After discussing the transaction with Paqiuli, Sean and Noro temporarily settled in Ten Thousand Realms City.

is probably more pleasing to the eyes of Noro, so Pa Qiuli threw a talisman to Sean and Noro each. With this amulet, the two of them can be completely immune to the enchantment in the city of Ten Thousand Realms. However, Paqiuli deliberately warned Sean and Noro to not be too arrogant in the city. There are still legendary strong men in Ten Thousand Realms City, but this strong man is in quiet meditation. The state does not appear in front of the crowd.

For this, Sean is naturally understandable.

After all, the enchantment of Ten Thousand Realms City is not affected by the powerhouses above the legendary, so if there is an attack from the legendary powerhouse, it is natural that the legendary powerhouse will come forward to deal with it.

The free-standing faction can be regarded as a very powerful faction in the Heerson Institute. It is not a strange thing to have a legendary powerhouse in this city.

After returning to the hotel, Sean and Noro went back to their rooms to rest.

For Noro, 20 ml of blood is drawn, it's nothing. Take more nutrients and take a day or two to fully recover. However, Sean, in the spirit of humanitarianism, still wants to visit Noro, after all, this guy has given 20 milliliters of blood as a bargain.

"Still alive." This was the first sentence Sean said when he saw Noro.

Nolo simply lay on the bed and gave Shaun a blank look.

At this time, Noro's face is very pale, and the whole person looks very weak, with a delicate appearance. In addition, his appearance was biased towards the feminine and feminine beauty of the genie, so this eye of Sean was blanked. It makes him look unusually charming.

But whenever he thought that such a charming person was actually a man, Sean shuddered.

"Are you sure you have the bloodline of the Silver Moon Elf in your body?" Sean tried to throw the mental pollution of Noro out of his mind, and then said, "If the woman finds out that it is not the blood of the Silver Moon Elf, we two probably will die miserably."

"Cut." Noro gave Sean a white look again. "The plane migration of the elves is not once or twice. Usually in a main plane, if the living environment of the elves is severely persecuted, they will move on the plane. ... as you told me before. Situation, I think the Dawn Elves you mentioned must have migrated to other planes and live on other planes."

Noro is a strong man on another plane. After he was summoned by Sean, Sean knew about it.

So generally when there are no outsiders in private. Sean will popularize the worldview and common sense of Marvel Land to Noro. therefore. Now Noro naturally has a more comprehensive understanding of the historical development of the entire Miracle Continent. It can even be said that with Sean, a person who is completely proficient in the history of the development of the Marvel Continent, is explaining that Noro understands the history of the entire Marvel Continent better than the average person in this world.

"My race is indeed an Elf race, and according to its positioning, it should be at the same level as Silver Moon Elf and Dawn Elf." Noro continued. "Although the concept of elves on different planes may be different. But the bloodline is a power that has to be traced back to the origin of the world. This is the law of the entire dimensional space, so there will still be many common points... as long as My bloodline power is higher than those ordinary elves in this world, so if I say that I am the Silver Moon Elf, then I am the Silver Moon Elf."

For such a complicated matter, Sean naturally did not understand at all, so he was stunned by Noro.

However, how can Sean, who is the host, say that he does not understand, so Sean coughed a few times, and then said: "Anyway, you'd better pray that what you say is true, if it is Paqiu The woman Li came to me to settle the account, the transaction between us would not count."

Hearing Sean's words, Noro's face instantly collapsed: "Then my 20 ml of blood, isn't it just for nothing?"

"No, I will buy you more nutrition products later." Xiao En smiled.

Noro sighed faintly, then closed his eyes, and there was unconcealable fatigue in his voice: "Master, let me take a break, this time I am really tired."

Sean smiled and nodded, then got up and left the room.

After returning to his room, Sean also sighed lightly.

The transaction between him and Noro is actually very simple. It can even be said that it is incredibly simple: Let Noro have the right to freedom of action for one year.

Because it is a reward drawn through that mysterious system, there is an indelible one-way contractual connection between Noro and Sean. This contract does not mean that Sean can be cancelled if he wants to. As a guardian, Noro must make sure that he dies ahead of Sean. If Sean is dead and he is still alive, then his soul will be wiped out immediately, and the whole world is even that mysterious card. There will be no more "Noro Kassel" in the card library.

Because of this, Noro needs to be by Sean's side all the time, responsible for protecting Sean's safety.

It's just that Noro is a restless person.

He has too much curiosity about the world of Marvel Continent. He couldn't wait to see how this world was different from the world before him. However, due to the protection principle of the contract, he could not leave Sean's side, especially after seeing that Sean's situation was so dangerous, Noro was even more unable to leave easily, because once Sean was suddenly killed and died, then He is going to be unlucky too.

It is precisely because of this that the deal between Sean and Noro is to give Noro the right to freedom of action for one year. He can do whatever he wants in this world, and Sean will also be in Take care of yourself this year and will never cause trouble everywhere. For this, Noro is naturally very grateful, after all, with the gradual popularity of the Magic Teleportation Array nowadays, one year is enough for him to wander a lot of places alone.

As for twenty milliliters of blood, it is nothing to Noro.

What can be studied with this bit of blood?

It's just that Sean doesn't think so.

No one knows Heerson Institute better than him.

The Ancient Blood faction is the founder of the blood experiment on the entire Marvel Continent.

It was precisely because of the activities of this faction that the bloodline experiment plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire came into being. To a certain extent, the bloodline experiment plan of the Millennium Covenant Empire is more deeply researched than the bloodline experiment of the ancient school. , Which is why after the game has opened up the bloodline ability, basically all the bronze bloodlines are obtained from the copy of the Millennium Covenant Empire.

In the next few days, Noro stayed quietly in the room—in fact, Noro did not need to do this at all, after all, he was also a sanctuary powerhouse. You know, the sanctuary powerhouse sometimes suffers more than 20 milliliters of blood from a battle. It's just that Shaun wants to fully show that he is a good host, so of course he will let Noro rest well these days and prepare food for him personally.

Instead, this made Noro feel unusually scared, and he couldn't even rest well with it.

It was a week after Xiao En came to Ten Thousand Worlds City, and after receiving a letter, Xiao En told Noro that he was leaving.

Paqiuli hasn't known what he's doing since getting the blood from Noro. Anyway, Sean didn't meet Paqiuli for a whole week, so when she left at this time, Paqiuli naturally did. He didn't come to see him off, but because of personal relations, Sean still confessed to the housekeeper a few times before leaving with Noro.

After leaving the Ten Thousand Realms City, Nuolo exhaled heavily, and the whole person's momentum also seemed to be upright.

Probably it was suppressed for a long time in places like Ten Thousand Realms City, so that after leaving Ten Thousand Realms City, Nuolo's spirit and spirit obviously improved a lot.

"Why did you leave so eagerly? What happened?" After leaving the city, Noro couldn't help but ask.

"No, it's just the people who have been waiting for it." Xiao En replied, "After meeting with the other party, we can return to the Void City.... The war over there is still going on, but William is in charge. Enough, Cecilia and the others have already returned, and we have other things to be busy next."

"Oh?" Noro raised his brows, and then said nothing.

Just watching Sean's solemn look, Noro knew what to do next, which would be more dangerous, so he didn't say anything, just followed Sean in silence.

Soon, the two came to a place about half a day away from Ten Thousand Realms City.

There is a small hill here, which is not too high, but you can see a lot of traces of man-made damage. I think it should be the place where alchemists used to experiment with alchemy in the city of Ten Thousand Realms. It was just that when Sean and Noro arrived, there was a ray of blood in the air, which made Noro instantly vigilant, and Sean also frowned.

When the two speeded up their pace and came to the hillside, they saw five corpses lying on the ground. Judging from the costumes, they were obviously an alchemist's occupation.

However, standing between these corpses were two people.

Two guys who can be regarded as Sean's acquaintances.

Undead Girl. Wendy, Ghost Sword. Demon Boy.

When these two guys saw the appearance of Sean and Noro, they were also slightly taken aback, but Wendy's face didn't look very good, but the magic boy reached out and stopped Wendy who seemed to be planning to use force.

In response, Sean just sneered: "I think I have become stronger, so I plan to take revenge."

Chapter 282: .Racial Conversion

PS: I want to hear more of your voices and receive more suggestions from you. Now search the WeChat public account "qdread" and pay attention to give more support to "The Lord of War"!

The image of the magic boy has not changed, it still looks like that of a seven or eight-year-old child. It's just that the aura on his body is completely restrained now, and the whole person has a feeling of warmth and jade, which is obviously a manifestation of having officially stepped into the lower sanctuary realm.

As for Wendy, the skin tone on her body has also become snow-white, no longer the same bronze skin as before, which makes her look much more beautiful, and from the perspective of her temperament, it is not difficult to see that Wendy was once also a Miss daughter. Judging from these changes, Wendy's strength must be the same as that of the Devil Boy, who has stepped into the realm of the real sanctuary, and is no longer the previous pseudo-sanctuary with a powerful body but no realm.

Sean will not be surprised by the increase in the strength of the magic boy and Wendy.

After all, when these two people met in the wild land, they belonged to the real sanctuary powerhouse with only one step. At this time, it has been two years before and after that encounter. With the potential and talents of these two people, they have suffered such a big loss in the hands of Sean. If you don't work hard to break through to the realm of the sanctuary, I'm sorry that these two people are called one of the thirteen dead thorns.

Shaun always considers the worst results when he does things.

So when meeting these two people, he was ready for a possible battle, otherwise he would not bring Noro over.

The Demon Boy glanced at Noro, and then turned his gaze back to Sean. It seemed that he hadn't heard Sean's ridicule just now. He just said in a deep voice, "You brought us all over, what's the matter? ?"

"There is one thing I need you to do."

For these two guys who are already hostile camps, Sean will naturally not be polite. He will believe these two people. Just believe in the credibility of Deadthorn, as long as these two people agree, then they will do their best to complete it. This is where Deadthorn can stand for so long without any mistakes. Of course, in the process of agreeing or not. If these two people find an opportunity. Obviously they don't mind taking Sean's head.

"What's the matter?" The devil boy's expression was still calm, he obviously knew that Sean would never be in danger.

It was Wendy, her face was bulging, which made her fair complexion a bit flushed.

"Wendy had an accident when she was promoted to Sanctuary. I hope you don't mind." Wendy glanced at the bulging Wendy, like a little girl. The magic boy also felt a little headache and helpless. I had to add another sentence to Xiao En, "When her condition stabilizes, she should be fine."

Unexpected improvement in realm?

Hearing this, Sean couldn't help but looked at Wendy, and the real eye opened immediately.

Has already negotiated with Wendy before, so the real eye is to save the data status of Wendy, which will re-examine the inspection, naturally, there is no need to obtain the other's recognition again. And soon. A series of data about Wendy began to appear one by one in Sean's iris, and when he saw this new set of data display. Sean's face immediately became unnatural.

The original Wendy's race column shows the undead, just like Beth.

But at this time, Wendy is shown as human in the race column!

"Racial change!?" Sean couldn't help but exclaimed, "This..."

Hearing Sean's voice, the magic boy was also taken aback for a while, and then he began to look at Sean seriously.

All the information about Sean before came from the intelligence investigation of Deadthorn, but because the anti-reconnaissance ability of the void is indeed very strong, so the intelligence work of Deadthorn is naturally not going well, and the intelligence that can be investigated is also quite good. limited. Therefore, the Thirteen Deadthorn Coffins are not very accurate in understanding Sean himself, but in general, some deeds about Sean are still known.

Only before, the magic boy still had a lot of skepticism about Sean's "knowledgeable" point.

Until this moment, after Sean told Wendy's true situation in this way, he had to admit that this Sean was indeed genuine.

"This can't be regarded as a real racial change, after all..." The Demon Boy glanced at Wendy, his eyes softened, and then he continued, "The undead are a family of the dead. After they become the undead, they can retain their wisdom and memory. That's not bad. I want to change from undead back to human... Oh, it's impossible. Wendy's current situation is just an experiment. Whether it can be successful or not, it is still two to say."

"It's not that it's impossible." Xiao En frowned slightly.

He remembered that with the opening of the second expansion and the opening of the blood, special potions for racial transformation also appeared.

After all, in the game, there are a lot of strange races such as elves, orcs, half-orcs, half-elves and even demons, merfolk, etc. The existence of these races is for players who can only choose human races to enter the game at the beginning. Naturally, I feel very upset. The emergence of the racial transformation potion has largely solved the player's needs in this regard, but it is not easy to obtain this potion, and besides having very strict conditions of use, related occupations after taking it , Attributes, and skills will all be reset.

