

Lord of War Vol 2-321

Chapter 321: .The lines that make people miss

Shaun's gaze moved away from the two of them, and turned to look at the black crystal demon leopard that was already scarred but still insisting on trying to escape.

The survival of this black crystal demon leopard is really very strong, even Sean can't bear it.

"Your Excellency." A middle-aged man who stopped in front of Sean stepped out, blocking Sean's line of sight, "We discovered this black crystal demon leopard first."

Hearing the other party's words, Sean was taken aback, and there were a lot of blurry spots in his sight.

He still remembers a long, long time ago, when he first started playing "Miracle", he often encountered such scenes.

There will always be many people running out to show off in front of him, and then say that this place has been reserved by some guild, and irrelevant people will wait to leave. Many players with no background and strength will be directly dispelled. If they don't leave, they will usually end up being killed by a group of malicious pk. The people backed by the guild are on par.

And when everyone's level began to rise, and the players' skills and tactics began to occupy a more important position, then it was no longer popular to rent a room for leveling, but it became popular to pack bosses. After all, the equipment and materials produced by the boss are the real big players in the game, and it can also determine the future strength of a guild, so the battle at that time was naturally more fierce than during the private practice period.

As a result, professional terms such as boss grabbing, leaking, and waste picking began to appear frequently in the game.

Sean clearly remembers that the first time he led the team to kill the boss, he was in the Forest of Gray Shadows. At that time, he was also chasing a Black Crystal Demon Leopard. Unfortunately, it was because of a small command error. Let the severely injured Sombra Demon Leopard escape successfully. They chased and searched in the Forest of Gray Shadows for two and a half hours before finally rediscovering the trace of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard. But at that time, when they rushed to the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, the Black Crystal Demon Leopard was missed by another team that was not weaker than them.

At that time, the other party said exactly the same thing as the middle-aged man in front of him.

"This is the Sombra Demon Leopard that we discovered first."

"I really miss it." Xiao En sighed slightly, and there was a bit of missed God in his eyes.

The two middle-aged men who are really not too young looked at each other, they were a little bit jealous in their eyes, and of course they were still a little bit unclear. Although Sean's words were not loud, they were both masters at the Silver Peak, so Sean hadn't deliberately lowered the concealed voice. Naturally, he heard very clearly.

The two of them are wondering at this moment, what is the nostalgia that Sean said about it?

Both of them are over forty years old, and they have been in the industry of demon hunters for at least 20 years, even if they don't fully understand the affairs of this circle. At least he's not unfamiliar where he is going. Only at their age to reach the peak of silver strength is naturally hopeless gold in this life. Otherwise, who would like to be a demon hunter who might die when he died?

So someone like Sean is already at the pinnacle of silver at a young age. They will definitely be a little bit jealous, because it usually means that the other party either has a strong background or is talented. If such a person can not provoke, no one is willing to provoke them. After all, not everyone thinks like David and Robbie that having a strong brother can be arbitrary and domineering.

His brother Dianes is only half-footed into the golden realm, and he is not considered a real golden powerhouse. At best, the hunter circle in the Kingdom of Darbion is a bit famous, not to mention the hunter circle on the southern continent, even the hunter circles in several countries around Darbion are not necessarily so famous. Not to mention in the entire miracle continent.

Shaun's eyes gradually returned to normal.

he knows. No matter how much he misses, he has nothing to do with everything in that world.

Now, he is a person from the Continent of Miracles and a lord. He must be responsible for those who follow him now. How can he indulge in the past?

Raising his head, Xiao En's gaze became calm and steady. This look made the hearts of two middle-aged demon hunters who were over forty sinking slightly.

They are so familiar with this look.

"I only need the blood and skeleton of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, and the other materials belong to you." Xiao En said in a deep voice.

True demon hunters will never easily make enemies and enmity. Generally, they will first remind and report, and then test Xing's shots. If they are not a last resort, they will never attack. Of course, if you decide to make a move, it will be a real life-and-death situation.

Since the opponent has given him enough respect, he certainly can't break the rules of the demon hunter.

Like the team he met that year that picked up his leak, the request he made at the time was also to split the trophy in half.

Hearing Xiao En's words, the middle-aged man on the left raised his brows and his face became a little yin sinking: "Do you know the most precious place of a black crystal demon leopard?".

"Of course." Sean said.

The three most precious places of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard are the fur, the skeleton and the blood. However, the fur of this black crystal demon leopard is obviously damaged. Even if it is finally peeled off, it may be difficult to sell at a high price. After all, the fur is no longer complete; and looking at the situation of this black crystal demon leopard, it is obvious that it has lost too much blood. , I am afraid that there will not be too much blood. Considering that the blood needs to be purified and condensed, even if the blood of Warcraft is more than that of humans, it is not bad to be able to harvest two liters of purified blood in the end.

So after counting, the most precious place of this black crystal demon leopard is the skeleton, which is at least worth tens of thousands of Pan-Continent gold coins.

But as soon as Sean opened his mouth, he would drop this valuable part, and he would drop the blood. How could they agree? What's more, the six of them are still a temporary squad. This time they formed a team because they had a common mission goal. The harvest was not bad. They were preparing to return to the underground black market to sell trophies, but they didn't expect to encounter them. To this black crystal demon leopard, they all felt that they were favored by the goddess of luck.

But no one thought that he would jump out of such a lion's big mouth.

"Your Excellency is so big that you are not afraid of breaking your stomach?". The man on the left who raised his eyebrows said in a deep voice again, but his tone was not friendly anymore, obviously he had already thought of doing it.

"Really." Hear the man's words. Xiao En was taken aback again, although he shook his head and let out a laugh, "If it weren't for knowing that it is impossible to meet those people again, I would doubt that you are that guy pretending to be."

Hearing Sean's obviously contemptuous words, the face of the man on the left had become very ugly, but the brow of the man on the right was slightly frowned.

"Boy, in this world, you are the pinnacle of silver at such a young age, but don't waste such a good talent." The man on the left is already a little impatient, he said this sentence is obviously a final test. I want to know whether Sean is just because of his talent or his strong background. "Or, do you think you alone will kill us?" Having said that, the middle-aged man glanced back and finally Seeing the face of Cecilia, who was overdue. His eyes lit up suddenly: "Yeah, I was wrong. It's two people. It's still a beautiful girl."

Shaun's eyes suddenly cold, and awe-inspiring murderous aura suddenly burst out.

At this moment, the faces of more than two middle-aged men who stopped Sean changed drastically, and even the four people a little further away were shocked. Even the black crystal demon leopard was also bent down. The pupils are full of horrified ***** se. He didn't dare to take this opportunity to escape at all.

It is so strong that it almost forms a real murderous intent. How many life and death wanderings, how long will it take to be in the blood of the corpse mountain, can it be formed!

Even if the two silver pinnacle masters have been in the circle of demon hunters for 20 years, they have not formed such a strong murderous aura! even. Even in the circle of demon hunters on Darbion's side, they have never seen or heard of someone whose murderous aura can be so solid!

You must know that those who can form this kind of murderous aura are definitely not unknown people!

At this moment, the six demon hunters present immediately realized that Sean was definitely not a member of Darbion's demon hunting circle, but was probably a person who was well-known in the Southern Continent's demon hunting circle.

"Your Excellency..." The demon hunter on the right finally had to speak and try to round the field.

He knew that it would be absolutely impossible for them to eat this black crystal demon leopard today, unless they could kill the young man in front of him and his female companion. But he is so clear that if they are a team, there is still a possibility of fighting, but they are just a team dying together. Of course, it is impossible to fight the young man in front of him, and if they really want to fight, then The first person to die must be one of the three most powerful men.

The demon hunter on the right quietly glanced at the temporary companion on the left with the corner of his eye, and found that he was already holding the spear tightly and was ready to shoot at any time. Obviously he already knew that Sean's murderous aura that soared into the sky was completely directed at him, so once he did it, he would definitely be the first one to shoot at him.

Thinking of this, the demon hunter couldn't help sighing in his heart. He hoped that he wouldn't really start his hands. Because according to the temporary agreement when forming the team, if they encounter trouble, the six of them will have to support each other, which means that no matter if they do it or the other young man does it, none of them can get out of the relationship.

However, the development of things is completely different from the direction that the middle-aged man hopes.

"Do you know? The words you just said are exactly the same as what I said when the person who tried to kill the Black Crystal Demon Leopard from my hand said." Xiao En sneered, and the long sword in his hand swung slightly. "If it weren't for me to know, and I would never see this person again, I really doubt that you are him."

The two middle-aged men at the silver pinnacle narrowed their eyes: never see again, doesn't that mean death?

If before Sean broke out this murderous intent, they might still doubt a little bit, but now the murderous intent exuded by Sean is extremely shocking, they would not have the slightest doubt at all. At this moment, recalling that when I saw this Sombra Demon Leopard before, it was already scarred, and what Shaun said at this time was "snatch the Sombra Demon Leopard in his hand", and the two immediately thought they themselves I have realized the key to this problem.

Obviously, this black crystal demon leopard was not what they found, but was badly injured by the young man in front of him. They just picked up a leak. It is ridiculous that they even told the young man that it was the black crystal demon leopard they had discovered first.

A silver pinnacle master who can seriously injure a black crystal demon leopard with his own strength, and his murderous aura is so cohesive that he has almost no obvious injuries. What is the combat effectiveness of this young man? They just think about it. You can already understand.

But at this moment, they had no time to regret, and even had no time to say the words to stop, because they could already feel that the murderous spirit of the young man in front of them suddenly condensed, and then it seemed that the entire space was completely cut off from the world. Generally, the sudden sense of emptiness makes everyone feel dizzy, and it seems that even their own movements and consciousness have become dull.

Then, they finally saw that Sean moved.

Chapter 322: .Law Fragment

Shaun's goal is very clear, that is, the middle-aged man with the most arrogant attitude on the left.

This is a high-level silver pinnacle master holding a spear.

Maybe he is still a long way away from the golden realm, or he may not be able to step into this realm for the rest of his life. But as a demon hunter, and a demon hunter who has been in the industry for twenty years, his combat experience, vision and consciousness are extremely rich. Only by looking at the momentum and movements of Sean rushing towards him, he knows this. Young people definitely want to kill themselves.

But desperate, are the demon hunters afraid?

He admitted that he might have underestimated Sean before, and didn't realize that his murderous aura would be so condensed.

But no matter what, he is also a demon hunter, a demon hunter who wanders on the edge of countless lives and deaths, how could it be so easy to admit defeat. Even at this moment, he felt that his energy and blood were a little bit uncomfortable, and there was a cold illusion all over his body, but he still died without holding his hands, he was unwilling and unwilling to die, so he suddenly let out a roar, and his aura Also climbed to the top.

"what!"

The middle-aged man let out a roar, then raised his hand, preparing to force Sean back with a straight shot, and then wait for an opportunity to regain control of the rhythm.

These are all the combat experience of the demon hunter. For him, it is like eating and drinking water as a kind of self-conditional anti-she, and there is no need to think about it. As for Sean's desperate style of play, it's also not worth mentioning in his eyes, because in his opinion, Sean's whole body is all flaws. He only needs to avoid the key points. As for the injury, he is a little bit. Don't care, because he is not fighting alone.

is near!

is closer!

Pick up the gun!

Seeing Sean getting closer and closer to him and finally entering his attack range, the middle-aged man immediately picked up his gun and got up.

The position he is aiming at is very accurate, that is Sean's heart!

As long as Sean dares to continue to fight for injuries with him, then he doesn't mind taking this opportunity to kill Sean. Anyway, he is ready. As long as Sean's attack is on his side, he will be slightly sideways, even though he is in this position. It still belongs to the key, but he is confident that he can escape this fatal blow. Only Sean is different. The heart has always been a source of strength for the strong. As long as the heart is destroyed, its power will be completely lost.

An enemy as dangerous and terrifying as Sean, if he is not solved here, he will probably be trembling in the rest of his life.

As the distance gets closer, not only this middle-aged man can see everything about Sean, but Sean can also see everything about him.

In the eyes of this person, what Sean saw was a kind of enthusiasm, that was the enthusiasm for the desire for victory.

People like this, in order to survive, usually do whatever it takes and do not care about the consequences.

If you change the environment and situation, Sean will definitely not choose such a risky and desperate means of attack, because his greatest advantage is speed. Especially after turning on adrenal stimulation and light body surgery, his speed is difficult to compete with even the average golden powerhouse, not to mention that these experts who have not yet entered the golden realm are all in the eyes of Sean. It's not worth mentioning.

But I don't know why, but at this moment, he has no idea to dodge at all.

It's not so much that Sean doesn't want to avoid it at all, but it's that Sean's subconscious is constantly telling him that this shot will definitely not stab him.

In the blink of an eye, Sean has already entered the attack range of this middle-aged man.

But something surprising happened. The gun in the middle-aged man's hand has not been raised!

For experienced demon hunters like them, when to pick up the gun and when to shoot, it is already an instinctive reaction, and it is impossible to calculate it wrong. But at this moment, not to mention the horror in the eyes of the middle-aged man-you know, the spear is a long weapon after all, and this weapon must be within a certain range to be effective. The distance is too close and too close. Yuan could not attack at all, and at this moment, after Sean stepped into his attack range, the next step was already out of his attack range-so not only this middle-aged man, but even the other one next to him was also a high-ranking silver. The middle-aged man holding a sword at the pinnacle also had horror in his eyes.

how so!

But before these two people think clearly, a cold light suddenly disappeared.

Shaun's attack is here!

I saw a head still with a frightened face, and when the cold light disappeared, it flew up.

Yijian Xiaoshou!

That is one of Sean's favorite attack methods, and this method does have an extremely strong deterrent effect.

Just like now, the five silver masters were completely shocked at this moment so that they did not dare to move easily, and even felt that the surrounding space seemed to become colder, and the awe-inspiring killing intent on Sean's body became more intense and solid. .

With only one sword, Sean killed a high-ranking silver pinnacle master.

Although Sean has always been very relaxed when dealing with the upper silver pinnacle masters, but he has never felt the way he does today. It is a feeling of holding everything in his hands. It seems that as long as his breath can diffuse and cover, everything around is also in his induction. This feeling is related to the curse imprinted by him. Blood charm It feels very similar.

Is the power of law?

Sean frowned and stretched out slightly, with a touch of surprise in his eyes: how could it be possible?

Law, that is the part of the world, and it is also the basis and rules of all power in this world.

Such as fighting spirit, magic, divine power, etc., all are manifestations of the law. With a deep understanding of the law, the stronger the power can be obtained. Especially when the golden experts step into the sanctuary, at least they must be able to successfully touch at least one world law before they can enter the sanctuary, which is the so-called canonization. This is why the sanctuary can easily crush gold. The reason for the strong.

But Sean is only the pinnacle of upper silver. It stands to reason that it is impossible for him to touch the power of the law, because his body cannot withstand the blessing of the power of the law. Once forcibly touched and used, the only result will only make him His body exploded into fly ash in an instant. But at that moment, he actually felt exactly the same feeling as when he used Blood Charm.

