

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2870

Chapter 2870

Two days have passed.

Charity took the car to a hospital which was recommended by Shaun.

Shaun's friend personally received her. He was a middle-aged man in his forties, with blue eyes and curly hair.

"Hello, I'm Nissen." The man shook hands with Charity, and then personally asked the female doctor at the hospital to conduct a detailed examination of Charity's body.

After a series of tests, Nissen was a little surprised by the test results, "Have you ever taken some drugs to stimulate your body before?"

Charity was startled.

If it wasn't for the doctor's reminder, she would have almost forgotten.

When she was with Chester before, in order to numb him, she deliberately took some drugs that could stimulate the senses.

Charity: "Yes... yes."

Before she had s-e-x with Chester, she would eat it.

Nissen sighed, "You young people, for the sake of temporary happiness, don't take your own body seriously. You can't take those drugs indiscriminately. If you eat too much, it will hurt your body and it will be difficult to conceive naturally."

Charity's face is small but there was a daze on it.

At that time, she only wanted to get rid of Chester, even though Miguel had reminded her that there were serious side effects when she got the medicine, but she didn't care at all.

It turned out that she had already hurt her body by then.

"Then can I get pregnant using medical methods?" Charity asked nervously.

"It should be possible. After all, you are still young. If you are too old, you can easily miscarry if you are pregnant." Nissen looked at the test sheet and nodded, "But after you are pregnant, you must rest for the first three months. If there is bleeding hospital quickly."

Charity: "When can I do it?"

"Ovulation first." Nissen asked. "What kind of sperm do you want us to provide? The better the sperm, the more expensive it is, but you can rest assured that the identity of the child's father will be kept secret forever."

Charity thought for a while, and said, "I want to be a half-breed. It's better for the father to be a foreigner."

Nissen was stunned, and trouble flashed in the depths of his eyes, "Do you prefer half-breeds?"

"That's not true, I just think The father of the child is not in the same country, it would be safer to be farther apart, I don't want to see the father of the child." Charity told the truth.

Nissen: "...I'll find someone to check the sperm bank and contact you when the time comes. If you decide, you have to stay here at least for the next month."

Charity: "Okay."

Charity no longer hesitated. If her body is no longer suitable for pregnancy, artificial insemination is the only way.

After signing the contract, Charity left by car.

Not long after she left, Kaiden and Chester also drove to the hospital.

In fact, the reason why Shaun knew Nissen was introduced by Chester. Chester and Nissen met at a medical exchange meeting abroad. After that, the hospital under Jewell's would send several doctors to Nissen for internship every year.

"Mr. Jewell, why would you want this woman to give birth to you a child."

Nissen didn't know Charity's true identity, and tutted as soon as he opened his mouth, "When I checked her body, I took some bad drugs, She is not in good health, and she will definitely not be able to conceive naturally. I think her usual private life must be quite chaotic, and she doesn't know how to keep herself clean. To be honest, I don't think she deserves to give birth to you."

Chester's face With a ruthless change, he suddenly remembered that Charity had taken some stimulant drugs when she was with him before.

Chester: "Can I see the test results?"

"No problem." Nissen showed him the results.

Chester was also a doctor, and a result was easy to understand for him.

Just after looking at the test results, his face was instantly as pale as paper.

"I'm such a ba*tard." Chester angrily, remorseful and painful crumpled the results, his body trembling in pain.

"What's wrong with you?" Nissen was stunned. "Did you force her to eat?"

"Almost, it has nothing to do with me." Chester smiled wryly.

If Chester hadn't forced her, he would always call her like a dead fish on the bed. In the same way, after exhausting all kinds of vicious disgust and humiliation, how could she use that kind of medicine to numb herself.

How cool Chester was back then, and how remorseful he is now, even wishing to castrate himself.

"You are going too far." Nissen accused, "You are also a doctor, don't you know how many side effects these medicines have?"

Chester lowered his head, his face full of depression, he didn't want to explain a word to himself.

"Forget it." Nissen sighed and leaned back, "But there is one thing I have to tell you, the sperm requested by the other party is a foreign man, you can hide it now, but the child can't be deceived, and it will definitely be born in ten months. It won't be a mixed race."

"There are also many foreigners who look very similar to the Australian, and they are all of the yellow race." Chester said.

Nissen pointed at him, "You, you, you... Ah, as expected of a cunning old fox, but what if the child looks like you, the genetic inheritance is difficult to tell."

Chester imagined a child like himself in the future, and the corners of his lips could not help but bend. Turning around, "I found out, anyway, I didn't plan to hide it for the rest of my life, and I can take care of it in an open and honest way."

Nissen: "Aren't you afraid that people will drive you away?"

