

Let Me be Your Ex Chapter 235– 236

Chapter 235

Shaking his head vigorously so that I don't want to think, just wait for someone to save me, touch my belly unconsciously, in this quiet environment, I can most feel the real existence of the two children, measuring the size, I was surprised that I had grown up so much this time, I couldn't help but bend the corner of my mouth, and I will be able to see the little guy in more than three months...

I thought that I would see her kidnapper soon, but when I woke up after a sleep, the room was still so dark, I didn't know when it was already, and my stomach started to cry.

Get off the bed, then move in small steps, groping on the wall, trying to find the switch.

After pacing for a while, I only felt that the house was too big and empty, and finally found the location of the door.

He quickly touched the switch and made a "bang".

no power.

Miriam couldn't help but want to curse, what the hell! Can't help but kick the door, is it possible that you want to starve yourself to death?

Lie back on the bed and tell myself I want to distract myself...

Bryan should be looking for himself now. I would not go for desserts if I knew it, and Yan Ke...

Miriam suddenly reacted, and Bryan kept Yan Ke following, that was to protect herself... He had known that she would be in danger...

It's Shang Rui!

That day he said that Shang Rui would find himself to vent his anger because of Rania's affairs!

Miriam became more calm, stroked her abdomen gently, and whispered softly: "Soon there will be a Superman to rescue us, not afraid or not afraid."

Bryan looked at the monitor and couldn't help but sneer.

Why was it so coincidental that I was going to the dessert shop at noon that day and there was a heart attack? Yi Miriam's character couldn't be seen not saving people, so Yan Ke was taken away...

Yan Ke almost knelt in front of him and admitted his mistake. This was the greatest shame of his career.

Bryan glanced at him coldly and passed by.

"Mr. Shao!" He raised his heel, but was held by Lin Shui.

"Don't say one more word until you find Miriam, otherwise no one can save you!" After finishing speaking, trot to follow.

Bryan went directly to the hospital to find Shang Rui.

He hasn't left there since Rania's accident.

...

The sun was just right, and the luxurious ward was quiet. Rania was lying on the bed with a pale face and eyes closed.

Shang Rui sat and peeled the apple, then patiently cut it into small pieces, and handed it to her with a fork, but the person on the bed did not respond.

"Open your eyes and eat." It was a command without emotion.

Rania felt like he was going crazy, what the hell this man wanted to do!

The plate stayed in the air for an unknown amount of time. Before Shang Rui ran out of patience, the secretary came in to pass a message and spoke to his ear.

The man went out soon.

In the hallway, Shang Rui smiled neatly with his hands in his pants pockets, his handsome features are not lacking in femininity.

Bryan also has a face like a sculpture, but what is revealed in his bones is more incomprehensible.

Shang Rui blinked, the corners of his mouth raised, and his thin lips lightly opened: "Ms. Shao is so busy and still has time to visit my wife?"

Bryan's face was tight, like a thousand years of ice.

"Where is she?"

“Ha ha ha!” Shang Rui laughed, with a stronger charm, “President Shao asked, it seems that he has lost an important baby.”

The man on the opposite side grabbed his collar and violent all appeared on his face, gritted his teeth and said: “If you take Miriam away, give her to me quickly, or believe it or not, I will razing your company to the ground! If someone else Give her to you, that person just thought about letting us fight, and then he came to take advantage of it!”

Shang Rui paused, but in the next second he pushed Bryan away and sneered: “Then he really understands me, fighting with you is always one of my pleasures.”

After hearing this, Bryan calmed down and stared at him for a while, then suddenly grinned and changed his expression: “I heard that you have been in the hospital for many days. I don’t know if Miss Song forgave you, or I will tell her. Say, you arrested Miriam to vent her anger?”

Shang Rui smiled: “You can try.”

“I will let you watch it with your own eyes.” Bryan stepped forward and got closer to him, threatening.

The swords were drawn between the two, and neither of them would back down.

Even Bryan didn’t notice, Lin Shui didn’t know when he disappeared.

When he reappeared, Rania followed.

Shang Rui’s pupils contracted obviously, strode towards her, and whispered: “What are you doing here?!”

Rania looked faint, and said calmly: “Mr. Lin said that Shao always has something to say to me.”

Bryan raised his eyebrows and glanced at Lin Shui, but he did not expect to be clever today.

Lin Shui couldn’t help feeling proud, and his promotion and salary increase were expected!

“Just tell me, you go back first.” Shang Rui circled her waist and left.

