

Lord of War Vol 2-21

Vol 2 Chapter 21: .develop

The construction work of Baige Town is proceeding in an orderly manner.

Because Shaun entangled with the three priests with swords of the Ice Church, he arrived one day later than expected. However, the development of the territory does not really need him to worry about at present. Although William has always said that he is not good at handling internal affairs, in fact, as long as this guy is serious, he can actually do a good job.

Of course, there is no way to be perfect, but there is no possibility of any omissions. Any link is a well-thought-out arrangement. What's even more rare is that even if something goes wrong or needs to be changed, William also has a backup plan that can be properly resolved. From Sean's point of view, William's so-called not good at internal affairs should be relative to Neal. In other words, it's just true that William took a lot of effort to deal with this kind of thing.

And when Sean came to Baige Town, many places in the town had been put on barriers, and these places were about to be demolished or rebuilt. As a compensation, every household can get a small amount of "demolition fee"-this title was thought by Sean, and William thought it seemed appropriate, so he just used it. Of course, this cost is not too much, only three to five gold coins, which is the cost of one month for a family of three, but William agreed to these people, and when the new city planning is completed, these people can do it. Assigned to a set of residences.

In this world, building from a small town to a city is a great good thing for the residents of a town. In most lords' territories, the townspeople must not only unconditionally help with construction, but some towns also need to raise funds to purchase materials, and when the town layout needs to be re-planned, the houses in the town are also forced to demolish, so there are At that time, some dark-hearted mayors would even use this method to deal with those townspeople who are against him or who hate him.

Fortunately, there is William who is in the town of White Pigeon, and the plan was decided by him and Sean together. Naturally, he couldn't help the mayor to say anything. Moreover, the demolition and relocation not only has the demolition fee to be taken, but also promises that these townspeople can still get a house in the future, and naturally no townspeople will come out to oppose it. But even if they want to oppose it, they just dare not say anything. Who dares to really come out to trouble the lord Sean?

According to William's plan, after Baige Town is built into a city, it will be able to accommodate a permanent population of 30,000. If you count the hotels and taverns that will be opened in the city, it can accommodate nearly 50,000 at its peak. The city defense team will be served by white-wing mercenaries, and another two hundred people will be added to become a thousand-man force. Puda of Hongye Town will be the commander of the guard; the military camp outside the city will also be appropriately remodeled and converted into a cavalry camp. Filled by the original Baige Town militia group, the initial organization is five hundred light cavalry, equipped with long spears and long swords, with mobility as the first consideration, Rena will become the first commander of this cavalry unit, Stalin and Al Astoria as the assistant officer.

As for Knok, William intends to let him return to Hongye Town to serve as the commander of the militia for a period of time, to further temper his temperament. In fact, unless this person is strongly recommended by Puda, William does not intend to reuse it at all, because this person has a hostile sentiment towards Sean and this territory, and such a person naturally belongs to William's eyes. Extremely dangerous person.

In addition, the original Panda Town will also undergo a comprehensive renovation. In William's plan, the town will be converted into a purely military construction facility to serve as a base camp for the steel-winged troops. And Anno will become the first commander of this army, but considering Anno's commanding ability, William will be prepared to stay together in this place for a period of time. At least he will teach Anno how to manage a corps. , He can leave with confidence.

Alfred, Sean and William all felt that it would be better for her to stay with her daughter. Anyway, there shouldn't be any need for the veteran to go out in a short time. Of course, the reason for Alfred's arrangement is mainly because the opinions of Sean and William were disagreement for the first time. According to Sean's idea, he planned to let Alfred form a team. The mercenary group is not the mercenary group but the mercenary group. After all, Alfred was originally the head of the mercenary group. Naturally, he is very good at handling these things, and this can also strengthen his territory from another aspect. After all, The job of the mercenary group can accept anything, and even a guest adventurer or pioneer when necessary.

But William didn't think so. He felt that it was a dangerous thing for Sean to run around alone, especially after being attacked by three priests with knives from the Ice Church. En is equipped with a personal guard. His original intention was to select the best people from the white-winged mercenaries and the northern barbarians to form a hundred-person guard team, and then Alfred would be in charge of the guard. This guard team may not participate in any warfare or training, but they must Protect Sean personally.

Because of this difference in opinions, no one can convince anyone in the end, so Alfred, who is currently thousands of miles away, was temporarily put aside.

For William's persistence, Sean certainly knew it was his kind intention, but he really couldn't say something.

To form a mercenary group, it is naturally Shawn's purpose. At least in the future, if he obtains props such as a treasure map, he can also secretly let Alfred dig it. Moreover, once a mercenary group becomes bigger, the contacts developed will also be very strong, which can also play a certain role in the arrangement of many future directions for Sean. It's just that William didn't know whether he was born to distrust mercenaries or what's going on, so he sneered at Sean's statement. In his opinion, if a territory's army is strong enough, it would take so much nonsense. There is this time. To fund a mercenary group, it is better to invest the money in the military affairs of the territory.

In this regard, Sean can only help.

However, the addition of Baige Town into a city is at least proceeding in an orderly manner.

is just a place in the center of the town square. It was demolished seven or eight eighty-eight. This was originally the residence of the mayor and some wealthy people. How could they be attracted to the three to five gold coin subsidies?

However, this place, in William's plan, was originally to build a city lord's mansion, a lord's courtyard where Shaun would have a rest place, and a city defense army office worker. The future may even be William's special commander. Now there is also a magnificent headquarters of the Church of the Goddess of Ice and Winter. How can the mayor of Baige Town and the wealthy businessmen care about this?

Of course, William did not make these people too ugly. In addition to the city center, the newly built city will be divided into several areas, and arrangements will be made according to the division of these areas. Among them, the urban area on South Street is the rich A concentrated area of people, and the urban area of East Street will become a concentrated area of pubs and hotels, which is also considered in the direction of being able to be centralized and supervised.

After all, if troubles really occur, the city defense forces can arrive quickly, and centralized control can also reduce a lot of unnecessary trouble.

Of course, Sean would not have any comments on William's approach-but even if he did, he would not understand it. At most, he would put forward his own opinions, let William refer to it and make changes. As for how to deal with it, Sean really didn't know anything with a black eye. Naturally, he had to tolerate William's cynicism. It was just that Sean had a thicker skin, so he completely ignored William's sarcasm.

Within one month after returning from Hongye Town to Baige Town, the situation in the entire territory seemed very calm, and there were no short-sighted or unexpected situations. As one of Asuna's three major magicians, Simi, in Sean's eyes, really looks like a masochist. In recent times, he has almost stuck to William's side, and there is not a day without him being taunted by William — —Of course, a large part of the reason is that taunting Sean has no effect, and taunting Sago can arouse some reactions, so Sago is naturally more painful.

But the next day, Simi went on to find William again.

As for Sean, I have been busy brainwashing the Northland Barbarians this time. Sean doesn't actually understand the doctrine of the goddess of ice and winter. It's just that the Northland Barbarians are worse than him. , So Sean was overwhelmed by the addiction of fooling people. Only when the townspeople of Baigetown started to come to watch and raised some doubts and questions, Sean couldn't stand it anymore, so Sean finally had to ask William to find someone to bring Xuefanio over. She is responsible for these things.

And when Xuefanio came to Baigetown, he brought a surprise to Sean.

The former Frost Church priest with a knife named Dini had recovered to the next level of bronze in just one month, and the route he took was still a priest with a knife. This is something shocking. News. And according to Xuefanio's prediction, if there is no accident, Tini will be able to regain her superior bronze strength next month, but the priests with swords of the goddesses of ice and winter are not as simple as those of the Ice Church, so at that time She wanted to re-enter the silver realm, not an easy task.

In addition to this information, William also received news that the lords of several territories around Panda have obvious traces of military deployment, and they have already moved to the border. It seems that a war is about to break out.

Vol 2 Chapter 22: .Variety

The eight hundred troops that William gave to Rena were directly divided into four teams by her, led by her, Aldolf, Stalin, and Knok, respectively, infiltrated the four surrounding territories for intelligence collection and investigation. However, William did not pay attention to how this team was arranged. When the command of the troops was transferred to Rina's hands, he would no longer point fingers at them, because this was a denial of Rina's command. behavior.

How can a shrewd commander like William do such a thing?

There are a total of seven territories bordering Pandan collar, including the two territories of Shaofu collar and Modge collar, but now the former has been demolished by Asuna in half and given to Sean, naturally it is not accurate; The latter's territory is very small, and every move can be said to be clear at a glance, naturally there is no need for surveillance. The only thing that really needs attention is the other five territories.

But one of the territories was judged by William to be unnecessary for surveillance. The reason is that this territory is currently in an internal struggle for inheritance rights and has no energy to participate in this incident of the Boulder family. So the only thing that needs to be noticed is the remaining four territories. Rina may not be particularly smart, but she won't be stupid. She simply divides her forces to infiltrate this territory.

The work progress at the beginning was naturally extremely unsatisfactory, and even caused fierce reactions from the lords of these four territories. Almost immediately, there was an illusion that a war was coming. The citizens of the four territories seem to be a little bit turbulent. After all, this year's war is not a welcome event anyway, especially since the entire southern part of the Kingdom of Darbion has just ended the war for more than a year, and no one wants to do it again. Plunge into the quagmire of war.

After experiencing the initial failure, Rena quickly learned the trick. After all, she was a mercenary, and she naturally understood the simple truth of "poorness leads to change, changeability". So she didn't care about how Aldolf, Stalin, and Knok dealt with them. She directly dispersed the two hundred people she led into more than 20 teams, each ranging from a few to a dozen people. Her clothing and standard weapons penetrated from multiple directions on the territory, so things progressed a lot easier, but it really made her inquire about some intelligence.

It's just that she certainly can't send all of these original information to William. She has to go through a series of screenings to remove useless and false information. She even needs to squeeze the water before she can. Give this content to William.

The method of communication is a common magic communication method on the Marvel Continent. This tool is not complicated, but the price is a bit more expensive. However, when Seans got the money, it was natural for Rena and others to have no obstacles. Basically, every four to five days, Rena would send William an information from the situation of the lord of each territory to The size of the militia, the distribution of forces, and even the generals of the commander-in-chief, etc., are all included.

In this way, Rina has also initially learned to communicate with and remotely control other subordinates who currently belong to her in name. At the same time, because of the need for a large amount of screening and analysis of intelligence, Rina's military vision has also been unknowingly gained. Big improvement. It can be said that what she really lacks now is to lead her troops to fight a war of sufficient scale to prove her command and command ability.

Five territories, two viscounty collars, and three baronial collars.

The territory that William named was not responsible for is a viscounty, so the remaining viscounty and three baronies are naturally the responsibility of Rena and others. As the true commander of the entire team, Rina is responsible for the infiltration and collection of intelligence is a viscounty.

For more than a month, Rina has been coordinating all aspects of intelligence. Now she has received tangible intelligence. The lords of these four territories have all experienced large-scale mobilization of private troops, and from the current military power situation Judging from it, it is clear that this is a military operation against Pandaling. Regarding this kind of information, Rena of course notified William the first time, but what surprised her was that as the initiator of this military operation, it was not initiated by the Viscount she was in charge of staring at. It was initiated by a baron named Ronnis.

