

Little Girl 48

Chapter 48: Let's Break Up

He did not say anything for a long time.

Jiang Lingzhi stared at him for a while, and she felt that his expression seemed a little forced.

The smile on her face was a little hard to keep. "Can't I?"

Li Shunan hadn't come back to his senses yet.

He only heard the little girl say no.

NO?

The little girl's idea was very dangerous.

How could a real man not work?

Jiang Lingzhi waited for a while. The boy's eyes were half-closed, and his eyelashes were actually very thick. The shape of his thin lips was very beautiful. He pursed his lips lightly, and no one knew what he was thinking about. He was very persistent and did not speak.

He was still very arrogant!

She had already said so much, but he was not moved at all!

Jiang Lingzhi felt that her face was hurting a little.

She completely lost her patience and stared at him with a faint gaze."Student Li, let's break off our friendship. We can't be friendly friends anymore."

He couldn't even help her with such a small request, and she had even acknowledged him as a friend. I still feel that he is very gentle!

Forget it!

If you don't want to sit, then don't!

Li Shunan was indeed stunned for a while. When he finally understood what was going on, the girl had already turned around, her back straight.

The words could be seen from her back.

Don't! Follow! Me! Speak! Words!

Li Shunan was speechless.

What was going on?

Why did they suddenly cut ties?

Tsk... Not only was the child's combat strength off the charts, but he also had a bad temper.

Li Shunan licked his dry lips. He sat up straight and leaned forward from his originally relaxed posture.

Just as she was about to call her, the teacher walked in from the classroom door with the bell ringing.

Li Shunan glanced at the podium, sighed, and retracted his outstretched fingers.

Forget it, I'll explain when I have time.

Thus, until today after school, the school bully still couldn't find the time.

After school.

Jiang Lingzhi tidied up her desk and placed the test papers that she wanted to bring home into her school bag before she walked out of the classroom with Wen Yujing.

He completely ignored the school bully who wanted to say something behind him.

He went down the stairs.

Wen Yujing noticed the very eye-catching figure behind her. She leaned over to

Jiang Lingzhi's ear and whispered softly, "Do you feel that the tyrant is following us?"

Jiang Lingzhi did not even turn her head back, and her tone was neither salty nor indifferent. "No, I haven't."

But," Wen Yujing sneakily glanced back and quickly turned her head back. "But he's really behind us!"

It was neither too far nor too close, just five meters away.

He was wearing a white shirt and black slacks. His handsome face had an indifferent expression. He had a black school bag slung across his shoulder. His slender and tall figure was particularly eye-catching. Moreover, he seemed to be staring at them.

Oh no.

Staring at little Lingzhi!

Jiang Lingzhi carried her school bag in her hand and said matter-of-factly, "It's on the way. If we don't live on campus, we can only go out from the main gate. Where else can we go if we don't take this road?" Wen Yujing calmed down a little.

As the two of them were talking, the sound of discussion came from the side. It was two girls gossiping as they walked. "Really? Now?"

"That's right. Someone has already seen it! It's at the entrance of our school!" "That posture is a little scary."

"That's right.. Other than doing this kind of thing, what other good things can a school like theirs do?!"
