

LLPD Chapter 1271

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1271 Useless waste

"Oh?" Amber's heart beat faster and her fists couldn't help but clench as she urged, "Tell me quickly, what kind of clue is it."

Chloe is happy to see Amber's eagerness to know Makenna's clues.

After all, only the more Amber cares about this, it means the more Amber hates Makenna and the more she wants to find Makenna for revenge.

As long as Makenna is dead, her years of hatred can be put to rest.

Thinking of this, Chloe took a breath, face forcing down the exhilaration in her heart and said back, "Gigi said that Makenna had appeared at Country K."

"Country K?" said Amber, slightly stunned, "How did it get to Country K?"

Chloe shook her head, "I don't know, Gigi doesn't know, Gigi's friend only told her that Makenna once did appear in Country K. Gigi's friend saw it by chance at Country K's airport, but at that time, Gigi's friend, didn't care about this detail, know The friend of Gigi's friend, who came to the country to get together with Gigi's friend, learned that Gigi's friend was looking for Makenna and only then it dawned on her to talk about it. After that Gigi's friend continued to investigate and found out that Makenna had appeared at the Capital again last month."

"THE CAPITAL!" Amber's expression changed.

Chloe said, "Gigi's friend said she was at the Capital, but she didn't see Makenna with her own eyes, she just went to Public Security to do something and heard that a woman named Makenna had canceled her account at Public Security, other than that, there are no other clues, but it is certain that Makenna is still alive and was at the Capital. Now Gigi has left for the Capital, ready to start the investigation from the public security side, ready to find Makenna, so Miss Reed, if you and Mr. Farrell also investigate, certainly faster than Gigi, after all, your power is bigger than Gigi. "

Amber's heart is still beating fast and calm at this moment.

No way, it was really the clues that Chloe provided that made her care too much.

She has always wanted to find Makenna, but Makenna as if it had evaporated, no matter how to find, can not find the slightest trace.

Even as powerful as Jared, it is impossible to find, so it is clear how well Makenna can hide.

Now, how could she not be excited when someone could easily tell her where Makenna had been.

"Chloe, for the sake of all the clues you've provided, I'll let your attempt to use me for revenge go."
Amber looked to Chloe.

Chloe was overjoyed and was about to say something.

Amber added: "And don't worry, if we do find her this time, I'll let you know, and I'll let you meet, and then you can do whatever you want."

At that, Chloe's eyes lit up and she excitedly bowed repeatedly, "That's really great, thank you Miss Reed."

Amber tapped her on the shoulder and crossed over to walk quickly away.

She wanted to take the news and tell Jared.

Soon, Amber returned to the previous lounge area and saw from afar the man sitting on the couch, out of place with the people around him, in a world of his own.

The man's eyes were slightly closed, as if he was taking a nap, but his hands had been shaking the red wine to show that he did not take a nap, he just did not want to open his eyes to see the world.

"Jared," Amber called out to the man in a soft voice as she walked over to him.

The man's shaking wine action stopped, the next second, the eyes also opened, into the eyes of the woman walking over the figure.

The woman is slender, graceful, walking extraordinarily good-looking, especially the slender swaying waist, but also let people can not turn their eyes.

Jared glanced coldly at the men who were stealing glances at the women with a warning.

Those men sensed his displeasure and hurriedly shrank their necks and withdrew their gaze, not daring to look again.

Beauty is beautiful, but life is more important ah.

The men thought with a sigh in their hearts.

And the women, especially the group of golden girls, white eyes are rolling to the sky, the heart curses this group of superficial men.

Don't they look good?

Why do you have to stare at Amber alone?

Pissed off at them.

For these people's petty, of course, Amber is unaware, this moment she stopped in front of the man and showed him a stunning smile.

The man looked at her, his eyes darkened, "Back?"

"Hmm." Amber nodded slightly, "Back."

Jared put down his glass, took her by the wrist, pulled her to sit beside him, and then took her into his arms as everyone in the banquet hall peeked in, intentionally or unintentionally.

The crowd instantly sighed.

Huh

Just met and hugged, is it that hard to part?

Of course, the crowd can no longer spit in their hearts, but also can not stop the two people's actions.

Amber was a little embarrassed but in the end she didn't push the man away, she just blushed a little and said to the man, "Well, let go of me, everyone is watching."

"Let them look if they want to, we'll hug ours, I miss you."

Jared leaned his head on Amber's shoulder and said in a low, husky voice, faintly, with a kind of petty meaning.

Amber was a little amused, "We're not separated, why are you acting like this?"

"Who says no, we were apart for an hour." Jared said as he looked up at her with a serious and earnest expression.

It was as if it was a very serious matter.

It was even funnier to watch Amber.

"It's only been an hour, and with you like that, I thought we'd been apart for a long time." Amber said.

Jared put his head back on her shoulder, "For me, it's just been a long time apart, and the fact that I can say so accurately that we've been apart for an hour is enough to say that I've been watching the clock and thinking about you at all times during that hour, how about you? Did you miss me?"

Amber rolled her eyes and cried back, "Of course, I've missed you too."

If she said she didn't want to, she could guarantee that the dog man would have no end to it.

Sure enough, when he heard that Amber also wanted himself, Jared was happy and his thin lips lifted up.

Although the arc is very shallow, but the banquet has been watching them, but also all still see, a time, can not help but feel amazed.

My God, Mr. Farrell actually smiled, and smiled so sweetly.

Gee, I really didn't expect Mr. Farrell to be like this when it comes to love.

It's no different from the way ordinary people fall in love.

Of course, this is all in the minds of men.

The women, on the other hand, are even more sour and envious of Amber.

It is because Jared is in love, no different from ordinary men, which makes them envy Amber even more.

Because they initially thought that Mr. Farrell, even in a relationship, is the superior party, does not like to smile, need to coax the woman kind.

Mr. Farrell is the one who takes the initiative, and when he's with Amber, he doesn't show his superior side, and he doesn't keep a straight face all the time, treating Amber as if she were his subordinate, requiring Amber to spend more energy to maintain the relationship.

Rather, it is obvious to all that Mr. Farrell is the one who relies more on Amber.

How nice!

The women were overwhelmed with emotion.

Of course, they are envious, but still do not intend to do anything.

After all, they know very well that even if they do anything, they will not succeed, but also to invite Mr. Farrell's retaliation, and drag the family behind, why bother?

However, Alice in the other corner looked at the reaction of these women, but was very angry with them and the whole thing was so angry.

This useless bunch of losers!

Chapter 1272 Alice is furious

She is very aware of how much Jared likes women.

After all, Jared's status, appearance and price is there, that is a gold mine, no one does not want to Xiao Xiao.

But never had gotten this gold mountain, so these women, and not good fight up.

But isn't there a woman who has gotten this gold mountain now?

How can these women still be stable?

Shouldn't there be a secret move to pull this woman down?

This is the normal development of the set ah.

So now these women are sitting there motionless and just looking at Amber with envious eyes for what?

Let's get moving! Go get Amber!

Did they think that by sitting there looking at Amber and admiring her, Amber would be able to walk away from Jared?

Yuck!

Dream on!

For a while, Alice hated these indifferent women in her heart, feeling that these women were not only wasteful but also stupid.

There are some things that you have to earn, and these women, none of them actually go for it, it really pisses her off.

Alice could not look at it anymore, just felt full of fire in her stomach, and finally snorted in anger, mobilized her wheelchair and left the banquet hall.

She was afraid that if she stayed any longer, she would really be angry with these women.

It will also be tormented by Jared and Amber's lovey-dovey scenes.

Of course, none of this is known to either Amber or Jared.

Even if they knew, they wouldn't care.

Jared heeded Amber's words and reluctantly released her.

She took a seat next to him.

Jared picked up a glass of juice that had been prepared for her and was ready to give it to her when she returned, "I see you're smiling so happily when you get back, did you make a deal?"

Amber took the juice handed to her by the man and first frowned sadly, "I just drank too much grape juice over there to keep the lady company, my mouth is still sour at this moment, I don't want to drink it."