But the other two barons, and even the Viscount who was stared at by Rena actually responded, and it was the military scale of the troops in the generals, which is something worth thinking about. It is for this reason that Rina will continue to stay in this territory and conduct deeper inquiries to find out more real content.

It's just that before she finished her intelligence investigation, William had sent a secret letter, asking her to lead everyone back immediately.

So Rina could not immediately order the suspension of all intelligence work, so that everyone rushed to the meeting point determined before. These assembly points, each territory has three, in order to prevent when encountering an enemy attack, there is another place where you can gather, just like the three caves of the cunning rabbit; and when the units on the four territories are assembled, these four The troops will finally complete their final assembly in Panda's collar, and will officially return to White Pigeon Town immediately.

At this moment, Rena was waiting at the first meeting point on the viscount collar.

The team of two hundred people, except for those who were initially killed by the fierce counterattack from the realm viscount and accidentally sacrificed in the process of spying on intelligence, there are now 154 people left. According to the information collected from the other three territories, the current 800-person team has been reduced to just over 700. The losses in this secret intelligence gathering battle can already be said to be relatively serious.

It's just that Rina's face at this meeting looked a bit ugly, because of one hundred and fifty-four people, now only one hundred and forty people have come, which means that there are still fourteen people who did not arrive at this assembly point on time. For the White Wing mercenaries who have strictly abide by time and discipline, this is absolutely an incredible thing, so the only explanation is that these people are in trouble.

"Wait another quarter of an hour." Rina said in a deep voice.

She knew where the fourteen people had gone, because she had given this order at the beginning, but she didn't expect William to order them to suspend all actions so soon and a full retreat, which made Rina finally get better. The layout and intelligence network of the People's Republic of China were immediately paralyzed. But out of respect for William and the habit of obeying orders previously developed, Rena certainly did not hesitate to order a full retreat.

It's a pity that it is the first time that Rena has taken over this kind of intelligence spying and the corresponding command and dispatch work. Veteran, so naturally there will be many mistakes that have not been noticed before. And because of these deficiencies, the original team of nearly 180 people was discovered one after another during this full retreat, so in the end only one hundred and forty people came to the gathering point alive.

As for the situation of the other three territories, it is naturally impossible to get better. Judging from the news that has been sent back, the team that has suffered the most damage is Rina. But this is also because the territory Rena is responsible for is a viscounty, so naturally it will encounter stronger resistance than the other three baronies. Of course, the information received is also very important.

In the union of the four territories, all three hundred heavy cavalry under the command of Baron Ronnies were dispatched, and the combined force of the other two barons was also 1,300, mainly composed of regular sword and shield soldiers, supplemented by a small number of archers and archers. Pikemen; and the most dispatched is the Viscount, who has a combined force of five hundred light cavalry, four hundred archers, one hundred crossbowmen, one thousand shield soldiers, and five hundred pikemen.

The combined forces of the four territories totaled 4,100, and the viscount even sent two high-ranking silver masters, plus one of the high-ranking silver masters under the Baron Ronnis, this time there were three. The high-ranking silver masters play, which can already be regarded as a relatively large-scale behavior on the scale of a small territorial conflict. And the news that Rina sent these fourteen people out to inquire about the news is that the Viscount led the two high-ranking silver masters what they are good at and how their temperaments are.

As the waiting time drew closer, Rena's face naturally became more and more ugly. When the quarter of an hour came, Rena finally closed her eyes, and after a few seconds of silence, she exhaled heavily. Shen Sheng said: "Go!"

The team of more than one hundred people suddenly had a chilling aura of the same enemy, and the whole army seemed to have completed some kind of sublimation at this moment.

Rena rode a horse and walked at the forefront of the team.

Other people also ride horses. Although they are not cavalry, ordinary horses are not expensive. As long as they are willing to spend some money, they can still buy them. Of course, they can only be used as mobile troops to move fast, wanting to be like cavalry. It is naturally impossible to fight right away like that.

seemed to be a little unwilling to give up, Rina turned her head and glanced, her pupils shrank suddenly.

At the end of the line of sight, a rider was rushing on a horse. Seeing the other side riding alone, Rina kicked the horse lightly, and the horse neighed and greeted him immediately. When the rider saw Rina rushing over, a smile finally appeared on his pale face, and the whole person suddenly felt a sense of relief.

And when he came to the rider's side, Rina realized that four arrows had been shot into the back of the white-winged mercenary. One of the arrows had penetrated directly into his back vest. Obviously, even The heart has been shot through, but he didn't expect that he would still be able to hold on!

"My lord!" The white-winged mercenary saw Rina, the smile on his face became more sincere, his spirit was slightly relaxed, and the whole person fell from the horse back and fell heavily to the ground. Rina rushed over and hugged him in her arms, but saw that this person still did not forget to take out a wooden box from her belt, "The communication mark has been found, so the content is too late to send, my lord, the content you need is already It's all here..."

"Stop talking!" Rina said in a deep voice, thinking that she should be firm enough, she finally couldn't help her eyes flushing.

"Master Rina, please be sure to give these materials to Master William. The enemy is about to catch up, so Master Rina, please leave here!" The mercenary said as he put the wooden box in his hand into Rui In Na's hands, watching Rina carefully take care of the wooden box, the soldier finally closed his eyes with a serene expression.

Holding the wooden box in her hand, Rina suppressed the anger and suffocation in her heart, then picked up the corpse and put it on her horse. Then she turned on her horse and turned the horse's head: "Everyone listens to the order, immediately Get out of here quickly! Let's return to Pandan!"

After that, Rina immediately drove and ran, and the one hundred and forty people behind her immediately followed up, raising a cloud of smoke and dust, with great momentum.

A * killing intent that was so strong that it was almost substantial, it seemed to begin to hover above this unit.

Vol 2 Chapter 23: .Awakened Blood

The Black Swan Castle has been in decline for too long.

Since the war broke out four and a half years ago, the Black Swan Castle has become a forgotten place like the gods who fell asleep because of the dusk of the gods. This forgotten place has been silent for three years in the Angroda Mountains. The five famous castles in the south of the miracle continent have gradually become the top four in people's memory. The Black Swan Castle was removed from this ranking. No one seems to think there is anything wrong.

In countless days of sunshine and rain, the Black Swan Castle finally resembled the old man, unable to withstand the washing of the years, becoming more and more dilapidated.

If this continues, the castle will eventually become a ruin.

The miracle continent in reality is nothing like a game. The game is protected by programs. No matter how dilapidated this castle is, it cannot really become ruins. As long as the player completes the system's unblocking requirements, the castle will naturally fall into the hands of the player; but in reality, if an old castle is really turned into ruins, the cost of rebuilding it will increase exponentially. Today, the old castle has not become ruins, but it would require more than four thousand stones to repair it completely. If you want to completely recover, you need more stones.

To completely repair a half-dilapidated castle, the cost is a bit high.

But Sean still did not hesitate to invest in all aspects of this castle.

Of course, how many factors are in it because of the sacrificial platform on the second underground floor, no one knows. However, Sean's plan was that he was ready to wait until the end of the war to hatch the Crypt Ice Spider Queen. As the Crypt Ice Spider Queen's lair, naturally it was the spacious underground floor. After the ice spider queen hatches, Sean is going to expand the underground of the castle. If possible, he even plans to build an underground network under his own territory.

But this kind of thing is more long-term, so Sean didn't think much about it for the time being.

But no matter how you say it, the Black Swan Castle has indeed been greatly improved after the new owner, Xiao En.

Now in the Black Swan Castle, there are a total of two hundred guards, all of which are northern barbarians. However, the two hundred northern barbarians are different from other northern barbarians. They are the true elites of the tribe. In addition to the half-length shield and the iron spear, each has a refined longbow. They are proficient in real long-range melee combat. Moreover, they followed Alfred all the way to the fight. The only seven veterans who were in charge of them were the only remaining seven veterans. The combat power of this small unit was enough to easily defeat the militia group of Hongye Town and Baige Town.

Shaun left this unit at the Black Swan Castle, which shows the importance he attaches to the Black Swan Castle.

But everyone knows that this is because a big figure in the Black Swan Castle seems to be in a certain state of sleep.

Lord Lord's sister, Miss Cecilia.

Although many people actually think that Miss Cecilia and Lord Lord are not alike at all— Although Lord Lord seems to be pretty good-looking, if you look at Miss Cecilia's excellent pedigree, Sean is really It can only be regarded as terrible. But for Miss Cecilia, no one would dislike her, especially those veterans who followed Cecilia and Alfred to fight all the way from Tindes, and for the sister of the Lord Lord, even more It is love and respect from the heart.

Being able to protect Cecilia in this castle, these veterans who have gone through several life and death battles are very satisfied. Of course, they also know that a large part of this is actually the care of them by the Lord Lord. Otherwise, with the rich experience of these veterans, William could not waste their abilities in vain, especially when the territory is so in need of development. .

"Oh, it's been almost half a year. Miss Cecilia goes on like this, and I don't know if there is anything." An veteran looked at Cecilia's confined door and sighed helplessly. Eating and drinking, how can normal people bear it."

"Don't talk nonsense!" Another older veteran frowned slightly and gave a soft voice, "Can Miss Cecilia be an ordinary person?"

However, this veteran has just finished speaking, and the face of the veteran is also worried.

Any normal person, let alone half a year, will fall into a weakened state without eating for three days, and his body functions will begin to fail after four days. If he doesn't drink even a sip of water for seven days, he will basically be thirsty. die. But Cecilia has locked herself in the room for nearly half a year. If it weren't for these veterans who could still hear the faint but unusually melodious breathing, and the powerful magic that they could feel when they approached the door, They would all think Cecilia was dead.

But even so, whether it is a veteran or a northern barbarian, they are still worried about Cecilia's situation.

"I heard that war is about to start again." Seeing that the veteran's face was also worried, the veteran who was the first to speak changed the subject a bit bluntly.

"Yes." The older veteran nodded, "It is said that this time it was a war with the nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion. When I went to Hongye Town to purchase some time ago, I heard that all the troops in the territory have been mobilized and arranged. When it's done, I'll wait for Lord Alfred to come back, and then the war will begin."

"Is Lord Alfred not in the territory?"

"No." The veteran shook his head, "I heard that I was looking for the elf named Neil, who was the one who the Lord Lord wanted to be an assistant but the other party didn't buy it.... Hey, I heard that this time Lord William has issued a death order. If the elf no longer knows what is good or bad, Lord Alfred will be allowed to tie him back."

"Haha, this is very pleasing." The younger veteran laughed, "but I hope to be able to participate in this war. Following Lord Alfred fighting on the battlefield, it is so hearty. What a dripping thing. I don't know how many more such opportunities in this life...Don't tell me, I used to think about eating and waiting for death, but after those thousands of miles of battle, I found out that it was also a battle to die on the battlefield. A pleasure."

"Don't say anything unlucky." The elderly veteran shouted.

The young veteran seemed to want to say something, but at this moment, the entire castle seemed to shake.

The eyes of the two veterans showed a trace of doubt, because the shock came very suddenly, but it disappeared very quickly, but slightly felt that the castle seemed to sway for a while, but it was not waiting for the two to feel anymore. , The vibration disappeared without a trace. But these two veterans are also people who have gone through countless battlefields fighting together, and the response is also very quick. The older veteran immediately went downstairs to check the situation, and the young one drew out a long sword and guarded by the door. Prevent any surprise attacks.

