

Lord of War 56

Chapter 56: .I'm the head, listen to me

The next morning, Cecilia kicked the door of Sean's room with a kick, her face full of suffocation.

"My eldest lady, what's the matter with you?" Sean pretended to be innocent and asked.

"Liar!" Little Cecilia stared at Sean with hatred. If his eyes could kill people, Sean estimated that he would have been shot dead by random shots. "I know you can't believe you, a liar. of!"

Speaking of this, Cecilia's nose began to twitch, and her crying appearance made her heartache a little heartbreaking.

"Okay, I was wrong." Sean was also a little unbearable, so he walked over and picked up little Cecilia, "But I was really good for you, although the wine was really uncomfortable when I first drank it. And uncomfortable, but there is no suffering of a hangover, and you haven't noticed that after drinking that drink, your physical fitness and willpower have improved?"

"No! Liar!" Cecilia really cried this time, "Except for pain or pain!"

Sean was silent, only adding a little endurance and a little will, it is really quite small, no matter who it is, it will definitely not feel any obvious change. After all, not everyone is the same as Sean, who can directly see a person's most original attributes.

But at this moment, in the eyes of Sean, Cecilia's data has indeed changed.

[Name: Cecilia]

【Race: Human】

【Combat Occupation: Magic Apprentice (Second Tier)】

[Personal Attributes-Strength: 4 (13); Endurance: 7 (16); Agility: 4 (14); Wisdom: 21+12 (30); Will: 22+15 (29)]

Strength and endurance have been improved a bit, but will be improved by two points, and the growth limit of endurance and will has also been improved a bit. Sean was a little surprised by this. He had known the point of power improvement a long time ago, and it will be there after the Starfall Forest. According to his understanding, the "blade" should be the current point of improving endurance and will. The attributes and growth limits are a bit different, but Cecilia's actually directly improved two current will attributes.

This is indeed a bit confusing, but according to Sean's habit, he simply ignores it if he doesn't understand it.

Therefore, at this moment, he has been comforting little Cecilia, after all, it is really very uncomfortable for Cecilia to suffer from the sharp pain in his chest at such a young age. Even for him, there is a faint pain in his chest now. This is not the muscle soreness of excessive exercise, but a real sense of penetration. It is no wonder that Cecilia would cry.

Gently stroking Cecilia's hair, Sean is now self-reflection. It is indeed a little overdone, but now that he has done it, there is no way to say anything, so he had to comfort Cecilia. After making many promises, Cecilia finally made Cecilia's mood a little better.

Actually, Cecilia didn't really resent Sean, she actually just felt that she was upset when she was teased by Sean. However, Sean admitted to herself that she was wrong. Of course, Cecilia would not continue to hold on to this topic, because she is not such a person, saying that Sean is a liar, that is, some petty people. , Small habits dictate nothing.

Next, Sean took Cecilia to have breakfast downstairs. Although both Sean and Cecilia had material pursuits, they were not so urgent. Sean is okay, he has only been in this world for more than two months, but he was an orphan on earth before, and his pursuit of things is also limited; while Cecilia, because he has experienced some hardships, noble The temperament and luxury of his birth have also been thoroughly smoothed out long ago.

After a simple breakfast, neither Cecilia nor Sean were in the mood to wander around Cerroda Village. After seeing the prosperous city of Arthur, it was naturally difficult to raise any interest in this small village. The most important thing is that there is actually no good thing in this kind of village, so the two went back to the room. This time Cecilia was directly holding the magic book and resting on Sean's bed. After reading it, he didn't mean to leave at all, so Xiao En could only accompany with a wry smile.

This kind of waiting time is actually quite boring, but fortunately, Sean is not really nothing to do. He kept thinking about the details of the next action in his mind, and he didn't dare to be careless. . From an attitude point of view, she was more serious than before when the Starfall Forest and the Kobolds gathered, but this time Cecilia was not curious, because she knew that the main target of their action this time was the Bavarian arm. A, so no matter how cautious it is, it cannot be overstated.

At noon, Sean took Cecilia downstairs. Only then did he see Alfred standing at the door of the hotel, but did not come in.

Alfred had already shaved his beard clean today, and he was obviously scrubbed in the bathhouse, and he looked much cleaner and brighter. Although he is nearly 30 years old, he is not old at all, but perhaps because he has experienced a lot of things, he has a somewhat mature and awe-inspiring temperament. Most of this temperament on the earth belongs to those who have successful careers. Young successful people.

He didn't wear a rivet breastplate, and he was not as strong as Hank, but standing at the door gave people a sense of calm as a mountain. But [Luxury] This profession does not mean that you must be burly, but Alfred's dress is really simple, his body is a white washed coarse cloth, and his lower body is also an old but washed Clean linen trousers, but the shoes are a bit more elaborate, a pair of moccasin boots, not straw sandals.