"Then don't drink it, drink some plain water." Jared said, taking the juice out of her hand again and re-stuffing her with a glass of plain water.

Amber then smiled in satisfaction, and after drinking a mouthful of water, she returned: "Yes, the deal was made, and I will go to the mall tomorrow to look at the counter, the counter on the second floor, except for the most central position, the other as I choose, and this happens to be the counter position that I can take down in my current position, from this point of view, the banquet host couple, not because of our relationship, it is specially For me to give the green light to take special care of me, which makes me feel very happy, but also let me know that this negotiation, is really by my own ability to talk down, not because of you."

Jared was happy to see her so happy, and he was happy for her.

Rubbing her soft hair, he softly complimented, "Good, I know you're the best."

"I think so too." Amber raised her delicate chin with a smile.

Probably because of the things made by their own ability, so at this moment, she did drift a little.

Jared could see it too, but instead of reminding her, he looked at her with a dotting face.

Can rely on their ability to make a thing, would have been able to float a little.

Otherwise, it's a reward and recognition for yourself.

Just don't drift to no sanity.

"By the way, the lady also praised me for my good drinking capacity, and said that in the future there are any wine exhibition, contact me to go together." Said here, Amber some embarrassed up, "you do not know how vain I was, afraid to reveal that I drank not wine, but juice, but also feel a little sorry for the lady, after all, the lady so appreciated me, but also said to invite me to the wine show, obviously the lady took me as a friend, and I was

"Don't worry." Jared put his hand on her shoulder, his big hand gently squeezed her round white shoulder, "when exposed later, send some gifts to make up for it, she is not a cheap person, can understand you."

"I feel the same way, but in my heart I still feel more or less sorry for listening to her." Amber sighed.

Jared patted her on the shoulder and didn't say anything.

It's useless to say more, there are things that she needs to figure out for herself.

Otherwise it is all in vain.

The good thing is that Amber is really not someone who likes to dwell too much on one kind of thing, and after a moment of silence, she returned to her normal state of mind, then looped her arms and looked at the man with a smirk.

The man came into contact with her eyes like this, his heart thumped, inexplicably had a bad feeling.

She's pretty scary in this way.

Don't look at is smiling, but the smile is very fake, see is pressed fire strong pulled out of the smile, and then the next second will explode the kind of.

So, what did he do to piss her off?

But Jared thought about it for a while and couldn't think of what he had done to piss her off, so his thin lips twitched and he asked directly, "What's wrong?"

"I heard that someone is not blessed, after I left, there are beautiful women accosted it, and the beauty extra like you, legs inconvenient also want to come to you to get acquainted with you, this is really a model of disability ah, so we admire the heart." Amber smiled and said.

However, the sourness and conspiracy in the tone of voice is not at all disguised.

Jared raised an eyebrow, knowing what she was talking about, a little amused.

"You mean that Alice woman." Jared folded his legs.

Amber grunted.

The man pulled her hand over and kissed the back of her hand down, "Jealous?"

Jared pulled his hand back, "No."

"Not yet, with your mouth all puckered up, you could hang an oil bottle." Jared's long, slender index finger scraped Amber's red lips.

Naturally, his fingers, again, were stained with some lipstick.

Amber gave him a white look, "Your mouth can only hang oil bottles, hurry up and wipe it, don't get it on your clothes."

She took a wet wipe out of her delicate handbag and tore it open and tossed it to the man.

The man saw that she was tasted, but also did not forget to care about himself, low laugh out, "Do not worry, I can not have anything with that woman."

He wiped his fingers as he soothed her.

Amber attitude softened, "I know, if you really look at that woman, I despise you, that woman is not a good person, if you look at her, it is enough to show how bad your vision, but even so, I learned that she came to accost you, I still have some discomfort in my heart, I hate her, and she should not be in the hospital at this time to receive treatment well Why did she come to the party?"

"Connor's orders, she wouldn't dare disobey." At the mention of the two, Jared's handsome face sank, "Of course, she herself was happy to show up."

Amber bristled, "This father and daughter, it's so annoying, what did you all say?"

She asked curiously.

Jared also did not hide from her, put himself and Alice at the time of the conversation, briefly said some.

After Amber heard this, her heart was incomparably shocked and her voice couldn't help but raise, "What? Not biological father and daughter?"

Jared lifted his chin noncommittally.

Amber's mouth grew big, and it took a while before he could barely slow down, his voice was hard to hide his hoarseness because of the shock, "This How can this be? When you first investigated Alice's identity, didn't you find out that she was Connor's illegitimate daughter? This, the census system, as well as family relations online also shows that it is a father and daughter ah, how now becomes not father and daughter? My head is a little big."

She held her forehead.

More than big enough, but also dizzy.

Shocked by the news.

Connor and Alice, actually not father and daughter!

This

Amber's heart was not at peace for a long time.

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1273 Follow your plastic surgery

Jared knew the shock in her heart and gestured for her to take a sip of water to calm down.

Amber did as she was told.

After drinking a mouthful of water, she temporarily suppressed the shock in her heart a little bit, looked at the man and asked, "How is this suddenly not father and daughter? Is it possible that your initial investigation was wrong? Or is it that there was a mistake in the system?"

Jared nodded, "My investigation was not wrong, it was because there was an error on the system, so my findings became wrong, the country is very trusting of the state, including me, so after seeing the father-daughter record shown on the state system, I believed it without much thought, until something wrong was found later, so I began to doubt whether they are the real father and daughter or not. Then, I spent a lot of time having people investigate, got their DNA samples, and finally identified down that they are not real father and daughter."

"Hiss" Amber sucked in a breath of cold air, "Then so, Connor in these relevant departments, is not someone? Then his power, we have to re-evaluate, this is definitely beyond our initial calculations, much bigger than we thought ah."

If that were the case, Connor would be even worse to deal with.

Jared touched her head, "Do not worry, you think of these, I naturally also thought of, I have informed the Cohen family side, the Cohen family in helping me to investigate these systems have no Connor people, and Connor in the end what relationship, Connor is just a businessman, Connor also has no clear evidence. Above also does not have any ancestors is meritorious, so if find out he a businessman can interfere with the national system, get clear evidence, when I can not worry about at any time out even two groups of more than 100,000 employees, directly let the state side, and finally the people to come over."

"Then it's still a good thing to find out that these two aren't real father and daughter." Amber's eyes lit up.

Jared was noncommittal, "Something like that."

"But even if Alice isn't Connor's daughter, that doesn't clear Connor of still cheating. Cheating, still sorry about your mother." Amber skimmed her lips and said with contempt.

Jared hummed, "I've never had it in my heart to lessen my hatred for Connor because of something like this."

"But speaking of which, why would Connor want a stranger as his daughter? What about the purpose?" Amber furrowed her good-looking brow.

The man at this moment some embarrassment please cough.

When Amber heard it, she narrowed her eyes slightly and looked at him suspiciously, "What do you mean? It wouldn't have anything to do with you, would it?"

The man saw that she guessed the key reason at once and awkwardly touched the tip of his nose.

Amber exclaimed, "It's really about you?"

"Yes." The man knew he couldn't hide it, and never wanted to hide it from her, so he opened his lips and said slowly: "Connor asked Alice to be his daughter, and let Alice come to Olkmore secretly, but deliberately hid the identity of Alice as his 'daughter', in order to get close to me The reason for this is to get close to me, to be Connor's eyes and ears, to deliver my news at any time, and to use the beauty trick to make me fall."

When he said the three words beauty plan, Jared looked at Amber's eyes and became a little cautious.

He's still afraid she'll be upset about it.

Even if it's not his fault.

But he cares how she feels.

As expected, after hearing Jared's words, Amber was still fuming.

But not at Jared, but at that Connor.

She bit her lower lip, her eyes filled with angry flames, "That old thing is really shameless, this kind of underhanded trick can even think of, and beauty plan? Is he so sure that it will work?"

Jared is not a horny man.

How is it possible to send him a woman and he will definitely like it?

Connor is not afraid of hysteria.