But the two veterans had just moved, and the entire castle shook suddenly. This time, the momentum was much stronger than the sudden shock at the moment before, and it was no longer just that the shaking stopped in an instant. It started to last for a long time. Inside the castle, a large amount of sand and dust began to fall from above, and some of the placed dishes and so on were also shaken to the ground at this moment, turning into piles of fragments, and with the vibration the more and more As it got bigger, there were even signs of rocks collapsing, and even the floor began to crack.

"Could it be an earthquake!?" The veteran who wanted to go downstairs to check the situation did not dare to go downstairs at this time, and shouted loudly from the side.

As soon as this sound rang, the earthquake in the castle stopped instantly.

Everything came strangely and suddenly.

It's just that the two veterans didn't dare to do anything for a while in this uncertain situation. They dared to stand up after hiding in place for ten seconds, looking at each other. And at this moment, a piercing scream suddenly erupted from Cecilia's room, like countless glass shards falling, and finally converged into an extremely piercing scream, and then it spread like one. The eggshell envelops the magic power around Cecilia's room, and immediately becomes as if boiled boiling water boils, and in the next second it rushes towards Cecilia in the room like a collapse.

After all the magic power collapsed and condensed into Cecilia's body, the entire castle instantly gave people an illusion of stagnation in time and space. Whether it was wind, human voice or any other sound, it completely disappeared at this moment.

Then the next moment, a roaring explosion suddenly sounded, and then a blaze burst out from Cecilia's body, burning through the entire roof, forming a straight pillar of fire that shot directly into the sky.

Soon, there was a crimson fire cloud of energy quickly condensing over the entire castle.

At this moment, no matter what it is, it can be seen that the pillar of fire rising into the sky is the source of power for this fire cloud to condense and spread, and the fire cloud, which was originally less than a foot in the first place, quickly moved in just a few seconds. It expanded into a huge fire cloud covering the entire castle for several tens of meters, as if the fire pillar would never end. The entire ancient castle and the surrounding land were all red by the fire cloud, and the strange thing is that anyone can feel the violent fire cloud, even the servants who have no power can feel this way. Terrible energy, but no one will feel sultry, even the lake on the castle has not been evaporated.

When the pillar of fire continued for more than ten seconds, it finally stopped rising into the sky.

But at this time, the fire cloud in the sky has spread to a hundred feet wide, and the tumbling fire waves look like a sea of flames floating in the sky. But soon, the edge of the sea of flames began to change color, from the first crimson to bright yellow and orange, and finally to a * crimson, and with every change in color, this fire cloud with a radius of hundreds of feet. It also began to shrink. When the color became * crimson, the side of the fire cloud in the sky was less than twenty feet away, but the intensity was obviously a bit more intense.

In the next second, a beam of light like a pillar of blood rushed down from the cloud of fire and shot Cecilia's body directly.

The flame, which was almost enough to burn everything, fell on Cecilia, but it did not hurt her at all, and even her clothes were not burned, but all were absorbed by her skin. Only at this moment, countless blood-red veins appeared on Cecilia's originally white and delicate skin. The final direction of these veins was Cecilia's heart, and as more and more of these flames flowed towards Cecilia's heart, her heartbeat also began to become louder and louder.

Afterwards, almost every time the heart beats, the sound of a bell can be heard even within a radius of the castle.

At this moment, from the Kingdom of Fascism in the east, to the barren land in the south, to the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire in the west, and to the trading capital in the north, you can see the appearance of this scene. Those who have a little bit of knowledge on this are very clear, this means that someone has awakened the sleeping ancient blood in the body!

Vol 2 Chapter 24: .At this moment, the undercurrent is like a wave (Part 1)

Tonis Fortress, this place known as the city of miracles, was caught in such a momentary panic because of the vision created by Cecilia's bloodline awakening.

In that scene, almost everyone thought it was the end of the world.

Especially those noble soldiers of the 7th Army, their inferior and ridiculous military qualities are enough to make any veteran blush.

Standing on the wall of the outer defense zone, Asuna finally moved her disdainful gaze away from the noble soldiers, looked at the crimson * fire cloud, and whispered: "I remember when your bloodline awakened, it was not so outrageous. The situation. That is, lightning and thunder, and dozens of more thunder pits on the ground."

"Bloodline power also has high and low points." Elizabeth chuckled. "My Thunder Destroyer is indeed a legendary bloodline to a certain extent, but you have to know that there are also high and low points in the legendary bloodline. There are two other bloodlines that are better than the legendary bloodlines."

"What bloodline do you think it is?" Asuna asked.

Elizabeth's face was a little more solemn, and she muttered for a while before she said: "It should be the blood of the people, but I don't know which blood it is."

Seeing such a hint of doubt on Asuna's face, Elizabeth's face showed a smile, and the smile was all over the city: "Just like the legendary bloodline has the distinctions of Thunder Destroyer, Abyss Giant, Lightning Titan and other high and low differences, Wanmin There are also many types of bloodlines. It's just a little different from the legendary bloodlines. Wanmin bloodlines are distinguished by types and elements.... For example, red dragon bloodlines, blue dragon bloodlines, silver dragon bloodlines, etc. are all ancient dragon bloodlines. , Which is what we call the dragon. Other fire bloodline powers like blood flame, light flame,  flame, etc. all belong to flame bloodline."

"So I can only judge that the other party is the blood of the people, but it is really difficult to judge which category it is. After all, there is too little information in this area." Elizabeth said with a little regret, "It is precisely because of us. There is too little knowledge about the blood of the people, so whether it is the Hales Institute or the northern solitary tower or the old men looking at the minaret, they all call the blood of the people the ancient blood. After all, it is the blood of the ashes."

Asuna was really aroused curiosity at this moment: "But you just said that there are two bloodlines that are above the legendary bloodlines. What else is there besides the bloodlines of the people?"

"The people of God." Elizabeth said in a deep voice.

At this moment, the surrounding air seemed to become abnormally gloomy because of Elizabeth's utterance of these two words.

"In the dawn of dawn, the people of the gods were born, and the most top-notch group of geniuses became the gods of that era." Elizabeth simply explained, "The other gods and people who have not become gods live by believing in these gods, and thus Gaining power similar to gods. But human nature is always greedy. Many gods and people began to disbelieve those gods who were originally in the same position as them, so they gave up their beliefs and began to try to possess the same powerful power as gods. This is also the cause of the later eruption of the gods in the dusk, and the reason why in this era, once you abandon your faith, there will be divine power burning.... Even a * cannot withstand betrayal."

"So what?" Asuna was puzzled.

"So the blood of the gods and people is the oldest blood. It is said that this blood is born with divinity and can do many things that ordinary people can't do." Elizabeth said helplessly, although Asuna is indeed very smart and also Very good, but when it comes to secrets and the like, she doesn't understand anything, and even her ability to understand will be reduced a lot. "But this is just a matter of hearing, and it's been tens of thousands of years. The blood of the gods and people should no longer exist, after all, after the twilight era, the world was controlled by the people, so although theoretically there are two bloodlines that are better than the legendary bloodlines, it is impossible to see the blood of the gods and people. It's the blood of the people, and I can occasionally see it... but it probably won't last long. Maybe in a few hundred years, even the blood of the people will be completely annihilated."

"In other words, in this era, the blood of the people is the strongest blood?"

"You can say that." Elizabeth nodded.

"I was suddenly very curious, what kind of blood does it belong to?" Asuna murmured.

...From the Principality of Lane to the north, it is the heart of this world.

Trade capital.

The White Wing Mercenary Group is not a large-scale mercenary group, but no matter how you say it, after all, it has been rooted for a long time in the trade capital, and it can be regarded as a well-known veteran mercenary group here. It's just that in the past half a year or so, the White Wing Mercenary Corps has been getting worse and worse. Let's not talk about the long dispute with Red Goethe, and there is absolutely no possibility of peace between them. It is the recent provocation. The new enemy, the Red Cross Cavalry Regiment, made the White Wing Mercenary Regiment feel powerless.

If it is said that in the dispute and conflict with the Red Goethe, there are still wins and losses, and there are many wins, then when facing the more elite and professional Red Cross Cavalry Regiment, the White Wing Mercenary Regiment really has no parry. Power. In just over half a year, whether it was conflicts, frictions, or even a few secret confrontations, they all ended with the defeat of the White Wing Mercenary Corps.

In places like the trading capital, once someone else finds out that there is any opportunity to take advantage of, then there will be a series of nightmare disasters. The team that can develop in the trading capital, whether it is adventurers, mercenaries, mercenaries, or pioneers or demon hunters, is a group of sharks with extremely keen sense of smell, so when the White Wing Mercenary Group begins to decline, these The guys immediately rallied to attack, and now the White Wing Mercenary Corps' right to collect protection fees has been completely deprived.

There were originally tens of thousands of mercenaries, but now there are only less than 3,000 people left, and the so-called peripheral troops have been completely disbanded. Of course, disbandment is the official statement, but in fact it is these peripheral mercenaries. I ran away a long time ago, how could I stay with the White Wing Mercenary Group to die together, and those who had no time to escape were also "absorbed" by the White Wing Mercenary Group as official mercenaries.

Originally a large mercenary regiment, but now it is beginning to decline. Even the core members who secretly lurked from the Duchy of Lembel, there are only three left. Other generals of the same background as them have died in the  war in the last six months. Although this is a normal thing for their mercenary status, there is also a kind of helplessness in their hearts.

That is the helplessness of not returning home after death.

A middle-aged man with white sideburns has sharp eyes, looking at the shrinking fire cloud in the distance, and asked in a deep voice: "Have you seen that fire cloud?"

"I saw it." Another middle-aged man wearing heavy armor nodded, "It can't be wrong, it is exactly the same as the content recorded in the classics.... It is definitely the Phoenix blood in the sacred beast species, it is the Principality of Lumber Royal blood! Except for the first king, Rembel has no blood awakened in his descendants..."

"Pay attention to what you say!" The middle-aged man with white temples shouted in a deep voice, "Lembel is only a principality now."

This middle-aged man in heavy armor who knew he had said the wrong thing bowed his head and said nothing, but his heart was filled with inexplicable humiliation.

He still remembered that in the historical books, it was recorded in the Ashes that Rembel was a powerful kingdom that was not inferior to St. Joles and Maggie. These three countries could not help each other, because they The leaders of the people are the real powerhouses who have awakened the blood of the people. But later, St. Joles and Maggie suddenly joined forces to initiate a war against Rembel. It was a holy war between the king and the king, but in reality it was a despicable aggression. So after the last battle to turn the tide, they possessed Phoenix. The bloodline of King Rembel died on the battlefield, while Maggie and St. Joles became a huge empire, while Rembel was reduced to a weak principality, and was even closely monitored by these two empires.

This shame has gradually disappeared with the passage of time. Many Lembels don't even care whether their country belongs to the Maggie Empire or the Saint Georges Empire. Their lives will never change anyway. But as a truly  Rembel, they deeply remember this shame and hope that one day they can get revenge.

The coup of the Duchy of Lembel this time was because the Saint-Joles Empire promised that as long as the Duchy of Lembel would rely on them, they would allow the Duchy of Lembel to become a kingdom and become an allied nation. But for this proposal, Grand Duke Lembel directly rejected it without even thinking about it. This caused great dissatisfaction among the aristocrats within, and this was the fundamental reason why the coup and civil strife broke out in the Duchy of Lembel, and even why Lao Lun The reason why the Bell Grand Guild sacrificed so quickly.

