

Lord of War Vol 3-321

Chapter 321: .Master Hercules

Lao Kui An joins the Void Principality, which is a good thing for both Void Principality and Old Kui An.

The inheritance of forging skills, this is not something to talk about. If such a highly professional term can be used, then this inheritance must at least be passed down in the chaotic era. In that era of war, magic weapons were just like ordinary weapons today. They were all produced in batches. Basically, even ordinary soldiers could use bronze magic weapons.

However, with the end of the chaotic era, the mainland's power structure has stabilized, and various precious resources have been exhausted one by one. Therefore, in addition to technical issues in the manufacture of magical equipment, there is also a problem of raw materials. Even if it is to make a bronze magic weapon, at least hundreds of thousands or even millions of gold coins are needed, and this is only the cost price. Before that, Sean spent some energy and time to make it for the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Of course, he asked for three times the amount of material he asked for a golden-grade magic weapon.

This is very normal for the alchemist: no alchemist can guarantee to forge a magic weapon at a time—except for Sean.

So in fact, Sean is greedy for the other two magical equipment that is enough to make the golden grade. It's just that he didn't use these equipment to make golden-grade demonized equipment, but gave Kaidi and the others to practice, and produced a batch of bronze and silver-grade demonized equipment, which was regarded as completing the capital accumulation of the Void Principality in the early stage. Later, after selling these magical equipment to the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, they had the first start-up capital to purchase magical equipment.

But after the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance turned face, Sean's current magic equipment forging materials are mainly purchased from the Wildlands. Even if it is purchased from other territories or chambers of commerce that have not joined the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, the price is much higher because of the road and transit, so that the profit that can be earned is not too high. After all, it is produced by the Void Principality. Enchanted equipment is not very high-quality. You can always find substitutes made by other alchemists on the continent, but they do not have the high output of the Void Duchy and stable output of two to three pieces per month.

It's just that these are based on stable material acquisitions. Once there is no source of these materials, then even if Sean builds a large-scale forging team, there is nothing he can do. And now because of material limitations. Therefore, it is very difficult for the Void Principality to forge magical equipment above the silver level. The highest quality is just a powerful bronze magic weapon. Although the selling price cannot be higher than the silver grade, if the Void Principality itself sells it, then there is no commission or intermediary fee to others, and the pricing is completely determined by the Void Principality itself.

There is nothing more profitable than the sale of magic equipment, even the exclusive equipment of the magician and all kinds of alchemy potions and magic potions.

Sean wrote a letter to Old Quinn, asking him to take it to Neil in Void City. Neil will arrange the next thing.

No one knows better than Neal, who manages the administration of the entire territory. How much is the economic constraints of the Void Principality now? Although the addition of Lao Kui'an could not benefit the Void Principality for the time being. Instead, he has to pay for his next practice, but in terms of long-term interests, Lao Kui'an has played a very important role in the future of the entire void Principality.

As long as there is a stable material purchase channel, the Void Principality will be able to produce two goldsmiths in the future.

Today, in the entire Marvel Continent, there are no more than 30 craftsmen who can create golden-grade demonized equipment—after all, this is a real world, not a game. In the later stages of the game, as long as the players who practice the deputy blacksmith have enough materials, it is not a problem to reach the level of the goldsmith.

Lao Kui An quickly packed up his things. He only left two people in this smithy, and he took away all the other apprentices.

These two people. One is his grandson, Xiao Kuian, and the other is the middle-aged man who came to the front desk to be responsible for the cashier.

Old Kui'an Blacksmith's shop has been rooted in Roma City for a long time. At this time, Lao Kui'an suddenly left with a group of apprentices, which naturally attracted a certain degree of attention. After all, one-seventh of the commercial tax in Roma City is supported by the Old Qui'an Blacksmith's Shop, which can be regarded as a fortune for any city lord, and no one will easily give up. But without a valid reason, you can't detain the opponent, especially the Void City that Old Kui'an is going to.

Now in the aristocratic circle of the entire Kingdom of Lane, the impression that the Void Principality gave them is almost like a beast, and no one knows when this beast will violently hurt people.

Money is important, but there is another prerequisite, that is, life is spent.

If you lose your life, why do you ask for so much money?

For this, Xiao En knew better than anyone else, so he did not go to help Lao Kui'an. He believes that Elder Kui An can stand in Roma for so many years, and even the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance has not reaped any benefits. There must be his own extraordinary methods.

So Xiao En still stayed in the blacksmith's shop, chatting with Xiao Kui'an.

However, Xiao Kuian obviously wants to appear a little cautious. After all, he didn't know the identity of Sean before, so he didn't care, but now that he knew the identity of Sean, he couldn't do the same attitude as before.

Xiao En sighed helplessly in his heart: After all, he was not the one who founded the country with him, and there is no way to maintain a normal mentality.

In fact, with Sean's current status and identity, there are also a series of feats for founding the country, in addition to those followers who laid the foundation today with Sean, even those from the Wild Legion who came to vote in the later period or those from the Wild Federation. It is impossible for people to maintain an equal mentality with Sean. And even these people can't do it, let alone the nobles of the Ryan Kingdom and the little Kui'an who is not even a squire.

For a while, Xiao En was not interested. He knew that staying here would only make XiaoQuian and the apprentice even more uncomfortable.

"By the way, do you know someone named Hercules?" Sean thought for a while, but decided to find an excuse to leave.

Beth only said that Hercules was in the Roma Steppe area, but the area nearby was very vast, not that it could be found immediately, so he just asked casually, planning to leave here with this as an excuse. The reason why he came to Roma City was purely to take on the task of Bronze Body. As long as the task was received, he would leave here soon, and he did not intend to make any stay in Roma City.

"Hercules?" Xiaoquan frowned and thought for a while, "Rome City is called by this name. There seem to be two or three. Can you make it clear?"

Hearing Xiao Kui'an's words, Xiao En was taken aback for a moment. Shouldn't he let himself run into dead mice?

So, Sean didn't care to say anything, and immediately described the characteristics of the image of Hercules in his memory.

"Oh, there really is such a person in Roma City." Xiao Kui'an suddenly clapped his hands. "That young man always has an old man's tone and attitude. He lives in Dongcheng District, where he is rich. District, I don't know where this boy got so much money, maybe it was left by his ancestors.... But I heard that the city lord wanted to trouble him before, and it seemed that he wanted to make a mistake, but then I didn't know how. What's going on, this matter will not be over, now few people in the city dare to provoke him."

Hearing XiaoQuian's words, Xiao En's mind felt like a lightning strike at this moment.

At this moment, he finally remembered why he felt that Hercules looked so familiar!

This Hercules is the starter of the Sanctuary mission!

When I was in the game, the players in the southern continent basically started the sanctuary mission from Hercules. It's just that he is just a quest opener. As long as he completes a small quest, he will ask the player to find the four great ascetic monks. At this point, he will be regarded as the real Bronze Body quest. So Sean remembered the four great ascetics and the beginning of the mission, but he just didn't remember Hercules.

Who would remember a character who is just a mere idiot?

In the entire Sanctuary mission, Hercules also appeared once at the beginning, and then there was nothing related to him.

But now it seems that this Hercules is very difficult.

can make Bess feel tricky, and he is also the initiator of the sanctuary mission. These few points alone are enough to prove the strength of Hercules.

Xiao En didn't mean to stay here anymore. He soon said goodbye to Xiao Kuian, then got up and walked towards Dongcheng District. Since Sean had remembered the residence of Hercules, he knew that the other party lived there. This was originally part of his mission. If he didn't know it, then it would be nothing. Play this game for so many years.

Not long after, Sean came to the house of Hercules.

This is an independent courtyard.

It can be seen that the rich in Roma still enjoy life. There are a total of 20 independent courtyards on this street, and it is not a problem to live two or three hundred people in each courtyard. But this is not the focus of Sean's attention. He noticed that these courtyards have their own private guards. Although the number of people does not seem to be very large, these people are all of the upper bronze level, and some of them are still lower silver, which is almost worth it. It's better than the general viscount family heritage.

Are the people living here all the nobles of Ryan?

Otherwise, how could the earl of Roma allow these people to have private guards in their city?

However, Sean only glanced at it slightly. With his current level of strength, even if these people were all together, he would not be his opponent. So he knocked on the courtyard gate of Hercules, and then said: "Master Hercules, are you there?"

Chapter 322: .Help

"Who is it again?" A voice came from the courtyard.

The owner of the voice should be very young, at least Sean can hear the tenderness in the voice of the other party, as if he has not yet entered the voice change period.

When Xiao En heard the sound, he knew that the person living here was indeed the one who could start the sanctuary mission. It's just that when in the game, the Sanctuary mission was not like Sean's. He skipped the opener and entered the step of finding the ascetic monk. Instead, he had to complete a series of main tasks before finally guiding the player to come. Here, accept the task of the opener.

Then next is the real sanctuary mission.

The sound of footsteps, coming from far and near.

Sean suddenly found that he was a little nervous, and he didn't know if it was because of Guru, or because he had discovered a new secret.

But without giving Sean too much preparation time, the side door of the courtyard was opened.

When Sean turned his head and looked around, he was taken aback.

The person who opened the door was not Hercules, but a young man.

It's just a coincidence that Sean knows this young man.

"You..." When the other party saw Sean, he was also obviously taken aback, obviously he didn't expect to see Sean here.

"I'm looking for Master Hercules." Sean frowned slightly, and he also didn't expect to meet this young man here.

For this young man, Sean can't say that he has a good impression. The first encounter was only because the people on Sean's side were injured, and he didn't want to make trouble. Otherwise, under another situation, it would be impossible for Sean to let the group leave completely, and at least let them. Pay a certain price.

The breath radiating from Xiao En, this young man can obviously feel that Xiao En's strength has become stronger, but he can't tell the specific level. But there was a look of dissatisfaction on Sean's face. He was still able to tell, so he just hummed and said nothing, turned around and walked into the courtyard, but he didn't dare to close the door.

And Sean walked directly into the courtyard from the side door.

just enter the door. After seeing the situation in the courtyard. Sean frowned involuntarily.

There are ten people in the courtyard.

In addition to the Hercules who is Sean's target, there are two groups of people.

The reason why is said to be two groups of people is because the positions occupied by the two sides are very different, and the distance between each other is quite wide. As for the boy, Hercules, he placed a recliner, and then lay in the middle of the two groups of people, reading the book leisurely. Drinking some unknown liquid. On one side, he pointed at two groups of people casually.

These two groups of people are actually coming to Hercules for spiritual practice.

The person who opened the door to Sean just now quickly returned to the group of people on the left.

This group of people, Sean happened to know-said they knew each other, but in fact it was not very accurate, it was just that they had had an unpleasant encounter. As soon as he saw this group of people, Sean couldn't help but think of Hampson. It has been several years now. Hampson's whereabouts are still unknown, based on speculations in the Void Realm. The chance of Hampson's death has exceeded 70%. Only one day without finding Hampson's body or relics, Sean refused to believe that Hampson was dead, so the Void Realm did not dare to stop searching, but increased the search efforts within the Kingdom of Lane.