Amber thought with contempt in her heart.

Jared, however, looked serious.

Amber saw this, and the contempt in her heart suddenly disappeared, replaced by a gloomy caution, "Jared, you wouldn't really like that woman Alice, would you?"

Jared heard this and gave her a breathless look, "What are you thinking, how is that possible!"

Amber heart breathed a sigh of relief, but the surface does not show happy, "Since it will not, then you just why that expression."

"I was just thinking, don't you see that Alice is a lot like a person?"

Amber first stared, then asked, "Like who?"

Jared didn't say anything, just looked at her steadily.

Amber was shivering from his deep gaze and finally realized something and opened her eyes incredibly wide, "No way, you mean, she looks like me?"

She pointed at herself and her voice sharpened a bit.

Obviously this perception is a little too much for her to take.

She stared intently at the man, desperately hoping he would overrule her guess.

Eventually, however, her hope faded.

The man nodded slowly, answering her guess, "Yes, she is very much like you, her eyebrows and eyes are almost identical to yours, you can even say that she is according to your appearance plastic surgery, but afraid that we can see it at a glance, so the whole is very subtle, not exactly according to your appearance, only the eyebrows and eyes are the same as yours."

"How is this possible?" Amber's red lips twitched, her voice trembling a little.

Obviously some cannot believe such a fact.

However, she knew that men would not tease her with such things, so this thing, most likely, is true.

So Amber hurriedly closed her eyes and began to recall Alice's face in her mind.

Trying to find out what Alice doesn't look like herself.

However, after recalling a pass down, Amber's face gradually white, because she found that the truth is just like the man said, Alice's eyebrows, and her exactly the same.

The reason why before so not found, it is because she is used to see their own face, and not on their own looks, so there is no first glance to find Alice's eyebrows and their own glance, and did not feel where comfortable, where wrong, so it has not been found until now.

This includes men as well.

At first, I only felt that Alice's orientation was a bit subtle, but I couldn't tell what was subtle.

It wasn't until Ben reminded him that he, too, was enlightened.

"What you said, is true" Amber opened her eyes and finally accepted the unacceptable thing that Alice had followed her plastic surgery.

What if I can't accept it?

People whole have been whole, can only accept this reality.

If, before the plastic surgery, you learn that someone is going to follow your plastic surgery, you can still stop it.

How do you stop it now?

Amber just felt her head get even bigger.

"By the way, how did you find out?" Amber asked after rubbing her brow, looking at Jared.

Jared pursed his lips, "I did not find out, it was when I learned that Alice is not Connor's daughter, Ben reminded me, I suddenly figured out that everything is a conspiracy, Connor let Alice look like this, appear in front of me, in order to let me remember her at first glance, so that it is more convenient for Alice to approach me, because they know that if they use other people's faces to appear in front of me, it will not let me look at or even remember her. Because they know that if they appear in front of me with someone else's face, it will not make me look at her or even remember her, only with a face similar to yours is possible."

Amber pursed her red lips, "Then they really went to a lot of trouble, but unfortunately, it was a mistake."

Speaking of which, Amber looked at Jared and smiled, "They didn't expect that you didn't notice Alice's resemblance to me at first."

Jared picked up his own red wine and took a sip, "That's right, in my heart, you are unique, I never thought anyone else would look like you, so I didn't find out from the beginning that Alice purposely followed your plastic surgery, otherwise, maybe I would have really been impressed with that Alice at first, of course."

Jared hastily looked at Amber and added, "What I mean by impressed here is an overwhelming dislike for this woman from the start, nothing more, don't think too much about it."

Love Letters, Divorce Papers (Jared and Amber)

Chapter 1274 - You won't be tricked

Seeing the man's desire to live so strongly, Amber's heart was amused, and the face did laugh out loud, "I know, I didn't misunderstand or think much about it, if you see someone who looks like me and doesn't care, that's a big problem, it means you don't value me at all in your heart."

At the sound of his voice, Jared was relieved.

It's good that she didn't misunderstand.

"But these two people, Connor and Alice, do have sinister intentions." Jared tightened his eyebrows, his eyes were full of disgust for these two people, "Connor specially plasticized Alice into this appearance because he thought I would take Alice by my side because of Alice's face that resembles yours, and from then on Alice could be Connor's mole and pass my news to Connor at any time. But they did not expect that I never saw which point Alice resembled you, so Alice never had the opportunity to approach me, so she deliberately started with you."

"You're saying that Alice deliberately targeted me these few times, provoked me and destroyed our gifts in order to create a powerful impression for us to keep her in mind, instead of treating her as a dispensable stranger." Amber pursed her red lips and said.

Jared nodded, "If Alice didn't jump up and down like that, to us she would indeed be a minor character not worth caring about, we would probably turn around and forget about her, then she wouldn't even have a chance to appear before us, let alone be Connor's mole, hence why she did what she did, but it turns out she was right, we did impressed enough to remember her."

"It's still true." Amber shrugged her shoulders.

Jared rubbed his temples, "Alice's mission is the beauty plan, even if she knows it will not necessarily succeed, but her face is there, she will not give up, so tonight she came to me specifically, playing the same attention, only she did not expect that I found out that she is not Connor illegitimate daughter of this thing, and directly in front of her face demolished. If one comes, her beauty plan is completely shattered."

"That's a good thing." Amber looped her arms up and smiled, "At the very least, she won't be hitting on you in the open or in the dark in the future."

Jared does not deny, "but this woman is very heavy-hearted, after I broke her not Connor illegitimate daughter, she immediately put everything she did on Connor's head, saying that everything Connor forced her to do, she is innocent, so quick to react, it can be seen that she is not a simple character, what I want to know now, is what she was before. is what her previous identity really is."

Speaking of which, he narrowed his eyes, and the cold light in his eyes flashed.

Amber gave a slight nod of

"Indeed, if it's just an ordinary orphan, Connor probably won't see it, and definitely won't find it to work for himself, so this Alice's previous identity is probably not simple." Amber said looking at the man.

Seeing the man's eyes downcast and contemplating something, she did not disturb, quietly drinking the water in her hand.

After a while, the man sighed slightly, "No matter what the identity is, or whether this woman's mouth is true or false, whether Connor forced her to do it or not, but she did it after all, and in the end I will liquidate her together when I liquidate Connor."

The man's face showed a cold color.

Amber had no counter-arguments.

After all, Alice really did these things, and whether Alice was forced to do them or not, Alice is not innocent.

What's done is done.

Whatever the reason, once it is done, it is not innocent.

"Well, don't think about that for now, just order the following to check." Amber saw that the man's head was a little uncomfortable, and quickly snatched the glass of wine out of his hand, then lifted his arm and gave him a massage on his temples.

The man looked at the woman with a concerned face, his thin lips slightly hooked, then half leaned on her, closed his eyes and enjoyed himself at ease.

Amber saw this and shook her head in amusement, her hands kept moving and continued to rub his temples with moderate intensity.

After rubbing for a while, suddenly thought of something, the hand movements temporarily concealed, "Right Jared, guess who I met on my way back to you?"

"Male female?" Jared asked without opening his eyes, only frowning slightly.

He didn't care who he met, only the gender of the person.

The female is nothing.

Not for men.

Don't see him surrounded by peach blossoms, women who like him abound.

But in fact, her charm is not bad, and there are many men who think about her.

Cole, Hayden will not say, the Capital and a Jeremy it.

These men are not the same as the women who adore him.

The women who adore him are afraid of him, so they only dare to think about him in their hearts, not to tease him openly.

Of course, there are so many psychotic women who don't take his warnings seriously.

But these women, he can deal with with a casual word.

The men who adore Little Leaf are different, these guys not only dare to go out and seduce Little Leaf directly, but they are not the same as those women, they are people who hold a certain amount of power.

So, it's not easy for him to deal with them.

Packed up individually, nothing difficult for him.

But in case several join forces, even he will be greatly injured.

Amber which can not know what the dog man is thinking, no good white glance at him, "I talk to you people, you ask me gender."

"People just have genders." The man returned with a straight face.