In the game, Sean has always been satisfied with his human identity, so naturally he didn't want to get a bottle of this kind of medicine in the past, and he just heard about this kind of medicine. Looking at Wendy's situation at this time, it is obvious that this kind of experiment is being carried out, but from various signs, it is obviously different from the player's situation. It's just that Sean can understand after a little thought, after all, the player's identity is very special, and it is only through the spiritual connection of the device, naturally it is impossible to have amnesia and the like.

It's just that the magic boy didn't notice the difference in Sean's face. Hearing Sean's words, he immediately said, "Master Shaun, what can you do?"

Shaun curled his lips.

This magic boy is really a realistic guy. When he saw that there seemed to be a way, even his tone and attitude changed.

Probably the appearance of seeing Xiao En, even people like Demon Boy were a little smirk. But soon, as if he had made some determination, he looked at Sean again. He also became resolute: "Master Sean, as long as you can solve Wendy's current situation, I...I am willing to serve you. If you don't believe me, I can sign a contract with you, even if it's a soul-death contract. I will never refuse!"

This time. It was Sean's turn that was a little moved.

The strength of the magic boy. Although it is only a lower sanctuary now, it is after all one of the thirteen coffins of the death spine, and its potential is recognized by the entire death spine. Basically, a person who can become one of the thirteen coffins of the Deaththorn, as long as he does not fall, will definitely become a legendary powerhouse. The only difference is how many years it takes. But for organizations that have existed in the mainland for so long. Hundreds of years of waiting will naturally not be a problem-in fact. If it hadn't been for Sean and Christina to make the deal that caused Deaththorn to lose a lot, with Deaththorn's strength would never have fallen so much.

So whether it is for Sean or the Void Principality, the addition of Ghost Sword Demon Boy can greatly enhance the strength of the entire Principality, and even make the Void Realm perfect in terms of intelligence capabilities. After all, for many things, William is just empty theoretical knowledge. These theories cannot be determined for their feasibility until they are put into practice. It is precisely because of this that the Voidland has such a major omission in the grassroots monitoring efforts.

And the magic boy. After all, he was born in the death thorn that integrates intelligence and assassination, so the experience he brings must be the experience of the death thorn after countless years of development. If the Void Realm can be taught by these experiences. Even if you cannot become the top intelligence organization, you can definitely enter the ranks of the top intelligence organization. Even with such a man who is also proficient in assassination, Rupiah's strength can once again get a qualitative leap.

However, the problems that Sean needs to face will also become bigger.

Because if the Devil Boy really leaves the Deaththorn, it will inevitably be another major blow to the Deaththorn, and it may even cause the shrinkage of the Deaththorn power. The Deaththorn organization will never allow traitors to appear, and the Devil Boy is also very clear about this. Therefore, when he was in the Wildlands, he felt embarrassed for Shaun's offer of such conditions, but later because Wendy nodded and agreed.

But it can be seen that the result of the negotiations in the Wildlands is that as long as there is a chance, the magic boy does not mind killing Shaun to solve this hidden danger.

But this time, the magic boy took the initiative to say that he signed the contract, even the soul death contract, which shows the determination of the magic boy.

It is only conceivable that once the magic boy really escapes from the death thorn and joins the void Principality, then with the death thorn character, it is likely to directly use the six death tablets to attack the void Principality. With the current strength of the Void Principality, it is obvious that there is no way to be strong enough to be able to smash the Six Death Monuments.

Unless the Peace Council intervenes in this matter again, then it is another matter.

In his mind, Sean quickly made a series of corresponding assessments. For the devil boy's refuge, to be honest, Sean really doesn't want to give up. After all, he will go to the Millennium Covenant Empire next, so the number of top powerhouses is naturally the better, especially as the devil boy's participation increases. It is not only the number of top powerhouses, but also the qualitative change of the entire Void Principality. The strategic value meaning is much greater than the meaning of personal strength.

"I can't guarantee the success of the result." Soon, Sean had an idea.

"No matter what the result, I am willing to try!" The magic boy replied in a deep voice. What he fears most is that Sean disagrees. After all, he also understands the revenge of Deaththorn. But in the same way, apart from being able to sell himself, he couldn't think of anything else that could impress Sean.

Of course, what Xiao En said at this time is not guaranteed, and it further confirms the confidence of the magic boy in Xiao En. If Sean can really guarantee Wendy's success in race conversion, then the magic boy really wants to doubt Sean. After all, when Wendy actually stepped into the sanctuary realm, those who conducted this experiment mentioned it. , This experiment is full of many instabilities, which may cause many side effects.

"Then I can help you." Sean thought for a while, then said, "I will help you get things that can restore and stabilize Wendy's memory, but whether the effect is really as rumored, I I'm not sure...you have to be mentally prepared for failure."

"I see." The magic boy nodded, "Then the contract, do we sign it now."

Seeing that the magic boy took the initiative to bring up the contract, Xiao En knew that this guy had really gotten into his chariot. But at this time, Sean was not in a hurry. Anyway, he didn't give anything to the magic boy. He was not afraid of the magic boy's repentance, and if he signs the contract now, if there is any special inspection method found on the death thorn, then the magic boy Both Tong and him will be in a very troublesome situation.

"I won't use it for the time being. I'll talk about it when I get the thing." Xiao En said, "But this time I am looking for you. I really want to ask you for help."

"Master Shaun, you said, I will die without hesitation." The magic boy quickly corrected his attitude, even though he replied in a deep voice, he didn't even ask what Shaun asked him to help.

Chapter 283: .The war has just begun [first more]

After letting the magic boy go to the Kingdom of Fascism to assist in investigating the matter about Wuling, Xiao En and Noro turned around and left this hillside. After returning to the city of Ten Thousand Realms along the same route, they returned all the way through the teleportation point of the city of Ten Thousand Realms. Void City.

Now that there is a teleportation magic circle, many times the road is no longer a problem.

Of course, the only thing you need to pay attention to is that the transmission distance cannot be too far at a time, otherwise it will cause very serious damage to the body. Similarly, multiple transmissions cannot be carried out in one day, otherwise it will not be as simple as physical damage, but will destroy a person's life source, which is a real life loss. At the beginning of the game, even players could not teleport without restriction, even from the southern continent to the northern continent.

So Sean and Noro could only take a transit rest, and it took two days to return to Void City.

In fact, there is no need to do this for the physical fitness of Noro and Sean, but Noro obviously has a lot of questions to ask along the way, so Shaun didn't rush back to the void. city.

"The magic boy is really so valuable?" This is Noro's question.

"The value is definitely there, and it's not small." Xiao En nodded affirmatively, "Not to mention that he is now a sanctuary, just say his origin, after all, he was born in the franchise intelligence that can interact with the world. , The assassination organization called Deaththorn. If the deaththorn does not have a strong level in the two abilities of assassination and intelligence, how can it be compared with the Assassin Alliance, the Priory, the God Eye, the Temple of Shadows, and the succubus whispers? The thirteen coffins of Deaththorn were also raised step by step from the grassroots personnel within the organization, even he was no exception."

"So you intend to use him to improve the intelligence capabilities of the void?" Noro asked again.

"Yes." Shaun did not deny, "The Void Realm is growing too fast now, but to be honest, the grassroots is not stable. Is William powerful? Very powerful. In terms of military capabilities, he has great wisdom beyond this era. , But because of this, he couldn't focus on the construction of the grassroots level. This is the main reason why the Void Lordship was secretly invaded this time."

"Voidland lacks the basic structure of the system theory, with the addition of the magic boy. The loopholes and deficiencies in this area can be compensated. Only in this way can the Voidland become a more powerful intelligence investigation organization." Sean after all. He also witnessed the development history of the Void Realm with his own eyes, so he knew very well how the Void Realm has its current status, "This is also the first reason why I am willing to accept the Devil Boy."

If there is a first, there will naturally be a second.

Noro just doesn't have any political vision, it doesn't mean he is stupid, so he naturally heard Sean's subtext, and then immediately asked: "What about the second?"

"The strength of the rupee has improved." Sean did not sell it. Just speak directly. "You've seen that kid Rupiah, too."

"Rupis?" Noro thought for a moment, and then nodded, "It is indeed a good seedling.... But it is a pity to be a shadow assassin. If you don't take the shadow system route, you become a The assassin may be able to better display his talents....Of course. Considering that sometimes he still needs to collect intelligence, and that the Shadow Assassin can better assassinate people who are stronger than him. This can't be counted. wasted."

"But his assassination skills have not been improved for a long time." Sean said faintly, "As an assassin, or assassin, the improvement of strength is one aspect, but the other is assassination skills. He is now These assassination skills were all honed by him over the years. In fact, if he hadn't been too distracted to hone his assassination skills, he wouldn't be still a low-level gold with his potential, maybe by now. It's starting to hit the sanctuary."

How terrible a sacred shadow assassin is, it is difficult for people who have not faced it personally to know.

Shadow Assassin is the only special class that can leapfrog and assassinate the strong. In some special occasions, the shadow assassin of the upper golden realm can kill the strong in the lower sanctuary, and the shadow assassin of the lower sanctuary level can even kill the upper sanctuary.

And this is why five shadow assassins from the golden realm came to assassinate William at that time.

With the strength of the five shadow assassins, as long as they find an excellent opportunity, even if Rorty Kabas was standing next to William at the time, he would lose his skin if he didn't die. This was because the environment at that time was in the wild, and if it were indoors with a relatively small space, the shadow assassins were even more than 50% sure that they could kill Rorty Kaspersky. In fact, William's situation at the time was almost mortal-if it weren't for Anno and a group of guards to buy William for those two seconds, no one would have saved William.

Rupi took the route of the shadow assassin instead of the route of the assassin. It can't be said that he was wrong. It can only be said that his starting point from the beginning was for the Void Principality.

It's just that, even so, Rupiah still lacks sufficient assassination skills.

It is not that his skills are insufficient, but that he has not yet mastered the corresponding skills that fully match the current state of strength. These skills need to go through countless life and death assassinations, and then continue to summarize the experience, before they can finally be honed.

"The addition of the magic boy can also exercise the rupee very well." Sean said in a deep voice, "at least it can pass on the magic boy's assassination skills and experience for so many years to the rupee, which allows the rupee to avoid a lot of detours. In other words, it can accelerate Rupi's journey to the sanctuary, especially...the domain of the magic boy, the domain of no light, is very consistent with the characteristics of the shadow assassin. If Rupi can reach from the middle domain, then his strength will increase. It will be very scary."

After listening to Sean's words, Noro's face was a bit unhappy. He glanced at Sean, and then he said, "I remember I told you before. I am also proficient in assassinations, why don't you? Let me pass on my assassination skills to Rupiah?"

"You?" Sean glanced at Noro, and then said in a deep voice, "Don't make trouble. You are an elf, he is a human, and many of your assassination skills require large unnatural distortions of your body. There is no such good physical flexibility as you.... It is specially for your assassination skills to exercise your physical flexibility. It is impossible to have your level without seven or eight years. This is not putting the cart before the horse."

Although he knew that Sean was telling the truth, Noro still felt underestimated, which made his face very uncomfortable.

"You are the fastest to improve your strength, I can't fully display my combat power now, which makes me crazy." Noro glanced at Sean, then said in a deep voice, his tone also looked very unfriendly. . "If you need it. I can teach you a set of methods to exercise strength as soon as possible."

"As for physical strength, I already have an idea, so I won't bother you." Sean doesn't know what Noro's idea is, and if he makes it clear, he wants to take revenge on his revenge for being ravaged by him. "Wait. After working on the following things, I will exercise my physical strength. But even if I can make my body reach the sanctuary level, but my domain is still not complete, this is also very troublesome."

"I can't help it." Noro frowned. "The reason why most people can't become strong in the sanctuary is not that their bodies are not strong enough. It is that their understanding of the domain is too dull. Many people actually already have a strong body that can support the consumption of the domain. Quality, but if they don't form their own realm one day, they can't be regarded as true sanctuary powerhouses."

"As for the field, I have also made a decision. What is lacking now is just polishing." Xiao En said lightly, "After finishing all these things, I will start to improve my strength."

is just the true content of this statement, but he doesn't even believe it.

The reason is simple.

His domain is composed of law fragments, and now he has only collected two law fragments. God knows how many law fragments it takes to build a perfect domain. If there is enough time for him to move and practice freely, then he believes that he must be able to find a way to the domain, so that it will be easier to collect the fragments of the law.

But in fact, he just lacks time.

At the moment, he still has many things to deal with, and there is no time for him to move freely. The collection of fragments of this law is naturally much more difficult.

