

Lord of War Vol 3-21

Chapter 21: .Boiling reaction

The reason for this battle is very clear to everyone, so from the very beginning, I was prepared for a deadly battle.

is just the end of the battle, but it is a bit inexplicable.

No matter how poor the combat effectiveness of that one hundred-man army is, if it is thrown into the battlefield, at least the two low-level golden powerhouses can be rescued. Of course, this army will inevitably suffer tragic losses. But for people who have truly experienced wars like Sean, Rena, and Xuefanio, it is definitely not a loss to exchange the lives of these hundred soldiers for the business of two golden powerhouses.

Because population has never been a problem on Miracle Continent. And having a population means that the source of troops will not be scarce. For many civilians who are satisfied as long as they have a bite to eat, enlisting in the army is their only way out, and they may even have a bright future.

So it is really difficult for Sean to understand why the two magicians suddenly chose to retreat halfway through, even abandoning their companions.

But the ending is so, but Sean is not at all polite.

The two low-ranking gold powerhouses were naturally left behind by him.

One of the corpses was still torn to pieces by the furious black stone. In this way, the golden strong man who died under Sean was relatively lucky, at least his corpse is intact-if you ignore the grunt A punctured chest.

Fortunately, Blackstone did not fall into a frenzy as soon as he saw the confrontation between Rina and Xuefanio, as Shaun had made the worst prediction at the beginning.

This still made Xiao En more happy, otherwise, he would have to deal with such an earth travel dragon that had mutated twice, and still subdue it without harming it. Xiao En believed that he really did not have this ability.

The next thing is much simpler.

Xuefanio, who has the ability to completely suppress Xing, took the shot personally. It is naturally not a difficult task to subdue Rena, who is in a state of runaway, but the process is definitely not too pleasant. But at least, Rena was not injured because of this, which is a very lucky thing for Sean's current deployment team without a healer.

Looking at Rina lying on the floor in the carriage, Sean frowned.

Rina's angel armor had been lifted by Sean, so she threw it into the corner of the carriage.

When Saloqi Xuefeng saw this pile of armors that were thrown aside at random like broken copper and iron, her eyes straightened instantly, although there was no dazzling brilliance or other conspicuousness on this armor. The characteristics of—at least in terms of light and shadow effects, it is not as good as the magic weapon in Rina's hand, but Saloqi also conceals from Sean and others, that is, her contribution to the tribe is not only in wisdom superior.

From this pile of armor, she felt a very strong aura fluctuation.

Before that, because the armor was worn by Rena, the personal aura of the strong man perfectly concealed the aura on this armor, so Saloqi did not find anything wrong. It wasn't until this moment that Saloqi discovered that the strength of Sean's group was definitely not only based on personal strength, and even the equipment configuration was far beyond what ordinary people could have.

At least, Saloqi is sure that this armor is definitely a legendary armor.

Looking at Sean's attitude of disassembling and throwing it aside, and everyone else was taken for granted. He didn't put this armor in his eyes at all, and Saloqi couldn't help but start looking at other people. On the weapons carried.

Then soon, Saloqi's face was a * of a ghost!

Whether it is Sean's weapon or Xuefanio's weapon, they are obviously not of ordinary grade!

Only at this time, no one would pay attention to Saloqi's * se, and everyone looked at Rina nervously.

After removing the armor on the , Rena looked no different from ordinary civilians. She was still in the unchanging burlap sackcloth. This was a habit she developed when she was a knight apprentice. Perhaps it was precisely by this habitual persistence that Rena was able to go farther and farther on this road, until today, there is only one step away from officially entering the realm of the sanctuary powerhouse.

But this step is enough to block over 90% of the golden realm powerhouses in the entire world.

However, Sean is still very optimistic about Rina, especially Rina after taking the Dragon Blood Potion. If before this, Rina may break through the sanctuary realm and become a lower sanctuary under the extreme peak of luck, then after obtaining such superior bloodline power, Rina is on the road to legend. It can be said that there is no hindrance.

Just before that, she must overcome a problem.

Boiling blood reaction.

Rena lying on the floor of the carriage, all the exposed skin is glowing with a strange pink se, white mist visible to the naked eye is constantly emitting from the pores, and the surrounding temperature is constantly rising. , In a blink of an eye, it has clearly exceeded forty degrees. At this time, Xuefanio had to start to use magical techniques to cool down Rina, preventing the blood in Rina from finally producing a special reaction to ignite her body.

But this method is only a temporary solution, not the root cause.

The one who can really overcome this reaction ultimately depends on Rena herself.

At this time, the skin of Rena is also constantly scaly. This change is very similar to the evolution and covering process of a certain crystal. It's just that the coagulation of these scales is very weak at the beginning, and a large area of transparent scales will fall off with a slight touch, and then there will be blood flowing out of the places where these scales fall off, but the blood just appears. It is completely evaporated immediately, and the temperature rise has a more obvious trend.

"This is... a * reaction?"

Already in a state of being ignored by the side of the carriage, Saloqi suddenly spoke, awakening everyone.

Xuefanio and Cecilia glanced at each other in a bit of amazement, both of them were deeply puzzled.

But Xuefanio's puzzlement is truly at a loss.

Although her strength is now the strongest among all people, to a certain extent, what she knows is only limited to the goddess of ice and winter, and some content related to theology. As for other things, she basically The above are all at the level of black eyes.

To put it simply, Xuefanio's knowledge is not extensive, and he only has a relatively authoritative right to speak in the field that is highly targeted at xing.

But Cecilia was puzzled, but she was puzzled.

As a magician, it is inevitable to have a wide range of knowledge, and the strength is a powerful magician, and the knowledge is usually more extensive. After all, in the later stage, the knowledge touched by a powerful magician is absolutely not They are only confined to a certain field, but are members of multiple fields, so they have deep attainments in many fields of knowledge.

So, Cecilia knows what a * reaction is, but the * reaction she knows is only limited to a certain level.

For example, the * reaction about the underground world.

"Could it be that Rina has encountered the blood of the underground world?" Rina asked with a look of surprise.

Princess Saloki glanced at Sean. From his expression, Saloki knew that Sean knew the reason, but at this moment, Sean didn't say anything, so Saloki really couldn't say anything. And the appearance of her having stopped talking naturally fell in the eyes of Cecilia and Xuefanio, so the two turned their gazes to Sean again.

"This is indeed a boiling reaction." Sean nodded, "but it's different from black blood boiling."

"Black blood is boiling?" Cecilia was a little puzzled, "Does this mean... the situation of being bitten by the blood?"

"Yes." Saloqi nodded when he saw Sean's sign, "Boiling blood reaction is actually a general term. In fact, as long as the blood in the body produces an excessive boiling state, this reaction can be called Bleeding reaction... Now Miss Rena's state is also a * reaction, but strictly speaking, it should be a bloodline rejection reaction."

"Bloodline rejection...?" Cecilia was stunned for a moment, and then reacted, "You mean, Rina's bloodline was obtained through special means, not from the soul inheritance deep in her own bloodline?"

"En." Xiao En nodded, "Rena's bloodline power is indeed a gift from the outside world."

"The power of the bloodline can still be given as a gift?" This time, it was Xuefanio's turn to be surprised.

As Xuefanio, who came from a small village, most of his knowledge of the outside world was acquired after following Sean—don't expect a * who almost fell tens of thousands of years ago to help with common sense. busy. Therefore, although Xuefanio can be regarded as an authority in the field of theology, she is inferior in other aspects, and even Cecilia can't match it in this regard.

"Bloodline power can indeed be gifted, but..." Cecilia frowned, "This should still be in a theoretical process? I remember that many great magicians have experimented with bloodlines, but they are currently successful. I haven't heard of the example. And these theoretical knowledge are inspired by a kind of value-added behavior of the blood family, they can give blood to ordinary people in a way called the first embrace, but this way of behavior... "

"The person who is first embraced will have absolute command and control." Sean added for Cecilia, "Have you forgotten the blood experiment of the Millennium Covenant Empire?"

Cecilia was taken aback.

"At least, the Millennium Covenant Empire has indeed almost succeeded." Shaun said, "Or, they may have succeeded, but there are not many successful examples, and there may be some that we don't know currently. The sequelae of...but bloodline rejection does exist. So this is enough to prove that blood donation through the outside world is not impossible."

Sean said so, naturally there is a basis.

At the beginning, in the game, all players wanted blood power through this kind of external gift. And for players, the system also gives great benefits. At least high-level bloodlines can cover low-level bloodlines. This is a bit like the first embrace of the blood family, and it is also a kind of first embrace of the upper person can cover the first embrace of the lower person, thus Change the purity of the bloodline power of the first embraced.

And since players can get blood through external gifts, the npc in the game is naturally also possible.

However, this method is not 100% successful. There is a certain chance that it will fail. The more serious result is the direct death of the npc.

The adverse reaction caused by this failure probability is called "blood rejection".

Of course, the game will definitely have a related balance policy.

Since it will fail, there must be a key g value that increases the success rate. If the g value is relatively strong, it may also resist the past. At least, Sean thought about it seriously. The explanation in the game was "a certain chance of a bloodline rejection reaction", but it didn't say what the probability was.

So now, Xiao En and others are really helpless, and can only hope that Rina can resist the past through her own strength.

"Then what should I do now?"

"I can only... pray for Rina. We can't help her in this regard."

"Yes." Just when everyone was feeling a little helplessly sad, Saloqi suddenly said.

The three people in the carriage turned their heads to stare at Saloqi, which shocked the princess: "I... did I say something wrong?"

"No, no!" Xiao En froze for a moment, and then was the fastest to react, "I almost forgot... There are many tribes in the Wildlands that have blood inheritance methods similar to those of First Embrace, and they are not only stable, but also have a success rate. It's very high. And you can see through the essence of Rena's boiling reaction just now, so you must have a way to stop Rena's boiling reaction, yes."

"There is indeed a way." Saloqi nodded, "But I can't do it now."

"Why?" Cecilia asked.

"Because the special medicine that can stop this  reaction is not on my body." Saloqi said, "In the beginning, I expected that I might be attacked and might even die as a result. , So it's impossible for me to bring this very important medicine, but the Snow Wind Guard will keep it personally."

"Then we will set off now, and rush over to join your Snow Wind Guard."

"However, according to the current situation, it may be difficult for Miss Rena to survive three days..."

Sean's pupils shrank suddenly!

Three days! ?

Isn't this exactly the same as the time limit when he took the task?

But at this moment, Sean is unable to accurately judge whether this is a coincidence, or is this a predetermined result, or is this a sudden change in history?

"Start now, as long as you know where your Snow Wind Guard is hidden, you will definitely be in time!"

But at this moment, Sean has no time to think so much.

...

At the same time, two magicians and the hundred guards who encountered a tragic failure in the hands of Sean also came to a castle at this time.

Chapter 22: Floris Hellman

Located behind the Tonys Fortress, there is a castle that has just been completed recently.

The predecessor of this castle was actually an outpost on a supply line. At the beginning, the Ryan army did not trust that Asuna's Fortress of Tonys could be turned off as she said. After all, if it is in Fort Tonys If it is breached, then the Dabian army will enter the area of Yimapingchuan. In this area, Ryan has no terrain to defend, and at least one-third of the territory will fall, so it will be close to Tonis Fortress. An outpost was built here to the rear of Dabion to serve as a buffer point for Darbion's army to break the Tonys Fortress.

At the same time, this stronghold is also the final checkpoint of the most important supply route in Tonys Fortress.

However, as Darbion was annexed by Ryan, Tonys Fortress naturally lost its value and function-at least on the surface. Therefore, this supply line was also cancelled, but this outpost stronghold was retained and was included in the rule of Tonys Fortress. After several rounds, this outpost stronghold was also converted into a castle in front of it.

Perhaps because of the end of the war, the style of the castle is naturally not a war-like castle- except for the necessary battlements and sheaves, and jing towers, there are hardly any other defensive facilities. Even the moat was not excavated, not to mention facilities such as drawbridges, and even the number of soldiers stationed here was less than two hundred.

However, from the top of the castle, you can see a large green field and an artificial lake in the distance. The scenery is infinitely beautiful.

Every morning and dusk, at these two points in time, the owner of this castle will enjoy the scenery on the top floor of the castle. Occasionally, when I am in a good mood, I will enjoy the night breeze on the open-air roof at night, or play with my wives and concubines.

Tonight, the owner of the castle is obviously in a good mood, because even on the ground floor of the castle, you can hear the man's hearty laughter from the top of the building.

But soon, the laughter was broken by a rush of horseshoes.

The middle-aged man on the top floor frowned slightly, and quickly got up and walked to the edge of the platform, looking down at the bottom of the castle.

Because of the bright lights, he can naturally see the situation outside the castle at this time.

Perhaps he felt the fierce aura exuded by the castle owner at this time, and the laughter on the open terrace instantly fell silent. Soon, some guards quickly stepped forward and reported something to the middle-aged man. Others saw the middle-aged man's face and soon became gloomy, and then quickly left, and several guards hurriedly. Keep up, these people are even more afraid to show up at this time.

When the middle-aged man opened the door of the study on the second floor, there were already two people waiting in the room.

These two people are the magician and illusionist who had escaped from Sean's hands before.

In this way, the identity of this middle-aged man naturally came out.

"Master Floris." The magician hurriedly bowed and saluted.

Although as a high-ranking silver pinnacle magician, he also has the status of a viscount, but in front of Floris Hellman, the actual controller of the Tony Fortress today, he dare not show his position at all. The arrogance and superiority of a magician.

While the magician saluted, the illusionist next to him also hurriedly bowed and saluted.

In the magic world, the status and status of the illusionist has always been much lower than that of the magician, so even though the illusionist's strength has been infinitely close to the upper silver, he still has not obtained any knighthood titles after all, not even a jazz. . Therefore, this illusionist still cherishes and values this job where he can receive more than ten gold coins every month, and since even the magician next to him can abandon his own arrogance, then there is no status illusion. Why can't the teacher bow his head?

Looking at the respect of these two magicians, Floris Heilman was not at all happy, his face was still very sinking.

Floris Hellman, although the title of this marquis is only for life, it does not seem to be extraordinary, but the twelve upper nobles in Ryan did not dare to underestimate this person for a very good reason. Simple, that is, this Marquis is the most loyal follower of the throne and the sharpest sword in the hands of the king of the Kingdom of Lane today. According to the secret channels of the nobles, one-third of the gray and black industries in the entire Kingdom of Lane are controlled by the marquis, and many of them are even related to their nobles.

Therefore, no matter from which aspect, as long as the contradiction with this marquis is not to the extent of incompatibility, even the upper nobles will not rashly take action. After all, after the move, they must also consider whether they will endure the anger from the man on the throne.

Along with the heavy footsteps of the Marquis of Floris, the hearts of the two magicians almost all touched their throats. After all, as long as such a person with high authority and great power, as long as he does not speak without showing any demeanor, then the invisible coercive aura will be as heavy as a mountain, oppressing others to dare not speak at will.

This is also a kind of momentum.

Outside the door, several guards quickly closed the door of the study, and then guarded them with their swords aside.

In this castle, there is a clear rule.

That is, once the door of the study on the second floor is closed, unless the door is opened from the inside, no one is allowed to approach it privately, otherwise it will be killed.

And this rule, after the Marquis of Floris personally ordered the killing of his favorite pet who still trespassed regardless of the rules, no one dared to violate it again.

At this moment, when the door was closed, a faint light was lit up in the entire study, and a very subtle magical fluctuation flowed slowly in the study.

Seeing this, the magician's eyes had an imperceptible arrogance, because the built-in magic circle in this study was originally arranged by him. As long as the door is closed, the magic circle will activate on its own, which can isolate everything. Detecting magic can also prevent eavesdropping and leakage of conversations in the room. Of course, the only disadvantage is that there is a huge demand for magic power. Basically, it needs to consume at least five elementary magic spars every hour, so the door of this study room will not be closed at ordinary times.

Even if it is the actual controller of the Tony Fortress today, Floris Hellman's estate cannot withstand such toss and waste.

Sitting on the chair behind the desk, Floris Heilman frowned. He glanced at the two magicians, and then said in a deep voice, "Why are you only two of you back? What about the others? ... You say What happened to the failure of his mission?"

Floris Heilman's voice was a little low, which made his aura even more awe-inspiring.

The magician is not bad. After all, he is one of the members of the Marquis-sama's think tank. On the contrary, the illusionist is shivering and dare not even dare to show up. After all, in the present situation, if you really want to get it down to the bottom, you can only blame him for not having enough strength and failing to learn art. If he has some achievements before, then forget it, but it's not dead tonight. The mission was his first mission.

Seeing the illusionist shivering a little, Floris's gaze swept over coldly, and the expression in his eyes was already obviously unkind.

But at this moment, the magician spoke: "My lord, Rox is not to blame for this matter."

This sentence successfully attracted Floris's attention, which made the illusionist couldn't help but cast a grateful look at the companion of the magician next to him.