There are five people in the group on the left. It is a standard battle configuration team, which is the mysterious team that Sean encountered before in the small town of Harkons.

There are two low-level gold experts and three high-level silver players in the team.

Now three or four years have passed, and the strength of the five people in this team has not changed too much.

The shield warrior as the captain and the weapon master with spears and swords are still inferior gold, but they may have reached the peak of inferior gold, and their aura is a little more condensed. As for the magician, the pastor of the Morning Light Church, and the thief, they are still masters of the upper silver, among which the pastor of the Morning Light Church is at the tipping point of entering the golden realm.

Generally speaking, priests' realm improvement is much easier than the other two major factions, as long as their beliefs are sufficiently pious and firm.

Among pastors, the stage from the lower bronze to the lower gold is the easiest to promote. Generally speaking, pastors who can become the lower golden realm before the age of 30 are qualified to enter the high-level power circle of the church. However, being qualified does not mean that you can really enter, because the upper level of the church needs people who are scheming and able to judge the situation, not a group of fanatics-true fanatics can only be used as cannon fodder.

Like Hitley, she is only twenty-three or four years old now, but she is about to step into the realm of the sanctuary. In terms of strength and status alone, it is difficult for the entire Church of Life to find someone comparable to it-the profession of the pastoral department. It is difficult to define geniuses, because their strength improvement is not as difficult as the other two professional systems. , So the definition of genius is generally judged by its steady speed after its realm has improved and its mastery of new magic arts.

Sean was not sure whether the pastor of the Chenguang Church in front of him was a genius, but at least he knew that the other party was qualified to enter the Cardinals of the Chenguang Church.

If we say that among the five people in the group on the left, who is truly worthy of Sean's attention, this is the pastor of Chenguang Church.

The group on the right has one less person than the group on the left, only four people, and they are all females. However, the aura that these four people exude is much stronger than the five on the left. Almost all of them are strong in the lower level. However, the aura of two of them is not particularly stable. I think they should have just been promoted. The state of the lower level of gold is not long.

"Who are you?" After seeing Sean come in, the group on the left obviously raised some vigilance, and Hercules suddenly asked.

"Hello, Master Hercules, this is Sean Connery." Sean bowed slightly to Hercules, a teenager who looked only fifteen or six years old. He didn't think there was anything in his behavior. Wrong, anyway, the world of Miracle Continent is always respected by the expert. Since even Beth has asked Xiao En to be careful of this person, of course he will not be presumptuous, not to mention that he is a player and is not a native of this world.

"Sean?" Hercules scratched his head, as if he thought the name was familiar, but he couldn't remember where he had heard it.

On the contrary, there were two groups of people on the left and right, showing a slightly shocked look. It was obviously unexpected that the Void Guild would appear here.

"Well, what can you do for me?" Hercules thought for a while, but he didn't even think about it, so he didn't think about it at all, and asked directly.

Shaun thought for a while, and suddenly realized that he didn't know how to speak. He is not quite sure about the relationship between Hercules and Beth. If the two people are hostile, then if Sean speaks out, isn't it just to make himself unlucky? But if you don't say this, if Hercules asks how he knows him, how should he answer?

If it's just for the Sanctuary mission, Sean can still find an excuse. After all, Sean did the main mission in the game at the beginning, so I still remember some links more or less. But this time, his main purpose for coming to Hercules was not about the sanctuary mission, but about Guru.

"I hope I can talk to you in private." Sean thought for a moment, but decided to use another method to stabilize Hercules before speaking.

Hercules didn't reply immediately, but looked at Xiao En lightly, but it was such an understatement in his eyes that made Xiao En suddenly feel a terrible pressure suppressed on him. Faced with such gaze at Hercules, Sean also had to use the power of vindictiveness to resist this pressure, but what Shaun didn't expect was that under Hercules' gaze, his vindictiveness was consumed so quickly. The grudge energy bar in the status bar was rapidly declining at a speed that was visible to the naked eye.

Almost when Sean was about to be unable to bear it, Hercules suddenly withdrew this oppressive gaze.

Xiao En's face suddenly turned white, and the energy bar of vindictiveness was only one percent of the last!

Xiao En's heart suddenly stunned, and he instantly understood that Hercules had seen through his vindictiveness just now.

"Well, come with me." Hercules nodded slightly, then jumped off the couch, with his hands behind him, and walked forward like an old man.

And Sean naturally followed in a hurry. He still doesn't know why Hercules treated him that way just now. This is obviously different from the situation in the game. When the player received the task from Hercules in the game, there were not so many cumbersome tasks. Dialogue and process are nothing more than sending a person in two or three sentences. Shaun originally thought that he would find Hercules to save Guru, and it shouldn't be any different from this, but he didn't expect it to be a forceful suppression at first, which made Shaun couldn't help but adjust himself quickly. Mentality.

After entering the main building, Hercules quickly brought Sean to a study room.

"Now you can say it?" Hercules sat on a soft sofa, and he sank in immediately, but he squinted his eyes comfortably and seemed to enjoy it, "Don't worry, here, No one can hear our conversation, not even God."

Sean did not hesitate. Since Hercules had said so, he immediately took Guru out of his pocket, and then said in a deep voice, "Master, please help him. No matter what the price, I All are willing to accept!"

Chapter 323: .New Sanctuary Mission

Seeing Gollum, Hercules jumped up from the soft sofa instantly.

Before Sean could react, Gollum had been snatched by Hercules.

Originally, Gollum's body had its own force field. No one other than Sean could hold it in his hands while Gollum was awake. -Shaun felt that he should be counted as an Andrew. At the beginning, Andrew directly smashed Gollum. Defensive force field. But at this time, Guru had fallen into a coma, and his defensive field could no longer be maintained, so he was taken directly by Hercules, and Hercules was not injured.

However, Sean felt that even if Guru had a defensive field, it would not hurt Hercules.

The feeling that Hercules gives to Sean is as dangerous as Bass and Enkos.

He didn't know why this young man who seemed only fifteen or six years old would give him this feeling, but since being looked at by Hercules just now, the whole person has a sense of fear of being stared at by a beast, Sean has I can't afford any sense of resistance at all. This kind of consciousness was only felt when Bass taught him the seven forms of the soul, and it took him a long time to adapt to the bass before he finally didn't have this sense of fear.

"God and Devil's Egg!" Hercules frowned, "What's the matter? The power of the devil is so great?... Has it been soaked in the abyss?"

"Uh...it's not..." Sean shook his head.

Immediately after, he told Hercules about what had happened in the capital, but the process was not too detailed, mainly talking about the few times Guru helped him block Edward's attack. This gave Hercules a general idea. While listening, he nodded, and from time to time he condensed a group of extremely bright golden brilliance from his hand, and then stuffed it into Guru's body.

Whenever this time. Guru's vitality symbol pulsed and jumped, which made Xiao En feel that Guru was indeed recovering.

It's just that, even if there are these light clusters that Hercules has continuously inserted, it just makes Gollum's heart beat a few more times. There is no sign of awakening. Sean didn't know how the specific situation was. But watching Hercules' brows frowning tighter and tighter, Sean still felt unusually frightened, and his heart was so hung up and down.

"The backlog of demon energy is too deep." Hercules sighed, and finally stopped condensing the light ball into it. "You actually waited until now to get it! Do you know how precious this * and demon egg is? You almost killed such a precious thing!"

was so scolded by Hercules. Sean was also quite aggrieved, he didn't know this would be the case. He didn't even know the origin of Guru. When he was invaded by the devilish energy, Sean could feel the breath of Guru. At that time, he just felt that Guru might be just tired, so he needed a deep sleep. How could he have thought that the situation was so serious. After all, no one had seen a pet like Guru in the game. Shaun doesn't know how to raise him.

"But it's okay, at least it's not hopeless." After Hercules cursed Shaun fiercely. Then he said, "If you come two months later, the dragon soul will not be able to keep this little guy's life....Say, what is the relationship between you and Andrew?"

Hearing Andrew's name, Sean was taken aback for a moment. He suddenly discovered that the top terrifying powerhouses in this world seemed to have something to do with Andrew. Not to mention these two people, Beth and Enkos, it seems that even Aswinter, the goddess of the dawn age, is very afraid of Andrew. At this moment, when Hercules directly reported Andrew's name, Sean was also a little surprised.

For Andrew, Sean is naturally very grateful.

Because if there was no help from Andrew, it would be impossible for Sean to have what he is today so quickly. And it is precisely because he knows Andrew's strength that Sean has never been arrogant as a player. It can even be said that he is very careful in managing and developing. Every time he contends with other forces, he will always Very cleverly to find a balance point, so that the enemy will not trouble him desperately.

The only time a mistake was made was when he told the Peace Council about the secrets of the dark nest.

Seen as if to see Sean's hesitation, Hercules suddenly took out a badge from her body and threw it to Sean.

Sean took a look and found that this badge was actually the badge Andrew once showed him.

A black phoenix.

He remembered that Andrew once said that as long as the person possesses this badge, he belongs to him.

"The same to you....."

"Dark Phoenix Mercenary Group." Hercules said faintly, "but it was just an accident that I joined....Forget it, let's not talk about the past, Andrew is willing to plant the seal of the dragon soul to protect this guy. , I must have seen his identity, and anticipated the dangers you may encounter in the future. I believe you should be a more important person in Andrew's heart, and I will not ask how you found me..... Andrew, are you okay now?"

"He... fell asleep." Sean hesitated for a while, then handed the badge back to Hercules respectfully before speaking.

"For you?" Hercules frowned.

Sean nodded weakly.

"You are still alive, I'm really surprised." Hercules curled his lips, with a deep shock on his face, "Beth and Enkos, the two guys, didn't even tear you to pieces.... Those two old dogs raised by Andrew will tear all of Andrew's enemies to pieces. Not only enemies, but as long as it is possible to harm Andrew, they will completely tear them to pieces.... You kid, you are drinking luck. The goddess' milk grew up."

Looking at a teenager saying such vulgar words, but this guy still has the kind of awe-inspiring sacred aura that belongs to the morning light church, and Sean really doesn't know what to say. Therefore, he could only smile awkwardly, and then quickly changed the subject: "Master Hercules... Since you said that Guru can be cured, then I don't know how long it will take?"

"Not as fast as you thought." As expected, Hercules changed his attention when he mentioned the eggs of the gods and demon. "It will take one or two years at the earliest.... Purify him with the power of the Holy Light, and then repair him with the power of the Holy Light. This is a long and slender job, even if I want it, I can't do it soon. Because his body has been destroyed very thoroughly, if I infuse too much at one time A lot of Holy Light power will only make him die."

One or two years?

Shaun thought for a moment, then nodded.

If it takes such a long time, then this period of time is just right for him to carry out the task about the body of bronze. Sean didn't want to waste a year or two here in vain, and he also promised the chief of the Wall tribe to train Oriana into a true sanctuary powerhouse. But before that, he must have entered the sanctuary first before he has enough experience to teach others.

