

Lord of War Vol 2-331

Chapter 331: . Sean in action

Xiao En did not continue to communicate with the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce. He knew that since the other party had already picked up the words, he didn't need to go to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce next, because soon all chambers of commerce in the gray shadow black market would know that he was present. The news here.

After Bannock, Jerry and others bought the cloak, Sean and Cecilia did not stay in the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce, but left immediately.

"My lord, shall we still go to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce?". Bannock didn't know what the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce had talked with Sean, but looking at Sean's face was not very good, he could probably guess that it was not good news.

"No, those chambers of commerce won't do my business anymore." Sean shook his head, "So even if we have something to buy, we can only buy from those demon hunters.... It's just me in the end. These things you need are not something that ordinary magic hunters can get."

"My lord, if you really have a need for the iron cow skeleton, Jerry and I can get it for you." Bannock hesitated, then glanced at Jerry, who nodded helplessly. Dare to speak, "As long as the stone flowers and plants are effective, then we just need to waste a little time."

Bannock's words have clearly stated his position. At this time, if Sean doesn't know what Bannock means, then he is really stupid.

"I am not afraid to tell you the truth. I am the baron of the Principality of Ryan. My territory is now facing the threat of war with the southern nobility of Darbion. So if you become my follower at this time, then you are very likely to die. On the battlefield." Sean thought for a while and said, "So, whether you want to become my follower, you have to think carefully, I don't hope you will regret it in the future.... Of course. If you become my follower, All I can promise you is that I will never treat you badly."

Shaun really wanted to win over Bannock. After all, the power of the Paladin is obvious, and he is sure to train Bannock into a true Paladin. Although now he can see that Bannock does have the intention of taking refuge in him. If under normal circumstances, it would be a quick deal, Sean would definitely not miss it, but now the guys in the Chamber of Commerce are going to poke him behind him. One knife, then this may cause the ending of this war to be rewritten, so Sean had to speak first to clarify the stakes in it.

Hearing Sean's words, Bannock smiled, and then said, "Thank you very much, sir, for saying these things to me. A demon hunter like us. He was originally on the verge of death, so no matter whether we follow you or not. Sooner or later, we are going to die, so it seems that following you, we will die more honorably even if we die in the future.... My lord, from this moment on, the life of my Bannock Normon is yours. As long as you don't abandon me, my lord, I will never abandon my lord."

Shaun nodded. But at this moment, his heart is not at all happy because of Bannock's joining. On the contrary, he felt that what he carried on his shoulders seemed to have become heavier.

"What about you?" Sean turned his head and looked at Jerry and Spean.

"My lord, I...I want to follow you too." Spean glanced at Cecilia, and then said impatiently.

For this young man's little thoughts, Sean let out a helpless laugh, but didn't plan to do anything. But since Spean came for Cecilia, he decided to throw this man to Clover. His Cecilia Guards is obviously more suitable for this guy, but for this young man, Sean did not hold any expectations, because his potential has been developed to the extreme. Sean doesn't believe that there are so many miracles in this world.

Although the name of this continent is called Miracle Continent.

"I'll forget it." Jerry shook his head helplessly, "I'm used to the life of a demon hunter. I am afraid that many habits are difficult to change."

Sean didn't say anything about Jerry's words, but Jerry's behavior is really good. After all, he was also a person who stood firmly on Sean's front in the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce before, not because of Johnson. Waiting for people to show their strong strength at the beginning choose to betray. So Sean thought for a while, and he took out a purse and handed it to Jerry. There was not a lot of money in it. After all, Sean couldn't take out too many gold coins to give away, but Jerry was comfortable. The past few years are still okay.

Jerry has no objection to this, anyway, he is a demon hunter for money.

"Do you know where Dianes is?". Sean asked suddenly.

"Dian's?" Bennock was stunned for a moment, and then remembered that they had sent Sean to the Black Market in Grey Shadow to kill Diansi. After all, his two younger brothers have not come back since they walked with them. , "If there is no accident, he is usually in the Zhongyang District."

"Zhongyang District?"

"It's in the middle of the gray and black market. We are used to calling that place zhongyang district." Bannock said, "We are not better than demon hunters, so there are no so-called missions. Most of the time we They are all done alone. But occasionally there will be some things that the demon hunters can't solve. These things are usually entrusted to us by the demon hunters, so from time to time there will be some commissioned releases in the Zhongyang district. Of course we will occasionally go there. Try your luck, because sometimes there are problems that a single demon hunter cannot solve, so cooperation is usually needed at this time."

Shaun nodded, expressing understanding.

He came to the black market of Gray Shadow to buy materials for Dians and to the black market. Now there is no way to buy materials, so there is only one thing left to solve. If this Dianes is not killed now, Sean always feels that he will definitely bring himself a lot of trouble in the future, so he must solve this trouble as soon as possible. Up to now, he is not afraid of tearing his face with the managers of the gray shadow black market, anyway, his next action is definitely to fall out with these managers.

"Spenn, I have an important task to give you." Thinking of this, Sean said to the young man.

"My lord, just give your orders." Spean said with a look of excitement.

"I will write you a letter in a moment. You will send this letter to Yero City to a man named Alfred." Sean said bluntly, "Next, you will take orders from Alfred for the time being. Command of Fred, after this time the incident is over, you can go to a man named Clover to report, and you will be a member of his army in the future."

I heard what Shaun said at the beginning. There was still a bit of excitement on Spean's face, but when he heard that he was about to join a legion under the command of Clover, Spean's face was obviously a little depressed. In fact, his profession is also a system of defenders. Although he is not a pure defender like Bannock, it is only because the previous team had tactical needs. Now he is no longer a demon hunter so he can switch. As a pure defender.

Therefore, he decided to follow Sean purely to become Cecilia's guard, not to join any army.

But Sean wouldn't bargain with Spean and say anything, if it weren't for Spean is indeed a half defender, Sean wouldn't even let him join the Cecilia Guards. Want to be Cecilia's guard. Unless it is a true defender like Bannock who is expected to become a golden powerhouse, Shaun will not rest assured that he will let them protect Cecilia, and it can even be said that it is better to let him take the shot himself.

So regardless of Spean's thoughts, Sean quickly wrote a letter and handed it to Spean, and in particular urged him to deliver the letter to his destination anyway. If someone intercepts or hunts down, then the letter must be destroyed in the first place.

Seeing Sean so serious. Spean didn't dare to say anything more. Set off immediately.

Only Jerry and Bannock, vaguely aware that the content of this letter must be related to the gray shadow black market and those chambers of commerce. But these two people didn't know what Sean's plan was in this regard. Bannock had better say something. After all, he is now a follower of Sean, and he is still qualified to know about Sean's plans and arrangements. But Jerry didn't have this qualification.

But Bannock is not a fool. He knew that since Sean hadn't told him, that was something he couldn't touch now.

So soon, Bannock and Jerry took Sean to the Zhongyang district of the Gray Shadow Black Market.

Zhongyang District in the black market. It is the most prosperous area of the entire gray shadow black market, because this is the power center of the gray shadow black market.

If the demon hunter represents order, then the demon hunter represents chaos.

They don't have many guarantees and benefits like the demon hunters. The only thing the demon hunters can rely on is themselves, so their trading channels must also be developed by themselves, and the birth of the black market conforms to this chaos flow.

Under normal circumstances, the black market will be set up closer to the active area of Warcraft. The main purpose of this is to allow the demon hunters to sell nearby Warcraft materials. Of course, if the demon hunters themselves have better preservation methods and coping methods, then if you want to sell them farther away, no one will stop them. After all, the prices of these Warcraft materials sold on the black market are usually lower than the market purchase price. Some.

But since it is said that it is a black market, naturally, there will be no need to ask about the origin of acquisitions like other places. In the black market, as long as you dare to sell, someone will naturally buy it. All valuable things can be sold on the black market.

In this way, there will naturally be competition among the black markets.

The more famous the black market, the more magic hunters will go to sell goods, and the more chambers of commerce will settle in, all of which can bring great benefits to the black market. Therefore, in order to attract more chambers of commerce and demon hunters, each black market will have different benefits. If you want to obtain this benefit, you naturally need to work hard to improve your reputation and strength. It is also the root of the leaderboard in the hunter circle.

Of course, there is also such a ranking in every black market and every region. Generally, the higher the ranking, the more benefits will be gained.

Johnson, ranked third in the list of demon hunters in the gray shadow black market.

However, that is already in the past.

And now, under the leadership of Bannock, Xiao En, who entered the zhongyang district of the gray shadow black market, focused his attention on the demon hunter who ranked first in the gray shadow black market.

Warcraft killer, Dianas.

Chapter 332: .I'm the one who killed your brother

Diansi, the killer of Warcraft, is the one who has been firmly occupying the first place in the ranking of the Demon Hunters in the Gray Shadow Black Market since its establishment.

He, Johnson and several other demon hunters are all pseudo-strong men who have already entered the golden realm with half their feet, and they are not sure when they will become official golden strong men. Of course, based on the geographical environment of the gray shadow black market, once these people become golden powerhouses, then the stage here is naturally too small for them. They must move on to a higher stage, but after all, they are all at the beginning. The gray shadow black market is here to go out, so it can more or less bring a certain degree of fame to the gray shadow black market.

For this reason, there is an underground handicap in the gray shadow black market, and the gambling game opened is which of these people will take the lead in becoming the gold powerhouse.

The odds of Dianes are the lowest in the handicap, with only 0.2 odds.

No way, because Dianes is not only the strongest demon hunter in this gray shadow black market, but even among the demon hunters in the surrounding area, Dians also has a certain reputation.

His fame is not only derived from his strength, but a large part of it is due to his understanding of Warcraft. Basically, he is very aware of the weaknesses, living habits, characteristics, preferences, etc. of most of the beasts, so many demon hunters come to him to inquire about some of the hunting skills of the beasts. You know, if you know the familiarity and weakness of the target monster, this can not only reduce the casualty rate in battle, but also choose a more accurate and perfect attack timing.

In fact, the reason why Sean knew that Shihuacao had a special attraction to Iron Bull beasts was from Dianes.

If it hadn't been known that Dianes was in the black market in Gray Shadow, Sean would definitely not have thought of coming to the black market in Gray Shadow to buy Iron Bull Skeleton.

I just didn't expect that things would be so tangled and not going well.

Fortunately, he got a very important piece of news, which is much more valuable to Sean than getting those materials.

followed behind Bannock. Xiao En and others soon came to a place similar to a tavern.

At this time, the tavern seemed a little noisy, and many people seemed to be venting some dissatisfaction, with lamentations one after another.

The arrival of Sean and others did not arouse the attention of the drunks in the tavern, which is somewhat different from those outside the taverns. However, Sean has some understanding of the circle of demon hunters, so he will not feel awkward, or he is actually more satisfied with such a situation. Not paying too much attention will change their actions. It's easier.

However, Cecilia seemed a little curious. She asked, "Why do so many people seem very unhappy?"

After finding a seat in the tavern, Sean finally had the time to look around.

There are not few people in the pub at this time. There were hundreds of people around, but only a small part of them seemed very happy. They seemed to be drinking and celebrating something, and it was noisy and very lively. But apart from this small group of people, most people have a depressed look. When they look at the cheerful people, their eyes are full of resentment.

If it's somewhere else. Sean believes it must have been fighting long ago.

But in a place like the black market, it is destined to fail. Because the black market has rules that belong to the black market, random shots will provoke attacks from the teams responsible for maintaining law and order in the black market. Of course, this rule is not absolute. For those who are powerful, they certainly don't need to abide by it. The same demon hunters who rank relatively high in the gray shadow black market also have the privilege of being exonerated.

This is also the reason why Johnson dared to attack Sean, because he is that part of the privileged hunter.

It's just a pity. He died at Sean's hands.

At this time, hearing Cecilia's words, Jerry first answered: "A gambling was opened before the black market. It was a gambling that the five quasi-strong people in the black market would be the first to become the real gold powerhouses... Those with constipation expressions are obviously the people who bought Johnson. Now Johnson is dead and their money is gone, so of course they look depressed. As for those who are celebrating at this time, it is because they are moving forward from winning. It's a big step, after all, there are few individuals competing."

"Huh!" The location of Sean and others happened to be near a group of constipated people. Of course, Jerry's explanation caused many people's dissatisfaction, but they just snorted to show their dissatisfaction, and did not speak to Jerry. What to argue about.

Sean glanced at these people, and suddenly asked a little curiously: "I want to know if anyone has bought Dians."

"There must be something." Jerry thought of what was about to happen, with a cheerful smile on his face, "At first, Dians' odds were a loss of one at first, but then it seemed that someone had placed a heavy bet, and the handicap changed. It's a one-and-a-half payout, and now it seems to have dropped to two.... But compared to others, there are very few people betting on Dians."

"Why?" Cecilia was a little puzzled. "Isn't Dians the strongest? Why is he the fewest betting on him?"

"All the quasi-strong people who have half-footed into the golden realm lack only an opportunity and insight, so they are likely to directly break through the shackles and become true golden powerhouses anytime and anywhere, so this is not the strongest one. This place must be the first person to break through. Since Dians has the lowest odds, it is better to put hope on others. After all, if he wins, he can make a fortune." Xiao En smiled and explained that he does not agree or disagree with gambling, but he actually hates gambling because the so-called handicap game is always the banker, and the bettor is just It's just a fig leaf used by the dealer to cover up shady, "This is the most typical gambler psychology."

Speaking of this, Sean's laughter was a bit of gloat: "However, the person who made a big bet to buy Dians will probably be crying."

Cecilia, who knew what Shaun's words meant, let out a snicker.

Not long after, Bannock came back.

"How?" Sean asked.

"I haven't found it, I probably haven't come back yet." Bannock said respectfully, "Although the Gray Shadow Ghost Bird is only a level four monster, it is very difficult to hunt down, so he shouldn't come back yet...sir. Look. ..."

"Then stay here for the time being."

"Yes."

After receiving Shawn's order, Bannock immediately began to arrange the next accommodation problem.