That is definitely the power of law!

But blood charm, this kind of curse seal ability, is a special ability unique to curse seal swordsmen. Although it is indeed borrowed from the power of the rules, they do not need to use this as a burden, because they need to bear this kind of cast on their behalf. The power is consumed by the demons who are sealed in the curse seal. It means that they are indirectly using the power of the law to fight, rather than directly controlling it, so this is actually an essential difference, and it is also the main reason why the curse seal needs to be continuously strengthened to gain stronger power.

At this moment, Sean has almost completely forgotten his current environment.

He can't wait to open the genus panel directly, because he knows very well that he is completely different from people in this world. His body is completely replaced by data, so he can directly query his genus panel anytime, anywhere. Variety.

Almost at the moment when he opened the genus panel, Xiao En was completely stunned: under the personal genus, suddenly a line of words appeared out of thin air.

Sean clearly remembered that it was the content that only appeared after stepping into the sanctuary. Because at the beginning of the game, he also officially entered the ninth rank and became a sanctuary powerhouse. Only two new content appeared under his personal genus, one is [power body], and The other is [the power of the law].

At this moment, the line of content that appears under the personal genus is the power of the law!

is just the power of the law, which is somewhat different from the power of the law in Sean's impression, because it is not a complete law, but just a fragment of the law.

But Shaun knows that only powerful laws, such as laws above the third level, will appear in fragments!

In the game, the concept of the power of the law was divided into five levels from top to bottom based on the pyramid structure, the first level is the strongest, and the fifth level is the weakest.

Usually the rules that players master are the lowest five-level rules, which is a relatively complete rule. The reason why it is relatively complete is that it naturally means that this rule is not the final road, but if the player has perseverance and perseverance, he can strengthen and improve the rule by completing the relevant rule task chain, so that the five-level rule can evolve into four. First-level rule, third-level rule, and first-level rule.

And if there are players who are lucky, then they can directly obtain the three-level rule.

The higher the level of the law, the greater the power it represents. Of course, the rule that upgrades from level 5 to level 3 can't be compared with the natural level 3. In particular, the level distinction of the pyramid structure rules is very strict: the high-level rules have absolute authority over the low-level rules, which is a complete suppression. Of course, this suppression refers to a complete law. If it is an incomplete law like a fragment of the law, it is of course impossible to suppress the low-level complete law, but may be suppressed by the low-level complete law.

It's just that the game was originally designed to not disrupt the balance, so all the rules above level three appear in fragments. If you want to make the fragments of this law complete, you must complete the related law task chain, but these tasks are more than ten times more difficult than those of the low-level law task chain, so even the moment Sean came into this world, He has never seen anyone complete the three-level rule, and the most powerful one has only collected three fragments.

But on the contrary, dozens of players have successfully upgraded the five-level rule to the fourth-level rule, and even his original president upgraded the four-level rule to the third level.

So at this moment, when Sean first saw this fragment of the law appear, he was shocked.

But it is by no means happy!

Especially, there is still an unknown law on this fragment of law.

[Unknown Law Fragment: This law is formed by your killing intent and anger. It is full of accidental and unrepeatable xing, so you have no way of judging what kind of law it is, but the only thing you can be sure of is this It is definitely a catalyst for superior laws. Through it, you may be able to grasp the power of a powerful law, but now because the law is incomplete, it prevents you from forming your own domain, but its power allows you to have a field. ]

【Field of Unknown Laws: You can form a special space with a diameter of 15 meters. In this space, all your enemies will be affected by the slow effect, and you and your allies will get the swift effect bonus. Special note: Maintaining the field requires a lot of jing divine power. If the jing divine power is insufficient, life force will be used as the maintenance price, and it will automatically end when it is in an endangered state. 】

Chapter 323: .Next it's your turn field, Sean knows this stuff very well.

It is the rudimentary form of the field, like the golden powerhouse can deter the enemy with aura, relying on the effect of the field. When you touch the rules, you can start to use the power of the rules to affect the enemy, then the field will be upgraded to a domain, which is the so-called domain, home field.

Of course, it is said that there is another kind above the domain, and that is the so-called world.

The world is almost equivalent to the kingdom of the gods. It is no longer the use of rules, but directly generates derivative-level rules.

But Sean also knows that whether it is a field or a domain, its activation and maintenance require the consumption of Jing divine power. After all, this is a rule of use and control, and once the Jing divine power is insufficient, it will naturally be unable to maintain the field or domain. This special ability. As for the need to consume life force as a support, Xiao En has never heard of it, even if it is a domain formed by the three-level rules, it only needs to consume Jing divine power.

Of course, jing supernatural power is expressed in the form of mp in the game.

But in this real world, Sean knows very well that there will never be something like mp, so jing divine power is such a vain thing, so how much a person's jing divine power is depends entirely on his usual self perception and experience. . Especially for magicians, knowing their jing divine power limit and magic power limit is the first thing they need to master. This is why all magicians do not learn new magicians immediately after they are successfully promoted, but first pass the past. The reason for the magic to be performed again.

Only in this way, they will know what kind of changes their magic power and Jing divine power have made. Because when the magic power and jing divine power are in the bottom state, they will feel a dizziness and tingling, so that they stop continuing to cast spells.

But this situation is useless to Sean.

Because once Sean Jing's divine power is insufficient, it is his vitality that needs to be consumed to maintain the place.

The manifestation of        in the game is to deduct hp. In the real world, there is no such thing as hp that can be deducted, it is directly squeezing the vitality in Sean's body. In other words, if he reaches the critical point of jing report standard, then he is not as simple as having a headache, but is likely to collapse directly to the ground, no different from being hit by weak magic or being seriously injured.

Thinking that the situation would become like this after the show venue, how could Xiao En dare to continue standing here in daze and wasting Jing's supernatural power.

Demon hunters are a group of people who are truly on the verge of death. Those who have no experience and consciousness have died long ago. They can live to the present and are powerful. They are definitely a group of ruthless people who dare to fight and kill.

If it is really a dead end that cannot be solved, then no matter how strong the opponent is, they will definitely fight back with the heart of the demon hunter. As long as they can break a tooth of the opponent, they will also fall with a smile.

With the murderous aura exuded by Sean. How do these demon hunters know that today's situation is mortal? So when I saw Xiao En's slight loss of consciousness just now, the remaining five demon hunters would not hesitate at all. They are very clear. Given the power gap between them and Sean, if you work hard, you may still have the idea of surviving. If you run away, you will definitely die. Naturally, there will be no more nonsense or the idea of running away.

But it wasn't until all five of them moved that they finally understood why their companion didn't have time to shoot.

Their speed. Actually all of them slowed down!

Although their thinking has not changed the slightest, they can still clearly observe the movements of their opponents, but it is also useless if their minds can't keep up with their actions. at this time. The only thing they are grateful for is that they are determined to make a move. If they wait until Sean makes a move and then counterattack and then find that the action is slow, then they are really dead unclear.

At this moment, what they think is naturally that Sean shouldn't recover so quickly.

Although I don't know why a demon hunter who is so brilliant and experienced like Sean will lose consciousness at this moment, but for them, it is simply a golden opportunity.

Cecilia was the only one who could clearly see these people taking action.

But she is not too close to the battlefield, so there is not much magic with enough sheer range, but no matter which magic power will affect Shaun, she is not sure with her current ability. Controlling these magics can avoid or reduce the damage to Sean.

Many magic spells, effects, and power flashed in Cecilia's mind one by one, but she couldn't pick a suitable one, which made Cecilia even more anxious. But it's impossible to watch Sean die just like that. Although she doesn't know why Sean was lost in a daze at this moment, she knows that this must be caused by a very important reason. Celia decided not to think too much, and first throw a flame with the least power to pop it up.

But at this moment, Cecilia finally saw Sean recover!

Sean didn't know how long he was absent, but he also knew that he was absent before the war. This is definitely a taboo!

Especially his opponent is a demon hunter!

At this moment, Sean was a bit grateful, but fortunately, he had just acquired this special ability to slow down his opponents and at the same time make himself swift.

Sluggishness, this is a very common curse magic. The only effect is to reduce the target's agility value. The floating value is determined by the target's resistance to xing, the caster's skill level, and the level difference between the two parties. It can be said to be a floating value comparison. Big curse magic.

Sean did not know the specific agility values of these people, but based on his experience, he only slightly compared the opponent's previous and current shooting speeds, and he already knew that he had come to a conclusion, at least it was cut by two. Ten agility!

Generally speaking, the changes in the force of the rules are consistent with the special areas such as the field, domain, and boundary formed by the force of the rules. In other words, if the opponent's agility value caused by sluggishness is reduced by 20 points, then the relative agility value increased by swiftness will also be 20 points!

This increase is definitely not the icing on the cake for Sean.

Because of the 20-point agility increase, it will become forty-point under the action of adrenal stimulation!

Originally, after activating the light body technique and adrenal stimulation, his agility has already broken through the two-hundred-point level, reaching two hundred and fourteen. According to the original data increase of the game, a single attribute xing value of more than two hundred points requires an increase of more than 50 points to produce a more obvious change. Otherwise, the 14-point increase in agility value and a little bit of agility increase are actually not the same. Big.

But now because of the 20-point increase in agility, Sean's agility has reached two hundred and fifty-four points, completely breaking through the 250-point level!

If it is said that Sean had to rely on Requiem to kill the lower gold powerhouse before, then now that with this increase in this field, even if he does not use Requiem, he can kill the lower gold powerhouse as long as he finds the right opportunity. Even the top gold powerhouses can pose a threat.

It can be said at this moment. Shaun is truly qualified to fight with the golden strong, rather than relying on requiem to kill his opponent!

With the qualifications to fight head-on-head against the gold powerhouse, these silver masters in front of them can no longer be seen by Sean, not to mention these people are obviously affected by the slowing effect: even the middle-aged closest to him The man had already swung his sword towards his neck, and he seemed to be planning to use a sword. Sean could even feel the chill radiating from the sword.

But Sean is only slightly on the side, he is not even interested in Ge Jian. It easily dodges the opponent, which can definitely be regarded as a killer blow in peacetime.

Then. Shaun didn't entangle the middle-aged man at all, he turned and greeted the other four.

Seeing that Sean, who was almost mortal, suddenly came back to his senses, and then easily avoided the mortal blow of the middle-aged man and rushed towards them, in the eyes of these four demon hunters. Exuding complete despair.

For such an enemy, Sean had no intention of being merciful at all, and with the strength of these four people. Not to mention him, even if Cecilia meets alone, it won't be too dangerous, so it is naturally impossible for Sean to run over to deal with them specially.

His real goal is the black crystal demon leopard behind these four people!

Shaun hasn't forgotten. This is his real goal. If it weren't for this Sombra Demon Leopard who wanted to sneak away when they were fighting, Sean would definitely have dealt with the middle-aged man at the upper silver pinnacle before turning around. Pack these people. But since the Black Crystal Demon Leopard who just pretended to be dead wanted to escape, of course Xiao En couldn't let it go, so he turned around and attacked without hesitation.

As for the four demon hunters, they are purely incidental.

Whether they were desperate or begging for mercy, Sean did not intend to let it go, because if he faced the demon hunters in a different environment, these demon hunters would also not be able to let him go. In this world, kindness and forgiveness also depend on the target, but blindly forgiving the opponent is simply finding sin for oneself.

So without the slightest hesitation, Sean swung his sword, and didn't even use his vindictive spirit—it was not that Sean was too big, but to deal with these enemies who were inferior to him and were slow, indeed, he did not use vindictiveness. necessary. Of course, there is another reason, that is, the dark power in Sean's body has become larger, so if you can't use skills such as dark vindictive or demon hunter's mark, then naturally it is better not to use it.

No one can see clearly how Sean made the move. All that can be seen is that Sean and the four demon hunters are in the wrong place. The carotid artery of these four people has been broken through a hole and splashed out. The blood was like four blood arrows staggered out of the air, but after all, it failed to leave a trace on Xiao En's body.

When these four fell to the ground, Sean was already standing in front of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard.

This black crystal demon leopard, who has been seriously injured, has no power to fight against Sean in its heyday. It has almost no power to turn black again, and its eyes are full of extremes. Fear. If it is normal, Sean may not really kill this monster. After all, Sean has seen too much unusual in this black crystal demon leopard, at least in Sean's impression of the IQ of the third-level monster. It can't be this high.

But the situation is different now. Sean really needed the bones and blood of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, even if the Black Crystal Demon Leopard had very little blood left.

The dead bone in his hand gently poked the black crystal demon leopard's forehead, and the look in the eyes of the black crystal demon leopard gradually collapsed.

Until then, Xiao En finally raised his head to look at the middle-aged man at the upper silver pinnacle, grinning: "Next it is your turn."

Chapter 324: .Bannock's mind

Bannock and Jerry have spent five days abroad, and the appointment with Sean has already ended, but the two have still not left.

"Uncle Bannock, it's been five days, can they come back?" The question was Spean, Bannock's distant relative.

The potential of this teenager is indeed exhausted. Not only Sean can see this, but Bannock and Jerry can naturally see it. It's just that as a demon hunter, if you don't have the strength, you can't mix in this circle, so in many cases, even if you know that it will hurt you, it's to improve your strength as quickly as possible, not like Sean. , Cecilia and Rena are in such a gradual cycle.

It can be said that the reason why Spean will never make progress for the rest of his life has a lot to do with the improvement of his strength.

Glancing at his nephew, Bannock hesitated for a moment or said, "Wait another day or two."

"Old guy, I know what you are thinking." Jerry glanced at Bannock, and then said, "If you can become a follower of that adult, you won't be so hard, but how do you know that adult? He will definitely want us?...Pandaling, I have heard that if he is really that adult, then the people under his command are definitely better than us."

"I know." Bannock nodded, "But I am a defender! And the strength is stronger than before, I think... there is hope for a win!"

Hearing what Bannock said, Jerry was taken aback for a moment, and then he said nothing.

Defender, this is indeed a talent that many people desire very much. Whether it is a nobleman, a mercenary group or other adventurous team, no one will refuse a defender to join, because an excellent defender is the life of the entire team. Assure.

But Jerry knew that at first Bannock tried to seek refuge with the nobles in nearby territories, but at that time his strength was not strong, not even silver, so if he accepted Bannock's refuge at that time, then It is equivalent to investing in Bannock and cultivating it. This does not only mean huge expenses in the future, but also many other problems.

This was a big burden for the southern aristocrats of Darbion, who had just ended the war with the Principality of Ryan, so the aristocrats naturally did not agree. However, it is also unrealistic to ask Bannock to seek refuge in the Duke of Tequila and Duke of Burns, because for these dukes with strong background, they really don't mind long-term investment in a person with great potential in the future, but Does Bannock, who was born as a demon hunter, have the potential to make them look forward to?

The answer is obvious.

