

Little Girl 26

Chapter 26: Your A-Ci Is Also Handsome

Jiang Lingzhi didn't take it to heart. She continued putting her books away. "Yeah, I heard it."

Wen Yujing let out a long sigh, and her face was filled with melancholy. "If only

I could sit with you, then I can copy your homework every day. I really hope Brother Mighty will not make the distance between us too far."

Jiang Lingzhi smiled. "Then, go talk to Mr. Ban."

"I don't dare." Wen Yujing lost her confidence in seconds. "He will definitely ask me again about why I want to sit with you. He already criticized me before when I pestered you to talk during class..."

"I hope, I really hope we can be desk mates, please, please..." Wen Yujing put her palms together before her chest and prayed sincerely for a while.

The flag-raising ceremony was held every Monday.

Everyone had already lost their enthusiasm for the ceremony.

After the flag-raising ceremony ended, Jiang Lingzhi returned to the classroom from the field.

Wen Yujing was nowhere to be found. Just now, she said she was going to the toilet, then she disappeared in the blink of an eye. Her seat was still empty until now.

But she had always been keen on all kinds of gossip, and she loved to engage in conversations with any kinds of people, so Jiang Lingzhi did not think too much about this.

Five minutes before class, Wen Yujing finally returned to the classroom. She wore an excited expression on her face. It was a sense of contentment from hearing gossip.

Wen Yujing did not return to her seat after arriving in the classroom, she ran directly to Jiang Lingzhi.
“Lingling!

Jiang Lingzhi couldn’t hold back her smile. “Yes?”

“Let me tell you!” After Wen Yujing eased her emotions a little, she said, “Didn’t

I tell you that our school is going to have a transfer student? I just saw him!!!”

She sank into her fantasy for a while, and then continued, ‘... I saw his side profile! He’s so handsome, my God! He charmed the pants off me!”

Jiang Lingzhi was speechless.

So it turned out that she only saw the side of his face?!

Jiang Lingzhi did not show any emotion. She merely put her books away and replied, “Oh.”

Perhaps it was because her reaction was too calm, Wen Yujing emphasized, “He’s really so handsome!!”

“For real! !”

Jiang Lingzhi looked at her helplessly. “I thought you said that Su Xici was the most handsome?”

The scenes of herself being infatuated by the school hunk struck Wen Yujing.

“Of course your A-Ci is also handsome...” Wen Yujing felt a little guilty.

“But I’m telling the truth! After the transfer student comes, I think he might lose his title of school hunk.”

“And!”

Wen Yujing put her teeny bit of guilt aside and enthusiastically started to share information with Jiang Lingzhi. “I heard that this transfer student has some background!”

Jiang Lingzhi put up the perfect attitude of a listener. “Oh?”

But underneath the desk, she took out another book and started reading.

Obviously, she didn’t really believe in Wen Yujing’s words.

So far, she had met only a single person who was even more good-looking than A-Ci.

After receiving her response, Wen Yujing had an even greater desire to talk.

“Yeah!”

“I heard that this transfer student used to be the ‘Little Overlord’ of this area. He studied in this area during junior high school and was a school bully in his school! Then, he went to another city for high school. I wonder why he decided to return now……”

“It’s already the last year of high school, why would he bother to transfer at this time?”

“I heard from the people in other classes that they saw him getting along with the people outside. In short, he’s the kind who’s good at socializing with all kinds of people.”

“But for a person like this, I would expect that his academic performance would not be very good... But he is able to transfer to the No. 1 High School. Do you think he has any background?”