In the gray shadow black market, the accommodation situation has always been very tense, and sometimes even if you have money, you may not be able to find a place to sleep. Fortunately, Sean and Cecilia didn't have any requirements in this regard, so this made Bannock's job a lot easier.

In this way, after the accommodation problem was solved, Xiao En and others became regular guests in this hotel. But most of the time, it was Bannock and Jerry who inquired about Dianes after their busy schedule. Of course, the two did not have any secret ideas, so soon the entire gray shadow black market knew about Banno. Both Ke and Jerry are inquiring about Dianes.

But the real caring person just listened for a while. I knew this was definitely not something that Bannock and Jerry would do. After all, in this gray shadow black market, Bannock is not the top group, but because he is a pure defender, he is naturally famous. Under such circumstances, I don't want to let anyone pay attention. It's impossible.

"You mean. That Bandar Baron is looking for Dianes?" a middle-aged man with his upper body and countless scars frowned and asked.

this person. It is the master of the entire gray shadow black market. Wilson.

In this black market of gray shadows, the demon hunter only knows that this black market of gray shadows was opened by him, but no one knows his past.

"Yes, my lord." The answer was another middle-aged man. Although his aura was restrained, there was still a vaguely violent aura like a thunderstorm. Obviously this middle-aged man is not a messy guy.

This is a strong man at the next golden pinnacle. He is not only Wilson's chief guard, but also responsible for the security issues of the entire gray shadow black market.

"Johnson was killed by him before?" The middle-aged man who spoke at the beginning still frowned, and God se seemed very uneasy.

"So far. It should be." The middle-aged man said in a deep voice, "But I am not very clear about the specific details. The Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce did not disclose any relevant details. After this incident, the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce held a secret meeting with other major chambers of commerce. We don't know exactly what they negotiated, but it is obvious that these chambers of commerce have contracted their business at the same time. There are many acquisitions but few sales."

"If it were you, would you be able to twist Johnson's neck?". Wilson asked.

"Yes." The middle-aged man nodded without hesitation, "After all, Johnson is not a real golden powerhouse. But if this is the case, then this can prove one thing, that lord is definitely a golden powerhouse. It is even possible that the strength is not below me. If this is not the case, it is impossible for the guard of the Dawn of Light Chamber of Commerce to take action. It must be because there is no certainty of victory."

Wilson's brow furrowed deeper when he heard the words of his head guard: "Why do you think they are looking for Dians?"

The middle-aged man shook his head.

"Although Johnson's death has made our handicap a lot of money, but if they are looking for Dianes trouble, then this is not a good thing." Wilson sighed, "No matter what, we They must try to avoid their contact with Dianes, you go to Dianes now..."

"My lord, I'm afraid it's too late." The middle-aged man smiled bitterly, "Diansi is back today, but after hearing the news that Bannock was inquiring about him, he rushed over immediately. I am afraid the two sides have already met at this time. NS."

In fact, as the middle-aged man said, Diances, Sean and others have already met in the tavern.

However, at this time, Diances's attention was not on Sean and Cecilia, but stared at Jerry firmly: "Where is my brother?"

From the moment Diances entered the tavern, Sean had been looking at him.

At the beginning of the game, he and Diances also had a few chances to meet, but at that time Diances was obviously older than now, but the aura exuding from his body was much more vigorous. As a demon hunter, Diances' talent and strength are indeed beyond doubt, because he was already a powerhouse at the sanctuary level in the game, but at this time Diances was in front of Sean. They are much younger, and the same strength has not yet entered gold.

Feeling the anger of Diances at this time, and looking at his empty-handed appearance, it is obvious that the pursuit of the Grey Ghost Bird ended in failure.

Looking at the furious Diances, Sean said softly: "Your two brothers are dead."

Sure enough, when he heard Sean's words, Diances' anger grew even stronger, and his awe-inspiring aura broke out completely out of control at this moment. The original noisy tavern changed at this moment because of Diances' terrifying aura. It had to be quiet, everyone looked at Diances with horror, completely wondering why he suddenly went crazy.

"What's going on!" Diances let out a roar, still staring at Jerry, after all, Jerry invited his two younger brothers to hunt down the Black Crystal Demon Leopard.

"I was killed." It was still Sean who answered.

"Heh." Diances suddenly let out a penetrating laugh, "He was killed? Who killed it!"

This time, his eyes finally turned to Sean, because he had discovered that Jerry did not seem to be the leader of this team.

Because the tavern has become very quiet, the question and answer of Sean and Dianes naturally fell into the ears of everyone around them. Most people only know that the reason for Dianes's anger seems to be someone who died, but they don't know exactly what happened. Only the real intentional people discovered that Dianes had two fewer people to follow today. Those two people seem to be his younger brothers?

Could it be said that the two brothers of Dianes died?

"A young man." Sean didn't have the mind to pay attention to what the people around him thought. His voice was still as calm as before, without even the slightest ups and downs. It seemed to be narrating a trivial thing. "In fact, the most important thing is. It was not that troublesome at the beginning. After all, the demon hunters have the rules of the demon hunters. But your two younger brothers violated the rules of the demon hunters, and took the lead in shooting the young man, and they were still going to die. , So they will die."

"That young man didn't know that they were my brother!?" Diane's voice sounded like a wounded beast, but his dominance and arrogance were also evident from this.

"I really don't know." Sean shrugged, "But even if I knew it, I'm afraid I wouldn't care."

"Do you know who killed my brother?"

"Of course." Xiao En smiled, "I am the one who killed your brother."

Chapter 333: .The disaster of the gray shadow black market

As Shaun's voice fell, everyone in the entire tavern looked at Shaun in shock.

This person actually killed Dianes' brother? And he dared to talk to Dianes like this, is he thinking that his life is too long?

Not to mention Johnsen and other quasi-powerfuls here in the Black Market of Grey Shadows. In the entire circle of Demon Hunters in the Darbion Kingdom, people who usually know that Brother Dianes will not quarrel with them too stiffly. After all, "Warcraft Killer" This nickname is not casual. Moreover, Dianes's strength is no better than that of Johnson and others. Even in the circle of Demon Hunters in Darbion and its surroundings, or even the entire circle of Demon Hunters in the Southern Continent, Dians can rank in the top fifty.

Almost everyone believes that it is only a matter of time before Diances becomes a real gold powerhouse. The reason why he has not yet become a gold powerhouse is just to lay a more solid foundation. There are even many people who believe that Diances' future achievements are definitely not limited to gold, and may even step into the sanctuary and become a true powerhouse who is extremely famous even in the circle of demon hunters on the entire Marvel Continent.

For a person with such great potential, of course no one will be an enemy at will.

But now, someone actually said in front of Diances that he killed both of his younger brothers. Is this guy absolutely unimaginable?

As everyone thought, Diane's face changed in an instant, and the awe-inspiring murderous aura broke out: "You are looking for death!"

A fist quickly zoomed in front of Sean's eyes.

That was an attack from Diances!

Faced with this punch, Sean's pupils shrank suddenly. He didn't expect Diances' attack to be so fierce and decisive, and he didn't even have a hint before the shot.

With just this blow, Sean can already judge that Diances's strongest name in the black market is not a joke. He is indeed much stronger than Johnson. Even if Johnson has already been promoted to gold, I'm afraid not. Will be the opponent of Diances. Because in this punch, Sean smelled a taste similar to the law. Although he was immature, Sean was sure that "The reason why Diances did not advance was to polish his foundation." This statement is absolutely correct.

Although Diances has already begun to have contact with the outermost rules, he still failed to reach the point of using the rules, let alone mastering the rules.

So don't even talk about the domain of Diances right now, even if there is no field like Sean.

"boom!"

A wave of air suddenly exploded in the air.

It was like a storm suddenly rolled up on a calm lake. The bursting energy impact once again tore the cloak on Sean's body into pieces, and the rainy black cloth scattered all over the sky. While the black cloth rain fell, the table between Dianes and Sean was also shaken into many pieces of broken wood spraying out in all directions, if it weren't for Jerry and Anno sitting next to him. If the two of Ke react quickly, I am afraid that these pieces of wood will penetrate their bodies on the spot.

But Bennock, Jerry, and Cecilia are all fine, but it doesn't mean that everyone around them will be fine.

Many people who reacted slowly were directly penetrated by these pieces of wood on the spot, and several people with bad luck died on the spot.

The corpse was on the spot when he was only planning to watch the show, which immediately caused chaos in the entire tavern.

And this time, it was finally Diane's turn to suddenly shrink his pupils.

He knew the power of the punch he had just now, and it was a hand made in anger. The power was definitely stronger than when he was sensible. But even so, his punch was easily blocked by the opponent, and the energy escaping from the air impacted him, and he knew that the strength of the opponent was definitely not inferior to him.

Whether it is power or murderousness.

but!

How can this be! ?

Lost the cover of the cloak, Xiao En's appearance was naturally completely exposed to everyone. This is obviously a young man who is never more than twenty-five years old.

This age is placed in the circle of demon hunters, and it definitely belongs to the category of "children".

Although there are many geniuses among them, even geniuses need room for growth. All these require long-term accumulation. But the punch that Sean and Dians just competed with was not just a hedge of strength, it even included a murderous shock. This is the reason why demon hunters are generally stronger than opponents of the same level, because They grew up in countless killings.

But Sean is still so young, how could he have such a strong murderous aura?

Know that the opponent he is competing with is the Warcraft killer Dians!

Shaun and Dians both felt a bit of shock in their hearts, but the shots were not vague. Because both Sean and Dians already know very well that their opponents are by no means ordinary people, so if they can't be completely killed, then the next Rizhi will definitely not be able to live comfortably, and Dians is better than Sean has one more reason: the vengeance of killing his brother.

So after a fight against each other, both of them withdrew their hands at the same time.

Sean stretched out his hand and gently pushed Cecilia to get her farther away from him, and then the whole person rushed forward without retreating.

From the blow just now, Sean knew that Dians and Johansson were not enemies of the same level, so this time he did not dare to retain any strength at all. He immediately activated the two big hole cards as soon as he shot, and at the same time, he raised his hand. The dead bones are taken out of the space storage ring. Almost everyone just saw a cold light on Xiao En's right hand, and then a sharp sword aura suddenly broke through the air, but no one could see where Xiao En's sword was hidden before.

Only Dians could clearly see that the appearance of this sword appeared directly from the void!

This is a typical sign of space storage appliances!

Diansi's heart sank sharply. He finally knew why the young man in front of him dared to trouble him after killing his brother. He never believed that Sean was completely ignorant of who he was like he said on the surface, but with his reputation, the young man still dared to attack him, and even continued to trouble him. This was definitely not his arrogance. , But the other party does have this confidence and strength.

Knowing the opponent's difficulties, Dians also had no plans to hide his hands.

Seeing the sword energy rushing towards him, Dians suddenly shook his hands, and then fisted each other suddenly. A wave of air suddenly burst out from between Dians' fists, and then I saw Diane's right arm suddenly lifted, and everyone present when the two punches were separated could even see that Diane's separated pair of fists exuded a faint silver light, just like Diane's right fist was wearing. Put on a pair of silver se guanghua gloves.

"break!"

Diansi's right fist struck forward, and there was a sharp and piercing whistle in the air, and the silver light shot out.

Silver light breaking power!

Diansi's signature skills.

Different from the shock of other people when they saw Dians's martial arts that can be called a killer move. When Xiao En saw the silver light of Dians, his eyes were surprised.

Sword Qi, and Yinmang collided with each other in the air, and then produced an extremely violent explosion impact.

The frantic air currents scattered everywhere, and the ground closer to the impact center was directly blasted with several cracks. The hard rocky ground could not even withstand the force of the shock wave. And after the silver light and sword energy collided with each other in the air, the dazzling brilliance also shone out at the same time, piercing the eyes of everyone around them to be white, and it was impossible to see the surrounding environment at all.

Even people a little further away are affected by the silver light, so let alone Shaun who is in the center against Dians.

Diansi's Silver Light Breaking Power Strike is a special martial skill that can break all fighting spirit-based, and it will also produce dazzling silver light after breaking the move.

Explained in terms of the game, that is with blinding effect.

But this blinding effect will only take effect on other people-including Dians' enemies and companions, but it will not affect Dians alone, so everyone who knows Dians knows that this trick is Diane's ultimate move. Even if this blinding time is very short, it is enough for a quasi-powerful person at the level of Dians to torture and kill his opponent a dozen times.

So when the silver light broke out, in the eyes of all the theatermen in the tavern, Sean was already a dead man.

Dianes did not hesitate to rush through the dust and mist generated by the blast of the air wave, and instantly smashed in front of Sean. Everything was exactly as he expected. The young man who brought him a strong sense of danger at this moment. He is closing his eyes and putting on a defensive posture.

Everything is over!

With this relaxed thought, Diane's fist blasted once again!

Feeling the flow of air in the air, the corner of Sean's mouth raised slightly: The first strike should be a right uppercut.

While thinking this way, Sean's head also tilted to the left.

swept across his cheek vigorously. Although this made Sean feel a hotness on his right cheek, it did not cause any physical damage to him.

Next, it should be a left uppercut.

Diansi's right uppercut swept across Sean's cheek, and his calm eyes once again rippled: What's the matter?

But at this time, his left uppercut has already been thrown again. This set of attacks is already an instinctive reaction to him, so his shot speed is extremely fast, even if he is a little surprised at the moment. Eun avoided his first blow, but the successive left uppercuts did not stop.

But the next situation made him a little dumbfounded again.

Because of his left uppercut, he was once again avoided by the young man in front of him!

How could he know that next is a left uppercut! ?

Diansi's eyes, for the first time, the shock of shock appeared.

is just an instinctive action like a conditional anti-she, and he has already made his third shot once again.

This time it was an uppercut from the right hand.

But in the face of this punch, Sean stepped back lightly, also avoiding Dians' punch without any suspense.

Then, Sean's eyes opened.

His eyes are extremely bright, which is not only excitement, but also a kind of light that Dians can't tell at all.

"Fengshen's four combos...You still missed a straight punch." Shaun looked at the shock in Dians' eyes and whispered softly.

