

LORD OF WAR

Chapter 6: .Set off

"Mr. Halle, do you really believe that he can do it? He is just a mercenary, not even a soldier." Sitting in the carriage of the carriage, Du Luen's expression became very peaceful, not as good as before in Sean. The indifference in his hut, the change in his face before he wanted to come, was just a kind of aristocratic means.

Harley's face is not as quiet as Du Luen's, on the contrary, he is a little less convinced: "According to my investigation, he did appear from that forest. And now, we can only trust him, if If we cannot deliver the goods within the deadline..."

"I understand." Du Luen nodded, without saying anything, "Then everything will be done according to what he said."

At Harley's sign, the carriage stopped at Shaun's door finally moved forward.

In the house, looking at Sean, who was leaving the carriage, the look on his face was not as relaxed as before talking to Harley and Du Luen. Because he knows very well that no one in this world can understand the terrifying aspects of the Starfall Forest better than him. If he only travels to the Minod area through the Starfall Forest, he will not be too nervous, after all. In the early days of the game, in order to evade taxes, he had to cross the Starfall Forest to sell supplies and goods in the Minod area.

So, Sean clearly remembers how to safely and effectively traverse the Starfall Forest to Minod.

But to go to the Kingdom of Portoroa, this is really difficult.

"Otherwise, we won't accept this entrustment?" Cecilia looked at Sean with frowning, and said, "I don't like that fat guy anyway."

Seeing Cecilia's worried eyes, Sean's brows finally relaxed: "This commission is indeed a bit difficult, but we can also kill each other severely. We need money very much now."

"But even if we have no money, don't we have a good time now?"

"We may have a good time now, but have you been your magic apprentice?" Sean rubbed Cecilia's hair and smiled, "Your talent is very good, so I can't let it You are a waste of time here. Although you can increase some actual combat experience by doing commissions with me, it will also affect your meditation and study time, so in order to fill this gap, we need enough magic crystals to accelerate you Practice."

Cecilia pursed her lips and said nothing.

Although she is still young, it doesn't mean that she really doesn't know anything. At least, Cecilia can still tell who is taking care of herself sincerely.

"Also, the Kingdom of Portoroa is a kingdom that advocates magical power. We may be able to harvest more magical materials over there." Sean blinked, "At a smaller price."

Hearing these words from Sean, Cecilia finally let out a chuckle.

"Be prepared, based on the situation of Harley and that nobleman, I believe there should be results in these two days."

"Yes!" Cecilia nodded seriously, then turned and left.

Looking at the back of Cecilia turning and leaving, Sean once again looked at the direction of the carriage leaving the window.

In fact, there is one more thing he didn't say-that is, he needs a lot of experience points to upgrade, only in this way can he live better in this world, after all, this is a world where the strong are respected. You must know that on the Continent of Miracles, young people like Xiao En's age are at least Tier 2 occupations, and there are even some so-called geniuses who have reached Tier 4 or even higher ranks.

However, he has been stuck on the first level due to the experience value problem, which naturally made Sean feel a little helpless. After completing the copy of "Wandering Darkness", his level has been upgraded to level 6. However, if he wants to advance to the second-tier profession, he requires a mercenary level to reach level ten. For this reason, he naturally needs a lot of experience points. . Because Sean is very clear that what really restricts his development is not the rank barriers that people in this world fear, but the "experience value" that people in this world cannot understand.

Although Sean does not know the specific method of obtaining experience points, but through this month of training and the situation of the copy of "Wandering Darkness", he at least knows one thing: the higher the difficulty of commissioning, the experience gained The more the value is, in addition to the combat in the copy, it seems that experience points can also be obtained.

As long as he knows these two points, Xiao En believes that he will soon be able to rise to the tenth level and then start a second-level career inauguration.

And this is one of the main reasons why he will accept this commission. Another reason, naturally, is that the Kingdom of Portoroa is one of the few kingdoms in the northern part of the Marvel Continent that mainly relies on magic power, so for Cecilia's future growth, how can he also go to this kingdom once? of.

