

Little Girl 59

Chapter 59: Hit Me?

When the bell rang, Weiwu brother took a sip of water from the health cup beside him and put on his glasses.

“Students, let’s talk about last week’s exam papers in this class.”

Hao Weiwu’s voice was loud and clear, and he had a slightly effect.

The big boss was originally sleeping facing the wall, but he was finally woken up.

He sat up straight, looking very tired. He leaned back and took out a language book. He opened it and lay down again.

Jiang Lingzhi was speechless.

He might as well not take this book.

It wasn’t serious at all.

After the boy changed his posture, he faced Jiang Lingzhi.

Half of his face was buried in his elbow, his eyes were closed, and his eyelashes were actually very long, much longer than the average boy’s.

Her skin was very fair, revealing her well-defined jawline. Her well-defined fingers rested on the desk, looking extremely beautiful.

His facial features were simply heaven-defying.

Jiang Lingzhi stared at her new deskmate for a while.

She roughly knew why she was not afraid of him from the first time she saw him.

She is too good-looking

He was completely different from his friends.

Although one could vaguely see his low-profile arrogance and indifference from his eyes and posture.

But now, with his eyes closed, he didn't have any aggression. It was too pleasing to the eye.

Tsk...

On the stage, Hao Weiwu's saliva flew everywhere."Many people have chosen the wrong choice for this multiple-choice question. Most of the students chose A. How can this question be wrong? You should choose B. Let's see why you chose B..."

This physics paper paper was full marks.

In the class, only she and the class monitor scored full marks.

Jiang Lingzhi's arm was pressed down on the test paper. She was engrossed in her deskmate's work, and she even had the urge to touch his eyelashes with her fingertips.

She picked up a ruler on the table and approached him.

I haven't had time to touch the Prians.

Caught off guard, the boy who had his eyes closed just now suddenly opened them.

Her amorous and indifferent eyes were a little like peach blossom eyes. They were narrow and long, and the shape was very beautiful.

Their eyes met.

Especially when Jiang Lingzhi wanted to take a ruler to measure his eyelashes, and her hand was still in mid-air.

Now that he had been caught, it was a little awkward.

Li Shunan obviously didn't react in time. He stared at her with his light brown eyes. There was no lack of gentleness in his cold expression. He frowned slightly. "Hmm?"

At this moment, he let out a low, magnetic sound, with a slight nasal sound, which was so close to her ears that it made her ears numb.

Jiang Lingzhi glared at him for two seconds.

She turned the ruler in her hand and knocked on his language book. She reminded him expressionlessly, "Student Li, this is physics class."

He had a very fair and impartial attitude towards his deskmate.

Li Shunan yawned and sat up straight. He leaned against the back of the chair, and his eyes were tired. After two seconds, he said, "Ah!"

Jiang Lingzhi felt that she was really calm in the face of danger. She was really awesome.

Just as she thought of this, she heard the boy's lazy and low voice say, "What did you do with the ruler just now?"

Jiang Lingzhi was speechless.

Li Shunan raised his eyebrows and leaned back in his chair. He lifted his chin slightly and said, "Hit me?"

. Ah?" Jiang Lingzhi blinked her eyes and tried to play dumb. "What are you talking about?"

Li Shunan leaned closer to her and bent his head slightly. His voice was deep as he whispered in her ear, "From the looks of it, you're aiming for my face."

Jiang Lingzhi was speechless.

You even found out.

Why are you so quick-witted at this time?!