"Talk about it." Floris still had some trust in the magician's ability. Since the magician had spoken at this moment, he also signaled the magician to continue speaking, "What the * is going on? Why did everyone else did not return."

"The old man... died in the battle." The magician hesitated for a moment, and then spoke.

"What!" This time, Floris couldn't sit still at all, and he stood up suddenly, with an unbelievable expression on his face.

But soon, this disbelief turned into a look of anger: "What the * is going on! Why does this happen?"

The old man refers to the middle-aged man holding a knife.

He is the confidant of Floris and one of the most trusted people in Floris. In the system created by Flores, the middle-aged man is one of the few core members second only to Flores, and he takes over a lot of things, and basically any task will go through him. Then he implements the overall planning and arrangement, as if he is the manager in this system, and his strength is also the strongest among all people, so in private everyone calls him the old man.

Feeling the anger of Floris, the magician dared not sell any more, so he hurriedly said: "Not only the old man, no one will survive except me and Rox. If it weren't for us to go fast, It is estimated that the guards will be completely ruined there."

A trace of murderous intent flashed in Floris's eyes, but he didn't say anything. Instead, his face returned to calm, and he slowly sat back on the chair, posing as if he was listening carefully. And seeing Floris becoming so calm from rage, the magician's heart also jumped suddenly, a little more uneasy, but at this moment he could no longer keep anything, so he left. Replace it.

"In the beginning, we really thought this was a very ordinary task, but it was not until the moment we met that we realized that this task was far from being as simple as the intelligence said." The magician felt a great pressure. It has been shrouded in him, and his tone of speech is a little trembling, even just saying such a sentence, there are already bean-sized beads of sweat on his forehead, "At the moment when the battle broke out, and It's not as easy as we expected, but it's a tough fight completely..."

"What kind of hard fight?" Floris frowned and asked some in-depth questions on the details.

If Sean could hear these questions, then he would be extremely shocked, and he would even change his opinion of Floris. Because these questions raised by Flores are all the most critical entry points in the entire battle, such as how Sean dodges the old man's slashing energy, and what angle Rena is oblique from. Xiang Xiaoxu, there are some characteristics of that terrestrial dragon, and even when their illusions were discovered, Floris has not let go of these questions.

Originally, at the beginning, the magician didn't think too deeply, but he was asked so by Floris, and then repeated narrations and answers. Even if the magician didn't know much about the battle between melee professionals, He also found some problems and flaws in it.

Suddenly, there was a sudden shock in his heart.

At first, he just thought that the gap between the two sides of the battle was not particularly big. It was only at the beginning that he fell into a hard fight accidentally, and after seeing the old man's broken arm, he had the idea of retreating. But at this time, after Floris's constant questioning and careful thinking, the magician discovered that at the beginning of the battle, when their illusion was seen through, they had completely fallen into a disadvantage.

When the details of this battle were completely explained, an hour had passed, and then the whole study fell into complete silence.

The magician and the illusionist both stood a little anxiously on the side, and no one dared to interrupt Floris's contemplation.

"So, in the end you will make the decision to retreat?" Finally, after an hour and fifteen minutes of silence and depression, Floris finally spoke again.

"Yes." The magician nodded, "The situation at the time was that the opponent obviously still had a back hand. At least one powerful magician whose strength was far above me was condensing magic power. How much is a magician preparing for magic? It's terrible, no one knows better than me, so I decided that even if the guards rushed up, it would only end up in annihilation, so I ordered the retreat, and rushed back as soon as possible to send this information. bring back."

Floris nodded, and his voice calmed down: "It is indeed a very important piece of information. The opponent's strength far exceeds our assessment, and the earth travel dragon is not an ordinary earth travel dragon....Of course the most important information. The important thing is the weapon used by the female warrior you mentioned."

"My lord, about the female warrior, I probably know who it is." The magician said again.

A jing light flashed in Floris' eyes: "Who?"

"I heard the young man call her Rina." The magician said respectfully.

"You mean..." Floris' expression was obviously taken aback.

"From the point of view of the name, personal strength and the weapons possessed, it is very much like the goddess of war under the lord of Pandaling." The magician Shen Shenghui reported, "and although we don't have any information about that lord at the moment. The news, but inferred from other aspects, the man who was able to easily escape the blow of the old man at the beginning is likely to be the Lord of Bandar."

"Are you sure?" Floris narrowed his eyes. "If I remember correctly, there is a long-standing grievance between the lord of Bandar and Brod, and this time this man has had contact and contact with Brod. "

"Yes." The magician nodded, "According to previous information, this is indeed the case.... But now Broad is very likely to become the Patriarch of the Rhodes family. In the face of absolute interests, the past. Small contradictions are naturally negligible.... So I boldly guess that Brod must have recognized the identity of the lord, so he chose to cooperate with him. As for the specific content of the cooperation, it is uncertain. ."

Floris nodded slightly, but said nothing, then waved to let the two people leave.

Seeing that Floris was not angry, and did not say anything, the magician's originally uneasy heart finally recovered a bit of calm. After bowing and saluting the illusionist, he left the study to see that Floris did not intend to leave, but was still thinking about something, so the magician opened the door of the study after leaving the study. Shut it, until then he was truly relieved, and his back was already completely wet.

Flores, who was still sitting in the chair, didn't make any new movements. He still held his chin thinking about something.

After about ten minutes, Floris finally said: "Shadow ghost."

"Subordinates are here." In the empty room, a hoarse voice suddenly sounded. The voice was like two pieces of iron rubbing against each other, which was extremely unpleasant.

"What do you think?" Floris said softly.

"He didn't lie." The strange voice called the shadow ghost sounded again, "but that is just his speculation."

"Indeed." Floris nodded, his right hand was tapping gently on the table, and after thinking about it for a while, he said again: "I will give you two tasks.... First, follow. Go to those people and see if the man is really the lord. Don't take a rush if you don't have to. The lord is definitely not as easy to deal with as it seems, and at the same time give all this information to the guys in the Pofeng tribe. And tell them...The cooperation between me and them ends here, because the information they gave us was not thorough and complete, which led to heavy losses on our side. It is impossible for people who cannot trust each other to have any cooperation."

"Yes."

"The second thing... get rid of him." Floris said in a deep voice, but the murderous intent revealed in the words was very rich. It goes beyond the assessment of intelligence materials, but if he escapes immediately, he can save two people no matter what."

During the whole process, this person known as the Shadow Ghost was in the audience, so he naturally knew that if the magician did not run away, even if the old man could not be saved, at least the two golden powerhouses would not die in battle. Of course, for the same price, this magician and illusionist would also likely die there. But compared to the two gold powerhouses, the hundred soldiers and two magicians with only the silver realm were nothing.

Perhaps for other nobles, magicians in the silver realm are already very rare.

But for a big figure like Floris Heilman, the magician of the silver realm is really nothing.

Chapter 23: .family

.Kanshuwo.,.

In the wilderness, a horse-drawn carriage was rushing violently. (Literature Museum)

It is not an ordinary horse that is pulling the cart, but an earth travel dragon that has mutated twice.

If an unsuspecting person sees this carriage, the first reaction must be to think that the person in the carriage is definitely running for his life. Because although this carriage looks quite large, it is obviously specially modified and made to order, but close to a quarter of the second half is completely cut off, revealing the inside of the carriage, of course the most important The thing is that the carriage is running too fast.

This carriage is naturally Sean and others.

This time, Sean had no intention of hiding his traces at all. Although he did not command Blackstone at first, he could at least ask Cecilia to help. This way of using one thing for one thing is on Sean. Behaved vividly and vividly. So in the end, through the situation of "Dawning and Reasoning", Blackstone finally recognized the degree of danger of Rena, so this naturally went all out to run.

In addition, the earth travel dragon is one of the most powerful creatures, and running for a day and night is nothing to Blackstone, so now Shaun and others have officially entered the vanilla plain. The original two-day trip just took Sean only one day and half a night to get it done. The next question was how to find the hidden Snow Wind Guard in this vast prairie.

Vanilla Plain is a grassland located to the northeast of the Northwind. This territory has been directly under the Royal Family of Ryan since the founding of the People's Republic of China. It is one of the most resource-rich territories occupied by the Royal Family of Ryan. Of course, in the property export of the entire territory, the vanilla plain is barely able to squeeze into the top five, because it is rich in a special medicinal material called "vanilla", which is a special material for a variety of alchemy potions. And this kind of alchemy potion is also a major trade material in the Principality of Lane.

Vanilla Plain, from which it gets its name.

Originally, anyone who wants to enter and exit the Northern Winds must be subject to a certain degree of scrutiny, especially in the vanilla plain where a unit of the Principality of Lane is stationed for a long time. But this time, it coincided with the nationwide celebration of the Principality's promotion. A large number of people poured into the Beifeng Ling. No matter how the Beifeng Ling thought about censoring, it could only be powerless. Therefore, the Royal Family simply relaxed the censorship. Fengling's public security situation deteriorated by 30% in an instant.

It's only in this case, the Royal Family of Ryan simply opened one eye and closed one eye. The result is that many people would rather take a detour. Nor would they choose to pass through the northern wind collar, and all those who dare to go straight through the northern wind collar are either strong enough, or have an amazing background, or they are simply in groups or protected by guards. Even if it is an adventurer and mercenary group, if it is not strong enough or is in company with other people. They would not choose to pass by the north wind.

After all, the north wind collar today is too dangerous.

But this time, Sean and others rushed straight to the vanilla plain all night. However, he did not encounter any bandits who blocked the road and robbed him. Originally, Sean was even ready to kill people with thunder. In the end, he didn't expect that no horse thieves and bandits would dare to make trouble. Although this made Xiao En a little puzzled, he was still very happy.

It's just that after entering the vanilla plain, everyone is a little at a loss.

The Snow Wind Guard is the strongest unit of the Snow Wind tribe. At the same level as the Sword Dancer Guards of the Pofeng Tribe, these two units are not part of the army, but in the strict sense they should be more of a mercenary group model, so their scale is relative to thousands of people at every turn. As far as the army is concerned. The number of these two troops is naturally very scarce, and Xiao En guessed that it is probably only 20 or 30 people in size.

Although the scale is small, the strength is definitely beyond doubt.

Like the men brought out by the sword dancer leader who fought against Sean that day, they must all be members of the sword dancer's guard, and those few people are all golden-level strengths. It's just that for a third-class tribe, the number of gold-class powerhouses can't go anywhere, so even though the Snow Wind Guard can be as famous as the Sword Dancer Guard,

Sean feels that this one is lurking on the vanilla plain. The Snow Wind Guard can have five to seven people, and being led by a golden powerhouse is considered to be very important to Saloqi.

After all, these two units are generally only put into use in some relatively important local small-scale battles. At other times, they are basically used to be responsible for the safety of the members of the elders in the tribe. Even if the princess Saloqi Xuefeng is important to the entire tribe, and can even directly affect the life and death of the Xuefeng tribe, Xiao En still doesn't think how many people will come.

Of course, he didn't ask Saloqi, Quandang took this as a little surprise.

After a day and night of running around, Sean finally stopped Blackstone from continuing to run. Although the earth travel dragon has excellent endurance, if it is really hurrying down, if there is any accident at that time, Blackstone will not be able to participate in the battle. This is definitely not good news for Sean. Moreover, at this time, there is only the last day to the three-day deadline, and Sean does not want to fail the mission due to slack at this last moment.

After all, at this time, Sean's task panel did not show that the task was successful.

It's just that whenever Sean sees the words "escort the target to the designated location" on the mission request, Sean always feels very strange. Because when he stepped into the Vanilla Plain, Sean had asked Saloqi many times, but Saloqi said that he did not know the specific location, only that the meeting point that he said before was in the southeast of the Vanilla Plain. A certain area.

When stopping to rest, Blackstone was reluctant at first, but after Sean took out a large amount of meat from the space storage ring, he still managed to attract Blackstone's attention and reluctantly agreed to stop and rest, but for meat. It's been exploited a lot by marshmallows. When Saloqi saw Sean take out a large amount of food from the space storage ring, her eyes were even more surprising.

However, Sean is a little accustomed to this reaction.

In the game, many NPCs will show this expression when they see the player's backpack. After all, space storage devices are too rare for NPCs. Sean even remembered that some players made a fortune because of this: the player sold his newborn backpack directly to an aristocratic npc in exchange for a handsome reward, and then he used the reward. Successfully left most players far behind. Successfully won multiple first kill records.

This player is no one else, but his president known as Cunning Fox.

Thinking of the president, Xiao En couldn't help but look up at the stars.

The night sky so clear as clear water is not common even in games. Although compared to the era of the Earth Federation, the starry sky in the game is enough to make people call it miraculously beautiful, but Sean still feels that it is not as good as the real night sky in front of him.

Here, he can see the shining stars and the bright yellow moon with only a small horn missing.

This is Sean's first night watching.

But I don't know why, Xiao En only felt that the original depression and troubles in his heart disappeared completely in an instant, and suddenly he had a sense of magnificence like the sky and the sky. He suddenly understood. Why do those big people always like to stand on a high place that overlooks the whole land, especially his original president?

Sean admires the chairman called the cunning fox very much, because there are indeed few people who can do that: even his competitors have to admit that his chairman is indeed a very worthy one. Dear opponent. But it is precisely because of this. So in the end all the enemies of the guild leader joined forces, which led to the subsequent burning of utopia. During those hardest and most difficult years. Wings of the Void even almost disbanded.

But because of this, Xiao En was fortunate to have a Bingzhuye talk with his president.

From beginning to end, he still remembered the last words that night that was enough to make more than 90% of the game players in the game look up to say the last words.

"The banner of the void will never fall. Even if I fall, the flame of the void will continue to be passed on, and then it will be lit again to reflect the sky."

Shaun clenched his fists. In a whispered but extremely firm tone, he said: "I will definitely be in this world, ignite the flame of the void, and let it shine on this sky. I will definitely rebuild the Utopia and make him the best in the Southern Continent and even the entire miracle continent. A powerful territory. Let the whole world remember the name Wings of Void!"

Shaun's faith has never been abandoned by him.

A piece of jerky suddenly leaned out from the side, and crossed in front of Xiao En.

Sean froze for a moment, and then turned his head to see that it was Cecily who came over and passed the jerky in her hand to herself. When she saw Sean's somewhat astonished * se, Cecilia smiled slightly. Her smile was quiet and sweet, with a strong affinity for rendering. This has nothing to do with her beauty, but from her. The unique temperament.

Phoenix, as the spirit of beasts, the strongest sacred beast before the twilight era, they have more than just awe-inspiring aura. Before the phoenix is angry, the aura from them is very affinity. Even in the game, the phoenix is one of the few beast-level creatures that never actively attack the player, even if you are right in front of its lair. Habitat, it will not attack you.

"Thank you." Sean reached out and took the jerky, then thanked him with a chuckle.

"Do you and I still need to be polite?" Cecilia tucked the hair that fell down her left cheek, with the same smile, and then sat down next to Sean, "I think it would be okay if it was you."

"What can you do?" Sean was a little confused.

"Let the whole world remember the name of Void Wings!" Cecilia reduced the smile on her face and said seriously.

"Did you hear it all?" Sean was taken aback for a moment. I don't know why, when Cecilia said so, he became a little shy, his face flushed slightly.

"Although I don't know how your past is, or what you want to do, don't say you want to rebuild utopia and restore your family. Even if you are going to be an enemy of the whole world, I will definitely stand by you. This side." Cecilia nodded, saying that she did hear what Shaun said just now, but it was obvious that she had misunderstood what Shaun meant.

Void, has always been synonymous with confusion and loss.

Especially for magicians, the void will not be a good meaning. Especially in the void, there are many tyrannical creatures that even the top humans dare not easily provoke. If these creatures are allowed to enter the material world, it will be a catastrophe for the main plane. So things like Shaun's "Ignite the flames of the void" can be treated as a heretic.

As for the heretics, just look at the situation when the demons and demons appear. This is basically a mouse crossing the street in the whole world, where they go and where they are hit.

So in some respects, Cecilia's so-called "enemy to the world" is not wrong.

"I think you may have misunderstood it." Xiao En laughed aloud, and stretched out his hand to pat Cecilia's head. "The Void Tinder I am talking about does not mean the Void in your magician's technical term. It's my family banner and beliefs.... So, I don't need to be enemies all over the world. It's just that I probably need to be enemies of two or three extremely powerful behemoths."

"Monster, how huge is it?" When I heard Sean say that he had a wrong understanding. Cecilia's rare face flushed slightly, and she lowered her head shyly. But in this way, her charm value naturally increased even more. So that even Sean had such a momentary loss of consciousness. But soon, she adjusted her mentality and asked again, so that she missed the moment when Sean was absent: "Is it as strong as an empire?"

"Well, it's a behemoth like the Seven Empires." Sean nodded, "I want to rebuild Utopia. There is no way around the Millennium Covenant Empire, and it may even involve many other troubles."