“Miss Song...” Bryan said indifferently.

Shang Rui immediately turned his head, anger arose in his narrow eyes, as if he was about to burn him.

Bryan paced over in his spare time.

He gritted his teeth and spit out an address, and then hugged Rania and walked away without looking back.

Half an hour later, a villa halfway up the mountain in Tangshan Park was brutally knocked open.

Miriam jumped up from the bed in shock, almost flashing her waist, her ears pointed, listening carefully to the movement outside.

When the door was opened, it was pierced by the light.

Bryan saw her shrink in a corner of the bed, her head in her knees, still shaking.

My heart seemed to be torn apart by a large piece of life, painful to suffocation.

“Miriam.”

Miriam blinked vigorously before slowly adapting to the light. Bryan stood by the door, carrying the light behind her back. She couldn't see her face at all, but such a simple outline made her so excited that she couldn't speak.

“You...you finally came...” Douda's tears were like broken beads, and they went straight down. I have been trapped here for more than ten hours. I have told myself countless times not to be afraid, but how can I not be afraid!

Bryan hugged her in his arms and coaxed her for a long time, and then got up and hugged her into the car when she was calmer.

This time I'm not afraid to be shy in front of so many people, with my hands tightly hung on his neck and his face buried in the neck, breathing hard for the smell of his body.

Somewhere in the heart of the dependent man is sour and soft. This is a chemical reaction that can be caused by the kitten in his arms.

After a long period of intense tension, Miriam cried for so long, and her whole body snuggled against him listlessly.

I couldn't help but kiss her forehead, extended to the ears, and finally found the soft lips, attacking the city, letting him pick the jade softly, and even cooperated with it, from time to time “warning”, provoke the man I trembled all over, and couldn't hold it.

But considering her body, she didn't go too far.

I didn't dare to send her back to her parents directly, otherwise the two elders would be frightened again when they saw it. The more reason was that they wanted to keep her by their side and never wanted to experience the ten hours of losing her.

Bryan made the gruel because she hadn't eaten for too long. She drank two bowls in one breath, and was rejected by the man when she asked for it again: "You can't eat too much at one time, make it tomorrow."

Aggrieved, Miriam pulled the quilt to his face, revealing only a pair of big eyes.

Bryan deceived him to get close, and curled his lips unkindly: "Can I have something else for you?"

Miriam blinked, full of questions: "What to eat?"

"eat me."

A long, deep kiss made both people breathe harder.

Chapter 236

Miriam was a little worried. Her stomach was already obvious. She was afraid that Bryan would hurt her. When she blushed and her heart beat, she pushed him away.

"What's the matter?" The man's voice was hoarse, his eyes blurred, he was obviously about to lose control.

Miriam gasped and said, "Be careful of the child, or not."

Bryan frowned, it's not like the faucet says stop and stop...

Holding her hand downstream, Miriam couldn't help being nervous because of a premonition of what he was going to do.

The hand suddenly touched something and shrank hot, but it was pressed tightly in the next second.

Miriam felt his face fierce, as if he was dripping blood, how could this man...how could he do anything!

"Leave it to you." Bryan smiled treacherously and rascally.

Miriam bit her lip to the point of embarrassment, and groaned, "What nonsense, you solve it yourself!"

No matter where the man is willing, hard and soft, and even pleading in the end, Miriam has never seen him look like this, enduring, sweating on his forehead, pain and enjoyment.

Still succumbing to him, after that while Miriam was under the quilt and dare not look at him.

Bryan smiled deeply, with a sweet voice and in a very good mood, and she got close and bit her ears.

“Sooner or later, it’s so long before production. You can’t make me wantless and not a monk.” The tone fluctuates with joking and teasing.

Miriam lifted the quilt abruptly, her eyes agitated: “The last time! Don’t think about it again!”

Bryan faintly stared at her face for a long time, as if to see through her, Miriam pushed her hard chest awkwardly, and said unnaturally: “I’m sleepy, you let me sleep for a while.”

“Suddenly I found out that I didn’t seem to satisfy you... No wonder you are so angry.”

Miriam twitched her eyes, gritted her teeth, and resisted kicking him out of bed.

The two had been together for a long time, Miriam was very tired, and soon fell asleep, but her brows were furrowed and she looked unstable.

Bryan held his head with deep eyes, staring at her sleeping face, rubbing her eyebrows with his fingers.

For a long time, he lowered his head and kissed the corner of his mouth, and got up carefully.

