

Lord of War Vol 3-301

Chapter 301: .Seal [Second more]

Noro always felt that he was too hard, too pitiful, so why did he become such a master?

Although this is the first time that Noro has left the confinement space, and he has never seen people who leave that space will go back again, so in fact he doesn't know what happened to those who were lucky enough to leave. Such a master, but this does not prevent Noro from ever dreaming of having a perfect master.

Of course, he doesn't require the master to step on the colorful clouds and possess supernatural powers.

But Sean gave him a new understanding of the word "human".

"Perhaps, that guy is not human at all." Noro muttered, "He must have a demon blood in his body! Humph! If one day I can really cancel the contract, I must make him look good!"

"What are you doing!" Sean's voice came from behind Noro.

Then Noro shuddered subconsciously, and when he turned his head, a smile appeared on his face: "Nothing!"

At this time, Sean and Noro are separated by a long distance.

In literary words, he is standing at the end of the bridge, and Noro is standing at the end of the bridge, in the middle... across the entire central lake.

Sighed helplessly, Noro looked at the two pieces of earth fragments totaling 16 knots in front of him.

Standing on this cylindrical platform, the needle-like sense of crisis made him feel very uncomfortable, but Noro had no idea where the danger came from. The only thing he knew was that this feeling made him very uncomfortable, even when facing the Sacred Wall of Silver Splendor, he did not feel such a strong feeling. This feeling came from all directions, not just from which direction, so Noro had the illusion of being naked.

glanced at the surrounding situation again, and after confirming that there were no traces of any enemies around, Nuolo finally reached out and grabbed the two pieces of earth fragments.

The process is very smooth.

It went so well that even Noro was a little surprised.

The cold murderous intent around. It still maintained its original state, and it didn't change at all because Noro picked up the two pieces of earth. But at this moment, he really didn't want to stay here for a moment, so Noro immediately retreated without hesitation-because of long-term caution, Noro did not turn around and leave. But to borrow the outbreak of vindictiveness. The whole person leaped back quickly, and instantly opened a distance from the cylindrical platform.

But at this moment, the situation on the field suddenly changed!

The cylindrical platform that had lost the earth fragments suddenly burst open, and countless stones shot out like cannonballs.

A few of them were shot at Noro, forming a dense shot.

Nolo is worried. It's just an unknown danger.

But this kind of visible and tangible attack. Noro didn't care at all. Immediately, his mind sank, and he waved his left hand holding the black king, turning into a sword screen and blocking it in front of him, blocking the first stone that came oncoming.

But when the blade hit the stone, Noro's face changed slightly.

Because of the heavy power coming from the stone, it almost made Noro unable to hold the Black King in his hand. But even so, Noro still suffered a small loss, albeit not very serious. But for a while, there was a rush of blood in Noro's body - if it wasn't for Noro's reaction fast enough, even if he had to hold the Black King at the cost of being shocked. Now the long sword in Noro's hand will be completely knocked off.

With this first experience, Noro naturally didn't dare to block these stones, but used a more ingenious capacity technique to pick up all the remaining stones.

After the stone pillars shattered, the land in the center of the lake vibrated for a while.

This tremor quickly affected the entire central lake. The ripples visible to the naked eye began to roll over the entire central lake, and then gradually turned into a huge vortex. The waterline of the entire lake suddenly dropped a few millimeters, and then a huge vortex appeared on the lake, and it rotated at an alarming speed, and the more it turned, the faster the precipitation on the lake surface.

It seems that the entire central lake is draining normally.

"What's going on?" I don't know who it is, and let out an exclamation, but it sounds like he's asking Lanster.

"I...I don't know." Lanster's face was filled with confusion.

The momentum is so great that it has far surpassed everyone's cognition.

At this moment, no one knows what happened here, even Sean is a little confused. But the only thing he knew was that the two pieces of earth weren't beautiful, they were actually used to "suppress" something.

There is nothing more effective than using rules to suppress.

Because no matter how heavy things are, they will always have a weight, and as long as things have weight, then some clever means can be used to avoid these weights. The most typical of them is the principle of leverage. But if the law is used to directly suppress it, then the only way to crack it is to master and have a more powerful force than the law.

These two pieces of earth exist as things like paperweights.

But soon, Sean realized that this cylindrical platform definitely had more than two pieces of earth fragments at the beginning, but more pieces. It's just that the things suppressed here have never given up, so these earth fragments will be consumed one after another. This is also the reason why Noro was able to pick up a small piece of debris when he came here.

As if to prove Sean's conjecture.

When the water of the entire central lake is completely emptied, the appearance of the entire central lake is completely exposed to everyone.

It was the remains of countless mechanism puppets, densely piled into one piece, perhaps because of the result of the great vortex just now. At this time, all the mechanism puppets were gathered in one place, and it looked like a mechanical mountain. Same. But because of this, it naturally exposed the large magic circle painted on the bottom of the lake.

Sean does not know the magic circle, but this does not prevent him from knowing the power of the magic circle.

All the land at the bottom of the lake has been engraved with the pattern of the magic circle- this is the most standard ancient magic circle, which is different from the magic circle that has been simplified today. The ancient magic array is composed of magic nodes, magic transmission paths, magic cores, etc. Generally, it is necessary to judge whether a magic array is a powerful magic array by looking at its magic nodes and magic core.

At the moment of the magic circle at the bottom of the lake, Sean can't even see the whole picture, just an area within his line of sight, there are as many as three hundred and sixty magic nodes, and there are even more than fifty magic cores. If deduced from the content of this area, the magical power nodes of the entire lake bottom magic circle must be at least more than three thousand six hundred, and the magic core acting as a transfer station must have more than five hundred!

This type of magic circle, Sean has only seen it in one place!

Utopia!

"Crack!"

The vibration continued, but this very slight cracking sound abruptly resounded throughout the space.

Immediately afterwards, a crack appeared in the magic circle at the bottom of the lake.

The appearance of this crack also advertised the complete failure of the entire magic circle.

There was originally a magic circle that was shining brightly. After this crack appeared, the light of the entire magic circle began to dim quickly. And as the light of the magic circle began to dim, countless cracks began to appear on this huge magic circle, but in just a few seconds, the entire magic circle at the bottom of the lake was completely occupied by the traces of cracks. It seems that the entire magic circle has clearly become fragmented.

The next moment, the light emitted from this huge magic circle was completely extinguished.

Along with a loud roar, all the structures of the entire magic circle were completely exploded into countless powder at this moment, and even the wreckage of the mechanism puppets could not be spared. Under the sound of this huge explosion, everything on the bottom of the lake was vaporized. A blazing high temperature also rose from the bottom of the lake. In an instant, the temperature in the entire courtyard rose by at least a dozen degrees. The most terrifying thing is that all the flowers and plants in this courtyard wither quickly at this moment.

A strong smell of sulfur filled the air.

Shaun's face changed drastically.

High temperature! sulfur!

Thinking with his toes, Sean also knows what it means.

These characteristics appear in only two places in the entire world: Either the abyss or hell!

The sound of clicking is still ringing non-stop.

This time, the place of rupture is no longer the underground, but the pavilion of the entire central lake.

After all the lake water disappeared, everyone could see that the land where the pavilion was located was also a stone pillar, and the stone pillar was still very thick.

But now, this stone pillar is densely covered with cracks. And as the cracks continued to spread, countless small stones also fell from the cracks, but these cracks have not fallen to the end, they have completely vaporized in the air. Obviously, the current position of the lake bottom may not be anything. Good place.

Shaun's face has turned pale.

No matter how arrogant he is, he does not feel that he can cross the two realms of Sanctuary and Legend to challenge a commander-level creature.

It hasn't appeared yet. Just breaking the seal has become so strong, and even has a faint aura to project the breath of another plane onto the main world. This situation is only possessed by the **** or abyssal creatures that dominate this level. .

But whether it is the demon leader or the devil leader, this is not an existence that Sean can deal with!

Chapter 302: .Desperate 【third more】

At this time, in this courtyard, the sulfur breath has become heavier and heavier, and all the precious flowers and plants have all withered and died, but fortunately, neither the devil magma nor the devil's sea of fire have appeared yet, so everyone is still able to move freely. . But once these two unique plane factors from the abyss and **** were projected into this world, then it might not be easy for Sean and others to leave.

Because in this area, it will soon become the demon, or the home of the devil.

Fight against demons and demons in the home court of Hell Projection or Abyss Projection? As long as the brains are not broken, they will never do this, because in this area, the fighting power of demons and demons will be strengthened to a certain extent, which is why those expeditions to the abyss and **** are always only in Only when the individual level is one or two levels higher than that of the devil and the devil, he will be singled out with them.

At this time, after the dark creature imprisoned here breaks the seal, it will undoubtedly use this as a forward base, completely stabilize the passage between the two planes, and then continue to move towards this The plane sends a large amount of troops to invade the miracle continent.

If it were the devil, the situation would be a little better.

As beings biased towards order, they will only assimilate the entire plane and pull it into the plane of hell, becoming another space similar to a colony. But at least, the human beings living in this world might still be able to find a way out of this plane. Of course, even if a war breaks out, but at least even if it is won, this plane will not be destroyed too thoroughly, as long as a certain period of rest and rejuvenation, it may still be able to recover.

But if it is a demon, then the situation is terrible.

Demons, creatures that only know about destruction, they will completely destroy the entire plane. Pour demon magma on this world, fill the whole world with sulfur and darkness, and turn this world into a place suitable for demons to live in, and become a new layer of demonic plane. In the war against the devil, as long as more than half of the plane's territory is occupied. Then even if the final war can be won. Successfully repel the devil, the plane of this world will be severely damaged and unable to recover, then the survivors will only have two fate.

Either break through the barriers of the plane and seek another habitat; or they can only wait for death in this plane.

Shaun now finally knows why the law of the earth should be used to suppress this seal.

Because apart from the laws of the earth, I am afraid that no law can effectively suppress the existence of this commander-level. But even if it is the laws of the earth, look at the only two laws of the earth remaining on the cylindrical platform. Obviously, at most, he can only suppress this guy for 10,000 to 20,000 years. At that time, he will still break the seal, descend on this world, and then connect the passages of the two planes.

Sean's move to take away the two pieces of earth only only brought the time forward by 10,000 or 20,000 years.

But if you want to talk about the difference, there must be some.