When Noro and the others were asked to return to the Void City first, Sean also assigned Oriana some training tasks, which would be enough for her to learn in the next two years.

"I understand, then Gollum will ask you, Master." Sean made a decision quickly. He bowed to Hercules, and then said, "I also want to take advantage of this time to go out and harden it. I am ready to hit the sanctuary realm."

"Your strength has indeed reached the critical point, but the strength of your body is indeed not good." Hercules glanced at Sean, then nodded and said, "The guy who was in your situation, the most The good thing is to find the ascetic monk to learn how to exercise.... But since you are someone Andrew values very much, then I can point you, I don't know if you are not interested? Of course, this will be better than you follow the ascetic monk. It's more difficult to exercise."

As soon as Hercules had finished speaking, Sean heard the system's voice abruptly ringing in his mind.

【Do you want to accept Hercules' instructions? 】

Hearing this system's prompt tone, Sean couldn't hesitate.

For those ascetic monks, Sean naturally understands them very well. Their most powerful place lies in their physical strength. Learning the art of bodybuilding from them can indeed make their bodies stronger and reach the lowest level of the sanctuary. Promotion requirements.

But the level of these ascetic monks, how could it be better than Hercules?

Hercules is a real powerhouse who can make Sean feel terrified, and can't even raise the slightest idea of resistance!

"I do." Sean nodded and said without hesitation.

After he answered yes, the electronic sound of the system rang again.

【Your sanctuary mission has changed】

【Task objective: complete Hercules' orders】

【Task reward: Bronze body. 】

【Task description: Your strength has reached the peak level of this world, but you know that this is not the end, just a new one. Only those who have stepped into the sanctuary can be regarded as the ranks of the top powerhouses in this world, but you also know that to control the rules, you must have a body that can accommodate the rules. Fortunately, you finally found someone who is willing to teach you how to exercise. 】

"Then you come with me first." Hercules nodded, then turned around to signal Sean to follow.

Under the leadership of Hercules, Sean and Hercules soon came to the front court.

The nine people were still divided into two groups and were practicing. They ignored Hercules bringing Sean out again. But who are Sean and Hercules? They just used their breath to feel a little, and they knew that these nine people had a certain amount of attention on Sean at the moment. Obviously, they were also very curious. Hercules would What is the reason why Eun brought it back to the courtyard.

Chapter 324: .How many can you play?

Returning to the vestibule, Hercules clapped his hands, and the practice of each of the nine people immediately stopped. ,

"How many can you fight?" Hercules turned his head and asked Sean.

Sean immediately realized that Hercules was asking how many people he could beat them. Although his current strength is the golden peak of the upper ranks, his personal combat power is relatively very tyrannical, even if he faces the strong in the sanctuary, he is not without his strength. Even if he is in the same realm as himself, he can fight three or four people. . But there is a premise here, that is, none of his enemies have a completely tacit teamwork, and most of the time they are also attacking on their own.

But now, the two groups of people in the courtyard are obviously different from ordinary enemies.

They are all adventurer squads that are accustomed to cooperating in combat. Obviously, their cooperation is extremely high. In addition, the configuration is very complete and standard. Sean really can't say that he can play a few for a while.

"This group, it should be ok." Sean thought for a while, and pointed to the group of people he met in the small town of Hakons.

Although this group has magicians, thieves, priests, shield warriors and weapon masters, it feels that Sean is slightly less popular than the other four. I don't know why, the other group clearly has only four people, and it is not a standard combat team configuration, but it feels much more dangerous for Sean-you know, with Sean's current strength, facing three, at the same time. The four high-level gold powerhouses are not a problem, not to mention the four women in the right group are just low-level gold.

It's just that Sean's intuition has never made any mistakes, so he called the group on the left without thinking about it.

Sean relies on intuition to deal with problems. It's just his understatement that angered the group of people on the left in an instant.

Especially the weapon master with a scar on his face. He immediately said angrily: "Are you trying to retaliate? If you are dissatisfied with what happened in Harkons before, just come to me alone. It has nothing to do with the captain or the others!"

Shaun frowned.

Although he doesn't have any good feelings for these people, the matter at that time was settled by each other by default, and he would not settle accounts for this matter. However, he glanced at these people and saw that their faces were dark, and Xiao En didn't bother to explain anything, because it was meaningless.

"How to fight?" Sean asked in a deep voice.

"As long as you don't die, you can fight like this." Hercules was also simply, and after leaving a sentence, it was ignored.

Sean nodded slightly. Then, after moving his body a little, he flipped his right hand and took the Black King directly in his hand.

He collected all the remaining imitations of the Black King from Lao Kui'an's shop. Previously, his plan was to use this weapon to make guest appearances without revealing his identity. Anyway, now Ryan There are many "Sean Connery" in the kingdom, and he didn't bring Cecilia, but there is no need to worry that someone will recognize his true identity, so I want to use those imitations to disguise it.

But at this moment, what Hercules is talking about is the case of undead. You can hit whatever you want, so of course it is impossible for Sean to get those imitations.

"Where's your hand and foot?" Xiao En waved the Black King, and the roaring sound of the air made the faces of the other people change drastically, only after hearing Shaun's words. The look on his face became even more ugly-not panic, but anger.

"It's best not to, otherwise the treatment will be very troublesome." Hercules lay back on the couch. Then he said without looking back, "Just hit people down. Or make them lose the ability to fight again.... Try not to die, and don't break your hands or feet. Of course, if you really can't control it. That's fine. When I didn't say, this is not a life and death duel, but it is also the best way to test your strength."

Hercules' words are undoubtedly self-contradictory.

The situation that truly embodies combat power is a deadly battle. Only in this kind of battle can a person's level be judged clearly. However, the result of a deadly battle will inevitably be casualties. If Sean's strength completely let go of his hands and feet, it would be a catastrophic massacre for these people. Of course, he might also pay some price, but death is definitely not dead. But now, Hercules wants them to do their best, but they can't die. Although he says that it's okay to die, but everyone knows that if he really misses to kill someone, then he definitely won't be happy.

While the five opponents were still guessing the meaning of Hercules' words, Sean already understood.

Control.

Xiao En looked back at the team of four women, and then at the team of five, Xiao En roughly understood it.

The strength of these two teams is the same, which means that whether it is the five of them or the four on the other side, they all have the actual combat power to compete with themselves. The cooperation of these people is very tacit, and they know each other well, so fighting with them is not like the enemies that Sean has encountered in the past. It is just a brain rush to fight directly, whoever is stronger will win.

Taking a deep breath, Sean took a few steps forward, and then asked, "Are you ready?"

"Anytime!" It was the Scarface who replied. He took down the spear and did not use the sword on his waist. Obviously, he hoped to suppress Sean by attacking distance.

Sean saw that the opponent was already ready for battle, and he did give the opponent enough time. At this time, he no longer hesitated, and the double hole cards of light body technique and adrenal stimulation were opened directly. The whole person instantly turned into a black whirlwind, and rushed towards the team of these five people, and its aura was so powerful that it made people mistakenly think that they were facing a seventh-level monster!

Shaun's idea is very simple, it is a quick fight.

He didn't want to delay time.

Because there are magicians and priests in the enemy lineup, this gives them the ability to carry out long-lasting battles. And Sean, since he can't kill people, then he can't use the seven forms of soul, which is actually extremely unfavorable for him. Because he basically relies on these two sword skills to kill the enemy in the battle now, the arcane swordsmanship. The change only only improves his swordsmanship ability. Did not bring him any powerful swordsmanship killer moves.

So if the battle is prolonged, for Sean. It is very unfavorable-at least in this restrictive combat situation.

The Scarface obviously did not expect that Sean would be so fast. The moment he saw Sean move, he could not capture Sean's traces at all, only based on his combat experience and consciousness. Predict Shaun's movement trajectory, and then shoot directly.

Electric light shines on the tip of the gun.

A piercing sound of thunder exploded from the spear. The shot shot by this scar man turned out to be a direct attack skill!

Moreover, his grudge is still a rare thunder attribute grudge!

Thunder attribute vindictiveness, although it is not as explosive as fire attribute vindictiveness. But in terms of destructive power, it is not weaker than the fire attribute, and compared to the fire attribute fighting spirit, the thunder attribute fighting energy will also have the characteristic of paralysis, and it also has the rapid special effect of the wind attribute. This paralysis effect does not necessarily mean that it must be a direct hit to take effect. Even if it is only an indirect attack contact, there is still a certain chance that it will be stunned by the paralysis characteristics of the lightning attribute.

In the game, players who have mastered thunder attribute grudge are often members of the deathmatch team specially trained by major guilds. Fifty professional pk players who have mastered the thunder attribute grudge. The outcome of a battle can often be reversed easily.

This shot is not only extremely fast, but it is also a shotgun attack skill.

The so-called shotgun attack skill refers to the attack skill that can cover a small area behind the hand.

This shot of Scarface. The coverage area is a 30 cm radius with the tip of the gun as the core-although the area is small, it is based on the judgment of the Scarface Man. If Sean were to approach from this movement trajectory, then he would definitely be hit. Even if it can't cause actual damage. Even the thunder attribute's grudge effect didn't work, but as long as he was shocked by the grudge. A slower speed is enough.

On the other side, the man dressed as a thief had already got the crossbow bolt, waiting for an opportunity on one side: as long as Sean showed a flaw, he would definitely shoot the crossbow bolt without hesitation.

only.

Scar Man's shot did not force Sean out.

It was as if his attack had made a mistake in anticipation.

The five people who have been cooperating with each other for a long time and have a very high tacit understanding are all a little lost at this time.

On the other side, a group of people, one of whom was a slightly petite young woman, did suddenly smile: "It's interesting."

"Big sister, what do you see?" A light sword warrior who held a small leather shield in his left hand and a light sword in his right hand hurriedly said.

"It's just a little trick, it looks amazing, but if you break it, you will all." The petite woman, known as the big sister's head, smiled, but did not speak immediately, but gave a low voice. stand up.

"A grudge burst?" A tall young woman who was one head taller than the woman called the eldest sister, frowned slightly before speaking, but his tone was not so sure.

"Almost, but it's a more sophisticated technique of using vindictiveness." The eldest sister smiled, "This person's strength...very strong, very strong."

"How does it compare to us?" The fourth woman suddenly asked, her voice a little cold.

But this time, the eldest sister didn't speak any more, but stared at the battle on the other side with great vigor.

Because at this time, Sean had already broken through the attack blockade of the Scarface, and also avoided the thief's crossbow arrow attack, and then appeared directly next to the magician—he didn't choose to be protected by the shield warrior. The priest, instead, chose a magician protected by a shield warrior as his first target!

Chapter 325: .Kill demon

Group warfare with adventurers and mercenaries is different from corps warfare, and it is also different from Sean's previous solo fights and fights.

Adventurers and mercenaries, usually cannot be counted as individual individuals, but the number of their groups must be regarded as a complete individual.

Having a magician in a group means that the group has special attack methods and long-range lethality-like battles between fighters, no matter how attacks, it is also a form of physical attack. As long as it is a physical attack, then certain postures and actions can inevitably be adopted to block, save or reduce damage, and this type of combat technique is the most feared by Sean.

