

Little Girl 36

Chapter 36: Kid, You're Not Being Reasonable

The Academic Affairs Office was on the third floor of the administrative building. Their surroundings were extremely quiet as they walked up the stairs. The girl was very persistent and didn't say a single word to him.

Li Shunan stared at her ear for a while before he looked away and said lazily, "Why are you so quiet today?"

His tone sounded very casual.

Jiang Lingzhi hadn't expected him to speak so suddenly. There was no other person besides her, so it was very obvious who he was talking to.

Jiang Lingzhi didn't look back at him, her red lips pressed lightly with some dissatisfaction. "You are very dishonest."

Li Shunan was dumbstruck as he did not understand why she suddenly made such an accusation, and he raised his eyebrows. "Why am I dishonest?" He was not only dishonest but also had no conscience about it.

Jiang Lingzhi stopped in her path and suddenly turned back towards him.

She was just one step higher on the staircase, and when she turned around, she almost ran into him. She was a little nervous and quickly backed up two more steps.

Just now, the tip of her nose rubbed against his shirt collar. She had smelled the familiar menthol tobacco smell from him again.

Jiang Lingzhi was a little uncomfortable, and her face turned away a little, then she continued, "Hey, you didn't tell me that you are from Nanyang High School."

If she had known that he was also from Nanyang High School, she wouldn't need to waste so much effort trying to find him. She could just give it back to him directly at school!

That's it?

Li Shu Nan narrowed his eyes; he did not understand why she was unhappy about this.

"Kid, you're not being reasonable." Li Shunan found this a little funny. "You didn't ask me either."

Jiang Lingzhi was tongue-tied.

She really had not asked. She made the assumption when she saw him with a group of people wearing No. 36 High School's uniform.

However, this had nothing to do with her.

Jiang Lingzhi pursed her lips and changed the topic. "Also, I have already paid you back the 400 yuan. You're the one who didn't accept it."

Li Shunan leaned against the railing and looked at her silently, waiting for her to continue.

Jiang Lingzhi stared into his eyes and emphasized, "So, you can't call me a swindler anymore!"

Li Shunan raised his eyebrows. He slowly raised his hand and stretched out his palm towards her.

Jiang Lingzhi was confused by his actions; she lowered her eyes and fixed her gaze on his white and slender fingers. "What are you doing?"

“Give me the money, I want it now.”

Jiang Lingzhi was at a loss for words. She was dumbfounded. “... I, I don’t have the money with me now!”

Since he didn’t want it, of course, she had put the money back. Who would carry 400 yuan with them wherever they go?

Li Shunan placed his hands back into his trouser pocket, then stared at her with a faint smile. “Speaking of which, you haven’t returned the money, have you?”

Jiang Lingzhi:

Jiang Lingzhi had never met a person like this before. She looked at him with wide eyes. “Hey, you can’t be like this.”

“Like what?” Li Shunan curled his lips and smiled casually. “I think I was really nice.”

Jiang Lingzhi choked.

There was indeed nothing wrong with what he said.

As a stranger, he really was nice.

Not only was he helpful and took her home, but he also treated her to eat something.

He was just a little capricious!

Jiang Lingzhi took a deep breath. "I will give it to you tomorrow!"

Li Shunan tilted his head, looking a little tired, and said slowly, "Only today, I won't accept it tomorrow."

Jiang Lingzhi considered herself good-tempered, but now, she found that she could no longer control her temper. "Why do you like to make things difficult for people?!"

Where could she get the 400 yuan right now?!

Jiang Lingzhi felt that she had to take back her previous thoughts that he seemed gentle.

It must be because the sky was too dark on that day that made her blind!
