

Lita's Love for the Alpha

Exciting News!

Hey gang! I'll keep this short so as not to waste your coins but this is the easiest way to communicate with all of you!

Lita's officially being edited (with minor additions/ no removals) and it's going up as paperback/hard cover on Amazon. Same title, author name will be "unlikely optimist". Look for it on January 1st 2022! A happy new year indeed lol I'll include a bonus chapter or two AND BETTER YET-- I'm starting book 2. I wasn't going to make another one but so many of you asked I changed my mind lol BULLIES!

The focus will be Alpha Ace because YUM. And he's funny but I'll still include lots of lita and cole. It will be chosen mate not fated mate FYI so don't bite my head off because I'm forewarning you now! I'll post when the story is complete so you can binge at will. While you wait, feel free to check out my other two stories here: fated to fall and dark desires. They're both completed but they both have one more book coming next year as well so there will be a cliffhanger. Don't say I didn't warn you lol you can find them by clicking my author name at the top of lita's love for the alpha or by using the search.

Two questions for you guys because I value your feedback! the second book will have all the same characters and answer any of your unknowns so plz comment with:

1. what you want answered/want to see so I can give it to you! it doesn't matter which characters your questions are for, include it all lol
2. comment with whether you want it continued under this original story as a part 2 OR as a completely separate book. I don't have a title for the second book yet so if I continue here, it'll be easier on your library/finding the second book but you'll pay for every chapter since this book is already locked. if I make a new book, you'll get a handful of chapters for free before you have to pay. I'll go with the majority so plz comment!

Love you all xoxoxoxo!