"I can rely on it if you drive it away." Chester Anyway, decided.

In this life, life was Charity's person, and death was Charity's ghost.

Nissen: "I'm afraid you'll go, go get sperm."

After Charity went back, she temporarily arranged things in the company.

She was going to stay in Rwanda for a month and was going to be a test tube baby.

Catherine and Freya were surprised when they found out.

"It doesn't need to be so fast, the New Year is coming soon." Freya was not very relieved, "You can do it next year."

Charity: "Originally, I planned to do the test first and next year, but when the doctor examined me, he said that it is very difficult for my body to conceive naturally."

"What's going on?" Catherine frowned.

"Those medicines I've taken before have great side effects." After Charity finished speaking, her frowning brows loosened.

"It turns out that it was Chester's fault again, and how did he get you that medicine?" Freya said angrily.

"He probably didn't know that the side effect was infertility. He persuaded me before, but I didn't listen. At that time, I was full of hatred and didn't take my body seriously." Charity smiled bitterly, "There are some things, God has already made a decision for me."

"Okay, then I'll stay with you." Catherine thought for a while and said uneasy.

Charity: "No, when I go back, my mother will accompany me."

Catherine shook her head, "How does your mother accompany you? She is not familiar with your life. Maybe you will have to spend all your energy to worry about her."

Charity hesitated: "But you still have to take care of the children and the company, and since the New Year is coming soon, Shaun will not agree."

"I will persuade Shaun." Catherine said, but she thought of persuading Shaun. Bottomless.

As a result, after returning to the bedroom at night, Shaun took the initiative to say: "Wife, Eliza seems to be staying to be a test tube baby, you stay with her, I will take good care of our kids."

Catherine was stunned and looked at him. Just like looking at monsters, "When did you become so generous? Tsk, didn't you know some beautiful women abroad and deliberately pushed me away?"

Shaun's face darkened, "Okay, then Go back with me and see what kind of beauties I know."

"No, I have to stay with Eliza." Catherine snorted, "I have to get ovulation injections every day this month, and there is no reliable person around her. I can't be with you.."

"I also know your worries, so I agree." Shaun pinched her tender little face, "Don't worry, I will take good care of our kids, and I will definitely stay at home and Waiting for you to come back."

"When did you become so good?" Catherine became more and more surprised.

"I've always been so good. The last time I sent Chester here for treatment, I was busy for more than half a month before going back. You also supported me. Now that you're her friend, of course I can feel the same way." Shaun gently sighed, "After all, Eliza's mother has never been abroad, so it would be nice to keep her in the country and not let anyone take care of her! In a certain way, Eliza and Chester are somewhat similar, if it is true and if there are suitable family members to take care of them, where do we need the help of our friends!"

Catherine's heart twitched slightly, "Yes, in fact, I am much happier than Eliza, at least I have a father, husband, children, and more. A half-brother is not good to me, and Uncle Titus is also good to me."

Speaking of Catherine's younger brother, Shaun couldn't help but think of his own younger brother.

It was also after Liam's accident that Shaun knew that Liam was his own younger brother.

It's a pity that Liam had not heard from him for so long.

"Husband, are you thinking about Liam?" Catherine asked sadly seeing the sadness on his face.

“Yeah, Liam may have really passed away.” Shaun held her hand tightly, his handsome face darkened.

Catherine also thought of the handsome and unruly Liam.

If only he was still alive.

A few days later, Shaun, Ryan, Freya, Mrs. Robbins and others returned to Australia. But Catherine stayed with Charity and accompanied her to the hospital for an ovulation injection.

As the weather got colder, the two wore thick down jackets and scarves every time they went out.

Once, as soon as the two went downstairs, they saw a black Mercedes-Benz parked at the door.

Neither of them paid attention until the car window was opened, and Chester’s angular face was revealed, and the scars around the corners of his eyes were also striking under his neat black hair.

“Get in the car, I’ll take you to the hospital.” Chester stared deeply at Charity.

Charity knew that the process of getting a woman pregnant by medical means was actually not a good experience. It was only less than a month ago, and her whole face was much paler and haggard.

“You’re not staying in the hospital, why did you come here?” Charity frowned and approached.

“Look at you, I heard that you have an ovulation needle on your brow, does it hurt?” When Chester said this, his hand on his leg involuntarily clenched into a fist.

Why does Charity suffer like this, isn’t it all because of herself.

“It’s okay.” Charity said lightly, “I’m not very afraid of pain.”

Charity was telling the truth, because she had experienced too much pain.

When Charity woke up from Eliza’s body, she felt the pain of cutting her pulse, which was much more painful than an injection.

Chapter 2873

“The process of retrieving and releasing fertilized eggs is also very painful...” Chester said as if to himself.

