

Read God of Life and Death Chapter 4 RAW: Missed

Family merits, the Fang family's great reward and glory for meritorious officials.

The Fangjiali clan has survived for more than 3,200 years. There are countless treasures and exercises in the treasure house. Even if you have money, you can't buy these things, but you can only exchange them for family merit! Therefore, every bit of family merit is most precious. Three thousand family merits are indeed not a small number. Marriage can be rewarded and compensated for three thousand family merits, which is indeed extremely rich. Before Fang Yue, those who married the family had never been compensated like this.

As for the honorary elders of the family, it is what countless heroes in the family want to get. This is not only a kind of glory, but also a symbol of identity and status.

Every month you can get fifty points of family merits, as well as various cultivation materials. Even if there is no real power, this position is also an out-and-out sweet and pastry!

Fang Yue couldn't decide for a while, because he wanted both!

"To contribute to the family is to repay my gratitude to the family for so many years of hard work! It is my unshirkable responsibility and obligation! The compensation of the family is really an insult to my gratitude! Please also the patriarch, take back your fame! "

Fang Yue abruptly refused. He even felt a five-star red flag waving in the wind above his head.

Follow the script in the TV series.

The patriarch will definitely be moved and cry bitterly, and then give more generous rewards.

Then, after some false pretense, he can reluctantly reward his difficult men.

Hey, I'm such a genius! Fang Yue thought of narcissism.

"Okay! I didn't expect my grandson to inherit the moral quality of Fang Qiumu's selfless dedication to the family! Regardless of personal gains and losses, willing to contribute to the family. Your spirit is worthy of being promoted by the family. Your ideas also let me Moved! Then I'll just follow what you said. Take back your fame and stop using compensation to insult you!"

Fang Qiumu patted Fang Yue's shoulder, always gratified.

The expression on Fang Yue's face immediately froze.

Wait, old guy, how do you play cards according to the routine!

Fang Qiumu looked up to the sky and laughed, carrying her hands behind her back, and leaving Fang Yue's room leisurely.

In the end, only Fang Yue himself was left, messy in the wind, and the TV series were indeed deceptive!

Those scribbled screenwriters, I drafted Mommy!

The beautiful woman in the palace costume was full of despair. This son, as expected, had his head broken once he died.

She was thinking whether she would touch a shovel and put it on the back of his head to see if Fang Yue could return to normal.

The night is quiet.

He was the only one left in Fang Yue's room. During the day, many famous doctors' consultations have proved that his body is recovering from illness, and even the blood is vigorous and surging, ten times the amount before the coma! Fang Yue's parents, seven aunts and eight aunts, became relieved after visiting, and then went on their own.

Only Fang Yue's mother was still muttering words when she was leaving. This baby's head is broken, how can we fix it!

Sitting alone in an empty house, the shadow of the candle dies.

Fang Yue carefully took out two things and placed them in front of him.

The small letters on the three golden leaves are densely packed. Although they are integrated into Fang Yue's body, they can still be taken out. These are three peerless exercises. Looking at the name is unusual. The combination of the three can also become a super magical power-the great resurrection technique. For countless years, no one has practiced, but he is destined.

After being reborn, there are three weak and pure breaths circulating in his body, representing life, death and soul! Ten times stronger physical body is the good fortune of life breath.

These three golden leaves are definitely what the instant noodle advertisement says-delicious and visible!

As for "The Story that a Thousand-Year Old Turtle and a Thousand-year God Turtle Have to Tell" The name is definitely low! Originally, Fang Yue thought it was telling a love story of two elders who depended on life and death.

But after reading it carefully, he realized that what was written in it was actually all the various experiences that the old Tianting Tortoise had described since the beginning of his grandfather's grandfather. Although the pages of the book are black and white, there are many illustrations that are easy to understand.

More importantly, the practice methods mixed with secret methods of various schools can be regarded as a small encyclopedia of heavenly practice. The content is wonderful and unexpected, and it can be regarded as a small comfort and compensation for the loss of Yue Tiantian!

"So? No!"

"So? Still wrong!"

Fang Yue constantly adjusted his posture, lying horizontally, standing upside down, sitting cross-legged, reclining...As an old driver, he used a lot of postures, but the three faint and pure breaths in his body are always self-consciously circulating. , With an arrogant appearance, he wouldn't even care about Fang Yue at all!

"Fang Yue, you bastard, get out of here!"

No data found.

