

Chapter 18

Liam gritted his teeth at Emiliano's words, he knew he is saying all this just because to enrage him and spill out the beans which he shouldn't in front of them, so that they can't use that against his father. No matter how he dislikes his father but he will never go against him like that because at the end he is family and he can't betray his parents.

"You don't need to know that! Just let my sister and wife go!" Liam said loudly gritting his teeth.

Joaquin again punched him hard jerking his face to the other side but Liam was bearing the pain being helpless at that moment.

"P-p-please don't hurt my b-bhai. Please I-I-I beg you." Vanessa said crying and held Emiliano's leg almost begging him. He took a look at her and then Liam smirking evilly at him.

"No princess don't beg him! They are not worth it." Liam voiced out his words loudly making the three of the brothers to clench their jaws.

Emiliano was enraged hearing his words. He clutched Vanessa by her hair making her hiss, he lifted her up from the floor and she whimpered.

"POR FAVOR HERMANO NO LES HAGAS DAÑO. ¡TODO FUE MI CULPA!" Cristina pleaded him yelling loudly making Alejandro to back hand her.

(Translation: PLEASE BROTHER DON'T HURT THEM. IT WAS ALL MY FAULT!)

"¡Feliz realización princesa!" Alejandro hissed her mocking her snap her head at him. Her lip was busted due to his back handing and blood was oozing out from the corner of her lips.

(Translation: Happy realisation princess!)

"Princess huh?" Emiliano asked Vanessa mocking her but her eyes were lowered due to hear and pain.

"Why should we leave you?! You are our rival and dared to get married to our sister. Now tell me a valid reason why should we leave you and let you all go away?" Emiliano said smirking at Liam because something evil was going inside his mind.

"There is not even a valid point of this rivalry! My father killed your father to save my mama and I would have done the same if there would have been Cristina. And why are you even angry on the death of someone who don't even treat you as a human?" Liam spat venomously making the three of their eyes darkened at his words.

Alejandro back handed Cristina again thinking she told Liam something about them making her cry out in pain. Emiliano without wasting any time for her justification threw Vanessa on the floor and took out his gun from the holster. He strode towards Liam pushing Joaquin away a little in anger. He cocked his gun towards Liam and was about to shoot him, but Vanessa came in front of the gun.

She tried to shout, scream, yell at him but no words came out of her mouth due to fear. This is the first time she has seen violence and the intensity of that was so much that she was speechless. His a trembling body and quivering lips she was standing in front of the gun stopping Emiliano from pulling the gun.

She got down on her knees and held his legs with her both hands and her tears were falling on his shoes. She was crying like a little scared kid and she was not less than a kid. Her fragile figure was trembling so much that Emiliano was also felt vibrations in his leg. He was about to kick her away but before that Liam spoke.

"Get up princess you don't have to request or beg them. You are our princess and princesses don't bow down in front of anyone." Liam said in pain making a playful smile to play at Alejandro's lips.

"But as far as I can see your princess is sitting in my brother's feet." he commented making Liam to ball his fists because he was restrained and couldn't do anything at that moment but speak.

"P-p-please I beg you I-let them go. D-d-d-don't hurt anyone." After finding her voice back Vanessa let out still clutching Emiliano's leg.

"And why would we listen you p-p-p-princess?" Alejandro said imitating her and making fun of her making more tears to roll down on her rosy cheeks.

Liam closed his eyes in pain. It is happening all because of him. Just because he wanted Cristina as his wife he took impulsive decisions and married her hurriedly which resulted his princess the crown of his head getting humiliated in front of these monsters. Now what will he reply to his parents?

"I-I-I will do a-anything you will say b-b-but don't hurt them." she said sobbing in his feet slumping on the floor.

While Emiliano was standing silently there feeling his chest tightened all of the sudden and he started feeling suffocated like a heavy rock was placed on his chest restraining him from breathing.

"What will a little dumb thing like you can do for us?" Alejandro asked her gaining her attention and she immediately turned towards him.

She weakly stood up from the floor and walked towards him. She slowly took his big hand in her small palms looking hopefully at him. He felt like as if her eyes were literally shining with hopes which made him to turn his gaze away from her.

"I-I-I will do anything. Y-y-you can even kill me i-if you want but please I-let them g-g-go." she said hopefully looking at him while her lips quivering.

