

Lord of War 21

Chapter 21: .Kill the mutant corpse

A large amount of experience points rushed into Xiao En's body madly, which made Xiao En very clear how many corpses died below.

When he was only Tier 1, killing the Tier 2 Windweave Black Wolf made him feel unusually uncomfortable, but now as Tier 2 kills Tier 3 corpses, the influx of a large amount of experience points instead. It was not as painful as before, which surprised Sean.

But other people didn't understand, and instead thought that Sean's surprise was talking about the corpse in the reservoir.

Du Luen glanced down, and saw that the still alive corpse was constantly struggling, even trying to climb out of this reservoir, but it was contaminated by things like oxidizers and explosive powder. Is the flame so easy to extinguish? ? No matter how much you struggle, it's just futile.

Fire is an element that undead creatures are naturally afraid of.

Seeing those corpses struggling in the sea of fire, Du Luen and others did not feel the slightest excitement. The two guards were silent for a moment and whispered something. Sean didn't listen carefully, but he still heard a few words such as "May you rest in peace". He looked at the two guards with admiration.

After solving these obstructive corpses, everyone immediately rushed back, and there was a more difficult mutant corpse waiting for them.

The dungeon of "Dark Outpost" is said to be difficult to fight, but it is not that simple to say simple.

One of the most critical steps is to drive the train to run the corpses full of copies. Once this step is not handled well, the whole team will be destroyed. Even in the game, there were many player teams who couldn't do this perfectly at all, and eventually the team was destroyed to the death. After all, a commander-type mutant corpse was not so easy to solve.

But Sean dared to play this way, of course he was sure of it.

He still remembers that this strategy was developed by the guild he signed in the game. However, at that time, the person responsible for attracting the blame was a thief who was said to have disturbed the whole game in "Sheng Shi", and his partner was a man who had been playing knights for 30 years and was called "the wall of the void". , These two people alone are enough, no other people's help is needed at all.

Later?

Later, when he independently led a team to study the copy, these adults had already changed their careers to become professional players in life.

is just a copy of the "dark outpost", and Shaun can't be troubled.

After completing the first step, the next battle will be much simpler.

is just a mutant corpse who has become a polished commander.

Shaun's mood is slightly relaxed.

But at this moment, a screaming scream suddenly sounded.

Shaun and Du Luen's faces changed, and their speeds could not help speeding up a bit, and the two guards hurriedly followed.

When it arrived in front of the previous house, the mutant corpse had already forcibly climbed onto the roof. It had a few more arrows on its body, but it failed to kill it in this way, on the contrary it provoked its killing. meaning. In addition, seeing that the army of corpses under his command was destroyed in this way, the irritation in the heart of this mutant corpse is even more obvious from this, just by looking at its frantic eyes shining with scarlet light. It is already on the verge of raging.

In his hand, he carried a man in leather armor.

This person is the same shooter before. The longbow in his hand is no longer known where it was dropped. Although the quiver is still hanging on his body, the arrows are scattered all over the roof. The left hand of the mutant corpse demon has pierced the body of the archer, and blood flowed from the nails that were pierced through the body.

Obviously, the scream just now came from the shooter, but now, he is already exasperated.

"You guys come down first!" Sean shouted loudly. Now it doesn't make sense for them to stay on the roof. The work to be done has been completed, and there is only a head-to-head fight.

Without the slightest hesitation, after Old Peter turned around and picked up Cecilia, he was the first to jump off the roof and immediately rushed.

In the series of shootings just now, he was the one who fought hardest, so the mutant corpse actually hated him. It's just that when he finally got up and prepared for a sneak attack, he was pushed aside by the sense of crisis brought about by the beast-like consciousness of Old Peter, and the luck of the shooter standing next to Old Peter was not so good. Now, he didn't have the keen perception of Old Peter, and when he noticed that there was a wind coming from behind him, he had been pierced through the body by the mutant corpse demon's claw.

Although Harley's figure is fat, his reaction is not particularly slow. Under the cover of the guard, the two of them also quickly fell from the roof to the ground, just asking the guard to hold him like old Peter. Harley left, but it was absolutely impossible.

In a blink of an eye, the people on the roof ran away completely. After the mutant corpse looked around, he let out an angry roar again, and then bit on the archer's neck. A large amount of blood suddenly disappeared. The spray came out, dyeing the body of this corpse demon a little better. After taking a few sips, the mutant corpse demon seemed to be full and drunk, and then screamed up to the sky, and threw the corpse aside.

"Give him another arrow!" When Sean saw Old Peter holding Cecilia over, the guard also ran over to protect Harley, and said in a deep voice.

"But..." Hearing this, everyone was taken aback. This time even Cecilia showed an incredible color, "It is already on the verge of violent violence."

