on his face. She said what she said and walked out of the garage.

Bai Chen could only shake his head to get rid of his thoughts.

The boy decided that he would not care or feel anything about whatever he saw in Long Xu In’s extravagant house.

He followed her to the front door, which was made of luxurious glass. The woman did not open the door herself. It was a middle-aged woman who did it for her.

The middle-aged woman was in a housekeeper’s uniform. She looked at Long Xu In and smiled.

“Welcome back, miss.”

“Thank you, Auntie Hui. Can you ask the chef in the kitchen to prepare the best dishes? I have an important guest today.” Long Xu In smiled saying this.

When she heard Long Xu In’s words, the gaze of the housekeeper called Auntie Hui fell on Bai Chen automatically.

She glanced at him with slight interest, since she had never seen her young miss bring any boys home before, let alone throwing one a feast.

“He is...?” she could not help but turn to inquire of Long Xu In with curiosity.

This housekeeper had raised Long Xu In since she was little when her mother was away for work. This meant that she and Long Xu In were very close.

“Hi, Auntie Hui, please call me Bai Chen. I’m Xu In’s friend.”

Bai Chen introduced himself to Auntie Hui without waiting for Long Xu In to say anything.

“Young miss’s friend...” Auntie Hui’s lips parted. She mumbled softly.

p She was shocked to hear what he’d said. He’d called her young miss ‘Xu In’ and said he was her friend. This was a situation she had never found herself in before.

‘Who is this man? Why did the young miss let him call her by that name?’

She could only wonder that in her heart but did not dare ask. The housekeeper quickly went back into the house to tell the chef Long Xu In’s order.

After Auntie Hui had gone in, Long Xu In took Bai Chen into her luxurious home. The house was full of beautiful decorations no matter where one looked.

He was taken into a luxurious living room. The sofa made from fur that he sat on was soft and comfortable beyond belief. In front of him was a huge television, whose width he did not know.

“Drink the lemonade first.”

Long Xu In looked especially energetic. She walked to the refrigerator and put lemonade in a glass for him.

“Thank you.” Bai Chen took the glass of lemonade from her hand and took a sip.

The coldness of the lemonade passed down his throat, making him feel extremely refreshed.

Long Xu In looked at him. A rare smile lit up her face.

But it was fleeting, which made Bai Chen unaware of it since he was drinking the lemonade.

After drinking half of the glass, Bai Chen put the lemonade on a black glass table in front of him.

He asked, “So why did you bring me here again?”

“I wanted to thank you, so I brought you to my home to host a feast,” Long Xu In answered calmly.

“Just that?”

Bai Chen frowned. He was not expecting that she would invite him over without telling him why just to throw him a small party as a thank you gift.

“There’s one more thing. I want to know about your magic!” she said with her eyes glowing.
