

LLPD Chapter 1381

Chapter 1381 Jared Recovered

"Of course." The man doesn't hide his happiness either, admitting with a big smile that no man can accept that his wife sees a ring from another man as so important."

"So now that I've taken the ring off, you shouldn't look bad afterwards, right?" Amber gave the man a blank look.

The man smiled graciously at her, "Not anymore."

"Humph." Amber pouted at him, lifted the covers off the bed and put the ring in her bag, intending to buy a box to put it in on her way to work later and put it in her safe.

Jared didn't sleep either and sat up too.

Now he is recovering well and no longer needs to be supported from time to time to sit up by himself.

He was able to sit up on his own by propping himself up on his arms, although it took a bit of effort, but what he could do on his own, he always preferred to do on his own rather than let Amber help.

He didn't want to be a burden to her.

"Hungry?" After putting the ring away, Amber reentered the hospital bed.

Jared nodded slightly, "Kind of."

"Then I'll take you to wash up first, and then order breakfast to be delivered." With that, Amber pushed the wheelchair over.

Jared agreed and got himself out of bed and into the wheelchair.

Amber was not helpful throughout.

Because she knows that men don't want her help either, men have always been like that and don't like it when she really treats him like a loser who can't do anything.

So since he can do it, she won't force it and let him do it himself.

Breakfast was delivered very quickly, almost as soon as the two had finished washing up, breakfast had been delivered, and it was all too light to be a light breakfast.

There's no way around it, who told Jared that she can't eat many things herself now.

So then light, you can only tolerate it, and so on later.

After breakfast, Amber said goodbye to Jared and went to work.

On the way, when she passed a shopping mall, she went to a jewelry store inside and bought a delicate ring box, then returned to the car, took out the wrapped ring from inside her bag and carefully put the ring into the box.

From now on, this ring, she will only take it out to look at when she misses Jere.

Other times, she would not want to see it again, she was afraid of touching the scene.

...

Time flies, and a month has passed.

Amber has been overwhelmed by Jared's recovery over the past month.

Jared is now able to get in and out of the hospital and go back to work at the Farrell Group. Although he still has to go back to the hospital at night, he can leave the hospital during the day and do his own thing instead of staying there.

On top of that, instead of a wheelchair, he can walk normally, and as long as he doesn't run and jump, he doesn't have to worry about his heart shifting or anything.

That is to say, at least on the outside, Jared, now is a recovered almost normal person.

And while Jared recovered well, Amber's own hard times came.

Her current body, itself is not very suitable for pregnancy, but it happens to be pregnant, naturally it is not possible to choose to take it away.

Not to mention the fact that the child is the fruit of her and Jared's love, there is no way she would choose to remove the child if she removed it and could never conceive again.

And the price of carrying this child means that she has to suffer several times more than a normal pregnant mother, because her body has not yet recovered, she is pregnant with a child, so relatively, the suffering has to admit more.

For example, now, she is only one and a half months pregnant, pregnancy reactions began to appear, every day vomiting pale face, body sore and weak.

In an ordinary pregnant mother, pregnancy reactions usually appear around two months, and she is only one and a half months old.

And in order to keep the baby, she has to take a lot of medication every day to keep the baby, and even have injections.

So much so, that now she is scared at the sight of them, but scared she can't help it.

Otherwise, the child will definitely not be saved.

So this month down, Amber's whole person have lost a circle, face is also pale very bad, look at Jared heartbroken.

On this day, it was time for Amber's maternity checkup again.

Amber was still in the delivery room while Jared and Elias stood outside waiting.

During this period, Jared's brow had been furrowed tightly, and his fists were clenched tightly, and if he hadn't been unable to go in, he probably wouldn't have been able to stand, and would have rushed straight in.

He couldn't help it, he really couldn't worry about Amber.

He still remembers Amber's pale, faded face when she went in.

Elias looked at Jared like this and pushed up his glasses and said coolly, "You're worried about her now, what did you do in the first place?"

"What?" Jared narrowed his eyes and turned his head.

Elias put his hands in the pockets of his white coat, "I mean, this thing where you got her pregnant, why didn't you take measures in the first place if you're heartbroken about her now?"

Jared pursed his thin lips, "You were the one who said that it would not be easy for her to get pregnant in the next two years and that it would be difficult to conceive, so that's why you didn't do anything about it."

Otherwise, there is no way he would have chosen this time for her to conceive a child.

Seeing her just over a month pregnant and being tortured like this, with eight months left, he simply couldn't even imagine what she would be tortured into.

"That's what I said, but in this world, there's never a shortage of miracles." Elias shrugged his shoulders.

Jared gave him a cold look, "Yeah, there's never a shortage of miracles, but miracles don't fall on everyone so luckily."

Where would he have thought that they would be so lucky to be patronized by a miracle?

This time, even Elias also have nothing to say ah.

Yeah, miracles are something that really call for unpredictability.

Some people hope for a miracle, but miracles are not favored.

Jared and Amber, on the other hand, didn't want a miracle to happen, but a miracle visited them.

What can one do with such things?

"This child, can't you really not want it?" At this point, Jared looked at Elias and suddenly asked.

Elias was stunned, "What do you mean? You don't want to keep the baby?"

"If the existence of this child is causing her so much pain and suffering, I can do without him, and I would rather have the child when she is completely well than see her in such pain." Jared said with a grim look on his face.

Elias spread his hands, "Then there is no way out, this child you must have, as I said before, if you choose to end the pregnancy, with her current health, she will not conceive a child at all, so this child, even if it makes her feel tormented again, she will have to stay, unless she can also accept that she will not have children in the future, but do you think, she can accept it? "

That's definitely a no!

Jared lowered his eyes, knowing this answer by heart.

He now knows that she still feels guilty about the child she aborted before, and how will she not want this child.

"Look, you have nothing to say, which means you know the outcome yourself oh, this child, you only have to keep." Elias put his hand back in the pocket of his white coat.

Jared closed his eyes, "So is there any way to make her not suffer so much?"

"No." Elias didn't even think about it and told him directly, "Nowadays, although the medicine is dull, but it's not enough to do everything to keep the baby, she can only bear this torture, but don't worry, we will try to alleviate some of her torture, before I said that in her condition, she should rest more in bed in the future, but I didn't expect her to react so much after only about a month, it seems that she must start resting more in bed now, otherwise if this continues, even if we keep giving her birth control, the baby will easily not be kept."

Chapter 1382 The Situation Is Serious

"So what you're saying is that she'd better be hospitalized from now on to keep the baby alive, right?" Jared asked, narrowing his eyes.

Elias does not deny, "Yes, her body is too weak, and the uterus has not recovered, can not walk outside for a long time busy, or accidentally there will be a miscarriage, and even likely to be rescued in time, a body two lives. "

Jared's pupils snapped shut, "One body, two lives?"

How can it be so serious?

"Yes, it's quite possible." Elias' expression was serious, not at all joking.

What's more, he never jokes.

"So I recommend that she start hospitalization now; it's best for her, and for the baby in her belly."

Jared clenched his fist, "I got it, I'll talk to her when she comes out, go ahead and help set this up."

"Okay, I'll go then." Elias nodded slightly and turned to walk away.

Jared was left alone, his gaze still fixed on the door in front of him, waiting with a heavy and worried heart for Amber to come out from inside.

Like this, it was as if Amber was waiting for him outside when he had his surgery.

Jared waited for almost two hours before Amber finally came out of it.

She came over, clutching her stomach and looking pale.

Seeing this, Jared quickly went over to her and took her in his arms, "How's that? Still uncomfortable?"

Amber leaned into his arms, her voice weak, "It's better now, it's not as hard as it was at first."

Jared helped her to sit down in a side chair, "What were the test results?"

Amber leaned on his shoulder and closed her eyes slightly, "The results were okay, the doctor said it was just a big reaction and that's why it was too hard for the mother, nothing else probably."

At the sound of his voice, Jared's heart hung in the air and dropped a little.

He then spoke to her about the conversation he had just had with Elias, "Elias suggested that you be hospitalized from now on to nurse the baby, and I would like you to do the same, that way it would be better for you and for the baby, don't you think?"

Although he was tempted to make the decision for her directly, he ultimately chose not to do so.

He respects her opinion.

Amber looked up suddenly at the man's words, "Hospitalized now to nurse the baby?"

"Yes." Jared looked her in the eye and nodded.

Amber bit her lower lip and hesitated, "But what about Goldstone Co. if we're hospitalized now to nurse the baby?"