At this moment, the royal blood of the Duchy of Lembel has actually awakened. How can the middle-aged man not be excited at this moment? But he couldn't figure out why Princess Cecilia, the daughter of the old Grand Duke Rumbel, who they considered to be cowardly, would awaken the power of blood at this moment? On the contrary, the current Grand Duke Rumbel, who claims to have truly inherited the will of King Rumbel, has no signs of blood awakening?

"Which direction is the Principality of Lane?" the middle-aged man with white temples asked.

"Yes." As one of the remaining three core generals, the third core general said, "But the exact location is not easy to judge, after all, the distance is too far."

"Notify everyone that we will leave the trade capital immediately. Anyway, we are already unstable here, and there is nothing to commemorate." The middle-aged man with white temples said in a deep voice, "Let's go to the Principality of Ryan, this one What kind of person is the princess who has awakened the blood of the Phoenix... has been wandering outside for so many years. If we complete our mission sooner, we can also return home sooner."

"Yes." The younger core general replied.

No one noticed, but the middle-aged man in heavy armor was hearing these words and clenched his fists anyway.

Vol 2 Chapter 25: .At this moment, the undercurrent is like a wave (Part 2)

The history of the Kingdom of Fascism is much longer than that of the Kingdom of Darbion.

When the Kingdom of Darbion was just established, the Kingdom of Fascism was already an extremely powerful and huge kingdom. Unfortunately, this kingdom provokes the Chenas Empire, so under the various strange and complementary conspiracies and conspiracies of the Chenas Empire, this powerful kingdom immediately became old and old, even almost at one point. If the country was destroyed, if it wasn't for the idiots of the Zenas Empire who suddenly had an infighting in order to divide the spoils, there would be no Fascist kingdom in this world.

The kingdom of Darbion developed during this period. When the fascist kingdom finally regained its vitality, they realized that it is no longer a simple matter to take the kingdom of Darbion, and that their kingdom is really lacking in commanders with outstanding commanding talents. Not to mention the existence of ten generals, even if it is the top 100 outstanding generals on the entire continent, there is not one in the Fascist Kingdom, and the Darbion Kingdom has produced one in recent years, but it has been defeated by Asuna. , So now the two countries can maintain a peaceful relationship, purely because the military power of the Fascist Kingdom is more prosperous than the Kingdom of Dabian.

As a kingdom with a long history, the fascist kingdom is an imperial country, so the royal family is naturally the strongest in the kingdom, followed by the twelve high-ranking nobles. The Wiles family is one of the twelve upper nobles. The Wiles family has just touched the top five threshold in terms of the comprehensive strength of the family. Well-deserved first.

It is said that Torino, the first heir, has reached an offensive and defensive alliance agreement with the first heirs of six other high-ranking noble families, including the second and third largest families in overall strength. What's more rare is that these six people are all headed by Turin, so this is why the Wiles family is well-deserved first in the younger generation of heirs.

Of course, the selection of the heirs of the twelve upper aristocratic families of the Fascist Kingdom is not so simple.

There will be an evaluation process every year, and the ranking of these heirs will also fluctuate because of this evaluation. Although in some respects this did avoid the internal strife and vitality of the twelve upper aristocratic families, the struggle between the heirs was not so peaceful, so Florence was not willing to lose, but wanted to fight. The idea of the first heir.

At this moment, on the tower of a black castle in the Wiles family territory, a young man narrowed his slender Danfeng eyes, staring coldly at the bright red in the distant sky. Even at such a long distance, he could feel the terrible energy fluctuations emanating from that bright red, which even made his heart palpitations.

It should have been a handsome face, but because his eyes were so cold, the whole person looked a little gloomy.

"That's the direction of the Principality of Lane?"

"Judging from the distance, it should be the Black Swan Castle." A man kneeling on the ground said.

He wears a cloak on his body, and a black mist surrounds the cloak, which makes this person look like a cloud of black mist. His voice was hoarse and dry, but his voice was a little bit thin, which made it impossible to judge the gender of the half-kneeling person.

"Sometimes I really admire Florence. His judgment is the best I have ever seen. If it weren't for me to run the business for ten years longer than him, he should be the first in line to succeed him." The young nobleman who spoke was the ten-year-old brother of Florence, Turin Wiles, "I heard that my brother opened a hole card in order to win over this new ally."

"Silver Flame Falcon Knight, Dante Alighieri, nicknamed Silver Death." The mysterious man kneeling on the ground said, "It's the 'Knight' card in the hands of the Florence Master."

"My brother is good at everything, but this bit of literary and artistic aura still can't be changed. I have to put the cards in the jihadist card game on all of my men." A smile appeared on Turin's face, which dissipated. In response to his gloomy and indifferent temperament, "Counting this knight, the twelve professional cards in the jihad card are deducted from the 'king' card. Has he already collected six?"

"Strictly speaking, there are only five." The mysterious man replied again, "There are two spearmen. The other three are archers, guards, and swordsmen."

"No, there is only one 'Pikeman', and the other must be a 'Warrior'. My brother is very obedient to the rules, so he will definitely not break the rules of the Jihad card." Turin laughed. "I even bet that my lovely brother must have hidden a hole card of the 'dead man'."

The mysterious person did not answer.

"Go to the Principality of Ryan to see what kind of role this person my brother admired is like. You know what to do."

"Yes."

...The Millennium Covenant Empire has a tower that is only ten meters lower than the observing minaret.

Star Tower.

This high tower is located in the center of the King's City of the Millennium Covenant Empire. The top layer of the entire tower is a mirror made of star diamonds. As long as you stand here, you can easily observe everything in the entire Millennium Covenant Empire. And this is also the key reason why the Millennium Covenant Empire has been able to stand up so far, because no army has ever been able to defeat them in the territory of the Millennium Covenant Empire.

So everyone in the world said that as long as the Star Tower of the Millennium Covenant Empire does not fall in one day, they will always occupy the land and people, and they will never be able to defeat the empire's army. Even if you win a local war, you will still lose the entire battle.

But today, the top level of the Star Tower of the Millennium Covenant Empire is caught in a sea of flames.

Although the magic circle of the Star Tower and the Star Diamond are not destroyed, it is still impossible to observe the situation in the entire empire at this moment.

The Star Tower mages, who had long been accustomed to complete control, fell into a certain panic and confusion at this moment, and didn't know what to do. Because the Star Tower has been established for so many years, but such a phenomenon has never happened. For those who have been used to orderly, this is indeed a chaos that can be called destruction.

"It's shameful to look at these ants." A gray-haired old man stood on the Star Tower, looking at the panicked crowd in the tower, and curled his mouth in disdain.

"Come on, they don't even know the real secret of the Star Tower." Standing beside this gray-haired old man, there is another old man, but his attire is more biased towards a soldier, and the gray-haired gray man. The old man's magician attire is completely different. "But we also have to admire the man in the palace. He can use the Star Tower to monitor the situation in the empire, and even use it as a military tool. This mind is not simple. ."

"Waste." The old magician's eyes were still full of disdain, "He actually tried to turn the empire's parliamentary system into an imperial system, ha ha... The Millennium Covenant, how many people can still remember the content of this covenant? Now ten Ten of the four high-ranking nobles have already expressed strong dissatisfaction. I don't think it will be long before the millennium covenant empire will break out on an unprecedented scale. I am afraid that the empire will be divided by this."

The old soldier shut up.

"Those of your descendants want to be alone?" The old magician seemed to think of something, turning his head to look at his companion, his voice became more serious, "You'd better warn them not to do this kind of fantasy. It doesn't matter if it's a peaceful period," Anyway, as long as you follow in the footsteps of the royal family, but this and that emperor wants to destroy the content of the covenant, you should be aware of the consequences."

"The blood of the people, how long hasn't seen it." The old soldier ignored it, but said with some desire.

The old magician who has always looked very ugly, he rarely showed a solemn expression at this time: "The last time I saw it was a hundred and thirty years ago, but it was a relatively ordinary blood, unlike this time, I awakened directly. It is the holy beast species.... Can it be ranked in the top three in the blood of the people?"

"In the blood of the people, it is second only to the blood of the gods and the ancient dragon species." The old soldier said.

"Oh." The old magician sighed, "It seems that the ambitious emperor will probably not let go of this opportunity, especially this bloodline awakened person is still in the Principality of Lane... Phoenix bloodline, still Such a red Phoenix blood, how pure this kind of blood should be."

"I only hope that this will not be a disaster."

...The wild land is not as desolate as the outside world imagined. Although the land here is red as blood for some reason, it is not that there is no grass, and even the water source is very rich. Otherwise, it would not be able to support so many tribes.

At this moment, in a tribe, a man carrying a halberd stands in the middle of the tribe. This person is wearing an earth-yellow hooded robe with a black gauze under the hood. Because the wild sand is relatively heavy, so I have to do this, but it's not easy to judge this. The gender of the person, but judging from the white and delicate back of the hand holding the halberd, it is easy for people to think that this is a woman.

Behind this person, there were hundreds of people standing.

All of these people are male. There are savages that are unique to the wilds, as well as half-orcs, orcs, dwarves, and even kobolds and gray elves. But the only thing these people have in common is that they are all young and middle-aged, except for children and old people.

At this time, people started to get out of the tents in the tribe one after another. They had weapons and bags in their hands, and then joined the ranks of the team. However, compared with other people around, these newly joined people seem a little uneasy, but due to the power of the strong one standing in the front, these people dare not take any action, just smile and stand at the door of the tent. The relatives waved goodbye.

"My lord, all have been gathered." A man who also wore a cloak walked up to the man with a halberd and said in a deep voice, "According to the old rules, this tribe has handed over the remaining quarter Prime of life."

"That direction is the Black Swan Castle."

The man wearing the cloak finally spoke, his voice was as soft as jade, and he was indeed a female.

The person being questioned raised his head and glanced up. Although he was a little surprised by the red clouds in the sky, he still said in a deep voice, "Yes."

"Let's go back." Without thinking about it, the woman put the halberd in her hand on her shoulders and ordered, "The blood of the holy beast species.... Asuna-sama has received a very impressive subordinate. Since she will be her own person in the future. , I also missed the other party's sealing ceremony last time, so this time I will give the other party a little face-to-face gift."

Vol 2 Chapter 26: .Just wake up

Shaun was riding a horse, galloping fast.

When he saw a pillar of fire burst out from the Black Swan Castle, his heart suddenly slammed, so he didn't care about anything anymore, and immediately mounted his horse and ran towards the Black Swan Castle.

William originally wanted to come together, but when he set out, he suddenly received a magical newsletter from Rena. After hurriedly skipping the content of the letter, William's face immediately became solemn.

This time the union of the four territories actually has more than four thousand troops. Of course, if it's just this little force, William doesn't care much. With the three thousand steel wings in his hand, he is confident that the four thousand coalition forces will come back and forth.

Three hundred heavy cavalry? Five hundred hussars?

This little force is not enough for steel wings to cram teeth.

However, in this letter, it is the three high-level silver masters that are highlighted, which makes William have to pay attention to it.

After all, there is only one high-ranking silver master in the territory now.

Xuefanio Themis.