Nolo didn't know this, he thought that Sean already had his own ideas and ideas, so it must be a simple thing to become a strong man in the sanctuary. So he didn't say anything, anyway, as long as Xiao En can become a strong man in the sanctuary, his strength can be fully restored, and it will not be impossible to go further by then.

You should know that before his soul entered the place where there is no sky, he was already at the pinnacle of the upper sanctuary, and he was only a little bit able to comprehend his legendary ability and become a true legendary powerhouse. Therefore, once Noro's strength is completely restored, he can try to attack the legend again. If it succeeds, then he may have a chance to redeem.

This opportunity is very important to him, so Noro does not want to give up, and because of this, he will continue to urge Sean to improve his strength as soon as possible.

"However, you are all done with things now, what else do you need to do?" Noro was a little puzzled, "The war, isn't it over?"

"End?" Sean raised his eyebrows. "Do you really think the Simon family has the guts to provoke me? He is just a  placed on the surface. In fact, if it weren't for Diana's treachery, All clues to the conspiracy against the Void Principality this time will end here. I don't even know who the real enemy behind it is. You say this is the end? No.... The war has just begun now."

Chapter 284: .Leave again [second more]

Continental calendar September 3, 1878, a large-scale commotion began in the territory of the original Darbyang kingdom, and many nobles from the former Darbyang family became panic.

First, after the army of the Void Principality destroyed the Simon family, many nobles thought that the war should be over. However, they did not expect that the only survivor of the Simon family, Diana Simon, suddenly threw out a series of evidence to indicate In the conspiracy plan against the Void Principality this time, there are shadows of other families participating. For a while, the accused family immediately fell into panic, because before they could explain, the Void Principality began to divide its forces with thunder, and once again annihilated two of the families, and then the forces merged again and rushed towards the third family. go.

Just when everyone thought that this time was really over, the Principality of Garrod, which had been silent for almost three years, suddenly sent troops to Garrod Fortress, claiming that there was a Lion noble who still cared about Darbion and tried to revive Darbion's regime. Secretly set off a revival of the regime in the Principality of Garrod. For a time, many of the former Darbion and the current Ryan nobles felt a panic, and the nobles who were directly named by Asuna collapsed immediately.

If you look at the battle map, you can see that the black marching route representing the Void Duchy runs all the way up from south to north, spanning thirteen territories, and the farthest location is Roha Carr, one of the five Duke of Ryan. Qi was separated by only two marquis collars. The blue marching route, which represents the Duchy of Garrod, runs rampant all the way from east to west, and some of the routes even intersect with the route of the Void Duchy.

On the combat map, the two marching lines of the Void Principality and the Principality of Garrod happened to form a cross, dividing the entire northwestern theater of Darbion into four plates, like four quadrants.

The main target of the Void Duchy. It's in the first quadrant.

The targets of the Principality of Garrod are concentrated in the second quadrant.

If it's over, it's fine. But no one thought that even Duke Hatch Boulder and Duke Cos Hobson, who are also one of the five Duke of Lane, would be involved in this war immediately.

A coalition composed of Hatch Boulder, Duke of Tequila, together with Marquis Bourne Badi and several other earls and viscounts. Suddenly, he rushed to several aristocratic territories nearby. Before these lords could react. The families of two of the lords were uprooted, and the surrounding lords naturally formed a coalition to resist together, and the war immediately spread to more than a dozen lords.

The coalition, headed by Duke Kos Hopson of Mandala, assembled the private armies of Lord Ronnis Holder and Marquis of Florence Wiles to "collaborate with the nobles of the fascist kingdom in an attempt to destroy the border." There is a cause for treason. Requested reinforcements from the Royal Family of Ryan. Then began the crusade. The crime of treason is extremely serious. The nobles named by Kos for a time naturally did not dare to revolt. They were all waiting for the investigation of the Royal family. They just didn't know that one of the marquis had really colluded with the Kingdom of Fascism. It was for some other reason that he actually raised troops to resist, and dragged all the other nobles into the flames of war.

If you observe carefully, it is not difficult to find out. The battlefield of the Duke of Tequila's coalition is in the third quadrant, while the Duke of Mandala's coalition is concentrated in the fourth quadrant.

It can be said. The entire northwestern theater of the original Darbion Kingdom was completely plunged into a war.

In this case, it is not an exaggeration to say that it is a civil strife.

And the Karosha tribe United Nations and Robin Knightland bordering the northwestern theater of Darbion were a little eager to move, but the Duke Roha Karchi, who has the nickname "Son of the Devil," remained on the sidelines, ignoring that he was supposed to belong to him. The war in the Northwest Theater under its jurisdiction, coupled with the army of the Void Principality and the Principality of Garrod, are very close to the border of these two countries, and they can complete the reinforcement of the border forces within half a month at any time, so these two countries For the time being, I dare not start the war lightly.

It has to be said that the staff behind Ingus has formulated this bad blood plan. The battlefield situation is distributed in a chain, which not only ensures the smooth implementation of the entire plan, but also allows the two most likely to take advantage of the opportunity. The enemy country voted the rat avoidance device and did not dare to act at will. Otherwise, once the two countries reach a consensus and jointly raise their troops, it will be impossible to stop the coalition forces of the two countries with the situation in which the Northwest Theater has actually fallen into civil strife.

Similarly, in the battlefield on the southeast theater side, the Fascist Kingdom is also a little ready to move, but neither the south theater nor the southeast theater is involved in the war, and the Seventh Army of the Tony Fortress has also sent troops to the southeast theater. Therefore, the Kingdom of Fascism really dared to invade with troops, and the Kingdom of Lane was not without the power of a battle. At least it should still maintain a stalemate in the balance of power, and there is no problem.

This situation is directed by the Royal Family of Ryan and has nothing to do with Sean.

So Sean doesn't care what the next situation will become like this.

At the beginning, in the game, there were not many national warfare missions similar to this one, and this type of mission could allow players to lead the army to participate, or execute delegated commands for system generals to execute. Of course, if it is a delegation model, the military's casualties and merit awards depend on the ability and character of the delegated general: if a general's abilities are mediocre, but the character is more reckless, the usual result is that the entire army will have the entire army. Annihilated; and if a general has outstanding abilities but a relatively timid personality, then there will often be few merits.

But with William and Hela teaming up, Sean at least need not worry about this.

At this time, after returning to the Void Principality, Sean began to prepare for the next thing.

Before the results of the investigation on Wuling in the Fascist Kingdom came out, Xiao En decided to solve all the things that had not been processed before.

But what surprised Shaun was that after returning to the Void Duchy, Cecilia, Harding, Oriana, Hitley and others had already returned.

"Are you back?" Xiao En's face showed a rare heartfelt joy, "How has the Wild Federation matter been handled?"

"It has been formally established." Cecilia's face has a hint of excitement, "and also announced that he is out of the control of the Wild Council. It's just that the current Wild Federation is too strong, so the Wild Council can't find any good solutions for the time being. , But more and more tribes have joined the Federation."

"That's great." Sean laughed, "It seems that it won't be long before the Wild Federation will become a real behemoth."

"But don't you worry that they will be against us?" Cecilia frowned. It's hard to understand Sean's excitement.

"Saloci owes me a favor. He knows my strength very well. Since I can satisfy her ambitions, of course I may also destroy her ambitions, so she will not take the initiative to trouble me; Olianna is The next designated heir of the Wall tribe, I am now her master. People in the wilds respect the master more than you think; Abaza cannot resist my orders; Krumah is not surprised. I can also become the chief of Luoxiluo, plus the friendship between me and Teddamir. This is equivalent to twelve permanent parliamentary seats in the Wild Federation. I have five allies." Sean smiled. But his face was not worried at all, "In addition, the two dwarf tribes of Bronzebeard and Anvil's demand for various mineral resources, the Wild Federation will only want to fight with me unless it is caught in the door panel."

"But, after all, that is the comprehensive strength of an empire. It used to be because of insufficient internal unity, but since you let them form the Wild Federation..." Cecilia's eyes still have concerns. After all, Sean's words are very different from the political education she has received since she was a child. "Once they are determined to come to you for trouble. It is impossible to stop them with our strength."

"Who said that we will always be like this?" Sean laughed, and then reached out and patted Cecilia's head. "We are not much weaker than the average second-rate kingdom except for the lack of legendary powerhouses. The policies I promote will soon attract some small tribes to join us, and then our Void Principality will only become stronger and stronger."

Hearing Sean's words and looking at Sean's buoyant eyes, Cecilia's face was slightly less worried. She nodded, and then smiled: "I will improve my strength as soon as possible. I am. Now that the law of flames under my control is almost comprehended, I can start contacting the superior domain."

"No hurry, let's lay the foundation first." Sean smiled and rubbed Cecilia's head. "After entering the sanctuary, those real geniuses will usher in a period of growth. The more you understand and understand, the more detailed, the greater the increase in strength will be once it bursts out....So you don't need to rush to get in touch with a higher level first, first continue to delve into the law of flames you now master. Enough."

"Hmm." Cecilia didn't say anything about Sean's arrangement. In fact, she also knew that Sean's words were correct. With her talent and potential, it is inevitable to become a legendary powerhouse. She only needs to develop step by step, but she has a kind of anxiety in her heart. This anxiety always makes her want to improve her strength. But at this time, after hearing Sean's words, Cecilia's inner anxiety was calmed down.

At this time, Oriana suddenly stepped forward and greeted Sean very well: "Master."

"Did you stick to the training method that I taught you before I left?" Oliana was severely devastated by Sean. Now she is as trembling as a mouse when she sees a cat. This nominally true apprentice, Sean didn't have any politeness, and immediately asked.

"Yes." Olianna shuddered subconsciously when she heard Sean's solemn voice, "But there are still some places that are not very clear."

"Well, when I look back, I will teach you a little bit more slowly." Sean probably also knows what Oliana didn't understand. It is nothing more than the difference in body structure between the Orcs and Humans. This point needs to be corrected slowly. Yes, it's just like Noro said to teach Rupi's assassination skills. It's not that Rupi can't learn it, but it takes many years to exercise his physical flexibility. "You prepare for it, and leave with me this time. Bar."

"Go?" Cecilia was taken aback for a moment, and then asked, "Where are you going?"

"Help the guy in Lanster find the Mermaid Heart." Shaun said, "Hela found the Deep Sea Heart imitation that Mann had hidden before in the Wild Legion. I plan to go to the Millennium Covenant first. Help Lanster solve this." At this point, Sean knew what Cecilia wanted to say, so he said: "This time we are going to the bottom of the sea, and your ability will be greatly limited. , So don't go, stay in the territory and understand the law of fire, and there is no strong protection by Neil right now, and the silver sideburns also lack a commander. Only you can do these things."

Hearing that Sean had arranged everything, even if Cecilia felt a little unhappy, she could only nod her head and promised: "But, who are you going to take with me?"

"Hading, Noro, Hitley, and Oriana, plus me, exactly five people." Sean had obviously drawn up the list, so when Cecilia asked, Sean was very natural. He replied, "By the way, you have to pay close attention to the situation on William's side.... I always feel that this time the Ryan Kingdom's bad blood plan is a bit unusual. If there is any accident at that time, you still need you. Go to the rescue."

"Bad Blood Plan?" Cecilia was taken aback.

At this time, Sean remembered that Cecilia had just returned and didn't know the bad blood plan of the Royal Family of Ryan, so Sean talked about it again. After listening to Sean's retelling, Cecilia's brows were also frowned, and her expression was rare and solemn and thoughtful, but since both Sean and William agreed on this matter, Cecilia didn't. Besides, I just said that I will pay attention to and cooperate with William's actions.

"I guess Mardun should have almost returned from the Xuefeng tribe, and with Mardun's assistance, you can relax." After thinking about it, Sean ordered again, and at the same time gave the information about the magic boy. Tell Cecilia about the matter, lest Cecilia doesn't know the secret agreement between Sean and the Devil Boy, and cause some unnecessary troubles when the time comes, and it is really her own person beating her own person.

After listening to Sean's words, Cecilia also showed a hint of surprise: "Is there really such a secret medicine? Can it stabilize the memory of racial transition?"

"Yes, there are, but it's not easy to handle, and the effect can't be guaranteed." Sean nodded, "but these things are not in a hurry....After solving this Lanster's matter, we will deal with it slowly.... ... It's just that I'm not in the Principality next, so many things will depend on you."

"It's okay, you can go with confidence." Cecilia smiled, "Be careful on the road."

"I know."

PS: I want to hear more of your voices and receive more suggestions from you. Now search the WeChat public account "qdread" and pay attention to give more support to "The Lord of War"!