Sean's whispers sounded like a demon's whisper to Dians and pointed directly at his heart. His eyes finally changed from shock to horror, and his figure even took a step back unnaturally: "You... who are you!?"

Fengshen's four combos, in fact, is Diane's real killer move.

Outsiders, after seeing the Silver Light Breaking Strike, will be affected by the strong light and will not be able to see what Diances will do next. The only thing he knows is that when Diances uses the Silver Light Breaking Strike, his opponents will have nothing to do. With one exception, it ended with death, so I always thought that this was Diances' ultimate move. But in fact, this is not the case, because no matter how strong the influence of the Silver Light Breaking Strike is, if the opponent flees immediately after being blinded, they can still survive, so in order to actually kill the opponent, There was also the birth of Fengshen four combos.

Shot from the right uppercut to knock the opponent into a stun state, and then connect the left uppercut to extend the time of the stun state and destroy the opponent's balance. Then the uppercut punches the opponent into the floating state, and finally completely defeats the enemy with a straight punch. The heart ends.

This is the truth of Fengshen's four combos.

But all the opponents who have endured the four combos of Fengshen were killed by Diances without exception, so he is 100% sure that there will never be a second person who knows his real killer move.

So how did this young man know! ?

"Next, it's my turn." Sean said softly.

Not inferior to Diances' awe-inspiring killing intent, which broke out from Sean's body.

This is a murderous aura that is more fierce and terrifying than Diances. When this murderous aura bursts out, the people in the entire tavern even become unable to breathe. The shadow of death formed by the terrifying sense of suffocation, instantly Shrouded in the hearts of everyone in the tavern.

They are demon hunters wandering on the edge of countless lives and deaths!

The only one who can do something is Diances.

When he felt this murderous aura, Diances knew that he could not have won the young man in front of him, and he was shocked that he wanted to escape for the first time. But he just thought of this idea, but suddenly he found that his body seemed to be rusty and became a little dull. He had clearly given orders, but his body was slow to respond, as if he was being affected. What kind of special influence, completely cut the connection between his soul and the **.

what happened?

Diansi didn't even have time to think about it, he had already seen the young man who had scared him strode forward to him, and at the same time raised the long sword in his hand.

Cut down diagonally.

is not a deep Jing martial arts, not even the outburst of vindictiveness, purely relying on the sharpness of the dead bones.

But even so, Dianes was hit hard by Sean's knife, and the whole person flew upside down, crashed into the stage and then fell to the ground, red blood was scattered everywhere. And he himself, just a mouthful, before he had time to say anything, another mouthful of blood spurted out, and there were even broken organs in it.

At this time, everyone who was affected by the Silver Light Breaking Strike finally gradually recovered their sights.

But when they saw the scene in front of them clearly, everyone's faces also showed horror.

They never imagined that Dianes, after performing his ultimate move, would actually be the loser!

They looked at Sean as if they were looking at an extremely terrifying monster.

As the person involved, Sean did not pay attention to the gazes of others at all. He just carried his dead bones and continued to walk towards Dianes, with a bit of surprise in his eyes: "As expected, someone who has already started to get in touch with the rules. There is no way to completely kill you. If you step into the golden realm, you might really be able to master the field."

Listening to Sean's words, Dianes' face was extremely pale. Although he was lucky not to be killed by Sean, he also knew how badly his injuries were. If he couldn't get timely treatment, it would never be possible for him. It took five minutes. At this time, if he still doesn't know how big the gap between himself and Sean is, then he won't be able to touch the law.

"Why... why do you know Fengshen's four combos?"

Daans knew that the relationship between himself and Sean could not be eased, so he did not beg for mercy, but he really couldn't understand why the other party knew his ultimate move? That's a move that no one else knows besides him, even his two younger brothers don't know it, and he has never mentioned it to anyone. If Sean can sense the flow of air in the air by virtue of his ability to escape his attack, then he can still accept it. But when Sean easily said the name he gave to his ultimate move, it really made him feel completely ashamed.

The corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly, and then he said something that made Dianes want to vomit blood even more: "Why should I tell you?"

After all, Sean no longer intends to talk nonsense with Dianes. He is very clear that many situations in history have been reversed because people who have the advantage of the side talk too much nonsense. So in order to avoid long nights and dreams, Sean didn't intend to continue wasting time. Since he failed to completely kill Dianes in one blow, he just had to make one more shot.

But when Xiao En raised his knife and fell, the door of the tavern was suddenly knocked open.

It was a middle-aged man who came in. He was actually very strong, and at this time it was completely exuded without reservation.

Everyone in the tavern knows this middle-aged man. He is the chief guard of Wilson, the owner of the Gray Shadow Black Market, and the person responsible for managing the entire Gray Shadow Black Market security issues. Although it is only the lower level gold, in fact his combat power is the most powerful existence in the entire gray shadow black market. It is not much better than the average upper level gold powerhouse, so in fact his real combat power is comparable to the upper level gold. Of the person.

But at this time, when the middle-aged man who came to this pub saw the scene of the stage, his face changed drastically.

A Johansson died, and they could bear this kind of loss in the Black Market of Grey Shadows, but if Dianes were to die too, then this loss would be very heavy for them on the Black Market of Grey Shadows. And if people know that both Dianes and Johansson died in the same hands, then this will definitely arouse the suspicion of the demon hunters, and they will even think that this is a battle against the gray shadow black market, if they If you continue to stay here, you may also become a victim, so the demon hunters will definitely choose to leave the gray shadow black market.

As for an underground black market that no hunters are willing to patronize, what is the future of development?

So he absolutely can't let Dianes die here, otherwise this will be the disaster of the entire gray shadow black market!

"Please be merciful!" The middle-aged man couldn't take into account any demeanor and identity at all, and the whole person immediately moved towards Xiao En quickly.

Chapter 334: .Don't tell me the rules

A strong wind strikes, although there is no killing intent, but this strength is still extremely threatening to the average high-level silver master.

Sean, who has the real eye, just glanced with the corner of his eye and saw that the brilliance emanating from the opponent was not a hostile red se, so he also understood that this was because the middle-aged man was too eager to save People's sake. After all, as a former demon hunter, Sean knew very well what value a quasi-strong man like Dians had for a black market.

It's just that it's absolutely impossible for Sean and Dians to coexist.

It's not that Sean didn't think about taking Dianes as his own at first, but since he killed both of Dians' younger brothers, he was doomed that this thing would never succeed. What's more, according to the history of the game, Dianes has never surrendered to anyone. Sean will not feel that his charm is really that great. Just a few words can make people pay attention.

And since it is already a dead enemy, and Dianes' future achievements are still 100% able to step into the sanctuary, it is even more unlikely that Sean will keep him alive.

Whether it is anyone who comes to intercede.

Sean, who has spent several years in this world, is very clear about a truth, that is, he can never be kind to the enemy.

So even though the middle-aged man had already pleaded with him, and came here at an extremely fast speed, it would be a bit idiotic if he wanted to save someone from Xiao En's hands only with his current strength. With the adrenal stimulation and light-weight technique turned on, Sean already has the strength to fight against the lower level gold powerhouses. If Sean's field is still maintained, even the upper level gold powerhouses cannot guarantee it. Can save people from Sean's hands.

What's more, the strength of this middle-aged man is just the pinnacle of the lower position, and the distance between Dians and Sean can even be said to be face-to-face.

Without the slightest hesitation, the long sword in Sean's hand pierced directly towards Dians' heart.

"No!" The middle-aged man let out an exclamation, his speed suddenly increased again.

This time, Xiao En was slightly surprised. He thought that the speed just now was the limit of the middle-aged man, but he did not expect that he could speed up again at this moment, and there was no sign of grievance exploding. This was obviously The secret skills that belong to him are just like special skills such as adrenal stimulation and light-weight technique. It's just that if the opponent used secret skills from the beginning, then it would really be possible to block Sean's mortal blow, but now it is absolutely impossible.

The tip of the dead bone exudes a not-so-bright but very solid brilliance, as if the long sword in Xiao En's hand was extended out of thin air.

This is exactly one of the special abilities given to Sean by [Mystery Swordsmanship. Change]: wind pressure.

This ability allows Sean's attack range to be determined up to five meters.

At this time, the tip of the dead bone's sword was even less than an inch from Dians' chest. After Sean activated the special ability of wind pressure, the condensed brilliance penetrated Dians' heart without any suspense. Ended the life of this future genius.

The middle-aged man's eyes showed shock, but he did not advance forward again, because he knew that under this sword, Dianes could never survive. Since Dianes could not be saved, it would be a real hostile act for him to rush up again. Dianes' death had already had a serious impact on the Black Market of Gray Shadows, and he didn't want to erect enemies on the Black Market of Gray Shadows.

Of course, if it is a general golden powerhouse, he will definitely take action because of dignity issues, and he will not care about the identity of the young man in front of him.

But he can't do it. Years of training have already allowed him to let go of such meaningless things as dignity. And not to mention the special identity of the young man in front of him, just his strength is completely under his own, even if he tries his best, he is not sure of winning, so even if he is holding a sigh of breath at this moment, he can't do it for his own sake. Vent and cause trouble to Wilson.

He is no longer the young and energetic kid back then.

The middle-aged man glanced around. At this moment, there are less than two or three hundred people in the tavern, and I am afraid that more people will come soon. Bion's kingdom is considered to be a very famous person, so his death will soon cause a sensation in this circle.

In a sense, Dians and Johansson are both demon hunters cultivated in the gray shadow black market, and they have a relatively strong regional se color. If they died while hunting monsters, it would be a pity at best, but now these two people were killed by others, so their deaths will not only have a certain degree of impact on the black market of Gray Shadow, it may even be possible. Will be used by competitors in the gray shadow black market to combat the gray shadow black market.

The competition between the black market in the circle of the demon hunters has never been a sunny battle.

Thinking of this, the middle-aged man looked at Dians's body with a sense of helplessness in his eyes, and behind this helplessness was hidden anger.

It's just these, none of them escaped Sean's eyes.

In Xiao En's eyes, the brilliance emanating from the middle-aged man's body in front of him has begun to gradually deflect towards the red se, which obviously has a certain degree of hostility, but it is not that strong.

"Your Excellency, this is not a place to speak, please move." The middle-aged man said to Xiao En in a deep voice, suppressing the anger in his heart.

"No need." Xiao En glanced at the middle-aged man with a calm voice, "I came here to do only two things, since the first thing cannot be done, and the second thing has been solved. , Then there is no need for me to stay anymore."

Hearing Shaun's words, the surrounding demon hunters suddenly whispered in an uproar.

They carefully observed the face of the head guard of the gray shadow black city. Seeing that he was only daring to be angry but not speaking, they immediately knew that the strength of the young man in front of them was definitely much stronger than that of them. It also explains why Dianes such a strong person is not his opponent. However, the faces of most demon hunters at this time looked a little surprised, because they heard very clearly that the second thing the young man in front of him was to kill Dianes.

Could it be said that the gray shadow black market has provoked any enemies that cannot be provoked?

Of course, there are also many demon hunters who have some friendship with Bannock and Jerry in this tavern. Their gazes at Bannock and Jerry become a little envious at this time. Because in recent days, Bannock and Jerry were running errands for Sean, all of them were watching. At this time, seeing this young man actually had to worry about even the Chief Guard of the Gray Shadow Black Market. , Naturally know that these two people really hug a very thick thigh, so for the very realistic demon hunters, they are naturally a little envious, jealous and hateful, but they will not go back to remember before today. The behavior of Knock and Jerry was also very spurned.

However, at this time, the head of Wilson's bodyguard had no intention of thinking about anything else. When he heard the sudden uproar around him, his face became even more ugly, because he knew that Wilson's most worried thing was already. happened. But at this time, he couldn't think of any way to stop it. The only thing that can be clear is that it is estimated that within two days, the demon hunters in this black market will at least be gone by at least half.

The Marvel Land is a real world, not the "Miracle" that has taken the world by storm, so the number of monster hunters in this world cannot be so high that it is almost overflowing, so whether it is monster hunters or warcraft, other materials, etc. All resources are extremely limited. And the prosperity of a black market is naturally linked to these resources. No matter which one is missing, it will not be able to develop. Although a black market will not be so easy to fail as long as it can be opened, what all black market owners fear most is a half-dead black market.

Thinking that the black market of Gray Shadow is about to become a half-dead black market, the middle-aged man finally couldn't hold back his breath: "Does Lord Sean really think that the black market of Gray Shadow is already empty? Some things, it is better to follow the rules. ."

The middle-aged man's voice is not loud, at least he did not deliberately use his power, so in this messy tavern, only Sean and others can hear his words. And his words are also very clear that the Gray Shadow Black Market already knows the true identity of Sean, so far as this is concerned, they will not have much malice towards Sean. After all, the Gray Shadow Black Market cannot really afford to lose. Johnson and Dians, it's just that Sean was the one who killed them in the Black Market, so they should give them an explanation, so that everyone has a step to go down.

But if Sean refused so tyrannically, this meant not giving face to the black market, so they would probably do something that no longer cared about Sean's face.

Hearing the middle-aged man's obvious threatening words, Xiao En just chuckled, and smiled indifferently: "If this is what your proprietor came, then I might still give some face. But just asking you to come here shows that he doesn't respect me enough. In that case, I don't think we have anything to talk about.... So, don't tell me any rules. I'll behave a little bit with you on the dark market. No interest at all."

"You!" The middle-aged man glared with anger, but this anger quickly turned into horror, and looked at Sean incredulously.

At this moment, the distance between him and Sean is less than one meter. If he suddenly takes advantage of his strength, it is entirely possible to subdue Sean. But at such a moment when he was about to shoot, he felt an extremely subtle aura fluctuation. It was the murderous aura emanating from Sean, and silver masters such as Johnson and Dians naturally couldn't feel it. This murderous intent is strange, but he is a strong person in the golden realm after all, so he can easily feel the strange in murderous aura.

field!

From the beginning, this middle-aged man placed Sean at the same height as himself, so he thought he was tall enough to see Sean, but he never thought that Sean had already mastered the scene! Although he didn't know how much Shaun's control over the game was reached, he knew very well that he hadn't even figured out the rudiments of the game, so he could never win Shaun with just one hand. , So at this moment he resisted the idea of shooting.