Amber is so angry and funny, "Forget it, too lazy to talk to you about anything else, I'll tell you directly, I met Chloe."

"Chloe?" the man's brow furrowed more tightly, although he did not open his eyes, but the handsome and stunning face, still surfaced a puzzled look, "Who?"

Amber was certainly happy to see that he had forgotten all about Chloe.

Even if she knew that he had nothing to do with that Chloe, but if he remembered that Chloe so clearly, she had some dilemma in her heart.

"Mendara Inc.'s daughter, and Makenna's former henchman." Amber reminded as she pressed the man's temples.

When the man heard her mention Makenna, it dawned on him that Makenna was indeed accompanied by a woman from time to time.

"It's her... She bullied you?" Jared opened his eyes unexpectedly, his eyes filled with a stern look.

It's like if she admits it, he'll immediately go clean up that woman.

Amber gently patted the man's shoulder, indicating that the man first calm down, and then only then opened his mouth back: "No, just bumped into her, but not specifically she bumped, just accidentally."

Although Chloe spoke harshly at the time, the collision into this matter was indeed accidental and not intentional.

She also doesn't like to distort the truth, so she turns truthful and honest.

But the man's face was still bad, "Did you hit anywhere?"

"No." Amber shook her head, "Just a bump on the shoulder, it hurt at the time, the back is fine, Chloe is worse than me, fell on her butt."

With that, she couldn't help but laugh out loud, "But what I'm about to tell you isn't that, it's that Chloe gave me a clue to Makenna's whereabouts."

Jared immediately straightened up from her arms, "What do you mean, a clue to Makenna's whereabouts?"

"Right."

Jared stared at her, "How would a little person know this? I didn't even find out, so how did she know? Were you tricked by her?"

Amber bit her lower lip, "At first, I also thought she was lying to me, but I kept observing her expression and eyes, and I thought, she wasn't lying to me, unless she was being lied to herself, but I didn't think it was very likely, because the person who told her, was Gigi."

Chapter 1275 Norah ran away

"Gigi?" Hearing that name, Jared's face instantly had that hint of complexity.

Amber had been watching his reaction to the name, and after catching the hint of complication, her red lips pursed.

Sure enough, the dog man knows about Gigi's release from prison.

Otherwise, how could Chloe not be surprised at all to hear that she had met Gigi.

Seemingly sensing the way the woman looked at herself, Jared's thin lips twitched, "That"

"Still not saying?" Amber looked at him with a smirk, "When did Gigi get out of prison?"

Jared knew what was coming would come sooner or later, sighed inwardly and looked quickly back to normal, "Got out in the second month of prison."

"It's so early!" Amber wrinkled her brow.

Jared lifted his chin noncommittally.

Amber looked at him, "This thing, why didn't you tell me about it?"

She expressed her disbelief.

Jared lowered his eyes and explained in a deep voice, "I didn't tell you because I didn't want to upset you, after all, it was hard to get someone in, but she didn't stay long before she got out, so I kept it from you."

Amber looked at the man steadily for a moment.

Know that men do this for their own good, but the heart, more or less uncomfortable.

So for the next two minutes, Amber ignored the man beside her.

Jared also knew that his deliberate concealment would make her unhappy, but had no regrets in his heart.

He gently wrapped his arm around her shoulders and soothed softly, "Don't be angry with me, this matter, I only learned about it afterwards."

Amber looked at him.

The man answered, "Gigi was able to get out because her second grandfather exchanged his life's merit, her second grandfather was injured in the war during the early years without offspring, Gigi was the best for him, so he could not see Gigi spend her life in prison, so before he died, he exchanged his merit to get her out."

"I can't believe this is the case." Amber frowned, "Then this old merit badge is really old and confused, doesn't he know what his niece is? How dare he let the bad guys out."

"He is indeed old and confused, in fact, in is also very normal, many people are smart and capable when they are young, to old age will be faint, especially for such old thinking and no offspring of the old man, he sees Gigi, so take Gigi as his offspring, naturally will not stand by and watch Gigi in jail for life."

"So, just trade your merit badge for Gigi's freedom, it's really"

Amber sighs.

Gigi is certainly lucky.

"After Gigi came out, the prison side contacted me and told me the reason Gigi was released from prison, hoping I would understand, of course I couldn't possibly understand, yet I couldn't do anything about it, after all, people traded their merit for it, I couldn't stop it." Jared said with an icy face.

Amber is no longer angry with Jared at this point, as he himself said.

In exchange for merit, he could not stop it.

This is the welfare of the country for the meritorious men who have given great service to the country during the war.

Of course, after the exchange of merit, this old man's weight with the state is not so heavy.

But people are dead, these do not matter.

"Of course you can rest assured that Gigi is not absolutely free after she comes out, she will always be watched, and once she has bad intentions, she will be immediately controlled." Jared fears that Amber absolute Gigi out, and then live with ordinary people, hastened to explain a sentence.

Amber nodded, "That's good, now Gigi is looking for Makenna's whereabouts on all fronts, Chloe says yes, Makenna lied to Gigi, so Gigi wants to find Makenna for revenge."

"I know." Jared lifted his chin.

Amber was slightly surprised, "You knew Gigi was looking for Makenna?"

Jared did not deny it, "I know, Gigi has been looking for Makenna's whereabouts since she got out, and it is because I know this that I have no intention of taking action against Gigi for the time being, Gigi and Makenna used to have a pretty good relationship, so maybe she will know some clues about Makenna's whereabouts, so I then I have been sending people to secretly monitor her, and I plan to wait until I find Makenna, and then I will get her back to prison."

Although the prison side made him understand Gigi's reasons for getting out, how could he really accept that Gigi was out there on the loose.

While he promised the prison side that he would not pursue Gigi's release from prison, he was secretly preparing to design some traps for Gigi to break the law again, so that Gigi would never get out and there would be no one to bail her out.

Only as soon as the thought rose, she noticed Gigi looking for Makenna, so she squashed the thought again.

It was decided to let Gigi find it. Wouldn't it be better if he waited until Gigi had found Makenna and then he'd hit the net.

"That's okay." Amber nodded, then added, "Just now when Chloe and I met, Chloe said that Gigi revealed to her some clues that Makenna had appeared, one at Country K and one at the Capital, these are Gigi's former fox friends, seeing as they used to have a good relationship with Gigi These are Gigi's former friends, for the sake of the past and Gigi friendship is still good, to help Gigi find, although their power is far from you, but the way to find people can be a thousand and one, so maybe this is true."

"Country K, the Capital" Jared narrowed his eyes and murmured the words once more.

Suddenly, something flashed quickly in his mind, but it was so fast that it disappeared without him catching it at all.

Jared, however, has no intention of disappearing and forgetting.

Intuition told him that what just flashed through his mind was very important.

Important enough to be used as a key to finding Makenna.

It only disappeared all of a sudden, leaving him a little exasperated.

Amber saw the man with a bad expression and got a little worried, "What's wrong?"

Jared shook his head, "It's okay, Chloe provided a clue, I'll ask for confirmation and have Ben send someone to check out both places, it's good if the surveillance is still there, even though a long time has passed."

Amber hmmm'd twice, "Right."

Jared takes out his cell phone and prepares to call Ben.

As a result, the phone just came out and Ben's nod came through.

Amber covered her lips and laughed at the sight, "You and Ben are still in tune."

Jared blackface.

He expressed no desire at all to create a tacit understanding with a man.

Jared didn't say anything though, thumbing the call and answering it, "What's up?"

"Mr. Farrell it's not good, Norah stole out." On the other end of the phone, Ben's anxious voice came out.

Although there is no amplification, but Amber is close, Ben's words, she still heard, surprised, said: "What? Sneaking out?"

"Yes Miss Reed," Ben nodded back.

Jared's face was extremely ugly, "She and the old Mr. Jones were waiting for me in the box, why did they sneak away? You didn't send anyone to guard them?"

Why did Norah sneak away and where would she go.

That's pretty much the public answer already.

She will definitely come to the party to find him.

