

Lord of War 64

Chapter 64: .Small experiment

Tier 3 profession is just the beginning of a formal profession on the stage of Miracle Continent. In other words, it is the basic professions on the Marvel Continent, such as official priests and official magicians of various factions, as well as many lowest-level professions such as knights, archers, thieves, swordsmen, guards, etc.—the professions before Tier 3 are in the miracle On the mainland can only be regarded as apprentices.

And Tier 4, strictly speaking, is only an enhancement on the basis of Tier 3 occupations.

So whether it is the third or fourth order, it is called the bronze order on the Marvel Continent. The upper and lower ranks are used to distinguish the nuances.

Alfred, as a low-ranking bronze [strong man], his fighting direction is destined to win with strength. Although the gap with other people of the same rank would not be particularly large, Sean still felt a little weird and unbelievable when he watched Alfred solve the seven wounded lower bronzes so easily.

Actually, he had already prepared for Cecilia's support, otherwise Cecilia would not be able to get ready for Homura so quickly. However, it turns out that Sean's actions are actually purely redundant. This lion, which has completely woken up, does not need other support at all in the confrontation at this level, and does not even need to use his "specialized" long weapon. It is enough to easily crush.

Of course, Alfred's face at the moment is also very ugly.

He glanced at the head of the wolf mercenary group killed by Flame Arrow, and said to Xiao En with a calm face, "I'm really sorry! I was careless!"

Alfred had a gloomy face, naturally not dissatisfied with Sean, but dissatisfied with himself. The previous words were too full, but the result was that the head of the Jackal Mercenary Group almost approached Sean and Cecilia, and Alfred was very self-blaming at this moment.

"It's none of your business." Xiao En quickly recovered. "You are not a guard, so protecting people is not your specialty. The other party is determined to entangle you, and you can't be there. Get out in a short time."

From this point, I have to say that the wolf mercenary group does have some insight and ability. Once it is found that the fighting situation is not right, it will not continue to blindly fight to death, but change the combat strategy in the first time. This is the ability that a regular mercenary group should have—not to mention the reputation of the jackal mercenary group, but After all, this is a mercenary group that has a formal registration in the mercenary guild.

However, after this battle, Sean also fully understood that the construction of this mercenary group would not be possible if there were only combatants among the main combat members. He must find a suitable defender as soon as possible to take on the fortifications of the team. This point, whether it is a mercenary group or a team of adventurers, is indispensable.

To put it simply, Sean needs an mt.

But at this moment, watching the scene of corpses in the cave, and Alfred's blood stained almost all over, Sean immediately unloaded the backpack and took out three compressed instant dry food from it, without taking anything else. , Taking only clear water, and at the same time instructing Alfred to quickly take off his blood coat and wash his body with clear water to remove the **** smell as soon as possible.

Alfred also reacted immediately. There were monsters such as Earth Demon Spiders and Human Face Spiders in the tunnels of the crypt. I'm afraid that there will be piles of monsters following Alfred's **** smell. Therefore, he did not hesitate at the moment, and quickly took off the blood-stained coarse linen on his body, and at the same time began to wash it as soon as the water was poured.

Just in this way, a few bottles of clear water were wasted naturally, and Sean didn't prepare much for this water reserve.

After rushing to deal with it, Sean, Cecilia, and Alfred left immediately, not daring to stay in this cave at all. Not long after the three of them left, there was a strange rustling noise sounded behind them, and the sound was getting louder and louder, accompanied by a burst of small sharp noises and some strange hoarse roars, which was quite letting Frightening scalp tingling.

Xiao En's body at this time has not fully recovered. Looking at the explanation of the 50% reduction in all attributes, he knows that at least he will have to rest for more than five hours. But on the next road, the crypt passage extends all the way down, and from time to time there are several intricate bends in succession, the word "long" is extremely long, but there is never any cave or cave where you can rest. .

And as the crypt gradually goes down, the temperature has dropped significantly.

Yin and cold, freezing cold.

"Ahead, is it an underground cold spring?" Feeling the chill gradually getting colder, Alfred frowned slightly. Even he couldn't bear the chill, after all, there was nothing on Alfred's body at this time. Clothes, and with his strength, it is naturally difficult to resist this kind of cold.