"I can send someone over to help you manage it, or you can arrange for someone to manage it yourself, but either way, I want you to be hospitalized, you're in a dangerous situation, Elias said that in your condition, one body is possible." Jared hugged her tightly, so tight that he could not wait to integrate her into his body.

As if that way, she won't have some kind of one-body situation.

Seriously, Amber was also shocked by the man's words, the already white little face, this time more pale.

"How can it be so bad?" Her eyes blinked in confusion.

Jared's large hand wrapped around the back of her head, so that her head rested in his chest, "Because you are not well, not yet fully recovered, so pregnancy would have been very dangerous, your current situation, you can not run around outside for a long time, and can not work for a long time, so wife, I hope you agree to hospitalization, Goldstone Co. things you do not have to worry about, this The world is full of capable people, even if you can't rest assured, there are times when it's time to let go."

Amber's mouth opened and no words came out.

After a long moment, she sighed, "Okay, I promise to stay in the hospital."

He's right, Goldstone Co. is important, but lives and children are more important.

And Goldstone Co. has stabilized and will not be in turmoil because of her extended absence.

But if she can't let go of Goldstone Co. and has to stay in Goldstone Co., the end result will not only be that she can't keep her baby, but also that she may lose her own life.

So she really shouldn't have let go of Goldstone Co. and put her life and the lives of her children second.

Seeing Amber figured out and agreed, Jared's eyebrows relaxed down, "Good, then we will go to the formalities now, the rest, I have asked Elias to arrange, in the future you take good care of your body, do not worry about anything else, everything has me."

Speaking of which, he kissed her forehead, "In fact, I've thought about it, even if you don't say yes, I'll force you to say yes, I can't watch you capriciously put your life in danger, but fortunately, you didn't let me down in the end."

Amber laughs, "Don't make me sound so paranoid, only care about the company, don't care about themselves and their children ah, life and the company who is light who is important, I still can distinguish."

"That's good." Jared stroked her hair.

At that moment, the doctor who gave Amber the checkup came over and gave her the checklist and also told her some precautions and made some comments.

One of the comments, like the one Elias made, was that he wanted her to be hospitalized to nurse the baby and that she was in a dangerous situation and not fit to be out and about.

Now everyone is advising her in this way, which shows that she is in a really serious situation.

So she's also quite glad she was able to figure out how to agree to be hospitalized.

Otherwise, the consequences are unthinkable.

That night, Amber was admitted to a rearranged hospital room.

This ward is specially prepared for pregnant women like her.

When Amber was hospitalized, Jared also told the old Mrs. Farrell and the others about it.

After all, something this big shouldn't be hidden, and it can't be hidden.

The old Mrs. Farrell has been calling about them from time to time, so it would be easy to know their current situation.

Instead of letting the old Mrs. Farrell know that they were angry, they should have told the old Mrs. Farrell.

The old Mrs. Farrell learns that Amber is now in a very bad condition and immediately rushes to come to the hospital to see her. Finally it is only when Amber and Mrs. Murphy unite to persuade her that the old Mrs. Farrell's move is put off.

After all, the old Mrs. Farrell is so old and running around outside, they are not at ease with the younger generation.

But the old Mrs. Farrell didn't come, but Mrs. Murphy did, and brought a lot of nutrition to help the old Mrs. Farrell visit Amber.

Mrs. Murphy was shocked to see how pale and thin Amber looked, "My God, Mrs. Farrell, how did you lose so much weight?"

Amber sat on the hospital bed and smiled, "Mrs. Murphy don't worry, I've just been throwing up so much lately that I can't eat, that's why I'm like this, I should be fine after some time."

Although she said so, but in the end will not be good, she herself also have no confidence, but is used to comfort Mrs. Murphy, let Mrs. Murphy do not worry about it.

Jared stepped aside to warm up Amber's milk, and when it was ready, he handed it to her, then looked at Mrs. Murphy and said, "Don't worry Mrs. Murphy, I'll find a way to get her to eat next and get her body up as soon as possible."

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "It's time to get well sooner, what did the doctor say? "

She asked.

It's a good idea to ask these questions so you can tell the old Mrs. Farrell when you get back.

Jared knew that, so he didn't hide it, and told the doctor's words, and Amber's current situation one by one.

Mrs. Murphy listened and sighed repeatedly, "How could this happen?"

"Mrs. Murphy is fine, I'm in the hospital now, so don't worry about the rest, and there won't be any of those things, don't worry." Amber smiled and thought quickly.

Mrs. Murphy looked at her, "Mrs. Farrell, so, next I talk to the old Mrs. Farrell, I'm here to take care of you, how about Mr. Farrell a man, in the end is not careful to take care of pregnant women, I stay to take care of you, so that everyone is at ease. "

Amber's eyes lit up with some interest.

Mrs. Murphy was the one who took care of Jared's own mother when she was pregnant and also took care of Shonna when she was pregnant, so Mrs. Murphy is definitely the most professional when it comes to how to take care of pregnant women.

With Mrs. Murphy taking care of her, she, as a new mother, does not know anything. Moreover, she is not sure about finding another sister-in-law, so she is certainly happy to have Mrs. Murphy around.

"But with you here, what about Lady Georgia's side?" Amber's biggest worry was this.

Chapter 1383 Mrs. Murphy'S Personal Care

After all, Lady Georgia's health is not good and she can't leave anyone around to take care of her.

Mrs. Murphy also knows what Amber is worried about and was about to say something when Jared took the lead and opened his mouth, "Don't worry, I'll let Violet take care of Lady Georgia, Mrs. Murphy will stay here to take care of you, I'm also relieved."

Mrs. Murphy nodded, "Yes, yes, Mrs. Farrell, I was just about to say this, Sister Zhang is also in the Farrell Mansion, although she usually only does the work of the back kitchen, but in fact, in the early years is she and I together to take care of the old Mrs. Farrell, but she cooks good, so finally Self-appointed to go to the back kitchen specializing in cooking for the old Mrs. Farrell to eat, but actually take care of the old Mrs. Farrell's skills are still there, so Mrs. Farrell do not worry."

Hearing the two say so, Amber's heart was relieved and she smiled at Mrs. Murphy, "Good, then we will trouble Mrs. Murphy in the future."

"What's the matter." Mrs. Murphy said smilingly, "We all wish Mrs. Farrell you well and a safe birth. Well, I'll go say hello to the old Mrs. Farrell."

"I'll go." Jared took out his cell phone, "It's better for me as the husband to say this kind of thing, Mrs. Murphy you help Little Leaf get something she can eat at this stage, she hasn't eaten much today."

He did prepare a lot of food for her and coaxed and lied in order to get her to eat some.

But as soon as she ate it was very difficult to eat, so she has not eaten much so far, and all the food vomited.

He looked heartbroken ah, but can do nothing about it.

After all, she is a new mother, and he is not a new father?

The two newbies don't know much, so even if Mrs. Murphy doesn't come and offer to take care of her, he plans to find an experienced sister-in-law to take care of her.

With professionals around, they can all rest a little easier.

But he would prefer Mrs. Murphy to be around to take care of him than an outsider, so he would feel more at ease.

Hearing that Amber hadn't eaten anything yet, Mrs. Murphy was overwhelmed and rushed to respond, "Okay, okay, I'll go get ready."

When it was all said and done, it was immediately put into action.

And Jared sat down next to Amber, put his arm gently around her, dialed the old Mrs. Farrell's phone and told the old Mrs. Farrell about Mrs. Murphy's stay here.

The old Mrs. Farrell learned that Amber was in a bad situation and was distraught. Once she heard that Jared wanted to borrow Mrs. Murphy, she immediately agreed without even thinking about it and said she would send Violet along.

However, they were eventually rejected by Jared and Amber together.

Mrs. Murphy was already experienced, and with Mrs. Murphy alone, and Jared coming over regularly, the two of them together were more than enough to take care of Amber.

Wouldn't it be too much to ask Violet to come over again?

And if Violet comes over again, the old Mrs. Farrell will have no one skilled in caring for the old Mrs. Farrell, and the two of them will not feel at ease.

So one side is best.

The old Mrs. Farrell, seeing the young couple so insistent, could only dismiss the idea of sending Violet over as well, and then instructed the two to tell her old lady if they still needed someone, and not to hide it from her old lady.

This time, both Amber and Jared didn't refuse and agreed.

In the time that followed, the old Mrs. Farrell talked to Amber about pregnancy, and Amber went from being a novice who knew nothing to being a new mother with a little experience.

At the same time, Jared also changed it.