When Utopia was established, Sean was not actually there, but he knew how difficult the task was. At that time, the entire Jing Ying regiment led by his president was dispatched. It took more than three months to finally complete this task, thereby gaining control of the utopia. Of course, the part of the negotiations with the Millennium Covenant Empire was part of the process. The acting president of the guild is in charge. So Sean really doesn't know what the overall situation is, but now Sean knows that he wants to reach an agreement with the Millennium Covenant Empire through diplomatic means.

If it doesn't work, it's a big deal.

But if war can be avoided, Sean still hopes to be able to avoid it.

"The Thousand-Year Covenant Empire is indeed... very tricky." Cecilia pondered for a while before she replied, because even she really had no good way.

After all, this is an empire.

But soon, Cecilia came back to her senses again: "In this case, there is only one thousand-year covenant empire. Why should we say two or three?"

"Because there is also the Saint-Joles Empire." Sean smiled, "Maybe the Maggie Empire will be involved in it. So, do you mean two or three?"

"Why St. Joles..."

Cecilia's words were just spoken, and then stopped, because she already knew that there was no need to ask the next words, the answer was in her heart. This answer made her heart very moved and happy, but instinctively, she did not want Sean to do this at all, because the geographical environment of the Duchy of Lembel destined this country to choose to join one of the two empires. On the one hand, it is probably impossible to restore duli as before.

Of course, Cecilia knows better that with Sean's attitude and attitude, he will never be inclined to either side of the two empires. Therefore, the final situation may evolve into facing the two empires. Teamed up to attack.

"unnecessary....."

"Why is it unnecessary?" Sean stretched out his hand and gently hugged Cecilia, "You are my family."

When she heard the words "family", Cecilia's eyes were slightly dim, but soon she closed her eyes and leaned closer to Sean's arms. She really likes the term "family", but it is not the "family" that Sean said, but the "family" in another sense. Just looking at the appearance of Sean, Cecilia knew that he didn't need to expect Sean, a idiot, to understand it, and for Cecilia, as long as he could stay with Sean like this, that was enough.

There was a drop of tears flowing from the corner of Cecilia's left eye.

And not far away, Saloqi Xuefeng, who looked at the two men, had some doubts in her eyes.

Although Sean introduced her to Cecilia as his younger sister, Saloqi always felt that the two of them were not alike at all, especially Cecilia's attitude towards Sean did not resemble his sister's reaction at all. . But even though she wanted to ask what was going on, she finally resisted this curiosity, because she saw Xuefanio's face indifferently, and she had obviously become accustomed to it, so some words were not suitable for her to ask.

On this night, there was no assassination, no yin plot, and no battle.

Everything is so peaceful that it is incredibly beautiful.

When I woke up the next day, everyone felt that Jing Shen was extremely full. But Sean also knows that today will be the final highlight of this time-limited mission, because he must reach the meeting point required by the mission before night falls, otherwise the mission will be considered a failure, even Saloqi. Princess Xuefeng was still alive and it was meaningless.

What's more, no one hopes that Princess Saloche Xuefeng will survive.

And this person has also appeared in front of Xiao En and others.

Chapter 24: .The choice of the third way

Sean knew that today is the last day of the mission, and it must be the most dangerous day. So from the beginning, he expected many possible situations, such as a halfway attack, or a group of people for a strong attack, even if it didn't work, at least it would definitely be a fierce battle.

But Sean didn't expect that all this was completely different from what he expected.

There is only one person.

The female jing spirit sword dancer of the Pofeng tribe who was confronted head-on with Shaun.

She did not lead the Pofeng tribe's men to intercept together, nor did she use any small means to conspire with Xiao Yin, but when Sean saw the solemn face of the other party, he knew that this interception was probably the real final contest. NS.

Because in the face of this sword dancer, Shaun saw a determination to look directly at death.

In other words, the opponent came to intercept with the belief that he was mortal. Faced with such an opponent, Sean did not feel that he could deter the opponent by some small means. This was a fight with real swords and guns. Only the winner can survive. But the problem now is that Sean cannot guarantee that he can end the battle within five minutes. Once it exceeds five minutes, his combat effectiveness will be reduced by at least half. In this case, let alone kill the opponent, whether he can blow himself or not will become a problem. .

Jing Spirit Sword Dancer, none of them is simple.

This profession has always been known for its strong heads-up ability-of course, this refers to the hands of high play, if in the hands of ordinary players, the extremely complex skill system is enough to make people kneel. But all of this is based on the premise of the game world. In this real world, how can someone who can become a sword dancer be weak? Even if it is really a weak person, the strength of the upper gold is also there. This is like "level suppression" in the game.

only.....

Xiao En's brows furrowed tightly, and he suddenly glanced sideways at his right side, his eyes sharp as a knife.

However, there is clearly no one in this place.

On this grassland, the field of vision is very wide, and there is no blind spot in the field of vision. In other words, it's impossible to hide anyone from the place where Sean looks past, unless the illusionist is interfering, but in front of Cecilia, if the record is too close, even if the illusionist's magic flow traces are The lowest of all legal professions can never escape Cecilia's induction.

So, the use of illusion as a way of covering up and approaching is not always applicable.

But Sean still feels that someone is watching him in this direction.

"Don't worry, you're the only one here." When the female sword dancer saw Sean suddenly turned her head, she frowned slightly, and then said softly, "I'm just here to have a fair with you. The duel... If you win, there will be no one blocking your path from the Brofeng Tribe, but if you lose, then please leave Princess Saloqi to me."

"Fair duel?" Xiao En slowly withdrew his gaze, staring at the female spirit sword dancer in front of him.

The saying of a fair duel made Sean smile noncommittal.

Because he did not expect this to be the case, because when Sean saw that only one person appeared, he never thought of a fair duel. Since it was an enemy, he would just rush to kill the enemy, anyway. There are a lot of people here. But now, Xiao En did not dare to guarantee such confidence, because he could feel the powerful power contained in that cold sight just now.

Although Xiao En did not know why the opponent could hide his figure, he was sure that there must be an enemy hidden on the right side, and the strength of this enemy was far higher than that of the female spirit sword dancer in front of him. Probably the strength can only barely protect himself. Basically, among everyone present, it is estimated that no one except Rina and Xuefanio will be the opponent of the concealed person, but Rina is in a coma at the moment, so the only thing that can prevent the opponent from attacking is left. Xuefanio.

For Sean, if it is an ordinary enemy, he will not care too much. But being able to hide his body in such a way that he does not even understand how the other party did it, then this person must be very dedicated to assassinations and sneak attacks, so if you ask Xuefanio to go with the sword dancer fighting against each other, Sean had no idea how to stop the assassin's sneak attack.

Therefore, if you really want a one-on-one duel, then he can really only fight.

"Yes, it's a fair duel." The female spirit sword dancer nodded, "You, and me."

"What if I refuse?" Sean laughed, "You are alone, but I am more than one. Then do you think I need to fight you?"

"Why refuse?" The female jing spirit sword dancer wrinkled her brows again, this time deeper than the previous one, her face even had a strong incomprehensible se, "You humans don't attach great importance to glory and reputation. Is it? If so, then I will challenge you, why do you refuse?"

Hearing the other party's words, Xiao En knew that this female jing spirit sword dancer's knowledge of the human world might be worse than that of Saloqi. Otherwise, she would definitely not just run to a duel with Sean. Perhaps in her cognition, she came to a duel with Sean. This was the best solution, because she couldn't think of Sean at all. What reason to refuse this duel.

So, at this time, Sean rejected the proposal in one go, leaving the female sword dancer feeling extremely confused and confused.

"Most humans really value glory and reputation." Sean shrugged, "But please note that I'm talking about most. In the human world, there are many things that don't care about these vain things at all."

"For example, you?" When Sean said, "Humans really value honor and reputation," the female sword dancer's eyes did brighten up, but when Sean emphasized the three words "mostly", this The face of the female sword dancer was a bit ugly. She looked around Xiao En's body, this time she didn't have the solemn expression of seeing death as home, but rather a lonely  se.

But for a cunning and wise person like Sean, he only needs a little clue from his opponent, and he can infer a lot of intelligence.

Judging from the spirit of the female sword dancer's face, this time Sean can conclude that the hidden person lurking around was not with the female jing spirit sword dancer, at least not the other party. People of the Pofeng tribe, otherwise this female sword dancer's tricks of forcing the palace would not fall into such a dilemma. But more, it was Sean who saw that there was a painful se that was trying to hide in her eyes, and her face se was obviously much paler than the previous confrontation in the woods.

At this moment, Sean's mind became brighter and brighter: "You are injured."

Hearing Sean's words, the  se of the female sword dancer was slightly startled, but she quickly calmed down: "Yes, I am injured, so do you dare to fight me?"

"I still refuse." Xiao En's mouth raised slightly. Although he didn't laugh out loud, there was a smile on his face that anyone with a discerning eye could see.

Cecilia glanced sideways at Sean's smile. She was really familiar with Sean, so when she saw Sean smile like this, she knew that Sean must be thinking about it again. This idea is definitely in his grasp, otherwise he would not show such a triumphant smile. Because most of the time, Sean's se always seems to be caught in the solution of some century's problem, and always looks full of distress.

Many people can't understand why Sean has such an expression.

Because he does not need to manage a lot of things like ordinary lord. Although his territory is indeed very large, in fact the military and political systems of the entire territory have long been clearly divided, and in both systems there are the highest persons in charge. The person who really manages the territory is not Sean at all, so Those who have not entered the core class under Xiao En's command will naturally not know where Xiao En's troubles are.

Only core followers like William, Alfred, Neal, Hela, Cecilia, will know the real troubles in Sean's brain.

"I must correct your sentence." Sean shrugged. "In the human world, there are indeed many people who don't care about so-called glory, reputation and the like, and I can only be said to include me in this ranks, but It's not like me."

"Is there a difference?" The female sword dancer was puzzled.

"Of course." Sean nodded, "In some cases, I will do something that is detrimental to glory and reputation, but there are prerequisites for it. And most of the time, I pay much attention to glory. And reputation, after all, I am a lord who is about to become a Marquis..... You are my enemy, so when dealing with enemies, I have never been merciful, so naturally I don't care about the so-called reputation and glory. Right now, I didn't feel strong hostility and warfare in your body. Since you are not hostile to me, it is possible that we will not fight in a certain way, and the most important point is that you are injured. "

"so what?"

"I don't fight the wounded." Sean said in a deep voice, "You want to die under my sword. I can do you well, but not now."

The female sword dancer did not speak, her eyes staring at Sean were full of doubt.

"Get out of the way." Sean said softly.

"Impossible." The female sword dancer shook her head, "I have only two options left. The first is to take away the princess of the Xuefeng tribe, and the second is to die on this land. But I don't want to die. So I must take the princess away...Of course, if you can kill me, then this may be my destiny."

Listening to this female sword dancer, Sean frowned slightly, and then she and Cecilia looked at each other. Even Xuefanio, who was not far away, showed a curious spirit, not to mention Saloqi Xuefeng, who was the party involved, but her Jingling guard was still on guard. Obviously, the hatred between Xuefeng tribe and Pofeng tribe has reached an extreme, it is impossible to trust each other or easily reconcile each other.

"What if we can provide you with a third way?" Cecilia looked at the female sword dancer, and then suddenly said.

This time, it was Sean's turn to remain silent.

In the handling of foreign affairs, Sean believes that he is inferior to Cecilia. This is not just a question of ability, but also a kind of talent and experience. Because anyway, Cecilia is a princess of a country after all, so naturally she will be a little bit fascinated, plus she went to the Maggie Empire's Magic Academy for further studies, and there is not only learning there. It's just magic, and many government issues and handling are also taught.

So when Cecilia speaks, Sean usually chooses to be quiet and let Cecilia deal with this kind of problem.

Sure enough, when the female sword dancer saw Sean's silence, her eyes finally no longer looked at Sean, but at Cecilia.

"What is the third way?"

"What about your subordinates?" Cecilia didn't answer directly, but instead asked a new question. "If I remember correctly, even if you lost a few strong men when we played against each other that day, You should also have some subordinates, it is absolutely impossible to block the way alone like you are now."

Hearing Cecilia's words, Sean suddenly realized a problem.

This sword dancer is very strong. Although the Pofeng tribe is only a  tribe, there are not too many golden powerhouses, but based on their knowledge and cognition of the Xuefeng tribe, if they really value Saloqi. If Xuefeng is the case, then there will definitely not only be such a few gold powerhouses. Especially in the way of acting in the wild land, it would definitely not be so big, at least as it is now, only this female sword dancer intercepted it alone, and it would never happen.

Never treat your enemies as idiots.

Sean still remembers this sentence, which was the first piece of advice his president told him.

"I think they are cumbersome, so I didn't bring them." The female sword dancer said softly, her voice full of simplicity.

It's just that Sean and Cecilia are so brilliant and smart. From this sentence, you can hear some peculiar meanings, not to mention the sorrow that this female sword dancer tried to hide in this simple and concise voice. .

"Do you not want to bring them, or do they all..." Cecilia didn't finish this sentence completely.

"What are you trying to say!" The female sword dancer shouted in a deep voice, this time she was really angry.

Seeing the anger of the female sword dancer, Cecilia laughed instead. In the use of skills such as diplomatic negotiations, if Sean is just a beginner, then this female sword dancer has no qualifications to be called an apprentice at all, because even Sean knows that forever above language confrontation Don't expose your emotions easily. No matter how angry and fearful you are, or joy and excitement, you shouldn't show it.

Obviously, this female sword dancer did not understand this.

However, for the straight-forward style of the wild land, I am afraid that many people will never understand this in their lifetime.

The princess Saloqi Xuefeng is an exception.

Maybe it's because Cecilia and Sean got too close and had too much contact, so that after seeing the angry look of the female sword dancer, Cecilia's smile actually gave people a kind of devil. Like feeling: "So... do you want revenge? For your companions? If you want, then I will give you a third way as a choice."

"You want me to surrender?" The female sword dancer suddenly calmed down from her anger, but this time her  se showed a trace of sarcasm, "Rather than let me surrender you humans, then I would rather die here. On a piece of land."

"I think... after talking for so long, I haven't asked your name." Cecilia said with a smile, "Next is Cecilia. Cecilia Lembel."

"Sean Connery." Sean gave the female sword dancer a noble courtesy of friendly greetings, "The one over there is Xuefanio, and the one resting in the carriage is Rina.... As for the two of the Xuefeng tribe, I think you should be familiar with them."

The female sword dancer looked at Sean and Cecilia, and indeed did not feel any hostility or warfare in the two of them, or not from the beginning. Just like in Sean's eyes, the sheen that the female sword dancer exudes is always light yellow. This is a message of neutrality. At least as long as Sean doesn't do anything first, maybe the other party Wouldn't attack Sean at all.

After such a moment of hesitation, the female sword dancer said: "Venya. Breaking Wind."

"Okay, then I call you Miss Venia, don't you mind?" Cecilia smiled, and after seeing Venia's noncommittal expression, she continued to speak, "I miss Miss Venia. You may be mistaken about one thing.... That is the third way I said, not to make you surrender, but to cooperate. I don't know who your tribe chooses to cooperate, but from Miss Winia Judging from your current situation, you may have been abandoned by your tribe?"

When Cecilia said this, Vinia, a fool who didn't know how to hide his emotions, showed a surprised look. Obviously she didn't understand why Cecilia would know, but she just didn't wait for her. Speaking, Cecilia continued: "You don't need to ask how I know. You have to know that human beings are always very good at analyzing intelligence and reasoning.... In short, I think of my current position. Nothing went wrong yet."

Vinia. Po Feng nodded.

"In this case, Miss Vinia is like a gangster, all the shackles that bound you have disappeared, you don't need to worry about the problem of the broken wind tribe." Cecilia continued to smile and said, "Then the only thing you need to do right now is to take revenge for the companions who once trusted you and gave their lives to you?... Well, just right, we can provide you with such an opportunity. ."

Looking at Vinia, who was obviously moved, and Cecilia, who looked "I'm doing you well", Sean didn't understand whether it was Vinia who was too cute or Sisi. Li Yatai is terrible.

Chapter 25: .Snow Wind Guard

The vanilla plain is a comprehensive plain with fertile land.

In the earliest days, the Royal Family of Lane deliberately built a horse farm here as a special horse for the royal family. Of course, it may also be able to train good quality horses. Moreover, this plain has a vast area. Even if a horse farm is opened up, it can also be divided into an area for farming. It is impossible to feed a country's population, but it is not a problem to feed a population of a marquis.

And all this was stopped after the person in charge of the survey and assessment discovered a special plant called "vanilla".

This plant can be used as a substitute material in more than 70% of low-level alchemy potions, and can even be used in the production of neutralizers for making some intermediate-level alchemy potions. If you cooperate with some special materials, you can even invest in the process of making magic equipment-but this method, Sean thinks that the whole world is probably only known to him, because this only appeared in the middle of the game. A mainstream forging method.

At least, that will be about ten years from now in the world.