Therefore, in these years, Bannock has also forcibly stimulated all the potential in the body regardless of loss, and finally raised his strength to the level of upper silver, but the price is no different from his nephew Spean.

Jerry certainly knew that Bannock was still holding a sigh of breath, and the appearance of Sean was actually equivalent to a glimmer of light for Bannock. But Jerry is still worried. He is worried that Bannock will run into a wall again this time. If Sean is unwilling to accept Bannock by then, this will hit Bannock very severely and may even be destroyed. All his beliefs.

So actually, Jerry thought the same as Spean, and didn't want to stay here anymore.

But he also knew that at this time, Bannock would definitely not agree.

As an old partner and friend, of course Jerry could not forcefully obstruct him, so he could only say: "We will wait at most one day! Don't forget that there were several groups of people entering this sea of flowers before, if you really hit the Sombra Demon Leopard. , That lord must suffer a big loss."

He believes that Sean can easily kill David and Robbie, and he is definitely stronger than them, but he still does not believe that Sean can win if he encounters several demon hunters at the same time. And in the past few days, I don't know what's going on. Many demon hunters have actually entered this sea of flowers, but Jerry and Bannock have already learned about the dangers in the sea of flowers from Sean, so They did not enter rashly.

They just need to wait for Sean to come back, that's enough.

While waiting anxiously, time has not stopped passing. Although it is difficult to distinguish between ri and ri in Gray Shadow Forest, it is not that difficult for the demon hunters.

Jerry glanced at Bannock, who was still a bit helpless and unwilling, and sighed: "Go."

Although he was a little helpless, Bennock knew that there was nothing to say about this kind of thing, so he could only silently mention his shield and prepare to leave.

Maybe I was really out of luck.

Bannock smiled somewhat self-deprecatingly.

But the moment Bennock lifted the shield, his ***** was stunned, and turned into a happy se. Jerry on the side saw Bannock's expression and immediately raised his head as if guessing something. Of course, the worry in his eyes was obviously thicker than surprise. But Spean, who stands on the other side, doesn't have the worry in Jerry's eyes. He is really happy. As for what he is happy about, it's not difficult to guess, because his eyes have always been on Cecilia. Body.

Soon, Bannock greeted him, but at this time the joy of se in his eyes had been well hidden, replaced by a calm face: "My lord."

"I thought you all left." Sean's eyesight is not weak, so he can see Bannock and others from a far away place, and of course Bannock and others can be seen from a long distance. happy.

Sean knows that this is because his body has been digitized, so he can easily distinguish distant sounds and see distant scenes. Of course, this long distance is not very far, two or three hundred meters is not a problem. This is equivalent to the ultimate vision that a low-level silver master who focuses on the road of bow and arrow can reach; as for hearing, it is also two or three hundred. No problem in Minai.

In this world, many people do not choose their professions to promote their personal attributes, but choose their professions according to their own attributes. This is completely different from the players in the original game. Of course, one is the virtual data of the game, and the other is the real person who exists in reality. Therefore, this difference is also very normal. As Sean gains more in-depth understanding of the world, he becomes more aware of what he has gained. Kind of benefits.

"Fortunately, my lord, you are here, otherwise we might really leave." Bannock smiled.

Originally, he wanted to ask about the Sombra Leopard, but Sean and Cecilia looked a little embarrassed, and they were empty-handed, and even the backpack that was going from them before was gone. , I knew that Sean and the others might not go well in chasing Sombra Leopard, so Bannock certainly wouldn't ask about this kind of thing to embarrass Sean at this moment.

Sean glanced at the eyes that Bannock had just aimed at his hands and back, and he knew what he was guessing.

In fact, the Black Crystal Demon Leopard had long been processed by Sean into a pile of materials and hid in the space ring, and the remaining waste and the corpses of the six people made Cecilia a fire. All burned. It was just these things, he felt that there was no need to tell Bannock and others to listen to, even if Bannock became his followers now, he would not tell Bannock these things, it is not distrust, but it is not necessary That's it.

"Then, let's set out now to the underground black market." Sean changed the subject altogether.

"Okay." Bannock nodded.

He now wants to take refuge in Sean's command, no matter what the final result is, then of course he has to look ahead with Sean at this moment. Jerry could see the mentality of his old friend. Although he regretted that he might return to going it alone in the future, he still sincerely hoped that his old friend would succeed, so he didn't say anything. Even more will not put on the air of a leader at this moment.

As for the distant nephew of Bannock, although he doesn't know what his uncle is thinking, as a demon hunter, obeying the commands and orders of the old rivers and lakes is their first priority for these novices. No matter how long he has been in the industry of demon hunters, in Sean's mind, he will still trust and listen to what his uncle says.

So the group of five people did not make any stop in Huahai, and soon set off to move towards the location of the underground black market.

This time, there is not much attention to the formation. Although Jerry is still at the beginning, Sean and Cecilia are walking in the middle of the team, while Sean and Bannock go. On both sides. Perhaps because of familiarity with the road, Jing Ji Xing is obviously much lower. Of course, Sean knows that this is because this route is very safe, because according to the unspoken rules of the hunter circle, there is a certain area around the underground black market. Cannibalism is forbidden inside, so just looking at the attitude of the three of Bennock and others, Sean knew that he was not far from this underground black market.

However, as the journey progressed, Sean discovered one thing, and that was that he had already seen Spean's affection for Cecilia.

Perhaps at the very beginning, because Sean and Cecilia's thunder methods were too shocking, they really frightened the three of them, but as the peers grew longer, Spean's observation of Cecilia naturally also There will be more. Although he is a demon hunter, Spean is only a young and energetic boy after all. Although he knows that his identity is absolutely not worthy of Cecilia, he will still try to attract Cecilia along the way. Cecilia's attention, it's just a pity that all his methods are the result of failure, let alone a straight eye, even with a glance from the corner of her eye, Cecilia owes it completely, which makes Spean very A little frustrated and helpless.

For this situation, Sean is a little happy in his heart.

After the last two days of the trip, Xiao En and others finally came to a big tree.

Chapter 325: .Three-level underground black market

This is a sturdy tree that grows very vigorously. At least four to six people are needed to hug it.

Shaun knows this place.

In the game, this is an important sign used to distinguish the marginal area from the deep belly area.

In the entire Grey Shadow Forest, there are a total of three such giant trees, which form an equilateral triangle from the map markers. The three points of this triangle correspond to Pandan collar, Yedby collar, and Berbish collar. Within the scope of this triangle is the deep belly area of the entire Grey Shadow Forest.

The position of the sea of flowers is located on the edge of this triangle, from the vertex of the Jederby collar to the vertex of the Berbice collar.

If you go around the spring pool deep in the sea of flowers, then you can just enter the deep belly area of the Grey Shadow Forest from the center of the straight line extending from the Yadby and Berbish, where is the hunting of the thunder and fire two-headed lizard Activity area. When many players were going to fight the thunder and fire two-headed lizard, they would choose this shortcut to start. Anyway, as long as they don't get too close to the spring pool in the depths of the sea of flowers, they will not attract the attack of the two-legged scorpion wolf.

Judging from the walking distance these days, Sean can be sure that the location of this big tree should not be in the area of Yadby, but in the area of Panda.

"This is the entrance to the underground black market?" Xiao En asked with some confusion.

Because of the existence of this big tree, no other trees will grow within a radius of 30 meters, which makes the surrounding environment completely clear. Because woody plants grow larger, they need to absorb more nutrients. The big tree in front of you is ten meters high and its crown covers a radius of ten meters. The nutrients needed are at least 30 meters in radius.

In this way, if it must be said that this is an underground black market trading place in the circle of demon hunters. Then the entrance must be on this tree.

For Sean's question, Bannock nodded: "Yes."

Then, I saw Bannock walking to the big tree, reaching out and knocking on the tree.

Xiao En's eyes narrowed slightly, and he heard a slight noise inside the tree, and his heart suddenly understood.

Sure enough, as he had guessed, the entrance of this underground black market was indeed opened on this tree.

It just made Shaun a little depressed that he was also a member of the Demon Hunter camp in the game, but he didn't know that there was an underground black market in Gray Shadow Forest. At the beginning, how could he be one of the strong teams that dominated the Forest of Gray

Shadows, but he has come and gone so many times. How could he be happy without discovering this hidden place at all.

Soon, a figure appeared on the tree about three meters high.

Because the tree yin is hidden, it is difficult to see the face of this person, and can only vaguely judge that this is a man. But from the opposite position. The other party can easily judge the faces of the people standing under the tree, so the identities of Xiao En and others can naturally be seen easily.

"It turned out to be Bannock and Jerry." The man on the tree glanced at the crowd. Then smiled. "Who are the other three? I haven't seen them."

Hearing this, Xiao En's heart suddenly jumped, and he finally knew why he didn't know this underground black market.

Member referral system!

Demon hunters are no better than demon hunters. The latter is a complete organization supported and guaranteed by the Great Guild, while the former is a spontaneous private organization. Therefore, in all aspects of transactions, the sales channels of the Demon Hunter are usually full of unspoken rules such as eating the dark and the weak. Unlike the demon hunters, it is not as secure as the demon hunters, so it is naturally a dangerous behavior for some weaker demon hunters.

In order to ensure the existence of the hunter circle, there is also an underground black market as a trading place.

As long as you trade in places like the underground black market, there is no need to worry about being hacked. There is no need to worry about behaviors such as strong buying and selling. Of course, to trade in such a place, you must pay a certain protection fee and venue fee to the organizer. This is also a way for the underground black market to make money.

Underground black markets like this are all over the whole wonderland, so there will naturally be high and low points in the circle of demon hunters. According to the differences in the number of black market people, the size of the black market, the strength of the black market, the number of jingles, and the popularity of the black market, there are five levels of distinction. The higher the level, the more good things can be collected in the underground black market. It is equally difficult to find and enter a black market of this size.

The member referral system is only available in the underground black market above the third level.

To explain in terms of the game, that is, after a player joins the hunter circle, he must reach a certain level of popularity in this circle before someone sends the relevant invitation letter, and then the player can enter the invitation letter with this invitation letter Qualifications for the marked three-level underground black market. Naturally, this kind of invitation letter can only be used by one person. If the player wants to introduce a second player to enter, then he must reach a certain level of contribution and reputation in this underground black market before he can introduce the second person to enter.

Of course, as a player referrer, if something goes wrong with the referee, then the referrer is responsible for everything.

Shaun's pupils are shrinking, a third-level underground black market, no wonder he doesn't know this place.

Just in this way, he suddenly understood why his other old opponents in the game had some good things produced from time to time, presumably all of them were bought from this underground black market.

"These two are old friends I met on the road. They used to be in the circle of the Principality of Ryan. This time I came here to hunt the demon. I think if I can buy the materials I need here, I won't have to have so much trouble." It was Bannock who spoke. He introduced it cheerfully, and at the same time reached out and threw a purse up. With Bannock's strength, it is not difficult to throw this purse to a height of three meters, so the other party is very relaxed. He caught it, "and this is my nephew."

"It turned out to be like this." The man standing on the tree put away the purse without a trace, then smiled and nodded, but when his eyes fell on Sean and Cecilia again, Sean But it can be clearly felt that this person suddenly becomes a little nervous.

At this moment, Sean immediately realized a problem!

The average demon hunter will hunt demon in the active area of Warcraft for a long time, so it is easy to get out of touch with the outside world. The understanding of external affairs is not deep and thorough enough. But places like underground black markets do not have this kind of problem, because their essence is a kind of trading house, so communication with the outside world must be very frequent. Therefore, even if the understanding of the outside world is limited, it will definitely not Will be as ignorant as Bannock, Jerry and others.

Obviously, his identity has been seen through.

Although Bannock and Jerry have not yet stepped into the golden realm, they can become masters of the upper silver pinnacle, and their perception of aura must be very keen, so they noticed the underground black market gatekeeper and Xiao on the tree. En became tense at the same time, and immediately realized what was wrong. So it also became a little nervous.

But at this time, Sean noticed a very subtle detail.

That is that Bannock took a step closer to him. Although it was only one step, if the fighting broke out suddenly, then he could cover Cecilia in the first place.

This is a very clear attitude.

And Sean can notice this. The gatekeeper standing on the tree condescendingly can naturally find the change more easily, his eyes changed slightly. A smile appeared: "The outside is not peaceful recently. Berbis has big moves, so even the black market has become a little restless, like this young lady's outstanding appearance, I am afraid it will cause some unnecessary troubles. Seeing that it is Bannock and Jerry's friends, I will give you two cloaks in disguise. To avoid too many unnecessary problems."

Speaking like this, he saw that the gatekeeper disappeared in front of everyone with a single turn. Xiao En immediately knew that the entrance to the underground black market was in a tree.

Bannock, who was on the side, also began to explain at this time.

It turns out that these gatekeepers at this entrance will also work part-time to sell some things. However, it is not the material of Warcraft, but things like cloaks, hoods, veils, or some first aid medicine. Of course, the price is usually ridiculously expensive, but sometimes to avoid some trouble or to make people seriously injured. Of course, this little money still has to be spent to get medical treatment.

After a while, the gatekeeper reappeared, and he casually threw two cloaks with hooded veils towards Sean and Cecilia.

The cloak is very rough, and even has a weird taste. The production cost may not even need a silver coin, but Sean has learned from Bannock that just such a cloak will sell for hundreds of gold coins. This is simply a profitable business.

But Sean and Cecilia didn't say much. Since their identities have been exposed here, it is better to put on this cloak in order to prevent unnecessary trouble. Sean's purpose is very simple. It is to come to the underground black market to buy some materials he needs, and kill Dianes by the way, and then he will leave here, so if you can avoid some unnecessary troubles, it would be better. NS.

The distance of three meters is not a big deal for the silver masters, except that Cecilia needs Sean to hug it, and Sean needs to borrow some strength, like Bannock and Jerry just run a little bit of vindictiveness. Can jump up easily. However, after coming up, Xiao En discovered that there is something else on this tree, because the terrain above it is not spacious, and the entrance to the underground black market is a trap in the tree. As long as the gatekeeper is standing here, it is simply It can be said that it is a posture of one man, and it is not easy for anyone to rush in.

After climbing to the tree, the gatekeeper said nothing more this time, so Bannock led the way and led Sean and others into the tree gate.

After entering the tree door, there is another spiral staircase. The staircase is not dark, because people in the underground black market are inlaid with fluorescent stones in the tree. The faint fluorescence just illuminates everything in the tree. Let people just step on the air and roll all the way.

Following Bannock, Sean and the others quickly came to the real location of the underground black market—according to Sean's judgment, it was nearly fifty meters deep from the ground at this time. This depth plus the sound of the soil As long as you don't fight in this underground black market, no matter how loud it is, you won't find it. No wonder this underground black market has never been discovered.

In fact, it was exactly as Sean had guessed.

When he and Bannock and others crossed the arched gate that symbolizes the city gate in the underground black market, they saw a place that was almost indistinguishable from a normal city.