After ten or twenty thousand years, when this demon leader breaks the seal and appears, no one in the whole world will know. But now, as long as Sean and others can leave here alive. Then the whole world will immediately know that a demon leader-level existence has appeared, and is working hard to build an outpost. Prepare to invade the Marvel Continent.

So the most critical place right now is to leave here alive!

"Go!" Sean roared without hesitation.

They must take advantage of the fact that the projection of this alien plane is not completely complete, and Sean and others have not been shocked and suppressed, leave here immediately, otherwise they will wait until the other party appears completely and the projection of the different world is completely projected successfully. , Then Xiao En and others can't leave if they want to leave.

"Where to go?" As a clergyman, Hitley felt most deeply about the aura of demons and demons. At this time, he had begun to tremble.

Hearing Hitley's words, everyone remembered that their exploration of this mermaid capital had just begun, and they had not figured out how to leave here.

Back to the same way?

This is not bad, but probably only Lanster can leave. The pressure of that deep-sea channel, even Noro couldn't bear it, I'm afraid he would be crushed to pieces as soon as he entered.

"Go to the place where the Sacred Wall of Silverlight comes out!" Xiao En shouted, and then ran right away.

The others were taken aback for a moment, and then immediately followed them and ran.

At this moment, they can only choose to believe in Sean.

In fact, Sean would choose this direction, not that he had chosen blindly, but had his own speculation.

In history, the Sacred Wall of Silver did not appear here, but somewhere on the Marvel Continent. And Sean is also convinced that no one has ever explored the mermaid capital—especially at this moment, after discovering this demon creature that is at least a commander-level creature, Sean is more determined by this fact. With the player's greedy habit, absolutely no player can resist touching the earth fragments on the cylindrical platform, and as long as the thing is touched, the demon will be released.

Therefore, there is only one explanation for the appearance of the Holy Wall of Silverlight on the Marvel Continent.

In the game at that time, the series of quest lines born by Lanster was interrupted by Lanster's death. Therefore, in order to make up for the "remains completely closed" caused by the death of Lanster, the system automatically opened a certain teleportation array in this mermaid capital—you know, the teleportation array was originally invented by the mermaid empire. , So this mermaid has a teleportation array, and it is not impossible.

After the teleportation array was opened, all the mechanism puppets in the mermaid capital must have also followed this teleportation array to leave. At that time in the mermaid city, the Sacred Wall of Silver must have existed as the guardian of the teleportation formation. Now that Xiao En and others have solved the mechanism puppet, there must be no one to guard the teleportation formation, so Xiao En waited People will naturally be able to leave here through this teleportation array.

I have to say that Sean's reasoning is the most correct player's thinking—and in fact, his reasoning is indeed correct.

Everyone, under the leadership of Xiao En, quickly passed through the passage, and then came to a place similar to a church. It's just that the furnishings of this sanctuary are very simple, and you can't see the unique luxury of the mermaid tribe. On the contrary, they even saw a destructive appearance similar to a panic fleeing. But at this moment, everyone just wanted to escape, and they would care about the environment of this temple. Almost everyone's eyes were focused on the magic circle of this temple.

This is also a magic circle that looks very complicated.

But as everyone who has used the teleportation magic circle, they can still see at a glance that this magic circle is a magic circle dedicated to teleportation.

But after seeing this teleportation magic circle, everyone's face is hard to look.

Sean's reasoning is correct, and his thoughts are correct, but the only thing he calculates wrong is that the teleportation magic circle has been shut down!

"We should have brought Cecilia." Hitley said weakly.

Shaun really had a feeling of darkness before his eyes.

Except for Hitley and Lanster, which one of the people present can not exist with one enemy and many? The combat effectiveness of this team is simply tyrannical to an outrageous level, especially with Hitley, everyone will never die as long as they are not mortal injuries. And to explore this mermaid capital, in this place full of rich water elements, even if Cecilia came, there was no way to exert much combat power. This was also the reason why Sean did not bring Cecilia.

But who would have thought that after they came here, they unexpectedly opened the seal of a demon's command by mistake.

You can turn it on when you say it's turned on!

We can't beat, can we always run away?

But in the current situation, the magic circle is turned off!

Without certain knowledge of magic, it is impossible to turn on a magic circle that is in a closed state.

Hearing Hitley's heartfelt voice at this time, Sean really felt very misguided. Of course, he also knew that Hitley's words at this time were just her thoughts based on a natural reaction, not intended to hurt morale or blame Sean. After all, you can't make any excessive demands on a natural stay.

But Sean still really wants to vomit blood.

"It seems that our luck really ends here." Sean sighed.

The others are also silent.

And at this moment, a system beep suddenly sounded in Xiao En's mind.

At this moment, Sean's eyes brightened astonishingly.

The system prompt sound is such a coincidence that for Sean, it is no less than the sound of heaven. So he couldn't wait to open the system panel and inquired what the system prompt sounded at this time.

But when he checked it, the dark depression and pain in front of him became even more obvious.

Because at this time, the content displayed on the system prompt is that Sean's quest to explore the Mermaid City failed!

The punishment for failure is that Sean can't wait to get the system out and beat him up.

【Task Punishment: Remove the seal of Elken, the Lord of Pride. 】

[00:07:37 is left from the arrival of the lord of arrogance. Elken. 】

Believe it or not, I vomit blood to show you! ——Sean really wants to shout such a sentence at this moment.

He thought that the imprisoned was just a commander-level demon creature, but now this Nima is actually the seventh existence second only to the big devil, and it is also the arrogant lord who ranks second in overall combat power among the seven deadly sins. . The advent of this thing, let alone the main body, just a projection clone, the strength is not necessarily weaker than the demon leader!

"Lanster! You will now return to me the same way, and then leave through the Haitian Pass!"

Shaun, already thinking of doing a good fight!

Chapter 303: . Countermeasures [fourth more]

The Seven Demon Kings are the existence in the abyss second only to the Great Demon King. They are incarnations of the seven deadly sins as the source of power.

are the angry tyrant, the arrogant lord, the lazy king, the jealous evil god, the greedy demon, the gluttonous emperor, and the **** and desire demon.

The seven demon kings, even if they are only a projection clone, have the strength not weaker than the demon leader. And the demon leader, converted into the strength class of the miracle continent, is the existence of the fourteenth order. If you encounter the demon leader in the abyss area, it is impossible for a super power of non--16 strength to win in a single fight. The demon ruled. In other words, even the projection of the Seven Demon Kings is at least equivalent to the existence of the fourteenth order.

If is the main body, I am afraid it must be a sixteenth level or higher existence.

Among them, the angry tyrant, the arrogant lord, and the lazy king are among the top three in the seven demon kings, and their strength is roughly equivalent to the seventeenth or even the eighteenth. According to the home court rules of the law of projection of the plane, if the body of the Lord of Pride descends, its strength may be equivalent to the nineteenth to the twentieth level. Even if Sean has been locked up for too long, like Lake, that his strength has been weakened, but under the aura of the abyss plane, he is at least equivalent to a 17th or 18th rank powerhouse. It is already stronger than the average super power.

Even if Sean wants to fight to the death, he probably won't be enough for the opponent.

Because the strongest Noro among his side only has the strength of Tier 10.

Lanster finally reluctantly chose to leave under Sean's continuous roar. Of course, this departure was not voluntary, but was ordered by Sean to be taken away by Harding directly, and then thrown into the deep sea channel. Go inside. Of course, there is not much beauty in this process. With Harding's method, it must be directly stunned and taken away. And I am afraid that when Lanster wakes up, this place will have become a battlefield.

"Do you know what's going on?" Noro glanced at Sean.

"It's none of Lanster's business." Sean said in a deep voice.

At this moment, although he was ready to fight to the death, he did not give up the idea of survival. He has already used the last survival hole card, this is whether this hole card can succeed. Really look at the face. So Sean didn't actually have much hope, he just regretted it.

If he was reluctant or really faced death, Sean was actually a little scared.

But he has no regrets.

And regret, it's just regret that I probably failed to meet Cecilia for the last time.

Hearing Sean's words, Noro fell silent.

Hitley and Oriana are a bit unclear, but seeing Noro's slightly gloomy expression, they both are not easy to ask. But with Oriana's shrewdness. I probably understand why Sean asked Harding to take Lanster away. Because if Lanster is allowed to stay here, I'm afraid Noro will kill Lanster before waiting for that arrogant master to kill him.

"He didn't lie." As if feeling the restlessness in Noro's heart, Sean said lightly, "These are the things of his ancestors, he just came here to look for things left by his ancestors.... Those two pieces. We took the earth fragments, but he didn't let us take them."

Noro gave Sean angrily. Then he said: "I know....that's..."

"Unhappy." Sean replied for Noro. "It's nothing to be bothered.... Lanster's family. It's the Guardian family. I just understand it now.... It's impossible to seal a demon here here. No one is guarded. Lanster's family exists to guard this seal, but it seems... His family may have encountered some great disaster, which caused the inheritance to be interrupted, so a lot of history is not known.

Now... Lanster only knows that his clan veteran asked him to come here to find something, but in fact they don't even know what they are looking for."

"You know?" Noro let out a cold snort.

"Of course." Sean nodded, "I can already guess what the mermaid's heart Lanster is looking for.... That thing should be placed in a library or something, but it's a pity at the beginning We didn't realize it, so we ran in the wrong direction, otherwise such a big trouble wouldn't happen.... That's why I said, I can't blame Lanster, he doesn't know anything, but I'm cheap. ."

Nolo snorted and said nothing.

"Actually, I should have thought of it a long time ago." Xiao En sighed, "There is nothing in the entire Mermaid Capital. This is obviously abnormal. In other words, after the destruction of the First Mermaid Empire, someone must have entered here. , And everything is searched. That's why we will find nothing, and even see a lot of tattered things..."

"For example, the passage of the dark sword?"

"Almost." Sean nodded. The corridor gave him something very strange at the beginning, but he didn't think about it at first, so he ignored the feeling. At this time, thinking about it seriously, Xiao En found out that the reason why the night pearls in the second half of the corridor were dimmed was to prove that someone had been here and accidentally turned on the mechanism, which led to that one. The corridor changes.