After all, that's what Norah was here for tonight.

Ben heard Jared's questioning and said in his heart, "Mr. Farrell, I sent someone to guard them again, but they said they didn't want anyone watching them in the box, so they kicked our people out of the box and guarded outside the box, then Norah called the waiter into the box again, secretly knocked out the waiter and changed into the waiter's clothes Smuggled away."

Chapter 1276 Meet at last

"Shit, I can't believe I used that." Amber was stunned by this operation of Norah.

Jared's face sank as if water was dripping out of it, "Who gave the gatekeeper permission to let people in?"

On the other end of the phone, Ben justifiably said back; "Mr. Farrell, you only instructed not to let them go out, not to let them call someone in, so Norah took advantage of the situation and ran away."

Jared blushed even worse.

So, it's still his fault?

Amber snickered when she saw him like this.

Jared rubbed his brow, "Is the old Mr. Jones still around?"

"In." Ben nodded, "There's only one waiter that comes in, so there's only one that goes out, and with Norah out, the old Mr. Jones naturally has to stay in."

Jared hummed, "Next, no one else is allowed in or out until I'm over there, food and drink are ready for the old Mr. Jones, and have someone go in every ten minutes to make sure the old Mr. Jones is safe."

"Yes." Ben nodded his head in response.

He knew very well that the so-called safety of Mr. Farrell's mouth is false, to ensure that the old Mr. Jones is not in the box to die, used to threaten is true.

"Also, re-changing two people to guard the door, the two before, send back to the security company over there, give them to re-train their eyesight, can't even recognize the change, what's the use?" Jared pursed his thin lips, the tone of the extraordinarily bad command.

Ben also felt that this even a bodyguard is really not much use.

Norah passed by them, and they didn't even recognize her.

It's time to go back to the drawing board.

"Understood, I'll arrange it, but Norah"

"She's definitely coming to the banquet hall, get someone to find her." Jared ordered.

"Yes."

"Plus, there's one more thing." Jared narrowed his good-looking eyes.

Ben listened quietly to the command.

Jared spelled out what he was told to do.

Ben exclaimed after hearing this, "Makenna also went to Country K?"

"It still needs to be confirmed whether or not you've been there, so that's your next task." Jared said in a light voice.

Ben looked serious, "I understand, I will arrange someone to go over there, and the Capital side as well."

Jared hummed.

When the call ended, he put down his phone and was about to get his glass of wine.

Amber, however, put her hand over the top of the wine glass.

Jared looked at her in disbelief, "What?"

"Don't drink that." Amber pushed the glass a little further away, "You've had enough tonight, if you keep drinking, you're going to get drunk, drink this."

She divided half of her juice out and put it in his hand.

Jared looked at the juice in the tall glass and smiled unexpectedly, "Okay, no more alcohol, as you wish, drink this."

"That's right." Amber picked up a delicate fork and forked a piece of fruit to eat.

When she finished eating, she put down her fork and stood up.

Jared looked up at her, "Where to?"

"Bathroom, too much juice." Amber said back, picking up her purse.

Jared put the glass back on the table, "I'll keep you company."

Amber gave him a blank look, "You're staying with me? You're going into the ladies' room with me?"

"I'll meet you outside." Jared said as he stood up.

Amber was amused, "No, I'm not a child, I still need you to accompany me, in addition, there are so many people at the party, it's not good to be seen guarding the door of the women's bathroom, okay, you wait for me here, I'll be back soon."

After saying that, she twisted her slender waist and walked in the direction of the bathroom.

Jared just watched her, watched her writhing back, his eyes darkened, picked up his juice and took another sip.

In the bathroom, Amber comes out after taking a leak and stands at the sink washing her hands and touching up her makeup.

It is said to be a make-up patch, but it is actually just a lipstick patch.

After drinking so much juice, the lipstick has long since faded.

Her makeup, originally belongs to the thick makeup piece, after the lipstick light, it looks like the whole makeup is not coordinated, so you have to make up in time to look good.

After finishing her lipstick, Amber looked in the mirror and confirmed that her makeup was clean before she put it away and walked towards the bathroom door with satisfaction.

Just after walking out of the washroom door, a waitress walked in front of me.

When she saw the waiter, a glint of surprise flashed through Amber's eyes, stunned by the waiter's appearance.

This waiter's appearance does not belong to the beautiful piece, but it is extraordinarily cute, with a round face, small and delicate features, even the side cheeks bulging, slowly collagen and baby fat, looking at it makes people want to bite the look.

And waitress height is not very tall kind, at most a few meters five, but also tied a pill head, and then with such a cute to the extreme doll face, proper loli ah.

If you put on JK, or Lolita-style dresses, it is a doll, right?

Amber thought to herself.

There's no one who doesn't like cute things, and neither does she.

If not impolite, she really want to rub the waitress's face, feel like rubbing up the feel good.

Amber surveyed the waiter who was getting closer and closer to her and thought regretfully in her heart.

Just at the moment Amber and this waitress brushed past each other, the waitress suddenly stopped and slightly turned her head to look at Amber diagonally, "You're Amber, right?"

The waitress not only looks like a doll, even the voice, actually also a doll voice.

Of course, this is not the most important thing, the important thing is that this waitress, actually knows her!

A slight surprise flashed in Amber's eyes, and she also subconsciously stopped, turning her head to look at the waitress at her side, "Hello, you know me?"

She admitted she was Amber.

The waitress had by now turned completely around and was looking head-on at Amber.

She looked at Amber with eyes full of ruthlessness and jealousy.

Amber was taken aback by the jealousy in her eyes, not understanding why someone she didn't know would have such ill will towards her.

But then she suddenly realized something when she looked at the overalls on the waitress, which were obviously a little on the large side.

Didn't Ben just say on the phone that Norah knocked out a waiter, stripped the waitress and ran away?

And Norah looks like a cute baby face.

The two factors that fit Norah's profile, large, ill-fitting clothes and a cute baby face, are both present in this waitress.

So the identity of this waiter already speaks for itself.

"Norah!" Amber didn't hesitate and called out the waitress's name directly.

The waitress, or Norah, hooked her lips and smiled, slowly looping her arms, "Looks like you know me, too."

She admitted her identity.

Amber's red lips pursed, "I've heard of it, I don't really know it."

She also didn't expect her luck to be so good that she came out of the toilet and met Norah who had sneaked out.

No, maybe it's not your own bad luck.

Rather, it was this Miss Jones, who had come specifically to see her or not.

After all, from beginning to end, she did not see the slightest surprise from this Miss Jones here, to her.

So obviously, this Miss Jones, was really dedicated to her.

Seeing Amber's answer, the smile on Norah's face froze and her heart was full of displeasure.

What do you mean you just heard of it and don't know it?

As far as she was concerned, the two of them were love rivals.

In order to be able to better clean up this woman Amber in the future, she specially spent a lot of time and money to collect all kinds of information about Amber, it can be said that she understands this Amber very thoroughly.

Amber should too, shouldn't she?

Chapter 1277 Norah's imagination

The two of them, they are love rivals.

Amber should also do what she did and get to know her well.

Yet Amber didn't do anything!

This is really

For a while, Norah's heart was furious, it was as if she was bitterly looking at her love interest as incredibly important, while her love interest didn't even look at her.

Just ask, this kind of thing party on who, who is not angry?

Seeing the way Norah gritted her teeth and completely ruined her lovely face, Amber only felt that God was not open-minded to give such a lovely face to such a person.

Such a lovely face should grow on the face of a good-hearted girl, not one like Norah.

Amber skimmed her lips, only to feel bored and withdrew her gaze to leave.

"You're not allowed to leave!" Norah suddenly grabbed her arm, stopping her from leaving.

Probably out of jealous malice, Norah's nails were embedded in the flesh of Amber's arm when she grabbed it.

Amber tore out a painful cry, and her eyebrows were slightly knitted.

And Norah, seeing this, was quick to raise her smile anew.

Amber got angry and jerked her arm out with a direct and impatient jerk.

