

Lord of War 32

Chapter 32: .Scholar Assessment

stepped into the door of the temple, the original hustle and bustle of the street disappeared in an instant, and what was left was the solemn and quiet characteristic of the temple.

No matter how indifferent the Temple of Wisdom is and how tolerant it is, it is a temple after all, so it must be respected. All the people who come to the Temple of Wisdom will not make noise. They read books quietly, or look for the priests in the temple to ask some questions. Occasionally, a few young people wearing plain white robes pass by, holding them in their hands. Author several heavy books.

These people are pastors who voluntarily believe in the God of Wisdom.

The priests in the game "Miracle" are different from the priests in the general game. They are not just simply casting healing skills. Because of the introduction of the concept of the magic system, these priests also have many different branches of faith. And the skills that can be mastered are naturally even more strange. However, perhaps due to game reasons, all players can only go to the temple of the God of Order and become [Priest] at the beginning. Only when the professional level reaches tenth level, they can go to different temples for new appointments and become Pastors of different factions.

These priests who can wear the plain white robe unique to the Temple of Wisdom must be second-tier [wisdom priests].

In fact, the God of Wisdom does not need a priest at all, which is why his temples are all temples instead of temples. However, any  must need a servant of the gods. Therefore, these positions of pastor will naturally appear. However, in the temple of wisdom, the status of scholar is more noble than the priest. This is the temple of the  of light. Quite the opposite—in the temple of the God of Light, the position of the priest system is more noble than the position of the warrior system.

"The  decides the head." When Sean thought of the mad believers of the God of Light, he immediately felt extremely bored.

A young woman wearing a plain white robe suddenly appeared in front of Xiao En, her eyes were slightly angry, although she didn't say anything, but she put her index finger on her mouth, which was self-evident. At this time, Xiao En remembered that the front hall of the Temple of Wisdom is called the Temple of Jingsi. Anyone who enters here must keep absolutely quiet, even when turning the pages of the book, they must be as careful as possible and not affect other people. .

Sean smiled apologetically, but the action was very gentle, and there was no more noise.

The woman made a gesture, and then Sean stepped to follow.

Behind the statue of the God of Wisdom in Jingsi Temple, there is a corridor entrance. Going in from here and going back is the atrium of the Temple of Wisdom. The atrium does not have the flowers and grasses in the atrium of ordinary temples. Except for a few stone tables and chairs for rest, everything looks very clean and simple. However, there are four other rooms on the left and right sides of the atrium. En's destination scholar palace is in this atrium.

The young people in plain clothes who were holding the classics did not stop here, they still strode towards the rear area. There is the apse of the Temple of Wisdom, and it is also a more important place. Only scholars and priests who are approved by the Temple of Wisdom can enter. And other people who come here to study can only stop in the atrium. Sean had been in the game before. There was nothing in it except for the more precious classics, so it was not attractive.

"Don't you know that the temple of meditation is there!" As soon as the woman entered the atrium, she burst out of her anger like a deep-bowed woman.

It's just that, because of the Temple of Wisdom, even if she is full of anger, she still has to suppress her voice and dare not make a loud noise. In this way, this weird side made Sean feel a little funny, so he laughed unceremoniously.

"What are you laughing at!" The woman's anger was heavier, and her voice was slightly higher.

"Nothing." Sean smiled and shook his head.

In the game, the rules are dead. Even if the npc is quite intelligent, it still follows certain data rules in many cases. Now that he came to this world, he really experienced the joys, anger, sorrow, and joy that he didn't have at the beginning. Xiao En couldn't help but gradually be moved. He found that he seemed to have gradually started to like the world.

"I just remembered something funny." Xiao En smiled and nodded, "It was my fault just now, I didn't pay attention for a while."

The woman still has unwillingness on her face, but looking at Sean's expression does not seem to be false, so she can only give up: "Say, what are you doing here in the Temple of Wisdom?"

"I heard that there are scholar exams here recently." Shaun said according to the prompt in the game, "So I'm here for the exam."

At the beginning of the game, in order to meet the occasion, there was indeed an examination for academic qualifications in the Temple of Wisdom. It was a very simple test paper with only a few questions, all about biological monsters or other similarities to minerals and plants. , Any player can find the corresponding simple answer on the official website as long as they leave a snack. Therefore, it is not a problem to pass the exam. The difficulty of the problem lies in how to get a high score!

Only those who answer all the correct answers the first time can get a high score evaluation, and a high score evaluation can get a prize.

Sean came to the Temple of Wisdom. Of course, he won't just take the status of a scholar. His goal is definitely to pass with a high score.