He didn't know when he became so soft. He was a doctor, and he often did things like opening the bowels of others with a scalpel.

The patient was wailing and dying in front of him so that he could not be moved.

Now, he couldn't bear the pain at all. During this time, he could not eat or sleep well.

Charity glanced at him strangely, “So what, I've been taking injections for so many days, and now I don't do it?”

Catherine complained a little: “Even if Charity doesn't do it today, she's already broken down with you before, and only in this way can she conceive a child.”

“I'm sorry.” Chester lowered his face, the bridge of his straight nose. And the black eyelashes cast a shadow, making this once arrogant man a little weak.

“It's been a long time, don't apologize anymore.” Charity frowned, her ears were getting tired of this sentence. And seeing Chester's miserable state now, she was too embarrassed to keep holding on to the past.

“I'll take you off.” Chester also knew that “I'm sorry” is the most useless word in the world. He can only try to be nice to her from other places. “It's snowing outside.”

“No, the hospital is not far from here. How far, it will be there in a few minutes, go back to the hospital.” Charity held Catherine's hand and thought about crossing the road.

Catherine took two steps, but suddenly turned around and raised her brows slightly, “Young master Jewell, Charity will have a child soon, and the child belongs to someone else, so you shouldn't be jealous, right?”

Chester was stunned for a moment. He had always claimed to be deep in his scheming, but now it seemed that Catherine's eyes would see through.

In the winter, there was a layer of heat in his heart.

“What about jealousy, what about envy, I even have a problem with walking like this, and I have long since lost the qualification to be by her side.” Chester said, and lowered his eyes sadly.

"Then you don't have to feel inferior." Catherine smiled, "In the future, if you envy others for having children, you can be like Charity and find a woman for artificial insemination in the future. It's much easier for men to do this than for women."

After saying that, Catherine took Charity's hand and turned and walked across the road.

Chester stared at their backs, his thin lips trembling nervously.

Kaiden wondered, "What did Miss Jones mean just now?"

"She doubts me." Chester said softly.

Kaiden was taken aback, "What should I do? Your sperm has been put there. Miss Eliza will not stop doing it in the end."

Chester said: "I don't know. There's no other way."

It's just that no matter who Charity gave birth to that child, Chester can accept it. Because he loved her more than anything else.

When approaching the door of the hospital, Charity blew a breath of heat in the palm of her hand and asked, "Why did you say those words to Chester just now."

"There was no problem there when Chester had a car accident." Catherine squinted her eyes, "so don't look at him. he's disabled, but the sperm quality should be fine."

Charity blinked, "So you suspect..."

"How could my husband, a businessman, know about opening a hospital abroad, most of which was introduced by Chester. After all, Chester knows many people in the medical field both at home and abroad. He must also know Dr. Nissen. If he gets his own sperm in, it will be very simple." Catherine said meaningfully, "Do you want to change hospital?"

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2874

Chapter 2874

In the vast snow in a foreign country.

Charity was silent for two minutes and finally sighed, "Forget it."

"Forget it?" Catherine was stunned.

“I don’t have a boyfriend, I don’t have a husband, I just bought an unfamiliar sperm.” Charity looked back at Catherine seriously, “It doesn’t matter who the child’s father is, it doesn’t make any difference to me. “

Catherine stared at Charity for a while, as if she understood, but at the same time, she didn’t seem to understand very well.

Catherine: “So... even if you’re pregnant with Chester’s child, you don’t care?”

Charity put one hand into the pocket of the down jacket and held the umbrella with the other, “If Chester wants to change, do you think I can survive in another hospital?”

Catherine was stunned for a while, but it was the same.

There was a list of Australian doctors before. She seemed to see that Chester’s name was ranked first. It is said that Chester’s medical skills were also top-notch in the world. In addition, Jewell’s corporation sent many doctors to top foreign hospitals every year. It is said that Chester opened the way for further education.

This showed that Chester’s contacts in the medical field were all over the world.

Changing hospitals might not be able to escape Chester’s eyes.

Charity said, “My request is only for a high-quality sperm. I don’t care about anything else.”

“I understand.” Catherine nodded, just looking at Charity’s calm face, she still couldn’t help but think, ‘Does it really matter to her who the child’s father is?’

In fact, Charity knew everything. She just felt that it was the best result for her and Chester.

It’s not that she didn’t love Chester in her life, it’s just that they missed each other too much.

If they can’t get married, they can’t get to know each other, stay together, and use this way to stretch, they can make up for the regret in their heart.

At that moment, Catherine asked herself in her heart, did Charity really no longer love Chester?

Nobody knew the answer. Might be Charity didn’t even know it.