The night is already deep.

Lin Shui had been waiting outside, watching Bryan coming from a distance, and he was relieved.

“Let’s go.” The man uttered two words faintly.

There was silence along the way. He turned his eyes out of the window, without focus, playing with the phone in his hand, and the corners of Lin Shui’s eyes trembled. He was most familiar with the actions of his boss, but he was going to deal with someone seriously. Good fruit.

In the huge study room, Mu Ming bowed his head and hid in the darkness in the corner, Yan Ke sat on the sofa and slumbered, and quickly stood up after Bryan came in.

The man swept the corners of his eyes. There were blood stains on the corners of his mouth and his clothes were torn. It seemed that he had been cleaned up.

Bryan sat down at the desk, and Yan Ke strode over to pick up Mu Ming and threw it in front of him.

“I heard that you have no father and no mother. If you honestly confess, I can understand that you have been left unattended since you were a child, and it will save you your life on Miriam’s face.” Listening in a calm tone makes people frightened.

Mu Ming finally moved, lowered his head, a stormy wind and waves flashed in his eyes, and the corners of his mouth tried hard to endure a sneer.

Slowly raising his head, it was as if he changed his face, regretting and sad, wronged and afraid, shaking his head and saying that he didn’t know.

Bryan clicked the corner of his lips, smiled indifferently, and took out a stack of photos from the drawer.

“Miriam said that when I saw you and Rania that day, there is probably only one way for a class like you to know her.” With a finger movement, the photo slipped to the ground, “charity.”

Mu Ming’s pupils shrank, but he was not too surprised, it was normal that he could find these.

A person who has no relatives can finish college, and there is no reason other than being funded. That’s right, that person is Rania.

“She has been supporting me since junior high school, and we often meet, is there anything wrong with this?” Mu Ming was puzzled, and his tone was innocent.

Bryan sneered: “Not only did she sponsor you to go to school, she gave you a sum of money when you graduated. You used the money to invest in a small loan and made a lot of money. Naturally, the wind will rise later,” the tone suddenly became cold, “but Why do you want to be a small employee in Yingxin? What is the purpose?”

Mu Ming’s expression changed, and he said lightly: “I like ordinary life.”

“Don’t tell me, I can make you never live an ordinary life.” Bryan patiently lost a little bit, looked at his watch, it was early morning, and Miriam was about to wake up.

The eyes of the kneeling people flashed sternly, ordinary life, huh, long ago.

Bryan didn’t wait any longer, got up and went out, and finally glanced back: “In the future, Miriam will think you are going to work in another city.”

Mu Ming had a meal, his meaning was self-evident.

“Shang Rui.” Before Bryan left the house, he opened his mouth, “He lost Rania and killed her child. Maybe you are the only one who can deal with him, so I took advantage of Miriam...”

The man was not surprised, and Mu Ming didn't stop him from going out, just waved his finger at Yan Ke slightly.

Miriam didn't see anyone around him when she woke up. She looked around at home and was standing in the living room blankly. Bryan opened the door and came in with breakfast in her hand.

"Wake up so early to buy breakfast..." She looked dazed and cute, and Bryan couldn't help waving her long arm, and took a kiss.

Su Yan sat in the sun and drank porridge. Although she couldn't use various skin care products and cosmetics during pregnancy, her skin was still broken by blowing bombs as before. Bryan tried the feel, well, it was very good.

Miriam protested with a puffed face, beautifully wrinkled.

"Don't go to work from today, okay?" The man seemed to inadvertently asked, and also used a question, which was asking for her opinion.

It's rare to see him so democratic. Miriam pursed her lips and looked down at her abdomen, which became more and more obvious. It was indeed not suitable for him to go anymore.

"Then don't go," her voice was soft and waxy, and her whole body was tenderly wrapped.

Suddenly remembering something, he looked up at him: "I was kidnapped and it's nothing about Muming. Don't blame him."

Bryan looked light and raised his eyebrows: "I didn't blame him, he resigned himself."

Miriam was surprised: "Why?"

"Maybe I feel sorry for you."

"I don't blame him."

"He feels guilty."

"..."

The two of you said something to me. Although Miriam felt a little strange, Bryan insisted on saying that, and finally had to give up.

"After dinner, I will send you to my parents and I will go to the company."

Miriam stirred up the porridge in front of him, and suddenly felt dull. In the next few months, I am afraid that I can only live a life of ignoring things outside the window.