Jared not only listened carefully, but also prepared a notebook, while listening to the old Mrs. Farrell said, while busy in the notebook to make notes, look at the Amber funny at the same time, the heart is also quite warm.

Before Mrs. Murphy arrived, he had Ben send someone out to the bookstore to buy a lot of books for pregnant moms and new dads.

The reason for this is that I want to develop myself into a good husband who can take good care of my pregnant wife during these months of her pregnancy, as well as a good father who can take good care of my child when it is born.

Seriously, not many men can do this step, and even many men from the beginning to the end simply will not care.

But Jared, such an incredibly busy chairman of a large group, was able to put aside a lot of work and spare a lot of time to take care of him and to learn these things that have nothing to do with managing the company, and she was really touched beyond words.

Jared didn't know what Amber was thinking, looking at Amber's red eyes, he kissed her heartily on the brow, "Hungry?"

He asked.

Amber put down the phone that had ended the call and mumbled softly, "Yeah a little."

Aren't you hungry?

I can't eat anything, and I know it won't work if I don't eat anything, so she forced herself to eat something with nausea and discomfort.

However still useless, eat what vomit, to now the stomach is also empty, early hunger can not be, the head is dizzy.

Had it not been for a nutritional injection earlier, it would have passed out.

"Bear with me a little longer, Mrs. Murphy has the experience, and I reckon you'll be able to eat what's prepared." Jared took her in his arms and said softly.

Amber leaned against his chest, "I believe that."

And, even if she can't eat, she has to eat, even if she still ends up throwing up, she has to eat.

After all, you can't keep taking nutrition shots, right?

Mrs. Murphy moved quickly, and in less than half an hour, the food was ready to eat, a more nutritious soup.

The moment the box was opened, Amber immediately smelled a strong hawthorn flavor.

Surprisingly, the smell didn't make her feel sick or unpleasant.

Before she but smell what is not used to are disgusting, but smell this but not, but there is a comfortable feeling.

This made Amber feel a little strange.

Amber was about to ask what the reason for this is, Mrs. Murphy has smilingly explained, "I went to prepare food for Mrs. Farrell, specially smelled the nurse in charge of Mrs. Farrell, know Mrs. Farrell now for eating this aspect of the situation, immediately guessed Mrs. Farrell should be suitable for eating sour things, and sour things originally have the effect of inhibiting nausea, so specially went to buy a hawthorn soup, but the bought in the end is not as good as the taste of their own boiling, but now time is limited, Mrs. Farrell first put up with, later I prepare some ingredients, and then personally make you delicious."

"Well, thanks Mrs. Murphy," Amber said with a grateful smile.

Jared took the bowl from Mrs. Murphy, spooned up a spoonful and blew gently to make it less hot, then fed it to Amber's lips.

In front of Mrs. Murphy, Amber was still a little embarrassed, but her stomach was really hungry and she didn't feel sick when she smelled the porridge, so she knew she could eat the porridge, so she didn't care about the embarrassment and opened her mouth to eat the porridge.

Mrs. Murphy stood by and watched happily.

How nice that Mr. Farrell is taking care of people.

And look at the young couple's relationship, it's really good.

"How does it taste?" Jared saw Amber ate the porridge and did not show any discomfort, the tightly furrowed brow stretched, and the raised heart, too, fell back slightly.

Great, she finally has something to eat.

"It tastes good, a little sour, but acceptable." Amber said with a nod.

In fact, she is a person with a sweet tooth, never eat sour, also hate to eat sour, even with a little sour things she eats up, will be sour this feeling many times magnified, completely unacceptable.

But now, not only can she accept it, but also quite like it.

"By the way Mrs. Murphy, when you are pregnant, does your appetite change with you?" She looked at Mrs. Murphy and asked, "I never ate sour food before and I couldn't eat it, but now I can eat it, so strange."

With these words, Jared also looked at Mrs. Murphy curiously, wanting to know the answer.

All the unanswered questions about her pregnancy are taken seriously and then he tries to figure it out.

Only then will he be able to take better care of her.

Chapter 1384 Pregnancy Exposed

Looking at Amber's curiosity and Jared's serious look, Mrs. Murphy didn't hide and told what she knew, "Yes, during pregnancy, women do have many behaviors that are completely opposite to the previous ones, taste is one of them, there are many women who don't eat sweet before, but when they are pregnant, they suddenly like to eat sweet, and they are very capable of There are many women who don't eat sweet before but suddenly like to eat sweet when they are pregnant, and are also very capable of eating sweet, some women like Mrs. Farrell you don't eat acid before and like to eat acid after pregnancy, these are normal, and there are more who like to eat acid than those who like to eat sweet."

"Why?" Amber wondered.

Mrs. Murphy smilingly returned, "Because of the influence of hormones in the body of pregnant women, especially like Mrs. Farrell you have a large pregnancy reaction, can not eat anything, if you switch to eat acid or sweet, there will be no nausea and vomiting feeling."

"So that's it." Amber nodded in a daze.

Jared was even more direct, taking notes on all of these words.

And he didn't just write it down, he asked Mrs. Murphy some other questions, not to mention how attentive he was.

All of this Jared asked while feeding Amber.

Only after Amber had finished the small bowl and stopped eating did he rely on his memory and write this down in his notebook as well.

By mid-afternoon, Ben arrived with a tall stack of books that Jared had asked for about pregnant mothers and new fathers.

Amber took a cursory glance at at least 20 to 30 books.

So many books, and I do not know if men read these months to finish.

Not to mention Amber, even Mrs. Murphy was taken aback by Jared's stance.

But the shock was followed by relief.

As a woman, Mrs. Murphy also likes Amber to have a good life and to be able to receive genuine care and attention from men.

So to see Jared like this, Mrs. Murphy felt happy and news from her heart.

The Farrell Family's education was a success, even when Hendrik sought out Shonna, a third party, but one has to admit that Hendrik did not wrong anyone.

Hendrik loved Mrs. Farrell with all his heart and soul.

But Mrs. Farrell really has no feelings for Master Hendrik, and supports Hendrik to go out and find another woman.

Later Hendrik really looked for, found Shonna, also fell in love with Shonna, in order to marry Shonna, also prefer to suffer the family law will not give up.

It can be said that the men from the Farrell Family, really are all infatuated with each other.

Infatuation, but also enough care for women.

So, the Farrell Family has been successful in educating the men.

I believe Logan, in the future, will do the same.

Mrs. Murphy smiled at the thought and then gently withdrew from the room, leaving the room for the young couple to spend time together.

She knew that they had a lot to talk about.

She, Lady Georgia, doesn't go in and bother them except when necessary.

The matter of Amber's pregnancy was eventually reported by the media.

Coincidentally, a media worker's wife was at the hospital during her maternity checkup and happened to see Amber and Jared.

The two identity status here, plus also did not deliberately hide the figure, so it was found to be recognized.

So the wife went back and told her husband, and then the news of Amber's suspected pregnancy was posted by the media and the internet exploded.

Many netizens speculate that the reason why the two are so suddenly re-married to receive a license is not because of pregnancy.

This speculation was overwhelmingly accepted.

I have to say, the masters are in the people, the netizens are really smart ah.

Amber and Jared knew about it when Ben called to tell them.

After all, cell phones these points in the product has radiation, in the ward, two people can not use it, naturally, will not go online to pay attention to online trends, and will not immediately find them again on the hot search.

Knowing that the media had exposed Amber's pregnancy, Jared's frown could almost kill a mosquito.

Because of this matter, he had no intention of making it public.

It is not going to be made public, at least for the time being.

And no matter what the circle, there is a kind of pregnancy before the third month should not be public, otherwise unlucky.

He didn't believe it, but for Amber's sake and for the sake of the child, he was willing to believe in these esoteric and mysterious things.

The most important thing is that they have so many enemies in the dark, he also had to pay more attention to some, so are not going to be so early open at this time.

But I never thought that it would be exposed by the media now.

Jared looked at the online buzz, thin lips are pursed into a straight line, the face sorrowful.

Amber looked amused, reached out to pinch his face to the sides, "Well husband, don't be upset, was exposed on the exposure, anyway, it is only a matter of time, in that we also did not deliberately hide, so it is not strange to be exposed, early exposure, but also save us in the future in the open, right?"

"These media, they're really everywhere." Jared said coldly.

Amber laughed, "they are eating this bowl of rice, of course, to pervasive ah, well, I am not even angry, you do not get angry, since they are exposed, we can not say no pregnancy, or when the child is born, and to be outside speculation constantly, it would be better, we now directly admit forget."

And that's all there is to it.