Norah, probably not expecting Amber to suddenly pull her arm back with force, was momentarily unaware of Amber's strength, and took two steps backward, then sat on her buttocks on the ground, frozen.

Amber didn't bother with her either, but lifted her own arm for a closer look.

Looking at a few clear nail marks on his white arm, his good-looking face suddenly darkened.

This woman, her hands are really dark.

These nail marks are oozing, so you can see how much force this woman used to pinch her.

Amber dropped her arm, her heart full of fire.

However, before she could trouble Norah, Norah suddenly stood up all of a sudden and stared at her with eyes wide open, "Rong, you dare to push me?"

Amber laughed, "Pushed you? I'm not as shameless as you are, backtracking, I haven't blamed you for choking me, but you're blaming me for pushing you, what a joke, you obviously fell down yourself, okay?"

"I fell on my own?" Norah sneered, "If you hadn't thrown your arm, I would have fallen? So in the end, it's your fault. If you don't get down on your knees and kowtow to me today, this matter will never end."

Kowtowing and apologizing?

Amber didn't hold back a roll of her eyes.

This woman should not still think she is living in the last feudal dynasty, but also let people kneel down and kowtow to apologize.

The brain is simply sick.

"I admit that I threw my arm, but so what? If you hadn't pinched me, I wouldn't have thrown my arm, and you wouldn't have fallen, so if you want to say it's wrong, it's you who made the mistake first. So the person who has to kneel down and kowtow and apologize should also be you." Amber slightly raised her chin, with the advantage of height, looking down on Norah, looking at Norah's eyes, as if looking at a joke.

Norah was not only irritated by such a look in her eyes, but also by her words.

The first to tease the bitch, this woman, the woman said she was bitchy!

Norah's face was incomparably fierce with anger, "You dare to talk about me like that and dare to make me kowtow to you and apologize?"

She pointed at Amber viciously, as if she wanted to eat Amber.

Amber rolled her eyes again, "What wouldn't I dare to do? What, you're only allowed to say that to me and I'm not allowed to say the same back? Heh, there's no such thing as that."

"What are you and what am I, and you are worthy to be compared to me?" Norah's voice drew up.

The corners of Amber's mouth twitched, then expressionlessly disliked back, "And identity? Not the same people? You are also the princess of the royal family, so that people have to become? Don't laugh, you Norah is now just a soon-to-be-disgraced young lady, on the status, we two half a catty, and to really talk, I am a company chairman, you Norah is just a bald lady, on the status is also higher than you, so it is not worthy of people, you!"

Norah's pupils flinched, then she stomped her foot in exasperation, "You You"

"You what you." Amber coldly heckled and said nonchalantly, "Don't even know what to say, and still come out to get people in trouble, I think it's almost like making a fool of yourself."

Norah's eyes were red with anger.

Indeed, she was raised in such a way that she doesn't even know how to swear, let alone be articulate enough to dislike people.

So in terms of eloquence, both of her are no match for Amber.

This time, naturally, Amber was angry enough.

But Norah this person itself is also very strong, although being angry, but quickly recovered, eyes grim look at Amber, sneer after sneer, "This is the original you, right, you pretend to be gentle and small in front of Jared, pretend quite hard, right?"

"Huh?" Amber was full of question marks, "What pretend gentle little intention?"

"Humph, you don't have to play sloppy with me, don't think you don't know, this eloquent and sarcastic look is your real face, but you are afraid that Jared is not satisfied with you, so you will definitely put this face away and pretend to be gentle and generous at Jared's place, Amber, you really have a good heart. " Norah said through clenched teeth.

Amber laughed, "I mean, are you making up something in your head? When have I ever pretended to be generous?"

She never pretended to be what she was supposed to be in front of Jared.

Not at all like Norah said.

So Norah would say this, must have made up his own mind.

"And you won't tell the truth." Norah didn't believe every word Amber said, in her opinion, Amber was just being sophomoric.

"I know very well what kind of person you are, and so does Jared, so no matter how much you pretend, it's useless, with the fact that you threatened Jared to get back together with you, Jared is destined never to fall in love with you." Norah raised her chin, her face was full of smugness, a look that poked the most important thing in Amber's heart.

She had expected to see Amber's exasperated look when she said this, however, after waiting and waiting for a while, she did not see Amber's big reaction to her words, instead she saw Amber's slightly mocking look.

Mockery?

Norah's face froze in expression.

What does it mean?

How dare this woman mock herself?

Shouldn't she be jumping up and down in anger?

After all, you have hit the spot in her heart where she cares most.

But what happened to this woman, not only did not get angry, but also looked at herself with the eyes of a joke.

Crazy, right?

Norah said she couldn't understand it at all, and then she heard Amber ask her, "I've heard it said before that in the eyes of the Jones family, Jared and I got back together because I had something on Jared, so I threatened Jared to get back together with me, and Jared couldn't resist because of the something, so he had to agree. So now I want to know, who told you the Jones family that Jared and I got back together because of this reason?"

"Do you need to be told about such things? It's pretty obvious, isn't it?" Norah said disdainfully, "Jared doesn't love you at all, he's been married to you for six years, who doesn't know how he treats you, if he loved you, would he treat you like this? He loves Makenna, you are just an interloper who took advantage of Makenna becoming a vegetable to threaten Jared's marriage. Since Jared doesn't love you, he will marry you and get back together with you, there is only one reason why he has the handle in your hand, nothing else."

Chapter 1278 Three Women's Play

Anyway, she just can't imagine Jared getting back together with Amber because he has feelings for her.

And, she couldn't accept the possibility.

Seeing Norah's face I'm sure I'm right, Amber said she didn't even want to explain.

It's useless, it's useless to talk to people who are immersed in their own world, they won't believe it and they won't listen to it.

So it's better not to explain.

"So, since you think that's the case, what do you want to do?" Amber ruffled the slightly curly hair around her ears and swung a little.

Norah gritted her teeth and said, "In front of Jared, of course, to expose this false face of yours and get Jared's handle back."

"Good idea." Amber clapped her hands and applauded her, "And then what? Get the handle back, free your Jared from the fire, and then use your Jared's handle yourself to threaten your Jared to stay with you, am I right?"

Norah's face changed slightly, "How do you"

Realizing that she had said the wrong thing, her eyes flashed and she hurriedly changed her tone, "What are you talking about? Who wants to use Jared's handle to threaten him, do you think I am you? I'm not going to be as mean and shameless as you are, of course I'm going to give the handle to Jared, not use it for anything else."

She said so, but her heart was in turmoil, her heart thudding and drumming.

So close, so close to being exposed.

She never expected that Amber, a woman with such a keen intuition, would have hit the nail on the head.

She does intend to use it to threaten Jared once she gets her hands on him.

Anyway, if Amber can make a successful threat, why can't she do it herself?

Although she did so, there is a possibility of attracting Jared's ill feelings, but it does not matter, as long as with Jared together, became Jared's bright girlfriend, she has plenty of time, there is plenty of work to coax Jared.

She believed that as long as she put her heart and soul into it for a long time, Jared would definitely be impressed and fall in love with herself.

At that time, she said that all the ill feelings and dislikes she faced are not worth mentioning trivial things.

The more you think about it, the more excited you get, the more you think about it, the more you look forward to it, and Norah can't help but smile on her face.

But she still has some sense at this moment, after laughing for a while she hurriedly collected her expression and thoughts, so as not to reveal too much.

I don't know, all her thoughts, Amber has seen through.

Especially just now Norah that did not finish the sentence, but also make Amber feel ridiculous.

She originally thought that this Norah was in love with Jared.

Now it seems that there is actually not much love, right?

If you really love someone, you will be willing to use any leverage to threaten each other?

So it can be seen that Norah actually does not simply love Jared, love, but Jared can bring together the benefits, but Norah likes to use true love to cover up their own vanity.

Amber's eyes flashed with a hidden sneer, but also lazy to tear down this woman, instead of following the woman's words and clapped, perfunctory praise: "so ah, Miss Jones is really great, so we go to see you now Jared?"

Norah's face froze with an expression.