Although the dome here is only five meters high, and the traces of artificial carving are very obvious, it is not a small expense to cover the entire dome with fluorescent stones like this underground black market. Of course, if it's just a fluorescent stone, then Sean won't be surprised, but if there is a condensing stone about the size of a fist in every three-meter radius of the sky made up of fluorescent stones, then this handwriting will It can be said to be great.

The luminosity of fluorescent stone is very limited, and it can only illuminate a small area, such as a dome about five meters high, even if there are more fluorescent stones, it will not completely illuminate the entire underground black market, but if you add a light-concentrating stone, It's different. This concentrating stone can be regarded as an artificial magic product, not a natural product, but it has a function, that is, it can absorb all the light within a three-meter radius, and then release it.

is equivalent to saying that each concentrator is a small highlight lamp.

Under the action of densely packed fluorescent stones and condensing stones, the entire underground black market looks as bright as daylight.

But what is really incredible is that this underground black market actually has a city-like construction plan. Although there are no patrols and people to maintain law and order, it can be regarded as a lot of houses, but most of them are earthen houses, and only houses made of stones Only a few—at least within Sean's field of vision, and none of the houses made of wood.

As for these houses, almost all of these houses are shops selling materials. Of course, there are a few shops that do not sell materials, but are semi-finished products that have been made through several processes. As for the shops selling finished products. Sean didn't see any of them. For such a scene, Sean is actually understandable. After all, he has seen these underground black markets in the circle of other demon hunters before, but those underground black markets are not of this scale.

Shaun even saw some familiar Chamber of Commerce trademarks!

If it weren't for Bannock's vow to say that this is an underground black market, and people walking around here are also humans, Sean would almost think it's an underground city!

Can not help but make Xiao En a little puzzled: Could it be said that underground black markets above Level 3 are all of this size?

Chapter 326: .What I want is very simple

Sean knows that the underground black market has its scale and prosperity divided by level.

At least he knew the location of several third-level underground black markets, and even the location of a fourth-level underground black market. Of course, these well-known underground black markets are only circulated in the circle of demon hunters, people outside the circle will not know, and even people in the circle want to enter these underground black markets, the difficulty is not ordinary Big.

The third-level underground black market has already started to use the member referral system. For example, Sean must be introduced by Bannock and Jerry before he can enter. Of course, Sean also knows that in the real world, it is definitely not as troublesome as there are data-hard rules in the game, just like Bannock didn't make a referral just now, he just bribed the gatekeeper.

But this kind of bribery may still work in the third-level underground black market, but the fourth-level underground black market is impossible.

Because the fourth-level underground black market uses an evaluation system.

In addition to being recommended by someone, you must complete a mission issued by the underground black market to be eligible to enter the fourth-level underground black market.

Although Shaun belonged to the circle of demon hunters in the game, he has not been to the third-level underground black market, so it can be said that the third-level underground black market of Gray Shadow Forest is really Shaun's first. Enter the third-level underground black market.

"Isn't this only a place in the circle? How come there are so many outsiders?" Xiao En looked at the chamber of commerce marks with a puzzled look.

There are no fewer than ten chambers of commerce that can be seen on the street in front of you, and there are even ten chambers of commerce at the dominant level.

That is a flag. On the bottom of the gray se, there is a group of thunderclouds surrounding it. The light blue se's luster is dotted on the black thundercloud. It looks as lifelike as this thundercloud is really shining with a thunderstorm. . A bright blue lightning struck from the thundercloud.

Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

The top ten chambers of commerce ranked fifth. It is a chamber of commerce that specializes in materials for Warcraft and alchemy. The biggest sales difference between this Chamber of Commerce and the No. 1 Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce is that the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce almost only sells all kinds of raw materials, but occasionally there are some good semi-finished products for sale, and the magic materials sold by the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce, Although it can also be regarded as a kind of alchemy material, it is all semi-finished or simply finished products, so if you want to buy raw materials, naturally you should look for the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

But since it is one of the top ten chambers of commerce, not only the varieties must be complete. Even the price might not be so cheap.

Shaun really did not expect that there would be chambers of commerce in this underground black market.

seemed to see Sean's surprise, and Bannock next to him reminded him in a low voice: "Leiyun Chamber of Commerce generally buys all kinds of materials here and hardly sells them."

"Just an acquisition?" Xiao En was taken aback, he was still thinking about it just now. If there is the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce here, then he doesn't need to visit too many places. Just go to the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce to buy it. But when he heard Bannock's words, Sean felt a little depressed, "This Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce's idea is really good, buy it at a low price here, and sell it at a high price when you go back. It deserves to be from the top ten chambers of commerce. You won't suffer at all. "

Of course this is not a good thing. Bannock just smiled helplessly, but didn't agree with anything.

"I don't know what kind of materials do you want, my lord?" There are only two behaviors when entering the underground black market of the demon hunter, one is to sell the materials of Warcraft. The second is to buy the materials of Warcraft. Sean will come in empty-handed. Naturally, for the purpose of purchasing materials. Of course, he has told Bannock and others before, so at this moment Bannock is not so stupid to ask Sean if he wants to come. What are you doing here.

"Oh, what I want is very simple, it is black lizard tail bones, snake beast fangs..." Sean is not familiar with this underground black market. He knows that if he finds these materials, he must waste a lot of time and energy. , So he didn't care about Bannock's good behavior, and directly reported the name of the material he needed.

Listening to Sean's words, Bannock nodded slightly: "I don't know if there are any special requirements for this black sauropod and snake beast fangs? Such as appearance, length, weight."

"No." Shaun shook his head. These two materials are the polishing materials needed by the Flame Lion fangs. They are only used to enhance the sharpness and penetration of the Flame Lion fangs. They are not the main material, so there is no quality. Requirement, "But the demand is very large, and these two materials need about two to three kilograms each."

"Two to three catties!?" Jerry was a little surprised.

Although black lizard tail bones and snake beast fangs are both low-level popular materials, these two gadgets are small in scale, and one piece weighs a few grams. Even if Sean has no quality requirements, if he wants to swallow it in one breath With such a large amount, this can be regarded as a relatively large acquisition in the black market, and several thousand gold coins are still needed. But the real problem is not money, but that these two materials are produced from low-level monsters, and those who can enter this black market must be powerful demon hunters, and they must have no interest in hunting low-level monsters. .

"Although the amount is a bit larger, it shouldn't be a big problem. Just go to a few more places." Bannock knew why Jerry was surprised, but they were very familiar with the underground black market, so they were only slightly surprised. That's it, it's not that difficult.

Hearing Bannock said no problem, so Sean continued: "About ten kilograms of bone magic stone, five iron cow skeletons, the hard shell of the stream turtle, the heart and tail feathers of the snake eagle, and the soft neck are also needed. There is no requirement for the white bone magic stone. The skeleton of the iron cow must be blue and complete; the hard shell of the stream turtle must be an adult stream turtle; the tail feathers of the snake eagle must have five feathers, and the soft neck must be two meters. Neither too long nor too short."

If Sean asked Bennock and Jerry for two or three catties of black lizard tail bones and snake beast fangs just a little bit of surprise, then this time Sean needed materials that shocked them to the point of speechlessness. To the right degree.

Bone Magic Stone is a special magic mineral material that a kind of monster named Bone Jackal eats various stones, minerals, metals, and then is digested in the body and finally excreted. Ten kilograms is a standard amount. Anyone who buys this bone magic stone starts with ten kilograms, and usually only ten kilograms can not be used to make anything at all, the most is reinforcement and polishing. Bennock and Jerry knew immediately that Sean was going to use the ten kilograms of bone magic stone to reinforce his weapon.

In fact, the two people's guesses are indeed somewhat correct.

It's just that Sean is not used to strengthen his weapons, but to strengthen the weight of the Fire Lion's fangs, which can increase the lethality of the Fire Lion's fangs-of course, it is purely to strengthen the durability of the weapon in the game However, the lethality of a heavy weapon in the real world is largely determined by its weight.

If it is normal for Sean to want the Bone Demon Stone, then the five full-green iron cow skeletons and adult creek turtle hard shells make them feel really tricky.

The Iron Bull Beast is a four-level beast. The whole body is as hard as iron. The only material available is the bovine bones. The skeleton naturally refers to the skeleton that supports the entire body of the gray shadow iron bull except for the head and limbs. . However, the pan-green iron cow skeleton is only available in the fifth grade gray shadow iron cow. The skeleton is harder than the fourth-level iron bull, so it is naturally very difficult to kill the fifth-level gray shadow iron bull, but the fifth-level beast is already at the top of the food chain in the gray shadow forest, and it is not a demon hunting. Both can be easily captured, so usually even such a pan-blue iron cow skeleton can be obtained. It will definitely cause some damage to the bovine bones.

Sean directly asked for a complete pan-green iron cow skeleton, so naturally it should be non-destructive. The entire underground black market doesn't know if there is a pair of this kind of skeleton. Not to mention that Sean is five when he speaks. Moreover, according to the principle that things are rare and expensive, a skeleton like this must sell tens of thousands of gold coins, and five skeletons can cost 50,000 to 60,000 pan-continental gold coins, but even this rack may not be able to buy. arrive.

Compared to the iron bull beast, the stream turtle, which is also famous for its outstanding physical defensive ability and is famous in the Grey Shadow Forest, is much less difficult to capture than the iron bull beast. It's just that Sean's request is also not simple. Because adult creek turtles are relatively rare beasts in the Forest of Gray Shadows, they are boss-level in game terminology, so just the hard shell of this adult creek turtle is not more valuable than five. The green iron cow has a low skeleton.

Compared with these two Warcraft materials. Sean's request for Snake Eagle is almost at the level of a little witch.

The only trouble is that there is a limit on the length of the soft neck of the snake eagle.

It's just that this kind of trouble is equivalent to the trouble of black lizard tail bones and snake beast fangs, and you can always buy it in a few more places.

"There is a problem with the iron cow skeleton and the hard shell of the stream turtle. If you really can't find it then, I'm afraid I can only go to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce to try my luck." Bannock and Jerry looked at each other, and in the end it was Benno. Ke said, "But for such a large transaction, I believe the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce will not refuse it, but it is very likely...to give some blood."

Bleeding, this is the jargon in the circle of demon hunters, which means that the charge is more expensive.

However, Sean had already anticipated this a long time ago. After all, it is possible that the underground black market is not profitable. Usually, the price of the underground black market is about 30% higher than the normal market price, but this price is still acceptable to Sean. Yes, the most important thing is that the three materials of monsters such as snake eagle, iron cow, and stream turtle must be obtained, because these are the other three of the four main materials used to make the black crystal strong magic potion.

If it hadn't been for Sean to accidentally obtain the bones of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, he would not ask for trouble to get these difficult materials.

So when he heard that Bannock was about to bleed, Sean didn't say anything, because this time he brought out half a million pan-continental gold coins. It must be enough to buy these materials. Cecilia's making the wand was postponed.

"By the way, I still want to..."

"More?" Jerry was stunned when he heard Sean's words.

"Of course." Sean nodded, but he probably saw the thoughts of Jerry and Bannock, so he smiled, "Don't worry, the materials requested this time should not be difficult. It is not the materials of Warcraft, but the gray. It's just some plant materials in Shadow Forest."

Hearing Sean's words, Bannock and Jerry relaxed slightly. They were really afraid that Sean would suddenly say something about the Thunder and Fire two-headed lizard.

This thing is impossible to get!

That is the overlord of the Grey Shadow Forest!

"I don't know what other plant materials the adults need to buy?" Bannock asked.

Compared with Warcraft materials, plant materials are relatively lighter, but relatively there are relatively few in the underground black market, unless it is some special plant materials. After all, if many plant raw materials are not made into semi-finished products, no one wants them. However, there are too many processes to make semi-finished products. It feels thankless. After all, the underground black market is mainly engaged in the trade of Warcraft materials.

So Bannock hoped that Sean would not speak out some weird material requirements.

"I need a heart of the Flamewood tree, and the three-month-old twigs from the Flamewood tree with the heart of the Flamewood tree, and then I need the strange heart grass, the magic vine grass... oh, that's right, It's better to have another 5th-level beast crystal core of fire type xing..."

Hearing the so-called "not difficult plant material" that Sean said last, Bannock and Jerry were directly petrified.

Well, strange heart grass and magic vine grass are really not difficult plant materials, as long as you find a place, you can simply pick up rotten street materials. But are things like Homaki tree heart not difficult materials? This thing is comparable to the sum of the hard shell of an adult stream turtle and the skeleton of a pan-blue iron cow!

There is also "the three-month-old twigs broken down from the flamewood tree with the heart of the flamewood tree." What kind of ghost is this?

Never heard of it!

The nucleus of level five monsters?

The only kind of beast with fire genus Xing in the Gray Shadow Forest is the **** gray shadow forest overlord, the thunder and fire double-headed lizard of the sixth-level beast!

There is no difficulty in this Nima call! ?

This Nima asked me to ask for something very simple! ?

In the hearts of Jerry and Bannock, there seemed to be countless iron bull beasts rushing past.

is still the kind of pan-green skeleton!

Chapter 327: .hostility

Shaun felt that what he wanted was really simple.

Of course, the main materials of the Black Crystal Strong Magic Potion are indeed a bit difficult. After all, the Black Crystal Strong Magic Potion is a precious A-grade potion used to upgrade the level of magic equipment.

Therefore, in addition to the bones of the black crystal demon leopard, the skeleton of the pan-blue iron cow, and the hard shell of the adult stream turtle, it also needs the heart of the snake eagle, the five-hair tail feathers, the two-meter-long soft neck, and the magic potion and Magic power puts she potion. But in fact, except for the bones of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard, which are materials that can not be found, the other materials can be easily obtained with a little perseverance and perseverance.

It's just that Sean has forgotten that this world is not the game he knows, so many materials in the Forest of Gray Shadows don't mean that you will refresh it after a while. The so-called "refresh" in this world is all based on the year, and it takes at least 30 years for a stream tortoise from egg laying to adulthood. Although I don't know how long the Gray Shadow Forest was born, it's adulthood. It is a fact that there are definitely not many stream turtles.

Of course, the difficult things in this world are not only the materials, but the formulas of alchemy potions are extremely scarce.

However, compared to the difficulty in collecting materials, for Sean, the formula of the black crystal strong magic potion is really an issue that does not need to be considered-although Sean is not an alchemist, he is right about this formula I remember very clearly, because he had obtained this formula in the game.

The game "Miracle" is a real presentation of the production of alchemy potions, so the formula is not just a sticky note. It will accurately record the materials and refining methods needed for the potions. The fact that the player obtains the formula is equivalent to recording the content on the memo, and will increase the success rate of making potions, but even if the player does not have the formula. But if you know the formula and the process steps of refining the medicine, you can also refine the medicine, but there is no addition to the success rate.

The black crystal strong magic potion is a potion that can increase the magical equipment to a powerful gold level.

