

Lord of War 16

Chapter 16: .Advance to Tier 2

The others in the team are all exhausted at the moment, so they have to rest here temporarily.

It has been almost two days since they entered the land of black soil. As the day of the full moon approaches, they can feel the surging of dark power in the land of black soil more and more. Cecilia is no longer able to feel it alone, even other people can already feel this surging, and the most obvious feature is that the skeletons in this black earth seem to be starting to become a little tricky. When I get up, it is difficult to smash their skulls with a single blow.

Of course, another key factor here is that everyone has obviously weakened their attributes due to the interference of the dark forces. If the team on this trip has a profession like a priest, then this problem can be solved very well, but it is a pity that when the priests Du Luen visited heard that he was going to enter the Forest of Starfall, no one wanted to come. No matter how high the reward is, it's useless.

But Sean didn't really come without preparation. He had anticipated such a situation a long time ago, so the backpack he was carrying was actually prepared for some emergency things.

At this moment, the glass of clear water that exuded a fragrant fragrance to everyone was what Xiao En had prepared.

"This is the magic fountain of sobriety?" After all, Du Luen was born in a magical kingdom. He basically understands anything that can be related to magic, but the details are slightly different. "Where did you get this thing?"

A look of eagerness overflows the watch.

Sober Demon Spring is a very precious magic potion. It can quickly restore the magic power of all spellcasting professions and maintain its mental stability. After all, any spellcasting profession will consume magic and spirit after casting a spell, and it will inevitably be exhausted. The ability to cast spells will also decrease slightly. However, after taking the Sober Demon Spring, not only the magic power can be quickly restored, even the mental state can be restored and even a stable state of concentration can be maintained, and it will not cause any negative effects.

So, the sober fountain is naturally extremely precious. Even the Kingdom of Portoroa, which is famous for its magic knowledge, may not be able to buy this sober magic fountain at will. Once a bottle appears in the market, it will be snapped up at a sky-high price in an instant.

Of course, Sean knows the preciousness of the Sober Demon Spring, but unfortunately his deputy is not alchemy: "Sober is sober, but this thing can't restore the magic power, but it's okay to maintain mental stability... this little one. The amount of the cup is enough to maintain your state for a day. After drinking it, you can go to sleep without worrying about not being able to sleep."

Hearing Xiao En's words, everyone drank the small glass of transparent and clear liquid in their hands.

The effect was almost immediate, but in an instant, everyone's spirits were much better, and even the gaze that looked at Sean became a little strange. Among them, Du Luen and Harley were the most eager. In fact, they all want to know why Sean went outside and took out this potion when he came back. After all, this is a genuine alchemy product. Even if he understands alchemy but does not have the corresponding equipment, he cannot make it. Out of this thing.

And Harley actually thought of a deeper level. If the caster took this medicine before the battle, then it might greatly speed up the casting speed and its accuracy. As a result, the value of this kind of medicine is naturally very high, and people in the spellcasting profession have not always been the main lack of money. If Sean can be provided with a stable supply, then his position in the Chamber of Commerce will inevitably be more stable.

When Harley said this to Sean, Sean immediately woke up.

In the game, since a player with alchemy as a side business accidentally invented this potion, it suddenly became one of the standing potions for almost all players in the entire game. Because the biggest difference between the player and the npc is the spirit of adventure, but there were not a few places in the game that would interfere or even erode the spiritual will, such as the land of black soil, and it was not where the priest's magical skills could be relied on. It comes to purify, so this kind of medicine has such a market, and almost everyone knows how to make it.

But the world you are currently in is not in the game, but in another real world!

In this world, apart from Sean who knows how to mix this kind of medicine, there is no other person who knows how to mix this kind of medicine, but it is said that Sean has completely mastered a patent! And the most important point is that the preparation of this medicine does not require alchemy tools to help, even related knowledge is not needed, only the ink dead flower needs to be poured into a high-purity alchemical neutralizer to melt it. And shake it evenly.

For these two materials, except for the former, which can only be collected in places where there are a lot of dead energy and dark power, the high-purity alchemical neutralizer can be easily obtained even in general pharmacies, one silver coin one bottle. So this kind of alchemy potion that can keep awake and focus and even resist the spirit will not be corroded by the dark forces, as long as Shaun wants to, he can deploy many.

This time coming to the Forest of the Fallen Stars, in addition to searching for a large amount of experience points, Sean also came with the purpose of collecting materials.