However, William is not clear about the specific strength of this master. Therefore, for William, who is used to keeping everything in his hands, it is naturally impossible to put all hope on this priest with a knife.

So, William had to start thinking about how to crack it. In this way, he naturally did not have time to go back to the Black Swan Castle with Sean. He had to use this time to come up with a surefire way to deal with the union of these four lords, because in about half a month, Alfred It should come back, and then it's time for the war to really break out.

It is different from the rumors that Sean is going to take down the Mauge collar.

This territory will be taken by the Thunder's Front troops led by Simi, and Sean's strategic intention is to encroach on one or two territories bordering Panda's territory. He had long guessed that the lords of these territories would definitely intervene. After all, the Boulder family is also a large family in the Kingdom of Darbion, but he did not expect that four lords of the five territories would decide to take action, and there were three upper ranks. The silver master, this has to be said that the Boulder family has great courage.

But from another aspect, this also gave Sean a chance.

The most undesirable thing for these lords is to choose to station troops on the border at this time. This is completely equivalent to giving Sean an excuse to start war. However, this must ensure that Sean can win the two territories. After all, this is a dispute between the lords, not a war between countries. Therefore, after the two territories must be won, Sean is eligible to fight. The nobles of the Kingdom of Darbion bargained.

Anyway, those guys must not have the guts to bargain with Asuna.

And all this is just the beginning, and Sean treats it as an appetizer mentality. But this idea of him requires William to devote a lot of energy to planning.

So, William can only stay in the white pigeon town, and Sean will return to Black Swan Castle.

The fire pillar that shot back from the sky lasted a whole day and night before it finally ended, and the fire cloud in the sky finally disappeared completely the next morning.

Shaun knows what it is.

Blood awakening.

In the game that year, the power of blood was a feature that was only released after the second expansion was opened. According to the different levels of power, from high to low, it can be divided into six levels: Shenmin, Wanmin, Legend, Gold, Silver, and Bronze. The highest bloodline that players can obtain is the bloodline of Wanmin level. As for the level of Shenmin, it is the exclusive bloodline of some super NPCs in the game, and it is basically the level of God.

Basically, only when the bloodline above the legend awakens, it will cause anomalies.

Like such a powerful vision in front of him, in Xiao En's mind, only the level of the blood of the people can cause such violent resonance fluctuations. But what the specific bloodline is, Sean doesn't know at all. After all, bloodline was the most extensive special ability in the game. Ability, it is said that this is less than one-tenth.

It can be seen how complicated the setting of the power of blood is.

Even if Sean has thoroughly researched the game "Miracle", there are still some content that he doesn't know. Because the content he knows is based on the content exchanged on forums and in the circle of masters, if it goes beyond this category, his eyes will still be smeared.

Running all the way, Sean didn't have time to think too much. The only thing he thought about was whether Cecilia's blood awakening was a success or a failure.

Things like blood awakening are not a trivial matter, but a major event in life, because it is directly related to the future development prospects. The earlier the bloodline awakens, the greater the increase in strength. Don't look at Cecilia's current disturbances, but the bloodline power is only part of the highlight period of just awakening, and the fastest it will be to enter the golden level. Only by entering this stage can it be the power that can truly control the bloodline.

But the awakening of blood also carries the risk of failure.

The low-level bloodline awakening failure in the game is nothing more than a weak state. If the high-level bloodline awakening fails, it will drop one level directly.

In reality, it dropped by one level... After running for five days and five nights without sleep, Sean finally arrived at the Black Swan Castle on the sixth morning.

With Sean's physical fitness, these five days and five nights of sleeplessness will naturally not make him fall completely, but for a horse, the pressure is not small. Fortunately, the horses in this world are not like those on the earth. Otherwise, let alone five days and five nights, it would just be a day.

As for the arrival of Sean, the people in the castle didn't feel the slightest surprise, as if they had expected it to be so general.

"Where's Cecilia?" Sean looked fierce.

The veteran who came to the gate of the castle to greet Shaun felt a little bitter. He naturally saw that Shaun's face was tired and pale at the moment. Three days and three nights were no simpler than three days and three nights staying up all night, even the current Xiao En Ye has almost exhausted his spirit. So he immediately said: "In the restaurant."

"Restaurant?" Xiao En was taken aback.

"Yes." The veteran was also a little embarrassed. "In recent days, Miss Cecilia has used her time to eat except for sleeping."

"So, Cecilia has successfully awakened her bloodline?" When Sean heard this, he finally felt a sense of relief.

This veteran doesn't know what the success and failure of the bloodline awakening is, but seeing Cecilia's vivacity, he thinks it should be considered a success? So he nodded and said, "Yes."

So Sean finally relaxed completely: "It's fine to wake up....It's fine to wake up."

As soon as he finished saying this, Xiao En couldn't bear it anymore and fell asleep like that! In this way, the veteran was naturally scared, so with the help of the surrounding northern barbarians and veterans, Xiao En was finally carried back to the room that had already been arranged, and in the face of such a big movement, How could Celia not know.

Immediately, she didn't care about what to eat, so she ran to Sean's room, took over the work of the maids, and started to take care of Sean herself.

Cecilia hadn't done less of these things before, after all, she and Sean had been dependent on each other for a long time. The maids around were surprised to see Cecilia's skillful movements, because this noble lady was not as delicate as they thought. Only the veterans knew that this pair of self-proclaimed siblings What kind of things people experience.

So, this small space is naturally reserved for these two people.

And Sean had slept for two days and two nights before finally waking up.

When Cecilia saw Sean wake up, her face finally glowed with a charming color: "You are finally awake! Just wake up, just wake up."

Xiao En was slightly stagnant, he felt that these words seemed familiar. But seeing Cecilia leaping on him, Sean's face also showed the same smile. He stretched out his hand and gently patted Cecilia's back and smiled: "I should have said this. Yes... For more than half a year, you have fallen into a deep sleep state. The magic overflowing situation made me feel palpitations. I don't know what to do. Fortunately, Simi came and said You are in a state of blood awakening, so I feel relieved."

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia frowned in distress, and said softly, "I don't know what's going on. Originally, I meditated deeply according to that book, but suddenly I didn't know how. Feeling that the blood in my body seemed to become very aroused, I was very scared at that time, so I could only continue to mobilize the magic power to try to suppress the restlessness, and then I kept fighting like this. I waited until I woke up. I know that half a year has passed..."

"The awakening of blood has never been an easy process. After waking up, is it particularly hungry?" It was just plain words, but he didn't know why it was so sad to Xiao En, he stretched out his hand and rubbed it gently. Cecilia's hair.

Hearing Sean's words, Cecilia's face turned red, and she said embarrassedly: "I haven't eaten anything for half a year..."

"Hehe, when the bloodline just awakens, the amount of food needed is indeed relatively large, because the bloodline strengthens the body's ability to withstand it, so it naturally needs a lot of food to be converted into nutrients to supplement." Xiao En said with a smile, "Speaking of which, I also I do feel a little hungry."

"You slept for two days and two nights." Cecilia smiled, "I knew you would wake up today, so I had people prepared food a long time ago. You get up and take a bath first. Water is also for you. All right."

"Okay." Sean is not hypocritical, usually he prepares these tasks for Cecilia, it is rare that Cecilia will prepare these for him, this kind of enjoyment he can't miss.

It's just that when Cecilia actually said that he would wake up today, he was slightly awed, so he looked at Cecilia with the real eye.

At this look, the whole person was shocked instantly.

Vol 2 Chapter 27: .Ashes

At this moment, in the eyes of Sean, Cecilia's personal information has undergone tremendous changes. This change has even far exceeded the growth limit of the Silver Tier. It can be said that under the effect of Blood Vessel Awakening, Cecilia has already possessed the power of a gold rank powerhouse.

But what Sean did not expect was that the bloodline of Cecilia's awakening was actually the third bloodline among the bloodlines of the people.

According to the situation in the original game, the blood of the gods in the blood of the people can increase the total attribute by 80 points, followed by the blood of the ancient dragon with the total attribute of 75 points, and the blood of the holy beast with the total attribute of 70 points, according to the classification and strength. Decrease layer by layer. So in the game, there were players who ranked all bloodlines according to this bloodline distinction. The Saint Beast bloodline was the third highest bloodline among the people's bloodlines.

This is also the reason why so many players wanted to get a high-level pedigree.

After all, the total attribute of the bronze bloodline is only increased by ten to twenty points, the silver bloodline is 20 to 30, the gold bloodline is 30 to 40, the legendary bloodline is 40 to 70, and the Wanmin bloodline is 50 to 80. However, compared with the npc in the game, players have to have something special after all, that is, whenever they get a higher bloodline, they can cover the lower bloodline.

Sean knows that he must have a special bloodline, but he doesn't know what his bloodline is, so his attributes have not been strengthened. Naturally, he doesn't know whether his bloodline ability in this world is the same as in the original game. The situation is the same...

However, after seeing Cecilia's bloodline ability, he became more and more convinced that the strong after the awakening of the blood and the strong without the awakening of the blood are completely two concepts.

[Name: Cecilia]

[Identity: Civilian of the Principality of Lane]

【Race: Human】

[Bloodline: Phoenix (Manmin-Holy Beast), Stamina +15, Agility +15, Wisdom +20, Will +20.
Current bloodline level: dominant, a bloodline talent has been activated.]

【Blood Talent: Yuhuo: Immune to all fire damage. 】

【Combat Class: Great Magician (Fifth Tier)】

[Personal Attributes-Strength: 10 (24); Endurance: 31 (31); Agility: 26 (26); Wisdom: 69+12 (69); Will: 72+15 (72)]

The only thing that makes Shaun feel a pity is that Cecilia's awakening bloodline talent is really not that good.

Basically, as long as the bloodline talent is awakened, anyone will get a passive ability, but whether this ability is strong or weak, it depends on luck-players can choose one of three in the game, and NPCs naturally do not have this good luck. . Judging from the current results, Cecilia's luck is obviously not much better, and the passive skill he has obtained can only be said to be neither good nor bad.

But for no reason, Sean suddenly thought of the woman Elizabeth.

Her Thunder Destroyer bloodline is the more advanced one in the legendary bloodline. The total attribute increase should be between sixty and seventy, but I don't know what her bloodline ability is. But the only thing that can be determined is that she definitely has a strength that is higher than that of the next golden powerhouse. If anyone dares to underestimate her, she will probably end badly.

And if Elizabeth becomes a gold-level powerhouse, the bloodline ability will enter the prominent stage, and then the first active ability will be obtained. As long as the ability is not too bad, you can even compete with the upper gold powerhouses-on the Marvel Continent, it is more common to challenge the powerhouse in the low-level stage, but it is very rare when it reaches the advanced stage.

Sean may now be able to easily kill the upper silver who is not particularly rich in combat awareness and experience, and even fight with the lower gold powerhouse, but that's it. Because even if he enters the silver realm, Sean is at best from being able to escape from the lower level gold powerhouses to barely defeating the lower level gold powerhouses. Unless he enters the lower level gold realm, it is possible to defeat those strong at the upper level of gold peak.

For this, Sean is very clear, so the last time he met the three priests with swords, Sean dared to make a move without any scruples. But this does not mean that Sean can really ignore the high-level silver masters. In one-on-one situations, he certainly has the complete suppression ability, but if there are many high-level silver masters, then the battle will be difficult to fight. For example, this time Ruina had the same information as the four lord coalition forces from the Kingdom of Darbion, the three high-ranking silver masters were not easy to deal with.