In the dim cave, two people are leaning on the rock wall in the cave.

The light blue flame is floating in the air.

This is the only light source in this cave.

Through this light source, you can vaguely see that these two people are very embarrassed, and there are countless scars on their bodies. According to normal logic, if a person has so many dense wounds of different sizes, they must have become a corpse long ago, but looking at the undulating chests of the two people, it is obvious that the two of them have not become corpses. It's just that, it's really surprising, how terrible it takes to go through a battle to leave so many scars on his body.

"Still alive." A soft noise suddenly came from inside the cave.

The sound is not loud, but in this silent cave, it seems unusually loud.

"Nonsense." After a long while, a very weak voice responded.

It's just that there is no light here, and there is no sense of the flow of time. This seems a bit long after a while, so that it feels like the dialogue between the two is going on through time and space.

"What kind of hatred or resentment is between you? I have been staring at you for two full years, but I still refuse to give up." The hearty voice sounded again, but this time there was a little more curiosity in the tone. The few people who appeared in the sky, although their personal strength is not weak, are very skillful and tacit in terms of combat skills and cooperation. These guys are no easier to deal with than those two tin cans."

Tin cans, usually a contempt for heavily armed knights.

It's just that as the St. Joel's Empire in the Southern Continent has become stronger and stronger in recent years, and this country is also known to have the most knights, this kind of slander is becoming less and less common. Now. Generally speaking, this contempt is used to refer specifically to knights from the Empire of St. Joel.

"Those are dark-faced knights, special knights under the command of the Judgment Knights who are responsible for fighting in the abyss." The weaker voice was silent for a long time before speaking. "Because you have been fighting in the abyss for a long time. So they are also very good at dealing with demons.... Although you are a demon god, as long as you have not left this material world for a day, you will not be able to temper your body with the power of the void, and you cannot be regarded as a true demon god. , It's easier for them to deal with you."

can be called a demon god, and in the main plane of Miracle Continent, there is only one person in the whole world.

The confessor. Edward.

and walked with the confessor Edward. Naturally, it is Diane, a believer of Enkos.

These two people. Since that time of cooperation, in the next two full years, the two sides fought almost all the regions of the Western Continent.

But what Ziggs did not expect was that Diane and Edward's combination was more and more courageous, and the strength of the diligence reached an incredible level. In the beginning, the combination of Ziggs and Nazar was able to suppress Diane and Edward. Basically, they had the most victories, but after all, both of them are legendary powerhouses, unless they are determined to fight to the death. Or it has an absolute advantage. Otherwise, neither side is absolutely sure that they can kill the other side.

is precisely because of this, so despite being chased and beaten. But Edward and Diane were able to counterattack occasionally, and Ziggs and Nazar were equally embarrassed. Even once, Nazar was almost killed by Edward.

In this way, for more than a year, the relationship between hunters and prey on both sides has been constantly changing.

Until Edward's strength became qualitatively stable again, and Diane gradually became accustomed to this kind of high-intensity battle, Nazar's strength was too low and suddenly became Ziggs' hind legs. As a result, in the next half a year, the situation became Edward and Diane teamed up to hunt down Ziggs and Nazar. In this regard, Ziggs finally had to ask the Pope for help, because if this continues, Nazar will fall.

In response to Ziggs's request for help, the Pope also simply transferred back the special combat unit, the Darkface Knights, which was on an expedition on the abyssal plane.

Instead of continuing to search for Remuel, who doesn't know where he fell on the Abyss, he should actually control Uriel in his own hands. Therefore, the whole team has never shown his face in the surface world of the Marvel Continent. The Masked Knights all rushed to the Western Continent to participate in this crusade against the Demon God.

It can be seen how powerful the Pope of the Saint-Joles Empire is.

Especially, the Dark Face Knights played the banner of crusade against the demon gods along the way, so the churches, kingdoms, tribes, etc. of the Western Continent also called for their cooperation accordingly. In this way, the situation of Edward and Diane is naturally more dangerous. It's just that the strength of the two is too tyrannical. Even if they are ordinary legendary powerhouses, it is difficult to win in front of the two of them. Therefore, in addition to special combat units such as the Darkface Knights that specifically target demons, they No one can really solve this demon * whose strength is infinitely close to the super power level.

But compared to Edward's body, which can recover quickly after just a short rest, Diane, who is still a normal human category, looks much harder. In particular, the frequent occurrence of battle after battle has made this powerful knight lack sufficient rest time. Over time, even the original strength in his body has been shaken by Diane. His current strength is probably It is equivalent to a general legendary powerhouse, and there is no way to make Uriel enter the awakening state, which is tantamount to abruptly reducing the strength of the three classes.

"The Dark Face Knights, I have heard of it before, but I have always thought it was just a rumor. I didn't expect it to be true." This time there was a long silence, and then Edward's voice sounded, and his The voice also looked a little serious, and it was obvious that he understood the difficulties of the Dark Face Knights, "It seems that our next life will be really difficult."

For Edward's words, Diane didn't say anything, he was only thinking about one question at this time.

Originally, he would become a believer of the devil, just to destroy the demon  Edward. And in fact. There was indeed a very fierce battle between them. The fierceness was no less than the subsequent battles with Ziggs and Nazar, and no less than the current encirclement and suppression by the Dark Face Knights. It stands to reason that he and Edward should be in a situation of endless death, and the worst situation should be the situation of old age.

But now?

The light emitted by Diane through the purifying flame suspended in mid-air. Looking at Edward, the demon god.

There are strands of black energy permeating his body. These energy breaths quickly repaired the visible scars on his body. These scars were being stitched together at an incredible speed, and the skin of his body instantly became very delicate again. His face was full of indifferent expressions, and at this moment he was still humming a piece of music that he didn't know where he heard it from, and the tone was quite soothing and quiet.

Diane couldn't figure out what kind of relationship he should be with this demon  now.

or...comrade-in-arms?

But Diane only knew if he wanted to swing a butcher knife against Edward now. He really can't do it. After all, they have had two years of life and death fighting experience. During this period, Edward blocked a fatal attack for him more than once, and of course he also saved Edward's life at a critical moment. Therefore, he can no longer easily regard Edward as an enemy that must be slashed, and even to a certain extent, he has regarded Edward as his companion, and he can give his back to the opponent's companion with peace of mind.

"How can there be so many good thoughts, after solving this trouble, what should we do between us." It seems to see Diane's entanglement. Edward continued humming the tune rather carelessly, and then spoke. "If there is a chance in the future, I don't mind killing you.... So, you don't need to have any psychological burden. As long as you can kill me, just do it."

Hearing Edward's straightforward words, Dai An was taken aback for a moment, and then pretended to smile with ease: "Indeed, our positions are always opposite, and we are destined to be unable to fight together like this in the future."

Edward smiled and said, "It's good if you know.... Besides, I always feel that I have died in your hands, and I won't have any regrets."

"Me too." Dai An was stunned for a moment, and then smiled, "If one day I must die, then I hope I can die in your hands.... If it's someone else, maybe I'm really. Will not be reconciled."

"Hey." Edward smiled. Only at this time, he didn't have the aura of the devil on his body. On the contrary, he looked like a real nobleman. "Let's think about it, how to escape this encirclement next.... ...Those guys, it's obvious that they deliberately drove us north. I guess there are some traps waiting for us over there."

Hearing Edward's words, Diane's face suddenly changed: "North!...I actually forgot about it!"

Seeing Di An's face changed, Edward also realized the seriousness of the problem and hurriedly asked: "What's the matter?"

"They are driving us to the Empire of Saint-Joles!" Diane's face was ugly to the extreme. "The Empire of Saint-Joles has four legions, namely the Wings of Pure White, the Knights of Judgment, the Knights of the Court, and The Knights Templar. Among them, only the Knights of Judgment can leave the borders of the Saint-Joers Empire at will, and the other three legions cannot leave the borders of the Saint-Joers Empire at will, because it will cause unnecessary misunderstandings and troubles..."

"What do you mean..." Edward also realized the seriousness of the problem. After all, he is also an aboriginal of the Marvel Continent. He is no stranger to the combat effectiveness of Pure White Wings. "They are sending us to the Empire of St. Drive away from within the country, so that the White Wing Knights can be dispatched?"

Pure White Wings, the only ninth-level knight order on the mainland, its fighting power is the most powerful in the miracle continent. Even without Ziggs in charge, this knight group can easily deal with two or three legendary powerhouses, and it is not an ordinary legendary powerhouse, but the kind of legendary powerhouse whose strength is probably in the thirteenth and fourteenth ranks. . If Ziggs, the leader of the White Wings Knights, sits in person, even the super-powerful will not escape death if he is trapped in the encirclement and battlefield.

"It seems that we must find a way to leave!" Di An snorted after struggling with the severe pain that came from his body.

"It's not difficult to break the encirclement forcibly." Edward frowned, and then said, "But those guys obviously have some tracking secrets. No matter what, we can't get rid of their tracking. This is very troublesome."

"No." Di An shook his head. "Actually, I have been dragging you down all the time. The reason why they can track us is purely because of me.... I have mutual feelings with Ziggs and Nazar, although it is not very accurate. But it is There is a general range... So. Their goal is only me. If you are alone, you can leave."

"Do you mean to let me leave you and run away alone?" Edward looked at Di An, his eyes narrowed slightly, and his eyes became sharp.

"Yes." Diane nodded, "With me, you will fall with you. And their target is me. Why drag you to die together."

"Huh. Who do you think Edward is?" Edward sneered, with black flames burning on his body. "If you just said it before, you don't want to count it? ... If you really want to die, So why not let me kill you here now."

"If there is a way, do you think I am willing to do this?" Dian smiled bitterly, his expression extremely calm, "Their goal is the angelic outfit I have. This has always been the heart disease of Chenguang Church, so they I won't let it go. Unless I am willing to hand over this angel costume.... But do you think I will hand over this angel costume?"

"The Saint-Joles Empire is really domineering." Edward said with a gloomy face, "Is there any way to quickly restore your strength?"

"I am now injured at the core origin. It is almost impossible to recover in a short time, but..."

"But what?" Edward frowned, and then asked, "If you have anything, just say it, hesitating like a woman."

Hearing Edward's evaluation, Diane gave a wry smile, ignored Edward's evaluation, and then continued: "If there is a tree of life essence, it can immediately repair my injury and restore my strength."

"The Original Liquid of the Tree of Life?" Edward pondered slightly, and then he said, "You are here to wait for me! I'll get you some Original Liquid of the Tree of Life."

After that, before Diane could say anything, Edward got up, took back the purifying flame floating in the air, and then turned and left the cave.

This resolute and resolute approach, Diane has not met for the first time, so he was not surprised or abrupt. Just looking at the back of Edward leaving, Di An's head tilted back, revealing a smile that no one could see in the darkness, but this smile seemed a bit relieved.

With Edward's departure, the sound of footsteps recalled in the cave gradually disappeared.

Only, after a while, there was another sound.

Listen to the sound, it seems to be applause.

"I don't see it, you are very affectionate and righteous to a demon god." There was a sneer of contempt, followed by a sound of footsteps, and at the same time there was a fire light, "You actually lied to him in this way. Leave."

Diane is no stranger to this voice, it belongs to Nazar.

It's just that, when the fire illuminates everything in the cave, even if it is Diane who has been fighting for the past two years, he can't help but be taken aback.

In addition to Nazar and Ziggs, two men with the same imposing aura followed them.

Almost no need to think, Diane knew who these two people were at this moment.

Responsible for the safety of the Pope together with Nazar, standing on the left side of the Pope, the bearer of the angel Gabriel, known as the Laurent Hegler Tyre of the left wing of the gods.

as well as.

Specially personally protect the safety of successive emperors of the Saint-Joles Empire, the holder of angel costume. Rguiel, known as the "Eternal Shield" Jebien Romita Thiel.

The four great paladins of the Saint Joles Empire are all here!

"Diane Hallenck, surrender." Looking at Diane who had been fighting with him for two full years, Ziggs looked a little complicated, "If you surrender now, your family can still be safe. In the records of the empire, you are also the hero who died in battle for the empire."

"I have one more condition, if you promise me, I will go back with you."

"Our goal is you. Without the assistance of Pure White Wings, we can't help the Demon God, so we won't bother him." It seemed that he knew what Diane was going to say, and Ziggs spoke directly.

"I understand." Di An smiled slightly, did not say anything, but stood up with difficulty.