Of course, the number of times the potion can be used is also limited by the talent of the alchemist.

Similar to the materials prepared by Sean, it is possible to make a large bottle of black crystal strong magic potion that has been used five times. However, if the refined alchemist is not talented enough, it is possible to make a small or medium bottle. Sean only hopes that the alchemist he finds at that time will not be too stupid. At the very least, even if he can't make a large bottle of Black Crystal Strong Magic Potion, he can make a medium bottle that has been used three times.

After all, Flame Spear Shattered Kong only needs to be strengthened once, and then it can be refined into a powerful level.

This way. Even if Sean of the Flame Lion's Fangs made it into a weak effect by accident, he could also use this bottle of black crystal strong magic potion to upgrade to the level of golden strong effect.

So, Sean puts almost all of his attention on finding materials.

However, even with the two earth snakes, Bannock and Jerry, leading the way, the progress of the collection of materials is still unsatisfactory.

Although black lizard tail bones, snake beast fangs, snake eagle heart, snake eagle five-hair tail feathers, white bone magic stone, two-meter-long snake eagle soft neck, these things, it only took Sean and the others half a day to buy them all. At the same time, he also bought the two materials that were prepared to make Cecilia's wand by the way, strange heart grass and magic vine grass, but the most important part of the material was still not available.

But in just half a day. All the merchants who sell materials in the entire underground black market and the demon hunters who are going to sell materials already know that the gray shadow black market has an unusual guest today-after all, the gray shadow black market is a third-level underground black market. But guests like Sean who spend tens of thousands of gold coins in one breath without blinking their eyes are also a rare type in a thousand years.

But even if these people want to make money from Sean as a client, when they know what kind of material Sean is buying, these people still shake their heads and give up this unrealistic idea, because they have not reached a certain scale. And a strong store, it is impossible to have the materials that Sean needs. But even for those shops with a certain scale and strength, the materials in their inventory can't satisfy Sean.

Even the shop where the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce is stationed. The same is true.

Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce is the largest chamber of commerce in this gray shadow black market after the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce. Even on the Marvel Continent, the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce is a powerful opponent that can compete with the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce. And most importantly. In this gray shadow black market, the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce is not like the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, which almost only buys and does not sell, especially the powerful Chamber of Commerce. Naturally, their inventory is also extremely rich, at least like black lizard tail bones and snake beast fangs. Sean buys materials such as the soft neck of the snake eagle that are in relatively large demand and have special requirements.

For shops like this, they may not have materials such as flame wood tree cores, flame core twigs, or adult creek tortoise shells, but there will be several pairs of pan-green iron cow skeletons. But after checking it carefully, Sean shook his head in disappointment.

A total of seven pan-green iron cow skeletons, but the best-looking one is only eighty-nine percent complete, which still cannot meet Sean's requirements.

In "Miracle", any material has never been divided in quality, there will only be a distinction in use and some basic related data, such as hardness, activity, softness, completeness, etc., but only in some relatively large or The mark of completeness only appears on special materials. However, although the game does not differentiate between the levels of these materials, players still have a set of criteria for judging the level of materials.

According to the different grades of the medicines, these materials naturally have different grades.

For example, the black crystal strong magic potion is a grade potion, so the four main materials of this kind of potion are the iron cow skeleton, the creek turtle hard shell, and the black crystal magic leopard bones. Generally, they are one level lower than the main material, so auxiliary materials such as snake eagle heart, five feather tail feathers, and snake eagle soft neck are classified as b-level materials. As for the two bottles of medicine. Because they are all c-level drugs, they are not included in the scope of this material.

Of course, a classification standard like this will of course have some other requirements. For example, the iron cow skeleton is occasionally the main material or secondary material of some b-level and c-level alchemy medicines, so naturally it belongs to b-level and c-level alchemy. C-level or even d-level materials. So after the practice of countless players, I finally found that the material's quality, hardness, completeness, activity and other data are not used for display, but have a real big effect.

The iron cow skeleton that can meet the standard of a-grade material must be pan-green se and have a completeness of more than 90%, but there is not much requirement in terms of hardness.

So even if the completeness of the best iron cow skeleton in front of Xiao En's eyes has reached 89%, it is only because it is 1% worse. Therefore, this iron cow skeleton can still only be regarded as a B-grade material.

Seeing Sean shaking his head helplessly, Bannock thought for a while, and still said, "My lord, should we go to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce and try our luck?"

He wants to take refuge in Sean, so naturally he needs to show himself in front of Sean. It's just that the materials that Sean asked for weren't something that could be bought by running errands. The shops he was familiar with had already been run across the entire underground black market. However, the main materials such as iron cow skeleton, stream turtle hard shell, flame wood tree heart, and flame heart twigs are still not available. This makes Bannock feel a sense of helplessness of "more than one heart but not enough energy."

At this moment, even the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce can't produce the iron cow skeleton that satisfies Sean, so the entire underground black market is only left with the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

However, the big name of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce is also very famous in the entire Gray Shadow Black Market, and of course, as Bannock, he is not qualified to play in front of the deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, so he did not dare to pack his votes, and could only say to touch it. luck. The implication is simple. If you are lucky, you might actually be able to buy it, but if you are not lucky, you might be really hopeless.

But when the deacon of the Dawning Light Chamber of Commerce next to him heard what Bannock said, he immediately became anxious: "Several people, are you not satisfied with these skeletons? These are the best iron cow skeletons!"

"Some things. As long as there is a little lack, the effect will be completely different." Shaun shook his head and said, "These skeletons are indeed good, but they are still a little bit behind my requirements.... I think you should know. As long as there is a slight deviation in the selection of any material in alchemy, the effect of the potion produced may cause irreparable extreme differences."

Xiao En's remarks are quite pertinent. The integrity of the seven iron cow skeletons in front of him is between 87% and 89%, and the distance to the a-level standard is only a little bit worse, but it's just that. Little bit, so all these skeletons are useless. Of course, Sean also imagined that he could find a skeleton with a completeness of 100%, but he also knew that this thing was impossible, because even if he could get more than 95% of his shots, it would be good.

While saying this, Sean still looked at the 89% complete iron cow skeleton in front of him with a little regret: "Hey, if there is no such a crack, it would be fine."

"Humph!"

But as soon as Sean's words fell, a cold snort suddenly sounded, and then a middle-aged man who looked like an iron tower stepped into the room, staring at Sean with extremely unkind eyes. There are also a few experienced demon hunters behind them. The aura of these people is very calm and solid, which is obviously the aura of the upper silver pinnacle. However, this kind of breath is not scary for Bannock, Sean, Jerry and others at all. What really shocked Bannock and Jerry was another extremely yin-cold breath in these people, which was obviously extremely Condensed murderous spirit.

It seems that none of these people are younger than 30, and even some of them are probably older than 40. You can easily judge by contacting the murderousness of these people. These are experienced demon hunters with extremely rich combat experience. By.

But Sean didn't understand that he shouldn't offend these talents. Why would they be hostile to him?

The circle of light red se brilliance shown in the real eye will not deceive Sean.

"Your voice is really not so big." Ignoring Sean's puzzled gaze, the brawny man standing beside the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, Yin said with a sneer, "I actually said such an iron cow. The skeleton does not meet your requirements, I am afraid you are here to make trouble?"

Hearing this, Sean finally understood why these people were hostile to him. It was just that he did not answer the words of the strong man of the iron tower. Instead, he turned his head and looked at the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, and said in a deep voice, "Your deacon, is this the way the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce handles things? He wants to buy strong. Can't sell?"

Chapter 328: . What about the strongest?

The demon hunter is a lone traveler, but even a lone traveler will definitely have a few friends who can safely give their backs to their lives and deaths. Although these people usually play their own roles, if necessary, they will of course help them. This is obviously the case with the demon hunters in front of them. Sean even dared to bet that they were in the first place. The idea must be the idea of hitting the thunder and fire two-headed lizard.

So many experienced and experienced demon hunters with rich combat experience and consciousness gathered together, and among them there were even pseudo-strong men who had half-footed into the golden realm like this brawny iron tower, if not for the thunder and fire double heads. When the lizard left, Sean couldn't believe it when he was killed.

Ambitious people like this must not be from the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce. There should be some kind of cooperative relationship between the two parties, such as long-term purchase orders or certain mutually beneficial transactions.

But Sean still ignored them, and instead turned to the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce.

The reason is simple.

Since the other party is speaking from the perspective of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, if he wants to drag the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce into the water, then Sean doesn't mind giving them this opportunity. Although he didn't want to provoke the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, which can compete with such a behemoth as the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, but he was even more unbearable to be stabbed in the back, so Sean would say this kind of forcing the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce to show its position. Words.

Sure enough, after hearing Shaun's words, the face of the deacon of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce changed several times, and even the faces of the demon hunters looked a little ugly.

Sean has never been a master who is willing to suffer.

As a lord, he often has a feeling of being unable to use his hands and feet when dealing with matters on the territory. After all, many things are related to the whole body, and there are so many people following him under his command. , He must be responsible for them, so he must be cautious and careful when making every decision, so the means he can use is the way of checks and balances.

Every time I try to maintain a relative balance, and then try my best to improve my advantage under this balanced premise.

Just like the previous intervention of the Peace Association, Sean decisively threw out the deadly bait and negotiated a condition with the Peace Association. If this were not the case, I am afraid that he would never have swallowed the two territories of the Kingdom of Dabion.

If Sean has the background and strength of a powerful marquis, or even a powerful duke, this time even if the kingdom of Darbion uses an army of 250,000 to form a general encirclement, Sean will dare to fight with it. But it is a pity that he currently does not have this kind of background and strength, and even his military strength is seriously inadequate, so Sean can only seek opportunities from other aspects.

But if as a simple adventurer, then Sean is a way of checks and balances that don't have to care about these shit.

After all, this world was originally a world respected by the strong, and now he still has a piece of law fragment, so as long as he is not a strong at the sanctuary level, Sean has no fear at all. It is precisely because of this fearless and powerful strength that Sean does not care about the attitude of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce at all. Even if all these demon hunters in front of him go together, Sean is not afraid at all, so he can naturally do it. This aggressive attitude.

The way of checks and balances, after all, is just a way of collateral trickery.

As long as the strength is sufficient, any yin scheme will not work at all.

A deacon of a chamber of commerce who can sit in a black market must be extremely extraordinary in terms of mentality, execution ability, or other aspects compared to ordinary deacons. Otherwise, they would have been eliminated from the competition of chambers of commerce. NS.

"These are not members of our Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce." After thinking about it, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce had already figured out the stakes in it. Even with a smile, he completely separated the position of the Chamber of Commerce from the relationship between these demon hunters. , "They are all one of the best demon hunters in this gray shadow black market, and they only have a cooperative relationship with our Chamber of Commerce. It is true that the seven iron bull skeletons that you saw in front of you were actually provided by them. "

In fact, it's not just this deacon who has doubts, I am afraid that anyone who sees these iron cow skeletons will be very confused.

The composition of these seven iron cow skeletons is very good, even if it is a relatively rare type in the market, if it were not the case, the deacon would not have moved the idea of all acquisitions. However, because Sean's previous large-scale and large-scale acquisitions on the black market have attracted the attention of many people throughout the black market, the acquisition process of this batch of skeletons has not been smooth.

As a businessman, buying low and selling high is common sense in trading, so facing the rising prices of these demon hunters, of course, this deacon cannot be taken advantage of. It's just that even if he can't eat this batch of iron cow skeletons, he still has a way to make money, which is to be the intermediary and referrer between the two parties, and relying on past transactions, although for this time the demon hunters are sitting on the ground. I am dissatisfied with the starting price, but as long as I can make money in business, it is not a problem to be a guarantor when necessary.

Of course, the referral fee and the fee after the event are definitely indispensable.

When the demon hunter on the side heard the deacon's words, everyone's faces immediately became even more ugly.

They had heard that Sean was interested in the pan-green iron cow skeleton before, so they would sit on the ground and raise the price temporarily. This kind of behavior naturally offends the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, which has always maintained a good trading relationship with them. But at that time they were very confident in their iron bull skeletons, and the demon hunters were originally a group of people desperate for money, so even if they were offended, there was nothing to do, because the entire underground black market might not be able to find out what was better than theirs. The cow skeleton is a better product, and for this reason, they even paid a referral fee to the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce in advance.

After all, if a guarantor is needed temporarily during the transaction, the reputation of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce is certainly sufficient.

But at this moment, Sean refuses to buy these iron cow skeletons, so they will not only lose a referral fee, but even pay because of their tough attitude when dealing with the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce. Not only can the batch of iron cow skeletons fail to sell at a good price, they may even be severely squeezed in price, so their business is really not worth the gain.

In the face of interests, no demon hunter can remain calm, especially senior demon hunters like them.

Because this not only involves interests, but also honor and dignity, and it is a determination of strength.

At this moment, the aura of the brawny man suddenly burst out, spinning around the room like a storm, and the surrounding furnishings began to shake.

The deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce did not expect that the situation would suddenly become so bad, so he was not prepared to protect the manpower. At this moment, the brawny man's aura broke out completely, and he was shaken back without any strength. After a few steps, his face became extremely pale, and his breathing became completely unsmooth. After all, such a condensed murderous aura, even an average silver master can't completely contend, let alone a person who has no power like this deacon.

Almost at the moment when this brawny man's aura broke out, Bannock stood forward, and his aura was also elevated at the same time.

As a barrier Paladin, endurance and will are the strongest attributes of this profession, and dealing with murderous auras naturally requires high will, so although Bannock's shots only seem to stand forward, they are actually The effect of the above can definitely be regarded as immeasurable-he at least directly withstood more than half of this strong man's murderous outburst. But even so, his nephew stepped back a few steps, his face turned pale.

"Bannock, are you sure you want to intervene in this matter?" The brawny man was a little surprised at Bannock's shot. After all, the profession of defender is very welcome to anyone, so ordinary dealings will be courteous. , But at this moment it is about their future fame in this circle, so even if they fight against Bannock, it will be no hesitation.

"Johnson, you can be regarded as the top demon hunters in the gray shadow black market, even in the circle of Darbion, you are also very famous, are you really doing this strong buying and selling for money today? ?" Bannock shouted unwillingly, but judging from his voice, he could already hear that he was already struggling to resist the murderous intent of this strong man named Johnson.

"Humph!" Johnson snorted coldly, "If such an iron cow skeleton is not satisfactory, I really don't know what kind of iron cow skeleton can satisfy you.... Bannock, even if I don't say it, you You should know that in this gray shadow black market, you can't find a better product than our batch of iron cow skeletons."

For such a case, Bannock certainly can't refute it.

In fact, even he is the first time that Pinse has seen such a perfect iron cow skeleton, because he has also shot and killed the iron cow beast, so the difficulty of hunting the iron cow beast and the difficulty of the skeleton preservation are both personal. Experience. But he is now someone who is going to take refuge in Sean, so of course he needs to perform well, so even if he can't refute Johnson's words, he can't just retreat.