One and a half months later, Charity did B overtime and already had an embryo-sized baby in her belly.

Charity couldn't read the B-ultrasound images, but when she realized that she had a child, the feeling was amazing.

"How, how does it feel to be a mother?" Catherine asked jokingly.

"I don't know." Charity touched her stomach, thought about it, and said, "It's the first time I've been pregnant."

"I hope you won't be too uncomfortable in the future." Catherine was really happy for her, "Don't worry, when the child is born, you will find that there are things in this not-so-good world that you can't let go of. You won't be as confused as before, wondering what you can do with a new life other than revenge."

"I think Yes..." Charity nodded.

The next day.

The two flew back home.

Mrs. Robbins knew how happy Charity was after she got pregnant, she originally planned to go back to her hometown during the New Year, but she will not go back now.

If she stayed in the capital, she would get Charity something delicious.

After three months of the month, Charity didn't have much morning sickness, except that her stomach gradually became bigger, she hardly had any reaction.

In Mrs. Robbins's words, this child was very sensible, knowing that it was not easy for her to be pregnant.

Since Charity was a public figure, apart from going to the company, she rarely participated in social events, and she had always been reclusive during her pregnancy.

After her belly got bigger, Freya often came to see her, "Do you know, who did I meet at the banquet last night?"

Charity raised her eyebrows, "Didn't you go to the banquet with Ryan last night, both in the capital? Some famous families, who else can you meet to surprise you."

Let me go, Mr. Hill Chapter 2875

“Cindy.” Freya said angrily, “Hank Jewell and his wife took her, by the way, the couple has invested 30 billion now, allowing Cindy to take a stake in a technology company and become a biggest shareholder, now Cindy is worth more than me, so I’m so pissed off.”

Charity was taken aback.

Cindy was not Hank Jewell’s daughter, so the Jewell family was too willing to spend money on her.

Although the blood on Cindy’s body was of great use to Mrs. Jewell, it is too exaggerated.

Charity: “Let me tell you, Cindy, I, and Catherine used to be good friends in high school and college. Later, she betrayed us. I didn’t expect that after so many years, she would jump higher than us.”

Freya sighed, “In the past, I thought Rebecca and Sarah were powerful, but now I found out that the most powerful is Cindy. Cindy’s family is very poor, how many people can you say that she can get to where she is today?”

Charity felt the same way.

In the past, she and Cindy were only competing in the entertainment industry. She thought that if Cindy left the entertainment industry, her future would be ruined, but she didn’t expect.....

“The Jewell family are really sick. When they took Cindy out, they introduced them to Cindy, saying that Cindy was their half daughter.” Freya muttered, “Cindy is better than relatives. The son is okay, shouldn’t they plan to let Cindy retire for them in the future?”

Charity was stunned for two seconds, then slowly looked at Freya, “Not necessarily, but the Jewell family must have negotiated with Cindy in private.”

Freya was not good when she heard it. “Cindy is very good at winning over people. I heard Ryan say that Chester has earned a lot of money these years, and Jewell’s family has billions of dividends each year. As a couple, this couple has at least hundreds of billions of assets in their hands, so they won’t be cheap Cindy in the future.”

“I don’t know.” Charity shook her head.

Freya sighed, “Chester is unlucky to have such parents.”

“No matter how unfortunate it is, Cindy was provoked by himself.” Charity smiled, and added, “I guess the one who hates Cindy the most is Chester.”

“That’s right.” Freya pushed her with her hand, “Hey, is Chester still in contact with you?”

Charity: “After he went to Malawi to install a prosthetic limb, he has less contact.”

Freya: “It is not that easy to install a prosthetic limb. I heard that it is also very painful to adapt to a prosthetic limb.”

Charity: “I know.”

Charity touched her stomach, during this time she only cared about the child in her stomach.

A lot of things seem to be far away from her.

Three months later, Charity broke the amniotic fluid in the middle of the night, and Mrs. Robbins hurriedly accompanied her to the hospital.

It took a full eight hours to give birth to a child.

The newly born child was wrinkled, like a little monkey, but Charity liked it very much after seeing it.

For a long time, although she had friends, she always felt lonely. Now that she has a child, she really feels that it is so real to go back again.

When Freya and Catherine came to visit, Freya said in surprise: “Hey, isn’t it the sperm of a foreigner, how come the child born doesn’t look like a half-breed at all!”

“Is it because of the lack of growth?” Mrs. Robbins didn’t think so much, “It’s also possible that the child is like a mother.”

“But it’s too Australian-like, since it’s a mixed race, it must be a little different.” Freya researched enthusiastically.

Freya has seen many mixed-race children who are very beautiful, and she has been looking forward to Charity giving birth to a beautiful mixed-race son.