He did not resist. He was very obedient and asked Nazar to put the shackles specially used to imprison the devil on his body, and then slowly left the cave with the four paladins. At this time, he does not need any severe punishment. The damage of the original force in his body and the special imprisonment tool for the devil are added to him, which makes him suffer a very strong pain every step of his movement, but in this process, he But he didn't even hum.

Ziggs and others naturally knew how much pain Diane was going to endure, so they admired him for being able to endure without making any muffled noises.

Especially, Ziggs' eyes showed regret.

Because no one knows better than him, what is waiting for Diane after returning to the Saint-Joles Empire.

His death is doomed.

The Pope will never allow an angel to fall into the hands of someone who is not under control.

After exiting the cave, Dai An glanced at the star-studded clear night, and chuckled with a voice that only he could hear: "It looks like I'm going to miss the appointment and can't die in your hands... old friend."

Chapter 286: .Darkmoon Spear [Fourth more]

PS: I want to hear more of your voices and receive more suggestions from you. Now search the WeChat public account "qdread" and pay attention to give more support to "The Lord of War"!

The history and time of the Continent of Miracles are changing and passing according to their own will, and will not stop because of a certain person, a certain family, a certain country, or a certain organization.

Countless conspiracy trajectories, countless regimes, countless wars and revolutions are being staged every day.

The passing and birth of life has never stopped.

Dian's capture was just one of the countless start-ups in the entire Western Continent over the past two years, and the rest was drawn.

Four legendary powerhouses with strengths of the thirteenth and fourteenth ranks personally escorted him, even if Di An was in his heyday, he would not be able to escape, not to mention that Di An was still seriously injured at this time, even walking very hard. And following these four paladins, there are nearly two hundred people wearing special metal masks-these people, in the past six months, Diane and Edward have joined forces to kill a lot. At least forty or fifty people died at the hands of both of them.

Dark Face Rider, represents the darkest and bloodiest side of Chenguang Church.

In the past few months, the existence of the Dark Face Knight was truly exposed to the eyes of the world for the first time. Their  methods also taught the temple knights of many churches across the Western Continent a lesson: several churches originally thought Relying on the superiority of the Earth Snake, I severely weighed the real combat power of the Darkside Rider, and the result was that the temple knights of these churches were almost defeated in the private contest with the Darkside Rider, if it weren't for the Darkside. If the knights are merciful, the temple knights of these churches will be reorganized.

Of course, this does not mean that the Dark Face Knights are invincible, at least they also suffered a loss in the hands of a knight group.

at this time. On the top of a mountain, a group of people in heavy armor lined up neatly into a square.

A vigor of killing radiated from this square, which made silence within a few miles above the top of the mountain. Especially the closer you are to the top of this mountain, the more you will feel a cold breath, which is as if even the soul is frozen. If it is someone who knows enough about the power of the law. You can see that a black mist is constantly filling and rolling on the ground. And the source of this mist is the phalanx on the top of this mountain.

The people in the phalanx are all black heavy armors. They wear helmets covered with armor. A dark red cloak is tied to the shoulder armor. The cloak is painted with a black crescent moon. There is also a long spear with a black background under the moon. From the artistic conception, it seems to be a long spear inserted on the ground illuminated by the moonlight. And as it was drawn on this cloak. This group is wearing heavy armor. The knights riding on the beast that is unique to the West Continent have a black spear in their hands, and in addition to the spear, there is also a black epee hanging on the beast.

This knight order is the Templar Knight Order, the Spear of the Dark Moon, which belongs to the famous Twilight Church on the Western Continent.

Originally, the Darkmoon Spear was only the second tier of the Knights of the Temple in the Church of the Twilight Goddess, and it has not been the main target of the Twilight Church. It was truly cultivated by the Twilight Church. It is the Knights of Twilight, dubbed "Twilight". This knight has gathered many talents from the Twilight Church. The organization is a standard thousand-man knights, only in terms of combat power can be rated as the level of a five-level army.

However, at the level of such a level five army, it was defeated by the Dark Face Knights with only 300 men.

At the critical moment, it was the sudden appearance of the Darkmoon Spear that intercepted the Darkside Knights who were pursuing the Twilight Knights, and successfully pushed back the Darkside Knights on the frontal battlefield. Although the number of Darkmoon Spear Knights is 500 people, which is two hundred more than the Darkside Knights, but from the point of view that the Darkmoon Spears can force the Darkside Knights back, it is undoubtedly a description of the dark. The Moon Spear is stronger than the Twilight Knights, known as the main knights of the Twilight Church.

This, but slapped the cardinals of the Twilight Church severely in the face.

So, these cardinals suffocated their breath, and waited for the Darkmoon Spear to come to the door, making things difficult for them.

You should know that, like the Darkmoon Spear, it has made such a great contribution to save the face of the entire Twilight Church. As the leader of the Darkmoon Spear Knights, it is absolutely possible to ask the Twilight Church for better equipment. Therefore, these Twilight Church cardinals are ready to make things difficult for the Darkmoon Spear. After all, who made the Darkmoon Spear lose such a big face to those who had previously unanimously favored the Twilight Knights.

However, what people didn't expect was that the Darkmoon Gun didn't realize that they were going to apply for better equipment. They were still doing their own way, and they didn't take Twilight Church seriously. In this way, the Twilight Church itself could not sit still. After all, in the entire Western Continent, only the Darkmoon Spear successfully made the Darkface Knights retreat. The Temple Knights of other churches were basically darkened one-sidedly. The Masked Knights gave a beating.

Therefore, under the personal intervention of the Pope of the Twilight Church, these cardinals had to immediately change the equipment of the Darkmoon Gun.

The equipment of the Darkmoon Gun today is the style after the replacement. Although they have not been pushed to the stage by the Twilight Church, in fact, all the churches in the Western Continent know that the real strongest knights of the Twilight Church are not the Twilight Knights named "Twilight". It was this silent but solemn knights of the Darkmoon Spear.

On the top of the mountain, a knight of the Darkmoon Spear suddenly rushed from one side, and then when he came to the leader of the knight, he stopped the lei beast's reins and stopped.

The whole knight of the Darkmoon Spear remained silent, and no one watched the knight's arrival, as if he did not exist at all.

"The Dark Face Knights have withdrawn." After the knight arrived, he reported directly, "I have already inquired clearly. This time they appeared to be hunting down Edward the Confessor, but they were actually looking for someone. ... Judging from the current situation, this person has obviously been found."

The one who quietly listened to this knight's report was the leader of the entire Darkmoon Spear Knights.

He did not wear a helmet, but clamped the helmet under his arm. With long golden hair fluttering in the wind, her handsome face seemed to be filled with unresolved sorrow. His gaze has been fixed on the woods at the foot of the mountain. Perhaps for others, it is impossible to see the scene in the woods clearly in this dark night, but for the leader of the Darkmoon Spear Knights, It is a clear scene.

If Sean is here at this time. Then he could recognize the identity of the head of the Darkmoon Spear Knights at a glance!

The head of the Darkmoon Spear Knights. It's Elsie Boulder!

At this time, Elsie, and Elsie, who left Pandaling that year, are two people!

Although Elsie had changed his personality after experiencing the disaster, but in many cases he still behaved a little circumspect, and his strength was even worse. But at this meeting, Elsie exuded a calm and awe-inspiring aura from all over her body. And there is still a power in every gesture. When he didn't speak before, the whole person exuded the awe-inspiring aura like a sharp sword.

"Uncle Cassius, you said, if we attack now, can we keep the Dark Face Knights?" Elsie said lightly, but there was a very slight murderous in his voice, "I I don't like their name."

"If it was before, it might be okay. But now, I'm afraid not." The man called Cassius. Naturally, it was Elsie's loyal entourage. After Elsie established the Darkmoon Spear Knights, he took the post of deputy commander of the Knights.

"Oh?" Hearing what Cassius said, Elsie raised her brow, and her murderous aura became stronger, "Why?"

Although his voice was still calm, Cassius heard a chill in Elsie's words.

For Elsie's great changes in the past few years, Cassius has seen it with his own eyes, and even he himself doesn't know when it started. He suddenly became a little afraid of this previously very simple and optimistic teenager. At this moment, feeling the chill in Elsie's words, Cassius could not help but shiver.

It seemed that he felt the mood of Cassius. Elsie condensed her breath, and her voice became calmer: "I'm sorry, Uncle Cassius."

"It's okay." Cassius swallowed, then shook his head, "The reason why it can't work is because all the four great paladins of the Saint Joles Empire are here. As long as the four paladins are here, any If we take a shot, we will be wiped out."

Hearing this, Elsie raised her brows slightly, and a hint of surprise appeared on her face: "All the four paladins are here?... It seems that the person they are looking for is very important.... Can inquire. Is it the reason?"

"No." Cassius gave a wry smile, rather helpless.

"That's it, then it seems I have to forget it." Elsie also sighed, then slowly raised her right hand, "Then let's leave here, it's meaningless to stay here."

As Elsie raised his right hand, the entire phalanx of the Darkmoon Spear Knights turned in unison, and then began to move towards the foot of the mountain on the other side.

The whole process was carried out in silence, and no one made a sound.

Elsie and Cassius also slowly turned the Ben Lei beast, and then ran forward all the way, and soon returned to the forefront of the entire knight order.

At this time, Elsie said again: "I heard that the church is planning to expand the religious area. The first target seems to be the Southern Continent, which means that there may be an expedition plan soon....Uncle Cassius, after you go back Let's find out, what is the church's preferred target area."

"I see." Cassius nodded.

When the Darkmoon Spear Knights left, at the place Elsie had been staring at before, Ziggs slowly retracted his gaze.

"What's the matter?" Seeing that Ziggs's expression was a little weird, Jebien asked.

"The Twilight Church has produced a Darkmoon Gun, have you heard of it?" Ziggs did not answer, but asked instead.

"I heard." Among the four great paladins, the relationship between Jerbeen and Ziggs is the best. Unfortunately, when I go back, these little guys will have a hard time."

When I heard the word "Xiao Bai" mentioned by Jebien, the dark side knights who were walking silently nearby shuddered. If I could see the faces of these knights at this time, they would definitely find that their faces were very complex. Ugly.

"Just now, the knights were on that mountain." Ziggs pointed to the top of the mountain where the Darkmoon Spear was just now, and then said in a deep voice, "This knight is very dangerous. I smelled the breath of the goddess Twilight. ...Do you remember the three great artifacts left by the goddess?"

"You mean... the twilight gun?"

"If the Twilight Gun really finds its owner, it won't be wronged in the dark." Ziggs said in a deep voice, "The gun has not had its owner for 500 years."

"It seems that the Twilight Church is going to grow again." Jerbeen's face also looked very ugly.

The Goddess of Twilight and the God of Morning Light are like the opposites of light and darkness. Although they are not to the extent that they cannot coexist in a war of gods, they will still be very uncomfortable if the Church of Twilight grows stronger. . Previously, these two churches, one in the Southern Continent and the other in the Western Continent, could not reach each other. Therefore, Chenguang Church also considered itself as the leader of many churches in the world, and did not bother to take care of this Twilight Church. But now that the revival of Twilight Church is imminent, Chenguang Church is naturally unwilling to see it.

"It's okay." Ziggs shook his head and said in a deep voice, "As long as we peel off Uriel and find a suitable host, we, with five angel costumes, can always be in absolute advantage. Even if it is Twilight The three great artifacts of the Church of Light have all come out, so we don't have to be afraid of each other.... Besides, with the current Twilight Church, we may not dare to start a God war with us."

"But the Twilight Church grows, the first thing must be to expand the area of faith." Jerbin frowned.

"The pattern of beliefs on the Western Continent has basically stabilized, so if they want to expand their belief areas, they must launch an expedition." Ziggs said lightly, "If the expedition is not launched, then the Western Continent will break out of a war of gods.... .Whether it's an expedition or a war of gods, if one is not good, the Twilight Church will decline instead, so we don't need to worry about it.... As long as we go back, report the matter to His Majesty the Pope."

"That's what I said." Jebien nodded, "Then let's go back quickly, lest there will be many nights and dreams."

Chapter 287: .Mermaid City [Fifth more]

PS: I want to hear more of your voices and receive more suggestions from you. Now search the WeChat public account "qdread" and pay attention to give more support to "The Lord of War"!

The undercurrent of the Western Continent is surging, and the signs of war are everywhere, and it looks like a storm.

Southern Continent is also not peaceful.

Not to mention that the millennium covenant empire has gone through more than three years so far, and the suppression has not yet been completed. Not to mention that the small conflicts between the nobles on the line of the Lane Kingdom are actually a situation of civil strife, and the surrounding countries that border the Kingdom of Lane are about to move.

Just talking about the wild land, at this time it is also full of war.