Along the way, except for some accidents on the black wolf side, the other developments are almost as he expected. So when I talked to Harley at this moment, I was also very interested. After all, no one would refuse if there was a way of making money. Especially a bottle of this kind of alchemy potion can be divided into five bottles and sold. As a profiteer, Harley's price for these things is naturally not too low, so Sean and Harley quickly reached an agreement. .

However, considering that this trip will require a large amount of this alchemy potion, Sean only gave Harley two bottles for the time being, and it can be sold as ten bottles if it is subdivided. Since the first shipment only had such a few bottles, Harley didn't plan to sell it directly, and was prepared to negotiate with the Chamber of Commerce after this trip to see if it could be put in the annual auction of Polar Silver. Take it to auction, maybe the price will be better.

Here we have settled the matter with Harley. Over there, Du Luen has also arranged the personnel to stay behind. As before, three people in each shift will take turns to watch the night to prevent being attacked by undead creatures in the Black Earth. At the moment, the first class left behind is Harley, Sean and a guard. Du Luen, the shooter and another guard will be in charge of the second class. The last class will be composed of Du Luen, Cecilia and the last one. A guard is in charge.

There was nothing left to talk to Harley at this moment, so Sean walked towards the guard.

Seeing Sean coming over, the guard nodded and smiled politely. In the past few days, Sean has proved his strength and value with facts. He may not be the strongest among the people, but without his leadership, people like them would not be able to live to this day. For people like the guard and old Peter who lick blood from the edge, Sean is truly respectable. people.

"I heard that before you became an escort, you were also a powerful fighter." Xiao En asked straightforwardly as soon as he sat down.

In fact, if you want to become a fighter, the best way is to go to the Brothers' House to find a job. There is a gathering place for mercenaries on the entire Marvel Continent. Basically, those who choose mercenaries for the first-tier career will have a little bit of this place. A sense of identity—the only exception is the player. But right now in the Forest of Starfall, there won't be any branch points in the Brothers House, and if he doesn't take a job now, then he won't get any experience, so Sean will come to ask this guard.

Obtaining jobs from other people who once held the profession of [Warrior], which was also a way of finding jobs in the original "Miracle". It's just that, because of their past experiences, they usually say things like experience, so the difficulty of finding a job is slightly higher than normal methods.

For example, when you go to the brother's house to find a [Warrior], you only need to reach [Mercenary] level ten, but if you use the dictation of these guards to trigger the inaugural conditions, it is very likely that your personal attributes must be up to the standard.

It's just that Sean's personal attributes have almost reached the maximum limit of growth at this time, so he doesn't care, the only thing that needs to be concerned is whether this guard has ever advanced from the rank of [Warrior]. .

"Warrior..." Hearing Sean's words, although I don't know why Sean would say this to himself, it really evoked a trace of his nostalgia. "That was a long time ago. At that time, I was still as young as you..."

Listening to this guard narrating the past with a look of nostalgia and emotion, the corners of Sean's mouth were raised slightly, and the excitement in his heart was even better than when he had obtained [Desperate Life]. Because he knew that he was right, and it won't be long before he will become a second-tier professional [Warrior], and all the development at this moment is exactly the same as the script he presets!

【It is checked that you have triggered the inauguration of the "Warrior" and meet the requirements for employment. Do you want to find a job? 】

Almost as soon as the guard's words fell, Xiao En's mind suddenly sounded such an electronic sound without emotional fluctuations. If it weren't for his own existence that would violate common sense, I'm afraid that he would also be scared at this moment. A big jump. However, he did not listen to this electronic sound less in the game at the beginning, and suddenly he lost everything in the original world after he came to this world. On the contrary, he was a little lonely and unaccustomed. When he heard the electronic sound, Sean's heart was A little more fluctuating and emotional.

But for the problem of electronic sound, naturally I don't have to think about it.

Sean said silently in his heart: Yes.

【Checked out that "Warrior" is an advanced occupation of "Mercenary", the job will cover this occupation, and the new occupation level will be one after coverage. Is it covered? 】

Yes.

As soon as Sean's words were finished, the blood in his body surged like a shock in the next second, like a drop of water falling on the lake, rippling circles. It's just that these ripples are Sean's blood. The surge of blood makes Sean's heart beat more violently, as if endless power is constantly emerging from the body, and the whole person instantly becomes abnormally energetic. Even better than drinking that special potion!

But this feeling came and went quickly, almost in the blink of an eye, this feeling of blood and power surges completely disappeared, only the still full mental state was telling Sean that everything just now was not an illusion or Hallucinations.