"If our goal at the beginning is to go to the Mermaid Library, we might be able to find some clues about the Mermaid Capital, but it's a pity..." Xiao En sighed helplessly, "I just want to search here. A lot of things have been overlooked... and when I was dissecting the Sacred Wall of Silver, four skill crystals in it were destroyed. I should know that it must have gone through battle.... Forget it, now It's useless to say that, let's find a way to get out of here."

Olianna, at this time, finally understood some of the content, and roughly understood what Lanster was playing in this matter. In fact, this matter is really not about Lanster's business. It can only be said that Sean and the others are unlucky. They did not expect the water in this mermaid capital to be so deep, so some accidents happened by mistake.

But Olianna understands it, it doesn't mean Hitley understands it.

She was looking nervously at the door of the church, fearing that the panic that would make him feel filled in the next second.

After Shaun finished speaking, he stopped talking, but was still busy in this temple.

He really hasn't given up.

He is a player, not a native of this world. He knows that he has a "system" cheat device, and the design in the game will not be a completely desperate design. There will always be some way out for the player to leave-Xiao En always feels that he should be involved in the main line of a certain evolutionary historical development task, and this kind of main line will always leave a way for the player.

As for those who have no way out, it is obviously impossible for players to accept it-at least, it is because the level is not enough, so the next task link cannot be started.

So although Sean seems to be busy, in fact, he is not really busy, he is just looking for clues.

Looking for clues that can see the magic circle. As long as this clue can be found, Sean feels that even without Cecilia, he should be able to find a way out.

Of course, at this moment, Sean still feels that not taking Cecilia is simply a failure in his life.

"What are you looking for?" Noro finally couldn't help but speak.

"Clues to leave here." Xiao En frowned and said, "I don't believe that there will be no way out here....The guys in the Mermaid City are very savvy, and there must be some secret way to escape in it... We..."

Speaking of this, Xiao En suddenly froze, and then suddenly slapped himself.

Such a strong reaction, even the others around were shocked.

"What's the matter?" Hitley said with a nervous look, and subconsciously accumulated a light of life-this is the only means of attack by the pastor of the Life Church, of course, it can only be used against people like Harding or the undead. Creatures are effective. For humans, elves and other creatures, this is a magical technique similar to healing.

Hitley, suspected that Sean was possessed.

"I actually forgot the most important thing!" Sean stood up, then immediately turned around and ran towards the passage outside the church, "Olianna, stay here with Hitley, don't mess around. Run, this temple has a shelter effect, I think it should be able to protect you for a period of time."

"Where are you going?" Noro chased after him and asked.

"Go to the Guardian." Sean said without looking back.

"Guardian?" Noro was a little unsure, so, "There are still guardians alive in this mermaid capital?"

"There are none alive, but there are at least a bunch of dead!" Xiao En said in a deep voice, and his gaze was now on the third item in the taskbar.

【Task objective 3: Without disturbing the guardian spirits, obtain the mermaid crown. 】

Although the status currently displayed for this task is "Failed".

But what Xiao En would think about was that he was no longer holding the mermaid crown, but was going to alarm the guard hero. He doesn't know the strength of this guarding heroic spirit, but since this product can be used as the guardian of the Mermaid Clan's highest treasure, the "Mermaid Crown", then the strength is definitely stronger than the Silver Sacred Wall, maybe even stronger than No. 1. . Even if it is not the opponent of Elken, the Lord of Pride, but Sean believes that this product can at least delay Elken for a while.

With this little time, Sean believes that he will definitely find a way to leave.

What he lacks most now is time!

In fact, Sean is still thinking at this time, if it is not arrogance, but laziness, then it would be great.

Although the King of Laziness is also one of the Seven Demon Kings, and ranks third in combat power, this guy will at least not start a fight casually. Xiao En believed that with his own flickering technique, he could still make the lazy king return to the abyss plane and continue to be the master of the delicious laziness.

is the lord of arrogance. Elken?

Shaun thinks it is better to trick the Guardian out.

Chapter 304: .Guardian Spirit [Fifth more]

Where can I find the Guardian Spirit?

Others may have to visit the entire mermaid capital, but for Sean, there is absolutely no such trouble.

There is a demon king in the central courtyard, and the road on the right is the teleportation magic circle that leaves the mermaid capital-Sean understands this as an emergency passage. Then according to this layout, the position of the guardian spirit is naturally the passage behind the central courtyard.

Nolo followed Xiao En back to the position of the central courtyard at this time, the sulfur breath from the abyss became more obvious, and even had a somewhat choking burning sensation. After all, Noro is a strong sanctuary. At this time, the smell of sulfur is not that serious. He can still resist it, while Sean is a player. Basically, even if he will be affected, he won't have any sequelae. problem.

However, when the two of them looked towards the central courtyard, they could still see that the huge stone pillar was on the verge of being completely shattered.

Shaun glanced at the time, less than two minutes left.

As for the central lake, magma has already begun to appear at this moment.

It seems that the magma is seeping out bit by bit from the bottom, as if the core of the crust is under the lake. But in fact, these magma are projected bit by bit from the abyss plane, and as the distance between the two different planes gets closer, when the projection of the abyss plane overlaps with the current world, this magma The diffusion speed will become faster.

Similarly, the entire world's environmental transformation will become faster.

At that time, with this central courtyard as the core, the entire mermaid capital will slowly be assimilated into the abyss plane.

Shaun did not continue to look at these, but ran toward the rear at an accelerated rate.

No matter what price he pays, he must activate the guardian spirit, only in this way can he buy time for them to leave here. And Sean would have this idea, very simple-he is a player after all. Unlike the aboriginal people, hearing strange creatures such as demons and demons would be frightened and frightened, and had no idea what to do.

With the prompt function of the system, Sean knows that many things are turning around.

It's a pity that Sean's comprehension is still a bit late.

After all, this world has influenced and assimilated Sean. There are still some.

At least if it was in the game. When Sean heard the system prompting him that the mission failed, and the mission penalty was to release the Lord of Pride, Sean would definitely notice the countdown for the first time. Because generally speaking, task punishments are instantaneous, and there is rarely such a delayed effect. If a task has such a delayed effect, it means that the task is not actually a failure. There are still many opportunities.

certainly. In the game, it's okay for the player to fail the mission, even if the player dies, it's only annoying at most.

The task was given seven minutes, which was obviously to give Sean a time for preparation and buffering, allowing him to provide a certain reaction time for the complete arrival of the Lord of Pride. As for what to do during this reaction time, although the system did not give a clear reminder, it also hinted to Sean: releasing the guardian spirit. Then think of a way to leave the mermaid capital.

It's a pity that Sean didn't notice it at first.

But fortunately. It's not too late to find out at this time.

Shaun has already turned over all the cards that can increase the speed. At this point, even Noro can't be faster than Shaun.

Soon, the two people passed the corridor and came to the back of the central courtyard.

This is also a huge space.

It's just that this space is more shocking than the central courtyard.

But for Sean and Noro at this time, under this shock, there is more of a kind of excitement.

Because at this time, what is presented to Xiao En and others is a huge drill field.

This is a training ground unique to the Mermaid Empire.

On this training ground, Xiao En saw four legion-type organ puppets holding different banners.

Lion and Scorpion Legion, Fengshen Legion, Ice Crystal Legion, Hunter Legion.

These are the four legions known as the strongest in the First Mermaid Empire.

In the past, if the Second Mermaid Empire had the four most powerful legions of the Mermaid Empire, then it would not be destroyed by the humans later.

At this time, although the number of puppets of the four legions in this training ground is not very large, if the four legions are put together, they will still be at least two thousand in size. According to Sean's data on the Mermaid Empire, the combat power level of these four legions may not be weaker than that of the eighth or ninth level army-even though each legion retains only one strong combat unit at this time. However, it is no longer a problem to deal with ordinary legendary powerhouses with pure legion combat power.

Of course, if these four legions are allowed to fight Elken, then it's definitely not enough.

But even Elken, who wants to solve all the puppets of the four legions, can never end the battle within ten minutes.

However, it can be used as a means to suppress the Lord of Pride and to provide survivors of the Mermaid Capital with time to escape. Obviously, there are more than just these four legions on this training ground.

Behind the phalanx of the four legions, there is a three-story high platform similar to an altar.

However, the area of this high platform is not small, of course, the height is not as simple as only three floors.

Even with Sean's visual inspection, it is possible to see that this high platform is at least 30 meters high.

Located on the second floor of the high platform, there are four puppets with peculiar shapes. However, the appearance of these four organ puppets is not ordinary at all, but they have a lot in common with the Sacred Wall of Silver Splendor. There is no doubt that these four mechanism puppets must be special type mechanism puppets, but even Sean can't remember the numbers of all the special type mechanism puppets. He just recognized that one of them was twenty. Number seven.

On the third floor of the high platform, there is only one mechanism puppet sitting on a throne.

This mechanism puppet is very different from ordinary mechanism puppets.

It was wearing a set of armor that exuded bright golden light, and on the left waist, it was tied with two arc knives, and a long golden hair fell behind it. The whole form seemed to be filled with a sacred and awe-inspiring majesty. Even if he was just looking at it from a relatively far distance, Sean felt a slight tingling sensation in his eyes, which made him subconsciously just look at it. You must bow your head and avoid it and dare not continue watching.

This puppet is no longer weaker than the ordinary legendary strong man in its power alone. At this time, Xiao En's heart turned up a storm.

Of course, what is even more shocking is that Sean has seen the position of the mermaid crown.

is worn on the head of this mechanism puppet.

Obviously, this mechanism puppet is probably the so-called guardian hero.

In the third mission objective, it is ridiculous that Xiao En should take away the mermaid crown on his head without disturbing this organ puppet! Xiao En felt a tingling in his eyes even when he looked at the opponent, and it was an impossible task to try not to disturb the opponent to take the mermaid crown.

Of course, at this moment, Sean's heart is still a little weird.

The mermaid clan has never been born even a legendary powerhouse.

However, these organ puppets created have the combat power of the sanctuary and even the legend. This has to be said to be a great irony.

But ironically, with the collapse of the first mermaid empire, after the second mermaid empire lost the inheritance of the mechanism puppet manufacturing technology, the highest achievements of the mechanism puppets remanufactured were only equivalent to the middle sanctuary. The special type organ puppets, even those legion-type organ puppets made later, are not as strong as one-half of the strength of the first mermaid empire.

But at this moment, it is not the time to make Sean feel.

He immediately took a step forward without hesitation.