He didn't choose the pastor of Chenguang Church because the senior Chenguang pastor at the level of Silver Peak had mastered at least three types of defensive magic arts.

If Sean chooses to trouble the Chenguang priest, then he is likely to be caught in a protracted battle, which is equivalent to providing space and time for the opponent's magician and thieves to fight. And this is not the result that Sean wants. Since he is fighting a quick fight, he naturally has to choose the most difficult person to deal with.

The magician is undoubtedly the toughest enemy Sean thinks.

In fact, for all warriors, magicians have always made them love and hate.

Love refers to the fact that when magicians become companions, they are there. In many battles, the danger and difficulty can be weakened to a certain extent, and their profound knowledge can also make them change their adventure. It goes more smoothly; hate means that the magician is the enemy's companion, because this will make their fighting environment extremely dangerous and bad, and it is always possible to solve the enemy by paying a certain amount of casualties.

In many adventure stories, a powerful team often pays a heavy price to eliminate the enemy's magician, but because of too many casualties, they can only hate a team that is clearly inferior to its own combat effectiveness. This is simply an example. There are countless.

Shaun came to this magician easily.

His speed was so fast that everyone around him did not react.

Do not.

should say. One person reacted.

The shield warrior responsible for protecting the magician is also the core soul of the entire adventure group.

But even if he reacts, it is useless, because his movements can't keep up with his thinking speed, so even if he has already waved his shield, there is a glimmer of light on the shield. That is the skill formed by the vindictive condensed on top-shield strike. But his attack. But still like his previous companion, he hit the empty space, even if he didn't even touch the corner of Sean's clothes, only a wave of air exploded in the air.

The woman in the light swordsman costume stuck out her tongue slightly, apparently shocked by the power of the shield strike.

"The shield warrior and you are different types of professions, there is no comparison." The elder sister reached out and touched the hair of the light swordsman who was slightly higher than herself, and then smiled. "The power of this shield strike is indeed quite large. But it's a pity... as long as you can't touch the enemy, it's useless."

"He is much faster than me, and I can't guarantee that I can touch him." The light swordsman shrugged, but there was no regret on his face, "The power... is stronger than me, this guy. His stamina must also be very good, able to withstand the boiling pressure of blood brought about by such high-speed movements."

"The four of us, if we face him alone. There is absolutely no possibility of winning." The elder sister narrowed her eyes slightly before speaking. "But don't forget, we are a whole.... If the four of us work together, we should be able to restrain his actions."

While the four women were talking, Sean had already avoided the air wave that exploded in the air, and then walked sideways behind the shield warrior. The black king in his hand also ruthlessly hit the back of the shield warrior's head-this is the most representative skill of the swordsman class, called "hand strike", similar to the thieves' "sap"] One kind of skill can bring the enemy stunned for up to five seconds.

But Sean didn't learn this skill. His action was just to behave, and he didn't even infuse his grudge. With the destructive power of Sean's grudge, if he did that, the head of the shield warrior will definitely be blown by Sean. Therefore, this blow only caused the shield warrior to have a black illusion in front of him, and he staggered a few steps forward, but the five-second faintness did not appear.

From the effect point of view, it is at most one second.

But this time is enough for Sean.

After separating the shield warrior from the magician, Sean slapped the magician with a sword—it was a pat, not a cut. Because Shaun knew very well that no matter how good his control was, as long as the sword was cut through, the magician would also have to die on the spot. In order to avoid the situation of death, Sean could only choose to shoot. In terms of the magician's physical condition, he was directly shot by the black king who weighed hundreds of catties, even if he wanted to fight again, I am afraid that he would not be so fast. Able to restore physical fitness.

Faced with this unavoidable sword, this magician completely showed a fierceness different from ordinary academic magicians.

He did not directly end his spell chanting, but accelerated his speech slightly, forcibly extracting and fusing the elements and magic power-this is a very dangerous behavior, because as long as one of the syllables is wrong, then this magic will not only fail to launch successfully, it will even explode directly. For the magician, this consequence is magic backlash.

Magic backlash, from the slightest serious injury, to the worst, the magical power immediately collapsed, and he could no longer practice magic in this life.

Generally speaking, those idiots who came from the academy don't dare to do this. They would rather die than bear the magic backlash.

In this world, there is only one kind of magician who will choose this approach when desperately.

Wandering magician.

A glimmer of appreciation flashed in Sean's eyes.

Magicians can be roughly divided into three types on the Marvel Continent, namely, the academic school, the inheritance school, and the wandering school.

Academic magicians, this is the system of magicians created by the Maggie Empire and the Kingdom of Portoroa. As long as they have money, they can resonate with the elements. If you can gather magic power and have a strong spirit, you can go to these magic academies to learn magic. There is no such thing as an apprenticeship for academy magicians. Any magician who can enter the magic academy can skip the first and second level career process directly. Once the basic course is completed, it must be level three. Even a Tier 4 magician.

Inheritance magicians refer to those magicians who start practicing as magic apprentices, which is commonly known as the mage tower practice. This type of magician is more proficient in actual combat than the academic magician, but it is difficult to compare with the academic magician in terms of knowledge and profoundness, especially in theoretical knowledge. But if mercenary groups and adventurers are allowed to choose, they will definitely welcome inheritance magicians.

As for the wanderers. This is a new category. It refers to those people who do not have a teacher to teach, and cannot go to the magic academy for further studies, but have mastered magic by chance. This genre is the most dangerous existence among the three major genres. It is precisely because they had nothing before, so when it comes to desperately, they will become reckless, just to destroy the enemy.

Shaun initially thought that this magician was a heritage magician. After all, he already has the strength of upper silver. However, few wandering magicians can enter the silver realm, let alone the upper silver in front of them. But even if he was lucky enough to successfully enter the silver realm. This is the limit. Without perfect system theory knowledge, it is impossible for any magician to cross the absolute boundary of the golden realm.

However, Sean has appreciation in his eyes, but it does not mean that he will be merciful.

This magician is undoubtedly very lucky, and the actual combat experience is also very rich. He forcibly extracts the fusion of elements and magic, and the syllables of the magic spell have no mistakes, and a huge fireball like a basketball swiftly in front of him Condensed, and faintly still swelling-after all, a wandering magician, can not expect to be able to silently cast fireballs like Cecilia.

There was a smirk on the face of the magician.

His idea is very simple, no matter whether Sean continues to attack or chooses to temporarily retreat, he will directly detonate this big fireball. The difference is whether it detonates in front of him or when Sean retreats-but if he has a choice, he naturally hopes the latter, because if he detonates in front of him, even he will be involved in the attack. Range, a careless word, that is, even his own life will be caught.

The eyes of the Four Girls Group were surprised, but it was more of admiration.

Because of courage.

But soon, the expressions on everyone, including the female quadruple group, as well as the magician, turned into surprise and shock.

"break!"

Sean gave a soft drink, and there was a black mist on the black king, and Xiao En's wrist flicked. The black king who was supposed to be shot horizontally immediately turned into a horizontal slash-the blade cut from the big fireball. However, the internal elements arranged at the moment the Black King cut in, as if they were destroyed by something, and completely collapsed in an instant: the big fireball that was still inflating instantly emitted a hot temperature, and then quickly breathed in the air. It turned into a cloud of white smoke.

Kill demon!

This is a very rare special performance, and nowadays weapons rarely have this effect-they don't think that Sean is a demon-breaking warrior, naturally because Sean does not show performance related to the demon-breaking class. At least, if it is really a demon-breaking warrior, they will not choose a magician as the first breakthrough target, because they can ignore any magic attack.

So, they agreed that the ability to destroy demons was given by Sean's weapons.

In fact, this guess is not wrong.

Because demon is originally one of the special abilities of the black king, and it is not just demon.

After the Black King cut through the big fireball and completely destroyed the elements inside it, Sean's wrist quickly turned again, and the Black King once again turned into a pat, and patted the magician heavily. Suddenly, there was a sound of broken bones, and before the magician even had time to utter a painful grunt, the whole person was shot and flew out by Xiao En, and he fell to the ground heavily, knowing his life or death.

Xiao En realized at this time that after he broke the fireball just now, he didn't have time to recover his strength, and his start was a little heavier. With this magician's physique, it might be difficult to withstand the damage of this shot. If the sternum is broken, I am afraid that it is the lowest damage. I am afraid that the broken sternum will directly pierce his heart. That is really bad.

Only at this time, the situation can no longer tolerate Sean's thinking.

As the magician was shot and flew out without knowing his life or death, several other people around suddenly went crazy, and roared towards Xiao En to besiege and killed.

Especially the thief, directly aimed the crossbow arrow at Sean, then pulled the twister and shot the crossbow arrow out.

When it went too far, the Pastor Chenguang also shot at this time.

A golden light quickly fell on the crossbow arrow, dyeing the entire crossbow arrow golden!

Chapter 326: Deterrence

The arrow dyed in gold came extremely fast, which was far different from the previous speed.

Sean knows that this is the increase given by the magic.

Different factions of churches naturally master different magic arts. At the low-level, all the magic arts have more or less commonality, but once they reach the high-level, the function, power, and direction of the magic arts are also different according to the priesthood, godhood, and grace of the gods. There will be a huge difference, even if it is a magical technique that can be counted as the same effect, its specific effect and power will become different.

Like the healing technique mastered by the priests of the Life Church, the priests of the Morning Light Church will also, but the effect is obviously incomparable with the Life Church.

Chenguang Church's high-level magic arts are mostly strengthening and defensive magic arts. Although there are many attack magic arts, they are only at a medium level. It is impossible to compete with the war church, victory church, ice and snow. Compared with other churches like Winter Church. In fact, the reason why Chenguang Church can become the strongest church on the entire continent, apart from being backed by the Saint-Joles Empire, is that Chenguang Church is a church that integrates the best of hundreds of families—almost all types are involved. Of magic.

Light, it has risen by speed, and its power is not weak.

Sean didn't know which of the strengthening magic skills the Chenguang priest used was, but he was certain that the power of this crossbow arrow had been increased by at least two to three times, even if it was heavy armor, he could shoot a pair Put on!

You know, this thing is not a piercing arrow!

And the crossbow in the hands of the thief is just the most common crossbow, not even a military crossbow known for its strength or a clever crossbow, not to mention the armored crossbow specially used to deal with the strong, large warcrafts, and legions. NS.

Faced with this extremely fast speed, Sean did not dare to resist.

He knew that the black king's sword could block the arrow, but affected by the impact force, he was likely to be knocked back. In serious cases, even the center of gravity will be destroyed. If only facing this thief alone, Sean would naturally have no scruples. He knew that he was faster than the other party. Even if his center of gravity was destroyed, he could quickly adjust and kill him.

But he is now facing a team of adventurers. The other party is not alone in this thief. There are also two warriors staring at him.