Bannock's silence and his unwavering stance have thoroughly demonstrated his attitude.

Seeing Bannock's appearance, the murderous intent in Johnson's eyes gradually rose, and the murderous intent on his body became more solid. The five demon hunters who were still standing outside the door also took a step towards each other. The murderous aura erupted from them was like a terrifying ocean wave. After superimposing with Johnson's murderous aura, it broke out completely like a tsunami.

Only relying on the murderous intent of these six people, it is not inferior to the average low-level golden powerhouse.

At this moment, Johnson took a step forward, and the murderous intent like a tsunami was finally suppressed.

Faced with such a huge momentum, Bannock finally couldn't bear to retreat ten steps in a row, his face became extremely pale; and Jerry was also very uncomfortable, the situation was even worse than Bannock. As for the nephew of Bannock, Spear, the situation is almost the same as that of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce.

But at this moment, the guards in the Chamber of Dawn Light finally noticed the changes in the reception room, and finally rushed over at this moment. These people actually have a golden power, but they are only the lower gold power. Facing the murderous intent formed by the joint efforts of Johnson and others, he can barely contend, but he is obviously powerless to break the murderous intent of the other party. It's just that Johnson also knows the current situation at this moment, so the murderous aura he exudes was not aimed at the people of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, so the lower golden powerhouse easily walked to the deacon and protected him. .

The air in the reception room was filled with blood, and the battle was clearly on the verge of breaking out!

"Heh." But at this moment, a chuckle abruptly broke the deadlock in the court.

Everyone woke up in shock.

Before, Johnson and others' attention was highly focused on Bannock. After all, Bannock's reputation is still there. But at this moment, hearing the sudden sound of laughter, everyone finally realized that at that moment, they actually ignored another key person. At this moment, when he felt his breath again in the range of perception, John However, a bad thought suddenly rose in Sen's heart.

Because, the position where Sean is standing at this time is still the problem of where he stood before, and it has not changed in the slightest. Even the companion next to him did not move at all, as if the tsunami murderous intent formed by the joint efforts of Johnson and others could not form the slightest deterrent and impact on them.

"Who are you?" Johnson said in a deep voice, realizing that he might have hit the iron plate.

"It doesn't matter who I am." Sean shook his head, and then said, "But there is a problem that you seem to be mistaken.... Even if you are the strongest demon hunter here, what about? You captured these The iron bull skeleton is still unqualified for me.... Could it be that because you are one of the best demon hunters here, the iron bull skeletons you collected are the best? Strong selling is not the same."

"Joke!" Johansson sneered, "Can you find a better iron cow skeleton than mine? Not to mention whether you can find it, even if it is mine iron cow skeleton, can you find any flaws? ?"

"Shall I find faults? The cost of my shots is very expensive, far from what you can afford." Sean sneered, "Oh, these days, the name of the Demon Hunter is becoming less and less valuable. It's no wonder that for so many years, I have not been able to compare with the Demon Hunter. I haven't even figured out the special features and weaknesses of Warcraft. I dare to call myself the strongest Demon Hunter if I have a little strength." At this point, Sean's words suddenly stopped. Then he said leisurely: "In my eyes, let alone you have not become the so-called strongest demon hunter, even if you are the strongest demon hunter, what about it?"

Chapter 329: .Golden powerhouse? I killed more

Hearing Sean's words, Johnson finally calmed down a bit.

A person who is capable of such a solid killing intent but never retreats, even if his strength is not as good as him, but the actual combat effectiveness is definitely not much inferior to him. What's more, he can feel the extreme confidence in Sean's words, which proves that what he said will not be false. But by now, he is already riding a tiger. If he doesn't get his face here to prove his strength and value, then he will not be able to mix in the gray shadow black market in the future, let alone the murderous aura that broke out just now. It was the shock that made the deacon vomit blood, which had completely lost the face of the other party.

So at this moment, Johnson has no retreat!

Not only him, even the five companions behind him who are in a "team" state at the moment, they have no way out.

"I think with my reputation in the black market, even if your expensive fees are high, I can afford it." Johnson said proudly.

"You can't afford it." Shaun glanced at Johnson, and said calmly.

"Joke, what can't I pay for it!" Johnson snorted coldly, but his eyes fluctuated somewhat despite his arrogant expression.

His strength may be regarded as the top group here in the black market of Gray Shadow, but if it is placed in the circle of demon hunters in the entire Southern Continent, it may be barely qualified for the rankings. The group that wants to be the top group is not enough. , Let alone if you look at the entire continent. It's just that now it's hard to ride a tiger, and he doesn't believe that Sean can tell the flaws in his batch of skeletons. After all, not everyone like him will often hunt iron bulls and beasts.

Sean glanced at Johansson, but this look made Johansson feel a little cold.

Only at this time, Sean had already made up his mind to give Johnson an unforgettable memory. Originally, this deal was just a small thing in Sean's eyes. It really wasn't possible. He also planned to hunt the iron bull beast by himself. Anyway, it's just a little troublesome for him. It's definitely not a tricky thing, but it's Johnson's. The chattering arrogance has completely annoyed him. Originally, because things in the territory became very unsatisfactory, Sean's heart was filled with anger. Now Johnson has completely ignited the barrel of gunpowder. If you don't give it to the other party Leaving a deep impression, Sean knew that his next acquisition in the gray shadow black market would definitely not go smoothly.

Thinking of this, Xiao En finally squatted, pointed at the neck bone of the eighty-nine percent completeness of the iron bull skeleton in front of him, and said, "I won't talk about the others, you can see for yourself. What's here."

This position is where the cow skull and neck bone meet.

Under normal circumstances, this position can be regarded as one of the weak points of the iron bull beast, usually as long as a strong attack is applied to this part, it can cause a certain degree of serious injury to the iron bull beast and negative effects such as dizziness, coma, etc. When dealing with iron bull beasts, experienced demon hunters usually use this position as their key attack target. Even if the damage and strength are low, the accumulated damage value is still very considerable.

At this moment, seeing the location of Sean's finger, including the deacon of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce and the strong golden man, all looked over.

"What can be in here?" Johnson snorted, "It's just a small crack, even less than an inch.... Do you want to say that it is because of this crack that these bull skulls do not meet your requirements??"

"Yes." Xiao En nodded, "It is precisely because of this crack that it does not meet my acquisition requirements."

"Haha!" Johansson's hearty laughter rang, and even the surrounding demon hunters laughed, while the brows of the lower gold powerhouse and the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce frowned slightly, "Your Excellency is here. Are you telling us a joke? If you say that you cannot meet your requirements because of this crack, then I am afraid this gray shadow black market...No, I am afraid that no black market can meet your requirements."

Johnson now feels more and more that the person in front of him who should be very young is absolutely bluffing. Fortunately, he was not bluffed by him just now.

"Cecilia, do you see the problem?" Sean completely ignored the ridicule of Johnson and the surrounding demon hunters. Instead, he turned his head and looked at Cecilia and decided Take this opportunity to teach Cecilia, after all, since leaving the Kingdom of Cecilia, he has no chance to continue communicating with Cecilia on the way.

Cecilia walked to Sean's side and squatted down, and then carefully observed the tiny crack in front of the skeleton vertebra.

This crack is indeed less than an inch, it is a very small flaw. If it were her, she would definitely not mind such a flaw. After all, this frame is indeed relatively perfect, unlike other frames that are more obvious in this position. crack. But Cecilia knows very well that although Sean occasionally makes people confused and always makes some common sense mistakes, he almost never makes mistakes about Warcraft and many secrets. Mistake.

So Cecilia is convinced that since Sean specifically pointed out this position, there must be his reason.

Seeing that his iron cow skeleton was actually displayed as educational materials, Johnson's face was inevitably heavy, but at this time he didn't say anything. He has completely blacklisted Sean, so naturally I think he is just doing a dying bluff at the moment. Johnson has already made a decision, if the other party's compensation cannot satisfy him for a while, then he will definitely not let these people go.

Cecilia stared at the crack for a long time, but still couldn't see anything. Shaun reminded him softly: "Don't stare at the crack, try to extend the part. For example, in front of this crack is an iron bull beast. Which part of it."

"Location?" Cecilia said.

There was a kind of stickiness in the light female voice. As soon as this voice came out, the eyes of several people around him suddenly lit up, especially the six demon hunters, their eyes fixed on Cecilia. In the circle of demon hunters, although female xing demon hunters are not too few, they are not too many if they are scattered throughout the continent, and most of these female demon hunters are more cruel goods, so naturally Far less attractive than a woman with a delicate voice like Cecilia.

Feeling the sight of the demon hunters around, Sean snorted coldly, but this time he directly wrote all these people on his hostile list.

And Cecilia, who was the person involved, didn't know the specific situation, but she felt that Sean's aura had changed slightly. Knowing that Sean had already moved to kill, she immediately understood the reason. But at this moment, Sean was protecting her, and she felt a little happy in her heart, so her voice became a lot lighter: "I see! The position in front of this is the bull skull, that is the internal position of the skull, this crack is It appeared because of the shock, so the skull of the cow should also be defective. Then the brain marrow and some body fluids in the skull would be infiltrated into this crack, thus causing quality damage!"

"Yes." Xiao En nodded, with a bit of approval in his voice, "There are seven iron cow skeletons here, but each one has such a crack in the same position. The only difference is that some have So we can easily come to a conclusion that the attacker can't fully understand and control his own power yet, and that's why this defect is caused."

Hearing Sean's words, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce hadn't changed much, but the eyes of the low-ranking golden powerhouse changed in an instant.

People who have reached his level of power naturally know the meaning of Sean's words. Although he doesn't know much about business matters, he is one of his strong points in hunting and fighting monsters, so in fact From the very beginning, when he entered this reception room and saw these iron cow skeletons, he had already seen the problem with Johnson and others. But this problem is not a big problem in his eyes. After all, the composition of these skeletons is very good even for him, so he is also very difficult to understand the dissatisfaction of Sean.

However, if Shaun's words changed the eyes of the golden powerhouse, but others were indifferent, then what Shaun said next was to truly surprise everyone present.

Especially Johnson et al.

"From this attack injury, it is obvious that the hunter used brute force to kill the iron bull beast. The fifth-level iron bull beast is very aware of its own weaknesses, so it will pay great attention to the protection of this part. It's easy, so the people who collected these iron bull skeletons thought of a stupid method, and that was a frontal attack." Xiao En continued to talk, "Even if the iron bull beast's defense power is amazing, but it is only level five after all. It's just a monster, so if you use some special things to launch multiple storms at the same location, you can also cause enough damage. So I bet that these iron bull skeletons sold by these people must never have a bull skull part... .." At the end of the talk, Sean had stood up again, looked at Johnson, and chuckled: "The bull skulls are all crushed, how can they sell them."

Hearing Sean's understatement and almost restored the entire battle, Johnson's face changed again, and the face of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce also showed a kind of surprise. Because he has a lot of transactions with Johnson and others. In fact, as Sean said, the iron cow skeleton sold by Johnson has never had a bull skull part. Although he has asked several times, Johnson But it has always been concerned about it, and has not answered this question directly.

Now think about it carefully, and then look at Johnson's face se, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce immediately understood that what Shaun said was true.

Johnson did not expect that Sean could see his attack method only from this scar, and in fact, he has indeed always relied on this method to obtain the iron cow skeleton. It's just that it's totally impossible to prove that his skeletons are flawed, and it's also impossible to prove that Sean can get a better iron cow skeleton than him. .

Sean looked at the changes in Johnson's face, naturally already knowing what he was thinking, and immediately sneered: "Do you think this is also impossible to prove clearly? Don't worry, since I shot, then I will definitely let you lose. Convinced." While saying this, Sean borrowed a knife from Bannock and carefully scraped out some fine powder from the crack on the iron cow skeleton. At the same time, he asked the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce for a set of purification. Alchemy tools.

This tool is a commonly used inspection tool, so it is easy to meet Sean's requirements.

Of course, Sean actually has a better set of self-made tools, but at present he does not want to reveal the secret of his own space to store tools.

Soon someone sent a set of purified inspection tools. This is a set of five-piece tools including a beaker, a distiller, and a test tube. The jing density can reach the ** level evaluation, although it is compared with Sean's self-made set. The ** evaluation is worse, but it is enough to detect the iron cow skeleton.

For these, Sean is not unfamiliar. After all, after hunting Warcraft in the game, he also had collection tools in this area. Otherwise, he would not be able to decompose and collect the body of the Black Crystal Demon Leopard so perfectly. However, except for Cecilia, everyone present saw Sean's test method for the first time. It was a completely indescribable sense of fluency. There was no time wasted in the whole process, from beginning to end. Sean is constantly working on the action.

Of course, what really surprised people like Bennock, Johnson, and the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce is that the test product that Sean scraped out for inspection just now was less than one gram, which even did not meet the standard amount. However, for such a small amount of powder, there was no waste in the entire inspection process. This near-perfect distribution ratio and inspection method were simply unheard of.

The detection process is not too long, usually just a few minutes.

So soon, when Sean took out two test tubes and poured them into another empty test tube at the same time, everyone knew that the result was being born.

"According to the evaluation standards announced by the Great Alchemist in the Northern Lonely Tower, the black se is completely impurity, the gray se is slightly impurity, and the white se is free of impurities, so what look is here?" Shaun shook his hands. The test tube in the bottle is as dark as thick ink. It's not just the blackening of the face inside. It can even be seen with the naked eye to see the viscosity of the liquid in the test tube. "I also need to explain the viscosity. Is the ratio of degree to impurity content?"

"Huh, then... just cut off this paragraph..." Johnson knew that he couldn't speak in terms of quality when he saw the pitch-black test tube. He never thought that Sean would be like this. The freak is so proficient and well-versed in detection methods.

"Don't believe me if you say you are ignorant." Sean sneered and sneered. "Cecilia, you can explain, I really don't want to talk nonsense for such an idiot."

Cecilia chuckled, and then said: "If it is a normal creature, then a single portion may be insufficient to be supplemented with other bones, but most of the beasts cannot. Especially the iron bull beast, each iron The amount of magic in the body of the bull beast is different, which is why the iron bull skeleton is purchased one by one rather than in batches....Like this iron bull skeleton, as long as this section is flawed Partially cut, then the amount of powder after purification will not be enough, not to mention that the iron bull beast's bones have micropores in order to provide magical flow, so the brain, blood and other body fluid impurities have long passed through this crack and infected the whole. Sub-skeleton, so during the intermediate process of purification, it will continue to consume the already small amount of quota."

"Huh!" Hearing what Cecilia said, Johansson was still reluctant to admit defeat, "Huh, I have never heard that the iron cow skeleton will be insufficient in weight, and..."

Before Johansen could finish his words, Sean sneered at the interface: "That's because of your ignorance. Is the formula I want to prepare comparable to the general low-level formula? Do you think that the iron cow skeleton can only be used for Alchemy?...It's a joke. The iron cow skeleton also has great advantages in enchanting and forging materials."