Just like everyone else, the idea of "how is this possible" hovered in his mind at this moment.

Because of Sean's age, he is too young.

On this continent, young geniuses are by no means small, but those who can touch the barriers of the laws of the world and master the field at such a young age are absolutely rare.

This is the real reason for the horror in his eyes.

Not to mention Shaun's status as a lord, it's only his personal strength. Unless he is a strong sanctuary, he will not be sure of winning even if he breaks through to the upper level of gold, even if he is lucky when he breaks through to the upper level of gold. Mastering the "field", he believes that at most he only has a 50% chance of winning.

Seeing that this middle-aged man had discovered his secret, Sean was not surprised at all, because since this middle-aged man had a secret skill that can break through the limit of speed, Sean has not regarded him as a general golden powerhouse. Come treat. Although he still doesn't know his profession and specific strength, but judging by his aura, Sean knows that this middle-aged man is by no means weaker than the average high-ranking gold powerhouse, so he will continue to maintain the field, and Surrounded by this middle-aged man.

Sure enough, everything was as he expected, and the middle-aged man immediately found his field.

Knowing this, Sean has a general judgment on the strength of this middle-aged man, so it is rare to say one more sentence: "If the gray shadow black market can always maintain the neutral attitude of the demon hunter, Then I can give you a guarantee."

"What kind of guarantee?" The middle-aged man hesitated for a moment, and asked cautiously.

"As long as I'm still alive, the Grey Shadow Forest will belong to your Grey Shadow Black Market." Xiao En said softly, "Even if I have any special needs for this Grey Shadow Forest, I will only entrust you with the Grey Shadow Black Market to handle it. ."

Hearing Sean's words, the middle-aged man's pupils suddenly shrank.

This guarantee is equivalent to acknowledging the dulixing and special xing of the gray shadow black market, and they can even expand the influence of the gray shadow black market.

If it is said that just the death of Johnson and Dianes can be exchanged for such a big profit, then he even dare to agree to Wilson on this deal, because the relationship between him and Wilson is not a simple master-servant relationship, and He has a deeper relationship between life and death, so he also has a large part of the gray shadow black market policy decision power. But at this moment, he didn't dare to agree to Wilson at all, because Sean's words obviously contained other meanings.

Have maintained the neutral attitude of the demon hunter?

What does it mean?

The circle of Demon Hunters has always maintained a clear tendency of neutrality, and has never paid attention to any party. If this is not the case, they can completely sell the news of Shaun's presence here to the nobles in the Kingdom of Darbion, and the other party will definitely have it. Great interest to acquire this news.

The middle-aged man knew that this powerful young lord in front of him must have a special meaning to say this.

"You don't need to rush to answer, you will soon know what I mean by this." Xiao En smiled, "Sometimes, inaction is a way of expressing attitude. So, don't talk to you about the rules of the dark market. Then I will use my rules to communicate with you."

Chapter 335: .Unable to refuse

Wilson had already received the news of Dians' death. At the moment, sitting in the study was a little embarrassed. Several times he even wanted to lead the team to the tavern personally, but he swallowed it again when the order reached his lips, turning into a helpless voice. Sigh.

He has handed it over to Robert to deal with it, so now he can't take people there anymore, otherwise he doesn't trust Robert's ability to do things.

Although he was a little puzzled about Robert's failure to keep Dians, he didn't blame Robert.

Because he believes in Robert.

He and Robert have a life-changing friendship. Both were demon hunters who were killed in the blood of the corpse mountain. Almost half of his scars were blocked for Robert's sake. Of course, only he knew that Robert's back had a huge wound from the back of the neck to the crotch, which was only a few millimeters away from it. Terrible injury to his entire vertebra.

This injury was caused by Robert because of him.

With this friendship established in blood and fire, they can trust their backs to each other with peace of mind.

Wilson took a deep breath, and finally threw the matter of Sean, the lord, from his mind for a while.

This gray shadow black market is not his own black market, but he and Robert set up together. Although they are the real masters of the black market, Wilson knows that this is actually only because his mind is more flexible and understandable. Look for ways to find business. If it is purely about personal strength, even though he and Robert are both inferior golden peak powerhouses, Robert is stronger than him.

Wilson abandoned these thoughts, and soon went to a new round of work.

For him, these things are already very familiar work, and he only needs to make a simple ruling. certainly. Most of the time, it is actually to determine whether to accept some commissions. After all, even if they are a demon hunter who is in conflict with a demon hunter, there is actually no difference between a job and a demon hunter, except that the handling of some problems is completely different. .

Only this time, a job that should have been easily solved, Wilson stopped for the first time.

The reason is simple: no one.

Now he has three contracts piled up on his hands, none of which is capable of ordinary people. Originally, these three contracts were handed over to Dians, Johansson and others. It was just right, but now Dians and Johansson are dead. , These three contracts cannot be completed in a short time.

Wilson frowned. For the first time, there was a sense of powerlessness in my heart.

This feeling, with the stabilization of the gray shadow black market, has not appeared for a long time.

Just when Wilson was worried about how to solve this problem and stretched out his hand to rub his brows, the door of the room was suddenly opened, and Robert strode in.

"What's the matter?" See Robert's appearance. Wilson immediately stood up with a nervous look, because he seldom saw the calm Robert show such expressions.

In his impression. Robert is the kind of calm fighter who can look indifferent even when facing death. But now. Robert's face unexpectedly showed an expression that made Wilson feel unfamiliar, so Wilson would inevitably think of some bad ideas. After all, the gray shadow black market is their home. If there is a major crisis that is irreversible, Of course he must also find a solution immediately.

When Robert saw Wilson's expression, he knew immediately that Wilson wanted to go wrong. So in order to avoid some unexpected changes and troubles, Robert immediately relayed to Wilson all those things Sean had previously said to him in the tavern in private. Just as Wilson trusted him, he also trusted and respected Wilson very much. Many times he couldn't figure out problems and didn't know how to solve them. Just ask Wilson.

After listening to Robert's retelling, Wilson's brows have been frowning, and he has not been able to relax for a long time: "You said, the lord said that as long as we maintain an absolutely neutral attitude, he will give us a forest of gray shadows. A guarantee that is completely under our control?"

"Yes, as long as he is still the lord of this territory." Robert added.

Wilson certainly knows that this is the real point. If Sean cannot continue to be the lord of this territory, then the guarantee he promised will certainly not be realized. Of course, there is also a very important message revealed here, that is, Lord Berbius will be the next target of the lord, because the Grey Shadow Forest is a resource shared by the three realms, so if you want to make the Grey Shadow Forest Sean has completely become their possession of the black market, so the occupation of Berbish collar is the goal that must be achieved.

But others don't know it, but he knows very well that the target Darbion Kingdom has already made a big move. Only Berbice's army has stationed more than 80,000 troops. A small territory is almost densely packed with military camps, and he wants to capture him. How easy is it to talk about Bisling?

Moreover, the real problem is more than this.

Wilson gave a wry smile: "If this is the case, we cannot maintain absolute neutrality. At least, in this counteroffensive launched by Darbion, we must lean towards the lord, otherwise we will not May master the entire Gray Shadow Forest."

Of course, Robert also knows this, because Sean said that as long as he is still the lord of this territory, once he is no longer the lord of this territory, then this guarantee and promise will of course be invalidated.

But the current situation cannot be clearer.

This lord wants to win Darbion's counterattack. This is simply an impossible battle, because all the armies under this lord do not have as many garrisons under Berbice. Although war is not a purely digital game, when this number reaches a certain level, then it will completely lose any comparable xing. Of course, the more important thing is that no one thinks that there will be sanctuary and legendary powerhouses under Sean. If there is really a strong man at this level, then he can't be just a baron.

It's just that the cake that Sean gave is really delicious.

It was so delicious that Wilson couldn't refuse it at all.

If he really can completely control the Grey Shadow Forest, or if Sean gave him this official recognition from the government, then he would have the right to mine the entire Grey Shadow Forest, and then this forest would become His private property. Anyone who wants to obtain anything in this forest must get his consent. It doesn't matter if it is a general area, but Wilson, who has lived in the Forest of Gray Shadows for decades, knows the value of this forest.

There are many things in this forest that the outside world does not have. These things are really so-called "special products". If you want to obtain these special products, you must come to the Forest of Gray Shadows. This is why there are in the black market of Gray Shadows. The reason why so many chambers of commerce settled in.

and many more!

Wilson suddenly woke up to one thing: "You mean, he came to us to do two things, but the first thing failed?"

"Yes." Although I don't know why Wilson asked this, Robert nodded because Sean did say so.

After hearing Robert's affirmative reply, Wilson asked again: "The first thing he did after he came to us was to purchase various materials. But it was after a fight with Johnson at the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce. Just give up the acquisition, right?"

Robert nodded, and immediately understood what Wilson meant: "You mean..."

"I believe this lord's so-called absolute neutrality should mean this." Wilson nodded, already understanding the meaning of Sean's words, "Obviously. The rumor that he and the Chamber of Commerce are not at peace is mostly true. It's just that I didn't expect it. This young man's courage is so great. After suffering a bit of a loss here, he will immediately turn around and get it back. It seems that the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is going to capsize after so many years."

"Then what are we going to do?" Robert asked, "Stay neutral?"

"Do you think you can still remain neutral?" Wilson asked back.

Such question, Robert was really stunned.

Because the chamber of commerce is stationed in the underground black market of the hunters, not every black market has it, but once it is settled, it can indeed bring great vitality and popularity to these black markets. Therefore, it can be regarded as a mutually beneficial companion development system. Therefore, if something goes wrong with these chambers of commerce, then the party who is the manager of the black market will surely join forces, and the purpose of course is to build a good relationship with these chambers of commerce, so as to be more conducive to the growth of the black market. After all, the size of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance spreads across the entire continent.

But now, Sean has posed a big problem for the gray shadow black market.

If Sean really sends the entire Grey Shadow Forest to the Grey Shadow Black Market, then they can completely get rid of the influence of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance and have a sales system that is completely duli outside, and even the price can be set by them. Because Gray Shadow Forest has an absolute advantage.

This is indeed an irresistible temptation!

However, all of this must be based on the premise that Sean, the lord, can win this war, otherwise it will be a tragic and fatal blow to the black market of Gray Shadow. Because after the loss of talented demon hunters such as Johansen and Dians, the current gray shadow black market has fallen into a turbulent atmosphere, and these demon hunters are expected to leave the gray shadow black market soon.

And if Sean attacked the Chamber of Commerce Alliance in the Gray Shadow Black Market at this time, and they, as the managers of the Gray Shadow Black Market, did not support the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, then it would have completely offended the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. At that time, once the Chamber of Commerce Alliance issues a blockade order or joins forces with other black markets, then their gray shadow black market will completely become a thing of the past.

Of course, even if Sean did what he promised, it would be meaningless if he couldn't even keep his territory in the end.

So Robert knew that when Sean put this matter on the bright side, even from the early ward and their voice, the gray shadow black market would no longer be able to remain neutral. They must choose a camp between Sean and the Chamber of Commerce. Of course, if Sean is chosen, it means that they must accompany Sean to face the threat of war from the Kingdom of Darbion.

Faced with a clear battle situation, anyone with a normal mind knows how to choose.

But.....

Chapter 336: . Army in the Forest

This is a forest with little sunlight.

But the magical thing is that the trees in this forest grow very luxuriantly. Many thick trees need to be embraced by several people. The canopy is even adjacent to other trees. If you can climb to these trees, you can even rely on these branches. Move fast in this forest.

Of course, that requires a high balance ability.

The skill of moving at a high speed in a tree cannot be mastered by everyone.

Alfred slowly retracted his gaze.

has been following Sean for two or three years. Although his personal strength has not improved much, his military ability in leadership has been greatly improved. Of course, this is because he used to be the head of a mercenary group, so he has a good foundation, but it is more because of Sean's unreserved trust in him that he can become the most powerful general in the domain at the moment. one.

In fact, Alfred knew very well that if the lion of thunder under his command was handed over to William, it would definitely be able to exert more combat power than him. Even if it is not William's directing, but Clover's words, he can become stronger, and even among the younger generation of generals, the potential of Aldolf and Nok is great, and the Lion of Thunder It is more valuable in the hands of these two people than in his hands.

After all, one of these two men is best at assault and the other is best at rushing to rescue, and the initial war positioning of the Thunder Lion is to fight tough battles.

Looking back, Alfred glanced at the soldier behind him.

These people may have had a good family and future, but when they became slaves, there was nothing. As a slave, being able to live is already a very extravagant thing. When Sean gave them a new future and hope, and his commander gave them pride and dignity, the soul of this army was Has begun to gather.

After experiencing a dozen or so wars. Today's Thunder Lion will only recognize him as the lion king. Even if William personally takes over the command, he may not be able to make these rebellious lions obedient, not to mention the ranks of Knok and Aldolf. He is also a low young general.

Only the sophisticated and sophisticated Alfred knows that all of this is now created by William.

The purpose of , of course, is to make his position stronger.

Because in the first batch of followers, Rena has successfully broken through to the upper level of gold, and if he does not have some contribution and value, then even if he is the first to follow Sean, sooner or later, he will be marginalized. Whether it is for his daughter or to repay the kindness of Sean, Alfred will never allow himself to be marginalized.

Hold the halberd in your hand. Alfred turned his head and looked at the young man next to him.

He remembered that this man seemed to be called Spean, a demon hunter.

When he was still a mercenary, Alfred also had a lot of contact with the demon hunters. He didn't like or dislike this kind of people. After all, they were just to be able to survive in this world better. But what Alfred couldn't understand was. Why would this young man be assigned to the Cecilia Guards in Clover? That army is currently under the command of Sean but has the nickname "Death Army". Because his battle damage rate is the largest among all armies.

After almost every war. The whole army is almost on the verge of disbanding.

Of course, although the Cecilia Guards has the highest death rate, this same army is also the strongest. In the scale of less than 1,000 people, no one under Sean except William dared to say that he could win Clover, even if it was a scale of 5,000 people, Clover maintained a winning rate of close to 70%. This is because Clover's Cecilia Guards only has a size of 1,000. If he waits for him to have a size of 5,000, he may dare to fight against an army of more than 10,000.