Alchemists, this industry is considered a side of magic, and does not require too advanced magic or elemental induction, but there are some requirements for Jing divine power, so generally even apprentices can do this job relatively easily. Of course, if you want to become a master of alchemy, it is not what ordinary people can do, because the more advanced alchemy potions, the Jing divine power is not only extremely large and tough, but also involves elemental or other aspects.

But anyway, because the vanilla plain is rich in "herb medicine", the Principality of Lane used to support a large number of alchemists. Now, the Principality of Lane has annexed the Kingdom of Darbion and is about to be upgraded to a kingdom. It can be seen that there should be only a lot more alchemists in the Kingdom of Lane in the future.

In this way, the Vanilla Plain has naturally become the most important area of the Royal Family.

It's just that, at this time the nationwide celebration is approaching, the north wind collar also relaxed slightly and the workload, so naturally there is no more murderous atmosphere on the vanilla plain, and no troops are patrolling. So for those who enter the vanilla plain at this time, there is no need to worry about being blackmailed or any other unexpected situation.

Xiao En and others are wandering around on this grassland at this time.

Talking about loitering, in fact, is not very accurate, because they still have a relatively strong purpose. It's just that from outsiders' eyes, Sean and the others are really not much different from ordinary wandering at this time. After all, they are walking in a big circle on the entire vanilla plain. However, in order to prevent people from encountering the Xuefeng tribe from being ignorant, the jingling guard is still sitting in the position of the coachman, but his  se is very jingling, even distracting some attention from time to time. Observe the carriage behind you.

In fact, this Jing Ling guard cannot be blamed for this.

After all, the entanglement between the Xuefeng tribe and the Pofeng tribe has a long history, so it is normal that they will not trust each other.

Who made a man from the Brofeng Tribe sit in the carriage at this moment?

In other words, the former leader of the guard of the sword dancers of the Pafeng tribe, Vinia Pafeng.

Sean thinks she should be called Vinia. It's better to be cute, because Cecilia really succeeded in pulling this high-level golden peak power on the thief ship with just a few words. Although it's a cooperative relationship, in fact, even Saloqi Xuefeng knows that once on Sean's thief ship, it's impossible to think about it, not to mention Xuefanio, who has the deepest experience. NS.

It's just that compared to the cute Vinia, Xuefanio's status and status are much higher. After all, it was Eswinter who had negotiated with Sean at the beginning. No matter what, this is a god. , And she also gave Sean an entire priest corps. You know, even if it is a national-level war, there will not necessarily be a priest group appearing on the battlefield. Basically, the only priest group in the entire continent that can dispatch a priest group every war is the St. Joel's Empire.

But anyway, the addition of Winia is still a powerful aid to Shaun today.

In terms of the realm of strength alone, she and Rena are comparable, but if you take into account the professional advantages and other aspects of the increase effect, then Vinia is not Rena's opponent. The only advantage is that people from the savage land are very good at fighting, so in terms of combat experience, Vinia is still a bit higher than Rena, so if it is a real combat, the two people are not in a short period of time. The winner will be divided, but once the time is prolonged, then the winner will be Rena.

The premise is that Winia does not perform secret arts.

After joining Sean's side, Vinia explained some of what she knew.

It is obviously impossible for Vinia to directly tell the secrets of the broken wind tribe. Even if Cecilia fiddled with Sean's thief ship, her heart still tends to be broken. Wind tribal. It's just that Sean believes that Vinia, who has a cute genus of Xing, can't stand Cecilia's idiom, so it's just a half-day chatting effort. Why would Sean and others even Vinia be broken into the wind tribe? The reason for the abandonment is known.

It turned out that the Broken Wind tribe entered the territory of the Principality of Lane this time, and it was not known that Princess Saloqi of the Snow Wind tribe was also here. At first, their purpose was just to get on the line with some big figures in the Principality of Lane, and then use these secret routes to carry out some trade. For this kind of thing, although countries have always tried to prohibit it, as long as there are profitable things, naturally they are not. It may be completely blocked. After all, the human kingdom's desire for the barren land is not just for slaves. There are other precious minerals or some that are of no use to the barren land, but they can be sold at a good price in the human country. treasure.

Venia is not clear about the specific method of setting up this route and other details, because her trip is only responsible for protecting the safety of the druid master. For this reason, the Breaking

Wind tribe specifically allowed Venia to bring four golden swords. The dancers played, and there was also a team of Silver Sword Dancers-at this point, Xiao En knew that his understanding of the Pofeng Tribe and Xuefeng Tribe in the game was actually partially wrong.

Like the Sword Dancer Guards of the Pofeng Tribe, although the number is indeed only sixteen, eight of them are inferior gold strengths. They are all honored as Golden Sword Dancers in the tribe, and the remaining eight are all It is a level of quasi-strong person whose strength is very close to the golden realm. In addition, it is the Silver Sword Dancer troop composed of about three hundred Pofeng tribe's highland jingling spirits. This troop is the real Pafeng Tribal sword dancer guard, and its actual nature is also the army's belongings. Xing, at least, is a quasi-level five army.

When Xiao En first heard the news, he was really shocked.

Although the size of the Sword Dancer Guard Team is not enough for a strong unit, if we cooperate with Winia and the other sixteen Golden Sword Dancers, this is enough to be equivalent to a fifth-level strong combat unit, that is, five. One hundred soldiers of the fifth-level army. And the team of Silver Sword Dancers Venya said was about thirty people in size. In this confrontation with the Xuefeng tribe, the entire thirty Silver Sword Dancers lost more than twenty. The remaining ten people were also injured, basically it is impossible to participate in any battle in a short period of time.

As for the other four Golden Sword Dancers, Sean killed two of them, and the other two were completely destroyed this time. It's just that these two people were not killed by Sean, but died in their own hands in order to protect the safe evacuation of Winia.

At this time, Xiao En finally learned a piece of news that really made him unhappy.

Baofeng tribe's entourage this time, there is a bloodline hunter. However, because of a hard fight with Vinia, the opponent was already seriously injured at this time. If it weren't for the druid master at the last moment to stop it, and the attendant next to the bloodline hunter rushed forward, this A bloodline hunter was stabbed to death by Vinia a long time ago, how could he survive.

For those tribes in the Wildlands, the strict hierarchical system is destined to be staid in their thinking-Sean thinks this must be the main inducement for Winia to be cute. Therefore, Vinia was not only listed as a traitor, but even was violently pursued and killed. Except for the two golden sword dancers who unswervingly protected Vinia's escape, other former comrades in arms turned towards them. , So Vinia had to commit suicide to find a way out of blood.

After , in order to prove that she was not a betrayer, she decided to block Sean's way by herself.

The idea is very beautiful, but unfortunately it turns out...

唔, it's still very good for Sean, but not so good for Pofeng tribe.

Because the two tribal holy artifacts of the broken wind tribe, the tooth of the broken wind and the blade of the wind ghost are still on the body of Vinia at this time. Shaun guessed that this is the reason why the Pofeng tribe will pursue Vinia. After all, this is a holy artifact of the tribe, and in Shaun's eyes, these two weapons have indeed proved that they have indeed become saints. Qualifications.

Desolate Fang is an epic dagger, Wind Ghost Blade is a legendary dagger.

The most commendable thing is that the attribute values of these two daggers are a bit scary-as legendary quality equipment, these two daggers are difficult to enter the eyes of middle and high-level players, because the accompanying attributes are really not very good. , The only bright spot is that Fang of Desolate has an armor-breaking and penetrating attribute, while the Blade of Wind Ghost comes with an attack speed bonus effect.

Besides, these two daggers have no other additional xing effects, and they are indeed somewhat sorry for their legendary qualities.

But for those real high players, the meaning of these two swords is definitely not trivial.

Forgetting the penetrating genus xing, the armor-breaking genus xing and the increase in attack speed are definitely the rarest genus xing in the original game. Especially in this real world, weapons and other equipment have lost the display of attack power they should have in the game, so these two attributes are even more important.

It's just that Vinia did not fully utilize the power of these two pieces of equipment.

This is somewhat like the [Unidentified] situation in the game.

In the game, all unidentified equipment cannot be fully used after the player is equipped. In reality, many people have relatively powerful special equipment. For example, after demonizing equipment, it usually takes a period of exploration or the forger's guidance and explanation before they can fully exert the power of these equipment props.

But because Sean has a real eye, he can completely ignore this rule.

For Vinia, although she had already boarded Sean's thief ship at this time, Sean had not completely assured her, so Sean did not give her thorough guidance on these two pieces of equipment. Because once she has completely mastered these two daggers, but she is not on the same front with her sincerely, then Sean can imagine the next picture, it must be very cruel and bloody. .

So, Sean decided to wait and see for a while.

And through the information spoken by the cute Vinia-although until now, Vinia has not known that he has said all the things that should and should not be said under Cecilia's "follow temptation" Come out-Sean also finally knows the purpose and team configuration of Pofeng Tribe's trip. Of course, he also checked the information on Saloki's side. When Vinia spoke about the situation of the Breakwind tribe, Saloki was always in the carriage, so of course she knew very well what Vinia had leaked. She felt a deep fear of Cecilia.

So to some extent, Saloqi's cooperation also made Shaun a little confused.

Based on Sean's cognition, he certainly cannot understand that for a smart woman like Saloqi, sometimes the deterrence of intelligence is far more daunting than suppression by force. And watching Saloqi also share all the information she knew, Cecilia showed her a smile that only the two of them could understand and understand. It was just Saloqi's smile back, but it was true. So a bit bleak taste.

After that, when the night started to fall, Sean had pieced together the whole picture of the dispute and confrontation between the Xuefeng tribe and the Pofeng tribe.

These two third-class tribes, both of which belong to the Eye of the Storm tribe, have the same idea when entering the human kingdom this time, which is to find human allies to obtain a stable and safe secret trade route. It's just that at the very beginning, the Brofeng tribe chose the Kingdom of Darbion. After all, the Rift Valley was always in the hands of the kingdom of Darbion before Sean appeared. This is also the southern nobility of the Darbion Kingdom trying to regain it. The real cause of the Rift Valley.

The situation of the Xuefeng tribe at the time was that there was no choice—because the broken wind tribe first chose the nobles of the Darbion Kingdom as their allies, the Xuefeng tribe could only choose the nobles of the Principality of Lane as their allies. In essence, the Xuefeng tribe has been in a disadvantage from the very beginning, but it was unexpected that the war initiated by Sean caused the Xuefeng tribe to become the beneficiaries instead.

So this time the Xuefeng tribe sent the princess Saloqi Xuefeng to show her sincerity.

Unexpectedly, the Pofeng tribe was not willing to give up. They finally bought the route of the Marquis of Flores through a lot of bribes and obtained a secret agreement. It's just that although it's a cooperative relationship, in fact the Marquis of Flores did not really stand on the side of the Brofeng tribe. On the contrary, it is better to say that it is a middleman—the Marquis of Flores connects with other nobles to make some profits. Difference.

Therefore, the encirclement and suppression battle from the forces of the Marquis of Floris the day before yesterday was actually a task assigned by the Pafeng tribe with money.

And the result of the task naturally ended in failure.

It's just that, the overly cute Vinia still doesn't know.

She still thinks that she is the only one to intercept Sean.

As for the encounter between the Xuefeng tribe and the Pofeng tribe, this is another unexpected coincidence that I have to say—when Sean completely captured all the territories of the entire southern nobility of Dabion, the Pofeng tribe, who was a guest at the time, naturally ran away in a hurry. The result happened to encounter the Xuefeng tribe, who took the route across the aristocratic territory of Dabion, and a short and fierce battle broke out between the two sides. Naturally, the strong and powerful Brofeng tribe won.

After , it was the request for help from both sides, and then it continued to fight until the entire Kingdom of Darbion was completely annexed by the Principality of Ryan, and neither side had a victory or defeat.

At that time, in order to ensure that all the gifts tributed by the Snow Wind Tribe were intact, Saloqi resolutely ordered the Snow Wind Guard to leave first and do a good job of defending their stronghold here in the Vanilla Plain. They will catch up later, if within a month. If they haven't arrived, they will be considered dead. At this time, there was only the last day of the day that Saloqi had scheduled. If they couldn't meet the Snow Wind Guards today, then the Snow Wind Guards would leave.

At that time, Princess Saloqi will be deemed "dead" by the Xuefeng tribe.

But for Sean, this is not important. The big deal is that he can't get three proficiency points, and offends both Xuefeng and Pofeng tribes at the same time. There is no loss or relationship to him. But now with Rena falling into a deep sleep state, the meaning of all this is completely different. Because if the Snow Wind Guard leaves, then he won't be able to get the kind of potion that Saloqi said.

So in any case, Sean must find the Snow Wind Guard before today.

The carriage is still running on the vanilla plain, but Sean's mood is getting heavier and heavier, especially after he pieced together the truth about the whole thing.

At this moment, the Jing Ling guard sitting in the coachman's seat suddenly shouted: "Found it!"

Almost the moment the jingling guard uttered a word, Xiao En's mind also sounded a system prompt, indicating that his mission had been completed. This made Xiao En's face a smile of joy and excitement, and then before the car door opened, Xiao En had already jumped out of the gap in the carriage and landed on the grass.

Then, he saw an amazing scene.

A total of thirty highland jinglings wearing light gray leather armors are in a scattered formation surrounding the carriages of Xiao En and others, and in front of these thirty highland jinglings, there are five exuding powerful A breath of golden realm powerhouse!

These are five snow wind guards and a team of snow wind fighters!

Sean did not expect that the team responsible for protecting Saloqi Xuefeng had such a powerful strength!

Chapter 26: . Sean's Decision

The Snow Wind Guard in Sean's cognition, naturally refers to those teams gathered by strong tribes.

But in fact, it is not the case.

The real Snow Wind Guard, just like the sword dancer guard of the Pofeng tribe, is an army composed of more than 400 highland jing spirits. It's just that, for some unknown reason, these four hundred highland jinglings are not sword dancers, but troops similar to the Terran Mountain Division, jingling through various mountain battles, which is worthy of their highlands. Jing Ling's name. It's just that these highland jing spirits with strong army xing characteristics can't be compared with those strong. After all, the training and cultivation methods of strong and soldiers have always been different. Therefore, in the Xuefeng tribe, in order to combine the two To distinguish them, they called these more than 400 highland jing spirits the Snow Wind Warriors.

Only fighters with the prefix "Xuefeng" can be regarded as Jingying in the Xuefeng tribe.

This is somewhat similar to the silver sword dancers of the Pofeng tribe.

As for those who are truly strong and quasi-strong with strong personal strength, they are called Snow Wind Guards. Even in the entire Xuefeng tribe, there are only eleven people. Compared with the sixteen golden sword dancers of the broken wind tribe, this number is a bit smaller. As for the druid masters and others, In terms of the number of participants, Xuefeng Tribe is also slightly weaker in terms of overall advantages.

It is not difficult to speculate that these two third-class tribes that once belonged to the Eye of the Storm tribe are strong and weak.

And this time, because of the action to slay Saloqi Xuefeng, the Pofeng tribe directly dispatched four Golden Sword Dancers. Together with the leader of Venya Xuefeng, there were five people in total. If you also count the heavily wounded bloodmark hunter and druid master, as well as other golden powerhouses, then this time the Broken Wind tribe has dispatched at least one-third of the tribe powerhouses.

Before, due to the confrontation, the two sides had reduced their staff, but for the Xuefeng tribe, which had a small number of strong men, this loss was undoubtedly magnified many times. Like the Xuefeng guard, seven people were dispatched this time, but now only six people survived. Xiao En only knew at this time that the Jingling guard who was responsible for the safety of Saloqi was actually in the Xuefeng guard. A member of the.

As for the person who died in the battle, its identity is not difficult to guess, naturally it was the uncle that Saloqi said.

In addition, there have been three or four Xuefeng tribe experts who have died in battle in the past six months. It can be said that in this battle, the Xuefeng tribe has a high level of combat power at the high-end powerhouse level. The child has been cut a lot. If it weren't for the Xuefeng tribe's superiority in military power than the Pofeng tribe, a big loss like this would have been enough to cause a tribe to be completely annexed.

Even the five Snow Wind guards in front of them are all injured.

It's just that, even though they were standing here, a tyrannical aura radiated from them, still extremely shocking.

Behind them are thirty snow wind soldiers wearing leather armor, holding short knives, carrying several short spears, and dart knife bags tied to their legs.

Thirty Snow Wind fighters, just a small combat unit group.

It is said that there are two small combat unit groups that have entered the human kingdom this time, and now only one remains. This shows that there is no peace on the way.

But now, the faces of these Snow Wind Guards are not very friendly.

Their gazes staring at Xiao En were full of vigilance and vigilance. If there was not one of their own, these Snow Wind guards and soldiers had already launched an offensive. In fact, as early as this afternoon, the snow wind soldiers in charge of the Jing guard post discovered this carriage. At that time, they thought it was a patrol guard of this human territory, and they deliberately avoided it until later. They found that the carriage did not seem to be patrolling, but rather searching for something. At that time, they were already very alert. It wasn't until the investigators sent again later discovered that the carriage driver was actually a Snow Wind Guard, that the five Snow Wind Guards and Snow Wind Warriors appeared.