But this step was taken. A sense of fear of death instantly enveloped Xiao En's body, almost instantly, Xiao En's face suddenly turned white, and his whole body was also wet with sweat. And Nuolo looked even more like a big enemy. He looked at the organ puppet that was still sitting on the throne hundreds of meters away with a horrified expression on his face.

"Human, this is not where you should set foot."

A majestic and strong voice echoed on the training ground.

With the sound of this sound, the four organ puppets on the second-story high platform also raised their heads, looking directly at Xiao En and Noro, and the awe-inspiring murderous intent became more intense in an instant. But this was not over yet. A burst of peculiar organ noises sounded one after another, and the four legion organ puppets that were originally in a dormant state also slowly moved, and a tragic aura radiated from the organ puppets of these four legions. Out.

Such a strong aura, but it seems to be condensed into one body, and it is completely insensible that it is emitted by many organ puppets.

But what really stunned Sean was not that these organ puppets could exude such a strong aura, but that the organ puppet sitting on the throne was able to speak!

Suppressing the inner shock and holding back the pressure that almost made Sean's spirit collapse, Sean said in a deep voice, "It's not that I want to step here, but I have to step here! ... disturbed I am deeply sorry for your peaceful sleep, but...I am here at this time to bring your mermaid orphans' orders. I am entrusted by others!"

Nolo was a little shocked in his heart, but more of it was that he finally knew why he was under the command of this master to turn around.

In terms of the degree of shame, and the ability to talk about words, Sean is definitely a super power.

Sure enough, after hearing what Shaun said, the murderous spirit that enveloped Shaun and Noro was slightly weakened: "How can I believe you?"

"The seal of the lord of arrogance has been broken!"

Chapter 305: .Task link? [Sixth more]

Shaun has been playing the magic stick for so many years, of course, he is not in vain.

He knows very well what the highest state of the **** stick is.

That is to say a right sentence at the right time, and then just keep smiling is enough.

So, facing the question of the guardian hero, Sean replied while watching the countdown to the arrogant lord breaking the seal. Of course, he did not show that mysterious smile at this time. Even if it is a smile, it must depend on the occasion-at this time, there is still a mysterious smile that is unpredictable, and Sean feels that he will definitely be slapped to death by the other party.

Sure enough, when Sean was stuck in a second to finish that sentence, the strong momentum that Elken, the Lord of Pride, exuded when he broke the seal, swept away in an instant.

The guardian spirit sitting on the throne, his face changed slightly: "This is impossible!...How could Elken break the seal 20,000 years in advance?"

Hearing these words, Xiao En's heart really froze.

Lanster's family status as the guardian was completely confirmed by Sean at this time.

Obviously, someone from Lanster's family had entered here back then, and I'm afraid he knew that the Lord of Pride was sealed here. But after they went back, they didn't know what happened in the middle, which caused Lanster's tribe to cut off its heritage and history, so Lanster's tribe elders would let Lanster take over as the tribe's patriarch. Lanster came to the Mermaid City.

The mermaid's heart that Lanster is looking for is not a piece of equipment, but a historical book that should be stored in the library of the mermaid capital.

Such historical books are naturally very important to the mermaid clan. It might even be possible that Lanster only knew that what he was looking for was a book, but he couldn't even tell the specific book. That's why when Sean asked him, he always hesitated--not that he didn't want to say it, but that he didn't even know it.

And now, hearing the words of the guardian hero, Sean was at least certain. His task flow did not go wrong.

The Lord of Pride. Elken's unblocking. If you want to have a confrontation, you must enter this training ground. Only here can the next task link be triggered-but what makes Sean uncomfortable is that these tasks are all without task prompts, and they can only move forward like a blind man. And the most serious thing is that in this kind of blind exploration, as long as you take a wrong step. That is the end of death!

Sean was a bit resentful. But he couldn't say anything, who made him feel bad.

Fortunately, he had already prepared, and had hidden the two pieces of earth in his storage ring, and had not put it outside. The power of the law of the earth fragments is so obvious, if you don't use space props to isolate, once this guardian spirit finds that he liberated Elken, maybe the other party slaps him to death. So people like Sean who are not afraid of 10,000 but just in case, of course, prepare well in advance.

"Who actually took the law of the earth!" The guardian hero had already stood up. That monstrous aura suddenly surged out, "Why can't I feel the other guards?...Silver Sacred Wall was actually killed? Could it be that which demon entered here?"

Shaun lowered his head with some guilty conscience.

very good. He now knows that the function of the Sacred Wall of Silver Splendor is to protect the column platform. If it hadn't been for Nuolo to have been to the vicinity of the cylindrical platform, and after all, he had taken away a piece of earth fragments, I am afraid that the Sacred Wall of Silver would not appear in front of everyone because of this, and he would directly engage with Nuolo as soon as he appeared on the stage. However, at this time, Sean still has the mind to push back on the quest link inside-he guessed that if the Holy Wall of Silver Splendor is not activated, and the earth fragment is not taken, I am afraid that he can really protect the heroic spirit without disturbing it. Under the circumstances, take down the mermaid holy crown.

The task has never given a mortal result. There are only two possibilities for the mortal result.

Either the player's own strength is not enough, or the player is killed by himself.

"Did you see anyone else on the way here?" The guardian spirit sitting on the throne had already stood up, and walked step by step towards the two of Sean and Noro in the air." Someone must have taken the fragments of the earth, otherwise Elken could not be liberated."

Sean's face was not red and his heart was not beating, and said: "When we entered here, we only saw the fragments of the mechanism puppets, and at that time, Elken was already in a state of being unsealed....We have been to the sanctuary. By the way, the magic circle has been closed. I'm afraid someone used the magic circle to leave after taking away the earth fragments you mentioned....We don't have a magician, so we can't trace it back, so we can only come to you. NS."

"Damn it!" The guardian spirit did not doubt Sean, "Then what about the orphans of my clan!?"

"I have told him to return to the deep sea channel and leave. He must pass the news of Elken's appearance to the entire continent!" Sean looked awe-inspiring, "We didn't expect this to happen at all, we thought it's just a very simple task, so we didn't go with the magician.... If Lanster can leave smoothly, at least it would be a good thing, because the people on the mainland must know the news of Elken's appearance.... As for us, even if we can only buy one more second, it is considered to be a contribution to the whole world!"

Nolo felt that Sean was no longer at the level of a super strong, at least he was at the level of the twentieth level.

"You have done a good job, this news is indeed very important." The guardian hero nodded, "We will not let you sacrifice in vain."

Sacrifice a P for nothing!

Shaun wanted to yell at him, you might as well give us a reminder to leave here! This kind of battle above the super power level, the few of us simply can't get in, let us stay here and wait for death!

But the inner depressed and angry turned to depressed and angry, Sean couldn't show it at this time. Especially, the lord of arrogance was released by his low hands. However, as far as the current plot is concerned, Xiao En knows that he has made no mistakes so far, so if he continues with this process, he will definitely be able to leave here. The only problem is how many tasks and steps he needs to go through.

Now that Elken has been completely unblocked, he doesn't have much time to stay here.

The demon king, he can destroy hundreds of himself with just one hand up.

"Haha!" At this moment, there was a burst of hearty laughter behind Xiao En, "I also want to know who took the earth fragments, because I really want to thank this person. If it weren't for the other party, I would probably have to wait a while before I could leave here! Haha!"

Hearing the sound, Xiao En was taken aback slightly.

Alken, the lord of arrogance, is actually a woman! ?

The sound rang from far to near.

When I first heard the laughter, the other party was probably still hundreds of meters away—even though the sound didn't sound like it, everyone in the room felt that way. But when the last laugh sounded, a chill came from behind Sean and Noro.

Shaun and Noro turned around at the same time.

But they didn't see Elken's real body, but saw a group of bright brilliance erupting from close at hand.

The intense tingling from both eyes shocked Noro and Sean, so they immediately made the same action subconsciously: evacuating quickly from left to right. And almost at the moment when the two of them evacuated, a strong roar erupted. The powerful air wave even directly lifted Noro out, not to mention Sean. He didn't even know that he was there. What are you doing? It felt like a rootless duckweed, which made Sean's heart feel intensely uneasy for the first time.

When the strong golden light burst finally weakened, and Sean's eyes finally began to adapt to the surrounding environment, he saw the guardian heroic spirit that came slowly in the volley before, and he did not know when he was already at the door of the passage. , Is fighting fiercely with a black figure.

Two figures, one gold and one black, were fighting fiercely at the entrance of the passage.

Whether it was Sean or Noro, neither of them could see the battle between the two light regiments at all, but from the occasional wave of air from the surroundings, it was enough to shatter the ground nearby. It was obvious that the level of the battle was already It's beyond what Shaun and Noro can support. But at this moment, even if Sean and Noro wanted to leave, there was nothing to do, because the battle between these two powerhouses happened to cover the entire area near the passageway.

So if you want to pass here, you must be able to escape the killing currents of these two powerhouses.

Shaun thought about his small body, he didn't think he could pass under the pressure of this kind of momentum.

As for Noro, Sean also felt that the other party must be impossible.

But soon, Sean suddenly came back to his senses. The two powerhouses would choose to fight at the door. This is definitely not without reason-even if it is accidental, Sean thinks this must be the task link of the system. one. So the way to leave this mermaid capital smoothly is probably in this training ground.

Soon, Xiao En set his sights on the throne on the third floor of the platform.

For such a large training ground, the high platform alone occupies two-thirds of the entire training ground. Although the merman has always been very luxurious, it is impossible to arrange such a high platform that wastes space for no reason.

"Nolo!" Sean shouted loudly, "Take me over there!"

Chapter 306: .The lord of arrogance. Elken [seventh more]

Shaun has been playing the magic stick for so many years, of course, he is not in vain.

He knows very well what the highest state of the **** stick is.

That is to say a right sentence at the right time, and then just keep smiling is enough.

So, facing the question of the guardian hero, Sean replied while watching the countdown to the arrogant lord breaking the seal. Of course, he did not show that mysterious smile at this time. Even if it is a smile, it must depend on the occasion—at this time, there is still a mysterious smile that is unpredictable, and Sean feels that he will definitely be slapped to death by the other party.

Sure enough, when Sean was stuck in a second to finish that sentence, the strong momentum that Elken, the Lord of Pride, exuded when he broke the seal, swept away in an instant.