The only thing that the whole person looks like is clean.

If it weren't for the halberd in his hand, everyone would only think that Alfred was an ordinary person when they saw Alfred.

The halberd, also known as the axe gun, is a weapon that is very suitable for slashing, stabbing, slashing, and sweeping. This war halberd is 1.6 meters long with only the handle, and the color is deep black. The top is a threaded clamp, and a single-edged axe is connected to it. The silver light is bright. The axe end is also a sharp spear head with silver light. The length of the halberd is one meter eight. With a glance of the professional blacksmith Shaun, you know that the materials used for this halberd are by no means simple, at least it is a high-quality weapon, and its lethality is definitely not low.

And he had checked Alfred's personal attributes last night.

[Name: Alfred]

【Race: Human】

【Combat occupation: Lux (third-tier)】

[Personal attributes-strength: 27 (34); endurance: 30 (32); agility: 17 (22); wisdom: 22 (24); will: 32 (35)]

Perhaps because of the fact that Alfred has not used force for a year, Alfred's current strength data is obviously not the normal strength data, but the limit growth is very high, only a little less than that of the half-bear man Huanke; the agility limit is nothing. Change, but the current value is a little bit more, but if it's just a little bit more, it won't actually show much; on the contrary, the increase in the three attributes of endurance, wisdom, and will is a bit abnormal. Maybe this is the same as his past. Several years of experience related.

Only from the attributes of these people, Alfred is no less inferior to any ordinary high-ranking bronze (fourth-tier) capable person. And because of the increase in wisdom and will attributes, Sean is even wondering whether Alfred has magical abilities or elemental fluctuations. If so, maybe he can be employed as a magic warrior or a constructed warrior. It is so powerful that it is a mess. Occupation.

At this point, Sean has absolutely no dissatisfaction with Alfred. If there is any, it is the weapon in his hand, which is not suitable for the next battle.

And Cecilia is also very fond of this middle-aged man who has experienced vicissitudes of life, and even feels sympathy for his experience-in the morning, when he is free, Sean has roughly introduced Cecilia Alfred, of course, also talked about his life experience incidentally. In this era, there are not many things like remarriage of wives, but they are also quite a few. Especially for the nobles, it is absolutely normal.

Cecilia sympathizes with Alfred's inability to be with his daughter. Although he disdains his wife's remarriage, he doesn't look down on it.

"Why didn't you come in?" Cecilia ran over quickly and greeted Alfred very enthusiastically.

Alfred actually likes the little girl Cecilia very much, mainly because she is about the same age as her own daughter. For this, Sean has always felt that perhaps Alfred is not a daughter-in-law, but a complete loli-control. The post on the forum that introduced Alfred was definitely wrong.

Faced with Cecilia's question, Alfred just smiled, and did not say anything. However, with the intelligence of Sean and Cecilia, it was immediately understood that it must be the owner of this hotel who was afraid of offending Sir Fragan, so he dared not let Alfred in. It was just the sun at noon. It was quite hot. Alfred must have been a little bit unbearable after standing outside this hotel for so long.

So Sean asked Cecilia to ask for a few glasses of water from the innkeeper. If the innkeeper dared not give it, he allowed Cecilia to play some tricks.

"Captain, actually... this is not necessary." Alfred looked at Cecilia running back to the hotel and couldn't help but whispered, "They can't help it, after all, Sir Fregan is in charge of this. The village."

"Since you are already mine, they dare to do this, even I look down on it." Sean snorted coldly, but his voice increased by a few decibels.

At this moment, Alfred was actually a little moved, but his face remained silent: "Head, how do you plan to test whether I am qualified?"

qualified?

Just kidding, when he saw Alfred's personal attributes, he was no longer qualified, but excellent.

However, just as Alfred did not show his expression at this moment, the acting school's Sean frowned at this moment: "The test is very simple. You first change your weapon. With this halberd you can't use it, replace it with a fist blade. some type of."

Can't play?

Alfred blinked. Although the [Luxury] does not limit the types of weapons used, even weapons such as fist blades can be used to perform skills, but [Luxury] has a passive skill that uses long weapons to enhance combat effectiveness [Long weapon proficiency]. But at this moment, he was actually thought by Sean that using long weapons would not be able to exert combat effectiveness. He couldn't help but be a little skeptical. Does this kid really know what profession he is?

"I am a strong man." Alfred emphasized again.

"I know that you are a strong man." Xiao En nodded affirmatively, "But you can't even use 10% of your strength with this halberd. I am the head of the team, so I must be right."

Alfred was silent.