"What are you saying princess?! It is not happening, never! What will I say to papa hah?!!" Liam said loudly gaining her attention. She turned her face toward him and he saw too much vulnerability on her face making him ball his fists, angry on himself. She was at this place and in this position just because of his selfishness.

"I-I-I'm talking to him b-bhai. Papa needs y-you more than m-m-me." she said trying to smile at Liam but failed badly because her sorrow was too much for her poor heart.

"This is all bul--- I mean this is all nonsense. Nothing is happening to you and we will go back to home together. Come here princess." Liam restrained himself a lot from cursing in front of her and softly called her towards him.

She immediately left Alejandro's hand and started walking towards Liam making Alejandro to miss the warmth of her hand immediately. She raked his hand through his hair and stood there balling his fists. Vanessa reached towards Liam and stood in front of Liam with pouting lips and tear rolling eyes making his grey eyes softened.

"Jab koi baat bigad jaye, Jab koi mushkil pad jaye—" Liam said something in their mother's native language and immediately a sad smile appeared on her lips.

(Translation: Whenever something goes wrong, whenever there is a problem—)

"t-t-tum dena saath m-m-mera, O humnava." Vanessa completed for lines of the song which their mama always hums doing her work.

(Translation: Stand by me 'at that time' my beloved.)

"You know what mama told us right?" Liam asked her softly making her nod her head at him.

"A-a-always stand for each o-o-other." She said slowly making him smile at him in immense pain.

"Mama won't like that you chose to die instead of fighting." He told her making Vanessa to understand her mistake and she apologetically hold her ears silently asking forgiveness from him. He nodded at her and then turned towards the Fernandez brother who were amusingly looking at that little girl.

There was something in their eyes which was so dark, lethal and carnal towards her. A new desire of capturing that bird and caging her was growing in them. The three of them were having same feeling oblivious of the each other's feelings.

"I want you to let my princess go. She didn't even know that I and Cristina was getting married. She has nothing to do with it. She is too fragile for this environment. I'm ready to compensate." Liam said defeatedly and as soon as the brothers registered his words they became furious.

Knowing that he is asking to send away that sea blue eyed little girl which had been the centre of their attention since they laid their eyes on her. They didn't like the idea of sending her away and wanted to scream loudly that she is not going end everywhere but controlled themselves.

"Do you think we care?!" Alejandro hissed at him breaking the silence among three of them.

"Then you should care because she is my sister!!" Liam yelled frustratingly.

"And the one you married is our sister, bastard!!" Alejandro spat at him and charged towards Liam but immediately Vanessa turned around and gave him a pleading look.

He stopped at his place and turned towards Joaquin and Emiliano who were standing silently. They both were in deep thoughts.

"Then what do you want from us??! On what condition you will leave us?!" this time Cristina asked frustratingly because she had enough of her brothers. She wanted to end it as soon as possible.

"Only if she will marry me!" the three of said in unison creating pin drop silence in the whole hall.

The three of them looked at each other with a blank expression because being the triplets and growing up together in gore they somehow have the ability of knowing what would be going in the other one's mind but the three of them not see this coming. It is the first time that they were not coordinate and dis oriented. The three of them said the same thing which mean he three of them wanted her for themselves. When they thought what they said and all the people present in the hall saw their not so good cordination then being the elder Joaquin took the matter in his hands.

"She will have to marry the three of us if you want us to let them go." Joaquin said in his cold voice with blank face.

"What nonsense!!!" Liam and Cristina shouted in loud voice.

"Are you even hearing yourself?" Cristina asked her brother in disbelief while Emiliano and Alejandro were also shocked with Joaquin's world but they didn't let it show on their faces.

"Yes I am. If she will marry the three of us we will let you and your husband go." Joaquin said making Liam to grit his teeth.

"You are sick in your god damn mind!!! She is just a minor and marry you all three is not even in consideration, besides you are monsters!!!
" Liam let out his words. Venom lacing in his voice. While Vanessa was standing frozen at her place with a frown on her face not knowing what are they even talking about. Is this even legal?

"Why don't let your princess decide?" Alejandro said rolling his eyes and took few steps towards Vanessa knowing it will be easy to manipulate her.