The guardian spirit sitting on the throne, his face changed slightly: "This is impossible!...How could Elken break the seal 20,000 years in advance?"

Hearing these words, Xiao En's heart really froze.

Lanster's family status as the guardian was completely confirmed by Sean at this time.

Obviously, someone from Lanster's family had entered here back then, and I'm afraid he knew that the Lord of Pride was sealed here. But after they went back, they didn't know what happened in the middle, which caused Lanster's tribe to cut off its heritage and history, so Lanster's tribe elders would let Lanster take over as the tribe's patriarch. Lanster came to the Mermaid City.

The mermaid's heart that Lanster is looking for is not a piece of equipment, but a historical book that should be stored in the library of the mermaid capital.

Such historical books are naturally very important to the mermaid clan. It might even be possible that Lanster only knew that what he was looking for was a book, but he couldn't even tell the specific book. That's why when Sean asked him, he always hesitated—not that he didn't want to say it, but that he didn't even know it.

And now, hearing the words of the guardian hero, Sean was at least certain. His task flow did not go wrong.

The Lord of Pride. Elken's unblocking. If you want to have a confrontation, you must enter this training ground. Only here can the next task link be triggered-but what makes Sean uncomfortable is that these tasks are all without task prompts, so they can only move forward like a blind man. And the most serious thing is that in this kind of blind exploration, as long as you take a wrong step. That is the end of death!

Sean was a bit resentful. But he couldn't say anything, who made him feel bad.

Fortunately, he had already prepared, and had hidden the two pieces of earth in his storage ring, and had not put it outside. The power of the law of the earth fragments is so obvious, if you don't use space props to isolate, once this guardian spirit finds that he liberated Elken, maybe the other party slaps him to death. So people like Sean who are not afraid of 10,000 but just in case, of course, prepare well in advance.

"Who actually took the law of the earth!" The guardian hero had already stood up. That monstrous aura suddenly surged out, "Why can't I feel the other guards?...Silver Sacred Wall was also killed? Could it be that which demon entered here?"

Shaun lowered his head with some guilty conscience.

very good. He now knows that the function of the Sacred Wall of Silver Splendor is to protect the column platform. If it hadn't been for Nuolo to have been to the vicinity of the cylindrical platform, and after all, he had taken away a piece of earth fragments, I am afraid that the Sacred Wall of Silver would not appear in front of everyone because of this, and he would directly engage with Nuolo as soon as he appeared on the stage. However, at this time, Sean still has the mind to push back the quest link in it—he guessed that if the Holy Wall of Silver Splendor is not activated, and the earth fragment is not taken, I am afraid that he can really protect the heroic spirit without disturbing the situation. Next, take down the mermaid holy crown.

The task has never given a mortal result. There are only two possibilities for the mortal result.

Either the player's own strength is not enough, or the player is killed by himself.

"Did you see anyone else on the way here?" The guardian spirit sitting on the throne had already stood up, and walked step by step towards the two of Sean and Noro in the air." Someone must have taken the fragments of the earth, otherwise Elken could not be liberated."

Sean's face was not red and heartbeat and said: "When we entered here, we only saw the fragments of the mechanism puppets, and at that time, Elken was already in a state of being unsealed....We have been to the temple. Now, the magic circle has been closed. I'm afraid someone used the magic circle to leave immediately after taking away the earth fragments you mentioned....We don't have a magician, so we can't trace it back, so we can only come to you. "

"Damn it!" The guardian spirit did not doubt Sean, "Then what about the orphans of my clan!?"

"I have told him to return to the deep sea channel and leave. He must pass the news of Elken's appearance to the entire continent!" Sean looked awe-inspiring, "We didn't expect this to happen at all, we thought it's just a very simple task, so we didn't go with the magician.... If Lanster can leave smoothly, at least it would be a good thing, because people on the mainland must know the news of Elken's appearance... As for us , Even if it only takes one more second, it is considered to be a contribution to the whole world!"

Nolo felt that Sean was no longer at the level of a super strong, at least he was at the level of the twentieth level.

"You have done a good job, this news is indeed very important." The guardian hero nodded, "We will not let you sacrifice in vain."

Sacrifice a P for nothing!

Shaun wanted to yell at him, you might as well give us a reminder to leave here! This kind of battle above the super power level, the few of us simply can't get in, let us stay here and wait for death!

But the inner depressed and angry turned to depressed and angry, Sean couldn't show it at this time. Especially, the lord of arrogance was released by his low hands. However, as far as the current plot is concerned, Xiao En knows that he has made no mistakes so far, so if he continues with this process, he will definitely be able to leave here. The only problem is how many tasks and steps he needs to go through.

Now that Elken has been completely unblocked, he doesn't have much time to stay here.

The demon king, he can destroy hundreds of himself with just one hand up.

"Haha!" At this moment, there was a burst of hearty laughter behind Xiao En, "I also want to know who took the earth fragments, because I really want to thank this person. If it weren't for the other party, I would probably have to wait a while before I could leave here! Haha!"

Hearing the sound, Xiao En was taken aback slightly.

Alken, the lord of arrogance, is actually a woman! ?

The sound rang from far to near.

When I first heard the laughter, the other party was probably still hundreds of meters away—even though the sound didn't sound like it, everyone in the room felt that way. But when the last laugh sounded, a chill came from behind Sean and Noro.

Shaun and Noro turned around at the same time.

But they didn't see Elken's real body, but saw a group of bright brilliance erupting from close at hand.

The intense tingling from both eyes shocked Noro and Sean, so they immediately made the same action subconsciously: evacuating quickly from left to right. And almost at the moment when the two of them evacuated, a strong roar erupted. The powerful air wave even directly lifted Noro out, not to mention Sean. He didn't even know that he was there. What are you doing? It felt like a rootless duckweed, which made Sean's heart feel intensely uneasy for the first time.

When the strong golden light burst finally weakened, and Sean's eyes finally began to adapt to the surrounding environment, he saw the guardian heroic spirit that came slowly in the volley before, and he did not know when he was already at the door of the passage. , Is fighting fiercely with a black figure.

Two figures, one gold and one black, were fighting fiercely at the entrance of the passage.

Whether it was Sean or Noro, neither of them could see the battle between the two light regiments at all, but from the occasional wave of air from the surroundings, it was enough to shatter the ground nearby. It was obvious that the level of the battle was already It's beyond what Shaun and Noro can support. But at this moment, even if Sean and Noro wanted to leave, there was nothing to do, because the battle between these two powerhouses happened to cover the entire area near the passageway.

So if you want to pass here, you must be able to escape the killing currents of these two powerhouses.

Shaun thought about his small body, he didn't think he could pass under the pressure of this kind of momentum.

As for Noro, Sean also felt that the other party must be impossible.

But soon, Sean suddenly recovered. The two powerhouses would choose to fight at the door. This is definitely not without reason-even if it is accidental, Sean thinks this must be part of the system's mission link. one. So the way to leave this mermaid capital smoothly is probably in this training ground.

Soon, Xiao En set his sights on the throne on the third floor of the platform.

For such a large training ground, the high platform alone occupies two-thirds of the entire training ground. Although the merman has always been very luxurious, it is impossible to arrange such a high platform that wastes space for no reason.

"Nolo!" Sean shouted loudly, "Take me over there!"

Chapter 307: .Arrogant Carnival [First more]

The lord of arrogance. Elken proudly began to walk towards the third floor of the platform. ☺
Apex novels,

Every step she fell on the steps, she deliberately stepped heavily, and the sound she made was like the sound of a war drum beating on the battlefield. On this training ground, the sound seems to have a special transmission effect. At least every time Elken raises his legs and drops his feet, the whole space will be buzzed, and there is even a wonderful rhythm, just like the whole space. It's all oscillating.

The guardian heroic spirit embedded in the wall of the high platform is struggling desperately, and at the same time it is constantly swearing.

But his screams are a hundred times more civilized than even the most gentle human beings, so Elken can't make Elken feel uncomfortable at all. Naturally, it was impossible for him to stop because of this. In other words, with the curse of the guardian spirit, Elken's contemptuous and arrogant look showed a bit of pleasure.

The devil, like the devil, has the habit of collecting souls.

But unlike the devil's souls who like despair, fear and other negative emotions, demons prefer anger, hatred, and other souls full of negative emotions. So, just as the demons always hope to fill their collected souls with despair, demons always like to torture their opponents severely, making them feel extreme pain and anger and other emotions. , And then take their souls.

Chaos is the favorite eternal theme of demons.

Puppets with self-awareness and wisdom like the Guardian Spirit, perhaps even in the first mermaid empire a long time ago, they were unique. And since it is called the Heroic Spirit. Then there must be a soul in its body. What Elken wants is a soul full of negative emotions such as anger, hatred, unwillingness, chaos, violent, etc. So Elken's actions at this time were nothing more than a torture method to make the soul delicious.

When Elken was imprisoned in the First Mermaid Empire. Perhaps he did not expect that when Elken was released from the seal, it would become so terrible. So they believed that the troops left on the training ground were enough to repress Elken. Of course, they also knew that they wanted to seal Elken again. It was completely impossible, but they would drive her back. The abyss is probably not difficult.

It's just a pity.

The good result of the careful calculation of the first mermaid empire, but it was in less than ten minutes. It was easily destroyed by Elken.

The smell of sulfur began to pour into this training ground from outside the tunnel.

Elken took a deep breath, and the whole person looked intoxicated.

She was able to hear the shouts from the abyss, which was full of excitement. She disappeared in the abyss for too long-even for the abyss demon who has no idea of time, Elken's disappearance can be considered a long time, if it were not for the interaction between the seven demon kings. Disappearing, the demon kings representing the other seven deadly sins must doubt whether Elken has fallen.

At this time, the breath of the plane is not just the smell of sulfur. At the same time, there were congratulations from the other great demon kings and cheers from the lower demons.

The overlap of the projections of the planes requires time to stabilize the channels of the two planes. This stability and assimilation takes a very long time. It's not that things can be solved in a few days or months. Of course, this kind of stability is actually based on the energy fluctuations of the higher demons entering the main plane as the standard, if it is only the entry of the lower demons. It only takes a short time to stabilize the energy transmission.

After all, this is a plane channel established by Elken, the lord of arrogance.

Demons and demons. There are many similarities.

For example, they also distinguish the entire group from the upper, middle, and lower ranks.