Even though Sean can ignore the shield warrior, with the scarred face, Sean can't treat the opponent as non-existent, especially since he is still a warrior with thunder attributes. As long as it is corroded by its thunder attribute, even if it is not a paralyzing effect, if one's own fighting energy moves a little slower, it is very likely that he will fall into a dangerous situation.

Sean didn't know why Hercules let him compete with this group of adventurers. But he didn't want to lose either.

This group of adventurers does have a strong combat effectiveness level. Even in the game, it was enough to meet the requirements of the elite group of the general guild, so Shaun did not take it lightly from the beginning. Of course, his enemies did not take Sean lightly. After all, they were the powerhouses of the upper level gold, but they had miscalculated Sean's combat power-taking Sean's level as a normal upper level. Golden powerhouse, that is obviously looking for abuse.

It's just a pity that they realized the price of this, but a companion of the magician fell.

One sideways. Xiao En slammed into the shield warrior next to him, and he would rather bear the attack of the shield warrior. Not willing to try to block that arrow.

Watching Xiao En collide with him, the shield fighter naturally greeted him without hesitation, and the one with the left shield and the right knife was ready to fight directly.

Don't look at the shield warrior's offensive power, but in fact this class is the most typical offensive and defensive balance. Once entangled by it, it is often difficult to get out immediately. It's just that shield warriors don't usually participate in frontal battles. Their greatest value lies in protecting the teammates in the back row, such as magicians, priests, and archers. But their magician was directly touched by Sean. The sword flew out, and the priest was not the target that Sean tried to solve in a short time. Therefore, the shield warrior had lost the goal of protection at this time, so he could only join the battle.

Sean's power value is not low, at least it cannot be regarded as the level of normal high-level gold.

Moreover, no one knows more about the skills of the warrior department than Sean.

He almost avoided the shield warrior's second shield attack, and at the same time, he slapped the Black King in his hand fiercely, knocking directly on the opponent's heavy shield, and a spark suddenly appeared. Splashed out, and the shield warrior took two steps back in surprise. It's just that he is also a combat veteran, so taking advantage of the pace at this time, he quickly stabilized his center of gravity, and the chopper in his right hand directly picked it towards Xiao En.

The blade is like electricity, with a shocking glimmer.

Beheaded!

This is one of the most commonly used skills of shield fighters. It is an attacking skill that judges damage based on the strength value. In most cases, it can have a good effect.

But this is obviously useless for Sean.

After the black king slapped the shield warrior away, he watched the opponent's slasher approaching him, and Sean stabbed the sword directly without thinking about it, but he accurately hit the slasher in the hands of the shield warrior. A little bit of the blade. It would be impossible for the opponent to suppress Sean by simply fighting against each other with strength. Therefore, when Sean's sword was used, it not only destroyed the opponent's beheading, but also could destroy the opponent's center of gravity again.

But at this moment, another golden brilliance fell on the shield warrior's body, shining his body with brilliance.

This magical technique, Sean recognized it.

Glorious blessings.

A magical technique that can increase the strength and endurance of the caster. Compared with the berserker's violent warrior, although the effect of the increase is not large, it is better than it has any side effects. Judging by the strength of the Pastor of the Morning Light Church, after this blessing technique was cast, it was just enough to make the shield warrior's power overshadow Sean.

It's just that when the glorious blessing fell on the shield warrior, Sean laughed.

The corners of his mouth raised slightly, and at this moment he suddenly drew his sword back.

The pressure that had been on the blade suddenly disappeared, and the slasher that had already exerted force to cut it down suddenly lost its balance in the hand of the shield warrior, and the center of gravity of the whole person was also destroyed. Once again, he couldn't help but stagger a few steps.

And Sean, once again passed by the shield warrior, and the laughter was full of irony.

This anger made the shield warrior furious, but when he turned around after adjusting his center of gravity, Sean was already out of the opponent's attack range-the shield warrior. Commonly known as the shield warrior. The biggest advantage is that it has good defensive capabilities and a large number of attack skills that are sufficient for counterattack, but its weaknesses are also obvious and helpless: the attack range is too small, and the attack distance is too short.

So, he could only watch Sean run towards the pastor of the Morning Light Church.

This priest does not have the same courage as that magician.

Seeing Xiao En rushing towards him, he directly gave up the magical technique that had been halfway used without thinking about it, and the consequences of forcibly interrupting the magical technique made his face pale. But it doesn't hurt much. Then he began to finish a prayer in a hasty tone. I applied a guardian deity technique to myself-I saw a star-like light point suddenly falling from his body, wrapping his whole person, forming a thin and transparent energy shield.

Sean burst out laughing suddenly.

Glorious shelter.

The Morning Light Church is known as the defensive magic technique second only to the Little Invincible. This magical technique does not allow the caster to have a nearly invincible state like the Little Invincible's "Morning Light's Will". It can only absorb a certain degree of invincibility. Damage, as long as it exceeds the critical point, the energy shield will also be completely broken. However, this magical technique does not bring any negative damage or impact to the target, unlike the will of Chenguang, which will continue to accumulate damage, and then burst out at once when the effect is over. The protection brought by the Radiant Shelter. It is completely harmless, but its weakness is even more obvious.

Can not move. The inability to cast spells is the biggest weakness of this magical technique.

The pastor of Chenguang Church performed this patron saint technique himself, which was equivalent to trapping himself. Before the energy cover was broken or the magic effect ended, he could only watch Sean and his companions. Fight, but he can't provide any rescue. Of course, unless he ends this magical technique ahead of time, it's just that, for a long time, he will not be able to continue to perform this magical technique.

Glorious Shelter is a self-saving method used by Pastor Chenguang to protect himself and delay time.

Xiao En, who was rushing forward, suddenly twisted his footsteps, and his whole body instantly turned towards the thief who was a little far away and rushed over. The speed was naturally much faster than when he rushed toward the priest, almost It was equivalent to the speed when Sean went to trouble the magician in the first place.

At this time, the pastor knew that Sean was not here for himself, and he was actually deterred by Sean's aura at that moment, and used the ultimate means of Glory Shelter.

At this moment, the pastor's bowels were blue with regret.

"Stop it!" The scarred face roared, and at the same time he raised the spear in his hand high, and the purple-blue electric light instantly surrounded the spear, like countless small snakes wrapped around the spear. .

A slight tingling sensation came from the left half of Sean.

That is a strong signal of danger.

Xiao En's pupils shrank suddenly, and he didn't care about solving the thief first. He stepped hard with his right foot, directly shattering the ground, and his ankles were deeply plunged into the ground. However, his whole body shape stopped because of this. The transition from extreme movement to extreme silence made the four women who had been staring at Sean feeling a strong nausea suddenly. Feeling, even faintly dizzy.

This is the result of their mental power being shaken.

Xiao En's gaze was fixed on this Scarface, and his aura quickly rose in an instant.

He doesn't know what skills this man with the rank of weapon master has mastered, but there are definitely not many skills that can give him a strong sense of threat. And as long as it is a skill that makes him feel that his life is in danger, it must be a powerful attack skill. This is very likely not a simple system skill, but a martial skill unique to some powerful characters. Although this team of adventurers has only five people, everyone's strength is not weak, and the overall level is comparable to the elite group of a general guild. Therefore, it is not surprising that it has more or less mastered one or two powerful martial arts. Things.

Shaun knew that he couldn't keep his hands.

A strong wave of air instantly radiated from Sean's body, and the faces of these people in the confrontation with Sean suddenly changed. At this moment, they all understood one thing, that is, they were fighting just now. Among them, Sean obviously kept his hands. But even if Sean kept his hands, they were no longer opponents, which allowed them to clearly understand the gap between each other.

Of course the most unbelievable, it is actually this scar face.

He knew that when he saw Sean the last time, Sean's strength was about the same as theirs, and even his aura was slightly weaker. But in just a few short years, not only had Sean far surpassed them in the realm of strength, but he also possessed such a terrifying aura, which clearly touched the threshold of the sanctuary.

However, Scarface knew that he was already riding a tiger.

Chapter 327: .Randomly locate the battle teleport scroll

Long throwing is also a fighting technique.

But the long spears that can be used for throwing have strict standards: the longest cannot be longer than 1.5 meters, and the most reasonable length is between 1.2 meters. The special throwing spears of kobolds are not included in this list. This is Judge the length based on normal human height. Orcs and elves use this as a reference standard, but the weight will be modified.

Because the long gun is used for throwing, if the barrel is too long, the resistance of the gun body will be increased, the throwing distance will be shortened, and the power and penetration will be reduced. And if the gun body is too short, although the throwing distance may be extended, the power and penetration will also be insufficient.

Throwing guns were first used to deal with cavalry units on the Marvel Continent.

It was only after countless improvements that it became an attack method that can be used specifically to target heavy infantry—especially in the absence of a sunder crossbow.

The long gun in Scarface's hand is more than 1.7 meters long, almost equal to the height of a person. This will increase the resistance of the gun body when throwing, and the destructive power will be reduced accordingly, and the throwing distance will be farther. go. But Scarface's vindictiveness is of the thunder attribute, which allows him to make up for the long barrel of the gun, and at a distance of 50 meters, the power of his gun is only half that of an alchemy crossbow. .

This is where Sean feels threatened!

You know, the alchemy crossbow belongs to the city defense class war crossbow. It is a special product of alchemy, magic, and steam technology. Its power is well-deserved in the era when the magic crystal cannon has not been officially launched. The strongest war killer. The farthest attack range of the alchemy crossbow can reach 1,000 meters, and the effective killing range is within 500 to 700 meters. The destructive power of a crossbow is enough to penetrate fifty sets of heavy armor. It is usually a weapon used to deal with the strong in the sanctuary. .

The strong below the middle sanctuary, as long as they are locked by the magic mark of the alchemy crossbow. Basically it is impossible to escape death. Even if it is a high-ranking sanctuary, they don't dare to take the attack of the alchemy crossbow, usually before the alchemy crossbow is fired, the sanctuary strong will not participate in the siege war at all.

And the entire Kingdom of Lane, except for the Royal Capital, Tonis Fortress, Garrod Fortress, and St. Drones Fortress, there are a total of fifty-six alchemy crossbows. There are no alchemy crossbows in other fortresses, castles, and cities. And Shaun's Void Duchy. Today, only Void City has obtained two alchemy crossbows by relying on the honeymoon period of the alliance with the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce.

This special war crossbow can only be used in a fixed position defensive battle. There is no way that it can be loaded on a carriage and moved around like a normal war crossbow. Moreover, the alchemy crossbow is not compared with the general heavy crossbow, and its service life will be lost every time it is disassembled, so it is generally not disassembled after being fixed.

Looking at the growing aura of the scar face. Sean's momentum also climbed to a critical point.

Sean knows very well. He was very close to the Scarface. It only took him one second to kill the weapon master, and the skills he mastered also allowed him to kill the Scarface effortlessly.

At this moment, it is a life-and-death battle, and Xiao En naturally cannot be merciful.

And under the powerful aura and coercion of these two people, the others are naturally completely unable to get close to them. Even if the thief wants to raise his hand to shoot an arrow, he can't do it at all. He just tried to raise his hand. It all made him feel more difficult, as if it would take a lifetime of strength to be able to lift an inch with difficulty.