So after throwing the demon hunter into Clover's army, Alfred really didn't know if Sean was interested in the young man's potential or if he wanted him to die soon.

But these. None of Alfred needs to think about it. The only thing he needs to think about is how to complete the task assigned by Sean, so he asked: "How long will it take to reach the destination?"

Although Spean tried his best to stay calm, the cold killing intent on Alfred still made him a little frightened.

As a demon hunter, he has already seen many people who kill a lot of sex, even when facing a strong man like Dianes in the gray shadow black market, he will not have this feeling of tremor. . But when he faced these followers of Xiao En's command, he had a trembling from his soul, even when he faced the simple-faced northern barbarian leader, he did not dare to say it. atmosphere.

It was only at this moment that he truly knew why the lord was so emboldened.

"It's about half a day away." Spean replied respectfully.

About two weeks ago, he set off from the black market in Gray and Shadow, and delivered the letter written by Sean to Alfred. Originally, he thought he would have to wait for several days before he could take the next step, but he did not expect that that night, he was asked to lead the way back to the black market of Gray Shadow, and accompanied by three thousand soldiers and four people who are said to be legion chiefs. .

Including his future boss, Clover, the head of the Cecilia Guards.

If there was a bit of resentment for Sean before arranging him to join the Cecilia Guards, then his resentment will now become obsession.

Because after hearing about Sean's arrangement and his vow to protect Cecilia, his future boss, Clover, actually smiled and said to him: "Welcome to my death legion, as long as you If you can survive, then your ideal will be realized one day."

Three thousand soldiers, one thousand from the Thunder Lion, one thousand five hundred from the Iron Wings, and the last five hundred from the Cecilia Guards.

The four heads are Alfred, the head of the Thunder Lion, Anno, the head of the Iron Wings, Cloff, the head of the Cecilia Guards, and a female xing, who is said to be from The commander of the First Cavalry Regiment is also the strongest person among all the people present.

Rena.

But now he is following Alfred and his 1,000 Thunder Lion soldiers.

Gray Shadow Black Market has three exits, according to Sean's idea. Now that you have made up your mind to wipe out all the chambers of commerce in the black market, it is of course impossible to make any gaps. This is destined from the beginning to be a war of death if you resist, so the three entrances and exits are certain. It must be blocked.

Currently, the entrance to the black market near Pandaling is taken care of by Anno and his steel wings.

Near the entrance to the black market on the side of Berbice, Alfred and his Thunder Lion are responsible because there is a high possibility of a fierce war, because currently only his Thunder Lion still retains the full line. So even if there is any accident, it can withstand the loss. As for the safest entrance to Yedby, Clover and his Cecilia Guards are in charge. However, because this position was the first place to start the battle, the strongest Rina also went with Clover.

At this moment, Spean finally knew how crazy the lord he was about to take refuge in was.

Don't say what kind of chaos and sensation these soldiers will cause when they appear in the black market. It is only his currently known battle plan, which is definitely not something normal people have done.

This is an enemy of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance!

Spenn looked at Alfred, a middle-aged man about the same age as his uncle. There was a bit of confusion in his eyes.

He doesn't understand, don't these people know the horror of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance? Why is there no fear in everyone's eyes. Instead, it looks like a matter of course? Even the soldiers behind these people. They all looked very excited, and they didn't seem to put the Chamber of Commerce Alliance in their eyes at all.

Alfred listened to Spean's compulsively calm voice, and smiled mildly: "I think you and Ruby can become good friends."

"Rupees?" Spean was a little puzzled.

"A child a few years younger than you." Alfred smiled, "Although he is young, his current strength is not very good. But this child is very popular. I think... you and him may be in a lot of All aspects can be discussed."

"Can talk?" Spean was even more puzzled.

Alfred nodded: "You will know later, as long as you can survive such a war or two, you will definitely have contact."

do not know why. Hearing Alfred's words, Spean felt even more chilly.

At this moment, Alfred suddenly stopped, and the thousand Thunder Lion soldiers behind him also stopped.

Quiet.

Spenn turned his head in shock, and then saw three people slowly approaching about ten meters in front.

The leader is the lord he will serve in the future.

Sean Connery.

This is the first time that he has focused his attention on a man about the same age as him. At this moment, he finally felt that this young man had a unique temperament that he had neglected before. This kind of temperament is not very obvious, but as he walked slowly, he became more and more prosperous. When the distance was less than three meters, Spean even felt that he could not breathe, as if the surrounding space has been stagnated.

This powerful momentum and pressure was the first time he felt from this young lord.

Seeing Sean walking slowly, Alfred finally knelt on one knee.

This head is already famous in Darbion, and even the lion king, who is not as famous as Sean or William, lowered his arrogant head and expressed his respect to Sean. Along with Alfred's movements, a thousand lions also knelt on one knee behind him. They put down their weapons and shields, fisted with their right hands and placed them gently on their chests. Become solemn, bow his head slightly like Alfred, and express his sincere respect to the lord who gave them new life and hope.

Although the movements are light, it can even be said that there is almost no loud noise, but the murderous breath emanating from them makes this area in the forest quiet, not only the sounds of birds, but also the sounds of insects. All disappeared completely.

Spean is okay. After all, he has been walking with Alfred's lions for a few days, and has even seen strong men like Rena and Clover, as well as jing sharp regiments like Cecilia's Guards and Iron Wings. So there was not much expression, but he knelt down sluggishly. And Bannock looked at the densely packed blue se heavy armor soldiers in his field of vision, watching the neat military looks of these people and the murderous aura emanating from them, there was only endless shock in his heart.

He knew that as long as he did not die, his future status would definitely be countless times more noble than the Demon Hunter.

So, even though his movements are slightly rusty, he still learns to kneel on one knee.

In an instant, in this murderous venue, only Sean and Cecilia were still standing.

Looking at the people in front of him, Xiao En's calm face finally got a little more smile.

This is his pride.

"Are you ready?"

"Everything has been arranged according to your instructions."

"Very good." Sean nodded, "I think everyone present should be very clear about what we will face next, that is, a war and revenge that is likely to be more tragic than Dabion's counterattack. But this We have to fight a war, because behind us is our homeland. If we compromise and retreat, then we will never achieve true peace. So even if the revenge of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is like a storm, we will I have to fight, especially at this moment when we are about to go to war with the southern nobles of Darbion."

Sean's voice is very flat, not too impassioned, but there is a real feeling that makes people feel as if they are completely burnt physically and mentally.

"I will not deceive you or embarrass you, so you can make your own choices. Even if you choose to leave now and not participate in this war, no one will laugh at you. Of course, whether you participate in this war or not, I You will restore your identity as a ziyou people. From this moment on, you will no longer be slaves, so please make your choices carefully."

It was silent.

No one left.

Sean waited for ten minutes, and then he said again: "Since you all trust me and put your lives in my hands, then take your weapons and set off with me now....I, Will lead you to witness a miracle."

"As you wish, my lord." Alfred said in a deep voice, then picked up the flaming lion fangs and stood up calmly.

This is the first time Alfred has called Sean our lord.

This is also the homage to the king by the wandering tribes at the end of the distant Ash Age.

Chapter 337: .The Lord

Greycastle black market, as a three-pole black market, it has a high reputation in the circle of demon hunters in the Kingdom of Darbion. Of course, it refers to those demon hunters who know this black market. For those hunters who don't know this black market, Grey Shadow Forest is a dangerous forbidden place full of treasures, because those who can enter this black market are almost all the masters of Qingyi Se Silver Realm, so there are any conflicts here. The mortality rate is very high.

It's just that, in the past ten days or so, the grey shadow black market has become a bit depressed and lonely.

According to incomplete statistics, at least 50 demon hunters have left the gray shadow black market these days, which means that at least two thirds of the demon hunters have been removed from the gray shadow black market.

At present, the number of demon hunters left in the gray shadow black market is no more than twenty.

Seeing the decline of the gray shadow black market is almost a foregone conclusion, the major chambers of commerce stationed in the gray shadow black market in recent days have also begun to pack their things and prepare to evacuate.

This is the profit-seeker.

Standing by the window, Wilson looked at the deserted street, the  se on his face was as calm as ever.

Behind him are his old comrade-in-arms Robert and a man with a slightly immature face.

This man does not seem to be very old, but Wilson and Robert are very clear, this is because the man is very well maintained. In fact, this man is nearly fifty years old. Of course, his strength is another important reason for his immortality.

This is a real high-level gold powerhouse.

"Mr. Wilson, do you really stop thinking about it?" The voice of this very young man is not rough, on the contrary it has a kind of honesty, especially his tone also has a kind of surprise, said The words that came out were like poems sung by a bard, "I'm really sincere."

"Heh." Wilson turned his head and glanced at the man. He looked at the false smile on his face and felt extremely disgusted. "If this is sincere, then I will also buy you Mr. Roma for three million gold coins. Half of the property under the name... You see, I am more sincere than you, only half."

"Mr. Wilson is really joking." The man named Roma let out a hearty laugh. "The situation in the black market is now clear to even an outsider like me. Why should Mr. Wilson continue to hold on? You see, Even those chambers of commerce are already preparing to withdraw. The gray shadow black market has no value in your hands?... I admit that if it was the gray shadow black market before, the price of 3 million is indeed for you. Insulting, but the situation is different now. Three million is definitely worth the money. It can even be said to be high or low."

Even if Wilson hates this nobleman from the Kingdom of France, he has to admit that this guy is indeed a born bard. It is obviously a very angry word, but when he speaks it through his voice, it is It's really full of helplessness and sympathy with the world. And in fact, it is exactly as he said, although the gray shadow black market is a three-pole black market, but in the current situation, three million is indeed a very good offer.

It's a pity that someone offered a price that was much more sincere than this Roma.

"Okay, you don't have to say so much nonsense." Wilson said lightly, "The future of the gray shadow black market is much more valuable than you think. Let alone three million, even three thousand. Even if you trade all the properties under your name, I will not sell it to you.... I know that your Nomir family has wanted to get involved in the hunter for a long time, but if you plan to put your breakthrough in my black market If you go up, then I still advise you to die."

Hearing Wilson's words, Roma's face that had been smiling all the time disappeared for the first time, and his brows were slightly frowned for the first time.

He has been here for a while.

At the beginning, he really just wanted to seek some business cooperation. After all, as the outside world knows, the Nomir family he represents is currently in a development bottleneck in the Kingdom of France. If you want to make the family stronger If you do, then you can only seek opportunities in other areas. However, his talks with Wilson hadn't even started, and two quasi-strong men died in the Gray Shadow Black Market one after another. This naturally directly caused the turbulence and chaos of the entire Gray Shadow Black Market, and there were a large number of them in just a few days. The demon hunter leaves.

This made Roma immediately aware of an opportunity, so he promptly changed the original cooperation to annexation, which is not uncommon among the noble circles.

What he didn't expect was that the plan that was supposed to be tenable was directly rejected. At first he thought it was Wilson Yu's method of catching the game, just to take the opportunity to sell the gray shadow black market for a good price, but after the two days of contact, Roma began to waver in his own thoughts, because from the beginning to the end, Wilson's expression did not fluctuate, and it was as calm as a winter lake, without the slightest ripple.

"Someone's bid is higher than mine?" Rohm finally broke the unspoken rules of business negotiations.

"Much higher than your Nomir family." Wilson gave a satisfied smile for the first time, "This is an offer that I can't refuse at all."

was silent for a long time before Roma finally spoke again: "I'm really curious, who is taking advantage of me?"

"It's not taking your first opportunity, I can only say that the other party said a suitable word at the right time." Wilson smiled, "The gray shadow black market is still mine, and the only thing I need to do is do nothing."

"Do nothing?" Roma frowned slightly, "Is it convenient to reveal the identity of the other party?"

At this moment, there was a sudden strong shaking in the black market of gray shadows, followed by a sudden roar, which made Roma's face suddenly changed; although the gods of Wilson and Robert did not change much. , But he was still taken aback by the strong shaking and roar.

The three people immediately came to the window and looked at the scenery outside the window together.

This is the center of the entire gray shadow black market, so the building scale is naturally higher than other places. Standing in Wilson's office room, you can easily see the entire gray shadow black market.

At this moment, in the passages of the three entrances and exits of the gray shadow black market, there is a bright brilliance.

This is equivalent to the jingle of wolf smoke when the army is fighting, which means that there is an invasion of foreign enemies.

In the history of the establishment of the black market in Gray Shadow, there have been several intrusions, of course, the result is obvious.

Follow normal procedures. At this moment, Wilson and Robert must lead the defenders in the black market to attack. Moreover, all people in the black market who have the ability to fight must also fight to protect the black market. Of course, this kind of battle will definitely not be a waste of work, and you will definitely get a satisfactory return afterwards-provided that you are still alive, after all. Demon hunters rarely have friends.

There are not many people like Robert, Wilson, Jerry, and Bennock.

Understanding that it was the invasion, Roma's face seemed calm.

He is a Marquis of the Kingdom of France. Although he only has the title of a Marquis and does not even have a territory, he himself is a high-ranking golden powerhouse. This strength is enough to earn him enough respect. In addition, his family, Nomir, can also add points to his identity to a large extent, because this is a big family that is as important as the Wiles family in the Kingdom of France.

Rome glanced sideways at Wilson and Robert. He wanted to know how the two of them deal with the current invasion.

He doesn't even need to think about this kind of thing. It must be because there are other people in the black market who know the situation in the gray shadow black market, so they came to take advantage of the fire. This kind of thing is not uncommon in the circle of demon hunters. After all, the resources of the Grey Shadow Forest are very rich. It can be known that there are so many chambers of commerce here, and no one will be uninterested here.

Only because there were a lot of quasi-strong people in the black market before, and Wilson and Robert were there, so no one was stupid enough to use such a tough method.

If it were not for the reputation of the Nomir family, Roma would even want to conquer by force.

