Chapter 54 Xi Dong's Calamity (2)

"You wanna die?!?"

Xi Dong's face was very dark right now. It was very obvious how enraged he was.

"I don't know who your daddy is that you'd dare to say that sort of thing in front of police officers like us."

Lieutenant Jong, who was standing next to the Audi, laughed out loud as soon as he heard Xi Dong's words. He pretended to not know these guys, despite knowing fully well who they were.

"Let me give you some good advice from the goodness of my heart. If you don't want to die, put away your guns right now and let my Young Master pass through!" Heng Gong roared ferociously.

He wanted to leap out of the car to kill every single one of the seven cops right now if he could.

Unfortunately, that was not possible, as he might be shot dead.

Though he was proficient in combat, dealing with seven people with guns in their hands was not something he could handle.

"As Heng Gong said, if you do as I said, I'll let this slide just once." Xi Dong tried to calm his rage.

He was not stupid. If these people got crazy and shot him to death, he would not come back to life no matter what the Xi family did.

This was the reason why Xi Dong agreed with Heng Gong's words and why he said what he said.

Of course, Xi Dong would not do what he said. As soon as he got himself out of this situation, he would kill all the cops that were surrounding his car immediately.

It was clear that Xi Dong was a very brutal man, as simply being angered by someone already made him want to kill that person!

"Nice speech." Lieutenant Jong laughed out loud again. "So if we don't do as you say, you'll kill us, right?"

"Yes," Heng Gong said without changing his expression. "This person in this car is Young Master Xi Dong from the Xi family, one of the most influential clans in Beijing. Just think about it. If you anger Young Master Xi Dong even more, what will happen to you?"

"Young Master Xi Dong from the Xi family in Beijing?" Lieutenant Jong's face did not change. He smiled at Heng Gong. "I knew that from the start."

What Lieutenant Jong said made Heng Gong and Xi Dong's faces change. The two of them shouted nearly at the same time, "What do you mean?!?"

“What else would that mean? This is an order from the upper echelon. I don’t know what Young Master Xi Dong did to anger people up there, but with this order, nothing will ever change, even with the Xi family’s help,” Lieutenant Jong said with a smile.

“You’re lying!”

Xi Dong and Heng Gong’s faces went pale. The two of them could feel their hearts beating faster with panic.

They did not know whether Lieutenant Jong was telling the truth or lying. However, that alone was enough to make the two of them anxious and terrified.

“Y... you must be lying.” Xi Dong’s lips quivered. He blurted this out in disbelief.

“That’s right! There’s no way what you said is true. You’ll pay for what you’ve done, for lying like this!” Heng Gong quickly backed him up.

“Truth or lie, you’ll just have to wait and see. Superintendent Yang will be here within ten minutes,” Lieutenant Jong said nonchalantly.

If he had not been informed by the upper echelon of Xing Zhou City’s police station that Xi Dong was pretty much over, he would not dare treat the guy like this. That would only bring disaster upon himself.

Xi Dong’s and Heng Gong’s faces went even paler. In their hearts, they thought what Lieutenant Jong said was ‘not real.’

Even so, seeing the self-assured face of the other party, they were starting to realise that it might not be a lie.

Their hearts were beating restlessly and could only stay still, waiting for the police superintendent of Xing Zhou City to arrive.

Ten minutes later, a police vehicle arrived behind the Audi which Xi Dong and Heng Gong were in.

The person who got out of the car was a middle-aged man dressed in a complete police uniform with a good-looking face.

From his rank insignia, it could be seen that this man was a Lieutenant Colonel and had now assumed the position of Xing Zhou City station’s police superintendent.

This man got out of the car with another policeman, who was a police captain.

“Superintendent.”

Seeing the police superintendent, the six policemen put their guns away and gave him a salute. Lieutenant Jong also followed suit, acting no different from the others.

Police Superintendent Yang nodded to every officer present. His name was Yang Gao and the man accompanying him was called Cao Song. Every police officer in the Xing Zhou Police Station called him Captain Cao.

“Superintendent Yang, what is the meaning of all this?” Xi Dong hurriedly opened the car door to get out and talk to the superintendent.

His tone was filled with dissatisfaction. On the other hand, it was also full of worry. That was because of what Lieutenant Jong had said earlier.

Superintendent Yang looked at Xi Dong and sighed. His relationship with the young man was not bad actually.

Even though Xi Dong was dealing drugs with Ma Jong, he had always let this matter slide. However, this time he really could not, even though he wanted to.

Because this time, there had been a direct order from General Huang Qian, a very powerful man in the military.

Superintendent Yang had not expected that Xi Dong would mess up big time until he had angered General Huang Qian, leading to this order being passed down.

“Young Master Xi Dong, you have committed the crime of dealing drugs and possessing over a hundred thousand pills,” Superintendent Yang said.

“You have no alibi for this one. We found all the evidence at the hotel you’re staying at!”

“What?!?” Xi Dong’s eyes widened with shock. His face went pale. His heart was trembling violently, and so was his body.