It's just that, even so, they didn't relax their vigilance.

After all, it is not uncommon in the savage land to surrender to humans by the same tribe in the tribe.

When the two sides met on the first day of the new year, there was a bit of a tragic atmosphere of tension.

But at this moment, the carriage door finally opened.

Salocie Xuefeng, the princess finally jumped out of the carriage.

At this moment, the faces of the five powerful Snow Wind Guards all showed surprises, and even the 30 Snow Wind Warriors behind them all showed excitement, and even faintly suppressed cheers. Sounded. For this, Sean still knows better. After all, the place where they are at this time is not a barren land, and it is night time. If they cheer, they will inevitably be so powerful, and maybe they will attract real patrol sergeants. .

Although the northern wind has relaxed the access control, and there is no large army stationed on the vanilla plain, there are still sergeants stationed in the artificial cultivation field cultivated by the royal family in the vanilla plain, and the scale is by no means less than a thousand people. . If the Xuefeng Warriors were here as a whole group, then they would certainly not be afraid of these thousands of people, but now there are only 30 people in the scale, even if they are the same as the Sword Dancer Guards, they are quasi-five levels of combat power, they can't stop them. The army of a thousand soldiers killed and killed.

"Princess, you're okay!" After several snow wind guards gathered around, one of them immediately asked.

"It's okay." When Saloqi saw these people, her heart was also very excited. What she was most afraid of was the loss of too many tribal powers in this battle. In this way, even if their final mission was successful, it would be for the tribe. Not necessarily a good thing.

"His Royal Highness is fine." These Xuefeng guards were delighted and grateful. Xiao En glanced at their faces, and found that these people were not fakes, but he was relieved. He was most afraid of them. It is these people who have betrayers. After all, this kind of thing is very common in the wilderness, just as they did not trust the Snow Wind Guard who came with Sean in the first place.

It's just that the breath of joy just diffused, and in an instant it became rattled again.

It can even be said that it still looks a bit like an enemy.

All this, only because they saw a person appear.

Vigna. Breaking the wind.

For the commander of the famous sword dancer guard of the Brofeng tribe, these snow wind guards are very familiar, after all, in the past six months, there have been many deadly battles between the two sides. It can be said that at least two of the several powerful men of the Xuefeng tribe who died in the battle died directly at the hands of Vigna, and one person died directly at the hands of Vigna, but at least indirectly. On hand. Of course, if you want to count it seriously, the leader of the Xuefeng Guard, the Highland Jingling who also called Saloqi Xuefeng's uncle, can also be regarded as indirectly dead in the hands of Vigna.

So, facing the sudden appearance of Vigna, a woman who is simply a big demon to the Xuefeng tribe, how can the five Xuefeng guards not be as good as facing the enemy?

Even the thirty Snow Wind Warriors had a slight shudder.

is really the prestige of Vigna, which is too shocking.

After a brief confrontation, these snow wind guards immediately wanted to take action against Vigna. After all, she was the only one at this time, and judging from their breath, they could also feel that Vigna seemed to be seriously injured, even though they were five of them. They were also injured, but in this case, they must have the advantage with five to one.

Almost as soon as the hostility of these people radiated, Vigna jumped down with great agility, and then pulled the distance between the two sides to 30 meters away with a single step. When she stood still again, the two double daggers inherited from the Pofeng tribe in Vigna's hand had been held tightly by her, which was obviously a standard posture for entering the battle.

The quick and sensitive response at this moment made even Sean a little surprised.

Because Sean has always believed that his ability to react is very quick. After all, he has the third-order real eye, so as long as someone is hostile to him, he can detect it immediately and be guarded strictly. But after seeing Winia's reaction, even he had to sigh, because if the situation just now was replaced by Sean, he would definitely not be able to make this kind of performance and reaction if decisively and decisively. Keep it simple. That is to say, his action nerve anti-she and conditional anti-she ability are not as good as Vinia-or in other words, no one among Sean's followers can react faster than Vinia.

If the people in the Wildlands are all fighting races, then Venia is the strongest among the fighting races.

Even if there is still a gap between the real strong master, it is at least one of the strongest, and the potential is absolutely amazing.

After seeing Winia's movements, the five Snow Wind guards finally reacted, and immediately protected Princess Saloqi behind her, and the thirty Snow Wind Warriors nearby also quickly moved closer. At this moment, everyone in the Xuefeng Guard was armed with weapons, and the fighting momentum broke out in awe. It is almost foreseeable that if no one stops it, a great battle will definitely break out next.

Sean absolutely believes that this Snow Wind Guard can indeed kill Winia here. But in the same way, they would definitely pay a heavy price. As for how heavy the price would be, Sean could not predict.

"Stop it all!" Almost when the war was about to start, Saloqi Xuefeng suddenly became angry.

At this moment, everyone in the Snow Wind Guard was a little startled.

The old grudge between them and the Pofeng tribe has a long history. Basically, even if they encounter it in the wild, conflicts will inevitably erupt, sometimes even a fierce battle where only one of the two sides can survive. Therefore, when the two sides meet, there will inevitably be fighting and * conflict. This is already a normal phenomenon for the entire wilderness. So if one day the people of the Pofeng tribe and the Xuefeng tribe encounter each other but do not conflict, then That's the real weird thing.

Therefore, this Snow Wind Guard meets Vinia here. Breaking Wind, a character who makes everyone in the Snow Wind tribe a headache and hatred, naturally must do their best to kill the opponent. You know, if you change the situation, you won't have such a good opportunity, because in this most half-year confrontation, the people of these Xuefeng tribes have already known that Vinia Brofeng is far better than what they think. Imagination is more powerful and difficult.

is precisely because of this, so when Saloqi drinks the Snow Wind Guards, they are very surprised.

"Your Royal Highness, this..." The one who asked the question was still the Snow Wind Guard who walked in the forefront to greet the Princess.

At this time, Xiao En had already seen it. The person who spoke was probably the person who was second only to the leader of the Snow Wind Guard in the Snow Wind Guard. This can be seen from the attitudes of the other Xuefeng guards and the Jingling guard who was responsible for protecting Princess Saloki Xuefeng. The suppression and manifestation of the empire will inevitably be exactly the same.

And since the leader of the Snow Wind Guard has been dispatched, according to the normal logic situation, the deputy commander must stay in the tribe or command the other members of the Snow Wind Guard. It can be seen that this person who speaks must be the third person in the entire Snow Wind Guard, at least his strength can definitely overwhelm other companions, otherwise the other Snow Wind Guards will not just stand there. Behind.

"Venia Pofeng is no longer a member of the Pofeng tribe." Before Saloqi could answer this person, Sean had already spoken first, "She is on the same line as me now."

Sean's words actually played a little game with words.

Only Saloche, Cecilia and others can hear it, and the cute Vinia really did not hear the meaning of Sean's subtext. At least in her opinion, there is really no difference between the collaborator and the same front. It means the same thing.

"Who are you again?" The Snow Wind Guard, who should be the third person in the Snow Wind Guard, turned his head to look at Xiao En, and shouted in a bad tone.

As a highland jingling, his * se naturally has a kind of arrogance unique to the jingling clan, not to mention that he can become the third person in the Snow Wind Guard, and his strength is naturally guaranteed. Coupled with the disagreement between the Snow Wind Tribe and the Broken Wind Tribe, Sean's words at this time were obviously in favor of Winia. Naturally, these Snow Wind Guardians would not give Sean anything good.

But this time, Sean found something interesting.

At the moment the mission was completed, Sean actually got a prompt from the system's voice, clearly indicating that he had increased the reputation of Xuefeng tribe by 500 points. Although this prestige will not immediately change his relationship with Xuefeng tribe from neutral to friendly, the prestige system introduced in the game is an instant mechanism, which means that as long as the prestige value increases, it will be generated. A series of attitude changes.

In other words, five hundred reputation points are enough to prevent the Jingling of Xuefeng tribe from holding any dissatisfaction and hostility towards Sean.

But at this time, these Snow Wind Guards still had a strong hostility towards Sean, which made Sean feel interesting.

"Presumptuous!" Saloqi couldn't stand it anymore, and immediately shouted angrily.

Sean smiled slightly, and said nothing.

The snow wind guards were once again confused, why is their most respected princess, her Royal Highness, be so abnormal today, yelling them back again and again? This makes their brain circuits really can't keep up with the rhythm.

"If it weren't for the help of this adult, do you think I could really leave human territory safely?" Saloqi said in a deep voice, "It was the help of this adult that allowed me to live to this day. As far as I am concerned, he is my benefactor!... Winia, she has indeed left the Brofeng tribe and is now the man of this lord."

In this sentence, Saloqi also played a little game of words.

For the same line that Shaun had already said before, Saloqi's words would naturally not make Winia feel anything wrong, so she did not refute it. But for Winia, she knows her position, but for the Xuefeng tribe, this is not the case. After two hints, they all agreed that Winia is already under Sean's command.

Venia's power and terror, they all have a deep understanding of it, so they naturally have a little more respect for those who can subdue Vinia.

Soon, Sean could feel the change in the attitude of these people.

But Xiao En didn't say anything, he still stood there with a calm expression on his face, which made him look a bit unpredictable.

Before these Snow Wind guards came back to their senses, the awe-inspiring aura of Xuefanio's appearance made these people feel a panic. Because at this moment, Xuefanio did not deliberately conceal his aura, and the more powerful a person is, the more obvious the aura radiating from Xuefanio is, so it is almost from the carriage that Xuefanio gets out of the carriage. When they jumped down, the faces of these snow wind guards changed.

"This is Miss Xuefanio, who is also a follower of that adult." Saloqi said.

Snowfaneo was noncommittal about this statement. She just glanced around at random, confirmed that she didn't think it was dangerous or problematic, and then returned to the carriage. And the other person in the carriage, Cecilia, the one who most frightened Saloki, did not get out of the carriage, because this kind of thing seemed to her to be meaningless. There were Vinia and Xuefanio. The two showed their faces, just enough to support Sean.

And for the people in the wild, they generally don't have a good impression of magicians. After all, they believe in wizards and totems.

But no matter what, the respect for the strong is still a special feature of these fighting races, so Xiao En's position soon gained the respect of these Snow Wind Guards. After all, as far as they are concerned, only truly powerful people can conquer powerful people like Vinia and Xuefanio, even if the aura that Sean exudes at this moment is not even as good as the third character of their Snow Wind Guards, but the wild land People have always looked at the results and not the process.

So under the sign of Sean, Vinia put down the swords quite cooperatively, but her face was obviously still unsightly.

"Now you are no longer a member of the Pofeng tribe. On the contrary, you and the Pofeng tribe are still enemies, so the people of the Xuefeng tribe are no longer your enemies." Sean said softly, and at the same time stretched out his hand and patted Vinya's Shoulder, "I know you may not be able to put it down completely now, but I hope that when you really face the enemies of the Pofeng tribe, you will not ruin your life because of your weakness."

"I..." Vinya was taken aback, and she didn't know how to answer, because Sean had indeed seen through her careful thoughts.

"When you raised the double swords in your hands to the elder that night, you should understand that you have no retreat." Xiao En whispered, his voice was soft, but with a firmness. Unshakable belief, "Whether you can kill that elder or not, you are already a traitor in the Brofeng Tribe.... I will not ask you to do anything, as I said before, we are collaborators. Relationship, so as long as you are willing to stand on the same front with me, then I will put you under my protection. If one day you feel that you can't continue to cooperate with me, then you can leave at any time. I will never Will embarrass you."

Vinya nodded, but said nothing.

In other words, she has a lot to say, but when she comes to her mouth, she doesn't know how to say it. The feeling that Sean gave her completely subverted the cognition she had established over the past few decades, because the situation in the human world is completely different from that of the wild land, and the knowledge she has learned about the human world from books, It looks completely different from what she has learned now.

Although she dare not say that all human beings are simple, but Sean really feels simple and honest.

"From the moment you got on the carriage, we have treated you as a companion." Xiao En smiled slightly, then turned around and started walking towards the carriage, "In my case, companion means you can use your own You can reveal your back to the other party without worrying about any betrayal or injury from behind."

Vinya looked at Sean's back, a strange light in his eyes lit up.

Soon, this huge carriage with a unique shape was back on the road under the * of the Snow Wind Guard, heading for their stronghold on the vanilla plain. Originally, the members of the Snow Wind Guard were ready to set off tonight, but because of the appearance of Saloqi Xuefeng, it was obvious that they could not set off tonight, but even if the plan was disrupted, it would be bad for them. It doesn't matter anymore. Is there anything more happier than the safe return of their princess?

When everyone arrived at the temporary stronghold built by the Snow Wind Guard, Xiao En and others finally knew why this guard could be hidden here for so long without being discovered by the patrol guard of the Principality of Ryan. These guys actually arranged their stronghold underground directly, and they are also very good at fighting in the mountains. Faced with such a quasi-level five army that can obtain special terrain advantages in the vanilla plain, they are sent by the Principality of Lane to the vanilla plain. It is simply impossible for the stationed troops to discover the troops under their noses.

However, at this time, there is such a carriage parked near here, so if there is a patrol guard coming over, it will definitely be found.

Therefore, it is natural that someone needs to stay outside and wait, pretending to be the illusion of sleeping here.

And in charge of this work, it is naturally Xuefanio and Cecilia, and Sean entered this underground stronghold with Rina.

The people of Xuefeng tribe were very clever and did not dig at the surface level. Instead, they first dug a straight road for two people to fall down at the same time. After this road fell straight for 30 meters, it suddenly became bright, revealing a five-meter-diameter platform. Perhaps these jing spirits still carry the pathological gene of perfection in their blood, so there are actually four braziers around this platform, which not only illuminates the surrounding situation, but also has a warm feeling.

But that's not a big deal. What makes Sean feel incomprehensible is that thirteen levels of steps have been polished under the platform, extending all the way down. The foundation of the second level is about two meters lower than the platform. , But the radius has been expanded to 15 meters, which means that the entire underground stronghold has caves of more than 30 meters, and the height of the dome is even more than 5 meters.

It's just that this is far from everything, because around the entire cave, four more opening passages for three people have been excavated. Behind each passage is a small cave about ten meters square and four meters high. According to these snow wind guards, these small holes are used by them to store food, so Sean saw that these four small caves have adopted the unique anti-chao and anti-insect methods of the wild land to make the place very clean. tidy.

This is not like a temporary stronghold at all, it is almost like a supply base.

And what makes Shaun even more incomprehensible is that this underground stronghold is actually connected to the wind system, and you can even see the depictions of these highland jinglings on the surrounding rocks when they are idle, despite these. The painting looks very artistic, but... In such a temporary stronghold, Shaun thought about this kind of carving art. Don't these fighting races know what crisis it is?

But looking back, when these guys returned to this stronghold, everyone's face was filled with this smile, Xiao En felt that there was probably nothing to say with this group of artistic combat freaks.

After a brief cheer and celebration, Sean took Rena to the only cave where there was no food stored.

It was just such a short process. Sean's hands were already a little red and hot, and the excessive high temperature made him seem a little uncomfortable, even if his physique was indeed extraordinary. However, the side effects produced by the boiling reaction will still produce extremely strong peripheral collateral effects, which are far from what ordinary people can bear. If a person is replaced, and without the magical blessings of Xuefanio, it has already been given to Rui. Na's chain reaction is hot.

Of course, the more important issue is that the more advanced blood vessels produce the boiling reaction, the more difficult the chain reaction will be.

"What's the way you said?" After Xiao En put Rina down, he asked in a deep voice.

Originally, in this action, he was here to relieve Rena from this sequelae. If that were not the case, he would have no interest in knowing the next actions of the Snow Wind tribe's princess and the location of this stronghold. In the previous situation, after getting those three proficiency points, Xiao En would choose to leave as soon as possible, because he still had a lot of things to do.

"Here." Saloqi said, and then took out a branch.

This is a branch about the size of a baby's arm. The purple-brown branch looks a bit ruined, with many wrinkles on it. At first glance, it almost seems to be a dead branch with no vitality. But in fact, on this branch, there are about seven very bright green leaves, and the veins of the leaves can be faintly seen exuding a certain life brilliance.

Although it looks very ordinary, when Sean stared carefully again, he could feel the powerful vitality emanating from it.

"This is... the branches and leaves of the tree of life?" Xiao En let out a soft whisper.

"It doesn't count." Saloqi shook her head slightly, "It can only be regarded as...the branches and leaves of the tree of vitality."

The tree of vitality has always been called the small tree of life. Perhaps in the dawn and dusk, the tree of vitality is nothing, but in the age of ashes, after the world tree inhabited by the ancient jing spirits withered and died, the tree of life and The tree of vitality has become a very important non-renewable resource for the Jing spirits. For the Jing spirit tribe, no matter which race they live in, if there is a tree of life in their place of residence, it can not only increase the fertility of their tribe, but also enhance the growth of this tribe.