"Let it be violent." Sean said lightly, "You guys, just hold on to its culling."

These words were spoken to the three guards.

Everyone looked at each other and immediately understood Sean's plan, as if there was only this way left.

Old Peter no longer hesitated, he snorted, and immediately took an arrow to draw a bow, but this time he directly pulled out a full moon string.

Under the bowstring of the full moon, there was a slight crackling sound, and a crack quietly climbed up the bow. Obviously, the previous strong shot had caused some irreparable damage to the bow. Xiao En just glanced at it, and then stopped looking here. For a shooter, if it caused such a result, then the round of shots just now was definitely anxious and ruthless, and there was no room to stop.

"Om!"

"Hum!"

Two soft beeps, at the same time!

The arrow leaves the string!

Bow and break!

The broken bow with a steel string grazes the old Peter's cheeks, and a blood mark was drawn, but he didn't hear it. As soon as he loosened his left hand, he set down the broken bow, and his right hand held the one that was inserted on the side. The spear, with a slight force, came out of the spear.

And that arrow, in a faster, more violent, and violent posture, penetrated the left shoulder of the mutant corpse, and let out a bitter and angry wailing!

【Name: Mutant Corpse Demon (Frenzy)】

【Race: Undead】

【Level: Corpse Demon (Tier 3)】

[Attribute: Strength: 55; Agility: 55; Endurance: 4; Wisdom: 2; Will: 2]

The data about the mutant corpse that Xiao En saw in his eyes was frantically jumping, and finally stopped after a moment.

The corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly: I'm afraid you won't be violent.

A boss with only four stamina points, can there be any storms? Even though strength and agility have formed an absolute advantage, such a low agility also means that its body has become dilapidated, and any attack is fatal to it!

Of course, this is also true for Sean and others.

But the strength and agility of more than 30 points are deadly statistics for Sean and others, so is there any difference between more than forty points?

A vague afterimage disappeared from the roof.

The sharp whistling sound exploded in this outpost camp, and the naked eyes of Xiao En and others could not capture the speed of this mutant corpse at all.

But does Sean need to catch it?

"Protect old Peter!" Sean still commanded calmly, as if it wasn't a dangerous battlefield at this moment, "Old Peter, squat down!...The shield barrier! All the others are scattered, the farther the better!"

Everyone has long been accustomed to Sean's orders. When they heard Sean's orders, the next step was to follow them completely subconsciously.

The three guards immediately stood side by side and raised their shields at the same time. In order to ensure the strength of the defense, the center of gravity of the three people sank, and the horses struck, and the curved blades were already inserted into the ground, trying to use the support of the ground. . And Old Peter squatted without hesitation. For a retired soldier like him, this kind of behavior is not a shame at all. No matter how great the face is, life is not important.

"boom!"

The sound of a sonic explosion exploded right beside everyone, and the terrible shock wave shocked everyone a little, dizzy, and even wanted to vomit blood.

Even the situation of others is not much better, as the guard who was hit by the front is naturally worse: the round shield in his hand was directly blown to pieces by this impact, and the curved blade inserted on the ground was also supported. Without such a strong impact, the whole hand was broken, and this guard flew out like a broken kite. The blood was sprayed all the way, and it fell heavily to the ground, without knowing the life or death.

But at this time, no one can be distracted to take care of him.

"Shield-strike and pinch!" Shaun gave a new order again.

The remaining two guards immediately flicked up from the left and the right, the round shield in their hands was like a brick, and they patted the mutant corpse on the head. The impact of the sonic shock on this mutant corpse was not low. At this moment, it was caught by two guards, one from the left and the other, without any suspense. It's so thorough, it almost became a fool.

The sudden drop of the will attribute and the wisdom attribute made this mutant corpse lose the ability to analyze the situation. It was attacked by stun-like skills, and it was even more difficult to recover quickly, because it no longer had such a strong will.

Looking at the swaying mutant corpse, Du Luen and Old Peter also didn't hesitate at all, moving forward and right, with one sword and one shot, and at the same time stabbed the mutant corpse in the head. And Cecilia even chanted a spell with a pale face affected by the shock wave, summoning a real fireball technique, and blasted on this mutant corpse.

The attack that penetrates the brain, coupled with the burning of flames, even if this mutant corpse is a Tier 5 monster, I am afraid it will not be able to survive.

Looking at the flames burning on the ground, Sean finally vomited the blood that was in his throat. When the shock broke out, he stood too close, but he was not like Old Peter, who was a Tier 3 His rank, so this impact has a great impact on him.

Only at this moment, Sean is full of pride.

How about higher strength and agility? If you can't play it out, isn't it the same as a dish! ;