Scarred face. At this time, there is absolutely no retreat.

The God of War Thunder Spear is his ultimate ultimate move.

In the past battles, he rarely needed to perform this trick, and once the situation required him to perform this trick, it was enough to prove that their team was in the midst of life and death. However, in previous battles, he has never encountered this situation. He was shocked by Sean's aura so that he did not dare to attack easily, because his instinct told him that as long as he really wanted to launch an attack. , Then he will definitely die next moment!

This feeling of being completely locked in by the death aura is not the first time he has experienced, but he has never been so unbearable now.

If he had known that Sean was so strong, he would never have the idea of using this trick.

And Sean, at this time is entering a kind of dormant period.

Scarface's martial skill made him feel that his life was in danger. But he did not panic because of this. On the contrary, he was very calm and calm. He knew that if he made a rash move, he would definitely be killed by the opponent's move, because the opponent's aura was firmly locked in himself. Body. So Sean can only wait, he must wait for the moment when the opponent is about to attack, before he can launch a Requiem and kill him with one blow.

This is his only chance to win.

On the contrary, he is likely to die.

In this kind of confrontation of mental pressure, Sean has never lost. He has patience and some experience of pressure of confrontation. His mental power will not collapse so easily. On the contrary, he is constantly increasing his own mental pressure. He wants to use mental pressure to make the opponent's mental breakdown so as to gain a momentary opportunity for himself to attack. The same kind of mental pressure can also deter other people around him. Kind guy.

The atmosphere in the field is getting lower and lower, as if a terrible storm is forming.

Suddenly, a muffled shout suddenly sounded.

"enough!"

The sound of was like a thunder bell, shaking the body of everyone present a little unstable.

And the energy shield of the Chenguang priest was completely shattered by this roar of anger. Before this pastor Chenguang had time to react, he let out a scream, and the whole person fainted. Obviously, the mental destructive power of this scream has exceeded the limit of tolerance.

The Thunder Snake on the spear held high by Scarface suddenly collapsed completely under the sound of this shaking, all the lightning disappeared without a trace, and the arm of Scarface was even weaker. Blood suddenly flowed down from his sleeves. The handle of the spear and his right hand were dyed red, dripping drop after drop to the ground, and his whole person also spouted a mouthful of blood, and the whole person swayed and staggered. Take a few steps. Finally slumped on the ground.

Xiao En's face suddenly turned white, but it was not as embarrassed as the scar face. His face only turned pale for a moment, and immediately became ruddy again.

As for others. The situation is mixed.

The faces of the Four Girls Group all turned pale. But it was obvious that the injury was not serious, it was probably just a shock to the spirit.

The thief was sitting on the ground, his strength seemed to be completely drained, his face was not only ugly, but also very pale. As for the shield warrior, although his face was also pale, at least he was not particularly ugly. And he and Sean can still stand-the four women did not participate in the battle. Therefore, it is naturally not included in this list.

Hercules suddenly raised his hand and swept away, and suddenly there was a holy light falling from the sky, directly shining on the magician.

Vaguely, Sean saw several divine texts appearing in the holy light. He seemed to have seen this kind of divine texts in Hitley's divine texts.

That means healing.

Hercules' gaze swept across the Scarface, Shield Warrior, Magician, Rogue, and Priest, and then said in a deep voice: "You have lost. My rules should be clear to you. I don't said."

"Why did we lose!" The thief was obviously dissatisfied, even though he was already weak at this time. He still struggled to stand up and shouted loudly, "If you didn't stop the master just now, we might not lose!"

"If he didn't show mercy at the beginning, your companion of the mage would be the first to die." Hercules said lightly, "And you are sure you just continue, you won't lose? ... in that momentum. Under pressure, it was not him who could not bear it, but you. As long as he dared to shoot that shot, he would be the second dead, followed by you, then your captain, and finally the priest. ...I don't even have this vision, what are you doing here with me? Get out!"

At the end, Hercules' voice obviously used a trace of rules, and the thief who challenged Hercules' majesty directly spit out a mouthful of blood.

This time, the shield warrior did not say anything, but silently lifted up his companion, then picked up the magician and the priest, and after a salute to Hercules, he turned and left the independent courtyard. .

Sean looked at these people leaving blankly, obviously not yet clear what happened.

"My name is Flanda, and I am their captain. This time I would like to thank Your Excellency Grand Duke. If it were not for you, we would not have been so relaxed." The woman who was called the captain by the other three women turned towards Sean. He saluted and said respectfully.

Before, she might still think that the strength of the four of them could work together to suppress Xiao En, but after seeing that Xiao En had completely exploded just now, they had no such idea. Especially after hearing Hercules' words, she had a clearer judgment about the gap between them.

Shaun looked at Hercules.

"These two groups of people came to me for advice, but I didn't have that much time, so I told them to give them three months, three months later, let them practice a match, win and stay, and go if they lose. People." Hercules said faintly, "but because of your arrival, those people left early."

Sean nodded slightly, without saying anything.

Only at this time, Hercules suddenly took out a scroll from her body and threw it to Sean, and then continued to speak: "Your foundation is already very solid, I have nothing to teach you.... This is a random positioning battle teleportation. Scroll, open this scroll, and you will be randomly teleported to a certain place on this continent where a battle is taking place. I don't know the exact location, but what I can tell you is that it's definitely not a safe place."

"Then what?" Sean asked.

"Then?" Hercules looked at Sean with a weird look, "Then you know what to do.... But let me remind you in advance that the transfer process of this scroll is not easy, and your body will be emptied. The power of the storm is washed away, and you will not be able to use the strength of the stage of emergence. Next, as long as you can live and restore your body to its peak state, you will naturally understand the power of the sanctuary."

"No security?" Xiao En was taken aback for a moment, and he suddenly felt that this seemed a bit of a fatal act.

"Of course not." Hercules curled his lips. "I've told you before. It's not easy. Now that you accept it, don't regret it.... Anyway, you only have this way, or go on. , Or don't get promoted to the sanctuary....Of course, if you are accidentally passed to the lair of a holy beast, then I can only count your face black."

Shaun's face suddenly became very difficult to look at.

"Oh, there is one more thing I forgot to tell you."

"What?" Sean asked.

At this moment, the scroll in Sean's hand suddenly shot out dozens of white brilliance, and the entire scroll burst at Sean's injury, and a white light instantly enveloped Sean. Immediately afterwards, Sean's figure gradually disappeared in front of everyone, and before disappearing, he finally heard Hercules' last words: "Even if you don't open it, this scroll will send you away. ...Because it also has a name, called Unstable Scroll."

If he could speak at this time, Sean would definitely curse.

But it was a pity that he couldn't speak, because he felt that his body was thrown into a press and squeezed and stirred, and there was a very clear and obvious sharp pain from all his limbs. When he was finally able to regain his vision, there was only a fierce scream in his ears, and then a fiery pain on his cheeks, and a sharp arrow shot out against his face. A blood stain was wiped out.

Chapter 328: .On the battlefield

The fiery pain on his face tells Sean that he is not dreaming now, but is actually sent to a battlefield by Hercules' silly scroll.

The sharp arrow pierced his cheek and pierced into an old tree behind him, and the light trembling of the arrow feathers was clearly visible.

Sean didn't know if he was lucky enough, or that the scroll still had a certain degree of protection? However, if he can choose, Xiao En would rather choose the former, at least he was not teleported to a holy beast's lair, and he was not shot directly into his head when he was teleporting over—as long as his head is shifted to the left. So a little bit, then the arrow is not as simple as scratching his face.

The strong below the sanctuary, the flesh is not strong enough to ignore the general physical attack, so even if the arrow is not enchanted, it is still a certain threat.

Only the strong who truly reach the sanctuary can ignore the damage of such ordinary weapons without enchantment only with their physical body.

At this time, Sean's location happened to be on the edge of a battlefield.

The strong smell of blood permeated the air, making it a bit choking, but for Sean, who was accustomed to the blood and fire on the battlefield, the smell was actually not that unpleasant, but because of the bursts from his body at this time. The tearing pain made him feel very uncomfortable.

This is very similar to the aftereffects of teleporting magic circle.

When using the teleportation magic circle, it will not only consume the teleporter's spirit, but also cause a certain burden on the body. However, as long as it is not continuous transmission or long-distance transmission, it will not cause too strong a burden. Sean didn't know where this scroll teleported himself to, but he was at least certain that the physical damage caused by this scroll teleportation was stronger than teleportation, and he produced a kind of his own body that was pieced together. illusion.

Ahead, the battlefield shouting for killing is still deafening.

Shaun was finally able to see the surrounding environment clearly at this time.

The two sides at war are both humans. And it just so happened that the two parties were obviously mercenaries, but the one that had the advantage was impersonating a robber. However, in Xiao En's eyes, this group of counterfeit bandits still has very strong mercenary characteristics-in fact, in the Marvel Continent, many mercenary groups occasionally act as bandits and bandits, as long as they do enough to keep it secret. Then you won't be wanted by the Mercenary Guild.

This is actually an unwritten rule.

But those mercenary groups that already have a certain reputation. Usually will not do this kind of activity.

"Hey! There's a fish that slipped through the net!" Xiao En saw someone yelling at him. It was a teenager about fourteen or five years old, maybe even younger, because the teenagers of the mercenary group tend to grow up. It must be older than the actual age.

A wave of anger rose in Sean's heart.

Several men who were commanding their hands to besiege another group of mercenaries, after hearing the shout of the young man, turned their heads and glanced at Sean.

The distance between the two sides is no more than three to forty meters. The terrain is relatively open. So Sean can easily see the other person's eyes.

That is a kind of indifference.

True indifference to life.

Immediately afterwards, he saw the other party quickly say something, and one of the few people standing beside him quickly left the team, and then rushed towards him with the boy.

Sean let out a sneer.

The Black King was at his feet, and he immediately raised his sword to get up.

But what Xiao En didn't expect was that with this effort, not only did he fail to lift the Black King, but instead was driven by the Black King's power and fell heavily to the ground. A stronger sensation of pain emanated from all over his body. Shaun's face changed suddenly, and he realized the laceration caused by the teleporting scroll. It has seriously affected his strength. At this moment, he is probably not much better than a bronze rookie.

Before, Sean could ignore these two groups of people because he knew his strength was enough to crush the audience.

But at this time his own strength was traumatized, so he couldn't ignore these people in front of him-among the two people who rushed to him, the strength of the young man might not even have the lower bronze, which is completely negligible, but The other person has the strength of a lower rank silver, slightly stronger than Sean at this time.

And the weight of the black king, at least the upper silver can be used to handle it. At this time, Sean does not have enough strength, let alone waving the black king, it is very difficult to pick it up.

Without the slightest hesitation, Xiao En immediately gave up the Black King, took out an ordinary weapon made by Old Kui An directly from the storage space, and then quickly got up. The other two did not understand how Shaun took out this sword. They just thought that the black long sword in Shaun's hand was a pair of twin swords, and they just split them apart at this time, so they didn't care too much. They are confident that they can kill Sean easily with their own strength.