Like those little demons who can only act as cannon fodder, lower-level demons with a little bit of strength, and demons who act as a demon legionary system. They all belong to the category of lower demons. There are the largest number of such demons, and they are the cornerstone of the entire huge demonic group. Basically all high-level demons actually evolved from such low-level demons. Therefore, these low-level demons are a group full of the greatest variables.

Medium demons refer to those high-level demons with relatively pure bloodlines, big demons with powerful combat power, or those high-level demons who cannot be transformed into human form, and so on. This type of demons usually acts as the leader and commander level of the demon army. Their evolutionary direction is basically at the end or has been completely stabilized. Basically, the majority of the demon leaders are demons from this class.

As for the upper demons, they are equivalent to the existence of nobles among human beings. They stand in the top ranks of the entire demonic group and have extremely powerful and pure bloodlines. They have formed their own ethnic group, tribe, family, and country, have a very complete evolutionary system and direction, and their strength is exceptionally powerful. Basically, demons with human forms are high-level demons. Although their real bodies are likely to be tens of meters or hundreds of meters in height, most of the time they prefer to disguise themselves as humans.

High-ranking demons are the most terrifying, powerful and dangerous existence. Basically any upper-ranking demon that has grown up and has not fallen prematurely has the rank strength of a commander-level demon. But for the mid-level demon, this level is the apex, for the high-level demon, it is only just beginning to grow-most high-level demons can grow to the level of the demon lord, but many demon lord All have strength but no territory.

However, the demon lord obviously cannot satisfy the ambitions of those geniuses in the upper demon race.

They yearn for stronger strength and greater fame.

Therefore, they will continue to grow and increase their strength, in the hope that one day they can become the devil, and even the great devil.

The arrogant lord of one of the Seven Demon Kings, this title obviously failed to satisfy Elken's ambition.

She aspires to become the great demon king, and even the best among the great demon kings-any rank will inevitably be divided into superior and inferior. Just like the Seven Demon Kings symbolized by the Seven Deadly Sins, they represent the seven most powerful among the many Demon King-level demons.

Elken is eager for power!

She is killing the last lord of arrogance, and she has become the new lord of arrogance for hundreds of thousands of years. Of course, this time includes the years when she was imprisoned. But even in terms of the time concept of the demons, Elken has been sitting in this position long enough-for other demon kings, being able to occupy a place among the seven demon kings for so long, this is not only strong enough. Besides, it brought enough respect for her.

And in the world of demons, being respected is not a bad thing.

This often means that not many people will come to harass and provoke the demon, and once the demon makes a call, many demons will inevitably respond.

On the other side of the plane channel established by Elken, tens of thousands of demons are already gathering at this moment, and even several demon legions have begun to gather. This is not the cannon fodder of the lower demons. The demons who responded to Elken's enlistment are basically the middle demons, supplemented by a smaller number of lower demons—invading another plane, for the demons. It was originally a carnival feast, especially this carnival feast was initiated by the famous arrogant lord Elken.

In the world of demons, there is a special term to describe this kind of enlistment.

The devil's carnival feast.

But Elken is a famous devil, all this is a "carnival of arrogance."

Demons, to show respect and awe to Elken, the lord of arrogance.

It took only ten minutes to solve Elken, who was guarding the heroic spirit and his legion, but it took a full half an hour to finally walk from the first step of the high platform to the top of the throne.

Her face still has a proud look, her brows are raised lightly, and a swift aura radiates from her body.

Below the high platform, the struggling movement of the guardian heroic spirit has been much smaller.

This half-hour mental torture has made his soul extremely delicious.

Elken knew that as long as she accepted the opponent's soul at this time, her strength could be slightly increased. But this is far from enough for Elken, who has always been extremely picky. She wants to capture the two little guys who escaped from her sight, and then kill them in front of this guardian spirit, and let him in The endless remorse and pain erupt completely, so that the soul harvested will be delicious enough, and the power that can be provided will also be greater.

There are already lower demons emerging from the passage.

But it was just a little red-skinned demon, and it was the most inferior cannon fodder demon. However, this kind of demons is also good. They are hotbeds of the catalyzed abyss plane. As long as there are a large enough amount of redskin goblins, they can stabilize the plane channel at a faster speed-in fact, red The skin demon is also the food of many middle-ranked demons. After the first batch of middle-ranked demons arrive, these little red-skinned little monsters can quickly fill up the large amount of power they consume by crossing the plane channel.

Elken no longer pays attention to this, but she has left her breath on the guardian spirit to prevent the greedy red demon from eating the guardian spirit when she is away. NS.

After leaving the breath mark, Elken's eyes flashed with excitement.

She knew that with the guardian spirit, it was not so easy to die, but if her movements were not quicker, then she might not be able to harvest the guardian spirit's soul perfectly.

So, after Elken bypassed the throne, he began to move towards the underground passage.

But as soon as she entered this passage, she let out a scream of horror!

Chapter 308: .The Wrath of the Great Demon [Second more]

In the passage, there was an extremely strong breath of death.

Elken has forgotten how long he has not experienced this kind of breath.

But no matter how long the memory is, once it is completely activated at this time, she still inevitably screamed!

is completely subconscious behavior.

Elken's long waist-length hair suddenly stood up, as if it had touched some kind of electrostatic device, but the appearance of this hair standing up was unusually straight. For the demons, all parts of their body, including hair, can be used as attack weapons, like Elken's hair standing upright at this time is sharper than high-quality weapons!

Almost without even thinking about it, Elken flew backwards at an extremely fast speed.

Behind her, the strong throne made of unknown material, but because it blocked Elken's retreat path, it was knocked to pieces by her, just like the one shot out when she unlocked the seal before. The same as a stone. The black magic flame escaping from her body, wrapped around her like a layer of iron-this is a subconscious self-protection method most commonly used by demons. It can be seen that Elken's frights are How serious.

In the blink of an eye, she opened a distance of hundreds of meters from the passage, almost retreating back to the entrance.

Several red-skinned little monsters saw the demon lord's actions, they were so frightened that they screamed, and ran back without looking back.

The entire training ground suddenly became silent.

Except for the sound of Elken's own breathing and the voice of the guardian spirit still struggling, the entire training ground can be said to have fallen into a kind of depressive silence.

But Elken knew that the breath of death at that moment was not an illusion.

For an existence of her level, the feeling of illusion has long ceased to exist. Since she felt the death threat at that moment, then it was the most real death threat. Under that passage, there was an existence that could endanger her life.

However, Elken could not figure out what kind of existence could threaten her survival.

Existence at the same level?

Even if the angry tyrant is here, Elken will not feel the threat of death. Because their strength between each other is only between the first ones. Nobody can do nothing. I don't know why, Elken suddenly thought of a woman. It was a memory from tens of thousands of years ago, but at this moment, it caused a faint tingling sensation in Elken's back.

Elken's eyes were cold again.

The panic and fear quickly disappeared from her face.

When Elken's gaze fell to the entrance of the underground staircase again, her expression still became very calm. Her head lifted slightly. Exposed a thin white neck. The demon flame on her body also began to slowly retract her body, she didn't make much movement, just stood so straight in place, but there was a breath of inviolability on her body.

is obviously a demon, but there is a kind of awe-inspiring aura like a saint, which is really a very strange thing.

Of course, unlike the introverted awe-inspiring sacredness of the saint, Elken's awe-inspiring aura is completely exposed.

Just like her name.

Arrogant.

but. This color of arrogance did not last long on Elken's face. It dissipated completely.

There is a black flame, gushing out from under the channel.

This scene is almost like the eruption of a demon flame volcano in the abyss.

The eruption of the magic flame was so fierce and violent that the ground around the passage was completely overturned. Under the scouring of the magic flame, a large number of stones turned into a rain of flint and fell into the distance. Whenever a flint burning with magic flame falls on the ground, the entire training ground will also vibrate. The constant roar of vibrations makes the entire mermaid capital seem to be in the center of the earthquake's focal point, and a large amount of stone chips fall one after another. Even the surrounding walls had cracks, and water started to shoot out from the cracks.

A noun suddenly emerged from Elken's mind.

Wrath of the Great Devil.

Her face looked unusually frightened, and the intense fear almost made her scream.

The difference between the Demon King and the Great Demon King is only one word, but in fact it can be regarded as two species, because the difference in strength between the two sides is not at the same level. Even the weakest one among the great demon kings, his strength is far superior to the average demon king, perhaps only people like the angry tyrant, the lazy king, and Elken who have touched the border of the great demon can barely be able to fight. .

but now!

Such a strong soaring demon flame, this is obviously not the level of the average big devil.

"Why is there a big devil here!" Finally, the intense fear completely overwhelmed Elken's spirit, and she finally couldn't help letting out a scream, "Impossible! This completely violates the rules...this ..."

"boom!"

The strong explosion sound completely concealed Elken's exclamation.

There is a figure, slowly walking out of the spewing magic flame.

This figure is wearing a pair of tight-fitting trousers that seem to be made of leather, with a pair of boots on the feet, and his upper body is naked, with a block of muscles, full of a real beauty of strength. There was only a knee-length long windbreaker on his outside. As he walked out of the magic flames, the spewing magic flames quickly began to converge towards his body, and then merged into his. In the long trench coat.

In a blink of an eye, the burning magic flame was completely extinguished, leaving only traces of scorched black all over the ground.

After seeing the figure of this person, Elken was stunned for an instant.

It's not that she doesn't know who this person is, but that she just happens to recognize the identity of the other person.

Enkos Tilch. Medili Hasas. AI!

The Great Demon King Enkos!

The successor of the future patriarch of the El Demon clan, even among the many demon groups of the upper demon, the El Demon is also the upper class! Especially after the news of the marriage between El Demon and Shadow Succubus was announced, the other veteran high-ranking demon races, even with the demon of the Great Demon King level, now dare not easily provoke these two demons.

Why the Demon of El, who is only active at the bottom of the abyss, especially the most legendary Enkos, actually appears here!

Elken can't figure it out.

It's just that it doesn't matter whether she wants to understand or not. Because she now knows why she felt the breath of death that could threaten her just now. In fact, she really wanted to let out a scream, and then left here without looking back, but the current plane channel has not been completely stabilized, and the current power of the channel cannot support her existence at this level. Go back to the abyss plane through this passage.

So, at this moment, she can only stand here, gazing at Enkos with her inner fear.