Jared rubbed his brow, "I will increase my staff to protect you in the future."

Amber hummed and knew that the exposure of the pregnancy would certainly raise a lot of eyebrows.

So she does have to pay more attention to her well-being.

Jared then took to his social media platforms and posted content that told the crowd that Amber was indeed pregnant, a month and a half.

Jared's admission set off another wave of internet buzz.

Everyone scrambled to stream their blessings and congratulations below Jared's comment section.

After all, the last time Jared and Amber got married and sent out benefits, it was a good time for the netizens to be happy.

And with a high winning rate, the vast majority of netizens received benefits, if not those grand prizes, but a gift of a couple of hundred dollars.

For the sake of these benefits, the netizens will not say any hard words for this time.

In saying that, the two would have been boyfriend and girlfriend before, and married, pregnancy is also very normal ah, and not what cheating what immoral things, the netizens will bless even without those benefits.

Otherwise, they are the ones who really have no morals.

Jared looked at the blessings of these netizens, and his heart was a little less discontented with those media for announcing this matter privately.

He then posted another entry, another sweepstakes.

The event benefits were exactly the same as the last time he and Amber were married.

The netizens saw it and got excited again, then hurriedly forwarded comments, fearing that the luck would be divided away if they were slow.

Then, the network platform all crashed for a while.

The staff rushed to fix it, and after it was fixed, netizens continued to forward comments, and the network was so lively.

After all, these are money, real money.

The last time a netizen also did a special inventory of how much these benefits Jared came up with were worth.

The Farrell Group has disclosed that it is one hundred million, but netizens have found that it is far more than one hundred million, at least two hundred million, after taking stock.

In addition to the online raffle, the Farrell Group and Goldstone Co. also sent employees to hand out candy to passersby downstairs that day.

Those candies are all foreign high-class candy, the price is not expensive, Olkmore many citizens know, have come to line up to receive the candy, there are some cigarettes and alcohol and so on, the total sum, almost is two hundred million.

Chapter 1385 The Old Mr. Reed Calls

This is the first time that the netizens have seen such a big deal.

And I heard that the money is Jared's personal money, not the Farrell Group's public accounts.

You can see how rich Jared is, two hundred million, said to bring to the network to give the network to the friends.

In fact, it's not like the netizens haven't seen someone take 200 million to give out benefits to the netizens.

The companies behind the big sites do this every year for the holidays, but instead of using their own money like Jared does, these companies go on the company's public books.

Said to take two hundred million to the netizens to grab gifts, but in fact, grab some what coupons, what a mess, real cash a few dollars is good, a few cents are lucky.

The most ridiculous thing is to say that it is two hundred million, but in fact there is no two hundred million, but it is just a gimmick.

Like Jared, it is still the first one to really come up with 200 million.

And now, Jared is going to come up with so much money to play with everyone, for a while, Jared's hot fame, rose to the highest, what those first-line top stream with him, is simply a small witch.

The title of national husband is securely worn on Jared's head.

Amber laughed as she watched the netizens shouting one husband after another below Jared's comment section, "Happy?"

She held the phone out to the man, "Being the husband of so many people."

Jared's handsome face was dark and ugly, "Not happy, I'm not their husband."

Saying that, he took his phone and started sending messages again, asking the netizens not to shout like that, he is just Amber's husband alone.

Netizens laughed out loud and laughed at whether he had bronchitis.

But these were good-natured laughs, and Jared didn't mean to get angry, just told them once again that they weren't allowed to call him husband anymore, and that he didn't like the name.

The network is good good promised.

After all, what if they were really afraid he would get angry and take the benefits back?

Seeing that the netizens were not continuing to call their husbands, Jared's face then turned completely better and then informed Ben to get the raffle for everyone and go on his private account.

Ben's side quickly made the link to the sweepstakes, and once it was posted online, the netizens stopped messing around in his comment section and left to go to the Farrell Group's official website to retweet the sweepstakes.

The rest, Jared left alone and put the phone down.

No sooner had he put his phone down, however, than Amber's phone rang.

At first glance, it was Mrs. Lyon calling, apparently to ask about her pregnancy.

But it was Jared, not Amber, who answered the phone.

Jared forced her to contact less electronic products in the future, although the radiation is not high, but her body is now bad, a little radiation, he is not too willing to let her dip.

Amber had no choice but to let him go.

In fact, he is so in charge of her, but also care about her performance, her heart is sweet yet to come, and will not be angry with him to manage these.

Sure enough, once Jared answered the phone, Mrs. Lyon rushed to ask him about Amber's pregnancy.

How is Amber's health, how are the kids, etc.?

Jared answered them all patiently and carefully, except for hiding the fact that Amber is not doing so well right now.

That's what Amber told him to do, in order not to worry Mrs. Lyon.

Otherwise, with Mrs. Lyon's character, she would have come here often to take care of her.

She didn't want to bother Mrs. Lyon too much, so there were some things that should be hidden, after all, there were enough people who were worried about her.

Mrs. Lyon was relieved to learn from Jared that Amber was doing well and that the baby was fine. After telling Jared to take good care of Amber and that she had time to come over and see Amber, she ended the call.

But before Jared could put the phone down, Amber's phone rang once again, this time from Amber's the old Mr. Reed.

The old Mr. Reed, a premier professor of archaeology, often worked in the deep woods of ancient tombs and was rarely, rarely contacted.

Otherwise, when she remarried, she called you directly the old Mr. Reed, instead of just sending a message to tell the old Mr. Reed.

Because she knew that even if she called, the old Mr. Reed would not necessarily be able to receive it.

So she didn't tell the old Mr. Reed about the pregnancy, she just told the old Mr. Reed that she was married.

I didn't expect the old Mr. Reed to call as soon as her pregnancy was made public this time.

And this time, Jared didn't pick up the phone himself and didn't let her.

He knew that she had been missing this only family member, so even with radiation, he had to let her pick it up.

It turns out that the old Mr. Reed didn't know that she was married or that she was pregnant.

It was the old Mr. Reed's assistant who happened to be on the Internet when he took a break and saw it. After seeing it, he thought she was at least the old Mr. Reed's only relative, so the assistant drove to the mountain and told the old Mr. Reed about it.

Then the old Mr. Reed called in on a satellite phone.

The moment she heard the old Mr. Reed's voice, Amber's eyes got red and her voice got choked up.

Especially when she heard the old Mr. Reed apologize to her and tell her how he had neglected her these past few months, her heart became even more sour and tears fell from her eyes.

Jared looked heartbroken, took the phone directly to the old Mr. Reed and talked to him himself.

That said, this is the first time Jared has spoken to Amber the old Mr. Reed.

The old Mr. Reed is a very old-fashioned and stern old man who is only pleasant to Amber, not to Jared, his granddaughter-in-law.

Especially since this grandson-in-law had hurt his granddaughter, so his attitude towards Jared was, in fact, not very good, and his tone of voice was of a very cold kind.

Jared didn't mind and wasn't offended.

He knew that the assholes he had done in the past could not be minded by any other elder, so he listened patiently and humbly to the old Mr. Reed's lecture to him.

Probably because of his attitude, the old Mr. Reed ended up treating Jared a little better again.

Especially when he heard that Jared was now in the hospital taking care of Amber, his attitude got better.

It must be good, he is not around his granddaughter, so the granddaughter will have to let Jared take care of it.

If he has a bad attitude, what if Jared is not nice to his granddaughter?

Jared was on amplification, so of course Amber could know what the old Mr. Reed's change of attitude toward Jared meant, and her heart grew even more sour.

In this world, only the relatives would bend their backbone for her.

After ending the call with the old Mr. Reed, Jared looked at Amber's red eyes and handed her two pieces of paper, "Don't cry, later on, if you want the old Mr. Reed, I'll take you to see him and walk around the relationship can go."

Amber took the tissue and wiped the corner of her eyes, "Let's talk about it later, I just haven't heard the old Mr. Reed's voice in a long time, so I was a little sad and a little happy for a while, so I didn't hold back."

"It's okay." Jared gave her a hug, "the old Mr. Reed said he'd take time off work to come back and be with you when you were in pre-birth so you'd have a loved one around to give birth."

"I know, I heard that." Amber huffed, "And I'm happy, I really haven't seen him in a while."

"Soon, just a few more months." Jared kissed the top of her head, "And just now THE OLD Mr. Reed said he'd bring you a present."

"Well, I'm looking forward to it." Amber smiled.

As we speak, the phone rings again, this time it's Cole.

Jared's face suddenly turned ugly.

"What's this guy calling for?" He frowned.