It's no secret that the Wild Land is split into the Wild Council and the Wild Federation.

Especially the series of policies promoted by the Wild Federation are obviously better than the rule of the Wild Council. There are countless tribes who have turned to the Wild Federation for a time. However, in just one or two months, the Wild Federation has formed a great advantage. Even if the Wild Council wants to contend, it is completely powerless to resist. Large tracts of fertile land have fallen under the control of the Wild Federation. For a time, the Wild Council has been completely in control. The situation fell apart.

The Wild Federation, which has obtained a great advantage, made the first decision since the founding of the Federation at this time: sending troops to the Gray Crow Tribe.

Faced with such a powerful superior force in the Wild Federation, the Grey Crow tribe could not resist at all, they could only seek peace urgently. But for this task that Sean specifically explained, the Wild Federation, which is currently in the absolute honeymoon period with the Void Principality, naturally would not agree, so the Gray Crow tribe could only ask for help from the Wild Council.

For a time, with the Grey Crow Tribe as the fuse, the conflict between the Wild Federation and the Wild Council finally broke out.

And the surrounding kingdoms have always regarded the wild land as their own back garden for what they want. At this time, they saw the establishment of the wild federation and they would not be willing to do so, so they began to secretly contact the wild council. But. Those tribes that remained in the Wild Council and did not switch to the Wild Federation at this time were extreme tribes with absolute hatred of humans and surrounding kingdoms. How could they agree to the secret funding of these kingdoms.

For this reason, while these kingdoms yelled at the Wild Council for being a group of fools, they immediately began to invest a lot of troops in the Wild Lands. Prepare to completely kill the Wild Federation in its budding state. In an instant. The entire wild land has once again become the focus of the Southern Continent, and a war between the three major camps is going on in full swing on this land.

In most cases, it is a war between the Wild Federation and the Wild Council, but if a third-party army appears on the battlefield, the two opposing enemies will immediately cease the war, and jointly turn the spearhead to those from the surrounding kingdoms. army. To this. These troops from the major kingdoms are naturally miserable. Not only did they suffer heavy losses, but they even faced endless attacks from the Wild Federation and Wild Parliament. Within three months of dispatching troops, the troops of three countries were completely maimed.

This time, the Wildlands showed unprecedented unity and determination.

But this time, Sean, who can be regarded as the instigator, doesn't care at all.

At this time, Sean, who took Lanster, Hitley, Harding, Olianna, and Noro with five people, has arrived at the camp of the Wilderness Army.

After this army was taken down by Hela. It has been hidden deep in the savage land and used as a surprise soldier. In fact, even the Wild Legion itself did not know that they had already entered the organization in the Void Principality. It was not until the blood flag of the Void Principality was raised some time ago that this wild army was transferred back to the country. Of course, for these bandits of the Wilderness Legion, suddenly they were asked to work for a country. They were naturally unwilling, and even a small mutiny broke out.

But don't look at Hela, who has always been an image of a weak woman.

Once she gets up cruelly, she is the one who has killed more people than William. So for a while, more than a quarter of the members of the Wilderness Legion were ordered to be killed. In order to demonstrate the iron-blooded means and deterrence, Hela didn't even give any real evidence, as long as there was a little clue, he would be executed directly. For this reason, the Wilderness Legion Morale fell to a trough for a while, and there were even deserters.

However, HELLA naturally has a way to deal with this.

In any case, this army is now tamed and subdued under Hela's governance. Although it is impossible for them to immediately sacrifice their lives for the Void Principality, at least they are not as resistant as before, and there is also the faint phenomenon of being formally integrated into the Void Principality family, which is always a good thing.

At this moment, the Savage Legion has been conscripted back to the country, so at this time the station of the original Savage Legion is handed over to Andre to take care of it. I have to say that Andre still has some governance methods. This stronghold was converted into a bazaar under his management. In addition, it is located in the core area of the wild land, which avoids the situation at this time. The war was burning, so this market became extremely lively.

Of course, as the entry point of the water demon's secret, Andre would naturally not leak it out, but instead sent heavy troops to guard it, and even he himself was sitting here personally.

The arrival of Sean and others did not arouse the attention of this bazaar.

After all, this bazaar is now under the jurisdiction of the Wild Federation, and the first decree issued by the Wild Federation is to have good relations with the Void Principality, so the progress of trade between the two parties is naturally considered to be in full swing. Even, many small tribes were worried about being affected by the war, and they went to the Great Rift Valley to develop in the Void Principality. Naturally, the Void Principality would not refuse.

"Lord Lord." Seeing Sean's arrival, Andre hurriedly took Sean to the entrance of the Water Demon Vault.

Originally, Maien built a fort here, and the entrance is hidden under the fort, just like the Black Swan Castle. It's just different from the situation in the Black Swan Castle. The entrance to the Water Demon's Secret Store was later changed by Andre into a study room. He usually works here, so even if Sean and others are invited here, it's not going to happen. Arouse anyone's suspicion and attention.

"Good job." Sean smiled and patted Andre on the shoulder, "It would be a waste of your talent to let you take charge of such a small market."

"My lord, you passed the prize." Andre smiled.

He is very satisfied with the current life.

Many slave trappers can only be slave trappers in their entire lives, and they will always live without knowing which day they will die. If it weren't for Sean, Andre and his slave hunting team will live like this until one day they die in a fight. Therefore, at this time, Andre is really satisfied to be the manager of such a market, although his income may not be as good as when he was a slave. But at least life is much more stable. No longer need to worry about which day I will never open my eyes again.

"This geographic location is indeed very important. I think it is necessary to build a city here." Xiao En's expression is not joking. "You know the wild land better than anyone else, when the time comes after the city is built. The post of city lord belongs to you... Don't worry. I never treat those who follow me badly, so you just continue to do it well and don't let me down."

At what Shaun said, Andre flushed with excitement. After a long time, he nodded seriously: "Don't worry, Lord Lord, I will not let you down."

Shaun nodded, and then said nothing. After just saying hello, he led Noro and others to open the door of the water demon secret. A group of six people filed in.

Returning to his hometown, Lanster's face was obviously extremely excited.

Because Noro joined after Sean and others left here, and Olianna didn't know the specific situation, so when passing this spiral staircase, Sean explained to the two of them a little bit. The adventure here. Nuolo on one side only nodded slightly, saying that he knew the purpose of coming here, but Olianna's whole person suddenly went into a state of excitement somehow, her big bright eyes exuded a more energetic luster.

Sean is no stranger to this look.

In the game, players who first started an adventure in this world will show this look. Sean back then was naturally inevitable. So roughly, he also knew Olianna's character, and Sean didn't hate this kind of adventurous person.

Soon, everyone passed the spiral staircase and came to the fountain in the Water Demon Secret Store Square.

The environment here has not changed in any way, just like the scene where Sean had left.

Lanster turned his head to look at Sean. After Sean nodded slightly, Lanster let out an excited cheer, then ran to the fountain and began to chant a spell in a low voice. Almost at the moment Lanster finished singing the spell, a strange wave of fluctuations instantly emerged from the fountain, but in the range of everyone's sight, this fountain did not change in the slightest.

If the only thing to say is the change, it is probably that the water from the fountain has become more, but the water in the partial spring pool has not risen due to this.

"It's over?" Xiao En was taken aback. He still ran to the fountain a little bit unwillingly, and then stared at the horizontal surface, but he didn't see the difference at all.

"Well." Lanster nodded excitedly, "You can't see it this way.... You stand in and talk."

Lanster said as he stepped into the fountain, then motioned for Sean to walk in.

Listening to Lanster's instructions, Sean followed the edge of the fountain with a hint of curiosity, and then walked into the pool. I just don't know if it was the reason why he was holding the fake Deep Sea Pearl, or it was after Lanster's spell liberated, the fountain changed. When Sean walked in here, the pool water still overflowed. Sean's trousers, but they didn't make him feel any wet.

Xiao En frowned slightly, and then strolled around the entire fountain, but did not find any secret doors.

So, Sean turned his head and looked at Lanster.

"Hey." Seeing Sean's expression, Blue showed a trace of pride, "Go down and take a look."

"Dive down?" Sean glanced at the water level of the fountain, then was a little startled.

At the height of this pool, even if Sean lay down on his whole body, at most, it would have just been over his head.

Just looking at Lanster's insistence, Sean thought that the clothes on his body would not get wet anyway, so the whole person began to squat down carefully, and then he made a dive position bit by bit. He even made the indecent posture of the whole person lying on the bottom of the pool like this.

However, when Sean started to lie down to the bottom of the pool, a surprising scene appeared!

In everyone's sight, Sean suddenly disappeared!

All the faces of everyone were shocked instantly.

"You wait for me here, before I come back. Don't dive, you can't stand the pressure of the water." Lanster hurriedly confessed this sentence, and then the whole person also squatted directly to the bottom of the pool. , And disappeared before everyone's eyes in a blink of an eye.

And Sean, after making the move to lie down to the bottom of the pool. He just felt his body sink suddenly. Immediately afterwards, he suddenly discovered that he had dived into an underwater place. But when he looked up, he saw a large transparent mask similar to glass on top of his head, and Lanster was standing on this mask. Through this mask, Sean still You can see Oriana, Harding, Noro, Hitley and others standing by the fountain.

Such a magical scene makes Sean's heart different.

But he didn't wait long before Sean saw Lanster and dived with him.

"Follow me!" Under the water. Lanster said. Then he swam ahead.

And Sean, after a little try, he also found that he can swim here.

He found that the feeling of swimming in this water is like floating in a state of weightlessness. This feeling is very magical for Sean, because he has never felt it before except for a space experience on Earth. And what shocked Xiao En most was that he could clearly feel that the surrounding space was full of sea water. But he just couldn't touch anything.

"Hello, can you hear me?" He followed Lanster. Sean tried to speak, and then he found that his voice could also be heard.

"It's amazing." It seemed that he knew what Sean was trying, Lanster laughed, "This is the deep sea channel.... We just need to go all the way, but you'd better hold the deep sea pearl. The strength of the water pressure here is roughly equivalent to a weight of about ten tons. Once you leave the range of the Pearl of the Deep Sea for three meters, you will be instantly pressed into a meat sauce."

Hearing Lanster's words, Shaun's face showed a hint of shock, which made him subconsciously clenched the deep sea pearl in his hand.

You must know that no one can contend with the weight of ten tons except the legendary powerhouse.

Led by Lanster, Sean quickly came under another light shield. Through the light shield, Sean could roughly see that this location should be like a corridor.

"How to get up?" Sean asked.

"Relax your whole body, then slowly float up. When you touch the mask, you can go up." Lanster said.

So, according to Lanster's explanation, Sean began to relax and let himself slowly rise to the surface. This time, when he touched the mask, he still didn't feel any strangeness in his whole person, but when he came back to his senses, he found that he was already lying on this corridor. When Xiao En stood up and started to observe, he discovered that the back of this corridor was a dead end, and the only direction was to go forward.

Sean looked down, and he could still see where he had come, and where he was standing, it happened to be on a glass platform.

Just standing on this glass platform, he couldn't see the appearance underneath, even Lanster's appearance.

But not long after, Lanster also appeared on the glass platform, but compared to Sean's appearance, Lanster was completely wet. Obviously, the real reason to ensure that Sean was not wet all came from the deep sea pearl.

"This is the mermaid capital?" Xiao En looked around and asked.

"It's just the front corridor." Lanster replied, "You have to go through this corridor before you can enter the real mermaid capital.... Give me the Pearl of the Deep Sea, and I'll take them over, but Xiao Master En, I hope you don't run around, here...it is still very dangerous."

"I see." Sean nodded.

Chapter 288: .Sean's Suggestion

This corridor is very spacious, the width can accommodate eight people side by side, and the height is also about seven meters according to visual observation.

Sean looked around, but found nothing special. The whole corridor looked very quiet.

When swimming all the way from the bottom of the water just now, Xiao En did not feel how long it was. At this time, when a person was waiting here, he discovered that the deep sea passage was unexpectedly long. If you didn't know it was safe, I'm afraid even Sean would be a little bit awkward.

After waiting for almost forty minutes, Lanster and Oriana appeared on the glass platform.

Shaun roughly calculated that this journey will take about 20 minutes.

Giving the counterfeit Deep Sea Pearl to Lanster, this guy returned to the Deep Sea Channel to pick up the third person.

is probably a shadow of Sean, so when Olianna stays with Sean alone, she is always a little guilty, so she chooses a location as far away as possible from Sean. But at this time, Sean felt that he was idle anyway. There were still three people behind. It should be about two and a half hours after everyone arrived, so Sean turned around and looked at Olianna. .

