

Chapter 10

"T-t-till when you will keep r-running away from the t-truth. T-truth that you also want t-to come back. P-please don't hate p-papa." Vanessa said softly to him making Liam sigh at her.

"You don't know anything princess. It is not that easy how it looks like. This all is so fu-- I mean messed up." Liam said choosing his words wisely.

"O-o-once you will hug i-it out then e-everything will be fine." she tried to make her brother understand because she knows her whole family is suffering in their own way.

"Nothing will be fine. Will the life of dead people's get back?" he said clenching his jaw hardly making her go silent lowering her head and then Liam smiled at her mockingly.

"I hope you understand my point princess." she said and caressed her head making tears welled up in her eyes but he couldn't see it because of her lowered head.

"I-I-I just want you t-to solve i-it out before y-you loose the chance o-of saying sorry or I-I love you." she said with her broken voice making Liam's eyes widened and he immediately took her in his embrace knowing she is crying.

"Please don't cry princess. I'm sorry but your this sorry or I love you can't solve everything." he said and pecked the crown of her head.

"M-m-move away or my s-snort will be smeared on y-your expensive coat." came her muffled voice making his eyes widened and he backed away from her.

"What?" he asked her shockingly and checked his coat. When there was nothing she grinned at him knowing she tricked at him. He shake his head at her childish tricks and wiped her tears away from her eyes.

"Please princess don't ever cry or your papa will kill me." he said playfully making her smack his arm and then they both laughed out walking towards their car.

But they were oblivious of someone's presence keeping eyes on them. The person took his phone out and dialled a number. After few rings the call got picked up.

"Señor, ese joven Gorbachev salió con una chica." he informed to the person on the other side of the phone.

(Translation: Sir that junior Gorbachev is out with a girl.)

After some seconds someone asked something back to him making the man to roam his eyes and then he replied "No señor, la señora no está con ellos."

(Translation: No sir, madam is not with them.)

As soon as he replied, he call hung up making the man to walk away from there.

Emiliano was pacing around in his office furiously. He was waiting for his man to call them and inform about Cristina because as far as they could see, she is not doing her work properly which is resulting in delay of the work for which they had sent her there two years ago. It was not easy for them, to sneak her in that country after changing her identity because as Mikhail as they are powerful and dangerous bosses of Spanish mafia, Mikhail their rival is also a powerful mafia boss.

It was not easy for them to send Cristina there. Because if something happens to her then it will come to their security too. Teal, their father wanted them to join mafia with him so he sent them for training when they were only ten years old and at then time Cristina was only five years old. Their whole childhood they have spent in that training institution so they never got the chance to spend time with Cristina and get to know her.

When they returned back from that training institution they were cruel and emotionless. Then they were least interested in knowing their sister and that's why they are not affectionated of her. No matter what situation was, the triplets were with each other. They never saw happy life but struggles and pain and in their pain the three of them with each other. So, they only like to be with each other and open up within themselves. They never found the need of their sister which left her to feel less affectionate but they were so heartless to think about her.

They don't feel any personal hate or grudges towards her it's just they didn't even care to acknowledge her presence. They never cared what she does in her life of what she wants do to. They always kept it short and professional. They only took her as their responsibility because at the end of the day she is their blood, borned by their parents and last treasure of their mother.

They sent her on the mission of taking out information from Liam's company which was two years ago. For few months, she gave them some useful informations but after some months she was not giving any information but bluffing now and then. The Fernandez brothers understood that there is something she is hiding from them so they asked her to come back to Spain and they will send someone else there at the place of her but she didn't respond to them properly which turned their suspicion into confirmation, so they sent some of their spies there.

Since morning the brothers were waiting for their spy to give them some useful information or any update about Cristina. They were being on their edges now and employees were scared to even come in front of them because angry Fernandez brothers are walking death which they don't want to meet this soon. The triplets were in the office and cancelled all the meetings for today.

Joaquin and Alejandro were sitting on their desks while Emiliano was pacing around the office and he was furious would be an understatement. Before he could burst out his phone rang and he didn't waste any time in receiving the call. He took his phone to his ear but didn't say anything.

Some distant voice came from the other side of the phone making him pinch the bridge of his nose.

"¿Cristina también está con ellos?" he asked him in his calm voice but he was no where near calmness.

(Translation: Is Cristina also with them?)

Again the spy said something to him and without wasting any time, in nonsense he hung up the phone throwing it out of the window. It was the fifth phone he broke or threw away in this past one week. He punched the wall making Joaquin and Alejandro to stand up from their places knowing their brother's rage very well.

"¿Qué carajo está haciendo ella allí?" Emilia no barked in frustration while both the brothers were standing silently.

(Translation: What the fuck she is even doing there?)

"Dale la última llamada y si no regresa entonces nosotros mismos iremos allí para traerla de regreso." Joaquin told them in his cold voice making them snap their heads at him.

(Translation: Give her the last call and if she don't comes back then we ourselves will go there to bring her back.)

"Déjame llamarla." Alejandro said and snatched his phone from the desk dialling Cristina's number.

(Translation: Let me call her.)

Ring went but she didn't pick up the call making Alejandro to ball his fists because at that moment she was just testing their patience which will not be good for herself when she will return back to Spain. He called her again and again furiously dialing her number and finally after so many calls she received the call.

"¡Hola hermano!" her scared voice came from the other side of the phone and she audibly gulped.

(Translation: Hello brother!)

"A la m*a tus formalidades y trae tu trasero a España lo antes posible antes de que yo vaya allí y te dispare a ti y a ese joven Gorbachev. ¡¿OBTÉN ÉSO?!" this time before Alejandro could say anything Emiliano snatched the phone from his hands and took his ear.

(Translation: Fuck your formalities and bring your ass in Spain as soon as possible before I myself come there and shoot you and that junior Gorbachev. GET THAT?!)

"Sí hermano." came Cristina's scared voice making them suspicious because they know there is something she is not telling them and they had to fine that as soon as possible but it is not easy because she is in a while different country which is under control of their rival.

(Translation: Yes brother.)

Emiliano hung up the call and threw the phone out of the window making Alejandro charge towards him and he held his collar in a tight grip.

"¿Qué carajo hermano, por qué arrojaste mi teléfono ahora?" he spat at his face angrily but without answering him Emiliano jerked him away and stood straight ignoring him.

(Translation: What the fuck bro why did you throw my phone now?)

"Hermano, dile que arruine sus cosas, no las mías, o le dispararé en las pelotas." Alejandro complained to Joaquin hissing at Emiliano but he didn't even paid attention to his words.

(Translation: Brother tell him to ruin his things not mine or I I'll shoot him in his balls.)

"Dejen de pelear con ambos y busquen otra chica que reemplace a Cristina ahora." Joaquin said and sighed. Being elder came with the perks of being a mediator in both his younger brothers.

(Translation: Stop fighting you both and find another girl who will replace Cristina now.)

"La arrastraré por el pelo a----" as Emiliano was saying he got cut off by a loud thud voice and he snapped his head at the intruder angrily.

(Translation: I will drag her by her hair a----)

It gained the other two brother's attention too. The three of them saw the sudden interruption in their conversation which was none other than their finances. The clenched their jaws at those annoying brats because they don't like them. The three of them are their fiances because of different reasons.