"Just you?" Perhaps because of Sean's previous stay in the Jingsi Temple, the woman in front of me obviously looked down upon Sean. "People like you who disrespect knowledge and want to obtain academic qualifications are simply Wishful thinking! If you just want to gain the favor of those magicians and become their apprentices with this, then you should leave as soon as possible. People who do not respect knowledge will not be recognized by the God of Wisdom."

The smile on Sean's face disappeared, his brows were slightly frowned, and he was slightly dissatisfied with what the woman in front of him said.

What he wants to do is fundamentally his freedom. It is not yet another turn for outsiders to dictate, and the most important point is that he is absolutely not worried about the acquisition of academic qualifications, let alone [True Eye] and [Desperate Situation]. Sheng Sheng] Even if there is no combination of these two special abilities, he probably knows the answers to the scholar's exam questions, but he can't get high scores.

"Can I get academic qualifications, it seems that it is not your turn?" Since this woman is so unkind, of course Sean will not be very kind.

After all, Sean ignored the person, turned around and walked towards the left side of the atrium. There are two areas separated there. One of the larger areas is the Hall of Scholars, which is dedicated to those who come to attend the scholars. Prepared by people who are qualified.

This kind of assessment is not unfamiliar to a modern person. There are many tables inside, and each table is placed on top of a thing, or minerals or plants, or figures such as monsters and beasts, and then ask the examiner to say Find out the origin, origin, habits and other related issues of these minerals, plants, and organisms. Basically, as long as you can answer more than 70% of the things correctly, you can get a scholar's qualification certificate, and you can officially become a scholar. If you can identify everything, you can get a reward from the scholars in the hall. .

Shaun remembered that at the beginning this reward was completely random, but most of the things were gadgets that were still useful to the profession of scholars.

"Hey, you can't go in now!" Seeing that Sean completely ignored herself, the woman suddenly became anxious.

She wanted to stretch out her hand to hold Sean, but she knew that as soon as her hand stretched out, Sean was already ten steps away from her, and when she ran to chase after Sean, Sean was about to step in. The palace of scholars. This woman rubbed her eyes in disbelief, she was close at hand, but why was she already far away in such a short walk?

But before she wanted to understand, when she saw that Shaun was about to push open the door of the hall, the woman finally ran quickly.

But she hadn't held Xiao En before. At this moment, Xiao En had already arrived at the door of the hall, how could she make it in time.

"Rumble—"

The closed door was directly pushed open by Sean, and then in the next second, Sean was stunned.

Someone in the room is participating in the assessment!

"I'm sorry." Sean quickly realized and immediately apologized.

The door of the Hall of Scholars was never closed in the game, regardless of whether or not there was someone in it. However, under normal circumstances, there will be a guard outside the door who is responsible for telling other people who are preparing to take the scholar's exam. But at this moment, when Sean came, he did not see the guard, so he habitually opened the door and entered. Unexpectedly, most of the real world will be a little different, just like now...

The three proctored academics and the examinee who was being assessed all turned their heads and looked at Sean.

Although he was slightly dissatisfied with Sean's push to enter, one of the elder scholars still waved his hand, indicating that he would not be held accountable. Xiao En nodded slightly to thank, and was about to leave. At this time, the woman finally ran over. The expression on Xiao En's face was no longer as simple as anger. It was a resentment that could not wait to live.

So Sean knew that this woman was the guardian.

But just as Sean was about to leave, the guard inside suddenly shouted: "Don't go!"

Sean was taken aback for a moment, but still stopped: "Something?"

"Something? You said that lightly!" The man rolled his eyes, and then walked over angrily, "Do you know, I have almost figured out the origin and characteristics of the ore just now." But I was so scared by you that I forgot! This is my academic qualification test, you say, how can you pay me!" After that, he turned his head and looked at the woman again, and continued to shout: "You What's the matter with this guard? You let others push in. Is there an irresponsible guard like you? Did you know that you have lost another talent in academia!"

Seeing this examiner's sloppy appearance, Sean was a little dumbfounded. Does this guy really think that those academic brains are not good?

You should know that academics are strong people who focus on academic knowledge. Although they have no combat ability themselves, the skills they master are not developed for combat at all, but this is undoubtedly a fifth-tier rank. And this examiner wanted to fool them with this kind of trick, and Sean could only lament that the people in this world whose heads were pinched by the door panel seemed to be no less than in the modern society at the time.

"You said, how do you compensate me!" After the examiner scolded the female guard, he turned his head and asked Sean for trouble.

Listening to the examiner's apparent expression of blackmailing himself, Sean sneered: "If you really know what the ore is, how can you forget it when you are scared? Or, your brain It was stuffed with feces, and you've been constipated for a long time, and you were frightened and blocked it back?"