Hearing what Shaun said, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce suddenly lit up, and even the others had the same surprised expression.

Obviously, this is the first time they have heard that the iron cow skeleton can be used in enchanting materials and forging materials. If it had been a few minutes ago, then they might have heard what Shaun said, but they saw Sean's fluent detection actions, and now they absolutely believed in Shaun's words.

At this moment, Sean has been completely labeled as an "alchemist born among the great alchemists in the northern lone tower" by them.

"Even so, you also..."

"Iron bull beasts have a special response to stone flowers and plants. This plant can purify the impurities in their bodies, which is a key prerequisite for the evolution of iron bull beasts." Without waiting for Johnson to speak again, Sean knew that he still wanted to continue playing tricks. , So before he could say anything, Sean had already spoken, because he really didn't have the patience to continue playing such naive tricks with Johnson. During this period of weakness, their magic power will temporarily condense and will not flow in the body, so they will become indistinguishable from ordinary creatures, which means that during this time, the iron bull beast is the most vulnerable. Even ordinary people can easily kill iron bull beasts."

Sean said that, there is no need to talk about it anymore.

Because this method is used to hunt iron cattle and beasts, it is absolutely possible to obtain an iron cattle skeleton with a completeness of more than 90%. Of course, if you want a higher-quality iron cattle skeleton, there are also other requirements in the hunting method. . However, it is impossible for Sean to say this point. This is a special technique. It is precisely by this means that Sean can obtain an iron cow skeleton with a completeness of more than 90%.

Of course, the stone flowers and plants used as bait are not really precious things, otherwise, no one would use this method to hunt the iron bull beast.

"If you say so casually, it is impossible to prove that it is true or false." Johnson snorted coldly.

"Since I dare to say something here today, I am of course not afraid of someone trying it. Anyway, I believe that after today, a more perfect iron bull skeleton will begin to appear in the gray shadow black market." Shaun shrugged indifferently, "However, we were before. The agreement seems to be that as long as I can prove that there is a problem with your iron cow skeleton, then even if you lose?"

Johnson stared at Sean coldly. He hadn't really thought that Sean would dare to open this mouth and ask him to pay for it.

In this black market of gray shadows, how long has he not tried the taste of being despised?

"This is just a misunderstanding, just solve it."

The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce saw the development of the current situation. Of course he realized that Sean's important role. Not only did this guest have a wide range of insights, but he was also extremely capable. The situation is not just for Johnson alone. There are five demon hunters behind him who are also top-notch players in this gray shadow black market. If so many demon hunters are offended at the same time, he thinks that even Sean would be difficult to live, so He will try to round the field at this time.

Of course, the mentality he holds is also not a good mentality, because the deacon arrogantly believes that in this way, both Sean and Johnson will definitely owe him favor. And if these two relationships are used well, maybe he still has room for further development in the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce.

Businessmen are a group of unprofitable guys.

But, will Sean compromise on this?

Cecilia stepped aside and began to chant the spell silently.

The magic in the reception room suddenly changes very subtle. This change is very slight, but it is still a breath that can be captured by the golden strong. At this moment, the ***** se of this golden powerhouse suddenly changed. He looked at Sean and Cecilia in disbelief. Are these two people crazy? But he had just taken a step, and Sean's voice had already rang.

"I advise your Excellency that it is better not to act rashly, otherwise I will regard this as the malice of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce."

Hearing Sean's words, the low-ranking golden powerhouse didn't know why his heart suddenly jumped, and he had the illusion of a little bit of fear. He actually stopped so abruptly and prepared to take down Cecilia. Turn back and guard the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce by his side.

This extremely obvious action is obviously impossible to hide from the eyes of everyone around. Johnson finally felt the killing intent of Sean, and even glared: "You want to kill me?"

"I didn't want it, but I really can't stand your noise." Sean shook his head. "As an idiot, you must have the consciousness of an idiot. No one knows everything in this world from birth. , But this is not the reason why you can or are qualified to be arrogant.... I said that the price I made was very expensive, and you couldn't afford it, but since you must ask me to make a move, then I can only do so. What you want... Of course, I didn't plan to let go of your companions, but the price they need to pay is relatively light. Each person has one eye. I am very upset with the way they looked at my companion just now. As for you... "

Johnson did not speak, he and the demon hunters behind him were just a cooperative relationship. If Sean was too strong, they would definitely not take action, so Johnson was still worried at first. But now, he is already looking at Sean with a look of dead people, because he actually provokes those guys by himself. With their strength, even the golden powerhouse of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce is unwilling to do so. Easy to provoke.

"Sleep here forever." Sean finished the second sentence calmly.

"Hehe." Johansson finally smiled, "I will return what you said just now to you....Ignorance is not the reason you can or have the right to be arrogant."

After finishing his words, Johnson's awe-inspiring aura broke out once again.

This time, he did not suppress the slightest, and all the reception rooms seemed to be hit by a storm at this moment. The only thing that is still calm is the position of the lower golden powerhouse. That is the real peace and tranquility like the eye of a storm, but he himself knows that although he seems relaxed, it is only Can barely resist the momentum of the six people including Johnson and Johnson.

The murderous outbreak this time is obviously stronger than before. After all, Johnson and others finally no longer have any scruples.

So when this awe-inspiring murderous aura completely erupted towards Sean and the others, Bannock and Jerry couldn't hold on for almost a second and they retreated more than a dozen steps, but Sean and Cecily. The two of Ya still didn't regress in the slightest. It's just that, but the ordinary cloak on his body was also unable to hold up this breath. Almost at the same time that Bannock and Jerry were retreating, they were torn into rags by the murderous intent of Johnson and others. .

This shows the strength of this murderous aura.

Lost the cloak, the appearance of Sean and Cecilia was naturally completely exposed to everyone's sight.

Johnson and others didn't know Sean, but like the deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, he would never know him. Almost the moment he saw Sean's side face, his face changed instantly. How could a large chamber of commerce like them have no idea about the outside world, but he did not expect that in such a critical situation, the lord of the Pandan leader actually has the leisure to come to the black market in the gray shadow!

Sean didn't know what the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce thought at this time. Even if he knew he would not care. The reason why he still has free time to leave the territory now is that he has talents like Neil and William under his command. The most important thing is him. At present, his territory has entered the state of fortification construction, at least until he has not figured out who the new commander of the Nugus family is, Sean will definitely not attack rashly.

So he will have free time to implement other plans.

And the murderous outburst like Johnson and others, for Sean, it really doesn't take it seriously.

In other words, he and Cecilia have also experienced countless life and death battles, whether it was the first confrontation with Mario who turned into a demon in Tindesberg, or the hard journey that lasted for a year, or the wildness. The battle in the land and the recent direct attack on the Thai base camp, which time is not facing the desperate situation of almost absolute death? After these trials, how could Sean and Cecilia be frightened by the murderous aura of Johnson and others?

Fight against the golden strong, they are not once or twice.

Not to mention, the kingly breath that Beth usually exudes intentionally or unintentionally is also an alternative training for Sean and others.

Even without these, the fragments of the law that Sean has just obtained recently can also have a certain coercive advantage in this regard.

With so many advantages combined, if Sean would regress in the face of this murderous intent, that would be a real joke.

"Ah."

A chuckle of disdain, and it sounded again.

After Xiao En's chuckle, Xiao En finally no longer hides anything, and his aura quickly burst out of his body.

When        just started to erupt, Xiao En's momentum was just like a lone boat in the ocean.

indecisive.

Johnson let out a sneer, his right hand was already on the hilt of the waist, and several people behind him had also taken out their own weapons. The moment the body touched the weapon, the awe-inspiring murderous aura in the reception room rose again in an instant. This time even the low-ranking golden powerhouse had to step back to completely block the eruption of this momentum.

If the awe-inspiring murderous aura that erupted before is already like a tsunami, then the murderous aura that has risen again this time is the eruption of a volcano.

But even so, Sean still did not regress at all, because his aura continued to rise.

It was just an instant effort, and the aura that erupted from Sean had almost completely reached the aura that Johnson and others had teamed up before. And in terms of conciseness, Sean's aura is even more solid and perfect than that of Johansson and others-this point, in fact, the presence of Sean and the aura of Johansson and others are formed by joining forces with them. Relationship.

The imposing collision of the two sides is like a new storm in the reception room.

The ground made of solid wood produced a strip of cracks, and these cracks continued to expand on the ground, but what is amazing is that all the cracks spread to the left and right sides when they reach the golden man, just like A boat sailing through the waves. But if you climb up along the wall when you encounter a wall, it doesn't tear the wall completely apart as you imagined.

Johnson's pupils shrank suddenly.

The suppression of the aura formed by the six people on their side is actually just a balance point with the aura bursting out by Sean alone. It is no wonder that their aura burst has no effect on Sean at all, because of that degree of aura. It's nothing in his eyes.

At this moment, Johnson was even a little grateful. Fortunately, they were a few people teaming up against the enemy. Otherwise, he alone might not be Sean's opponent. Thinking of this, Johnson has already understood that today's situation is completely dead and there is absolutely no room for maneuver. Although he does not understand why Sean looks so young but has such a terrifying and condensed murderous aura, he has already fought. Make up your mind, even if you pay a heavy price, you must kill Sean here!

Therefore, Johnson did not hesitate at all. Since he knew that relying on momentum suppression could not gain any advantage, then everything could only speak with martial skills.

In this regard, Johnson is very confident in his martial arts, after all, it is the killing martial arts that has been developed in countless killings for decades. Although he feels that Sean has such a terrifying murderous aura, and he will certainly not be inferior in martial arts, but Johnson always believes that Sean is still too young, and young people usually mean experience, consciousness, etc. Insufficiency, this is the real reason why Johnson's self-confidence is overwhelming.

"Young people should have the humility of young people, I admit that I did underestimate you before, but today you will know that genius sometimes does not mean everything! ... You will confess your arrogance today in the underworld. !"

Johnson slowly drew his sword, and with his movements, his aura rose little by little.

Feeling Johnson's aura rising again, the faces of several demon hunters showed joy, and the face of the lower golden powerhouse also showed shock. No one knows better than these people who are hovering on the edge of countless lives and deaths. When a person's explosive momentum climbs to the top, it will be difficult to rise again, even if it is only a slight improvement, it is often attributed to An impossible miracle.

"Greycast Black Market is about to give birth to the first Golden Demon Hunter." The lower gold powerhouse whispered, "Unexpectedly, Johnson would step into this realm one step earlier than Dians.... Those two young people, it's a pity."

The implication of        has completely shown that there is absolutely no possibility of victory for both Sean and Cecilia.

Although the golden powerhouse's voice is very soft, and probably only the deacon can hear it, but with Sean's current ability, he can still hear it easily, so the corners of his mouth are slightly raised at this moment.

Knife, get out of the sheath!

The vigorous aura finally reached the true peak, it was like a scene of the end of the volcano erupting completely.

Johnson poured vindictive energy on the sword in his hand, and a dazzling white glow appeared on the blade. When the sword was pulled out along with Johnson's hand, a sword qi burst out of the air.

The area of the reception room is not large, and the positions of Sean and Johansson are not too far away. They are even less than three meters apart from each other. The grudge attack that erupted with Johansson's original strength, is so close. Within the distance of, it can be said to be a means of attack that arrives in an instant, it is not even a second at all, no one except the golden power can react at all, so it is natural to dodge.

What's more, now Johnson can be regarded as a golden powerhouse. He only needs to wait for his aura to calm down completely, and then consolidate his realm, and become a real golden powerhouse.

So when this sword aura suddenly attacked towards Sean, everyone knew that Sean could not survive.

This sword qi is very solid, all the vindictive qi is sealed in the blade, without the slightest escape.

The sword gas clearly didn't touch the ground, and it wasn't even close to the ground, but the strong energy had already crushed the ground completely, and the long cracks completely spread along the sword gas. From this point, we can clearly judge how powerful and terrifying this sword energy is. You don't even need to look at it to know that when this sword energy passes through Xiao En's body, there will probably not be the slightest. The weakening.

Watching this sword aura burst out, Xiao En didn't make any movement at all.

This is normal in the eyes of the people around: it's not that the young man doesn't want to make a move, but that he can't react at all. No matter how strong the silver pinnacle masters are, they can never be the opponents of the gold powers alone, and Johnson's attack can even be regarded as a sneak attack. So Sean didn't react at all, which was a logical thing.

But this kind of natural thought that everyone thought in their hearts was completely shattered almost as soon as it emerged, and everyone looked at Sean dumbfounded.

The sword energy that was almost a killer in everyone's eyes, it passed through Xiao En's body.

how is this possible!

Everyone looks incredible.

But there are two of these people who came up with "how is it possible" that are different from the others.

These two people are Johnson and the golden powerhouse.

The others couldn't see Sean's movements, but the two of them witnessed the whole process very clearly: when the sword spirit came into being, Xiao En moved, and just let the sword spirit pass by one side, don't Said to behead Xiao En, even the corners of his clothes were not touched at all.

So although these two people are equally unbelievable and improbable, their cognition is how Sean's strength can be so fast and reactive, which is almost comparable to the response ability of the upper gold power. NS!

But the unbelievable **** se on Johnson's face only regained the se of firmness in an instant. Since there is no retreat, so I still want to do so much. At the moment, he can only restore his prestige by killing Sean. Otherwise, even if his strength has entered the golden realm, there is no benefit in the gray shadow black market. . As for the possibility of defeat, Johnson had never thought of it, because it was absolutely impossible.

So soon, Johnson slapped again.

is another white glow.

However, after the knife was swiped this time, Johnson did not stay in place, but immediately rushed up with the knife. Even if Sean can dodge this sword aura again, his subsequent attack is definitely enough to kill Sean here!

This is the self-confidence that belongs to the golden strong!

Watching the second sword aura again, and seeing Johnson bullying him close again, this time Sean finally didn't stay in place, but chose to bully him.

There was no comparison and reference before, and the strong golden man naturally could not see Sean's movements, but now with the reference object of Johansen, the eyes of the strong golden man immediately opened wide, his expression unbelievable. , Because he discovered that Sean's speed is still higher than Johnson!

"Impossible!" Unable to contain the panic in his heart, the golden powerhouse finally cried out.

But he can see the key, but it doesn't mean that others can see it. Similarly, even if he can see the key, his feeling is far less intense than that of Johansson facing Sean at this moment: he has found that not only Sean is faster than himself, but even his own speed seems to be declining. , How is this possible!

No one would know that when Sean turned on the light body technique, adrenal stimulation and the law field, his agility value exceeded the two hundred and fifty points mark. This value is enough even if it is a head-to-head fight against the next golden powerhouse. What's more, what's more, Johnson who has just been promoted to the golden realm but is still only at the top of silver. At this moment, Sean didn't even need to pull out the dead bones, it was enough to deal with Johnson.

just a light sideways rotation, Sean avoided the attack of the sword energy.