These three people are all masters at the pinnacle of upper silver, and they are also very famous in the Kingdom of Darbion. Not only are they very experienced in combat, but they also have a high level of combat awareness. If the three of them work together, unless Sean can kill one of them quickly by surprise, he will fall into a hard fight, and once the time passes for three minutes, then Sean will completely lose the possibility of defeating his opponent. .

Although Rena, Alfred and Cecilia are already at the pinnacle of lower silver, Rena and Alfred are still a little bit behind the upper silver in terms of physical fitness, so the result of the battle is really hard to say. However, Cecilia is due to her status as a magician, and she is destined to be unable to fight in close quarters. In addition, her own combat experience is not rich. Therefore, in actual combat, it may take the three of them to unite to suppress a superior. silver.

What's more, there is Xuefanio, a priest with a knife.

William doesn't trust Xuefanio's strength very much, but Sean believes very much. The priest with a knife was originally the exclusive title of the Church of Ice and Winter. It has always been known for its strong combat power and long-lasting combat ability. What's more, Xuefanio was personally trained by the goddess of Ice and Winter. This combat power is even more beyond doubt.

In terms of the number of masters and powerhouses in the territory, Sean is naturally unable to compare with those long-developed noble families. But if you want to talk about the quality of masters, even an earl who has been developing for three or four hundred years may not be able to compare with Sean, because this is no longer the strength of a pioneering knight or jazz, and it is purely from growth. In terms of consideration, even Asuna, the Valkyrie of the Principality of Ryan, might not dare to say that she would be better than Sean.

Because in Sean's current territory, there are also four people who can definitely grow to the golden realm. As for whether Alfred can step into the golden realm, Sean is completely uncertain now. After all, the development in the game has completely deviated from the development track at the beginning, so Sean dare not say what the final result will be. As for the other priest with a knife, Dini, who is currently in charge of the temple in Hongye Town, it depends on whether she is pious enough and has an unyielding will.

If all of this is true, then as the second believer in the goddess of ice and winter, her future achievements will never be too low.

So when Sean heard that the four lords of the Darbion Kingdom were preparing to unite against him, he didn't take it seriously, just as a dessert. However, his only concern was that the opponent might still have hidden cards. After all, the baron named Ronnis was able to send a high-ranking silver pinnacle master, and the family behind it was definitely a well-known family.

"I heard that there is going to be a war again?" Sitting at the dining table, Cecilia turned her head to look at Sean who was a little absent-minded.

"En." Sean nodded, "But this time we don't need to be responsible for the frontal battlefield, just a side attack, but if we want to get more benefits, we still have to confuse the water, so we can We can win something else... But if we look at it from a long-term perspective, no matter what we gain after this battle, we will be able to win at least half a year of development time."

"Have you considered the next situation?" Cecilia asked softly.

"Roughly think about it." Sean smiled, he could see the worry in Cecilia's eyes, "You don't have to worry about me at this point. Anyway, you can do what you should do at the time. Within a year and a half, the entire Kingdom of Darbion will be dragged into the quagmire of war, and then nothing will happen to us."

"So what are you going to do this time?"

"Since you are okay, you must be the one to take action in this war." Xiao En laughed, "We will set off to Baige Town after dinner.... Rina has already found out, the other party. There is no magician in the coalition army, so we still have the advantage in this battle. The only thing that needs attention is that the opponent has three high-level silver masters, but if it can create a chance for me, then I can kill one quickly. , The rest is nothing to be afraid of."

"Who is Rina?" Cecilia tilted her head curiously.

"A female knight, very powerful." Xiao En remembered at this moment, Rena didn't know Cecilia, so he started talking about the process of getting to know Rena, and there was nothing to conceal about this. "This female knight's future achievements are not low, even Alfred can't compare with her. But unfortunately, if she can awaken her bloodline, then her strength will be even stronger."

"Do you think the blood abilities are all Chinese cabbage? If you want it, you can." Cecilia gave Sean a white look.

"Hehe, isn't this a fantasy." Xiao En smiled. Of course he knew that bloodline ability is definitely a gadget that people in this world can't find, but it's also in Xiao En's eyes. Really didn't look too far into it, "By the way, Cecilia, do you know your bloodline ability?"

"I don't know." Cecilia frowned slightly, "I just feel that there is more and more intimacy towards flames now."

Sure enough.

Sean said silently in his heart.

Bloodline ability is a very mysterious and special ability for people in this world. Therefore, once the bloodline ability is awakened, many people have to constantly try to find out what their bloodline ability is. This process usually takes several years or even Decades of time. Fortunately, Sean has the [True Eye] this kind of cheat device, otherwise I really can't see what Cecilia's bloodline ability will be.

"Phoenix bloodline, most of them are related to fire ability." Xiao En said, "If your bloodline ability is developed to the limit, you can even use the ability of Nirvana like a phoenix, but this probably needs to wait for your bloodline ability. The development is complete.... Judging from your current situation, the abilities you have acquired should be "fire," which means that you will never be afraid of any fire damage in the future."

The bloodline ability is divided into five stages, namely, dominant, prominent, mastered, mature, and complete. At each stage, a brand-new ability can be obtained. Except for the second ability, which must be an active ability, the other four stages of ability It is either passive or active, and the process of formation is probably related to one's own personality, fighting style, and tendencies. And what Sean currently knows is that if the bloodline ability is dominant in the silver stage, the golden stage will definitely become prominent, and it can be directly mastered in the sanctuary, but he does not know how it is at a higher level of maturity and completeness. It's going on.

At the beginning, the players in the game were only groping for the master stage.

At this time, Cecilia looked at her hands and whispered in a low voice: "It's really a fire... It's exactly the same as the narrative in the classics that the teacher left me."

Vol 2 Chapter 28: .Strike first

When Sean and Cecilia returned to Baige Town from Black Swan Castle, they didn't have to hurry on their way, but the burden of riding a horse together was a bit heavy, so they were basically in the morning and afternoon. Hurry, rest at noon and night, and walked forward for nearly seven days before finally returning to Baige Town.

At this time, Rena has also returned from the border.

When Sean saw the female knight again, she found an unusually sharp aura on her body.

This kind of momentum is actually very common in many strong or big people.

Like William, he is obviously just an unarmed guy, but once he starts to give orders, he will also exude a cold aura that can be called "killing and decisive." After all, just like what William said, the sacrifice of life in his eyes is only the difference in the meaning of the number change. If he has to say it, William is actually a cold-blooded executioner with a mediocre nature.

Of course, it's not just William.

Not to mention Alfred, even Anno exudes an amazing aura when fighting. The northern barbarians are led by his aura to have the amazing fighting power of giving up their lives.

It's just that no matter who is in the inner circle of Sean, he always sends and receives aura from his heart. That is to say, in non-combat situations, these people will not exude any stinging awe-inspiring aura. It seems that they are similar to ordinary low-level soldiers or even civilians, no matter how they look like that kind of power. Holding, awe-inspiring big shot.

Originally Rina is like this.

But now, Rena exudes the * murderous momentum all over her body, which is a bit abnormal.

If Alfred were here, he would surely find that Rena had grown up again, but this time her growth rate was so fast that she had no time to smooth out her edges and corners, so she would be like this. Yu's sharp sense of sharpness. So from a certain aspect, Sean's common sense of the world is actually quite lacking, but considering that he looks at the strength of others, he basically evaluates them according to the level system in the game, and he rarely pays attention to it. The change in momentum, so this cannot be said to be Sean's problem.

It's just that, judging from the current situation, Cecilia and Rina's meeting for the first time is hardly a good impression.

After all, to Cecilia, who is more keen to discern aura, Rina is like a dragon beast out of control at this time.

Powerful and dangerous.

"What's the matter?" Sean looked at William and asked in a low voice.

"Rena took people for the first time and lost a lot of manpower." William seemed to have expected such a situation a long time ago, and said lightly, "Anything that a commander will experience in his life is no big deal.... Who was that year? Didn't you break the manpower when you led the soldiers in the war?"

Hearing William's words, Cecilia took it seriously.

Her first command of combat was in Tindesberg. After that battle, the castle's defenders almost died, leaving a few veterans, some of whom followed him and Sean all the way from the Kingdom of Puerto Rico to the Principality of Ryan. The number of battles encountered in the middle was similarly different. Less, and the situation is much more tragic. It was in these battles that Cecilia smoothed out her edges and corners bit by bit, thoroughly recognizing this real world.

Thinking of this, Cecilia's gaze at Rina became a little softer.

It seemed that she felt the change in Cecilia's eyes. The stern face of Rina turned her head to look at Cecilia, and then smiled. At this moment, the awe-inspiring * aura on her body was also slightly diminished, but it also completely exposed the acupuncture hidden under this aura, and the sharpness became even more piercing.

"If this continues, her spirit will collapse first?" Although Sean and William are not as good as Cecilia in the change of breath, they are not weaker, and they are more than Cecilia. Simply relying on intuition to judge, Sean and William are much more experienced, but in such a moment, they feel many potential problems that are not apparent on the surface.

"Almost." William's tone was still very calm.

"You can make it through, it doesn't mean that other people can too." Sean's tone was sulky.

William was finally willing to look away from his recalibrated map of the territory, and raised his head to look at Sean. And Sean also saw the bloodshots in William's eyes. Obviously William had been staying up late to work during this period. Normally, William's lazy and irresponsible attitude can attract him such a high level of attention and is worthy of his investment. Your energy is obviously a very important thing.

After looking at each other for a while, William's indifferent voice finally said: "Do you think my job is too easy?"

William's opening remarks are as ridiculous as ever.

Without waiting for Sean to speak, William said again: "Yes, as the lord of a territory, Lord Sean is really busy. Because he always has many fantastic ideas that ordinary people can't understand, and in order to make these Whimsical thoughts become reality. Naturally, we need to find suitable people to deal with them.... It is a pity that there is no one other than me in the realm who can understand the wonderful thoughts of our great lord. NS."

Shaun fell into silence.

Obviously, however, William didn't seem to want to let Sean go just like that. He seemed to have been holding back for too long, so he had to vent it out at this moment: "You said you want to train new recruits, I will help you train; you If you say you want to relocate and rebuild, I will also help you deal with it; if you say there is a war, I will also start preparing for you; now I want to be a psychological counselor? Then in some days, I have to go as a guest babysitter, Butler or nanny?...Oh, I'm sorry, I have no milk, so I can only make a cameo as Daddy."

Shaun turned his head with some guilty conscience. He saw that outside the camp, Cecilia and Rena seemed to be communicating.

"Then Lord Lord, is it time for your food to come, so you need me to feed you?"

"I was wrong." Sean finally broke down.

"Huh." William snorted coldly, "If you don't need me to feed you, just give me the fuck, I don't have so much free time to take care of you as an idiot."

"Rena is a good woman." Sean decided to tactfully.

"Then you marry her home." William continued without looking up, "Perhaps in this way, her mental pressure can be better relieved. Anyway, as a lord, you will definitely have an heir in the future. So now let's get an heir out to train."

"Uh..." Sean was choked, a little at a loss.