In the next few days, Sean didn't do anything else. He and Cecilia still did what they should do or did. Of course, if any client came to the door, Sean would not refuse, even if he was asked. He is very willing to help with small things like cats and dogs. Anyway, as long as it is commissioned, there will be more than a hundred experience points in the account. The accumulation of gathering sand into a tower is still considerable.

In fact, there are actually several mercenary groups here in Hadas Town, but it's not that Sean doesn't want to join, but that these mercenary groups don't even bother to let him join. After all, Sean's rank is only The first-order [mercenary] is only, so naturally he will not be boring himself. However, after hearing about Cecilia's existence, a few mercenary groups wanted to invite Cecilia to join, but unfortunately they were rejected by Cecilia. Therefore, they were also against Sean and Cecilia. Leah resented.

However, neither Sean nor Cecilia would care about these things.

On the fifth day after the last time Harley and Du Luen left, Du Luen knocked on Sean's door again in a quiet dawn.

"Are you all ready?" Xiao En glanced at Du Luen, who was already in a uniform, and asked calmly.

"It's all ready, I just want to ask you if you can set off right now." Du Luen said solemnly. He did not have the frivolous and impetuosity of the last time. He really exudes a knightly temperament. , Instead of the noble breath, "If we can, then we will set out now. Others are already waiting at the edge of the forest."

"Naturally, there is no problem." Sean nodded.

In fact, as early as a few days ago, he and Cecilia had already prepared everything, because Shaun saw a very serious look in the eyes of Harley and Du Luen, but he originally thought it would be two at most. The other party would come to him every day, but he didn't expect that it was six days later. Presumably, the other party must also regard this trip as a very serious and serious matter.

There was almost no time for small talk. After Sean and Cecilia each took the things they had prepared earlier, they boarded the carriage that brought Du Luen.

Soon, the carriage drove towards the Forest of Starfall.

The Forest of Starfall is not too far from the town of Hadas, and of course it is not particularly close. Even if there is a carriage driving, when the three of them arrive at the destination on the edge of the Forest of Starfall, it is already night time.

As soon as he got off the carriage, Xiao En saw that a temporary camp had been set up on the edge of the forest. At this moment, many people were busy, and there were shouts from time to time, as if they were preparing something. Analyzing from what he saw before him, Xiao En clearly knew that there were definitely more than ten people in this camp, and there were still a lot of goods and materials piled up in the camp. It seemed that it was obviously a medium-sized caravan traveling state. .

In this scene, Sean's brows were not frowned.

"This is just a deception." When Du Luen saw Sean frown, he guessed what he was thinking. "The only people who really want to cross the Starfall Forest are ten people, including you. But I didn't. The priest can be invited to accompany, so besides you, me and Mr. Harley, the other six people have three escorts of Mr. Harley, two shooters and a fighter who knows first aid."

"First aid?" Hearing this word, Sean subconsciously asked.

"Yes." Du Luen was a little strange about Sean's performance, but he was not puzzled by it. "Speaking of which I also know some first aid methods, but it's really not as good as Old Peter. He is a man. The real warrior."

Hearing what Du Luen said, Xiao En already knew: This person called Old Peter, his rank will definitely not be a second-tier [warrior], but may be a thirdtier [elite soldier] Or [Veterans]. If this is the case, Sean will be more confident about this business, because he knows very well that whether it is an elite soldier or a veteran, these two ranks can be regarded as the tougher in the same rank in the game. Exist, the only pity is that only npc can be employed.

Soon, under the leadership of Du Luen, Sean and the other six people in the camp were already ready to meet.

It's just the process of meeting, but it doesn't seem so friendly.

"You mean, we must obey this kid's orders throughout?" A middle-aged man with a beard frowned after hearing the introduction of Harley and Du Luen, "He's a mercenary! These are! How can the greedy scum be competent?"

Xiao En glanced at the wooden bow on the middle-aged man, then turned to look at a middle-aged man who was similar in age, but revealed a murderous atmosphere: "What do you say your name is?"

"Peter." The middle-aged man glanced at Sean. Although there was a bit of disdain in his eyes, the habit of joining the army for many years did not prevent him from opposing Sean's command. "They all call me old Peter. ."

A golden light appeared in Sean's eyes. ;