The devil is no better than the devil.

If it's the devil, then maybe it will pay attention to a first-come-first-served order and "friendly" negotiation. But for the devil, there are not so many rules. In history, it is not uncommon for two demons to look at the same plane at the same time and then initiate an invasion on the same plane. Of course, in order to occupy this plane alone, and then two demons fought fiercely with each other, resulting in the case of being united by plane creatures and driven back to the abyss, even more.

"Master Enkos..." Elken bit his scalp and said in a deep voice, "I don't know if you are here personally, what's the matter? This is the carnival banquet place I'm looking for, and... I have already The expeditionary army has begun to be assembled."

"It turned out to be Elken." The Seven Demon Kings representing the seven deadly sins, like Enkos, are more or less aware of existences, so Enkos focused his attention on Elken for two or three seconds. His voice is relatively gentle, "You are barely qualified to communicate with me."

Enkos is one of the few different kinds of demons. Probably because he was close to Bess and Andrew, so usually when he is not angry, he can be regarded as a good gentleman. But the devil was originally a moody creature, so maybe his tone is milder now, but he might kill someone in the next second.

Especially, Elken at this time would not think that Enkos was not angry.

When he appeared just now, the demon flames that spewed out were indeed "The Wrath of the Great Devil". As a creature from the abyss, especially the famous Demon King, it was naturally impossible for Elken to admit his mistake. So from this point, it is enough to prove that Enkos was in a very angry state before appearing here.

As for Enkos's qualification to communicate, Elken dare not rely on it.

She is indeed a demon with a name, but she is only a demon after all, not at the level of the big devil, so let alone a relationship with the big devil, even if she is barely qualified to communicate-if It's not that she has the status of a demon king who represents one of the seven deadly sins. In fact, even if she has the title of the Seven Demon Kings, at best, she is qualified to let those great demon kings barely remember such a character. As for whether she is qualified to speak, it depends on the great devil's mood.

Like Enkos, even among the many great demon kings, it also belongs to the existence of outstanding people. Even if he does not love Elken, Elken dare not express any dissatisfaction.

However, just after Enkos had said that, before Elken could speak back again, Enkos said again: "I don't care if you have a carnival or not, now it's up to me to take yours. Go back to those little demons for me!... What kind of demon expeditionary army, let them go, or when I go back, I will tear them down one by one!"

Chapter 309: Domineering [third more]

Elken's face changed suddenly.

If Enkos wants to occupy this plane, then Elken can also endure it.

After all, if Enkos initiates the call, then it is not the [Carnival Banquet Class] alien invasion, but the [Grand Banquet Class] alien invasion. Especially for a person with status and family like Enkos, if he initiates the call, then the entire El Demons clan will inevitably join in this invasion war. And not only the Demon of El, but also the shadow succubus of the married family will definitely act together.

There are two such powerful big demon king families taking the lead, maybe other big demon king families will definitely not miss it.

In the history of demons invading other planes, there have been very few [Grand Feast Level] so far-after all, the larger the scale of plane invasion, there are also requirements for the strength of a material world. Like those who are not fully developed, the limit of world strength is the 16th-order plane, let alone the [Grand Banquet Class], even the invasion of [Carnival Banquet Class] can't hold up.

In spite of this, the benefits that Elken can get from her are at least two-thirds less, but in another sense, she can officially enter the sight of these great demon kings. If she is lucky enough to be rewarded with a drop of Demon Blood Origin, then this gain is more important than her taking the entire Miracle World of Continent, because Demon Blood Origin can make her bloodline more pure, maybe she can even create a new one. The Great Demon King's family.

But now.

Not only did Nkos not have any intention of invading the plane, but even the carnival she was holding would be cancelled. This is tantamount to denying everything Elken had done for so many years-in order to be able to invade this plane, Ai Erken has been imprisoned for tens of thousands of years, how can this hatred not be reported! So even if he was afraid of Enkos no matter how much, Elken was flushed with anger at this time, staring at Enkos stubbornly.

"Master Enkos!" Elken said in a deep voice. The performance also became fierce, "If you are going to have a feast, then I can follow your instructions, but..."

"Do you want to die?" Enkos raised his eyebrows, and the windbreaker on his body began to be windless. A black flame burned from its body little by little. "Let you get out of the way, where's so much windy! If you think you've lived long enough, then I can throw you into the Voidstorm now, do you want to try?"

Elken's face changed again.

Voidstorm, that is the name of violent energy outside the plane world.

No matter how tyrannical a person is, it is difficult to survive in Outland, because of the erosion of this void storm. It consumes more than just physical strength. There are mental powers and even physical vitality and so on. It would be better if it was a fighter professional. For example, if a magician starts to travel on a plane without adequate preparation, the basic end is that he has been stranded into **** by the void storm before he finds another plane space.

Even the Demon King, if he stays in Outland for a long time and is directly exposed to the erosion of the void storm, it will be difficult to survive.

Only the big devil may be able to barely survive.

"Master Enkos! I may indeed not be your opponent, but the carnival banquet has already started, and the expeditionary legion is already in preparation. Even Lord Demon's legion has been added to the conscription sequence." Elken stared at Enkos. , She is always reluctant to step back. Instead, he said firmly, "You are going to be an enemy of all the demons in the entire abyss! I hope you can consider it carefully..."

"Consider a fart!" Enkos cursed fiercely with the look of a ruffian on his face, "What if you are the enemy of the entire abyss? How can you stand me? Don't pull this kind of banner in front of me, I say you Barely qualified to communicate with me, you actually think you are qualified to communicate with me?...Arrogant. You are not qualified to be able to show arrogance to everything!"

Enkos's roar, like a storm on the sea, made roars in the entire training ground.

Even the entire space produced a sense of shock, as if the plane barrier could not stop the monstrous anger from Enkos.

Elken didn't expect Enkos to start suddenly.

The vast pressure suddenly surged towards her, which made Elken involuntarily let out a scream of exclamation, and the magic flames on her body burst out in an instant. But even so, she couldn't stop Enkos's coercion at all. Enkos hadn't taken any action yet, and just exuding such monstrous power, it caused the entire space to vibrate, and the cracks visible to the naked eye were all over the air. , Strands of black aura escaped from these cracks.

In an instant, a very terrifying violent air current began to emanate from the entire space, and it seemed that a huge storm was gradually forming.

Elken was completely unable to maintain the human form, large scales began to spread all over her skin, and her figure began to rise, and in a blink of an eye she quickly expanded from 1.75 meters to a height of tens of meters. The five tails swept continuously behind her, smashing the surrounding ground and walls to pieces. At this time, Elken's voice no longer lost the sweetness and arrogance of a human form, instead it became hoarse and sharp.

"Void Storm!" She exclaimed, as if she wanted to desperately stay away from the black energy that was constantly escaping in, as if that were the most terrifying thing in this world.

"Enough!" Suddenly, an even more angry shout sounded

Immediately afterwards, a gray flame followed. Although these flames looked unusually terrifying, they perfectly neutralized the energy dissipated by Enkos and stopped the looming void storm in the training ground. And being interrupted by this gray-white flame, the cracks that were originally expanding in the air began to stop expanding and extending, but began to be repaired quickly at a speed visible to the naked eye.

But vaguely, everyone present seemed to be able to hear some wailing.

That is the sound of the power of the world's origin that has been consumed too much.

The will of the world is crying.

At this time, after neutralizing the dissipated energy of the void storm, another figure came out from under the passage.

This is a young man in a black elegant evening dress, with a black long sword pinned to his left waist. The whole person seems to have a similar image to the Sean she saw before. But Elken knew that this person was definitely not Sean, because at this time the aura exuding from this person was not weaker than Enkos—especially, the white flame in his hand just burned. That is obviously a flame unique to the plane of bones.

The Maharaja of the Undead?

Elken suddenly remembered a legend, it seems that there is an undead king beside Enkos.

"Do you want to ruin this plane?" Beth frowned, "Last time you chased Rek, the impact has not been completely repaired."

Enkos was also a little angry when he saw Beth, knowing that he was indeed impulsive. It was also a little unhappy at this time. But when he turned his head and looked at Elken. His face became even more violent, and the look in his eyes really wanted to tear Elken to pieces.

At this moment, Elken knew that he had completely offended Enkos, and suddenly he felt confident, and said in a deep voice, "The carnival banquet has officially begun! Master Enkos, unless you are going to hold a big banquet, otherwise there is nothing. People will give up! And it's not just the Lord Demon Lord. The Great Devil Bai'an and the Great Devil Morothod are obviously also very interested here! Their expeditionary forces have also begun to enter the sequence."

"Haha." Enkos suddenly laughed.

And bass. However, his brows were slightly frowned, and his face turned cold when he looked at Elken.

The plane of Miracle Continent is still very useful to them now, so it is naturally impossible to allow these abyss demons to invade.

Especially when Sean is still alive in this plane, even if Andrew didn't make a clear statement, Beth knew very well that if they let these demons invade. Andrew will definitely get angry, I'm afraid things will become more troublesome then. And he has also seen many little demons have appeared on this plane. This means that the first batch of lower demon soldiers will soon be thrown into this world, and then the original power of this world will be drawn out by this group of demons to speed up the construction of the plane channel.

"You come to me?" Beth suddenly turned his head and looked at Enkos.

Elken suddenly realized something was wrong.

"I'm here!" Enkos grinned, and then suddenly moved his hands. When he looked at Elken again, Elken's heart suddenly tightened, and his whole body instantly stabbed. Enkos was so murderous. Without concealing everything was concentrated on her, "You have been the lord of arrogance for hundreds of thousands of years. It's time to move.... Even if the two guys, Morthods and Bai An, are standing by me. In front of them, they didn't dare to talk to me like you did just now, let alone some **** devil."

Almost as soon as the words of Enkos were finished, a black flame burst out from his body, turning into a black smoke and rushing straight in front of Elken.

The flying speed of this smoke is not fast, even in Elken's eyes it is almost indistinguishable from slow motion. But I don't know why, in the face of the direct smoke that Enkos did not evade, Elken was completely immobile, even if she wanted to dodge slightly, she did not do it at all-but even if she was able to turn sideways, It is meaningless, because at this time her height is more than ten meters, and the width is four or five meters. For Enkos's figure, unless she can move more than four meters away, she can barely brush with Enkos. And pass.