Now go see Jared?

How does this work!

She's got nothing on her right now, and there's no use going to see Jared.

And, she still sneaks out.

Liu Yuanyuan's eyes kept turning vainly and chaotically.

Amber saw that she chickened out and gave a dismissive Chi.

And this sound, in Norah's ears, is a mockery of their own, to their own despise, although the truth is also true, but Norah's self-esteem has always been strong, simply can not accept, a time of anger rushed to the head, grimacing at Amber.

Her looks were originally exquisite like a doll-like cute, smiling, as if an angel.

However, when showing this expression full of malice, it is like those horrible and scary dolls in horror movies, which makes people's body chill.

Amber, though not quite like that, was very uncomfortable and wrinkled her good-looking eyebrows in disgust, "What, Miss Jones is looking at me like that and wants to eat me?"

"I tell you, if you are smart, you'd better take the initiative to hand over Jared's handle, maybe in this way, you can still hold your dog's life, I don't believe you don't know Jared's character, he will never let anyone who threatens him, and you dare to threaten, but you can get away with it until now, it's not because you have the handle in your hand, otherwise you would have been dealt with by him. The handle is in your hand, otherwise you would have been dealt with by him, so I advise you, hurry up and hand over the handle, as long as you hand over, maybe I will also be merciful in Jared there to intercede on your behalf, so that Jared let you go, but if you do not hand over, then the consequences are your own."

Amber couldn't hold back any longer, covering her lips and bursting out laughing.

Norah's expression grew harder and harder, "What are you laughing at?"

"I am laughing, Miss Jones this comment is indeed quite funny, you have said, Jared will not let go of anyone who threatened him, I threatened him can still be intact until now, because the handle is still in my hands, in that case, then why do not I continue to threaten, but also foolish to take out the handle? That is not looking for death? And Miss Jones, you give me a favor? That's even more funny, we two already have a grudge, how will the enemy see the enemy good, so you intercede for me, cheat fools is almost, cheat me not."

Amber smiled and wagged her finger at her, "And you said it yourself, you might have mercy to plead for me, this might just won't, otherwise why don't you just say you will plead for me, and add a might? So Miss Jones, the handle it, I will not hand it over, much less into your hands."

"You" Norah glared in exasperation.

It's not surprising that Amber is so treacherous, not only refusing to give her the handle, but actually jumping at the words in her words, making it seem like she's uneducated.

Not far from the corner of the corridor, Alice was also ready to go to the bathroom, but just outside the corner, she saw Amber.

Although she only saw Amber's back and not the front, there was only one of that bright red exquisite gown, plus she was familiar with Amber's figure to the point of recognizing it in ashes, so she was able to determine at a glance that the back was Amber.

She also did not expect to be so unlucky that she could meet this woman even when she went to the bathroom.

Alice's hands gripped the armrests of her wheelchair tightly, her face filled with disgust.

But what is Amber doing?

Alice retreated slightly behind the corner, peeking out only half her head slightly towards Amber's side.

Just now it was a frontal view, so I could only see Amber's back alone.

But this time the angle changed and became oblique, finally allowing her to see something else, also a person.

Amber is talking to the guy.

That guy is a waiter?

Alice was suspicious.

I don't know what Amber has to say to a waiter?

The waiter, what's so special about him?

The concept of "knowing one's enemy and knowing oneself can win a hundred battles", Alice is finally willing to give some more attention to the waiter, to see what the waiter is worthy of Amber's attention, to talk for so long.

As a result of this look, Alice's demeanor began to change.

Chapter 1279 - Full of Malice

Why did she think the waiter looked so familiar?

Seems like I've seen it somewhere!

Where is it?

Alice lowered her eyes to search up in her mind, and finally a youthful, yet identical face to that of the waiter, came to the surface.

Norah!

Alice's pupils crinkled, as if to confirm the general, to confirm their own guesses are correct or not, her eyes fixed dead on Norah's face.

It's her, indeed it's her!

It's Norah!

This same face, this same arrogant and domineering expression, who else could it be but Norah, that stupid and poisonous waste of a daughter!

Alice's grip on the corner of the wall tightened so hard that the bones of the joints showed their contours through the flesh.

It can be seen that Alice's force is great, but also see Norah's appearance, brought her heart how much unrest.

She only thought that the one who spoke to Amber was just a slightly special waiter, but never thought that it was actually Norah.

Since when did Norah become a waitress?

No, it doesn't matter.

The important thing is, isn't Norah abroad?

When did you return home?

Seven years ago, Norah was thrown out of the country by her in disgrace and promised her that she would never come back.

But now, only just seven years less, Norah has broken the vow made at the time to run back to the country, not because she

Alice gritted her teeth and her eyes were scarlet.

But soon, she put these emotions away, and an extremely grim smile appeared on her face.

But it's okay, it's good to have Norah back.

This woman, is definitely not good to deal with.

Although not as smart as her, but in terms of ruthlessness, but not necessarily worse than her.

And this woman's perverted obsession with Jared, she believed, this time Norah came back, the first task, must want to snatch Jared, right?

Since we want to rob, we must deal with that woman Amber first.

So, she waited for these two women to fight first, she first temporarily hibernate, wait until these two women fight to lose, she appeared, is the time to harvest the fruit.

Thinking of this, Alice could not help but hook the corners of her mouth, then put her gaze on Amber, heart for Amber said a pity, not only have she the enemy, but also provoked a crazy woman like Norah.

Norah is not easy to deal with, this woman is a hobnail, although a little stupid, but the attack is really hard, most importantly, do not know how to restrain, at all times in the shady people.

So against such a woman, Amber will have to suffer next.

Alice took her hand off the wall, then dug in her purse and pulled out her cell phone.

Norah's appearance is undoubtedly a good thing for her now, it can help her deal with Amber and also help her test out some of Jared's hidden power, which can only be good for her and not bad for her.

Only next, she and Connor's original plan, will have to change again.

But this is not a big deal, I believe that Connor will consider her intentions after knowing this Norah.

Alice dialed Connor's number while controlling the wheelchair backwards, exiting silently around the corner and into the distance.

Not only does she have to tell Connor about Norah's appearance, she also has to ask Connor to find out when Norah returned.

She was in police custody and didn't hear a peep.

Alice's appearance and departure did not attract the slightest attention from Amber and Norah.

Norah is still blushing from Amber's comments.

"After all is said and done, you just won't give up the handle, right?"

Amber smiled, "Right."

"Amber, are you really not afraid of what will happen to you if you do this?" Norah's face was full of gloom.

But unfortunately, ah, her face is destined to let her do any expression, will not be majestic and imposing, so will not intimidate others, will only make other feel ugly and terrible only.

It's a pity about the face.

Amber shook her head slightly, once again feeling sorry for this face growing on such a person.

"What's the down side you say, what's the down side, tell me, maybe I'll be scared and then once I'm scared, maybe I'll compromise, Miss Jones what do you say?" Amber smiled and looked at Norah.

Two in a row said that maybe, listen to Norah heart incomparable annoyance.

This woman, indeed, was being sarcastic.

Just now, she took her say-so, and now she's deliberately countering her with two say-so.

It is really abominable.

"What do I have to say?" Norah's eyes were scarlet as she stared at Amber, "I will make you suffer and regret not agreeing to my demands today, and Jared, will only be more powerful than me, and maybe you will really lose this life."

After saying this, she kept watching the change of expression on Amber's face to see if Amber was scared.

If so, it means that one's deterrence has been successful.

If not

No how, Amber just wasn't scared.

Realizing this, Norah was furious

"You're really not afraid of losing your life?" Norah was incredulous.

Amber gave her a nonchalant look, "Come on Miss Jones, this is a legal society, is it really okay for you to talk about your Jared as a demon who can kill people anytime, anywhere, with no regard for the law? And your threat to me, do you believe that if I record it and give it to the police, you will become a key target of police surveillance, and if something happens to me, you will be the first suspect?"

Norah's expression was subtle.