Amber laughed lightly, "And also to ask me about my pregnancy, what else?"

Chapter 1386 Men'S Jealousy

"What's there to ask?" Jared muttered with a reluctant look on his face, thumbing the phone and answering it.

As soon as the call was answered, Cole's loud voice came through, "Amber, I thought you hadn't even gotten your revenge and gotten back together with that dog Jared, but it turns out that dog Jared killed someone!"

Dog stuff?

Jared's temple veins jumped several times can not be calmed, and finally simply no longer suppress the anger, voice cold spoke, "Cole, do you want to die?"

On the other end of the phone, Cole jumped up in shock, "Holy shit, Jared how is that you?" Where is Amber?

Holy shit, it was Jared who answered the phone.

Then won't those words you just said ...

Cole sucked in a breath of cold air.

This is the end, their own words of Jared, by Jared the dog heard a right thing.

Now Jared the dog should be holding a grudge.

"I don't know!" Jared didn't bother to answer Cole, and even more so, he didn't want Cole to talk to Amber, and hung up the phone directly after his cold voice returned his sentence.

Amber looked at the man's gloomy, handsome face and covered her lips in amusement, "Okay, don't get mad, Cole is just like that."

"The bastard, he actually cursed me and called me something you heard, right?" Jared asked as he put the phone down and looked at her.

Amber nodded, "I hear you."

Not only did she hear it, she heard it often.

Every time Cole mentioned Jared in the past, it was either the dog thing or the asshole.

So she wasn't surprised that Cole would call Jared out like that.

"From now on, don't answer Cole's calls, hang up when you see them, I'm afraid he'll teach our kids badly." Jared pursed his lips and said coldly.

Amber laughed, "The baby is only the size of a bean now, what can it know?"

"Not even small, the book says that a child's education starts from the unborn, while still in your belly, it's called fetal education." Jared looked at her belly, a serious science.

Amber hmmm'd twice, "And?"

"So you can't care how small the child really is, we as parents have to pay some attention to what we say and do, we can't let the child learn all the bad habits while he or she is in the womb." Jared said with a serious face.

Amber cried and laughed, "Okay."

She said, touching her stomach, her voice gentle, "Baby, did you hear that? Your daddy loves you so much, and now he's going to start focusing on your education."

"It's our baby, of course I love it." Jared looked at her belly too, his eyes full of pride and pride.

Finally, he thought of something and added, "But don't worry wife, I won't love the child more than you even if I do, you are the most important in my heart, the one I love the most."

Amber really laughed out loud now, "Spoken as if I would be jealous with a child."

"I know you wouldn't." Jared shook his head, "I just want you to know that you're the one I care about the most, and no child can compare to you."

"I'm so glad you said that." Amber said with a smile as she leaned into his arms.

Admittedly, she loves children too, but who doesn't want to be the most special one in the hearts of others?

That's what she thought, too.

The couple was talking when the next second, the phone rang again.

Jared's eyebrows tightened again and his eyes looked at the woman accusingly, clearly asking, "Why are you calling so much?"

Amber spread her hands, said she did not know, socially extensive, blame her?

Besides, if it weren't for the fact that everyone else is afraid of him, I guess knowing that he's going to be a father, there would be many, many more people calling him than calling her, right?

Jared sighed and resigned himself to bringing Amber's phone over again.

As a result, a glance at the caller ID, handsome face and gloomy down.

Amber sensed the man's displeasure and turned her head curiously to see the caller ID on her phone, crying and laughing.

It turned out to be Hayden calling.

For Jared, it didn't matter who called, as long as it was a guy calling, he wasn't happy.

"Still not answering?" Amber raised her eyes toward the man.

The man hung up the phone expressionlessly, "No answer, I'm afraid to teach my children badly."

Amber's mouth twitched, "How do you teach bad kids when you don't even answer your phone and Hayden doesn't say anything?"

It's not unreasonable is it not?

Jared pursed his thin lips and told her righteously, "Of course I can, he's a man whose frivolous hang-ups have permeated his bones, even his voice is permeated by a lack of urgency, and I'm afraid our children will hear his voice and be taught badly by him."

Amber held her forehead, heartfelt sympathy for Hayden.

If Hayden knew that Jared had smeared him like this, he would probably have jumped up and hit someone, right?

It's just that, let him go, he's happy.

And Hayden would have guessed that it wasn't her who hung up on him, but Jared.

And it's true, when he saw his phone hanging up, Hayden first froze, then rolled his eyes, "That Jared guy must have done it!"

In order to keep people from calling and disturbing them, Jared simply turned Amber's phone off.

After it was closed, his tightly locked brow was then stretched out.

Amber also let him, and not afraid to turn off the phone opportunities have any impact.

Anyway, the company she had already handed over to the people he had arranged to manage, no one would call her again, and even if there was something that needed her signature to handle, Lina would personally send it to the hospital.

As for the rest, Bernardo's side, she also attended the first trial, and the second one is a month away.

So it's okay to turn it off now.

In saying that, even if someone really wants to find her, they can still find Jared there if they can't find her.

"Happy now?" Amber asked the man with a smirk.

The man wasn't embarrassed and graciously admitted, "Happy."

Amber shook her head and lost her smile.

All in all, the vast majority of people were blessed by her pregnancy, but there were a few who were extremely angry and unacceptable.

Among them are Norah and Alice.

On Norah's side, someone specifically told her about everything that was going on out there, especially with Jared and Amber.

This was all arranged by Jared to make Norah miserable.

They are also happy, the more Norah suffers.

So as soon as something good happens between them, he arranges for someone to immediately tell Norah about this good thing, and then Norah has an emotional breakdown and just yells and screams like crazy.

This is all the punishment Jared gave Norah.

Who let Norah almost murder Amber.

The last time Norah learned that Jared and Amber had remarried, she went crazy in the caretaker's office.

This one is no different.

She is bad, but she also really loves Jared.

How can I accept that he is in love with another woman and married with children?

Therefore, after hearing this, she will naturally go into an emotional frenzy and make a scene at the guardhouse, and then what awaits her is to be locked up in a small dark room.

In just two months, she has been put in the darkroom several times, each time for hearing about the love affair between Amber and Jared.

Now, she herself feels like she is going crazy.

Such a day is too painful, too torturous.

Yet she had to go on living, she didn't want to die.

But even if you don't want to die, the second trial, the final trial, is coming up.

With shorter and shorter hours, plus having to hear about Amber and Jared's loving relationship every day, she didn't think she could really last long enough to go crazy.

Why?

Why would Jared's brother do this to her?

She loves him so much and he does this to her, he's so cruel!

Chapter 1387 Haircut

Norah in the small dark room broke down and sat on the floor, crying in despair.

Crying about Jared's desperate love for her and her own statement that she was coming to the end.

In addition to Norah, Alice is also going crazy at the moment.

She couldn't believe what she was seeing, Amber was actually pregnant.

They actually have children!

How ridiculous, they actually have a child!

Alice covered her face and laughed nervously.

After laughing for a while, he dropped his hand from his face, revealing a grim and twisted ugly face.

You're pregnant, right?

It doesn't matter!

One day, she will get the two of them, and their little sinful child, killed together.

Of course, none of this is known to Amber or Jared.

Mrs. Murphy came back from buying fruit, saw Jared combing Amber's hair, suddenly thought of something, put the fruit down and suggested, "Mrs. Farrell want to cut her hair short?"

"Hair cut short?" Amber wondered.

Jared stopped what he was doing and also asked, "Why the short cut?"

"During pregnancy, pregnant women would have needed a lot of nutrition, and hair is the most nutritious, so when a woman is pregnant, it is best to cut her hair, if the pregnant woman is in good health, then of course she can stay, but Mrs. Farrell's case, it is best to cut it short." Mrs. Murphy took out a few fruits from the fruit basket and explained.

Amber blinked, "There's that?"

"Of course there is, the vast majority of pregnant women during pregnancy, they keep their hair short, one is good to take care of, and the other is that they can keep their hair from eating too much nutrition."

"So," Amber nodded, indicating that she understood.

Jared stroked her soft, dark, shiny hair and asked, "Do you want a cut?"

Amber also took a strand of hair, eyes reluctantly look, "seriously, let me cut, I really do not want to, also can not take the courage, but I believe Mrs. Murphy said, so it is better to cut it, later with a big belly, really long hair is not very good care."

"Then I'll call the stylist to come over and cut it for you." Jared said as he let go of her hair.

In fact, he couldn't let go of her long, beautiful hair either.

He enjoys stroking her hair and lifting a strand for a kiss or a deep sniff.