Others may be afraid of these two ruthless men who are extremely famous in the circle of demon hunters, but in this world that speaks by strength, the upper gold powerhouse definitely has the qualifications to despise the lower gold powerhouse. Of course, if Wilson and Robert join forces, Roma will of course feel a little bit tricky, but if there are one or two people who are decent enough to help, then there is no suspense about the outcome.

Of course, Roma also has his own abacus.

If Wilson and Robert were killed in this defense battle, then he would take the right to manage the gray shadow black market, and the reputation of the Nomir family would not be damaged. However, if possible, Roma would prefer to include these two people under his command, because no nobleman is really willing to only take an empty name, and he is also ambitious.

"Mr. Wilson, do you really stop thinking about my proposal?" Roma looked at Wilson again, taking advantage of the fire. This is not only the power of the merchants, but also the mastery of the nobles. "If you agree, then this time I can also help you defend.... Apart from anything else, it's okay to defend one of the entrances and exits."

In the words, what is revealed is Roma's powerful self-confidence.

This is the pride of the upper gold powerhouse.

"Hehe, Mr. Rohm, if you think you can really hold one of the gates, then you go." Wilson glanced at Rohm, who was full of pride. For the first time, I thought this smile was not that annoying, at least. He was particularly pleasant to laugh at, "As long as you can hold one of the gates, then I will give you one-third of the gray shadow black market management rights, how about?"

Others may not know it, but Roma knows very well that the black market of gray shadows actually belongs to both Wilson and Robert. So at the moment Wilson says he wants to divide his one-third of the management power, Roma is already a high-ranking gold. The strong, at this moment is also shocked.

But just when he was about to accept it, he saw the mockery in Wilson's eyes, which immediately cooled his somewhat hot mind.

And once he calmed down, Roma found many things he hadn't noticed before.

The gods of Wilson and Robert are a little terribly calm.

Generally, if one's own territory is subjected to such a surprise attack, then as the owner of the territory, he will definitely feel angry, because this is a challenge to authority.

However, the two of them didn't even jump their eyelids from the beginning to the end. They looked like a matter of course, as if they had already expected someone to attack. And it has been several minutes since the glow was emitted, but Wilson and Robert still did not issue any orders to attack, but still chose to wait and see quietly. This has clearly indicated a problem: inaction.

Rome's eyes paused slightly, and he immediately remembered what Wilson had said before.

——The gray shadow black market is still mine, and the only thing I need to do is do nothing.

"Who is the other party?" Rom asked in a deep voice.

Wilson did not speak, but reached out to one of the three gates of the gray shadow black market.

At this distance, with the eyesight of the gold powerhouse, one can naturally see a general idea.

Following the direction Wilson pointed, Roma's pupils shrank suddenly.

Because in his field of vision, a woman in a knight costume is swinging a gun to pick up several enemies, and she has already broken through the defense line of the gate with her power alone-of course, it is not actually the defensive line of the gray shadow black market, because Those who were picked up by the woman were all guards from the nearby chamber of commerce.

Rome is very clear about the strength of those people, and being able to pick so many people with a single shot, the strength of this female knight must not be below him.

A female knight who is a high-ranking golden powerhouse?

But this is not what really shocked Roma.

What really shocked him was that behind the female knight, soldiers wearing uniform equipment entered through the gates of the black market one after another, and then discharged a battle formation in the open area. The soldiers reacted very quickly. There was no pause or confusion in the whole process. It was obvious that this was a well-trained unit, and just as far as his sight was concerned, Roma had already felt some slight punctures in his eyes, which indicated this. The troops already have the ability to hurt him.

A Jing Rui army!

Moreover, it is still a private army of nobles who hangs the family crest instead of under the banner!

Some unbelievers Roma immediately turned his head and looked in the other two directions.

There, there is also an army breaking through the defense line of the black market gate, and then gathering at the gate square.

Although the two armies differ slightly in their standard equipment, the murderous aura exuded by the two armies is not the slightest difference from the first armies. This is undoubtedly the two battle-tested jingles. Sharp Army!

Are all the Jing Rui troops in this world completely worthless?

Rome looked at the three flags with the same family crest in disbelief.

It is a black flag with a little bit of stars on it, and the main zhongyang of the flag is a pair of peculiar gray flags: the left wing fully expanded and the right wing fully closed.

This is a family crest that Roma has never seen before.

"Is this the family crest of which Darbion's emerging nobleman?" At this moment, Roma's voice has long lost its former heartiness.

"Who told you that this is the nobleman of Darbion?" Although Wilson was also shocked by the mastery shown by the lord at this time, as he had decided to stand on Sean's side, he was somewhat proud of his heart. Yan.

"Could it be..." Roma quickly realized the lord who had been arguing with Darbion recently.

Lord of the Duchy of Lane, pioneering knight of the former Marquis of Tonis, Baron Panda, Sean Connery!

Chapter 338: .Chaos in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance

As an upper-level golden powerhouse, Rina has only just been promoted and has not yet fully grasped the power rules related to it. The current strength shown is slightly stronger than that of the lower-level golden period, but she is in the lower-level golden realm. At that time, he was able to beat the ruthless man who was able to beat the upper position. Although in that state it refers to the increase of mounts, Rina's equipment at this time is a legend plus a golden magic spear. This increase in combat power for her is far more powerful than simply riding a mount. There are many, so even if the powerhouse of the upper golden pinnacle faces Rina at this time, he has to weigh it carefully.

So when Rena shot the four guards in the nearby Chamber of Commerce, these people immediately knew that Rena was definitely not an offender.

It's just that the people in these chambers of commerce really stop resisting, but it is not Rina's strong personal strength, but the soldiers who appear behind Rina.

The soldiers of the Cecilia Guards regiment, Qingyi se are all black se es armor, this is the same as that of jet black wings se.

It's just that the black wings are Qingichi's heavy armor, heavy shield and heavy gun, that is a real heavy infantry.

The Cecilia Guards, in addition to their defensive efforts, also emphasizes on maneuvering. Therefore, it is naturally impossible to equip Qingyise with heavy armor and heavy armor. Instead, the defense is relatively high and will not affect maneuvering. The sandwich light armor. Moreover, the special feature of the Cecilia Guards is "all arms are complete", which means that they are capable of fighting under any circumstance. Just like the current invasion, the Cecilia Guards are equipped with the most weapons. Buckler and short sword suitable for street fighting.

With such a neat military appearance and quality, the people in the gray shadow black market are not fools. Naturally, at a glance, you can see that the army in front of you is by no means an ordinary army. This is obviously the level of Jing Rui's army.

Although under normal circumstances, noble private soldiers rarely have such a sharp scale.

But anyone with a little bit of common sense at this moment can see that the army in front of them is not affiliated with any country. But a true private soldier of the nobility.

Because the army in front of us not only does not have a secondary flag, but there is even no national logo on the flag.

On this continent, only the official military actions of the nobles will allow private troops to appear on the battlefield under the banner of their family crest. Of course, if it is to engage in some kind of private sex, then there will definitely not be any family crest imprints, or anything that can identify the identity will not appear on the battlefield.

But, invading an underground black market, is this an act that can be made public?

Especially this underground black market also comes from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

But at this moment, the deacons in the major chambers of commerce are more concerned about which nobleman the family crest on this banner belongs to.

Fully spread out on the fully closed wings. No one has seen it before.

Is there another powerful nobleman in the Kingdom of Darbion?

This is quite possible.

After all, the southern nobles of the Darbion Kingdom are all in joint operations. At present, Berbice has more than 80,000 troops, and the Grey Shadow Black Market is located in the three territories of Berbish, Panda, and Yadby. Junction, so this is a very high possibility for the army from the Kingdom of Darbion.

Some jingming deacons of the Chamber of Commerce have even begun to think about the fact that these troops are here because the Lord Pandaling also appeared here before? If this is the case. This information has become very valuable.

So for a while, the major chambers of commerce did not choose any behavior that might stimulate these troops.

After all, these soldiers began to assemble and assemble after entering the black market in Gray Shadow. But there was no further action. So this also makes the deacons in the major chambers of commerce choose a wait-and-see attitude. They have to figure out the purpose of these troops suddenly appearing here before they can act. As for whether these troops will be chaotically in the black market, these chamber of commerce deacons have not considered at all.

The logo of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is not a good-looking one, it is a guarantee!

Black se, gray se, blue se, the three armies are equipped with different se. The only thing in common is that murderous breath and neat military appearance.

These three armies firmly guarded the three entrances and exits of the entire gray shadow black market, which completely restricted the departure of everyone who is still staying in the gray shadow black market at the moment. There were many demon hunters who had hopes and expectations for the gray shadow black market, their faces at this moment have become very ugly, and they regretted why they didn't leave earlier. Instead, try to stay here for opportunities.

Sean looked at the gray shadow black market that had become very depressed. Although the situation had been in his expectation, when he really saw this scene, he couldn't help but feel a little sorrowful.

This is the cruelty of reality.

In the game, this would not happen.

Even if the gray shadow black market is down, as long as the resources of the gray shadow forest are still there, there will definitely be players here, because the players are the real profit-seekers. Of course, the reality and the game are definitely incomparable, because at least 90% of the players in the game chose to become demon hunters. This creates a situation where thousands of demon hunters will stay in any black market. The underground black market with relatively high popularity and rich resources may even have hundreds of thousands or even hundreds of thousands of players staying.

In reality, there are only 70 or 80 demon hunters whose homes are in the gray shadow black market. Even if the number of demon hunters who are qualified to enter the gray shadow black market is added, there will be no more than 300. However, according to Sean's understanding of the days when he stayed in the Black Market, the number of normal resident hunters in the Black Market was about 150.

At this time, after the demon hunters and general migrant workers in the gray shadow black market left, the vast underground black market was almost an empty city.

Judging from the construction area of the gray shadow black market, there is no problem with this underground black market accommodating 10,000 or 20,000 people-of course, this is because the game was originally designed for players, but looking at the current situation, that Everyone thinks that Wilson's ambition is too great. But this is a good thing for Sean, because his three armies add up to 3,000 people.

At this time, the soldiers of the Thunder Lion were still continuously entering. The force of the Thunder Lion was 1,000, which was 500 more than Clover's side. As for the steel wings, Sean didn't need to worry too much. Because Shaun's order to Anno beforehand was to directly establish a frontline defensive base, because compared to the Cecilia Guards with Rena, and the Thunder's where Shawn, Cecilia and Alfred are all present. Although the lion and the steel wings have the largest number of people, they are actually the weakest breakthrough in the entire link.

"Spenn, you and Bennock go to Anno first." Shaun turned around and said, "The terrain here is the most familiar to you, so you went to help Anno set up a defensive base."

"Would you like me to bring some people over?" Alfred glanced at Bennock and Spean. It wasn't that he didn't trust them, but that he also knew that Anno really needed assistance, otherwise he would just rely on peace. Novo Steel Wings may take a long time to toss.

"No need. This is also a kind of training." Xiao En shook his head, "Anno knows what to do. He is also a long group now. In the future, both the scale and the importance of the steel wings will become bigger and bigger. So Anno must adapt to these as soon as possible....As for Fred, you...I believe that soon you will not want to help."

I heard Sean say so. Alfred suddenly had a bad idea.

"After you arrange the staff to stay here, you will take people from this street. All the stores with the Chamber of Commerce Union logo will be emptied." Sean sneered. "Remember. Leave everything!... As for those stores that are not affiliated to the Chamber of Commerce, take inventory and then investigate. As long as there are stores that are connected to the Chamber of Commerce, they will be required to turn in two-thirds of the inventory materials, if there are none. You don't need to bother about it."

"Will you be too cruel if you are like this?" Alfred knew that this trip was not that simple. But I didn't expect that Sean would be so direct, which is no different from completely tearing his face with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

"Since the Chamber of Commerce wants to play, then we will play with them." Sean snorted coldly, "If we don't fight back this time. Those guys will be more proficient in the future."

"I see." Alfred nodded, "What if they resist?"

"Do you think that I asked you to bring such a few troops here to display it?" Sean asked back. "All the rebels will be killed on the spot, and the members of the Chamber of Commerce will be detained. When we look back, we can also blackmail one. Ransom."

"I think people from the Chamber of Commerce will come to trouble you soon." Alfred let out a laugh.

But Sean doesn't care about it at all: "Are we having less trouble?... But there is a Chamber of Commerce store here. You need to pay attention to it. There are golden powerhouses left behind, so it's best to merge with Rena. Go find trouble with these chambers of commerce."

"I see."

Alfred nodded. This time he didn't ask anything. Instead, he turned around and started arranging the defense line for the remaining soldiers, and ordered the expropriation of the stores of several nearby chambers of commerce to expand the defense area so that the soldiers behind can continue. Enter.

It's just that this enlistment has run into trouble before it even starts.

The stores named and expropriated by Alfred belonged to six small chambers of commerce. Although these chambers of commerce are inferior to large chambers of commerce such as Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce and Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce in terms of background and strength, their stores are just outside. Hanging a banner with the logo of the Chamber of Commerce Union-this is why Alfred named these stores-so these chambers of commerce have a superior sense of superiority to the small chambers of commerce that have not joined the Chamber of Commerce Union.

At this moment, they have exerted this sense of superiority to the extreme.

Several Thunder Lion soldiers who just came up to convey Alfred's order were directly beaten out by the guards in the first chamber of commerce. One of them had his left hand severed, and the incision was as smooth as a mirror. Obviously this one The guard has no thoughts of mercy at all.

Alfred's face turned black when he heard the scream.

"Who did it?" Alfred looked at the door of the Chamber of Commerce called Baise Homing Pigeon and shouted angrily.

The several guards standing at the door raised their heads proudly, without the slightest intention of talking.

These people are all the strengths of the upper silver pinnacles. If several people work together, they can indeed suppress Alfred. In addition, they are also thugs hired by the Chamber of Commerce affiliated to the Chamber of Commerce. Therefore, naturally there will be a sense of superiority. Fred was normal in his eyes.

Looking at these people's arrogant faces, Alfred smiled furiously: "Take this store down for me!"