When the black smoke hit Elken's heart without any suspense, and then passed out from behind, Enkos was already holding a huge heart almost half his height in his hand. And this heart, at this time, is still beating, exuding a strong and powerful pulse-this is Elken's main heart and her source of strength. As for the other two hearts, they are in When Enkos seized the main heart, he also destroyed it easily.

"Arrogance?" Enkos threw his heart aside, and the black blood stained a stain along the rolling trace of the heart, "Huh....I want to see now, who else among those guys wants to continue attacking."

Chapter 310: .Arrogant [fourth more]

Elken, as a demon king, maybe indeed very good. ... ≤ the vertex novel,

So the [Carnival Banquet] she initiated not only attracted the demons of the Demon Jue family, but even the Great Demon King's family had two great demon kings who expressed their clear interest and entered the plane invasion sequence. But unfortunately, her arrogance was used in the wrong place.

As Enkos moved all the way toward the central courtyard that had become a semi-abyss plane, all the little demons on the road screamed and fled quickly when they smelled the breath of Enkos. Regarding the existence of these cannon fodder, Enkos didn't even have the mood to even glance at it. He just kept an unhurried pace and walked slowly, but when his momentum began to gradually communicate with the abyss plane. , The entire plane space still began to tremble.

Breaks through the world power limit of the Marvel Continent, and Enkos is now a time bomb for the Marvel Continent.

No one knows when he will explode.

But the only certainty is that once Enkos really let go of his hands completely, then he is likely to cause permanent and complete damage to an area. It is even possible to break the crystal wall of the plane, allowing the power of the void storm to flow back in, thereby accelerating the death of this plane.

Any plane has a lifespan.

Not only will they grow, they will also perish. However, only a very small number of planes will re-develop after the death of the world origin, which will give birth to a new world origin, which will make the growth limit of the entire plane take a big step.

Whether Miracle Continent will be like this, no one knows.

But Enkos and Beth only know one thing. That is, if the plane channel created by Elken is allowed to continue to exist, then the Miracle Continent will inevitably embark on the road of destruction soon. Especially this channel call issued by Elken. It is still preparing for the arrival of the upper demons, which requires a large number of lower demons to build demon facilities. Speed up the construction and stability of the plane channel by forcibly extracting the origin of the world.

When Enkos appeared in this central courtyard, countless little demons were running around in horror like a headless fly.

A group of demon soldiers, carrying some weird biological materials, ran out of the demon passage. But before these demon soldiers built up the biological materials in their hands, the soldiers' heads one by one were all blown off, and even the biological materials in their hands were completely inevitable.

Fear spread quickly.

"Go!" Enkos let out an angry roar, "Go back to me all!"

Thousands of little demons were immediately killed by the shock, but most of them lost their mobility completely under the roar of Enkos. They could only collapse to the ground, and only a few of the little demons who were close to the plane channel and far from Enkos turned around and ran towards the plane channel.

Enkos stared at this huge transmission channel that had grown to five meters high and three meters wide, and his voice was as low as a wounded beast.

He was originally a very selfish person, but now he was trying to find the endurance limit of the world barrier, and could not use his own power at will, which made him suddenly feel a sense of restraint. In addition, two full years have passed, but he has not searched Rek's hiding place at all. Even after reuniting with Beth, he couldn't find Rek, which made Enkos feel very frustrated.

It was because of Rick that he escaped from his hands.

Of course, now the strength has broken through the endurance limit of the world wall. Enkos also possessed some other more special methods.

He and Beth received an emergency call from Sean-it was something Andrew gave to Sean before he fell asleep. Although they can only be used once, they can make a coordinate for Sean. Ask Beth or Enkos to directly tear through the space cracks and come to the rescue - afterwards, they locked the coordinate points and directly sent them. If it was before he broke the limit of the world wall. Even if he wants to do this, he needs a lot of energy and time.

At this moment, Enkos is standing in front of the plane channel. Gaze at the scene on the other side of the passage.

He is waiting.

Wait for the appearance of two other demon kings.

If it's just the Demon Lord family, then Enkos can do nothing, just forcibly close the plane channel directly. Anyway, although the Demon Jue family is also a family of the Great Demon King, the Demon Jue itself is not the Great Demon King. It is only the rank of the Demon King. In terms of the habits of the Demon Clan, as long as the Great Demon King behind the Demon Lord does not come forward, Enkos is basically There is no need to give the opposite party, because the devil does not even have the qualifications to communicate with Enkos.

Only a devil like Elken, who has no background, needs to give the devil a bit of face and call him your lord.

Soon, the plane channel suddenly produced a twist.

Two figures appear in it.

This is the projection of the will of the two great demon kings, Massosd and Bai'an-in the demon plane, the great devil can do this, even Enkos can do it. But if you are in the world of the main material realm, it is not easy to do this. Of course, if the projection clone enters the material world, it is not difficult, but if the ontology enters the material world and wants to get another projection clone, it is not an easy task.

Looking at these two great demon kings of the same rank as him, Enkos did not face Elken's casualness again, but looked serious and serious.

And the two of Morothod and Bai An, when they saw Enkos standing on the other side of the plane channel at this time, they were also slightly taken aback. They had just felt the request for a direct meeting. Although they didn't know who the other party was, the aura of the great demon was genuine, so these two great demon kings would appear. However, when I saw that it was Enkos, the prestigious Great Demon King, even Morothod and Bai An bowed slightly to express their respect for the strong.

Among the ten great demon kings on the abyss plane, Enkos has been ranked third for tens of thousands of years. This time span is enough to teach all demons to maintain a certain respect when facing Enkos. And according to the spread of the abyss grapevine. The reason why Enkos was ranked third was just because he didn't bother to go to the other two great demon kings to discuss and exchange. It's not that he is really inferior to the No. 1 and No. 2 Demon Kings.

Whether it is Mosaic or Bai'an. Both of them failed to get a place in the top ten rankings. Of course, although they are not in the top ten, the strength of these two is not weak, and they are the ones who have experienced countless fights like Enkos before finally growing up.

"Your Excellency Enkos, do you know what's the matter with you?" Bai An spoke first.

It took him longer to become the Great Demon King than Morothod, so it was most appropriate for him to speak to a powerhouse like Enkos.

This is also a tribute.

"I want all of you to retreat!" Enkos stared at Bai An, and then said in a deep voice, "And erase this plane coordinate."

Hear what Enkos said. Bai An didn't say anything yet, but Mosaur's face suddenly changed: "Your Excellency Enkos, I need a reason!"

"There is no reason!" Enkos looked impatient, "give up the invasion, erase the plane coordinates, go back to each house and look for each mother, I will assume that nothing happened today. Otherwise..."

"Otherwise, what?" Mosaur was impatient and violent, and immediately became angry-in fact, few demons are not like this. "Could it be that you El Demons are going to fight the rift in our abyss?"

"No." Enkos shook his head.

Masothod's face improved a little, and his tone was not so aggressive, after all, Enkos also gave him a step. So he opened his mouth and was about to speak.

But Enkos didn't mean to speak to him, and didn't wait for him to speak. He already shook his head and said again: "Otherwise, you will all be on my hunting list. When I go back. I will come to the door one by one, and then I will tear you all down....and. You can't represent the rift in the abyss. And I don't need to rely on the power of the El's demons."

"You!" Mosaur's face instantly became very ugly.

"Not convinced?" Enkos raised his eyebrows, "If you are not convinced, do you want to wait for me to go back and let us fight?...Let me dig out your heart."

"Your Excellency Enkos." Seeing that Massosd was already somewhat obviously unable to get off the stage, Bai An's heart was also slightly frowning, but the expression on his face couldn't see much, but his tone was also low. "This It is the carnival feast initiated by Elken, the lord of arrogance, she..."

"She's dead." Enkos said with a look of disdain, and immediately choked the Devil Bai'an almost unable to swallow it, "Arrogant? She is not qualified to be arrogant to everything in this world."

"You...you put him..."

"She is disrespectful to me. Isn't it normal for me to kill her?" Enkos's face was impatient, "I will wait for you two to show up and tell you about it. It's enough to save you face. Don't provoke me anymore, otherwise, don't blame me for being really angry.... I am not discussing anything with you, but giving you notice. Now I will retreat immediately and erase the plane coordinates. I don't want it. Seeing that any demon enters this plane. Of course you don't have to listen. Anyway, I can directly detonate this plane channel. What you will lose then is your business."

"Enkos! Don't go too far!" Mosaur roared, "We are the same big devil..."

"Bah." Enkos vomited directly with a sputum, but it was a pity that he passed through Morthost, but this still made Morthost furious, "What qualifications do you have to compare with me? Change your father. Come and tell me it's almost the same, just you?...I can dig out your heart with one hand, do you believe it? I'll say it again, don't make me really angry, otherwise you will be ready to bear my anger NS."

After thinking about it, Enkos still decided to say what Beth asked him to say before: "Of course, if you are not convinced, you can continue to try to invade, and Beth and I are waiting here... as long as you If you dare to come, I will show you everything!"

"Beth!" Bai An was stunned when he heard Enkos's words, "The Bones Lord?"

"Besides that guy, is there anyone I know who is also called Beth?" Seeing Bai Ann's horrified look, Enkos was even more upset.

He didn't understand why it was useless for these guys to be so intimidated by him, but when he heard Beth's words and reported his name, these guys changed color. In fact, if there is only one bass, whether it is the two great demon kings Morothod or Bai'an, they will naturally not care, because the thirteen undead kings are at best the same level as the great devil.

But when Enkos, the great demon king, and Beth, the undead king, are both together, then both Morsothod and Bai'an will have to weigh the price of the invasion.

"Can I ask, why are you two on this plane and refuse to invade us?"

"Beth and I are looking for Lake!" Enkos was really impatient, but he still patiently repeated what Beth told him to say, "You guys are endless!"

"Lake!?" This time it was Morothod's turn to show shock. "The one of the Seven Great Witches on the Bone Plane?"

Enkos was not even in the mood to answer this time, so he rolled his eyes.

"I see. Your Excellency Enkos." Bai An said in a deep voice, "We will immediately retreat and close this plane channel and erase the plane coordinates at the same time."

"Hurry up!" Enkos roared, then turned and left without looking back.

He was too lazy to continue talking to these two old guys.

Of course, his heart is also very upset.

Why bass words are better than him!