But if the hair would rob her of nourishment and make her uncomfortable during her pregnancy, he would rather she cut it off.

Anyway, hair is something that can grow back later.

"No," Amber took the man's hand that wanted to call, "just a haircut, where is the need for so much trouble, you help me cut!"

"Me?" Jared froze.

Amber hmmm, "Yeah, you cut it for me, just cut it short, no need to cut out any shape."

"But I've never cut my hair before, aren't you afraid I'll break it?" Jared stroked her hair, a little intent and a little worried.

He certainly wants him to do everything for her personally.

But I'm also afraid of messing it up.

Although he knows a lot, but not everything everything ah.

"It's okay." Amber smiled at the man, "I did not say it, do not need to cut the shape, so do not need to cut more beautiful, directly cut short on the line, and I basically will not leave the hospital next. And do not see outsiders, also do not need to speak so much, as long as you do not mind."

"Of course I wouldn't mind." Jared shook his head.

"That'll do, cut it." Amber said, turning around and turning her back to him to make it easier for him to cut her hair.

Mrs. Murphy also smiled and advised, "Mr. Farrell, since Mrs. Farrell believes in you, then you cut it, if you are in do not know how to cut, search on the Internet, Mr. Farrell you are so hands-on, I believe you will cut it well."

"Yeah, do a search on the internet for simple short hair." Amber's eyes lit up with Mrs. Murphy's good advice.

Jared also thought it would work, so he took his phone and searched the internet for simple short hair styles, searched them out, and looked at them with Amber to see what she liked.

Mrs. Murphy watched the two kissing and discussing what haircut they were going to see, smiled heartily and took the fruit to clean it.

By the time she was done washing and came out, Jared had also cut Amber's hair and was fixing her long cut hair, the cherished look was toothsome to watch.

Mrs. Murphy didn't bother to look and turned her attention directly to Amber.

Amber is sitting on her bed with a mirror in her hand and is looking left and right, admiring her new hairstyle.

And look at the corners of her mouth with a smile, is obviously very satisfied with her new hair.

Mrs. Murphy looked at it, and was satisfied, and walked over with the fruit plate, "Oh, Mr. Farrell cut it well."

Amber put down the mirror and responded, "Yeah, it's really nice, I picked this hairstyle online, and I didn't expect that he could replicate it perfectly."

At the time of the haircut, she was closed eyes the whole time did not look, anyway, have given this work to the man, no matter how the final man cut, she will be perfectly accepted.

After all, she chose it herself.

I didn't expect that the man gave her a perfect score and cut it so well.

She chose a shoulder-length short hair, and a little air bangs, looks like the Republic of China student head, but actually more than that student head a few refreshing, not so thick.

But all the same, she was able to reduce her age and make her look as if she was a college student in school and the whole person was several years younger.

God knows how surprised she was when she opened her eyes and looked at herself in the mirror, and directly hugged the man's face and gave him a kiss.

And the man almost got an inch and wanted to kiss back, and not on the face, but wanted to give her a deep kiss.

Finally she stopped the men when she heard the water stop in the direction of the kitchen and knew that Mrs. Murphy might be coming out.

Otherwise they would still be kissing now. Kissing.

Jared had by now tidied up Amber's hair, tied it together with string, and tied it in a nice bow.

Amber saw this and asked, "Why are you collecting them if you're not throwing them in the trash?"

"I'm going to put it away." Jared said as he came over and sat diagonally on the edge of the bed, taking her by the shoulders.

Amber frowned in disgust, "What's so great about this hair collection?"

Don't you feel good?

"Of course I want to collect it." Jared lifted his chin, "This is the hair I personally cut off for you, it has a special meaning, so collect it, maybe when we look at it again later when we are gray, we will be able to remember when we were young."

Mrs. Murphy thought it was good and nodded her head in agreement, "Mr. Farrell has a point, and it is indeed worth collecting."

Seeing Mrs. Murphy still agree, Amber shook her head in amusement, "Whatever, don't let me see it in the future anyway, it feels weird."

Even if it is her own hair, she feels weird.

Jared saw her thinking that way and didn't force her to accept it, forking up a strawberry and handing it to her, then looking to Mrs. Murphy, "Mrs. Murphy, find a box for me later."

"Yes Mr. Farrell," Mrs. Murphy readily agreed.

Amber ate a strawberry while elbowing the man's abs, "Aren't you going to work at the group?"

"I'm not going today, I'll stay here with you today and go tomorrow." Jared twirled a grape and ate it too.

Amber also quite wanted his company, so when she heard the man say he wasn't going, she didn't say anything.

Anyway, nothing will happen if the group leaves his clump, and there's Ben to top it off.

"Yo, eat up." At that moment, Elias' voice came from outside the ward door.

The three men looked up.

Elias walked in with his hands in the pockets of his white coat at an unhurried pace.

Chapter 1388 A Gift For The Child

"Dr. Lansdale, here you are." Amber put down the fork in her hand and greeted him with a smile.

Elias hummed, then saw her hair, and in his eyes behind his glasses, a hint of surprise flashed, "When did you get your hair cut?"

In the morning he saw that she still had long hair.

Amber touched her new haircut and proudly told him, "My husband cut it off for me, how's that? Not bad, right?"

Seeing that she was not only satisfied with her own handiwork, but also proud to show off like others, Jared's heart was about to melt into a pool of water, soft as can be.

Elias nodded, "Not bad, I also wanted you to cut your hair earlier, but I didn't expect you guys to cut it first, so it saved me some effort."

Amber laughed, "We didn't know at first, it was Mrs. Murphy who told us it would be better to cut our hair off, so we did."

"What are you doing here?" Jared asked as he looked at Elias and opened his mouth.

Elias glanced at him, "I heard you couldn't eat and came over to see if there was any way to relieve your distress, but I didn't expect to see you eating quite well now."

Amber looked towards Mrs. Murphy gratefully, "Mrs. Murphy prepared the appetizer for me, so I could eat some of it, and now I don't feel uncomfortable anywhere eating these fruits."

"In that case, that's fine, I have nothing more to do, I'll leave now, call me if there's anything." Elias looked at her.

Amber smiled and responded.

He turned around and went out.

He comes and goes quickly.

Mrs. Murphy also exclaimed, "This Dr. Lansdale, he's really responsible, he's not Mrs. Farrell's primary care doctor, he's not an OB/GYN, but he made a special trip for Mrs. Farrell, what a nice guy."

Amber responded approvingly, "Yeah, he's been good to us, and Jared and I have bothered him a lot."

They say he is an emotionless monster, but she feels that he is not emotionless, just emotionally slow.

Just like when she saved him as a child, he was willing to repay her so sincerely.

This is simply not what an unemotional person can do.

A person without feelings will simply not be grateful to others, even if that person saved his life.

While Jared wasn't happy about Amber complimenting other men, he also knew that they did bother Elias a lot.

Therefore, no matter how unhappy he was, he didn't say anything.

Jealousy and human kindness, he still can distinguish.

On the other side, the Gardner Mansion.

The originally calm villa was suddenly shattered by a sharp, frightened female voice.

"Trenton!" Mrs. Gardner looked at Trenton who passed out after suddenly vomiting a mouthful of blood on the hospital bed, the whole person was so frightened and pale that he cried out directly.

Makayla heard the sound from the other room and rushed over as well, "Mom, what's wrong with Dad?"

"Your father is vomiting blood, Makayla, your father is vomiting blood." Mrs. Gardner saw Makayla as if she had seen a lifeline, and rushed to take her hand, crying her last breath.

Makayla knew she was stunned and patted her on the back, gesturing for her to calm down before going to see Trenton herself.

See Trenton mouth with blood at the corners of the bed lying unconscious Yi Yang Finger, Makayla heart also contracted violently, the face also gradually pale.

"Dad ..." She nudged Trenton gently.

But Trenton didn't respond.

Makayla could not hold back her emotions and cried, "Mom, call an ambulance, call an ambulance."

"Oh yes, yes, yes, ambulance, ambulance." Mrs. Gardner had just been terrified and didn't know what to do.

Now by Makayla a reminder, only to react to what they should do, hurriedly took out the phone, fingers trembling to dial the emergency number.

She called not Primary Medical Center, but another hospital.

She knew that Primary Medical Center would not accept Trenton.

So she had to pin her hopes on other hospitals.

The good thing is that other hospitals did not refuse to admit Trenton after hearing about his condition and quickly sent an ambulance over.

Trenton was taken to the ambulance, and Mrs. Gardner, a family member, naturally went with him.