Say it. Alfred was the first to mention that the Flamingo's fangs were about to be killed, and the soldiers who followed him naturally couldn't watch their commander fighting alone. These belonged to the Alfred Jing Guard Corps Thunder. The soldiers of the lion are stronger than the soldiers of the Thunder Lion in terms of personal strength and equipment. At this moment, they are stronger than the guards in terms of momentum and combat effectiveness.

Seeing Alfred's actions, these guards were also a little dumbfounded. They would certainly not feel anything when they joined forces with Alfred to fight against Alfred, but they certainly did not have the courage and courage to fight against an entire army. . And from the beginning. They never thought that these troops would really go to war with them. For them, killing a few soldiers to defend the face of the Chamber of Commerce was nothing more than losing some money afterwards, not to mention that this was instructed by the deacon of their Chamber of Commerce.

But from the current situation, it is obvious that things seem to be different.

"What do you want to do!" Seeing the situation, it seemed to be a little out of control. A fat man ran out immediately, "Our white pigeon is a chamber of commerce belonging to the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Are you going to declare war with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance?"

no doubt. This fat man is the deacon of this white pigeon chamber of commerce.

At this moment, hearing the movement here, people from the surrounding chambers of commerce have also come out, and these people are also surrounded by a few masters who completely release their breath. Looking around, there are no less than 20 high-level silver masters. .

With the strength of these people, it is natural that they still can't have any conflict with the entire army of the Thunder Lion, but if you only talk about instantaneous explosive power. Want to capture Alfred or hit Alfred hard, it is still very possible.

At this moment, people from these chambers of commerce have all stepped out, obviously giving up on the sidelines and adopting a strong joint approach.

This is also one of the routines often used by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

Generally in this case. Concession and compromise between the two sides are naturally the only solution. After all, the reputation of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is too great, and most people will not dare to challenge the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

But it's a pity that today is destined to not be a good son of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.

A fireball was suddenly sent out without warning, and then directly blasted at the deacon of the Baise Pigeon Chamber of Commerce.

In an instant, a human-shaped torch appeared in the sight of everyone, and the screaming scream made everyone present stunned.

"I haven't gotten your troubles first, but you gave me a good start." Sean, who heard that Sao moved, took Cecilia, and led a group of soldiers from the thunder lion walked over from the square beyond the gate. "It is indeed a typical approach of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance.... But I am sorry, since your Chamber of Commerce Alliance refuses to do any trade with me, then I also refuse any request from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance."

Seeing the appearance of Sean so behaving, and with such an army behind him, the faces of the deacons of the chamber of commerce present changed drastically.

At this moment, even if they are as stupid as a pig, they know that it is not good news that Sean led the army into the black market of Gray Shadow at this time, not to mention that someone who can be a deacon of the Chamber of Commerce is a fool?

Moreover, not only the faces of the deacons of these chambers of commerce have changed, even the nearly twenty chamber of commerce guards have also changed their faces.

They are not very clear about the entanglement between the Chamber of Commerce Alliance and Sean, but they are very clear that the young man in front of them is the cruel man who killed Dians and Johnson, and even the strong like Robert dare not attack him. So even if he is the only one, these guards dare not act rashly, because everyone knows who is the first to shoot and who is the first to die, not to mention that there are hundreds of people behind him who have completely opened the offensive army at this moment. Soldier.

"You...what do you want to do?"

Shaun glanced at the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce who was talking, with a bit of disdain on his face: "You are not qualified to talk to me." After that, Shaun turned his head and looked at the four people standing outside the door of the Baise Pigeon Chamber of Commerce. The guard said in a cold voice: "I will give you a chance to hand over the prisoner who injured my soldiers."

Although the four of them had fear on their faces, they did not speak violently.

Xiao En waited for a few seconds, still did not see any reply, and finally lost all resistance, and snorted: "All the strengths of the Bai Se pigeon who are above the lower silver, will be executed directly!"

"You are crazy!" A guard standing outside the door finally couldn't help but exclaimed.

"Do you mean to declare war with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance?" Seeing Sean's actions, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce who was choked by Sean's words finally spoke again. He knew very well that if they didn't stop this. This kind of behavior, then all the chambers of commerce in the gray shadow black market today may not be spared, but his identity is really not enough to communicate with Sean, so he can only move out of the chamber of commerce alliance.

"Can you represent the Chamber of Commerce Alliance?" Sean sneered.

"I..." The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce choked again, not knowing how to answer the call.

It's just that Sean is already too lazy to talk nonsense. He knew that if he only relied on Alfred and these soldiers, he would have to pay some price to suppress the white pigeons, and he didn't want to see any losses on his side. He chose to take the shot himself.

With the shots of Sean and Cecilia, this can no longer be regarded as a suppression, but a mere massacre.

No one expected that Sean was actually playing for real this time. When the blood in the White Pigeon Chamber of Commerce has overflowed the threshold and flowed out of the street, and the screams in the house finally stopped, whether it was the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce or The guards of the Chamber of Commerce, their faces have become extremely pale. Because they knew that they would never be able to prevent Sean and his army from sweeping away.

Of course, what they know more clearly is that at this time, it is not just this army wearing blue armor that has entered the black market.

After solving the troubles of the white pigeons, Sean once again calmly appeared in front of the deacons and guards of the Chamber of Commerce, but this time he had a white sword in his hand: "Fred, pick one The place serves as a temporary prison to keep all these people under control."

"Sean, you can't do this!"

"We are from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance!"

Hearing what Shaun said, all the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce immediately became fierce. Only the deacon who started to try to stop Shaun was bitter and did not speak again, because he knew that the scene he least wanted to see eventually appeared.

In the face of the excited crowd, Sean's eyes gradually became cold, and just a casual sweep made everyone feel like they were in the ice cave: "I know you are from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, but so what? So good, I might as well tell you directly, what I am suppressing is your chamber of commerce alliance. I want to bargain with me, and wait for you to leave the chamber of commerce alliance and talk to me again.... Fred, anyone who dares to resist will be executed directly, no Need to report to me!"

Chapter 339: .I reject

After Sean used a thunderous and * method to kill the smart white pigeon chamber of commerce, the next act of requisitioning the storefronts of several chambers of commerce as fortifications was naturally much smoother. Of course, a large part of the reason is also because the deacons and guards of these chambers of commerce were detained by Alfred. The servants of the chamber of commerce who lost their decision-makers naturally did not dare to stop the soldiers like tigers.

The end of the Baise Pigeon Chamber of Commerce is the best example.

Lost his life for a little bit of so-called face, profit-seeking businessmen will not do this kind of loss-making business.

But when the soldiers of the Thunder Lion packed the materials in the chamber of commerce and moved out the whole box, these merchants could no longer sit still.

What is the reason why these chambers of commerce are stationed in the black market?

Isn't just to be able to purchase the materials in the hands of the Demon Hunter at the lowest price in the first time?

"What are you doing!" The deacons of the Chamber of Commerce who saw the soldiers of the Thunder Lion remove materials from their Chamber of Commerce couldn't help shouting loudly.

Their faces looked extremely angry and hideous. Even though there are dozens of Thunder Lion soldiers guarding them at the moment, they are not at all cringe as they were when they were guarded before, but they made a gesture to fight Al. Fred and others fought desperately.

"Take them all for me." Alfred glanced lightly and shouted in a deep voice.

Several soldiers of the Thunder Heroes who followed Alfred immediately went out. The spears in their hands just swept randomly. These merchant deacons, who had no combat effectiveness, were immediately knocked to the ground and let out a bitter cry of mourning.

Thunder Master is the Alfred Jing Guards regiment. It has always been at the forefront of the charge with Alfred, so the actual combat effectiveness is actually equivalent to the level of a Tier 4 army. It's just that the jing guard group has only 300 people in full, which is only a small percentage compared to the 5,000-strong Thunder Lion, so it can't play a big role in the frontal battlefield effect.

But in the current situation, the Thunder Hero can occupy a large percentage of points, because this time only a thousand people came from the Thunder Lion.

With the body of an ordinary person, how can it be possible to resist the attack of the fourth-level army soldiers?

Even if they just used the barrel of a long spear to hit them at random, these chamber deacons couldn't bear it at all, and they soon became a little dying.

This process happened so quickly, so fast that no matter it was the deacons of other chambers of commerce or the guards, everyone had no time to react at all. They thought that Alfred's so-called capture was just to prevent their confession, but they did not expect that almost the moment Alfred gave the order, the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce who rushed out were immediately knocked to the ground. This level of damage is almost no different from a painful killer to them, who are just ordinary people.

The guards who belonged to these chambers of commerce saw this scene in front of them, and their faces became extremely difficult to look at. In front of them, it was simply to despise the people they needed to protect. Any dignified master can never tolerate this situation. So the next moment, the guards of these chambers of commerce will immediately rush out, but they have almost taken the first step and have not completely rushed forward. The feather arrow fell quickly and plunged into the ground in front of the guards.

The tail feathers trembled slightly.

The guards looked up a little in amazement, only to find that the surrounding fortifications had almost been built: not to mention the roadblocks that blocked the passage and the dismantled wooden boards, the surrounding shops of the chamber of commerce that had been requisitioned immediately. Already full of archers.

The storefronts of these chambers of commerce have two or three floors. From the second floor, the walls have been completely opened up and turned into arrow towers. As a result, almost every building in these chambers has 20 or 30 archers. Although the floor height is not very high, they can easily jump to the second floor with the strength of their silver masters. They can even jump to the third floor if they use their strength, but they can't dodge during this jump. For these Jing Rui is a living target for archers who came from the army.

While these guards were stunned, the deacons of the other chambers of commerce were also somewhat helplessly sad.

But really smart people, such as the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce who started to refute Sean at the beginning, knew that this was a trap and disarming that Alfred deliberately set. With the sharpness of these soldiers, it is certainly impossible for the deacons of the Chamber of Commerce to rush out of the encirclement. This can be seen from the fact that these guards were slapped out as soon as they acted.

So the hands on these deacons of the Chamber of Commerce were purely to call them deliberately.

If the deacons of the chamber of commerce had some illusions in their hearts before, they would be completely shattered at this moment.

Because they already know that if they lose the umbrella of the "Chamber of Commerce", they are simply inferior to an ordinary person.

"The real purpose of Baron Sean is the materials that our chambers of commerce acquired in this black market." The deacon of the chamber of commerce who was the first to refute Sean asked with a calm face.

"That's right." Alfred glanced at the somewhat thin deacon of the Chamber of Commerce, who was about 30 years old, and then nodded in acknowledgment.

There is nothing to conceal about this kind of thing, because the gray shadow black market is destined to not be calm these days.

Alfred has only seen him show such a tough attitude twice since he followed Sean. The first time he faced the Earl of Mario at Tindes, and the second time he faced Hayes. It's the third time in the Ting family. Although the number of times is very small, Alfred knows very well that once Sean shows such a firm and tough attitude, it means that there is no room for maneuver. Therefore, the chambers of commerce in the gray shadow black market belong to these chambers of commerce alliances. Can't run.

If these people are willing to cooperate, then naturally there is nothing. But if these people refuse to cooperate, then Alfred believes that in the next few days, the entire gray shadow black market will be covered with blood.

"All the chambers of commerce that join the chamber of commerce alliance, all your materials will be unconditionally expropriated." Alfred's emotion is only a moment, "and any other chamber of commerce that has cooperated with the chamber of commerce alliance but has not joined the chamber of commerce alliance, All must pay two-thirds of the materials in the inventory as a fine.

As for the chambers of commerce that have never cooperated and have not joined the alliance of chambers of commerce, they must pay one-third of the materials in the inventory as a fine. This is the decree issued by the lord. "

"Legal?" Although a deacon of the Chamber of Commerce showed a bit of paleness on his face, he still curled his lips in disdain. Darling and Yedby, but at least in terms of territorial regulations, one third of this black market is under the jurisdiction of Berbice."

Facing the ridicule of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce, Alfred smiled and said directly: "Now I suspect that you are a spy sent by the Kingdom of Darbion. The purpose is to spy on the military situation of the Principality of Ryan. Committed espionage, take him down."

"You are slander!" Hearing Alfred's words, the face of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce changed drastically, "You..."

A soldier of the Thunder Lion punched the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce in the abdomen, directly dissolving his struggle and the words he wanted to say next, and the two soldiers of the Thunder Lion smashed the fight. Picked up the deacon and dragged him out of the crowd. During this process, several guards who belonged to the same chamber of commerce as the deacon of the chamber of commerce were a little uncontrollable and wanted to take action, but before these people acted, they were stopped by the other guards.

These guards usually communicate with each other privately, so they can easily recognize the identities of these guards.

The guard of the Hitomi Chamber of Commerce.

Immediately, the eyes of these people fell on the deacon of their chamber of commerce.

"He is waiting for you to make mistakes." The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce said in a deep voice, "Don't forget what the lord said at the beginning. Anyone who tries to resist will be killed directly."

Alfred glanced at the thin thirty-something deacon of the Chamber of Commerce, and the corners of his mouth raised slightly: "You are smart. But smart enemies usually live for a while."

"You are the Lion King. Alfred." The deacon of the Chamber of Commerce did not try to interface with the subtext in Alfred's words, "I am the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce of WoW, my name is Abile. First of all, I am very grateful to you. If I'm not wrong, according to the lord's meaning, just because the behavior of my colleagues just now is not just as simple as being * in the ground....This is a prestige, but at the same time it is for us. A kindly jingle from the people."

"For ordinary people, I have always been very kind." Alfred smiled non-committal, "But for those with martial arts, I don't have that good temper."

Abilai's face is still very calm, as Alfred said, he is a smart man, so he knows the limits of his abilities. At least in the current situation that has completely formed in front of them, these people in their chamber of commerce alliance are simply the flesh on the board, and they have no resistance at all, or in other words, their small chambers of commerce have no resistance at all.

So in this case, Abile certainly wouldn't try to argue.

But he knew that the Chamber of Commerce Alliance would never compromise so easily.

Because in this black market of gray shadows, there is a truly well-deserved overlord-level horn se.

Leiyun Chamber of Commerce.