Amber heave, "look at Miss Jones's expression I know, you are afraid of a do not know the law, also do not have culture, say such arrogant words, it does not matter, no culture then I will teach you, first of all Miss Jones, your Jared is definitely not such a reckless disregard for the law, you say so, let me doubt your I suspect that you do not really love your Jared, otherwise why do you smear him? So these words, I will truthfully tell your Jared, see how you Jared think you, as for yourself well, I will also tell your words to the police, let the police come to the door to give you a good talk about the law."

With that, Amber was about to leave.

"You're not allowed to leave." Norah seemed anxious and hastily called out to Amber, "I forbid you to tell Jared."

As for Amber telling the police or not, she doesn't care one bit.

All she cares about is Jared.

She knew that the image she had in Jared's mind was not a good one anymore, so she was even less inclined to let Amber ruin it for her again.

She admitted that she had just said those words, was a little too impulsive, before she was momentarily unaware and was caught by this woman.

So she had to stop this woman, no matter what.

"Do I have to agree if you don't allow it? Who do you think you are?" Amber turned her head and gave Norah a disdainful look, simply ignoring it and continuing on her way.

When Norah saw that she didn't stop, there was a glint of ruthlessness in her eyes and she raised her hand to push Amber.

As long as Amber is down, she can't go to the tattletale.

Yes, as soon as you fall down, you can't go.

And there's no surveillance here, so no matter what she does to Amber, no one will know, and neither will Jared.

So why doesn't she do something about it?

Once the evil thought rises, it will not go away, but will only get heavier.

Norah saw his hand, about to touch Amber's back, the face of the malicious smile has been suppressed, completely floating on the face.

In just one moment, one moment this woman will fall face down on the ground.

When the time comes, even if not dead, it will be disfigured, right? He or she will then destroy her voice, so that she can not speak.

Wouldn't one, then, not have any risk of exposure?

Chapter 1280 Timely Arrival

Norah's breathing was ragged at the thought of it.

However, the moment her hand touched Amber's back, a male voice full of anger and murderous intent sounded behind her, "Norah you dare to do it, do you believe it or not, the next second I will let you out lying down as well."

At these words, Norah was instantly shocked.

The sound is

Jared!

Norah's hand froze in mid-air, not daring to do anything else.

And she would have, too, would have been in place, pale, sweating, and her eyes were written with fear and panic.

How!

What's Jared doing here?

And she was also seen getting ready to push Amber.

And what would Jared think of himself?

Will you feel that you are a very bad and vicious woman?

At this moment, Norah did not think about what consequences she would bring to Amber by doing this, she was only worried about whether her image in Jared's heart would be in tatters.

On the other hand, Amber, who was not far ahead of Norah, also stopped in her tracks at this moment, because she also heard Jared's voice.

Especially Jared's words were a big shock to her mind.

Did Jared mean by that that Norah was just behind her, ready to do something to her?

Amber turned around before she could see Norah's reaction, and saw Jared striding towards her with a grim look on his face.

Walking to Norah's side, Norah reacted and hurriedly reached out her hand, about to pull Jared, "Jared"

Jared raised his arm, directly avoiding her touch with indifference, then without looking at her, crossed over to Amber.

In this instant, Norah felt her heart sink to the bottom, as if someone had brought a pot of cold water, viciously splashed towards himself, his eyes instantly red, overflowing with water mist, full of aggression.

Jared, actually pretending not to see her!

This simply could not have happened before.

In the past, as long as she greeted Jared, Jared would respond to her, although not in a very warm manner, the response was only a nod, or a hint, but not like this ignore her, when she is air ah.

Jared has changed!

No, maybe it hasn't changed either, it was the woman who threatened.

Yes, it must have been the woman who threatened, threatened Jared not to vigorously any woman other than that one.

The more I think about it, the more I think about it. Norah's eyes are full of fierceness when she looks at Amber, as if she has hardened her poison and hates to poison Amber.

In her eyes, Jared doesn't care about himself, not because of Jared himself, it's all Amber's fault.

Amber saw this, directly rolled her eyes, lazy, and then withdrew her gaze to look at the man in front of her, "How do you"

"Is everything okay?" Jared grabbed her shoulders, his handsome face full of nervousness and worry, as he looked her up and down while asking eagerly, "Did she do anything to you, did she get hurt?"

This concern, not waiting for Amber to react, Norah behind them, but jealous to go crazy.

Jared, actually so concerned about Amber the woman, and questioned whether she had bullied Amber the woman.

How could Jared do this?

Didn't he not love Amber?

Why do you care if Amber is bullied or hurt by her?

It's hard to believe that Jared was actually true to Amber when

No, no, no, no, no, no, it can't be, and it's not true.

As soon as that thought rose, it was immediately rejected by Norah's violent shaking of her head.

She didn't want to believe that outcome and couldn't accept it.

So, she had to go all out and deny it.

Amber and Jared are not paying attention to Norah at this time, their attention, only to each other.

Amber faced with the man's nervous eyes and inquiries, her heart warmed, smiling and shaking her head back: "Don't worry, I'm fine and not hurt, you came just in time."

She probably understood that Norah did just try to make a move on her.

If Jared hadn't appeared in time to stop Norah, she wouldn't have been able to stand in front of him and talk in such a safe and sound manner.

Jared was relieved to see that Amber wasn't lying in order to reassure him, "It's okay as long as"

Just as the words came out, Jared's eyes suddenly caught sight of something and his pupils suddenly shrank, then he grabbed her wrist and lifted her arm up, "What is this?"

He pointed to a few bruised nail marks on her arm and looked at her with an unbearably tight expression and asked, "Didn't you say you weren't hurt? Tell me, what is this?"

Amber looked at the nail marks, her mouth opened, unable to say anything.

Gee, it's over, she forgot about the marks.

Because it no longer hurts, she didn't think about this until she answered no injuries after the man just asked if there were any injuries to her body.

But men do not know ah, men will subconsciously feel that she is deliberately concealing these few marks.

Sure enough, when the man saw that Amber was slow to answer, his heart was already sure that she was deliberately hiding these nail marks from him in order to keep him from worrying, thinking that these few nail marks were no big deal.

But for him, it was already a big deal.

Any slight injury to her, he would be overwhelmed with heartache.

What's more, the nail marks are so deep that they are black and blue, so it can be seen that the hands of the people who did it are heavy, and how hard the heart is.

Looking at the man's cold, angry, and heartbroken eyes, Amber took the man's hand and said softly, "Jared, don't worry, these marks are just minor injuries, I didn't mean not to tell you, I just forgot, because it doesn't hurt, so it's easy to forget, I believe you should be able to understand it."

"I don't understand." Jared tightened his handsome face and said in a deep voice, "All I know is that you're hurt and I'm heartbroken."

Jared's thumb tenderly stroked the nail marks.

Behind her, Norah heard the words of the two, her heart was sour and jealous, but at the same time, she was also vaguely afraid.

She knew what they were talking about, about the marks left by her pinching Amber's arm.

At first, she didn't take this to heart, thinking it was just a few pinches of Amber, what's the big deal, would Jared be looking for her for such a small matter?

How is it possible!

Jared doesn't love Amber, so why would he go after himself for Amber?

He only pinched Amber a few times, did he do anything else.

But now, seeing Jared so nervous because of these small nail marks on Amber's arm, it makes her heart start to feel less confident and become worried and nervous.

Jared wouldn't really be looking for her to settle the score and seek justice for Amber because of these few little marks, would he?

Norah swallowed hard and subconsciously took a step back.

The sound of her footsteps caught Amber and Jared's attention.

Amber just glanced at the pale Norah, knew what Norah wanted, nothing more than to run, red lips could not help but hook up.

Jared had his back to Norah, and although he couldn't see Norah's movements, he could guess some of them through Amber's eyes.

Amber's eyes were penetrating and bright, able to imprint what they saw clearly in their eyes.

So he didn't have to turn around, he could tell what was happening behind him by looking mainly at her eyes.

Seeing Norah backing up, Jared stood up straight, his voice unmistakably cold, "These nail marks of yours, who left them? Was it her?"