Wife or something, he never seemed to think about it? Playing games in the past was a job that required him to put in a lot of energy, and he didn't find a girlfriend. After coming to this world, he was forced to constantly adapt to this world. Every step of the way was very urgent and thrilling, and he didn't have the time and energy to think about it, although he was a little impulsive when he met Elizabeth. , But when he thought of Elizabeth's lurking queen character, Sean immediately dispelled the idea.

Wrong!

Sean suddenly woke up and was tricked by William: "I'm talking about how to solve Rena's psychological pressure! I'm not going to marry her home!"

"You said she is a good woman." William gave Sean a sideways look.

"She is still a very powerful and promising woman." Sean added.

"Then you should marry her more so that you can tie her to your chariot." William continued, "Anyway, as a nobleman, marrying a few wives is a very normal thing, as long as you can afford it. That's it."

"Then why don't you marry?" Sean retorted, "Why don't I give you a marriage?"

William raised his head, stared at Sean coldly for ten seconds, and then suddenly smiled, absolutely beautiful: "I don't like women."

Shaun was like a frightened rabbit. He flew back and retreated directly into the corner of the tent. His face was extremely pale in an instant.

William was taken aback for a moment, and then he made a crying sad look: "You really hurt my heart, Lord Lord."

Perhaps it was because Sean's movements were so big that Rena and Cecilia, who were originally outside the tent, heard the noise inside the camp, so they rushed in, only to see panic looking back in the corner. The pitiful looks of Sean and William who were eager to weep.

Cecilia is okay, but Rina is a little depressed.

William was already very beautiful. Although using this word to describe a man is a bit too much, but in Rena's view, the only person who can compete with William in appearance is Cecilia. However, as Cecilia grows up in the future, she will definitely be better than William in appearance, but which woman does not like to be beautiful? So Rina naturally felt very depressed about her being compared by a man.

Especially William at this moment, who actually looks more feminine than her, Rina wants to cry.

"What's the matter?" Cecilia asked, somewhat confused.

"Commander William said he didn't like women, and then the boss ran aside."

An untimely voice suddenly sounded, and the four people in the camp immediately turned their heads and looked over. They saw that Anno, who had just woke up, was yawning and sat up from one military bed, and then Cecilia The gazes that Rina looked at William instantly changed a little.

The cheeky William blushed rarely, but this appearance made Rena suddenly have the idea of stabbing him to death.

Just listen to the scourge and say: "I'm just making a joke, it is really annoying Sean.... I didn't expect his reaction to be so intense." At this point, William turned his head and looked at Anno, his tone of voice. There is a bit of depression in it: "You only say this sentence will cause a lot of misunderstanding, why don't you also say what you said before."

An Nuo looked blank: "But I just woke up, and I only heard this sentence."

At this moment, William was also defeated, and he could only helplessly say: "In fact, we are discussing you, Rena."

"Me?" Rina looked blank, "Why did you get involved with me?"

"It's normal to lead soldiers to fight and make sacrifices. You don't need to have any psychological burden." William said. People are already an amazing result."

Rina's eyes dimmed a bit when she heard William's words.

A moment later, Rina said: "I just...a little unwilling to swallow this breath!"

"I can understand." William nodded, "Actually, I still have a task for you. It depends on whether you dare to take it."

"What mission?" Rina raised her head and asked.

"I will give you five hundred steel wings. You sneaked into the territory of Baron Ronnies. His three hundred heavy cavalry has not set off yet, so I want you to defeat these three hundred heavy cavalry." When it comes to military missions, William's whole aura became different in an instant, the cold and majestic aura even completely overwhelmed Rina's aura, "This time, William, Cecilia and Xuefanio I will also go with you.... In addition to defeating these three hundred heavy cavalry, your mission is to kill the high-ranking silver master in intelligence and capture Baron Ronnis alive."

"Do you want to..."

"Start first!" William said with an indifferent expression. "We can't do nothing and just look at the other side's brave and majestic standing there? Just defeat the baron's private soldiers and capture him. The lords of the other three territories will have to re-examine our strength. Of course, if they are willing to start a war ahead of time because of this, it would be great. When the time comes, the Count of Simi will directly lead the troops to take down the Mordege collar. They are in a dilemma, so the initiative is in our hands."

Vol 2 Chapter 29: .Baron Ronnies

The Chiraff collar is a baronial collar that borders the Panda collar.

Lord Ronnis Holder, as a lord, he can only be regarded as qualified. At least the Chiraf has not declined in his hands, but its development prospects are also very worrying. But as a commander-in-chief, Ronnis is undoubtedly very good. The three hundred heavy cavalry he personally trained is not only good at riding warfare, but also no stranger to foot warfare. Infantry, deeply recognized by the military reformers in the kingdom.

At present, the military reformists have proposed to let Lonnis take over the training and command of the Kingdom's 4th Cavalry Regiment. There are even rumors that the reformists intend to rename this heavy cavalry unit to the Ronnies Cavalry Regiment. If this decision is passed, then the Kingdom's 4th Cavalry Regiment will become the third cavalry regiment with an independent designation in the kingdom, and Ronnis will therefore enter the high-level system of the Kingdom's military, not only the Holder family's. As a result, the reputation will be improved, and even the status of the reformers who are the referees in the military will be so high.

However, this resolution is currently being jointly opposed by the conservative and hawks in the military, and the doves remain silent.

The kingdom of Darbion would suffer a crushing defeat in the war with the Principality of Ryan four years ago, and it has a lot to do with factional struggles within the kingdom's army.

Different from the two factions that are divided into hawks and doves in general countries, there are five factions in the army of the Kingdom of Darbion. In addition to the prudent faction led by the older generation of generals, the reformers who want to change the kingdom's decadent atmosphere, the aggressive hawks who advocate offensives, and the doves who believe that the policy of peace talks should be treated first, there are others who do not belong to. These four camps are neutral like a wall of grass.

Of course, it's not that other countries don't have stable and reformists, but these two factions are generally hawks and doves, and rarely appear as independent factions with a clear-cut flag.

So the internal factions of the army in the Kingdom of Darbion are actually very messy.

The steady and the reformists, the hawks and the doves are in opposition to each other. In non-war situations, it is usually a struggle between the reformers and the steady factions. The hawks and doves rarely participate in these disputes, but if one of them wins the support of one of the other opposing factions, then the rest is The other faction will join the other side without hesitation, forming a relatively balanced and stable situation.

It is reasonable to say that the conservative and the hawks jointly oppose Ronnis's entry into the high-level system of the military as a member of the reformist, and the doves should immediately support the reformers unconditionally. But this time, the unexpected silence of the doves made the entire Dabian nobles a little bit incomprehensible. They didn't understand why the doves, who had been against the hawks, didn't say anything this time.

Judging from the current situation, it is probably impossible for Ronnies to enter the high-level system within the military.

Many people feel sorry for Ronnies, especially the Holder family to which Ronnies belongs. If Ronnies can really enter the high-level system of the army, then he will become the first nobleman to enter the high-level of the army of the Kingdom of Darbion as a baron, which is likely to promote the title of Holder family from a marquis to a marquis. The Duke became the sixth Duke of the Kingdom of Darbion.

And when everyone felt sorry, only Ronnis was still calm as before, as if he didn't care at all.

But, does he really care about nothing?

Lonnis stood outside a camp tent, looking at the entire camp with deep eyes.

There are not many real soldiers in the camp, there are only three hundred heavy cavalry, but the scale of the camp is not small, because behind these three hundred heavy cavalry are nearly a thousand logistics and servants. Moreover, Ronnis's strategy of ruling the army is different from that of ordinary lords. The logistics and servants of nearly a thousand men can even form a thousand-man light infantry as long as they are given weapons. Of course, this army is probably also on the battlefield. It is equivalent to a cannon fodder team.

So nominally speaking, the combined military strength of the four lords reaches 4,000, but if you count the logistics forces, it actually amounts to nearly 10,000. However, the only one that can be considered as effective is the logistic unit of Ronnies-it can barely be regarded as a second-level army, while the logistic units of other lords can only be considered as first-level army, the combat power in it The difference value is not small.

A ten-person patrol team walked out from a corner of the camp. When passing by Ronnis, these people stopped to greet the lord Ronnis, but Ronnis whispered, so this The patrol team hurried away in despair.

Looking at the back of the patrol team, Ronnis frowned slightly, looking very upset.

He governs the army extremely strictly, and even has extremely strict requirements. For every patrol route and shift time in the camp, there is an almost pathological iron law. Therefore, the patrol team's greetings to Lonnis can't be exchanged for a friendly smile from the lord, but will only usher in a scolding, because this process is equivalent to a waste of tens of seconds in his eyes. It is likely to cause a short viewing angle blind spot and gap period, which may cause a series of changes.

Lonnis's patrol point has always been known for having no blind spots. How could he tolerate this kind of human error?

"It is indeed a new star in the future military. It is indeed rigorous to govern the army." A young man who looked about 25 or 6 years old walked out of another camp and saw Ronnis, who was still calm, with a relaxed expression. Smiled.

Lonnis looked at the young man. He knew that although he looked young, he was actually about the same age as him. They were already in their thirties.

is also in his thirties, but Ronnis looks more like an old man in his forties or fifties. But this is no way. After all, Ronnis has to work hard for the development of the family. He needs to rack his brains and think about many things. Under such a stressful environment, he certainly looks like this one who knows how to maintain. People are as young. Just embarking on such a path, Lonnis does not regret it, because he knows that his achievements will inevitably be higher than this seemingly young middle-aged man in the future.

Because he is the commander-in-chief, and the opponent is just a strong man who has half-footed into the golden realm.

As long as he keeps working hard, there will never be fewer strong under his command in the future. But for the latter, he can only follow others' orders in his entire life.

Therefore, Ronnis would naturally not pay any attention to the obviously slightly ridiculous remarks made by the middle-aged man. After all, they are destined to be two people in different worlds: "Thanks for the praise, I just try to do my best. That's it."

The middle-aged man curled his mouth. Although there was a bit of disdain in his eyes, he was well hidden, so he could not offend him at this time.

Because as a family knight of the Boulder family, he was fortunate to know some little secrets that could not be called a secret, so he knew very well that the baron has now secretly received the support of the Boulder family, which has destined him to enter the army. No matter how exaggerated the rumors in the kingdom are, how sorry they are, or how strongly criticized by the steady and hawks, they can no longer stop him from climbing.

As the best investment family in the kingdom, Boulder's connections are more extensive than anyone imagined!

At that time, as long as the Boulder family exerts its strength, at least half of the members of the stable faction will be silent, and the neutral faction will fully fall into the reformist faction. As the Boulder family's deepest roots in the military, the doves will naturally not. Continue to remain silent, so there are only the hawks who are left alone and cannot change any situation. It's just that before that, no one knew that Ronnis was actually a dark game that the Boulder family was going to use to break into the military reformists, and this move was hidden deeper.

It is precisely for this reason that this strong man, who has already stepped into the lower level of gold, will be secretly sent by the Boulder family to protect Baron Ronnis. After all, judging from the strength of the Holder family behind Ronnis, a strong man who has half-footed into the lower level of gold is not very eye-catching. At least a Marquis family that has been rooted for hundreds of years must come up with it. It's not a problem for a senior silver master with some promise.

"Mr. Dyson, I hope you can keep your attention better during this time." Ronnis looked at the two exposed women in the tent where the middle-aged man sent by the Boulder family to protect him was located. Walking out, he could not help but said in a deep voice, "Try not to waste time on some meaningless things. According to the information I have received these days, the lord of Pandaling has also begun to arrange the border, I guess He is likely to take further action."