This kind of growth does not mean the fertility of this tribe, but the potential of the children born in this tribe. Even the sap, twigs, etc. that are born through each growth of the tree of life can also be used to strengthen equipment. So if there is a jingling tribe with a tree of life, as long as the tribe develops steadily, it will eventually become a powerful tribe.

And the tree of vitality, as a small tree of life second only to the tree of life, although it does not have the magic of the tree of life that can improve the fertility of the entire tribe or provide materials for making powerful weapons, its branches and leaves can still heal many Injuries and dark illnesses. And although it cannot be directly used as a production material, it can be used as an auxiliary material to strengthen and improve the xing ability of the equipment.

The branches and leaves of the tree of vitality in Saloqi's hands consist of seven leaves, and each leaf can heal a non-fatal serious injury. According to Sean's estimate, this thing can be at least equivalent to a medium-effect or even a high-efficiency one. Gold-level magic weapon. Of course, it only has this value in the hands of human beings. If it is purchased from the wilderness, its price must be discounted.

This is the helplessness of the savage land.

Sean doesn't need to think about it, but Saloqi definitely intends to use this to pay tribute to the lord, hoping to negotiate a secret agreement with him this time. In this way, it can also explain why Xuefeng tribe attaches so much importance to this mission, and even dispatched so many Xuefeng soldiers and Xuefeng guards.

Saloci carefully picked off a small leaf and put it on Rena's forehead.

I saw this green leaf immediately burst out with a strong green brilliance. This brilliance is not dazzling, but it is very bright and powerful. It completely illuminates the entire cave, and even the brilliance overflows beyond the channel. For a moment, Xiao En heard the sound of rapid footsteps, and from the sound, he sensed that the six Snow Wind guards must have run together.

"His Royal Highness, this..." It was the third person who spoke.

When he saw Saloqi pluck a green leaf of the tree of vitality and place it on the center of Rina's eyebrows, his face instantly showed incredible se.

"Get out!" Saloqi did not answer, but gave a low voice, "You should know what I'm doing now."

Several snow wind guards showed different faces, but they still didn't say anything. The strict class system of the tribes in the Wild Lands gave them excellent obedience to the orders of their superiors. Therefore, after these people bowed to Saloqi, they withdrew from the small cave. But listening to their footsteps, Sean could probably tell that these people were not far away, just standing outside. .

"This bloodline inheritance is not easy." After a while, when the green light gradually dimmed, Saloqi let out a cry of surprise.

Shaun has been staring at Rena, fearing that there will be some accidents.

Although he had heard that Saloqi said that there was a way to suppress the blood of the riot, he did not expect that Saloqi's method was so simple and rude. How precious the branches and leaves of the Tree of Vitality are, Sean knows even better than anyone in this world. To put it simply, as long as he is not severely injured by the fatal xing, even if he has only one breath, he can recover half his life with the branches and leaves of the tree of vitality, at least all the dark diseases on his body can be repaired as a result.

So in the game, the branches and leaves of the tree of vitality were used as the magic weapon for the players to turn things around.

At this time, such a leaf has been used on Rina, but the bright red that Rina exudes has not diminished in the slightest. It is no wonder that Saloqi will be surprised.

Then, Sean saw Saloqi pluck off the second leaf and put it on Rena's eyebrows again.

I saw this branch and leaf quickly melt to the center of Rina's eyebrows faster than the first leaf, reflecting Rina's entire face with a bright and rich emerald green se. Similarly, the emerald green se brilliance in the cave is prosperous again, but it does not overlap with the first green awn, on the contrary, it produces a sense of beauty that divides the hierarchy.

But this time, the end of the green light will disappear faster than the first time.

Sean knows that this is the so-called cooling cd.

In the game, the branches and leaves of the tree of vitality were used. Each player can only use it once in twelve game days. This is a bit like anti-drug xing. In this real world, of course, there will be no such cooling cd, but drug-resistant xing will inevitably exist, so the consumption of the second leaf is naturally faster than the first leaf.

It's just that, if you look closely, you can still see that the red brilliance on Rena's bare skin has dimmed a bit, and the heat that has come out has cooled a little.

Saluoqi's face showed a bit of joy, and then he used the third leaf without hesitation.

The consumption speed of the third leaf is much faster than that of the second leaf, but this time the heat radiating from Rina's body has also been reduced more significantly.

So Saloqi no longer hesitated, and took off and used the fourth and fifth leaves one after another. Until the sixth leaf, Rena's skin finally returned to normal, and the pores were no longer white. The mist sprayed out, and even the sound of the heartbeat returned to calm, all of which seemed to be completely undoubted from normal people. However, if there is any difference, it is probably that the aura exuding from Rina at this moment is not like the aura of humans at all, but rather like the aura of a wild beast, filled with a fierce and violent aura. Madness.

Just being in the envelope of this breath, Xiao En felt a burst of heartburn and flustered, and the whole person seemed to become a little manic.

At this moment, Saloqi only hesitated for a moment, and then did not hesitate to pluck the last leaf of the tree of vitality and put it on the center of Rina's eyebrow.

In an instant, there was the illusion of a moment of static in the entire cave.

Then in the next second, all the terrifying and terrifying auras seemed to collapse, and quickly shrank back into Rina's body. Everything was silent, as if there was no such terrifying and tragic aura from the beginning.

At this point, Saloqi and Sean collapsed like prostration. After looking at each other, there was a smile on their faces.

"It's really a powerful bloodline." Saloqi smiled and glanced at the branch of the already bare vitality tree in her hand. There was not much regret. "What kind of bloodline is so powerful and pure? What? It takes so many leaves of the vitality tree to calm down."

"If I say it is the blood of the ancient upper ranks, do you believe it?" Xiao En smiled.

Saloqi pondered for a while, and then nodded, and said, "I believe it.... I have already seen your peculiarities along the way, so even if you say that she is a descendant of God, I will believe it. of."

"She's not." Sean shook his head, and then silently added in his heart: Xuefanio is.

It's just that he didn't continue to struggle with this question, instead he said, "This gift, you are going to give to a certain high-ranking noble of Ryan? What are you going to do now?...Lost this gift..."

"We still have other gifts. Although they are not one-tenth of this great gift, I think they should be something that is very appetizing for you humans. At least I think those business travelers who enter the wild land are buying these. ." Saloqi smiled, "If you take these things as gifts, it should be considered decent enough."

Shaun did not answer Saloqi's words, but was silent for a moment before speaking, "I think, you should guess my identity?"

The smile on Saloqi's face gradually disappeared, and she nodded after a while without speaking.

Sean wanted to come, too. He had already said his name when he surrendered to Vinia. If Saloqi is really interested, she should have heard of her own deeds for more than half a year, and with her intelligence, she can easily determine whether Sean's identity is true or false, so Sean feels there is no need to continue talking nonsense with Saloqi at this time.

Especially when the opponent did not hesitate to use the branches and leaves of the Seven Leaf Vitality Tree.

Of course, even if the other party was gambling after seeing through his identity, Sean had to admit that Saloki Xuefeng was right.

"If you believe me, then you can return now." Sean said calmly, "When you pass through the Void Neck, you can go to Neil and William and tell them about your conditions. I believe they know how. Judged."

Chapter 27: .Humanoid Dragon Rina

Rena felt a peculiar tingling and itching in her body, which made her body very uncomfortable and uncomfortable.

It's just that these feelings come from Rina's body, and they are all emanating from the bones and internal organs, so even if it is abnormally uncomfortable, there is no way to solve it.

These strong overreactions make Rina's Jing God state also start to become active.

A strange jing * wave, soon radiated from Rina's body.

When he felt this Jing God fluctuate, Xiao En, who was sleeping next to him, was immediately awakened and looked at Rina for the first time. At this moment, Sean could clearly feel that the aura on Rena's body gradually became more dignified and strong, which is very similar to the coercive aura he felt when he first played a world-class boss in the game-of course, It's not that strong, but it feels very similar to Sean.

Sean knew that Rena had completely merged with the blood of the ancient dragon.

And this situation is also very similar to Cecilia's vision when she awakens her bloodline, but it's not as strong and shocking as Cecilia. After all, the bloodline obtained by Rena is inherited from the outside world, not the awakening of her own bloodline, so there are still some differences after all. But if you think that Rina's blood is not strong in this way, then Sean believes Rina will definitely surprise anyone who underestimates her.

In the blood of the people, the blood of the gods ranks first, which refers to the blood of the descendants of the gods.

Although the purity of Xuefanio's blood is not strong enough, her blood is also a genuine blood of God. Basically, most of the saints and daughters of the major churches are people who have the blood of God, but the purity of the blood is just a matter of how much purity of the blood is. In this regard, although the purity of the blood of Shangxuefanio is not high, it is still the same. It is taller than most of the so-called saint sons and saints, after all, she can bear the surrender without harming herself, which is enough to make up for almost all defects.

In the blood of God, among the people that Sean has seen so far, only Hitley can compare with Xuefanio.

Of course, his "what you see" standard is judged by the game, in this world he has only seen two saints so far.

The bloodline of Cecilia is the phoenix of the holy beast species.

This is the third-ranked Saint Beast bloodline among the bloodlines of the people.

Only speaking of the purity of the rich bloodline, Cecilia is undoubtedly above Xuefanio, but when it comes to ranking, the holy beast is only ranked third after all. However, this ranking method is only the ranking made by the players in the game based on the game experience. In this real world, the bloodline experts are discussing whether the bloodline is pure, whether it is rich enough, and so on.

This statement is indeed very tenable to some extent.

Because Cecilia did activate the bloodline power, on the contrary, Xuefanio, who has the number one bloodline of the people, did not activate the bloodline power.

It's just that, when it comes to potential achievement, for the time being, Xuefanio is still stronger than Cecilia.

But now, maybe another Rina should be added.

The bloodline inherited through external means is usually difficult to activate the bloodline power, so that the bloodline is in the stage of manifestation. This is also one of the important reasons why those scholars believe that the blood inherited from the outside world is not pure enough. Even if it is the bloodline experiment secretly conducted by the Millennium Covenant Empire, they are all experiments that have stopped at the bronze bloodline and have not moved to a higher bloodline. The blood of the experiment is attempted.

Of course, the main reason is that there are not so many advanced bloodlines for them to experiment, and another reason is that the higher the bloodlines, the more difficult it is to activate them through external inheritance methods. For someone as strong as Rina, at the moment when the * reaction broke out, if it weren't for Xuefanio, she would die in the end, let alone whether other strong people could accept this. Way of inheritance.

Of course, this happens to Rina, which is also due to the fact that the inheritance bloodline level she has obtained is too high.

The blood of the ancient dragon.

Xiao En did not know what the meaning of the ancient dragon represented, but he did know that all the dragon bloodlines could be classified as ancient dragon bloodlines. The ancient dragon bloodline ranks second among the people's bloodlines, and it is a higher level of powerful bloodline than Cecilia's Saint Beast bloodline.

Even if the method of inheriting blood from the outside would damage the power of the blood itself, which would ultimately lead to the inability to fully exert the power of the blood, the power of the ancient dragon blood is still manifested in Rina's body.

Shaun doesn't need to use the real eye to observe, he knows what Rena's first bloodline power is now.

Long Wei.

This is a very rare, powerful and practical ability.

The specific effect of Longwei is to weaken the xing value of all hostile creatures in the range by more than 50%.

Imagine a person like Sean who completely relies on speed for food, if he is directly weakened by 50% of his agility in battle, then he can still rely on his agility that is beyond the golden realm to deal with him. Opponent? The result is definitely to be shot to death by those golden powerhouses in minutes, without even struggling. Even if the sanctuary is strong, facing this sudden weakening of strength, it will definitely cause a moment or more of panic, and in the confrontation of higher-level strong, sometimes such a moment of panic will often lead to A terrible result.

But the only regret is that Longwei belongs to Jing God's damage judgment.

In other words, if you pass the protection of magic or divine art like Jing God protection in advance, or if your will is strong enough to go against the sky, you can weaken or even completely ignore the influence of Longwei.

But in any case, before no one specifically studies and targets Rina, Rina's hole card is enough to make her compete with the quasi-sanctuary powerhouse, and even face the powerhouse of the lower sanctuary, Rina. It does not necessarily become meat on the cutting board.

The huge and terrifying Jing Shen's might suddenly condensed.

Even if it was Sean, there was a sudden heart palpitation and panic at this time. He knew that his xing value must at least be cut in half at this time. And soon, he even heard a messy sound from this underground stronghold. I think it must be the sound of the weaker Xuefeng soldiers falling to the ground because of fear, but even those Xuefeng guards, I'm afraid It won't last long.

Perhaps Rina's Longwei is not very complete, or it may be limited by Rina's own strength, so in this thirty meters deep underground, the effect of Longwei did not affect the two people on the ground.

Under the pressure of this terrifying aura, many people immediately lost their perception of the flow of time.

I don't know how long it took, this terrifying aura of coercion finally condensed, and then completely disappeared.

And Rina, also opening her eyes at this time, immediately turned over and jumped up, assuming a fighting posture. And that terrible pressure instantly radiated out again, and Sean was directly forced to retreat to the corner of this small cave. He even felt a sweet smell in his throat, that was the qi in his body. The blood rushed upwards, although it was not an internal injury, it would be very uncomfortable if the blood was not vomited out.

So Sean vomited a mouthful of blood without pretending.

Because of this sound and movement, Rena also saw the surrounding situation clearly at this time, and instantly understood her environment: that surprise encounter was over.

Before losing consciousness completely, Rina was fighting against the strong sent by the Marquis of Floris, because some unexpected circumstances caused her to run away, and then she completely lost consciousness. Therefore, Rena naturally didn't know what happened next, so she would react as soon as she woke up and put on a fighting posture. This was purely a subconscious instinctive reaction.

As for Long Wei, she was already surprised by the power of its effects when she was unconscious. When Rina woke up, she was in a fighting state at the moment, because she was unfamiliar with her own abilities, so this second Long Wei burst out. In fact, it is a subconscious state of full power, and the result is naturally conceivable. If it weren't for the bruise that Sean suddenly vomited, it would take a while for Rina to fully adapt to the surrounding environment and regain consciousness clearly. That situation would be even more troublesome.

"Lord Lord!"

After regaining consciousness and recognizing the situation, she saw Sean by her side. If Rina said she was not touched, it must be false. At this time, seeing that she hurt Sean, Rina's heart became very serious. If you blame yourself, you must move forward with a look of eagerness. With her nervous appearance, she lost the critical thought of fighting before, so the dragon power naturally disappeared.

It's just that Rina obviously didn't expect it. At this time, she is no longer the same as the previous ri. The awakening of blood power will inevitably be accompanied by the increase and bonus of various physical abilities, especially the ancient dragon species ranked second in the blood of the people. , This increase effect will naturally be more obvious and powerful.

So Rina took an urgent step. Her right foot trampled the ground directly, and the ground directly covered her calf, as if Rina was not stepping on the ground as hard as granite at this time, but just A puddle is average.

In this situation, the gods on the faces of the few people who ran in from the cave suddenly changed.

Especially those Snow Wind Guards.

They excavated this underground stronghold, and they even used some special methods to get such a place, so no one knows better than them how hard the stone layer in this stronghold is. But at this moment, watching a woman who is not as fit as theirs actually just stepped on the hard ground with just one foot, these fighting races from the wild land naturally felt a tingling scalp.

Several of them even looked back at Vigna.

Then there was a comparison in mind: Although Vigna did play that they couldn't find North, but compared with the woman in front of them, they would rather go to the trouble of Vigna.

"Your body has just received a transformation, and all abilities should have been greatly increased, so you should re-feel and control your body." Sean had already anticipated a possible situation, but when he really saw Rina stepping on the ground with one foot, his heart was also a little surprised, because the Rina in front of him was simply a humanoid dragon.

Perhaps no one can compare her with her in the same realm.

Hearing what Shaun said, Rena nodded in response, and then stepped forward with her left leg.

Although Rina was already very cautious and careful this time, she first raised her left foot carefully, and then only touched the toes lightly to the ground. As a result, the position where Rina's toes fell was instantly generated. A half-inch diameter crack.

The surprise on the faces of the Snow Wind guards was even greater.

Rena swallowed, then raised her head to look at Sean, who gave an encouraging smile.

So Rina gently dropped her heel.

The sound of "Ka La" is louder.

A crack in the web of nearly half a foot appeared on Rina's left foot.

"This....."

"I have no dizziness..."

There was a slight whisper among the Snow Wind Guards. But for the people present, even Sean could hear clearly, not to mention Rina, who is now so powerful. Her face was reddened again, but she still took a deep breath. After taking a breath, he tilted his center of gravity to the left.

"Boom."

The sound is not very strong, it can even be said to be very slight, but the result is once again extremely shocking.

Rina still had the feeling of stepping on the air in her heart, because the hard ground directly covered her left foot. It's just that this time it wasn't as exaggerated as it was the first time. The ground just spread over Rina's ankle to the depth of half of the calf.

The horrified sound of the snow wind guard swallowing saliva echoed in the small cave.