Sean was also very uncomfortable. His exhausted state had not yet recovered. At this time, because the cold was more intense, everyone stopped in the middle of the crypt passage to rest, and temporarily stopped going further. And Cecilia's secondary fireball technique has become the best heating tool at this moment. It's just that it's not an easy task to maintain the cohesion of a fireball technique without casting it out, even if it's formal. There is no way for a magician to maintain it in this extravagant way, not to mention that Cecilia's magic power is not as powerful as a formal magician.

In this way, how to save magic output control has become a problem for Cecilia.

She almost exhausted all her mind and barely managed to maintain the stability of the magical power of this secondary fireball technique, but the consumption of magical power still has to continue, because once it stops, the fireball will disappear. After all, summoning a fireball and keeping it maintained is more difficult than summoning a fireball to blast it out, and Sean is famously saying that he is helping Cecilia conduct special control training.

In fact, this is a kind of training game that magician players like to play most before: compete control and willpower.

Now it is suitable for Cecilia's body.

"Underground Cold Spring?" Sean frowned slightly when he heard Alfred's words.

In his impression, there is no such thing as underground cold springs in this crypt channel network led by Tindes.

The underground world is a completely different world from the surface. Although this world has very rich mineral resources, it lacks sufficient water resources. Therefore, all the known underground city forces are built around the cold spring veins. Got up. This is quite like the desert in the west of Miracle Continent. All tribes are built around oasis.

Therefore, if this crypt channel network has cold spring veins, then there must be an extremely powerful dungeon force here, and it will never be occupied by those expelled crypt demons.

"It's unlikely that it's an underground cold spring." Xiao En shook his head and denied Alfred's statement, "But the temperature is indeed lower than normal." After a little thought, Xiao En had a few speculations in his heart. I just thought these speculations were a bit ridiculous, but I still said: "Generally in underground areas, in addition to the low temperature of underground cold springs, another possibility is that we are close to the crypt ice spider's nest, otherwise it is a native Ice crystal vein."

Hearing Sean's words, Alfred also let out a laugh: "Couldn't we have such good luck, really encountered a native ice crystal vein?"

"If this is the case, then it will be troublesome." Sean shook his head, "But there is no strong element rejection here, so it can't be a native ice crystal vein."

Alfred is a [physical] occupation, but after all, he is a Bordorian, so he also knows what "element rejection" is. Such primary mineral veins with strong elemental attributes have very strong elemental repellency. If it is really a primary ice crystal vein, it will already enter the elemental repelling circle while feeling the chill, Cecilia's secondary Fireball is impossible to cast successfully.

"I can't think of any reason why it is so cold here." Alfred shook his head, "Cecilia is okay?"

At this time, because of the need to concentrate on maintaining the cohesion of the fireball, Cecilia couldn't get distracted to join the conversation between Sean and Alfred, but because of the fact that the fireball has been maintained, Cecilia's face has changed. It became very pale, and the magic power in his body was nearly exhausted.

"It's okay, this kind of training is good for her." Sean glanced, because of the [Scholar] relationship, Sean could barely feel a certain element and magic fluctuations. At this time, Cecilia's magic fluctuations were still very high. She is stable, and her mental state has no ups and downs, so Sean is not worried, "What she lacks is magic power. The general accumulation method is too slow, although her classics also record a method of quickly accumulating magic power. But she hasn't realized it yet, so she can only help her with this partial method."

"Partial method?" Alfred looked puzzled.

"En." Xiao En nodded, without giving much explanation. In fact, he was not sure whether this method was effective, but he heard it from npc before. But what he can be sure of is that this method is absolutely ineffective for players, so using it on Cecilia can also test what kind of aboriginal people in this world are.

Alfred saw Sean's unexplained interest, so he didn't ask anything.

However, shortly after the conversation between the two of them ended, the secondary fireball technique that had been condensed by Cecilia with magic power was completely extinguished. It was obvious that Cecilia's magic power had been completely exhausted. The complete exhaustion of a magician's magic power is equivalent to announcing that the magician has been completely abolished. There is no need to think about the battle before the magical power is completely restored, and although the exhaustion of magic power does not have any negative effects, it will still cause one. The magician felt physically and mentally exhausted.

Of course, the results brought about by excessive mental consumption are naturally much better.

"How?" After the secondary fireball spell disappeared, the surrounding chill was strong, but Sean asked eagerly.

"It seems... it really has a little increase." Cecilia meditated for a while before saying something that made Sean a little bit happy.