The names of the top ten chambers of commerce are not just talking about it. In the large organization of the Chamber of Commerce, they have a 32-seat council, of which the top ten chambers of commerce each occupy two seats, and the remaining 12 seats are the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce and the Dorota Chamber of Commerce with relatively strong strength and background. The Chamber of Commerce is competing. And here in the gray shadow black market, although the Dawn Light Chamber of Commerce and the Dorota Chamber of Commerce have set up a station here, but soon the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce will also be inserted here, then all the people in the Chamber of Commerce will naturally use this Chamber of Commerce The head of the horse is looking.

This, Sean and Alfred are equally aware of this.

So the attitude of the people in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is still so tough, naturally because the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce's sign is still hanging. In the eyes of these small chambers of commerce, only the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, which is so powerful that it is almost omnipotent, can save them. This is also one of Abilai's confidence. He knew that since Panda led the lord to be ruthless, it is naturally impossible for the batch of materials he ate to be returned in full, but if the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce negotiates, it should still be able to get half back. Coming.

Of course, Abile is actually a little worried.

That is the Thundercloud Chamber of Commerce, the Dawnlight Chamber of Commerce, and the Dotaro Chamber of Commerce and other large chambers of commerce decided to sacrifice their small chambers of commerce and use them to fill the lord's appetite. If this is the case, although there will be some compensation afterwards, the loss is still very large for them after all, but if this happens, they can only think that they are unlucky.

But in any case, Abilai believes that the current difficulties will be passed soon.

Because now that the conflict has completely broken out here, it is impossible for the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce to not know, after all, the transmission of news in the gray shadow black market is very fast. Therefore, he believes that the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce will soon send someone to negotiate with Sean, but based on his understanding of the Chamber of Commerce and the current situation, this negotiation process is likely to be delayed for a while, so the final result should be lack of time. Shaun made a compromise and ended.

The development of the facts is indeed as expected by Abilai.

After hearing about the conflict between Alfred's side and the Chamber of Commerce, the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce did get enough news at the first time and sent an envoy to meet with Sean for negotiation. Of course, they also sent someone to the Wilson side to negotiate secretly, the purpose of which is naturally to hope that Wilson can attend the negotiation as a notary public, and tend to their chamber of commerce during the negotiation process.

After all, this is the site of the gray shadow black market, so it is natural that Wilson act as the notary public. And as long as Wilson prefers their Chamber of Commerce alliance, then based on their understanding of Sean, the negotiation will definitely be deadlocked, and it will naturally take a lot of time to negotiate and negotiate, but they also know that Sean, the lord currently lacks most. Time, so this is destined to be a negotiation that ended with Sean's compromise.

Of course, it can be said that the Chamber of Commerce Alliance has no sincerity from the beginning.

Or rather hate.

Because from the wild land to today, the negotiations proposed by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance were forced to start every time by Sean. The three negotiations before today all ended with the failure of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. If this negotiation can end with Sean's proper cooperation, then this will greatly improve the reputation of their Leiyun Chamber of Commerce. , And the deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, who is the hero of this move, will naturally be further promoted in the Chamber of Commerce.

It's just that the wishful thinking of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance was destined to be impossible from the beginning.

Because Abile only guessed the beginning, but failed to guess the ending.

Since the beginning, Sean hadn't thought about negotiations at all.

Why does he have to follow the chessboard of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance?

In this world where whoever has the greatest power is the ruler, at this moment in this gray and black market, his Sean is the one who sets the script and the stage!

So when faced with the messenger of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce, Xiao En just sneered: "I actually sent a cat and dog who didn't know anything about him and said that he wanted to negotiate with me, and he didn't even have any sincerity. Go back and tell you. Deacon, I have given you the opportunity, but you don't cherish it at all, so don't blame me. I will now give you an ultimatum from the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce and send me all the materials in your inventory within two days. Come here, otherwise if you ask me to pick it up in person at that time, it will be hard to say how many people in your Leiyun Chamber of Commerce will survive.... By the way, from this moment on, I refuse any negotiation."

Chapter 340: Catch it all

Each chamber of commerce will have a different pattern as its emblem.

At the beginning, the badge of the chamber of commerce was only used to distinguish the chambers of commerce. However, with the establishment of the Chamber of Commerce Union, the emblem gradually became the identity and status symbol of the chambers of commerce, and when the Chamber of Commerce Union established the trade capital and became a huge force that cannot be ignored on the entire continent, these emblems also became A recognition of strength.

Especially the top ten chambers of commerce.

When their caravan trades on the mainland, as long as they hold high the flag with the emblem, there will never be robbers who dare to attack.

This is the manifestation of strength.

The only ones who dare to challenge the top ten chambers of commerce are the savages in the Wildlands.

Even the orcs in the barbarians on the western side of the mainland would not go to the top ten chambers of commerce.

Of course, this is the past tense.

Because those who dare to challenge the top ten chambers of commerce nowadays, there is one more Sean.

The pioneering knight under the command of the former Marquis of Tonis, and now the baron of the Duchy of Lane, directly issued an ultimatum in front of the Leiyun Merchant Guild, and ordered the Leiyun Merchant Guild to hand over all the materials in the inventory within two days. , Otherwise he will use force.

For the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, which can now be regarded as the overlord level, it is simply a shame.

And because of Sean's deliberate actions, after saying this, all the chambers of commerce in the entire gray shadow black market soon knew about Sean's ultimatum to the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce. Of course, I also know the decree issued by Alfred before: all the chambers of commerce affiliated to the chamber of commerce alliances will be confiscated, and any chamber of commerce that has ties to the chamber of commerce alliances must also pay a fine, even the chamber of commerce alliances Chambers of commerce that have not been contacted must also pay fines.

It is naturally impossible for the Chamber of Commerce to obey such an extremely harsh law.

So soon, these chambers of commerce all united.

Even the chambers of commerce that had no contact with the chamber of commerce before, they all chose to unite at this time.

Profit-seekers will always believe in the power of people and the momentum of public opinion.

A small alliance of chambers of commerce is gradually forming in the gray and black market.

For this, Sean is not only very clear, he can even say that all of this is caused by him. It's just that he didn't care about it at all, allowing this small chamber of commerce alliance to grow at an astonishing speed.

This is a struggle between lords and merchants in the new era.

The reason for talking about the new era is that the continuous improvement of the status of merchants in the past millennium can affect or even control the economic lifeline of a country to a large extent. Therefore, the struggle between lords and merchants has been in the past nearly millennia. You can't see it at all. Because as long as the trade line is broken, let alone the lord, even a country as strong as the seven empires cannot survive.

And this situation has only slightly improved in the past 100 years.

Because various countries have begun to consciously cultivate chambers of commerce that are loyal to their own countries, and even allow royals to form chambers of commerce. These chambers of commerce will not and cannot join the alliance of chambers of commerce. Although to a large extent they will be squeezed out by the alliance of chambers of commerce, they have a whole country as their backing. The development of these chambers of commerce is fairly smooth. Of course, the most important thing is to ease the control of countries. Lifeblood.

is also based on the emergence of this sense of confrontation, so in the last hundred years, the influence of the chamber of commerce alliance has begun to diminish, and various concessions have been made to seek larger-scale strategic cooperation. Of course, in many cases, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance still plays a very important leading role. At present, apart from the seven empires, there will never be more than ten countries that can completely get rid of the influence of the Chamber of Commerce.

At least, the Principality of Lane is not in this list.

So for Sean, the baron of the Principality of Lane, dare to provoke the authority of the Chamber of Commerce in such a positive way. This is absolutely intolerable for the Chamber of Commerce. In fact, if it had not been for the last time that the Chamber of Commerce Alliance might collude with the Devil, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance would have imposed economic sanctions on the Principality of Lane.

And now, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance hasn't troubled Sean. This lord actually brought the soldiers to the door directly. As one of the top ten chambers of commerce, the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, how could it be tolerated. Therefore, the Gray Shadow Black Market Chamber of Commerce Alliance led by him has formed a force that cannot be ignored in just one day. This is the power of more than 30 chambers of commerce in the entire black market.

At this moment, in the house that represents the power center of the entire black market in the middle of the gray shadow black market, Wilson is meeting a guest.

This is a very charming middle-aged man.

He wears a back cover hairstyle that is very popular in the aristocratic circle on the side of the Millennium Covenant Empire, revealing his smooth forehead. He was wearing a black-seed tuxedo. This dress was first popular among the aristocratic circles of the Emilia Empire. After being introduced to the Millennium Covenant Empire, it was improved to a certain extent before it became the current Millennium Covenant Empire. Popular noble clothing.

Because the back of this tuxedo is longer than that of the Emilia Empire, and the opening is slightly larger, it is also called a large tuxedo.

Whether it is from the hairstyle or the clothes, the middle-aged man is obviously well dressed and elegant.

There is no doubt that this is a nobleman of a millennium covenant empire.

Of course, his identity at this moment is not an aristocrat, but a deacon of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

However, at this time, the face of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce did not look very good.

He was staring at Wilson with a cold face. Although the words were still polite, the anger in his eyes could not be concealed: "Mr. Wilson, are you really letting the defiant lord take off in your black market? Did he even issue a decree for you, could it be said that the Black Market of Gray Shadow has become the territory of that lord?"

"The black market of gray shadows is still the black market of gray shadows. I think your Excellency should be aware that we demon hunters have always been neutral, and we can never lean toward either side." Facing the anger of the deacon of the chamber of commerce, Wilson's face seized. It seemed very calm, "So I and my subordinates will not intervene in the problem between your chamber of commerce alliance and that lord."

"Make a price." The anger in the eyes of the deacon of the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce was more intense, but in the end he was very restrained and kept calm and rational, and then said in a deep voice, "I know the rules of your demon hunters. , But I advise your Excellency not to take this opportunity to speak loudly."

Obviously there is something to ask for, but it still looks aloof. This is probably the consistent attitude and practice of the top ten chambers of commerce.

Facing the words of the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce, Wilson smiled slightly, and then said something unexpected again: "I don't want to offend that lord, so no matter what the price is, I will not make a move... Of course, if you can hire other demon hunters, that's your ability, but I have said before that any demon hunters who intervene in this matter will no longer be protected by our gray shadow black market."

Demon hunters who are no longer protected by the black market are equal to being blacklisted by the black market, and they will never be able to get funding support from the black market. Demon hunters who are generally blacklisted by the black market will be greatly excluded from the circle of demon hunters, and it is difficult for them to reintegrate into the new black market environment.

So Wilson's words are tantamount to breaking the possibility of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance seeking the support of other demon hunters.

No matter how much the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce can tolerate, he can no longer calm down at this moment: "You don't want to offend that lord, are you not afraid to offend our Chamber of Commerce Alliance? You have to be clear, once it is listed as a black by our Chamber of Commerce Alliance As for the list, you, the master of the black market in Gray Shadow, will probably end up."

Wilson just smiled and did not answer.

"Okay!" Seeing Wilson's appearance, the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce already knew Wilson's attitude very well, and it didn't make any sense to stay, so he snorted and left without saying anything cruel. .

It was not until the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce of Leiyun Chamber of Commerce left that Robert and Roma walked out from behind the scenes.

Rome glanced at Wilson, then sighed helplessly: "As long as you are here in the future, the Black Market of Gray Shadow will be included in the blacklist of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance forever."

"So what?" Wilson smiled nonchalantly, "The businessman with high self-esteem can't give me what the lord can give me.... Besides, even with my help, he won't be the lord. At present, there are only six low-level golden powerhouses in the entire underground black market. It is still very possible to win an army with the addition of other demon hunters and chamber of commerce guards. But don't forget, that lord is a leader. Three armies came over, two of which were steel wings and thunder lion."

"Does that lord really dare to kill here?" Roma asked back.

"Don't you know the fate of the white se carrier pigeon?"

When Wilson said so, Rom was also taken aback, but still reluctant to admit defeat: "Then if you count me? Not to mention my strength, even my identity should be enough to make Sean scruples?"

"Do you really think that lord cares about this?" Wilson sneered. "Don't say you don't know what the lord is doing now. If it's just a threat, will he reject the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce's invitation for peace talks? He will let it go. Did the deacon of the Chamber of Commerce form a confrontation with him?... You should know better than me the purpose of what he did, Mr. Roma of the Black Hawk Chamber of Commerce. If Sean dares to mobilize such a large army to enter here, he just made up his mind to let the Chamber of Commerce. The alliance is bleeding heavily. At this moment, anyone who stands in his way will be crushed without hesitation."

"It's more than bleeding." Rom sighed silently, because he knew what Wilson said were the truth, "He just wants to catch it all in one go....Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce will probably suffer a heavy loss this time."

"So knowing that it was the result of failure, would you still intervene?"

Rome shook his head.

For a time, all three of them looked out the window.

They could clearly see that the Lion King Alfred was leaving from a chamber of commerce with a dozen soldiers. These soldiers are empty-handed, obviously they have not gained anything from this chamber of commerce, and the lion king who frightened the nobles of the Darbion Kingdom has no expression on his face at this moment, he just silently leads people to leave the chamber of commerce. Then he entered another chamber of commerce, but it didn't take long before he left with empty hands.

Outside the door of the chamber of commerce, the deacons of the two chambers of commerce stared at the lion king proudly. Their faces showed disdainful mockery, and beside them were the guards of the respective chambers of commerce. These people changed their previous stubborn attitude, and instead rejected Sean's expropriation with an extremely tough attitude, and even had a strong momentum to fight against the army under the lord, Sean.

Similarly, Sean also changed the iron and blood at the beginning. On this day, all the troops under his command were restricted in the range of action. No matter how provoked by these chambers of commerce, no one urged them to trouble him. Even if Alfred came out empty-handed time and time again at this moment, and was ridiculed time and time again, there was still no * scene.

Everything looks like Sean reluctantly chose to compromise after facing the alliance of the Chamber of Commerce.

But whether it is Roma, Wilson, or Robert, it is very clear that this is just the peace before the storm.

Once the lord took action, it would be another act that shocked the mainland.

In this special moment of suffering, time still advances with its own unwavering attitude.

The two-day deadline given to Leiyun Chamber of Commerce by Sean had already arrived in an instant.