

LLPD Chapter 1485

Chapter 1485 Grand Finale

This, Jared has already guessed, now hear Ben say so, is not a surprise.

"Got it." He faintly responded, let Ben do not need to say more.

After all, a dead man, he knows so much for what?

Even if there are other truths, dead are dead, buried inside history, is not good?

"How is Mrs. Gardner's side?" Jared asked, what he was most concerned about now, was this.

With Trenton dead, there was only Mrs. Gardner left.

And he and Amber also promised Trenton that they would take good care of Mrs. Gardner in the future, so now Mrs. Gardner's situation must be clarified.

"Mrs. Gardner fainted when she learned of Mr. Gardner's death, and she hasn't woken up yet." Ben replied.

Jared hummed, "Transfer her to the hospital, to this side for easier care."

"Yes." Ben nodded his head.

"Also, Sophia's side of the wedding dress, how's the production going?" Jared asked again.

Ben smiled, "It's made later, Sophia called me the other day and asked when you're coming over to see it, I wanted to tell you, but because of this Connor thing, I forgot about it."

"Have the wedding dress shipped over." Jared instructed.

Ben responded, "Okay."

Shortly after he left, Amber woke up and was relieved to learn that everything was resolved, but finally thought of Trenton and her tears flowed again.

She really didn't expect that Trenton would sacrifice for her. At that moment, her heart's hatred for Trenton was dissipated even if it was big.

She recognized him and her own father, who died for her, but it was too late.

Amber cried in Jared's arms for a while, and then asked Mrs. Gardner.

Now she is most worried about Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Gardner and Trenton so good feelings, Trenton died, the most devastated is Mrs. Gardner.

It just so happens that Mrs. Gardner was also sent here, Amber immediately proposed to go see Mrs. Gardner, Jared agreed.

It was quite a coincidence that Mrs. Gardner woke up just as the two of them walked into her room.

Amber walked over, her lips moved, and she called out, "Mom ..."

At that moment, Mrs. Gardner froze, unable to believe what she heard, until Amber shouted again, then she confirmed that she had heard correctly, her daughter, really called her mother.

Mother and daughter hugged each other and sobbed uncontrollably as Amber apologized to Mrs. Gardner for not bringing Trenton back.

Trenton's death was indeed a very big blow to Mrs. Gardner, otherwise she wouldn't have fainted, but Mrs. Gardner was able to understand Trenton's behavior, after all, it was their daughter.

Even if she was there instead of Trenton, she would have done the same thing, as parents do, they can sacrifice for their children.

What's more, for Trenton's death, Mrs. Gardner has also long been mentally prepared, Trenton even if not yesterday, will not live long, just time to advance.

"Dad's funeral, I have arranged down, three days later held." Jared stood by the hospital bed and looked at Mrs. Gardner and said.

At this moment, he also changed his mind and called Trenton as Dad.

"Thank you, Jared," Mrs. Gardner smiled at him gratefully.

"It's what I should do, just so you guys can get some rest and get well in these three days." Jared added.

Mrs. Gardner and Amber agreed.

Three days later, Trenton's funeral was held as scheduled. There were many people attending the funeral, almost all the dignitaries in the country came, but they all ran to Jared's face.

In these three days, Jared and Mrs. Gardner publicized Amber's true identity, and everyone knew that Amber was actually the real daughter, and Trenton had become Jared's father-in-law.

So, Jared's funeral for Trenton, these people will naturally appreciate to come.

While laying flowers, Amber told Mrs. Gardner about her upcoming wedding to Jared.

This is what Jared had told her the day before and she agreed.

She had said in the past that she would marry him as soon as all the threats were resolved, and now it was naturally time to make good on that.

Because she also knew that if she didn't hold it, a certain man would not be able to wait any longer.

Hearing Amber talk about it, Mrs. Gardner was sincerely happy for her, the second thing that had made her happy since Trenton's death, the first, when Amber had called her mother.

"When will it be held?" Mrs. Gardner asked as she took Amber's hand.

Amber smiled at her, "Next Sunday, when you walk me out instead of Dad, okay?"

"Good." Mrs. Gardner agreed with a tearful smile.

Amber and Jared's impending wedding went viral that day, and soon all of Olkmore City knew about it.

Jared took the opportunity to send out the invitations, and those who received them knew about the day, so they weren't surprised, but hurried to prepare the day's congratulations.

The internet users also learned that the two were getting married, and all of them offered their blessings except for a small number of black people.

Jared was also generous enough to give out gifts to the netizens, and for those who are local, you can also go to the Farrell Group and Goldstone Co. and the Trident Group downstairs to get the wedding candy, which, for a while, the whole internet and Olkmore City were buzzing.

It was Sunday.

Amber, with the help of Sophia, got dressed in the century-old wedding dress that Jared had made for her, and she looked fabulous.

Mrs. Lyon and Mrs. Gardner were so moved that they both shed tears of joy.

Especially Mrs. Gardner, she didn't expect that she would be able to see her daughter get married in a wedding dress with her own eyes.

"Amber, it's beautiful, mommy is happy for you." Mrs. Gardner said with red eyes as she took the veil from Mrs. Lyon.

Amber's eyes were also a little red, but she forced herself not to cry, otherwise her makeup would have been ruined.

"Thank you, Mom." Amber squatted down so Mrs. Gardner could better drape her veil.

Once it was done, Mrs. Gardner took her hand in hers, "It's about time, Amber, let's go, Jared is going to be waiting."

"Mmm." Amber nodded.

Mrs. Gardner led Amber out of the dressing room and down the hall, with Mrs. Lyon walking behind her, ready to help Amber with the hem of her wedding dress.

The hall opened and Amber came out to the wedding march.

The beautiful bride appeared in front of everyone's eyes and they couldn't take their eyes off of her.

Jared also wore a white groom's tuxedo and stood in front of the priest. Seeing his beautiful bride walking towards him step by step, his thin lips hooked and he turned around and also went towards the bride.

"Honey, I'm coming to get you." Jared came to Amber and reached out his hand to her.

Amber looked at him, "Why are you coming over? Wasn't I supposed to come to your side?"

That's not how rehearsals work.

Jared smiled gently, "Although it is, but the relationship is a two-way run, you come towards me, I should also come towards you, you can not be left alone to walk to me, the real way is that we both walk towards each other."

"Jared said yes, that's more romantic." Mrs. Gardner smilingly put Amber's hand, into Jared's.

Jared held her tightly, which also meant holding all of himself, and the world.

"Mrs. Farrell, I'm finally going to really marry you."

Amber smiled tearfully, "Mr. Farrell, I'm finally, truly going to marry you too, will you always love me and be good to me?"

"Of course!"

Jared kissed her on the finger, then led her towards the priest under the applause of the crowd.

There, it was the beginning of happiness.