Makayla would have liked to go, but the moment she got into the car and saw the familiar bodyguard uniform, she immediately dared not get into the car.

When Mrs. Gardner saw that she suddenly stopped getting into the car again, she did not suspect that she had met something, but instead instructed, "Makayla, mommy will go to the hospital with daddy, so you can pack some things at home and come over."

Makayla stiffened her expression and nodded, "Good ..."

Mrs. Gardner didn't hear the reluctance in her words and was relieved to hear her say yes and then followed the ambulance away.

Makayla watched the ambulance go away and stood in place for a long, long time before turning around and walking towards the villa.

After she left, the bodyguard then took out his cell phone and made a call out.

Jared looked at the phone caller ID, his eyes flashed and he got up and walked to the window before answering the phone.

Amber saw this and was curious for a moment, then stopped being curious and learned to knit sweaters for her children with Mrs. Murphy.

She can knit a scarf, but only one stitch.

Other stitches and stuff, she wouldn't.

And knitted sweater is more difficult than knitting scarves, more stitches, she learned at first, not much patience, after learning a while and then stop learning.

But now she has nothing to do, all day can only stay in the hospital, also do not have to busy work, the whole person will be relaxed down, also can not look at the phone for a long time, so bored, then also want to find something to do.

At first, she didn't know what to do, but Mrs. Murphy offered to teach her how to knit a sweater for her unborn baby.

She thought it was kinda fun and wanted to see her kids wearing their own hand-knitted sweaters, so she agreed to learn.

Don't tell me, in the past, I didn't have the patience, and I didn't want to learn after a while.

But now, probably because of her age and probably because she is going to be a mother, her whole mind is quiet and she learns to find out that it is quite interesting.

And she also wants to knit a sweater for everyone.

But a sweater knitting down, at least one or two months, she wanted to give Lady Georgia, Jared and others to knit one, it is estimated that next winter to complete.

But giving them theirs can be put off for now, she just wants to knit one for her baby as a birth gift from mom to baby.

In addition, she wanted to knit one for that child as well.

That was also her child, although gone, but now lives in her heart she does not intend to, and will not forget it.

When she wanted to prepare a copy of something for the child in her belly, she also prepared one for that child.

This is the only thing she, as a mother, can do.

But this is something that she has not yet discussed with Jared, and she does not know if he will understand her.

As I was thinking about it, I saw an additional shadow in front of me.

Amber looked up just in time to see the man looking down at her.

"What's wrong?" She asked.

Jared rubbed her hair, "I should be the one asking what's wrong with you, why are you down in the dumps all of a sudden?"

Amber bit her lower lip, hesitated for a few seconds, and finally voiced the idea that she was going to prepare a point for that child.

After hearing this, Jared agreed with a light laugh, "Okay, prepare if you want to, and in the future, we'll prepare a room for him as well, specifically for his things, and whenever we buy something for this kid, we'll prepare a copy for that kid as well."

Amber laughed, "I thought, you wouldn't understand me."

After all, this is the kind of thing that not many people can understand.

Some feel unlucky and unlucky.

There are some, and will think she is sick.

She was also worried that the man would be like this, and it's a good thing he didn't let her down.

Chapter 1389 Escape

"Why do you think I wouldn't understand you?" Jared cupped her face and looked at her with a serious expression, "I would understand, and I never felt bad that you thought that because it was our child, and we, as parents, were already indebted to him, and it was our duty to prepare him for this now."

Amber nodded with red eyes and a choked voice.

"By the way, where do you want to arrange the wedding house?" Jared asked as he let go of her face.

Now that they have remarried, it is natural that they should prepare a new wedding house.

But recently they have all been in the hospital and have not returned to Kelsington Bay or to other residences.

Now it is possible to re-prepare the wedding house, and when the child is born later, you can just move in.

Kelsington Bay is definitely out of the question. It's too small, and now that they have kids, it's just not enough where to live.

The child must also have a room, and the nanny and babysitter must look after it at all times.

We can't, let the kids sleep with them and then the nanny and them go in and out of their rooms whenever they want, can we?

Amber also knows this, so when she heard the man ask about the wedding house, she also began to think about where to choose the right place.

But after thinking about it for half a day, I couldn't come up with a suitable place.

Finally, Mrs. Murphy suggested, "Mrs. Farrell, why don't you stay at Fourth Mansion?"

"Fourth Mansion?" froze Amber.

Fourth Mansion she knows, is the new villa area opened two years ago, inside a random villa is hundreds of millions.

Amber looked to the man, "Do you have a house there too?"

Jared does not deny it, "Of course, the developer at the time of repair, specifically asked me if I wanted a building, I let him just leave a building, the result of that person in order to earn my money, specifically left me the king of the building, it just so happens that the style of the king of the building is good, I bought, now think about it, there as a wedding house is really good, from the Fu Gong House is also relatively far, but from Goldstone Co. is not very far, what do you think?"

Amber thought about it, thought it would be okay, and nodded her head in agreement.

Mrs. Murphy smiled and said, "There Mr. Farrell you have never been to live, although the decoration is good, but many things are not, do you want me to have someone arrange to set it up?"

In fact, it is reasonable to say that something like a wedding room, or the hostess to set up more meaningful.

But Amber is now in such a situation, where there is no experience to do that, listening to Mrs. Murphy said let people to set up, she also have no objection.

"Then I'll trouble you, Mrs. Murphy." Amber gave a grateful smile.

Mrs. Murphy waved her hand, "What's the matter, then what would Mr. and Mrs. Farrell like and I'll have it prepared?"

"There's no rush on what you like, we'll give it to you when we've discussed it and put it on paper." Jared said as he brought over the fruit plate.

Fruit can be eaten more, but it is not suitable for eating too much at once.

He saw that she had already eaten a lot, the rest, later in the eating.

Mrs. Murphy thought it made sense and said no more.

Jared looked at Amber, "Fourth Mansion is a huge king of a building, covering a thousand square meters and a total of four floors, so we can have a floor for each of the two kids as their rooms and entertainment rooms study rooms and toy rooms so that whatever is there, it will fit."

"Hmm." Amber nodded.

Mrs. Murphy sighed as she listened to the two men and knew who the other child they were referring to.

That said, the first child was also really poor.

If ...

Hey, it's life.

Blame it on that Makenna.

If it weren't for that woman, Mr. Farrell and Mrs. Farrell would not have gone through so many trials and tribulations with each other.

That woman, what a crime.

Mrs. Murphy hated Makenna with a passion.

"By the way, who was on the phone just now? I see your face is very serious, is there something going on in the group? If something is wrong, you should go ahead and get busy." Amber at this moment thought of the man's expression just now, opened her mouth and asked with concern.

The man shook his head slightly, "It's not the Farrell Group, it's Trenton."

"And what's wrong with him?" Amber narrowed her eyes.

You're not dead, are you?

If this is true ...

Amber's heart was suddenly a little unspeakably unpleasant.

She was going to say that if that was the case, it would be a great joy.

But such words, she could not say at all, even to think, but also dare not think completely.

What is this all about?

A flash of bewilderment passed through Amber's eyes, wondering what the reason for her anomaly was.

Jared also did not notice her abnormal, picking up a glass of water to the side to take a sip, then returned: "I heard that the condition has worsened again, was sent to another hospital by ambulance."

"So." Amber lifted her chin, indicating that she knew, and stopped asking after that.

Because she didn't know what to ask anymore.

She is blocked in her heart at this moment and does not know why.

Jared saw that she was depressed and touched her head, "What's wrong?"

Amber forced out a smile, "Nothing, I just don't know why, my mood became much heavier all of a sudden."

Hearing this, Jared's eyes flashed a dark light, did not say anything, just quietly held her in his arms.

Meanwhile, at the Gardner Mansion, Makayla is worried about Trenton and resents the bodyguards outside.

She knew that the bouncers outside were guarding her on purpose to keep her from leaving the place to go to Amber.

I really didn't think that Jared, that person, would be so desperate.

Really just willing to watch Dad die.

Doesn't he know that Dad is also his father-in-law?

No, he knows, he just doesn't want her to go to Amber to save Dad, just wants him to die sooner.

But ah, she definitely do not want to let dad die, dad died, she will have to lose her father's love once again, and once again to live back to the old poor days.

No matter what the outcome, she is not willing to accept, so no matter what, she must save her father.

But to save Dad, you have to get out of here and find Amber to do so.

But there were people watching outside, so how could she leave?

Makayla walks around the living room, looking restless.

Finally, she saw Mrs. Gardner's jacket on the couch and had a plan.