Johansson clearly saw Sean's movements. He knew that his budget was accurate. No matter how powerful the young man in front of him, he still had to do his best to avoid his sword spirit. At this time, his attack appeared to be extremely powerful. It is important, at least not something he can avoid. But even though Johansson knew all this, the fact turned out to be really frustrating for him, because his movements couldn't keep up with his consciousness at all.

So the attack that followed immediately made him even feel the pain of being cut.

Obviously, his consciousness has issued instructions, and he can even see the scene where the knife cut Xiao En into two parts, but the knife in his hand can only be lifted at this time.

How can it be so slow!

Johnson has just been promoted to gold, and he has not even touched the basic laws of the world. It is naturally impossible to know the use of special abilities and techniques such as fields and domains. In fact, even if he has been exposed to the basic laws of the world, knowing the existence of fields and domains does not mean that he can use this special ability, because it is already the exclusive ability of the sanctuary powerhouse.

Therefore, he could only watch as he missed the best time to kill Sean, and then Sean easily dodges his attack. Instead, he sent his neck to Xiao as if he was sent to the door to be killed. En's right hand.

Feeling the force of Sean's right hand, Johnson's breathing has gradually become difficult, but no matter how hard he struggles, he still can't get rid of Sean's right hand. His eyes finally show the fear of facing death. And despair.

how is this possible!

impossible!

I just stepped into gold!

I am already a golden powerhouse!

"Do you really think that the golden strong can walk sideways?" From Johnson's eyes, Sean seemed to guess what Johnson was thinking. He chuckled close to Johnson's ear and said, "The golden strong, I have killed more. You will not be the first golden powerhouse to die in my hands, and of course you will not be the last. Because in this world, there has never been a shortage of idiots.... My name is Sean Kang Nali, don't give the wrong name when you go to the **** of death."

As soon as his fingers were pressed and his wrists shook, Sean snapped Johnson's neck in a straightforward manner.

Johansson, whose neck was completely twisted, stopped when he was still struggling. He only heard a sound of "clang", but it was the sound of Johansson's chopping knife falling to the ground. Even the weapon was already there. Can't hold it, it's obviously not that Johansson is in feign death, but that he has really died.

As soon as his hand was loosened, Johnson's body slipped from Sean's hand and fell to the ground.

Shaun moved his gaze from Johnson's body to the five demon hunters, and whispered: "One person, one eye, do you want to do it yourself, or should I help you? I first declare that if I do it, I I can't guarantee your fate."

The five demon hunters looked at each other, and their eyes were completely frightened and desperate.

Even Johnson who broke through to the golden realm is not the opponent of the young man in front of him, how can they be able to beat the opponent? But if they want them to have an eye left, these demon hunters are obviously not reconciled. The two demon hunters who stood a little behind turned their minds, and immediately turned around and flashed away from the gate without hesitation.

"Cecilia!"

As soon as Sean's shouting sounded, the air in the reception room immediately became extremely sultry. Cecilia, who had already chanted the mantra and was ready, immediately activated the magic without hesitation. A scarlet fire snake appeared out of thin air, and then rushed towards the two demon hunters who were sprinting. No one had expected that the speed of this fiery snake would surpass the two demon hunters, so everyone saw that the two men had just run out of the door of the Dawnlight Chamber of Commerce, and the fiery snake had already caught up to them.

In the next moment, two screams sounded, but they stopped abruptly after less than a second.

Then the Fire Snake gradually extinguished.

On the ground, there were two more corpses that had completely turned into coke. When the breeze blew, the two corpses actually turned into a dust of dust and rose with the wind.

The street outside the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce fell into silence at this moment.

The low-ranking golden man looked at Sean and Cecilia's gazes, as if looking at some terrible beast, because he had never seen such a powerful snake magic, which has completely exceeded four. The category of level magic, it is not an exaggeration to say that it is a level seven magic. Whether it is Sean or Cecilia, he may not be able to defeat the one, let alone the two appear at the same time at this moment.

Who are these two people! ?

This golden powerhouse has no courage to fight Sean and Cecilia.

Chapter 330: .The Conspiracy of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance

The Light of Dawn Chamber of Commerce is located in a prosperous area in the gray and black market.

Although it is not the center of power for the entire black market, there are many well-known chambers of commerce on the mainland such as Dawn Light, Thunder Cloud, Dorota, Luther Alchemy Workshop, etc. on this street, so this area is second only In the prosperous area in the downtown area of Gray Shadow and Black, basically any hunter who is doing business will haunt here.

Therefore, when two demon hunters with good strength fled from the Chamber of Dawn of Light, they naturally attracted the attention of many people.

But the flame snake that appeared right after that was truly surprising.

In this black market of gray shadows, strength is equivalent to fame, so these two demon hunters with good strength are naturally also well-known figures in this black market. But when watching two well-known characters being chased by a fourth-level magic, many people around secretly ridiculed them. Many of them were similar in strength, but because of the late demon hunters who came to this gray shadow black market. The demon hunter who is not as famous as these two people is determined to take this opportunity to step on these two people, so that their reputation will become even greater.

But when everyone around saw that these two demon hunters died under this fourth-level magic for less than a second, and even the corpses could not be retained after death, everyone's faces instantly changed. .

On the street, there was a dead silence for an instant.

Is the power of the fourth-level magic snake assault so powerful?

The answer is obvious: never possible!

So it's easy for everyone to come to a conclusion: this is by no means a fourth-level magic.

Then everyone on the street who saw the scene of these two demon hunters being burnt to ashes had a question in their minds: When did the gray shadow black market come with such a powerful and terrifying magician? A magician who can perform such terrible magic must be at least at the level of a magician?

While everyone was still in a state of guesswork, the door of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce was opened again.

Three demon hunters covering one eye came out, and everyone else on the street keenly noticed that blood was flowing from the gap between the fingers of the hand of the three demon hunters covering their eyes. Judging from this point, a clear conclusion can be drawn, that is, the eyes of these three people must be injured. But this is not the focus of everyone's attention. What everyone really cares about is that the strength of these three people is almost equal to that of the two who escaped before, so why did the three of them hurt one eye, and Did the two who escaped in front of them died directly?

For a demon hunter, fame is a symbol of strength, and the same fame is also a symbol of dignity.

At this moment, the three people who left alive from the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce saw the situation on the street and the two scorched traces on the street, but they didn't say anything, but immediately turned and left. However, these three people did not leave from the same direction, but each left from different directions, but only by looking at the direction in which these three people left, those present would know that there will be no more three hunters in the Gray Shadow Black Market in the future. The existence of the devil.

In the end, what happened?

Everyone looked at the door of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, as if they saw an ancient beast opening its **** mouth, waiting for some feast.

No one left at this moment. They all felt that there would be some more amazing news coming from the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce today, so everyone was waiting quietly.

After about ten minutes, the door of the Chamber of Dawn of Light was opened for the third time.

And when everyone present saw what was carried out from the Chamber of Dawn Light this time, the entire gray shadow black market instantly exploded like a dynamite barrel being lit.

Johnson's body!

In the circle of gray shadow black market demon hunters, the top masters who are recognized as being able to rank in the top three unexpectedly died in the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce!

Regardless of how the gray shadow black market turned uproar, at this moment in the reception room of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, it was another scene.

Bannock, Jerry, and Spean looked at Sean and Cecilia with a bit of stunned eyes. Although they have seen them before, they have a clearer understanding of the strength of these two people. But I still didn't expect these two people to be so powerful. It's ridiculous that they thought that they might be able to withstand the attack of Johansen and others with their teamwork. When the time comes, both sides will calm down and then find a way to resolve the dispute, and then wait until Johansen breaks out and breaks through. When it came to the boundary, whether it was Bannock or Jerry, the two of them were really desperate at that moment.

said that it's not an exaggeration to wait for death.

As a result, I didn't expect that the situation would change so quickly, and it was Johnson who died!

Moreover, it is still the most spurned death method in the circle of demon hunters.

The demon hunter regards scars as honor, so fighting against warcraft and enemies to die is an honorary death method. The more severe the injuries and the more wounds on the body, the more it represents the intensity of the battle and the degree of glory. If Johansson and Sean fought to death and life, and in the end Sean beat Johansson by one high, then at least Johansson can be regarded as a glorious defeat.

But Sean didn't give Johnson this opportunity, and he didn't even leave him a wound. He broke his neck and ended his life.

This is a kind of naked contempt!

So at this time, Bannock and Jerry looked at Sean and Cecilia, with an almost fanatical adoration.

However, unlike the fanatical worship of Bannock, Jerry, and Spean, the deacon of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce looked a little horrified. His entire face became extremely pale, and he felt like standing in the cold wind at this moment. Shaking, even if there was a strong golden figure standing in front of him, he still couldn't feel a trace of warmth.

"Shaw...sir Shaun..." the deacon said a little uneasy.

"Do you know me?" Xiao En raised his eyebrows. Although he saw that the deacon saw his face changed a lot just now, he already knew that something was wrong, but he still asked knowingly at this moment.

"Of course, you are the lord of the Baron Panda, Sean Connery." The deacon said flatteringly, but because he was scared, his expression was very stiff at the moment, and his smile became uglier than crying. , "We are quite clear about your matter."

Sean took a deep look at the deacon, then turned his head to Bennock and said, "You go and buy some better-quality hooded cloaks."

"Yes, my lord." Jerry was more singular, and immediately realized that Sean and the deacon might have some secret content to discuss, and immediately nodded in agreement, and then pulled Bennock and Sean away.

After Jerry closed the door of the guest room again, Xiao En said, "If you have anything, you might as well speak directly, Lord Deacon."

Perhaps he has become accustomed to all kinds of hypocritical and polite exchanges, so he seemed a little uncomfortable with such straightforward words of Shaun. The deacon of the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce was stunned for more than ten seconds without responding. It wasn't until the strong golden man coughed that the deacon finally recovered. He laughed a little awkwardly, but didn't know what to say when he spoke, and the scene became cold for a while. Come down.

In this situation, Sean did not say anything, but waited quietly.

He has guessed that the situation he envisioned is likely to have some special changes, and these changes may not be good news. It's just that Sean also knows that he can't be anxious at this time, let alone show an uncomfortable look, otherwise the situation is likely to become even more unfavorable to him, so he can only stand in place and wait for the name quietly. The deacon spoke.

After a long time, the deacon finally made up his mind and said, "I'm really very sorry, Sir Sean, we can't do your business."

"What do you mean?" Xiao En's eyes narrowed, already moving a bit of murderous intent.

"A general order was issued within the Chamber of Commerce Alliance a few months ago. Until the matter in the Wildlands is resolved, the Chamber of Commerce affiliated to the Chamber of Commerce Alliance will not allow any trade dealings with you." After hesitating for a while, the deacon continued. He said, "So, Lord Shaun, you don't have to go to the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce. As one of the top ten chambers of commerce in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, they will inevitably abide by this internal order strictly, so..."

If he continues to trade with Sean, if this matter is stabbed out, then his fate can be imagined, and even the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce will suffer. But if he doesn't make it clear today, I'm afraid he will die here immediately, so after weighing the pros and cons, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce decided to thoroughly state the notice issued by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, only in this way can he live. Come down.

Especially after seeing Sean's previous thunderous method of killing Johnson, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce did not dare to conceal anything.

"Heh, Chamber of Commerce Alliance!" After listening to the explanation of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce, it was a long time before Xiao En let out a cold snort, "I really did everything possible to trouble me!"

Hearing Sean's cold snort, the deacon shivered again, but he did not dare to speak, because even he didn't know how to continue.

No need for the deacon to continue to make it clear, Sean already understands the sinister intentions of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

While fighting is money, the so-called money is actually the supply of various materials.

However, Sean's current territory is still unable to complete the self-sufficient supply, so since the war with Tin Chiyin, the logistics supplies have been in a relatively tense state. William and Neal have been thinking of ways to deal with the logistics supplies. The supplies are supplemented. However, this problem was not completely resolved until Shaun set off for the Grey Shadow Forest, because all the more famous chambers of commerce in Shaun's territory have chosen to suspend business and evacuate from Shawn's territory, leaving only a few small chambers of commerce. Still.

In this way, Neal and William can only contact these small chambers of commerce. However, the materials provided by a small chamber of commerce like this may be used to pay for the territorial war between the two nobles. However, it involves the joint operations of several lords, and even the upcoming war between the two countries. Then these materials It can't meet the needs of the front at all.

Before, Sean was not too concerned about the fact that the chambers of commerce in the back territory of Yadby had chosen to leave. In his opinion, the departure of these chambers of commerce is just a protection measure for their own chambers of commerce, that is, the so-called Mingzhe protects himself from being involved in a large-scale war between the two lords. If the war between the two countries really breaks out, then these chambers of commerce will definitely come back. After all, no merchant will be unwilling to make war fortune.

But now, Sean finally knows that he thinks everything is too simple.

The situation is very obvious right now, that is, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance cannot bear that five of the twelve trade points in the Great Rift Valley currently fall into the hands of Sean. This has seriously undermined the head and tail snake route plan formulated by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Several previous negotiations ended in failure. If there is no war at this time, then Sean will still have the upper hand. The Chamber of Commerce Alliance has to continue to send people to negotiate with him, but now Sean has started the war. But because of logistical material issues, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance now has the upper hand.

They don't need to play any more yin plots at all, nor do they need to negotiate with Sean. This time they are playing dignified plots.

Logistics supplies are inseparable from any war, so if Sean wants to continue fighting this battle, then he must compromise with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. However, Sean believes that the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is more willing to see Sean refuse to compromise, because based on the current situation, the southern aristocracy of the Kingdom of Darbion has moved true this time, and the new commander is also very capable. The general encirclement formed by the five armies has already made Sean a little breathless. Once the war breaks out, the loss of territory is only a matter of time.

In this way, after losing the Pandan collar completely, he will not be able to keep the Gorge Rift Valley and the Great Rift Valley behind it, so the five trade points in the Great Rift Valley he currently occupy will also return again. In the hands of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, and it still does not need to pay any price.

"I'll ask you one last time." Shaun looked at the deacon of the Dawnlight Chamber of Commerce and said in a deep voice, "The Union of Chambers of Commerce issues such a general order, do all chambers of commerce have to implement it? If our transaction is not known by a third party If so, is it possible to continue?"

The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce shook his head and said helplessly, "Master Shaun, please don't embarrass me."

"I see." Sean nodded and said nothing, but he had already made a decision in his heart.

At this critical moment, it is impossible for Sean to allow the Chamber of Commerce Alliance to stab him in the back. At this moment, he is a little grateful that he has made the decision to go to the Grey Shadow Forest. Otherwise, he still does not know the Chamber of Commerce. The alliance's sinister intentions waited until the war really broke out to discover this problem, then he really had nothing to do. And now that he knows these things, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance needs to pay some price for their decision-making.