As soon as she saw Sean looking towards her, Olianna looked like a frightened rabbit, her whole face was bitter, and then she asked in a weak voice: "Master, what's the matter with you?"

"I'm idle anyway. Come and practice what I taught you before." Sean took out a wooden sword from the storage space and said to Oriana, "Uh, no need. Worried about hurting me... If you can hurt me. Then you can go to the teacher."

Before in the Wild Winter tribe, Olianna had been severely devastated by Sean, so now she is basically immune to Sean's trash attacks. Of course, there is still a little bit of dissatisfaction in Olianna's heart, after all, almost a year has passed since the Winter Tribe. Oliana felt that she should have made progress no matter what.

Take a deep breath. Oriana tried her best to keep herself calm.

Seeing Olianna's eyes gradually become cold, Sean couldn't help but nodded slightly. This reaction and attitude were really much better than those of the Mandong tribe. Obviously, Olianna has also grown in the past nearly one year, but as for how much she has grown, then Sean decided to check it out today. After all, no matter how you say it. This female werewolf is also the only link between him and the Wall tribe. So we still have to have more snacks.

The two sides confronted each other like this, and no one acted rashly.

Shaun doesn't care, because he has real eyes, so he can see at a glance the level of strength growth of Oriana in the past year. This level still can't threaten him as a master, so he is naturally qualified to ignore the wildness that Olianna gradually exudes. In fact, even Sean has to admit that Olianna is indeed very beautiful. Regardless of body shape, appearance, and temperament, they are absolutely the best choice, especially after posing an attacking posture at this time. It also has a pleasing primitive and wild beauty.

It seemed that she saw Sean a little distracted, Olianna's eyes flashed, and the next moment the whole person suddenly rushed towards Sean.

Almost the moment Olianna moved, Sean followed.

In his line of sight, countless red lines shot out, pointing to various positions of his body-this is where Oriana might attack. If facing the average strong, Sean may need to observe and then roughly judge the opponent's attack range, but facing Oriana, Sean has no such worries. He easily caught Oriana. On the attack trajectory, the wooden sword in his hand immediately pierced out obliquely.

The tip of the sword lightly hit Oriana's left wrist.

Although the strength is not great, this blow happened to hit the weak point of Oriana's attack, destroying Oriana's attack center of gravity.

Then, after Sean one point, the tip of the sword slashed down again, accurately hitting Oriana's right hand that was about to go up.

Only heard a soft "pop", Xiao En took two steps back and moved a certain distance from Oriana.

Seeing Sean retreat, Oriana did not continue to attack, she rubbed the back of her right hand lightly, where it was already red at this time. But she did not dare to look at the back of her hand, she just looked up at Sean quietly, as if waiting for some trial, especially when she saw Sean frowning slightly, her heart became even more disturbed. .

At this time, Sean really frowned slightly.

But it wasn't that he was unhappy, but he found that Oriana's fighting style had lost his previous flexibility.

Before in the Wild Winter tribe, Sean often practiced against Oriana. At that time, Oriana's attack method tended to be more animal hunting instinct. But this situation is normal, after all, orcs' fighting skills are often evolved from hunting instincts. And Sean's guidance at that time did not erase Oriana's instinct, but only corrected some of her flaws and mistakes, but it still allowed Oriana to play freely.

It's just that at this time, Oriana's attacking skills are more like a human being.

"Come again." Shaun didn't say anything, but motioned to Oriana to take another shot.

But this time, Sean broke Oriana's attacking moves faster than before. If it wasn't for Sean's intention to keep his hand, he could even pierce Oriana's throat with the wooden sword in his hand-but even if Sean had kept his hand, he would only shoot a sword. Oriana's throat, the killing intent that was transmitted at that moment still made Oriana's back soaked instantly.

And Sean frowned more tightly.

"Come again." This time, Sean's voice became a little low.

Oliana didn't know where she had made a mistake, so she had to make a grieving shot at Sean again. But at this time, her heart was already full of worry and tension. Whether it was attack rhythm or technique, she had already produced serious movement distortions, so she faced Sean's counterattack next. She lost faster than once.

When Hitley and Lanster appeared on the glass platform, what they saw was the back of Oriana's hand and arm, with several red marks on both.

"You let Harding come first." Seeing Lanster send Hitley over, Sean said.

Although I don't know what happened, I see Sean's serious appearance. Lanster nodded anyway. Then go back to pick up Harding.

And Sean turned to look at Olianna, seeing Oliana's pitiful appearance, Shaun could only sigh helplessly: "Do you know what's wrong with him?"

Olianna shook her head blankly.

In fact, in the past year, Olianna can feel that her strength is constantly growing-this is under the real eyes of Sean. It was also confirmed. So Olianna heard that Sean was going to check her growth this year. Olianna naturally had the idea to surprise Sean, so in the first two shots, she was able to play hard, but she didn't expect to lose faster than when she was ravaged by Sean in the Winter Tribe.

She really can't understand.

Why do you lose faster and worse after your strength has increased?

In fact, Olianna is not the only one growing up.

In this year, Sean is also growing rapidly.

is just his growth, not the growth of personal attribute value. It's about combat skills, combat experience, martial arts proficiency, etc., and even personal mood and so on. To know in the past this period of time. Sean's enemies are not the lower sanctuary, the middle sanctuary, or the quasi-sanctuary powerhouses who have at least the power of the sanctuary. These people naturally have their own strengths, and Sean is with these In the process of fighting against each other, of course, he is constantly absorbing the combat experience he hadn't had before.

The one that has grown the most is his understanding of swordsmanship.

With Sean's current swordsmanship ability, even if he calls himself a master, it's not an exaggeration at all. Even from the so-called Sword Saints and Sword Emperors in this world, what is lacking is only the difference in strength. In terms of artistic conception and comprehension, Xiao En is no longer much weaker than these people.

So, even if Xiao En was only holding a wooden sword in his hand at this time, it would be easy for him to kill someone of Oriana's level.

"You are too deliberate." At this moment, looking at Oriana with a blank face, Sean said in a deep voice.

"Deliberately?" Oriana was taken aback.

"Hading taught your fighting skills and movements, right?" Sean asked.

Oriana nodded.

"This is where you will lose." Sean said lightly, "You are too deliberate to imitate Harding's fighting style. You know, Harding is different from you. Essentially, he is still human. , So the way of thinking is exactly the same as that of humans. He is very clear about the results of his attacks. But you are different. You just copied Harding's fighting style in the same way, but you don't know this way. What is the purpose of the attack."

Oliana also fell into silence when she heard Sean's words.

She recalled these words that Sean had said in her mind, and then printed her attack intentions one by one.

She didn't feel this way when she started her hand just now, but she calmed down and thought about it. She really didn't know why she did that when she attacked Sean just now. She just felt that the first time she had done it, she should choose the best. Explosive and menacing attack skills, and then imitate the movements that once saw Harding take a shot. But instinctively, she didn't think about how she would deal with it once she was broken.

This kind of attacking method that follows the same pattern is naturally promising against those who are not as strong as Oriana, but facing an opponent like Sean, there is no way.

After Oriana calmed down at this time, she realized that in fact, she didn't have to fight that much just now. She had many kinds of fighting skills and attack angles to choose from. She even thought about how she would respond if Sean broke the move in that way again.

"Do you want to understand?" Sean asked Olianna's eyes brighter and brighter.

"En." Oriana nodded, "Thank you, Master for your guidance."

"Since I have become your master, then I must do my duty." Xiao En's original serious face showed a rare smile at this time, "Actually, I think your previous fighting style is pretty good. , To fight according to the hunting instinct of predators, you have a more acute resilience than humans, I think you don't need to give up on this.... You just need to continue to study this aspect, and future achievements will not be. Where is it low?"

"I see." Oriana nodded seriously.

"But I do have a suggestion." Sean pondered for a while, and then said again, "I will tell you to listen to it, and you can think about it yourself.... I found that your explosive power is very good, and your speed is also very good. Advantages, the most important thing is that your dynamic vision is very good. I think you can try to learn sword skills..... This aspect is my profession after all. If you want to learn sword skills, I want to teach you easier. Some."

As a werewolf, Olianna can now transform into a human form, but if she wants to truly exert her full strength, she still has to change back to the form of a werewolf.

In the form of werewolf, the fighting method is naturally the way of fighting with the wolf-that is, basically relying on bites and claws. On this basis, if a werewolf learns to use weapons to fight, it is actually not very cost-effective. This is why all werewolves are more willing to learn boxing skills instead of sword skills, spear skills, and so on.

But at this time, in Olianna's body, what Sean saw was that she possessed very high agility and strength attributes, and she was also not weak in endurance attributes.

Leaving aside the attribute value of stamina, Oriana's high agility and high strength are destined to follow the swordsman route of high agility and high attack if she learns sword skills. This route was also the route that Sean initially tried to take in the game. It was only later that he was transferred to a double-edged warrior profession capable of offensive and defensive due to the needs of the team, and used it as the core to advance to Nine orders.

Looking at Olianna's thoughtful appearance, Sean said, "You don't need to rush to give me an answer to this matter. You can think about it yourself. Or, if you are interested, you can also try to learn swordsmanship from me. Whether you think it is appropriate to decide whether to specialize in swordsmanship."

"Okay." Perhaps it was the first time I heard Sean speak so happily, Oriana also answered carefully.

Seeing Oriana looked a little undecided, Sean didn't say anything, but just casually taught Oriana the basic skills of swordsmanship, then threw the wooden sword to her and sent her to play on her own. .

Skills transfer.

This is a system that has been in the game for a long time.

Low-level players can apprentice to another high-level player, and if the other player agrees, they will switch to the master-apprentice mode. In this mode, high-level players can choose to impart one of their own skills to low-level players, of course, this skill must meet the current level of needs of the player. And the skills taught cannot be passive skills, special skills, auxiliary skills, etc. They must be offensive skills.

Assuming that a high-level player has Tier 5 and Tier 6 skills, and the low-level player who apprentices is only a Tier 5 career, then the high-level player can only teach Tier 5 and Tier 6 skills. It cannot be taught. And if the classification of this Tier 5 skill is marked as [Special] or [Auxiliary], then this skill cannot be taught either.

This is the game to prevent players from using means to brush skills.

However, this is the situation in the game.

Based on what Shaun now knows about the world of wonders, he has roughly inferred some differences. So at this time, the two swordsmanship skills that Sean imparted to Olianna were Mysterious Swordsmanship. This skill can be said to be the core of all the swordsmanship skills of Sean today. If it were not for this skill, it would be impossible for Sean to sublimate his swordsmanship. The reason why he imparted this skill to Oriana was actually just to allow Oriana to have a better development platform.

Because of the effect of this skill, you only need to hold a long sword weapon. You can get the bonus of strength and agility.

If Oriana really intends to learn the skills of swordsmanship, then this skill will allow her to better develop on the route of high attack and high sensitivity swordsman.

Of course, this is not to say that once Shaun taught, Oriana could learn it immediately, if that was the case. Shaun was about to wonder if Oriana was also a player like herself. But in Sean's view. With Oriana's talent, it takes a year of hard training at the earliest to completely "activate" the effect of this skill.

Let Oriana go to practice by herself, and Sean ask Hitley to refresh Oriana from time to time to avoid her fatigue.

For this kind of work, Hitley was naturally very happy, so she did not hesitate to stare at Oriana's practice.

After a short while. Harding and Lanster appeared on the glass platform.

Seeing Oriana's training. Harding was visibly stunned for a moment, then turned his head and looked at Sean, a little puzzled in his eyes.

"You guy, you almost hurt Oriana." Sean curled his lips, then said, "If this guy runs to see you training in the future, you will blast her out for me."

"What's wrong?" Harding looked puzzled.

"During the time you stayed in the Mandong tribe, did Oriana often go to ask you about martial arts and combat skills?"

"Yes." Harding nodded. But I soon realized what Sean meant by saying, "You mean...she is imitating my fighting style?"

Shaun nodded. You have a look of IQ on your face: "I was here just now. I checked her training results a little bit, and it almost angered me."

"How is it?" Harding asked with interest.

"What else, it will be worse than in the Mandong tribe." Xiao En said lightly, "but I unexpectedly discovered some other benefits."

Harding turned her head to look at Olianna, and then said, "A talent for swordsmanship?"

"No." Sean shook his head. "She is only beginning to get in touch now, and I don't know if she has this talent. But if she can master the swordsmanship I taught her within a year, then she 'S talent is incredible....If it is within three years, it's okay, at least it proves that she has the talent in this area. If she hasn't learned it within three years, then I can only change a set of basic swordsmanship. She studies, or asks her to go back and practice martial arts."