And Rina, she was embarrassed and shy.

Xiao En smiled, and then encouraged: "The progress is good, this time is much better than the first time, and you should be able to control it after a few more exercises." At this point, Xiao En turned his head and looked at the Snow Wind Guards. , Smiled and said: "Okay, there is nothing to see. When your strength is improved, won't you also have this kind of loss of power judgment and control, so it's all gone."

Even though Sean said so, the Snow Wind guards did not think so after listening.

When their realm rises to gain more powerful power, they will indeed lose control and judgment of their power for a while, and they will definitely need to re-adapt to the changes brought about by the new realm. But they can't be like Rena, smashing the granite ground directly with one foot, which obviously has surpassed their understanding of the level of power, at least they think that even those sanctuary powerhouses in the tribe, There will be no such situation.

Therefore, these Snow Wind Guards are even more curious about the origin of Rina's identity.

Similarly, they are naturally also very curious about Sean, who can have powerful followers like Rena and Xuefanio, and can conquer a terrifying person like Vinia. Although neither Sean nor Saloki, who had been confirmed from Sean, said nothing to these Snow Wind Guards, the main reason was that it was unnecessary, nothing more.

After confirming Rena's situation, Sean only left Vinia to accompany Rena here, and at the same time, after explaining that Rena could grasp and adapt to the new power as soon as possible, he went to discuss some things with Saloqi. Although Saloqi will go to the Void Nation to negotiate with Neil, William, and Hela for the main matters in the following, but on some issues that may involve the overall strategic situation of Shaun in the future, it will still be left to Shaw. Enlai checks and handles.

After discussing these things, Sean did not stay in this underground stronghold any longer, but returned to the ground.

Only Rena is left here to continue to explore and regain control of her body.

After leaving the underground stronghold, it happened to be midnight. Xiao En knew that he had stayed in this underground stronghold for one more day. Fortunately, no soldiers on patrol passed by on this day, so Xuefanio and Cecilia still had a very easy time. Instead, Marshmallow and Gollum had a lot of fun. Yes, but at least Marshmallow caught a beast and was roasted directly by Xuefanio.

As for Black Stone, he looked ill, probably still worried about Rena's situation.

So when Sean appeared, Blackstone immediately stood up from the prone position, and quickly moved closer to Sean.

Listening to the sound of Black Rock's rumbling walking, Sean couldn't help but think of Rena. This voice was exactly the same as Rena when he was just waking up. This strengthened Rena's image of a humanoid dragon in Sean's heart.

"How's it going?" When she saw Sean, Cecilia immediately asked questions, and Xuefanio also showed her inquiries.

"I'm awake, but..." Sean chuckled lightly, then sat next to Cecilia, tearing off the legs of this beast, and taking a bite.

"But what, don't sell it!" Cecilia reached out and patted the back of Sean's hand, exclaiming a little angrily.

"Rina probably needs to adjust to her new body again."

"What do you mean?" Xuefanio was taken aback for a moment, but did not react.

So, Sean talked to Cecilia and Xuefanio about the situation after Rena was awakened, and the two immediately laughed.

It was a sincere smile from the heart. It was to rejoice that Rina was finally safe, and sincerely happy that Rina's strength was enhanced. Even Black Stone relaxed completely at once, no longer looking sick, but shaking his dragon's tail excitedly.

In the next few days, Rena did not show up either, although she regained control of the body within an hour after waking up, at least she would not reappear when she first awoke, but what she needs to learn. There are many more, such as the control of Longwei, the changes of the body during the battle, the new skills of force and many other aspects, so she has not returned to the ground.

And Sean, Cecilia, and Xuefanio also have their own practice methods.

Especially for Sean, he directly put all three proficiency points into his agility, and after trying the soul-suppressing sword trick again, Sean is very concerned that he can learn skills through his own abilities without consuming proficiency points. Also has a greater certainty. And in this way, Sean is of course not satisfied with the ability to calm the soul. He has even begun to play up the idea of the Secret Art of the Snow Wind Tribe and the Break Wind Tribe. There are two of Saloki and Venya, and Sean is very Quickly find out some of the secrets of these two tribes.

Like the secret technique of Xuefeng tribe: Xuefeng's Death.

This secret technique is a control technique for using vindictive energy, but his main judgment is xing and will.

In this regard, Sean is somewhat powerless, because as the main attack type fighter class, Sean's will is not high, but in this process of exploration, he quickly learned a lot about fighting spirit skills. The use and control of.

The secret technique of the broken wind tribe: the dance of broken wind.

Although this secret technique also involves fighting qi, it does not focus on fighting qi, but with speed and strength as the core criteria. Its essence is a bit like the explosive technique of Cun Jin. Through the "communication" between Cecilia and Vinia, Sean quickly confirmed that with his current strength and agility, it is entirely possible to learn the secret technique of Dance of Breaking Wind, but Sean estimates the most It can only achieve the strength of the four bodies, and cannot achieve the strength of the sixteen bodies like Winia.

Four-body power and sixteen-body power are professional terms for the dance of breaking wind, which means superimposing four times the power and sixteen times the power.

Like Winia, the full blow of sixteen times the power is equivalent to the full blow of the peak power of the lower sanctuary. Of course, this is just a superposition of power, and it does not mean that Vinia can use the strength of the lower Sanctuary pinnacle powerhouse, there is still a big difference between the two. Moreover, after performing the Dance of Breaking Wind, it will cause a great load on the body, and it will not be able to perform it again for a certain period of time, otherwise it will cause permanent damage to the body.

And if the dance of breaking wind is performed continuously in a short period of time, it may even cause the disintegration of the body.

After learning about these things that need attention, Sean temporarily gave up the practice of Snow Wind and Soul Suppression, and began to devote himself to the practice of Breaking Wind Dance. For Sean, he doesn't really need to master this secret technique or the power of thirty-two bodies. He just wants to learn this secret technique to use as a hole card, because even if it's just the power of two bodies. The effect was enough to allow him to directly kill a strong man who was at the top of the golden pinnacle by surprise.

This kind of kill refers to the situation of one person alone, not the support of Guru.

But even so, facing the sanctuary strong, it is still impossible to defeat, even if the dance of Vinia has reached the state of sixteen body strength, but wants to fight against the lower sanctuary strong, That would only work when the lower sanctuary was in a more careless manner or without the ability to use the rules of the domain. Otherwise, there is really no one on Sean's current side that can compete with the sanctuary powerhouse.

Fortunately, this time going to King Ryan to participate in the celebration and awarding ceremony, Shaun's enemies will certainly not have a sanctuary-level powerhouse.

So with the support of powerful combat powers such as Vinia, Xuefanio, Cecilia, and the humanoid dragon Rina, Sean will surely give the so-called "Sene nobles" a big surprise in the imperial capital.

Chapter 28: .Task chain

For a week, Sean and others stayed on the vanilla plain.

They did not choose to continue their journey to the Royal Capital of Ryan, because there was still some time before the beginning of the national celebration, so they all spent their time on various training. In fact, the easiest one is Rina, because what she needs to train is to control her strength, and she doesn't need training in other areas. With her current strength value and strong hardness, even if she doesn't have rich combat experience. It didn't matter, because as long as she was shot with all her strength, she would have to be disabled if she didn't die.

If the only thing that needs to consume more attention is to control and use Longwei.

If there is no way to skillfully control and use this bloodline power, then Rina's strength increase is actually relatively limited.

As for Cecilia and Xuefanio, they are not too slow in their progress.

Like Cecilia, her knowledge of magic is basically recorded in the heavy book left to her by her mother. She only needs to delve into the knowledge inside. For a magician, it is actually a very happy thing to be able to delve into the content and knowledge that he is interested in, so of course Cecilia can't be tired, plus her blood is the purest And full-bodied, so even if she doesn't do anything, her magic will continue to grow.

Similarly, Xuefanio grew up very much like Cecilia.

As Xuefanio with the blood of gods, the only thing she needs to do every day is to chat with Eswinter, and then obtain all kinds of knowledge and abilities from the  who has been called "the old woman" by her. . As the only descendant of the gods, Xuefanio has a lot of  xing perfusion every day to help her transform her body and stabilize her realm, so she basically does not need to be too much like other warrior professionals or magicians. Tired.

And the hardest thing is actually Sean and Winia.

Both are warrior-like professionals, so if you want to improve your realm strength, you can only develop your body by constantly squeezing your own potential. Especially for some extreme behaviors, which can strengthen one's own strength faster, of course, the same will also pay some price. But if you can get proper adjustments and recuperation, these costs are actually negligible.

But like Sean and Winia, they naturally know how to adjust and recuperate their bodies, so they can naturally play with extreme training methods.

It's a pity that after a week, Sean still failed to learn the dance of breaking the wind.

The secret technique of Dance of Breaking Wind, the criterion for judging whether it is mastered is whether the power of the two bodies can be superimposed, that is, a phantom appears.

In just one week, although Sean has not been able to successfully display a force to superimpose power, he can clearly feel a surge of power in his body, although the bonus effect in actual combat is not obvious. , But this is indeed a hope for Sean.

And Winia, seeing that Sean had already reached the threshold of the Dance of Breaking Wind in just a week, her eyes were indeed a bit surprised. Because even those who are called geniuses in the Pofeng tribe, it is impossible for them to find the threshold of the dance of the wind within a week. Their current fastest record is to reach this threshold within half a month.

Even if it was Winia herself, she touched the threshold within ten days at most.

However, touching the threshold does not mean that you can really master the secret technique of Dance of Breaking Wind, otherwise it will not be that there are so many people in the entire Breaking Wind tribe and only a few of them can master this secret technique. Many people in the Pofeng tribe, their poor life ended up in the state of Sean, so although Venya was surprised and surprised, but did not feel how shocked to the heavens and people, anyway, to her. She sees a lot of situations like this.

For a whole week of , although Xiao En and others did not say how big a change was, there was still some progress in strength.

However, in the process, Xiao En and others encountered something that made him very unhappy.

That is, the garrison directly responsible to the royal family on the vanilla plain discovered their existence.

Originally, this incident was not considered a major event, anyway, there was no direct damage to the interests of both parties, after all, there was nothing valuable around Sean's current location. In this vanilla plain, several places of real value are heavily guarded. Although there are many poachers, there are still a few who can succeed. In fact, the patrols set up here are mainly to prevent safety.

However, due to the recent deregulation of the Beifeng Leader, there have been a lot more thieves and bandits, but on the contrary, there have been a lot fewer poachers.

Logically speaking, if Sean and others are not close to the important area of Vanilla Plain, and can prove that they are not bandits, then patrol soldiers will usually not embarrass Sean and others. But I don't know if it should be said that Sean and others' luck has been exhausted. When this thirty-something patrol team saw Sean and others, they directly insisted that they would bring them all back. base.

This naturally makes Sean feel extremely dissatisfied.

However, seeing the fanatic appearance of these patrol guards, Sean knew what kind of ideas these soldiers were making.

For such a person, Sean did not reveal his identity, because his identity and title have not yet been truly and thoroughly recognized. For these soldiers who directly take orders from the royal family, a baron is simply not worthy of them. How in awe. So Sean took another solution, which was * and merciless cruelty.

In the whole battle, only Sean took the shot.

Although he did not kill all these soldiers, in essence, it was no different from killing them, because Sean simply interrupted all the soldiers' hands and feet. It would be impossible for the priests of the Lifeless Church to make a complete recovery from injuries like this. But will the Ryan Army Department invite the priests of the Life Church for these soldiers?

The answer can be imagined.

After punishing these people a little bit, Xiao En also decided to set off again to the royal capital. The time he wasted here has been long enough. So after throwing those hapless soldiers far enough to ensure that they would not find the secret strongholds that the Snow Wind tribe had dug here, Sean went back underground again, and he wanted to get it from Saloqi again. A task.

Time-limited tasks are usually the first link in a task chain. Only after this task is completed, subsequent tasks will appear.

Sean completed this time-limited mission, but did not receive the next mission, which made Shaun feel very curious. Of course, he does not rule out whether there will be a phenomenon that is completely different from the game situation. After all, Sean has now increasingly felt the real world and the game world are completely different.

"We are going to leave." After Xiao En entered this underground stronghold, he saw that the Snow Wind Guards were carrying out some transportation work. They even used the tools in their hands to carry out some storage work. Xiao En knew that they did not intend to waste it. This stronghold.

A wild tribal stronghold located in the deep belly of the Kingdom of Lane?

Shaun raised his brow slightly.

But he didn't say anything about it.

"We are also planning to leave." Saloqi saw Sean's slightly raised brows and smiled, "This stronghold, we really do not intend to give up, but don't get me wrong. For us Jingling, this stronghold is actually It's just like a work of art. It's a shame to be ruined in this way, so we decided to seal it up.... Of course, if there is a chance in the future, it might be used again."

Although Saloqi had an explanation for this matter, after she said this, it was the same as she hadn't said, there was no clear answer at all.

But Sean doesn't care. Anyway, the only thing that will have a headache in the future will be the garrison of the Kingdom of Lynn or the Northern Wind, and it will be useless to have a dime with him. He thought about it carefully, and found that he really didn't seem to know how to open his mouth and imply that Saloqi had another mission next, so after a short silence, Sean simply asked if Saloqi was There is nothing else I want to do.

In response to Sean's direct question, Saloqi was stunned for a moment, and then laughed: "You really are not easy."

Shaun shrugged, his face was noncommittal.

Sometimes, he thinks that the straightforward approach and straightforward approach is indeed quite good.

"There is indeed one more thing." Saloqi nodded, her face became a little serious, "I actually brought so many people here, besides wanting to get on the line with Ryan's nobles, there is another purpose to From the tree of life."

"The tree of life?" Sean's face changed slightly.

"It's not a real tree of life, but a broken branch of the tree of life." Saloqi said again, "This time the Principality of Ryan is about to be upgraded to a kingdom, so there will be a grand national celebration. I heard about the trade unions. People are ready to take this opportunity to hold an underground auction in King Ryan. At present, it is certain that a fragment of the tree of life will be put into this auction."

"If this is the case, then you may be difficult to bid." Sean thought for a while, and then said in a deep voice, "There are too many stupid and fast speeds on the side of the capital, and whether it is a snag or not. , As long as the three words'tree of life' are involved, those nobles will be like crazy dogs."

Salokie glanced at Sean thoughtfully, as if she was a little surprised that Sean knew the meaning of "the broken branch of the tree of life": "I know."

"Then you still want to go?"

"Because I never thought about bidding from the beginning."

Hearing this, Sean was stunned this time.

Chapter 29: . Saloqi's ambition [first more]

The tree of life has been one of the most important treasures of the Jing spirits since the Ashes.

When the ancient jing spirits were torn apart into many new races after the death of the world tree, the tree of life became the most important foundation of these jing spirits. Basically, in the Jing Spirit Race area of the North Continent and the West Continent, each tribe is built around a tree of life. When the tree of life dies, it means that the tribe is basically going to decline and perish.

Because the existence of the tree of life for the Jingling tribe is no longer as simple as providing some materials that can be used to strengthen equipment or make magicweave equipment, the strength of a tree of life directly determines the surrounding tree of life. And whether the existing tribes can grow and prosper. The more vigorous and powerful the tree of life, the more life holy liquid that can be born every month, and the jingling that takes this life holy liquid will increase the success rate of pregnancy and childbirth. This is the Jingling tribe. The key to being strong.

It can be said that if a jingling tribe owns a tree of life and can ensure the growth of this tree of life, then the prosperity of the tribe means that it can be treated.

The premise is that this tribe and its tree of life will not die prematurely.

So the Jingling tribe's desire for the tree of life is like the dragon and human beings for wealth.

Now, there are only three trees of life in the entire wilderness.

is guarded by the Eye of the Storm tribe, the Feather of the Storm tribe, and the Grey Crow tribe, and the other large and small jing spirit tribes that are basically distributed throughout the wild land all live around these three tribes. To put it simply, those jing spirit tribes, large and small, must be related to these three tribes if they want to trace their origins, just like the Pofeng tribe and the Xuefeng tribe are all made up of The Eye of the Storm tribe broke away.

However, the tribes who have escaped like this are naturally unable to take away the tree of life, they can only take away the seeds of a few trees of vitality. As for how many seeds of the tree of vitality they can finally take root and germinate, it depends on the ability of these detached tribes. If they don't have the ability, then it is very likely that they will not even be able to germinate even one tree, and they will only be dingy in the end. Return to the original tribe or be annexed by another tribe.

Of course, this is not absolute.

Just like the tree of life, if it grows to a certain stage, it can attack the world tree. If it succeeds, it can transform into the world tree. Since the tree of vitality is called the small tree of life, of course it can also be transformed into a tree of life, but this process is very complicated, and it can even be said that this is a very difficult behavior.

Just as there is only one World Tree in an area, the area of the Wild Land is divided by three trees of life, so these three trees of life will never allow a tree of vitality to grow enough to transform into The stage of the tree of life. Once the tree of life feels such a threat, it will communicate with the witch sacrifice of the tribe, and then the tribe will send troops to cut down the tree of vitality that is already strong enough, and then dig out its core as itself. Resources that evolve toward the World Tree.