Only today, there are at least six or seven people in the Bronze Realm who died in his hands. And the aura exuding from Xiao En's body is not strong, even weaker than his own, how could this middle-aged man be afraid.

The distance between the two sides is shortened quickly.

The young man took out a dagger, did not attack immediately, but rolled on the spot from the side, and the whole person's breath became weak. Obviously he is a thief who has learned the hidden breath, but he is not too proficient in his techniques, and he has not learned so deeply in kung fu, so he has not been able to hide Shaun's perception. It is just that if he is dealing with ordinary silver masters, this A teenager can play a very good tracking role.

He was already so vicious at a young age, even if he knew that this was forced by the other party for his livelihood, Xiao En still had a hint of murder in his heart.

I am afraid that the reason why another mercenary group was attacked by this gang of bandits in disguise was because the wealth was exposed in front of this young man, which caused this disaster.

is about to decide not to keep his hands, Xiao En looks at the middle-aged man who is getting closer and closer to him, naturally he will not have any intentional moves. His current situation is a bit serious. He must end the battle as soon as possible. If he delays, who knows if his injuries will get worse, and if so, he might end up badly. This group of mercenaries in disguise as bandits obviously didn't plan to stay alive, so this meant that even if Sean reported his identity, they would kill himself without hesitation.

Xiao En sighed, ignoring the fiery burning sensation that came when the fighting energy circulated in the body, and the seals on the backs of both hands and hands also lighted up slightly.

The middle-aged man is not burly, but he is considered majestic compared to the young man. His weapon is a cleaver, which is the most common weapon among the mercenary group—because it is very lethal and the price is usually very cheap. Even if it is damaged, it doesn't need to be replaced. money. In the same ordinary quality weapon, the long sword is at least three to five silver coins more expensive than the chopper.

Xiao En just noticed that many people in this mercenary group use relatively cheap equipment such as choppers and spears, and most of their armors are mainly leather half armor. As long as the mercenary leader who looks like a commander wears a complete set of leather armor, he wears a wide-bodied long sword that should focus on slashing around his waist.

On the other hand, the mercenary group that is at a disadvantage is mostly long-sword weapons, and some mercenaries also have a small round shield covered with iron, which proves that their mercenary group is relatively wealthy. But there is nowhere to be rich, because the armor of these people is also mainly leather half armor. At this time, they surrounded several carriages in a circle and made a simple fortification. They were trying their best to resist attacks from the periphery. They also tried several times to try to break through, but each time they were completely suppressed, instead they lost a few companions. Corpse.

After another half an hour at most, this group of people will be completely besieged. Because their archers have been suppressed to the point where they can't lift their heads, the surrounding fortifications surrounded by carriages and trucks lose their value.

At this time, the middle-aged man had already arrived in front of Xiao En, he raised the knife in his hand high, and slashed towards Xiao En's head.

This is his usual attack method. As long as Sean dodges, he will completely gain the upper hand. Then he is confident that there is a way to push Sean into a dead end, and then cut off his head.

And the whole process, I am afraid it will not take ten seconds.

For mercenaries, they believe in the phrase "meeting on a narrow road, the brave wins".

But this time, the mercenary obviously found the wrong opponent.

Faced with this straight cut, Sean had no intention of evading at all, he didn't even blink his eyes. A trace of cruelty flashed in the eyes of the middle-aged mercenary. He only thought that Sean was frightened, so instead of closing his hand, he did his best to cut it down. He also used the three-point force that should have kept the change. Exhausted.

It wasn't until the blade almost reached the forehead that Sean finally took the shot-he had to take a risk, because he was seriously injured at this time, so he could only use himself as a bait.

At the moment when Sean started his hand, the middle-aged man suddenly felt chills all over his body, and a dangerous feeling made him abandon the knife and retreat. When a mercenary is a job of licking blood, they are very keen on the judgment of danger, so experienced veteran mercenaries often choose to believe in intuition, no matter how good the immediate interests look, they will not. Hesitate to choose to give up.

It's just a pity that it was obviously too late to let go of the knife at this time.

Shawn's forehead turned silver, and only a spark came out from the slashing knife on his head. The mercenary's pupils shrank suddenly, and Sean shot a sword directly through the mercenary's heart like lightning, but the blade did not come out completely.

A crimson magic circle appeared on the middle-aged mercenary's back-the blade that should have come out of the body all entered this magic circle, and then emerged forty centimeters behind Xiao En , This half of the sword directly pierced the neck and neck of the young man who was trying to sneak up on Sean to get a back stab. His eyes looked abnormally frightened, but he could only make a sound like a bellows blowing, and he couldn't say a complete word. A large amount of blood gushed out from the carotid artery.

Chapter 329: .Be chased

Shaun did not take back the imitation, but directly stopped the effectiveness of the magic pattern.

When the magic circle disappeared, the connected space disappeared completely, and the long sword was directly cut off.

The young man has not died yet. He can only struggle in vain, feeling the loss of vitality from the body bit by bit. He wants to say something, but all the words have only become meaningless syllables.

The middle-aged man standing in front of Sean had his heart smashed by Sean's sword-Sean only needs to release a little bit of grudge, that's enough. In fact, this middle-aged man could not survive even if his heart was not crushed. At this moment, he just stared at Sean in horror, because he had clearly seen how Sean killed the young thief.

"Magic...Magic..." The middle-aged man's vocal cords were not damaged, so he was still able to utter complete words.

Shawn's face showed a bit of exhaustion, he squatted down with difficulty, and then put the Black King away.

Watching the black king suddenly disappear from his field of vision, the middle-aged man realized that they had picked the wrong opponent.

At this time, he finally started to look at Sean-at the last moment of his life, this had to be said to be a very ironic thing.

After Sean came to this world, he never wore any armor or leather armor. When he was a mercenary in the Kingdom of Selian, he couldn't afford leather armor, but after becoming a lord, he felt that he had no armor or leather armor. It's necessary. So no matter where he goes, Sean is an aristocratic dress-style attire, and occasionally wears a more formal hunting outfit or a light civilian outfit.

At this time, Sean is wearing a formal hunting suit that nobles wear when hunting. The main material is leather, which is light and breathable. However, after using that scroll, Sean was baptized with the power of Voidstorm. It's not just Sean's physical body that causes the loss. The hunting suit on him, which cost no less than a hundred gold coins, has also been torn apart at this time, and many places look tattered and look like It is the same as being in a state of flight for a long time.

This is probably the main reason why these robbers mistake Shaun as an enemy.

certainly. Even if there is no misunderstanding. They will certainly not let Sean go, because what they are doing now is originally an extremely bad thing. As long as it is a mercenary group, they will never tolerate this kind of stain. They can act according to the unwritten rules. No one will say anything. Many large mercenary groups will know something about each other. As long as the hands and feet are neat. Just treat it cleanly.

"You..." The middle-aged man is not dead yet. As if he was still thinking about saying something, his eyes were no longer frightened, and some were just calm.

Look directly at the calm and calmness of death.

"It's a pity." Xiao En glanced at the middle-aged man and shook his head slightly, "It's a waste of time to break into the upper silver position."

Shawn's right hand flipped, and another imitation of the black king appeared.

He could see that the middle-aged man was about to remind his companion loudly. Sean didn't want to cause trouble again. Hercules made it very clear that the scroll would make herself torn by the power of the void storm during the teleportation. It causes a certain degree of damage to the body, but at the same time it also allows the power of the void to blend into his body, forcibly transforming his physical strength. As long as he can go through this process steadily, instead of falling when the power of the void transforms himself, then he can have the body of a sanctuary powerhouse.

So the only thing Sean thinks about is how to leave here safely, he doesn't want to get involved in the battle between the two mercenary groups.

So when the long sword was in his hand, Sean simply wiped the middle-aged man's neck with a sword and damaged his vocal cords.

There was no resentment, no anger, or even pain. The middle-aged mercenary was just calm. Of course, when Sean slit his throat, he still frowned, perhaps because of pain. It's just that he knows very well that since he chose to be a mercenary, this result is in his expectation. He has no regrets or regrets, and in his gradual loss of dazzling gaze, he saw Sean's gaze towards him. A mercenary salute to show respect.

This is a respectable mercenary.

Shaun thought in his heart, it's just a pity that they met in the wrong place, so they are doomed to die.

After solving the trouble, Xiao En planned to leave here quickly. He didn't want to continue entanglement anymore, because there were too many enemies, and his current situation could not save the group of people who were under siege.

is just unfortunate.

After the middle-aged man fell, Sean once again exposed to the other group of mercenaries posing as bandits. And the mercenary leader turned his head right now. He felt the breath of the middle-aged man's breakthrough. It should have been a surprise look when he saw him fall into a corpse, but Sean still When he was standing, his face instantly turned pale, especially when he saw that Xiao En was about to run away.

"Grab him!" The mercenary leader roared, and at the same time drew out his long sword.

The first to react was a few archers. They turned the target for the first time and shot the arrow towards Sean.

Sean cursed and turned on the detection.

For the bow and arrow attack, the see-through effect is obviously excellent: the red lines are clearly marked on his body, so that Sean can clearly see the attack points of these arrows.

All the attributes of Sean's personal panel at this time are displayed in red, which is basically reduced by nearly two-thirds, which is a sign of severe physical damage. It's just that Sean didn't see any icons on the personal status bar-according to common sense, whether it's poisoned, weakened, petrified, or poisoned by the abyss, you can clearly see the mark here, allowing the player to have one A more complete idea of removing the abnormal state.

But at this moment, there is nothing, and what's even more helpless is that a series of advanced skills, including soul calming, are all showing a gray seal state. Fortunately, the two signature skills of Light Body Surgery and Adrenal Gland Stimulation were not sealed at this time. This gave Sean at least the means to save his life. Especially at the moment, when his dynamic vision was unable to catch those arrows, Xiao En finally had to activate the adrenal stimulation, and then swung the long sword in his hand to knock down those arrows one by one.

in this process. Sean is fighting and retreating. In a blink of an eye, he retreated to the edge of an ancient tree.

Then the next moment, Sean turned around without hesitation and retreated into the jungle. From this moment on, the growth of the trees is much more luxuriant, and the arrows of the archers will lose a certain degree of threat. But in comparison, weapons such as long swords are also subject to certain limitations. On the contrary, those mercenaries who hold machetes are in this kind of jungle space environment. Can better display combat effectiveness.

Quick footsteps. It rang behind Sean's ears.

That is the sound of the enemy pursuing.

Sean's brows were frowning. Because of the sharp drop in strength, it was difficult for him to judge how many enemies were chasing after him, but what he could know is that these people are not very strong, at most. Only the strength of the upper bronze. I am afraid that the lower-ranking silver he killed before is already one of the few silver realm masters in the opposing team.

On the Marvel Continent, not all silver masters or gold masters are willing to become mercenaries.