"So what?" Dyson made a suggestive gesture to the two female companions who had been brought to the barracks by him. After causing the two female companions to tremble, he turned his head and looked at Ronnis, "Could they be they Dare to fight over? Oh, after the main force of the Boulder family arrives at the Mordge, the Mordge will take the lead in the attack, and then your four lords will attack together, and the lord will only be desperate. I'm back in Tonis' fortress, I really don't know what you're afraid of."

"What I am afraid is that this war will end early before the main force of the Boulder family arrives at the Mordegge." Lonnis said mercilessly. I feel a little eager to move, and when I think about the situation of the previous lord who knew the situation and dared to say that he wanted to level down the Mordege, I think this lord will definitely send troops to fight our coalition forces first. Only in this way can he deal with the Modger collar with peace of mind."

Dyson's eyes were already impatient.

"After all, the coalition forces of our four lords have not yet fully assembled, so I think if the lord Panda has a little bit of military knowledge and wants to start a war in advance, he will definitely take the lead in attacking me. After all, it is only me. The troops in China are heavy cavalry troops in name. In the case of losing their distance advantage, there is no such thing as a soft persimmon to deal with better."

"But isn't your unit claiming to mount and re-ride and dismount?"

"Don't forget, based on the current situation of the private combat report about the Lord Panda, the opposing lion group is also a heavy infantry. In this regard, my troops have no advantage. And because With regard to equipment configuration and training level, my troops may even be weaker than the other in infantry combat, so I hope that by that time, Mr. Dyson, you can follow my command and cooperate with my tactics."

"Okay, I see."

Dyson waved his hand impatiently, and then walked towards the two female companions with an eager look, and ignored Ronnies, which made Ronnies frown. I don't know why, Lonnis always felt a little upset in his mood tonight. Originally, he hoped to reach a verbal agreement with Dyson. Let Dyson follow his command and cooperate with his actions, then he is sure to rely on the 1,000 or 300 people in his hand to repel any enemies who dare to invade by relying on the terrain, and let the Lord of Bandar know the Kingdom of Darbion There are also excellent commanders.

But now, looking at Dyson's appearance, Lonnis feels that there is no hope of negotiating with him. He only hopes that the master is really a master, rather than pretentious.

Vol 2 Chapter 30: Raid

Taking advantage of the darkness, dozens of vigorous figures are moving fast.

Their steps are extremely light, and they obviously have a heavy shield like a half-length shield and a spear made of fine iron in their hands, but all of this has not affected their speed and stature in the slightest, and they are even running. There was no sound during the process, which is really incredible.

When they arrived at the predetermined location, the dozen or so northern barbarians quickly slumped and lay neatly on the ground. Except for the slight dust and slight slaps, the silent night did not cause much. Big sound fluctuations.

After these northern barbarians fell to the ground, they waited for a whole whole number of minutes before they began to cautiously crawl forward. But their movements are very subtle, and they crawl forward for a short distance almost every few minutes. In this dim night, they hardly attract anyone's attention, unless the moonlight happens to be shining down, but watch At this moment, the sky is covered by dark clouds, I am afraid that tonight is really a dark and windy night.

If someone is looking down from the sky at this moment, and their eyesight is good enough, then you can find that there are countless northern barbarians sneaking and approaching around the camp of Baron Ronnies. Although these northern barbarians are scattered, and they don't seem to be particularly large in number, in fact these people did completely surround the camp of Baron Ronnis.

In this encirclement, members of the core high-end combat power such as Sean, Cecilia, Xuefanio, and Rena did not gather together, but were divided into three parts and located around the entire camp. If it weren't for considering that Cecilia's melee combat ability was almost zero, the four of them could actually form four attack arrows, launching a full-scale attack from around the camp.

However, changing to three main offenses may not be without benefits. At least it is also a good choice to follow the conventional tactics of siege warfare. Anyway, William's strategic purpose is only to capture Baron Ronnies alive, kill the high-ranking silver pinnacle master by the way, and defeat this heavy cavalry unit from the front. These three goals must be achieved in addition to the first one, and the other two. Basically, it belongs to the dispensable type.

Sean raised his head and glanced at the arrow tower in the camp. After silently judging and calculating the wind direction and speed, he finally opened the longbow in his hand. Following Sean's movements, the two northern barbarians standing next to him also opened their longbows and aimed at the guards in the arrow tower.

There are a total of nearly 30 arrow towers in the entire camp. In addition to 15 on the edge of the camp, which can be thoroughly monitored from all directions to the camp area of 300 meters, the other 15 arrow towers are distributed in the camp. , Judging from the layout of these fifteen arrow towers, it happens to be able to monitor the situation in the entire camp. To a certain extent, Ronnis's layout of the camp can indeed be considered impeccable, at least completely occupying the two advantages of location, people and.

It's a pity that he is destined to lose his shelter tonight.

Don't say it's three hundred, in such a dim environment, even standing on the arrow tower, can see the situation 30 meters away is considered good.

At this moment, the five hundred northern barbarians appointed by William had completely lurked to a position only 50 meters away from the camp, and as long as they solved the guards on the outer 15 arrow towers, they would be able to go further. But the battle plan ends here. Because through these days of observation and stepping points, whether it is Sean, Cecilia, and Rena, it is clear that it is completely impossible to enter this camp by lurking, not to mention the other fifteen in the camp. The all-round monitoring of an arrow tower is just a patrol in the camp. It can be said that there are no blind spots and flaws, and even no secret sentry is needed.

Even a player like Xiao En who is good at strategy, even treats this camp as a copy, but he can't find any breakthrough point at all. So after some discussion, the final plan is the only way to raid.

Of course, if it can be undetected, then there is no need for a surprise attack.

Buzz!

Sean's right hand holding the arrow tail feathers suddenly loosened, the bowstring shook slightly, and the arrow shot out suddenly!

...The scale of the arrow tower in the camp is not large, it is just slightly larger than the general guard tower, but considering the shooting space and dodge space, such an arrow tower can only accommodate three defenders. But in the entire Kingdom of Darbion, all the nobles knew that Lonnis was good at training and commanding cavalry, so naturally he would not have any arms like archers. These defenders were responsible for monitoring on the arrow tower. , It is nothing more than a "part-time job" for the logistics unit.

At this moment, a defender looked at the distance curiously, and there seemed to be something in that direction in his eyes.

"Hey, is there something in front of me?"

"What?" Attracted by his voice, the other two defenders also squeezed over, looking curiously at the place where his companion pointed out, "Where is it? Why didn't I see it."

"It's right there." The defender still pointed his finger forward, "I seemed to see something shining just now."

"It's such a dark night, can you read it wrong?" The defender on the left was a little disapproved, "I didn't see anything."

"That's right, I also... uh uh uh!"

The defender on the right spoke in agreement, but before he finished speaking, it had become a series of meaningless monosyllables. A feather arrow was nailed directly to his throat, and the iron arrow even penetrated completely. out!

At the beginning, the defender who found the flash was completely frightened. On the contrary, the defender on the left reacted slightly faster, but before he could roar, another feather arrow had already been shot into him. A * arrow spurting out from the head, and the strong impact directly shook him onto the arrow tower; then the third arrow was finally late, and an arrow shot through the chest of the defender in the middle. Also brought him to the ground.

Almost at the same moment, the guards on the fifteen outermost arrow towers began to be cleaned up one after another.

This time, among the five hundred northern barbarians appointed by William, the steel wings accounted for only three hundred places. The other two hundred were the elite troops stationed at the Black Swan Castle, and even seven veterans were dispatched. come over. This shows how much William has paid attention to this strategic action, so when dealing with these logistics units that are only "part-time" archers, it is naturally impossible for these northern barbarians to miss.

After the fifteen arrow towers were easily removed, the five hundred northern barbarians began to move forward again. The originally sparsely scattered crowd began to gather into ten small teams of varying numbers, consisting of Xiao En and Rui. Led by Na, Cecilia and seven veterans, they will sneak in from ten positions in the camp. If possible, naturally the other fifteen arrow towers in the camp would be removed together, but for this, neither Sean nor Cecilia had any expectations.

Rina held the spear in her hand. This time she did not ride a war horse, which is really not suitable for the current situation.

However, as a true knight, without her mount, Rina's combat effectiveness can only be used for two-thirds, unable to display her full strength. But fortunately, the enemy to be dealt with this time is only one high-ranking silver, and on his own side, there are Cecilia, Sean and Xuefanio who are also high-ranking silver masters. With a combined attack of the four, Rui Na believed that the result could not be as bad as it was last time in Modgar.

Cautiously walked to a distance of 30 meters from the camp, Rena stretched out a left hand, and dozens of northern barbarians who followed her immediately stopped, and then squatted down and began to look around.

From this distance, all of their figures will no longer be able to rely on the night to cover them, because there are countless braziers placed throughout the camp, and these braziers will reflect the entire camp like the day, without any shadows and dead ends to avoid. A large number of patrol personnel are also constantly walking around in the camp. Their patrol routes seem to be very normal, but if you observe carefully, you will find that almost every patrol team will be in another patrol no matter what the situation. Within the sight range of the two patrols tens of meters apart, there are also no blind spots and blind spots in view.

And if it's just the patrol of the ground forces and the reflection of the brazier, the problem is that there is also surveillance from the sky. If the 15 arrow towers located inside the camp are not removed, then once they have a confrontation with the enemy in this column If so, then they really don't even have a place to hide, because all their movements will be discovered by the guards arranged by the enemy on the arrow tower.

"It's no different from a strong attack. This Ronnie is really an annoying guy. No wonder William wants to get rid of him first." Rina murmured, but the left hand was still slightly lowered, so all the northern barbarians immediately once again. let's move.

The layout of this camp looks very rigorous, but perhaps because it is only a temporary camp, the pegs are not deep. Under the destruction of the northern barbarians, a gap was quickly opened from the fence. Several northern barbarians immediately swarmed in and laid a line of defense in the camp. Then other northern barbarians began to file in. The famous northern barbarians with longbows were the second group to enter the camp, and as soon as they entered, they immediately separated two people and climbed the arrow tower to take this arrow tower for their own use.

Rina left ten northern barbarians responsible for guarding this arrow tower, and then led others to scatter and sneak in towards the nearest camps.

Here is the final part of the plan.

And the next battle can only advance purely by force. Of course, the priority processing position is naturally the fifteen arrow towers in the camp.

"Are you ready?" Rina asked.

The dozen or so northern barbarians who followed her and entered the camp nodded, with a solemn expression on their faces.

"Then let us start a big fight."

Rena gave a deep drink, and then violently opened the tent curtain and came out. A patrol team that happened to come oncoming and Rena and others encountered the scene opposite the scene. The logistics personnel of these patrols were still wondering how someone appeared suddenly, but Rina had already pierced with a shot at this time, directly piercing the throat of the soldier in front. The blood arrow even spilt out along the trajectory of the spear, forming a red blood line.

Immediately afterwards, the northern barbarians hiding in the tent immediately filed out, throwing guns, and directly annihilated the two patrols.

Such a tragic scene of battle naturally fell into the eyes of other patrols.

In the next second, an exclamation sound immediately sounded throughout the camp: "Enemy attack!"