The reason why the three jingling tribes in the wild land did not break out a large-scale war with each other is that the three trees of life have not grown to the point where they threaten each other or even swallow the heart of each other. However, in the foreseeable future, the war between the Eye of the Storm, Feather of the Storm, and the Three Jingling Tribes of Grey Crow is absolutely unavoidable, but this future may be a bit long for mankind.

Just Sean knows that there is a way to shorten this process.

That is the broken branch of the tree of life.

The so-called broken branches of the tree of life, as the name suggests, are the parts that are broken off from the tree of life.

As a tree of life with great efficacy, it is also part of the rules of this world, and the broken branches from it will naturally contain a small part of this rule. However, no matter how incomplete the rules are, it is still enough to restore them in the hands of some people, and even comprehend more perfect and higher rules from them, and thus embark on a stronger path.

But the broken branches of the tree of life are also an extremely rare treasure for the tree of vitality.

It can make a tree of vitality skip one or two growth stages and directly evolve into a tree of life, and the more perfect and powerful the tree of vitality grows through this method, the stage will be transformed into a tree of life. It will also climb higher.

Assuming that the tree of vitality wants to evolve into a tree of life, there are five stages in total. If the broken branches of the tree of life are used in the fourth stage, then the tree of vitality can at least enter the first stage when it transforms into the tree of life. The pinnacle of the second stage. And now as far as Shaun knows, the three trees of life in the wild land are only the beginning of the third stage, so an extra tree of life that can be compared with these three trees of life will definitely cause The collapse of the three jingling patterns in the entire wild land.

Based on Sean's knowledge of Saloqi, he didn't think Saloqi would do such a thing. After all, she is now competing with the broken wind tribe for the heir of the eye of the storm tribe.

Just a little thought, Sean already knew what Saloqi wanted to do.

She wanted to secure her position by using the broken branches of the tree of life, so as to take the position of the chief of the eye of the storm. And with the broken branches of the tree of life, she can even make the tree of life of the eye of the storm directly cross the entire third stage and enter the fourth stage, so that the tree of life of the eye of the storm will surpass the other two tribes. A big stage.

In this case, as long as the eye of the storm is not too arrogant, and let the tree of life cooperate to suppress the breath a little, and dormant so quietly for more than ten or twenty years, when the other two tribes find that the situation is not good, they will definitely not It is the opponent of the Eye of the Storm tribe. At that time, as long as you accumulate a sigh of relief to these two tribes, I believe that the tree of life of these two tribes will be cut down, and the tree core will even become a tonic for the tree of life of the Eye of the Storm tribe.

Swallowing the cores of two Tier 3 Life Trees, with the power of the Eye of the Storm Tree of Life, it will grow into a life tree at the top of Tier 4, which is only one step away from Tier 5. Afterwards, as long as the wilds do not die, this tree of life may really grow carefree on this land where there is no opponent, until it finally evolves into a world tree.

If this is the case, then this is probably the first world tree that has reappeared since the twilight period. At that time, let alone a barren land, the entire Southern Continent will be included in the brilliance of this world tree, so that even the Eye of the Storm tribe will become a tribe that unifies all jing spirits in the entire Southern Continent.

The ambition of the Princess Saloki is so huge!

She is not only satisfied with the position of the chief of the eye of the storm, nor is she satisfied with the unification of all the jingling tribes in the entire wilderness, what she wants is the obedience of all the jingling tribes in the entire southern continent! And Xiao En is sure that if this female Jing Ling has really come to this point, then her next goal will be all Jing Ling races on the surface, and it may even be to reproduce the glory of the previous Rijing Ling imperial court.

Such a huge project may be a grand goal for mankind that requires the joint efforts of several generations or even more than a dozen generations.

But for Jingling people, longevity is their greatest advantage.

So Saloqi has enough patience and time to plan, improve, and implement this entire plan.

"Your ambition is really terrible." Sean looked at Saloche, and then shook his head slightly, "So looking for secret transactions between human nobles is just a cover, and its real purpose is to let your tribe own More powerful equipment can be thrown into this civil war."

"You only guessed half of it." Saloqi was calm and did not deny Sean's guess, "The correct way of understanding should be both.... I do need these equipment made by your humans. Arming the people of my tribe, and this is not only used in the civil wars of other Jingling tribes in the Holy Land, but also for the purpose of resisting other invaders."

"But you said that you never thought about buying this truncated branch through auction..."

"Yes." Saloqi nodded, "The way I first thought about it was actually stealing.... In your human terms, I have an internal response in this trade caravan, and he can provide it to me. The actual storage location of the truncated branches, and I am sure I can steal them out."

"But have you ever thought about it, this is probably a trap." Xiao En frowned slightly, he didn't know why he wanted to say this to Saloqi.

"Of course." Saloqi nodded naturally, "The regular secret trade between the fellows of the Chamber of Commerce and the tribes of our holy land has been unilaterally suspended. Obviously they have discovered that our growth rate is far beyond their imagination, so They naturally hope that we ourselves will be able to cause internal chaos.... In fact, when I knew that such a fragment would appear, I knew it was a yin plot, but what about it? In your human terms, This is a double-edged sword, who can be sure that it is not those of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance who are playing with fire?"

Listening to Saloqi's words, Sean felt that the female Jing Ling was really a terrible person.

If the ranking of the ten generals in the mainland is not just to restrict humans, Xiao En believes that there will definitely be a place for Saloqi Xuefeng on the list, because this is a person who is just like Hela who is in the layout. It can even be said that because of the longevity advantage of the race, she has more time and jing power to design and check all the details and loopholes in the entire layout, so as to achieve true perfection.

If the guys in the Chamber of Commerce knew that there was such a person in the jing spirit clan in the Wildlands who was good at layout and planning, I am afraid they would not give such a fragment to the Jing spirit in the Wildlands.

Because as the princess said.

The head and tail snake route plan formulated by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance was attacked and destroyed by him. The Chamber of Commerce Alliance was temporarily unable to fight against the joint army in the Wildlands, so naturally I wanted to use the broken branches of the Tree of Life as bait to make the entire Wildlands. The Jingling fell into civil strife, thereby weakening the combat power of the barren land. But for Saloqi, this is also an opportunity for her tribe to grow. As long as she makes good use of it, then the Chamber of Commerce Alliance will taste the taste of lifting a rock and hitting her in the foot.

But will the Chamber of Commerce allow such opportunities?

I am afraid that the moment when the broken branches of the tree of life are gone, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance will spread false news in the wild.

Thinking of this, Sean finally understood why Saloqi would say that they were going back.

"Perhaps, we can cooperate more deeply." Seeing Sean's sudden realization, Saloqi Xuefeng said again, "As long as Lord Sean can help me get the snag of the tree of life, then I can guarantee that all the tribes I can influence and command will be your most steadfast ally, your lord."

At the moment when Saloqi's words fell, Sean finally got the second link in the quest chain that he wanted to get before. It's just that Sean is definitely not so happy. Because if he had known this would be the case, he would definitely not come to look for Saloqi and ask about the second link of the quest chain.

Chapter 30: .Win-win [second more]

【Task: The Future of Wild Jingling】

【Task objective: Obtain the broken branch of the tree of life and give it to Saloqi Xuefeng】

【Task Reward: Wildland-Snow Wind Tribe reputation value + 50000; in the area controlled by Saloqi Xuefeng, the reputation value will receive the "Respect" modifier. 】

[Please note: You have started a task chain, and this task is the second link of the task chain. Once this task fails, a series of task chains generated by this task will be terminated. Special notice: This task involves world cause and effect, and all your actions in this task will lead to changes in the law of cause and effect.]

The previous task reward and other things were directly ignored by Sean.

Because the so-called rewards are not particularly lucrative.

But the last special jing report, but it has attracted the extreme attention of Sean. Because of all the tasks he received after coming to this world, he didn't have so many reminders, attentions and complaints. Even during the period when he was closer to Andrew, he didn't receive any complaints. But at this moment, he had received such a jingle report, so even if Xiao En Dang knew, this task might be more troublesome than he thought.

Of course, this trouble does not refer to the difficulty of completing the task.

In fact, the goal of the mission is to obtain the broken branches of the tree of life. So in other words, no matter if he is robbing, stealing, buying, or through other acts, as long as he can start with the broken branches of the tree of life and successfully deliver it to Saloqi Xuefeng, then this task Even if it is completed, he can get all the rewards he should get. For Sean, he has a way to start with the snags of the tree of life. After all, there is no time limit for this task, and he is not an aboriginal in this world. Thinking with the player's jumping and thinking, Sean's first reaction is naturally even if There is no way to get the broken branch of the tree of life in the auction of Royal Capital of Ryan, he can also go to the Western Continent and the Northern Continent to get a broken branch and come back for business.

Anyway, as long as it is a broken branch of the tree of life.

For Sean, the real trouble lies in the sentence "This task involves world cause and effect, and all actions you make in this task will lead to changes in the law of causality."

In other words, this task does not exclude Sean from running to the Western Continent or the Northern Continent to get a piece of the tree of life, and it can even be said that Sean can get back with a few pieces of the tree of life. But in all behaviors related to this task, he must pay some unpredictable price for his actions. This is what really makes Sean feel tricky.

Because of this, he might as well think of a way to start from the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Anyway, he has already had an antagonism with the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. After all, the Business Alliance had previously tried to force himself to submit by exerting pressure on the Kingdom of Lane. At that time, if the war with the Kingdom of Darbion hadn't erupted completely, I'm afraid it would really allow the Chamber of Commerce Alliance to succeed.

Sean was not an indecisive person. After all these thoughts passed in his mind, he also made a decision: "About this, I can promise you, and I will try to help you cut this. The tree of life is broken...but you should know that the festival between me and the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is very deep, so I am afraid that even if I succeed, there will be a lot of trouble. If you don't plan to help me in this process. If you provide some convenience, then I'm afraid I can't cooperate with you."

"Then, according to Lord Shaun, what kind of convenience do you want me to provide?" Saloqi said.

"In the terms of human society, it is naturally people and money." Xiao En said in a deep voice, "After all, it is not easy to accomplish this with my own strength. After all, you have to know, this It was originally a trap set by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, so if you see a human being like me approaching, then it is likely to cause a lot of changes, and even cause the mission to fail."

"I understand." Saloqi nodded, "Madun."

Hearing Saloqi's voice, a highland jingling soon walked in.

Because of the racial characteristics of Jing Spirit Race, before they reach a certain stage in their lives, there will usually be no obvious changes in their appearance. Therefore, although this Jing Ling looks very young, even like a young man, no one dares to guess at will what his actual age is. But one thing is certain, that is, this Jing Ling is definitely bigger than Saloqi Xuefeng, because he has more obvious traces of time.

Sean remembers the Snow Wind Guard. He was one of the two who followed the Snow Wind Guard's No. 3 character. The weapon used was a horn bow, which seemed to be a strong man who was good at long-range combat. .

"His Royal Highness, what do you want?" The Jingling saluted Princess Saloqi, and then made a respect for the strong from the tribesman to Sean.

For Xiao En, although he can only sense from his breath that his strength is about the level of the upper silver pinnacle, no one dared to underestimate him, whether it was the Snow Wind Guardian or the Snow Wind Warrior.

After all, none of the four people who are following Sean's actions are fuel-efficient lamps: the strength of Venia and the jing spirits of the Xuefeng tribe have long been very clear; and that day, I saw the situation of Rina after she woke up, and how these Rina were there. In the training in this underground stronghold, no Jingling dared to approach her within three meters; and Xuefanio's only casual glance that day made these Jinglings feel like they had fallen into an ice cave, and they were not covered yet. I could feel the magic fluctuating aura that made these Xuefeng tribe jing spirits unbearable. These jinglings know that Sean is definitely not a fuel-efficient lamp—in the cognition of these jinglings, that is, only a powerful person can be followed by such a powerful person.

Therefore, these jing spirits also define Sean as a strong—though in a sense, Sean is indeed a strong.

So this jingling named Marton salutes Sean, and Sean accepts it calmly.

"In the next period of time, you will be responsible for assisting Lord Sean." Saloqi pointed at Sean casually, and then said, "The 30 Snow Wind Warriors are under your jurisdiction, and you are directly under your command. Master Shaun's instructions...understand?"

Hearing what Saloqi said, not only Xiao En was stunned, but even Marton was stunned.

However, the obedience of the tribes of the Wild Lands to the orders of the superiors was still dyed with Marton, and he quickly recovered, and then he nodded in agreement without hesitation, turned around and knelt directly in front of Xiao En. Shen Sheng said, "I, Marton Xuefeng, will obey your orders from Lord Xiao En from today."

"Okay, you go down first." Saloqi said, "By the way, pack all the things we brought, and then you will take these and go on the road with Lord Sean.... Remember, even if it's you. If you die, you must also ensure the safety of Lord Sean."

"Yes."

Marton nodded, and then got up and walked outside. He had to take advantage of this time when Shaun and Saloqi were still talking to complete a series of handovers. Then when Shaun left, he had to be in the first place. Take thirty snow wind fighters on the road at a time. For these people in the wild tribe, time is very precious, and since he has known that Sean is about to leave here before, he certainly won't waste time. This is his pride as a strong man in the wild tribe.

"Madun is a  sheer, his archery skills can also be ranked in the top three in the Xuefeng tribe, and he is very good at ringing, investigating, exploring, and sneaking. I believe he can definitely help in this action. You are busy." Saloqi turned her head to look at Sean, and then said, "I wonder if Lord Sean can be satisfied with my arrangement?"

Thirty Snow Wind fighters with quasi-fifth-level military strength, plus one who is good at jingling, reconnaissance, exploration, and stealth, and is also a low-level golden powerhouse who can make up for Sean's current weak long-range attack ability. . As well as a bunch of treasures that are not very valuable to the people in the wild, but can sell hundreds of thousands of gold coins in human society, the expression on Sean's face is enough to explain everything.

"Satisfied, of course very satisfied." Xiao En smiled and nodded, "This way things will be much easier."

Saloqi did not ask about what Shaun said was easy to handle.

As a smart person, she knows when to ask and when not to ask. To a certain extent, Saloche prefers to communicate with Sean rather than Cecilia, because that will make her feel a sense of fatigue. After all, she has seen Cecilia with her own eyes. How did Ya deceive the beast of Vinia into his hands. In fact, if it weren't for the extreme hatred between Pofeng and Xuefeng tribes, and too many people died in the hands of Vinia, and Saloki would not have the power and time to be distracted to deal with Pooh. As for the relationship between Ya and Xuefeng tribe, she actually had the thought of recruiting Winia.

It's just that she knows very well that Venia, whom Shaun and others have been fond of, if she recruits, then she is bound to have  with Shaun.

From the moment when Sean's identity was completely clear, Saloki would never destroy the good relationship that she had built with Sean because of such a trivial matter. You know, in order to obtain such a relationship, she has already caught the branches and leaves of the Seven-Leaf Vitality Tree. At this moment, in her overall plan, the relationship with Sean is the key to realizing greater benefits for her. So let alone a strong one, even if half of the Snow Wind Guards were sent out, Saloqi would not blink.

It's just that she also knows that it is not a good thing to let too many Snow Wind guards follow Shaun.

As the saying goes, good steel is used on good knives. During the three days of walking with Sean, Saloqi discovered that Sean's current team configuration lacks a strong person who is good at long-range physical strikes, so she will use Marton. send out. As for the 30 Snow Wind Warriors, Saloqi's eyes are nothing more than an addition. In her limited knowledge of humans, humans are a group of good-looking people. These 30 Snow Wind Warriors are enough to make Sean Have a luxurious pomp.

But in Xiao En's eyes, Mardun was the strong one. On the contrary, it was the thirty Snow Wind Warriors that made Xiao En pay more attention to.

The quasi-fifth level of combat power, although only 30 people, cooperated with the strong men under his command, it is enough to make many of the guards of the great nobles retreat. Because sometimes, the value that the military's combat power can display far exceeds the value that the strong can display.

Especially on the next trip to the capital.

After all, Sean has no shortage of general powerhouses now.

Like the top three bloodlines in the bloodlines of the people: the blood of the gods, the ancient dragons, and the sacred beasts, Sean has all collected them. The iron triangle formed by Xuefanio, Cecilia, and Rena is enough to call it invincible under the sanctuary, so unless it is a sanctuary-level powerhouse, Shaun can do it. In the Principality of Lane, and even the kingdom of Lane, which is about to be upgraded, walked sideways.

What Sean really lacks now is the top tyrannical combat power that can be used as a strategic nuclear weapon to deter some unruly people: the sanctuary powerhouse.

It's a pity that the strong at this level is not the cabbage of the bad street, you can have it if you want.

So Sean's only hope now can only be pinned on Xuefanio.

Because she is the only quasi-sanctuary powerhouse under Sean who has stepped into the sanctuary realm with half his feet.