Most high-ranking silver masters or gold realm masters. They will all choose to accept recruits from the nobles and become the personal guards of those nobles or the family's guest. On the whole. The mercenary group on Miracle Continent has a very obvious fault structure of strength. Most of the mercenaries of the mercenary group stay in the lower silver and bronze realm. Only a very small number of relatively powerful mercenary groups will have the strength of the golden realm. The person sits down.

This point is quite different from adventurers—because most adventurers are very strong in their own right, and there are many who possess the golden realm. Even, many mercenaries who are strong enough to be noble watchdogs will choose to change careers to become more free adventurers.

The distance between the two sides has gradually been opened.

Their speed may be better than that of Sean, whose strength has been greatly reduced, but with the help of the two great cheating weapons of light body surgery and adrenal stimulation, it is naturally impossible for Sean to be regarded by these people who should only be of Bronze realm strength. Catch up. So soon, the chasing in the jungle gradually disappeared, and the entire jungle seemed to be quiet. The only thing left was probably the sound of Sean still running.

At this time, he naturally didn't care about hiding his tracks, and he didn't even dare to stop.

He could see just now that the mercenary leader possesses a level that is much better than those of the besieged mercenaries, and his drew out of the sword means that he no longer intends to consume it. So Sean believes that if he joins the battle, the battle over there will probably end soon. The next step is to pursue him, so he must pull a sufficient distance to win a sufficient rest time for himself. Only then can he deal with the traces of his escape and leave the jungle.

I don't know how long he ran, but Sean only knew that he had stimulated two more light-weight surgery and adrenal stimulation halfway through. Now he has almost no physical energy, especially the severe pain and burning sensation coming from his body. , It made him want to fall asleep completely. At this moment, Sean had an unprecedented hatred for that mercenary group. If it weren't for those people, he wouldn't have to be so embarrassed.

A sudden sound of dense footsteps sounded.

already lying on the ground to rest, Xiao En suddenly stood up, but he did not expect that because of his excessive movements for a while, he pulled the injuries in his body, causing him to almost scream in pain. This kind of pain simply surpassed the limit that Sean could endure. He didn't know exactly what was going on, so it could only be attributed to the fact that the power of the void was too violent, so it was something humans could not bear.

However, Sean found in his body that there was an extremely weak radiant power, accompanied by the violent void power, slowly transforming his body.

He guessed that this was probably a certain method of Hercules.

At this time, the surrounding movement became louder and louder. Xiao En listened carefully, and then a wry smile appeared on his face. He was actually surrounded. From this thought, the means of that mercenary group is not low, it can solve those enemies who can still rely on the fortifications so quickly, and complete the encirclement of himself so quickly, this time he should lose. Not injustice.

just lose unjustly, but it doesn't mean that Sean will be caught.

He took a deep breath, and then he stood up with his body once again. The effect of the two magic lines just activated for a moment and has not been completely consumed, so he can continue to use the power in it. This is probably him. The last reliance is now. Sean has already decided that he must solve at least half of the enemies here before he can break through and leave, otherwise he will definitely die of exhaustion if he is pursued in this way by the opponent.

Chapter 330: .Rose Mercenary Corps [Ask a monthly pass]

"Come out." Xiao En said in a deep voice, "I have found you, the encirclement is useless."

The deliberately lowered movement noise around stopped, as if waiting for some order. But soon, the sound of footsteps became clear. It was probably too lazy to hide anymore. A famous mercenary in half-length armor soon appeared in front of Sean. They formed a semicircle. Sean was surrounded by it.

However, these people didn't do it right away, they just surrounded Sean.

And Xiao En, frowned at this time, he had already prepared desperately, but he also dropped the long sword slightly.

He glanced around, then said, "Who are you?"

No one answered Sean, these mercenaries just remained silent and vigilant.

But soon, there was another sound of footsteps.

The mercenaries standing in front of Xiao En consciously retreated to both sides, revealing a passage, and two women and one man walked out of this passage. The costumes worn by these three people are naturally not as good as the mercenaries around, especially one of the women, who wore a full set of leather armor, and was not a normal leather armor. Enchanted magic leather armor.

The value of this kind of magic leather armor is not under the demonized equipment.

Magic equipment and magic equipment, although there is only one word difference, in fact the two are two different concepts.

The former is equipment that only magicians can make, while the latter is special equipment made by blacksmiths through the use of alchemy potions and some special methods.

Generally speaking, it is difficult to define which kind of magic equipment and magic equipment is better, but the only certainty is that in most cases, magic equipment is better than magic equipment. Because even if the magic equipment is damaged, it can be repaired by the alchemy blacksmith, and the equipment itself does not need to consume magic power, even because the materials used in the manufacturing process are different. Enchanted equipment can often be accompanied by many special effects and abilities.

And magic equipment, although sometimes it is better than magic equipment in effect, but once this equipment is damaged, it cannot be repaired and can only be discarded. Can become magic equipment. It can only be forging equipment-magic equipment because of the special material. The magic circle was already engraved at the time of production, so it is impossible to draw the second magic circle, and the equipment above the legend is completely unnecessary.

The leather armor on this woman is magic equipment that has been specially enchanted.

Perhaps the leather armor itself is not very expensive, it may only be worth one or two hundred gold coins, but the whole set is enchanted, and this value is a bit outrageous. It would be impossible to make a gold coin without more than five or six hundred thousand.

Actually. This is also one of the main reasons why magic equipment has been able to occupy a large equipment sales market so far.

Magic equipment for enchanting treatment is usually stronger than bronze and low-end silver demonized equipment. The only thing that can't be compared is gold-grade demonized equipment. And this kind of equipment for enchanting processing does not require a lot of financial resources. Often, less than one million gold coins can make a set of equipment have an effect that is not inferior to low-end silver demonized equipment. As for the full set of leather armor worn by this woman, if it is of medium-efficiency silver grade, there is no three million gold coins that can't be taken.

A very rich mercenary group.

This is Sean's first reaction after seeing this woman.

A man and a woman on the left and right behind him. Although the equipment is not as good as this woman, the quality is not bad. At least a full set of equipment. Especially the man on the right who seems to be less than 30 years old, the light armor is probably also expensive to build, because Sean has identified the black cloud steel component-this is only produced in the North Continent. The special associated mine has a certain resistance to magic, and the defense is not weak. The most important thing is to reduce the weight of the armor.

And Sean's second reaction is that this mercenary group is of very high quality and its members are very strong.

The mercenaries surrounding him all possess the personal strength of upper-level bronze, and some of them even reached the critical point. I am afraid that it will not take a long time to break through to silver. Moreover, the age of these mercenaries is not too old, generally between twenty-four and five years old, and they seem to be about the same age as themselves.

As for the three people who are clearly the bosses, they all have the strength of upper silver. This woman wearing a full set of magic leather armor has a faint trace of thunder in her breath. This is proof of her strength at the pinnacle of upper silver.

Shaun looked at the other party, and the other side was also looking at Shaun.

This lets Sean know at least the third thing.

This group of mercenaries is not the same group of mercenaries who are chasing him. It should be a reinforcement of another group of mercenaries who are under siege.

"Who are you?" The young woman wearing magic leather armor said in a deep voice.

"Are you in a group with those besieged mercenaries?" Sean had difficulty explaining his identity, so he decided to continue to play stupid.

"Where are they!?" The woman's face changed slightly, her voice became harder involuntarily, and her figure took a few steps forward.

But at this moment, the man suddenly reached out and stopped the woman, and said in a deep voice, "Miss, be careful!"

"I have a sense of measure." The woman waved his hand, and the man stepped back, but Sean saw that the other party clenched a sword-blade gun in his hand, his eyes locked on his body, "I It's the head of the Rose Mercenary Group!... The people you said were besieged are one of my squad. I came to support immediately after receiving the fireworks for help. Where are they?"

Sean sighed, and then stretched out his finger to the road behind him when he came just now, "I have no traces of concealment on this road. You only need to follow these traces of mine to find the place of the battle.... However, I don't think that you can save them if you arrive now. I have already escaped from the battlefield for more than half an hour, and when I escaped, they obviously can't hold it anymore."

The young woman's face changed suddenly, and she could no longer care about what to say, she said directly: "Tinny, you stay and take care of him, and the others will follow me!"

"Miss..." The man named frowned.

"This is an order!" The young woman said unceremoniously, and then without waiting for the man to say anything, she immediately followed the direction Xiao En was pointing at and led the others away quickly. This time Xiao En noticed that these people are also very powerful, and they are obviously veterans who have become accustomed to mercenaries. Everyone just chooses to obey orders and advance silently. There is even a kind of military formation between advance and retreat. Order and hierarchy.

Xiao En's brows frowned slightly, but he started to think about where the Rose Mercenary Group was.

At the beginning of the game, the mercenary groups that belonged to NPC forces had no one hundred thousand and eighty thousand. Although these mercenary groups were spread across the entire continent, the number was also very impressive. It is impossible for Sean to remember all the names of the mercenary groups. The mercenary groups he can remember are extremely powerful, at least there are super mercenary groups in the sanctuary, but such mercenary groups are only five or six are one of the few.

Among these, there is absolutely no one called the Rose Mercenary Group.

At this moment, Sean calmed down.

From what the woman just said, Sean was able to judge a lot of information.

Like the man named Denny in front of him, he was obviously a knight, and he called the mercenary leader a young lady, which was enough to prove that he was the guardian knight of the opponent. From this point, it can be seen that the woman came from a certain noble family, and only in this way can we explain why this mercenary group is so rich, the head of the woman even wears magic. Leather armor.

Further speculation, Xiao En roughly has a judgment about the geographical environment he is in at this time.

Only the Northern Principality Alliance in the Northern Continent can such a ridiculous thing happen: the Northern Principality Alliance is a federation group composed of thirty-six principalities, and the conflict of interests in it is the most complicated in the entire Miracle Continent. And because of the special nature of the Principality Federation, these noble ladies and young masters from the principality admire personal martial arts very much, so they often start to cruise the principality after the age of fourteen-get a start-up fund from their ancestors and bring it with you Two or three entourage, and then form a mercenary group or adventurer squad or wandering legion.

And in the next four years, they need to develop their own force. If anyone can bring back a powerful army at the moment of the official ceremony of the coming of age in four years, then this person will be protected by the glory of the God of War, gain a powerful ability, and thus obtain a life-long tenure of the strength prefix. Noble title and a small fief – this is the only way out for many non-primary noble members.

The Northern Principality Alliance is a federation of principalities that believes in the  of war. There is only one  of the  of war here-just like the empty principality at the time, Sean only allows people to believe in the goddesses of ice and winter.

Xiao En roughly understood at this time, that the woman just now was going on a tour of the Principality. She seems to be eighteen years old, and I am afraid that she will soon return to her country to accept the bar mitzvah, so whether she can bring back a powerful mercenary regiment determines whether she can be favored by the  of war. .

In this way, Sean naturally figured out many things.

The mercenary group disguised as bandits is not after the Rose Mercenary Group, they just want to weaken the strength of the Rose Mercenary Group.

The God of War does not care about the process, he only values the result!

This is a typical Northern Principality-style conspiracy!