"What's wrong with fisting." Hearing Sean's tone meant to belittle fisting, Harding immediately became unhappy. "Don't forget, in this situation, my martial arts are better than your swordsmanship. More suitable for combat."

"Okay, count me wrong, okay." Xiao En said helplessly, "Anyway, you will stare at me in the future, if she runs to watch your training again, you will tell me and watch me Don't beat her down at that time."

Harding shrugged noncommittal before turning his gaze to Oriana: "But you still don't know how talented she is for swordsmanship. Why do you think she is suitable for learning swordsmanship?"

"She is born with the speed and strength that an ordinary swordsman can achieve only after years of hard training, and the dynamic vision is also very good, which allows her to clearly capture the enemy's attack trajectory." Xiao En said indifferently. I have not forgotten that when he learned the skill [See Through] from Zudo, Zudo once said that one of the most important requirements of this skill is to have very good dynamic vision. "Of course, dynamic vision is something you can meet and you can't find. Either learning sword skills or other combat skills can play a huge role.... What really makes me think that she is suitable to be a swordsman is because of her natural speed and strength."

Shaun knew that Oriana had excellent dynamic vision, he was ready to teach Oriana to see through.

The relationship between him and Zuodu was just a transaction, so Zuodu chose to leave after adopting a wound in the void, and Xiao En did not keep him. After all, he had learned the ability to see through from Zudo, and as for him, it was not particularly important.

"But the way the werewolves fight..."

After all, Harding is a resident of the Underworld, and the werewolves are one of the six holy blood races in the Underworld that are as famous as the demons. Therefore, Harding naturally understands the fighting talents of the werewolves. In fact, even in the subterranean world, those genius-level werewolves who can transform into human form do not like to use weapons such as punching blades. And so on, because of this type of weapon, they can continue to hold them in their hands when they regain their werewolf form.

"If she can really master the swordsmanship I taught her, then she won't need to regain the werewolf form in the future." Sean said vigorously.

No one knows better than him, the mystery of swordsmanship. To change what kind of swordsmanship skills this is, it can be said to be the absolute golden finger of the swordsman profession.

You know, Sean is only training this skill to level 4, and he has already increased blackjack strength and agility. If he reaches the full level, judging by the current system increase method, at least it can be increased. Strength and agility at thirty-five points.

This increase data is almost equivalent to an increase in the blood of ten thousand people.

Harding also knew that Sean's sword skills were very powerful. Hearing Sean's words at this time, he thought about it for a while and thought that maybe it was indeed possible to do this, but he didn't say anything.

After waiting for about forty minutes again, Noro and Lanster finally appeared on the glass platform.

Originally, Sean wanted Lanster to dry his clothes before setting off, but Lanster himself didn't care about it. Perhaps it was because of the characteristics of the mermaid, which made him feel wet and more interesting, so Sean didn't insist anymore. After a few people prepared again, they began to move in the only passable direction in the corridor, but this time it was Lanster who walked in the forefront.

This corridor looks very quiet, but it is precisely because of this quiet that Xiao En and others dare not take it lightly.

"This is the sea sand promenade." Lanster said as he walked on the promenade. "At the end of this promenade is the gate of the mermaid capital.... But don't look at this promenade without guards. In fact, the promenade is full of sinkholes. If you accidentally step on the sinkhole, then no one can save you."

Hearing Lanster's words, Sean and the others felt tight.

What is under the sinkhole, everyone who has just gone through the deep sea channel naturally knows very well. If it really fell into a sinkhole as Lanster said, then it would definitely fall directly into the deep sea channel. Ten tons of seabed pressure is enough to make Sean and others directly crushed.

For a time, this seemingly peaceful corridor was like a murder trap that would swallow people at any time in the eyes of everyone.

Lanster looked at everyone cautiously and couldn't help but chuckle: "Don't worry too much, just follow me. Anyway, I am not afraid of falling into the deep sea channel, so you only need to walk through those I have stepped on. The place is just fine."

Hearing what Lanster said, everyone relaxed a little, but they were still paying attention.

After all, in the dungeon of Mermaid City, Sean had never been in the game before, so naturally he couldn't show the state of the unexplored prophet at this time.

Fortunately, there are no puppet guards on this road, so everyone does not have to worry about accidentally falling into the deep sea passage due to the outbreak of fighting on this corridor. Under the leadership of Lanster, there was an unpredictable advance all the way, and everyone finally came to a tall iron gate.

In the middle of this iron gate, the emblem of the Mermaid Empire is printed.

This badge, even after tens of thousands of years, is still shining at this time, and even to Sean and others, it feels full of historical heaviness.

"Behind the door is the real mermaid capital."

Standing in front of this iron gate, Lanster also showed an unprecedented seriousness.

The mermaid tribe, starting from the end of the dawn era, burst out in the twilight era, the most brilliant prosperous prosperity, even in the darkest age of ashes, the mermaid tribe still has not shown the slightest decline, they even relied on the protection of the gods to create a new one A huge empire: the second mermaid empire. Atlantis. It is a pity that because of the inherent weakness of the race, this mermaid empire, which was also extremely powerful in the Ash Age, was eventually broken by the iron hooves of humans, and the entire empire also sank to the bottom of the sea with the continent of Atlantis.

Along with the Lu Shen of the Atlantis Empire, the Marvel Continent finally ushered in a new era.

A chaotic era.

That is the best time and the worst time.

Countless heroes were born, shining, and fallen on this continent. They established countless countries, forces, and regimes. Nowadays, some countries have been named the most powerful empires, and some forces have become mysterious existences that everyone fears and talks about. Continuous development, inheritance and continuation of nothing.

History, heroes have always been regarded as success only.

Who would know that there is a person who, shouldering the hope and future of the entire race, came to an unfamiliar land, looking for the glory and pride that belonged to their race.

Lanster Galen Yelling, one of the few survivors from the mermaid clan.

Today finally stood in front of the royal capital that was once the most proud of their race.

Sean patted Lanster on the shoulder with some understanding, and smiled: "Open the door."

Lanster nodded a little excitedly, and then began to chant his spell.

The bard, nowadays, is often associated with many words such as spies, thieves, etc. But before the ancient times. Bards usually represent the most knowledgeable group of people, and they even have the same influence as a sage.

Lanster followed the oldest bard lineage, so the chanting of incantations was not a problem for him.

is just the syllables of the spell from his throat, but even Sean and Noro can't understand them.

This seems to be derived from an older mantra.

Sean guesses. This probably belongs to the dawn age. The language of the gods.

As Lanster's incantation chants became louder and louder, the eight-meter-high iron gate in front of Xiao En and others began to gradually emit a soft light. Pieces of rust suddenly peeled off this iron gate, revealing the true face of this iron gate in front of everyone.

This is a silver-white gate with a golden texture symmetrically distributed on the left and right sides of the gate. Although Sean couldn't understand the meaning of these golden textures, his instinct told him. It is best not to try to open this door by violent means. Otherwise, something unpleasant will definitely happen.

In the middle of this gate, there is a huge disk.

Drawing on the disc is the national emblem belonging to the First Mermaid Empire: it is a trident rising from the sea level, and lightning falls in the sky.

At this time, the lightning on the disc was emitting a soft brilliance, and then everyone heard a burst of clicks, and the disc seemed to be rotating. As the disc slowly turned, the door in front of everyone was slowly opening. It's just that the door that everyone imagined was completely opened and did not appear, only a slit that could accommodate one person to pass through was opened. This door will no longer open inward.

"Let's go in quickly." Lanster said with a pale face.

Hearing this, Sean knew that Lanster's opening method was wrong. So he no longer hesitated, and was the first to go in immediately.

Following Sean is Noro, then Harding.

According to the plan, the strongest Noro was responsible for the back of the palace, but because there is no danger here, the strongest Noro naturally shoulders the responsibility of expedition. It's just that Sean moved faster, so he was the second one to enter. After Harding entered, it was to better ensure the stability of the door. After all, in terms of strength, he was the real second person.

When Sean and the other three entered, the order of the following was much more arbitrary. But probably knowing that time can't be wasted, so Oriana waited for a second to see if Hitley didn't mean to enter, she immediately went through the crack of the door, then Hitley, and finally Lanster.

As Lanster also passed through the gate, the gate began to close again. It's just that the speed of closing is much faster than the speed of opening. In the blink of an eye, the door closed heavily, and there was even a deafening sound of closing the door.

is different from the mermaid capital that everyone imagines.

The world behind this gate is not like a city.

The location where Xiao En and others are at this time is an active and broad hall.

From visual inspection, it is about the size of a football field, but there are no high platforms and seats around it. However, there is a door at the end of the hall, but this door is not as high as the door when Xiao En and others came in, it seems to be more in line with the height of normal people; except for the door at the end of the hall There are three doors on each side of the whole hall.

The whole hall is like one, with a total of seven roads leading to different locations.

Shaun glanced at Lanster, his eyes full of questions.

"I don't know." Lanster smiled bitterly, "The map and information given to me by the elders of the clan ends here. I don't know where these doors lead to and what dangers are behind them."

"It seems that we have to start searching little by little." Sean shrugged, not disappointed.

As for the positioning of the copy, Xiao En, as a team leader, is naturally very clear.

Since this mermaid capital is a five-person dungeon, even if there are six people in Lanster, its difficulty cannot exceed a ten-person dungeon. Of course, the difficulty of the dungeon actually has five levels of difficulty: easy, normal, difficult, expert, and nightmare. Xiao En assumes that everything is the worst. He is psychologically prepared for the difficulty of the five-person dungeon to be a nightmare level.

For many people. A copy of the nightmare difficulty often means unlimited death and near-zero fault tolerance.

But for a veteran like Sean, the so-called nightmare difficulty is nothing more than a higher attack, a stronger defense, and a higher blood volume. As for the attack speed, attack distance, movement speed, etc., it is not normal under normal circumstances. What will change. This is a model design concept based on monsters. It's like a soldier. After he changed to a sharper weapon, his lethality would naturally increase, but his own attribute value did not change the slightest, so of course he couldn't directly become Superman.

Sean glanced at the surrounding situation, and then found that everyone was looking at him, seeming to be waiting for his orders.

At this moment, Sean suddenly had the same passion that he had when he opened up wasteland in the game.

"The information we have now. Just know that this place is the first imperial capital of the Mermaid tribe." Sean thought for a while. He decided to start with information sorting first. This was his habit when he led a group to open up wasteland and dungeons. "According to my understanding of the mermaid tribe, there are generally two most important secret areas in the capital, the secret vault and the treasure vault. , These two places are also the goals of our trip."

"Besides, Harding and Hitley have all experienced things from the previous outpost, so I think you should be clear that the merman is a race that drives various organ traps and all facilities with energy. Therefore, this merman capital There will definitely be at least two or more power energy rooms." Seeing everyone nodded slightly, indicating that they understood the goal of the trip. Xiao En continued to speak, "According to the mermaid's habits, these two energy rooms must be located on the left and right, one on each side.... Our top priority is to find these two energy rooms first and put them together. After the destruction, other explorations will be carried out."

Although Noro and Oriana didn't know anything about the energy room, they nodded.

And Harding, Hitley, and Lanster, who knew the importance of the energy room, looked a little ugly.

Especially knowing the characteristics of the connection between the mechanism puppet and the energy room, their faces are even more ugly.

"Well, anyway, we don't know where these rooms lead to, so let's pick one at random and start exploring." Of course, Sean knew why Lanster, Harding, and Hitley looked ugly, but at this time He was also quite helpless, so he could only pick a door at random, and then said, "Let's start from the middle left. I hope we have better luck and don't win the special prize in the first place."

As for Xiao En's words, everyone had no idea at this time anyway, so they had to nod their heads and follow Xiao En to the middle door.

was at a long distance before, and everyone did not find any special place.

After approached at this time, I realized that the materials for these doors were also not simple. The starting point was not a cold feeling, but a slightly hot touch. However, this kind of temperature did not affect Sean, so he quickly pushed the door open-unlike the heaviness he imagined, it was almost only when Sean applied a little force that the door was completely opened.

However, after the door was opened, what appeared in front of everyone was another corridor passage.

Only this time, this corridor can't accommodate eight people walking side by side, probably only three people side by side, and the height of the corridor is only three meters high. But from the decoration point of view, it is more luxurious than the sea sand corridor that everyone has walked through before, especially the night pearl that is as large as a basketball, which is almost every few meters, illuminating the entire corridor with a soft light. .

"Let's go." After taking a deep breath, Sean took the lead into this corridor.
