

Little Girl 33

Chapter 33: Doing What Green Tea Bitch Does, Leaving Her Nowhere to Go

On the test paper, two prominent words, Xia Sicai, were written.

The English teacher was thunderstruck.

Xia Sicai, who was sitting opposite the desk, was almost burying her head behind the desk, and her hand that was holding the pen was shivering.

Obviously, she hadn't expected that her impulsive action just now would set herself up.

Still feeling slightly skeptical, the English teacher did not proceed to question her straightaway. She took out her mobile phone and searched up the model essay for the college entrance examination in Jiangsu Province in 201*.

She read through the entire essay.

It really was... exactly the same, even the punctuation marks had not been modified.

Her subject representative, such a great subject representative.

The full marks on the test paper seemed like a huge joke.

Xia Sicai bit her lower lip tightly, as if she was about to cry. "Miss, I..."

Jiang Lingzhi looked at her expressionlessly and silently recalled to herself whether she had offended Xia Sicai.

This was just so saddening.

So people who were more excellent than others would encounter such things!

Xia Sicai lowered her head and said while in tears, "Miss, I have been under too much pressure during this period. Though I am the subject representative, I'm not able to get the first place in any of the tests, so I..."

"My parents have high expectations of me, I just want to make them happy..."

Wuuuuu..."

After hearing her words, the English teacher sighed as she was moved.

It was not easy for children nowadays. Not only were their learning tasks heavy, but the expectations of their parents would also cause them a great burden.

The English teacher was about to comfort her.

But right at this moment, Jiang Lingzhi lowered her head and spoke in a low voice, "I'm really sorry, classmate Xia."

The English teacher was taken aback, she didn't understand why Jiang Lingzhi had said sorry. "Huh?"

Jiang Lingzhi raised her eyes and stared at Xia Sicai sincerely. "I didn't realize that it would bring you so much pressure when I get full marks in the tests... Maybe next time, I will score a lower mark, would that make you happy? O

The English teacher was speechless.

Xia Sicai was also at a loss for words.

Why did this sound so unpleasant?

But her words appeared to be so kind, she was willing to score a lower mark just to relieve Xia Sicai's stress.

What selflessness!

What a kind child!!

The English teacher immediately realized how irresponsible her thoughts to comfort Xia Sicai were.

She sternly said, "How can you do that? Your academic performance is your own hard work. This kind of thinking is wrong. And you, Xia Sicai, you should know that you are the subject representative, do you know what kind of bad influence this behavior would bring to other students?!" The English teacher looked solemn. "Write me a reflection after school today!" Xia Sicai lowered her head and was still sobbing.

The English teacher ignored her and turned to Jiang Lingzhi and said with a soft tone, "Well, I have wronged you, go back to class first."

Jiang Lingzhi thought about it, then nodded obediently.

She glanced at the subject representative, and after turning around, all the expressions on her face disappeared.

Doing what the green tea bitch does, leaving her nowhere to go.

'I did great,' Jiang Lingzhi thought as her face remained expressionless.

The voice of the English teacher came from behind her. "You're living on the campus, aren't you? Hand in an 800-word reflection to me after the night study session tonight. Now, go back to your lessons. Sigh, kids today..." Jiang Lingzhi didn't listen anymore.

Coming out of the office, she headed straight to the right, preparing to go downstairs to the classroom.

Just as she reached the top of the staircase, the sobbing voice of a girl came from behind her. “Jiang Lingzhi!”

Jiang Lingzhi stopped in her path and waited for the person to come over..