She then hurried upstairs, painted herself in a rather aged makeup, then changed into Mrs. Gardner's clothes and tumbled out of the back window of the cottage.

After flipping out, she went around inside the bushes to another villa, walked out from the back of that villa, and walked boldly towards the gate of the villa area.

On the way, of course, she felt a line of sight fall on her, and knew whose that line of sight was, but she didn't turn around to look, and pretended she didn't notice anything.

Otherwise, once you turn around you are sure to be out.

So she didn't see anything, didn't notice anything, and just went straight ahead.

So Makayla made it out of the villa door without a hitch.

At that moment, she lifted a breath before completely falling, the whole big mouth gasping for air and patting her chest.

Great, great, she's finally mixed it up.

Makayla held back her excitement and hurriedly hailed a cab, "Goldstone Co."

The cab driver nodded his head and started the car.

An hour later, Makayla arrived at Goldstone Co. without incident.

This time, when she went to the front desk, she didn't say she was Makayla, but that she was a salesperson for a company that wanted to come and talk to Goldstone Co. about a partnership, and asked if their chairman could meet.

However, to her surprise, the receptionist told her that the president was not at Goldstone Co.

Makayla was shocked, "Not in Goldstone Co.? Then where did it go?"

The receptionist looked at her with a suspicious face, "Don't you even read the news online?"

"News? What news?" Makayla subconsciously asked rhetorically, then realizing that her reaction would not work and would easily arouse suspicion, she hurriedly changed her tone, "I am running a business, running outside everyday, no time to surf the internet, so I don't know what's going on online, may I ask what happened to your chairman?"

Chapter 1390 Muddling Through

This successfully dispelled the receptionist's suspicions, and the receptionist smiled and politely replied, "Our chairman is pregnant and is now in the hospital receiving inpatient fetal treatment."

"Pregnant?" Makayla's voice became shrill.

The receptionist frowned, "This lady, what do you mean? From the sound of your voice, you don't seem too happy that our chairman is pregnant, huh?"

There is not a single person at Goldstone Co. who is not happy about the fact that their chairman is pregnant.

What's more, the chairman of the board is pregnant and Mr. Farrell has given them a lot of benefits.

Even the Internet has it, now who does not say a blessing?

The result is that someone does not look very happy, which really makes her a little upset.

Makayla clenched her hand in a death grip.

Happy?

Of course she was unhappy. How could she be happy about such a thing?

Amber is pregnant, so wouldn't the kidney donation thing be even more impossible?

Makayla walked out the door of Goldstone Co. and looked up at the sky.

The sky was foggy, exactly like her mood at the moment.

Pregnant, how did Amber get pregnant at this time?

She hates it so much.

But soon, Makayla pulled herself together again.

No matter what, even if Amber is pregnant, she won't give up on getting Amber to donate a kidney to her dad.

Amber is her father's own daughter, so she has an obligation to save her father, even if she is pregnant, she has an obligation to take that baby to save her father.

After all, Dad is dying, and Amber is still young, this child is no longer, later can still be born ah.

So an unformed child, where is as important as the life of the father?

Yes, that's it.

Go get Amber, now!

Makayla gritted her teeth and reached for a cab again, "Primary Medical Center."

Amber is definitely at Primary Medical Center.

She knew that Primary Medical Center had a talented doctor, Dr. Lansdale.

This doctor was especially good to Amber and did his best.

So Amber would definitely choose this hospital.

Soon, Primary Medical Center arrived.

After Makayla got out of the car, she took out a mirror from her bag and took a good look at herself to make sure her makeup and hair and clothes were okay and not so easily recognized, then she put the mirror away and stepped through the doors of Primary Medical Center.

With Amber and Jared's status, it is definitely not possible to stay in a regular room.

So Makayla didn't hesitate at all and headed for the building of the senior ward.

She entered the building smoothly, and the security guard didn't stop her. She was wearing a name tag, and the security guard thought she was a family member of a rich patient, so he let her register and let her in.

Makayla went inside, found a receptionist, and cornered her to inquire about the floor and door number of Amber's ward.

She went all the way up in the elevator.

The moment she stepped out of the elevator, her heart was beating like thunder and her whole body was tense because she didn't know if Jared was here or not.

Jared loves Amber so much, Amber is pregnant and hospitalized, that man will most likely stay with Amber all the time.

So now she's worried that she'll bump into Jared when she gets to Amber's ward.

What to do?

Going over?

Makayla stood at the elevator door, thinking anxiously.

At this time, the patrolling bodyguard came over, and seeing her like this, immediately aroused suspicion, and came over and questioned in a cold voice, "Who are you? What are you doing here?"

Makayla gave a jolt and her body shook.

The good thing is that she reacted in time and quickly had to force herself to calm down, immediately pretending to be her own mother's unreasonable spill to dispel the bodyguard's vigilance and suspicion.

"Who do you care who I am?" Makayla crossed her arms and put on her best performance as a brutal and arrogant shrew, "This is a hospital, what do you think I'm doing here? Of course I'm here to see the patients, what? You sound like you're interrogating a prisoner, are you saying I shouldn't come? This hospital is owned by your family ah? "

The bodyguard was so scolded for no reason, the corners of his mouth twitched.

Come on, a rich arrogant up, the quality has not kept up with the mob.

This kind of woman, they who are bodyguards, have seen a lot.

The bodyguard dispelled the suspicion in his heart and said coldly with a disgusted face, "The hospital is not owned by my family, but this floor is all chartered by my boss, only my wife is alone, there are no other patients, so you have gone to the wrong place, please go back."

He pointed to the elevator behind her.

Makayla pretended to be surprised, "What? This floor is all wrapped up? Your boss is so rich? My husband wouldn't dare to do that."

The bouncer rolled his eyes.

Your husband?

Your husband is a newly rich man, how can he compare with Mr. Farrell?

Mr. Farrell's wealth is on the Forbes list of the world.

Whether your husband can get on Olkmore's Forbes list is the question.

"All right, all right, my boss has no money is none of your business, you hurry up and go, do not come up again, or do not blame us not polite." The bodyguard's face sank and he deliberately warned.

Makayla looked intimidated, "If you don't come, you don't come, why are you so fierce, don't think your boss is rich, wait, sooner or later my husband will be richer than your boss, then I will see if you still dare to be fierce in front of me, hum!"

She cursed as she spoke and walked toward the elevator.

She knew that only the more she looked like a shrew, the less these bodyguards would suspect her and only the more they would think she was really just a thug on the wrong side of the tracks.

Sure enough, Makayla got into the elevator smoothly and did not arouse the bodyguard's suspicion until the elevator door closed.

While she breathed a long sigh of relief, her heart became even more irritated.

She didn't expect that Jared would actually protect Amber so well, a whole floor was wrapped up, not to mention that bodyguards were assigned to patrol the area at all times.

In this way, the presence of a stranger there would indeed be too much of an eye-catcher.

Not to mention that she arrived at Amber's room without any problems, she had to be interrogated by the bodyguard as soon as she left the elevator.

And she can't pretend to be a relative of Jared and Amber.

How else could the bouncer not know that Amber and Jared were related?

Even if there is this relative, they will surely call and ask Amber and Jared before releasing them, and once Amber and Jared deny it, then she will be arrested immediately as well.

So, what the hell to do ah?

Makayla was so anxious that she was going to cry.

Dad's situation can no longer be delayed, in the delay, there may really be no hope at all.

So she had to see Amber fast and tell Amber the truth fast.

Only then will Amber possibly agree to save Dad.

But Jared is too protective of Amber. How in the world is she going to meet Amber?

Ding!

The elevator is here.

Makayla walked out of the elevator depressed, and then collided with a nurse pushing a small medicine cart.

"Oops." The nurse cried out in pain.

Makayla subconsciously apologized, "I'm sorry."

"It's okay." The nurse waved her hand and smiled, indicating that she didn't care.

Makayla returned a smile and continued on her way.

After taking two steps, she suddenly thought of something and turned her head sharply to look at the nurse, especially when she saw the nurse's uniform, she immediately had an idea in her head and hooked her lips and smiled.

Yeah, it's unusual to go up, but what if you pretend to be a nurse?

The more I thought about it, the more I thought it was possible, and the more excited Makayla's face became.

She then began to roam the hospital, looking for a good target to strike.

Finally, she selected a nurse, followed that nurse while she was going to the bathroom, then knocked the person over in the bathroom, finally stripped the nurse of her clothes, changed them herself, and then gathered enough courage to go to Amber's ward floor again.
