

Lord of War Vol 3-441

Chapter 441: Divine predation

The statue of Marz in the Hall of the God of War is said to have been erected since the beginning of the Church of the God of War.

For so many years, this fifteen-meter-high idol has been receiving the pious worship of Wushuang believers. With the will of Marz coming several times, the divine power possessed by this idol has reached an extremely rich level. It can even be said to be the ladder leading to the gate of the kingdom of Marz. At least, in Xiao En's eyes, the divine power emanating from this idol showed a blood-like crimson color, and the radiant light was even enough to envelop the surrounding five meters.

At this moment, Emily, who raised her head and drank the blood awakening potion, knelt in front of the idol, chanting Malz's hymn softly.

The blood awakening potion is a special potion that can forcibly activate the bloodline potential of the talented bloodline. Although this potion is a legendary potion, it has very high restrictions on usage conditions. Only one point of "the user must be confirmed as an existing bloodline talent and in a semi-awakened state" is enough to wipe out many people who want to use this kind of medicine. The person-at least, the player can't use this potion.

Emily, she has a deep knowledge of her family bloodline talents, and she is indeed in a semi-awakened state-the so-called semi-awakened means that she has more or less been able to exert some special abilities related to bloodlines. , But the activation time, activation effect, duration, etc. of this ability are completely uncontrolled by the bloodline owner's own will.

However, in addition to this, there is another use condition for the Blood Vessel Awakening Medicine, which is to require purified blood from the same blood. And this is also the reason why Sean would take his blood after killing the boy from the Rolando family from the Emilia Empire. It is to use this as a drug guide for the blood awakening potion, so as to truly activate Emily's blood talent.

Originally, Sean ordered two bottles of special potions for Emily from the Observation Tower.

One bottle is the blood awakening potion, and the other is the cover potion.

There is no official name for the concealing potion, even in the eyes of Sean's truth. The item name of this potion is also displayed as [Experimental Medicine-II]. But Sean knows the real effect of this bottle of medicine, that is, it can conceal the activation of breath-basically, after anyone takes this medicine, all breath bursts within half an hour will be covered up, even if it is smell The most sensitive monsters can't be found either.

But now. This medicine is obviously no longer needed. Because there are only three people in the Hall of War God, Sean, Andrew and Emily.

After taking the blood awakening potion mixed with the blood of the core members of the Rolando family, Emily's skin quickly turned red. Although she was still chanting Malz's hymn, her voice had obviously become a little distorted and distorted. Weird, obviously Emily's endurance has reached its limit. But fortunately, the hymn has also come to an end, and soon a dignified but full of coercive aura slowly appears in the entire Hall of the Gods of War.

This is Marz's will!

original. Sean can directly extract all the power of divinity in the idol. Make divine crystals. But in this way, the damage Marz suffered is actually not great. He can still obtain the power of faith through the prayers of believers, and then convert these powers of faith into divine power-although this process is very slow, but In fact, it is nothing to a  who never lacks time.

Even, if Marz's sons and daughters are born in the future, Marz can also tell the world through them. Point out that Emily is a thief and a liar. By the time. Based on the danger of the "God Thief", then all the churches in the entire Miracle Continent would come to crusade against Emily, and even Sean could not openly protect Emily.

So, now that he has decided to tear his face with Marz, of course, Sean does not intend to take such inferior methods.

What he wants is to destroy Marz's faith foundation forever, so that Marz can no longer collect the power of faith from now on, and can only weaken from then on. As long as Marz is weakened to a certain level, Emily can directly initiate a war of gods. By completely erasing Marz's divine mark, she can easily become a new  of battle and war, and even take over Marz. Here is the kingdom of God.

The kingdom of a * is the result of years of hard work and construction, and it is also a symbol of the supremacy of a god.

When any * is reborn, its kingdom is extremely weak and thin, and it can even be said to be barren. Everything in the kingdom of God must be built and developed by the gods relying on the power of faith they have collected. This is like Sean's Void Principality. Everything must be built and developed by himself. This is why it is extremely difficult for the gods to promote from weak divine power to higher divine power.

However, directly taking over the kingdom of a * with high divine power, this kind of thing is simply appalling.

Because according to normal laws, this kind of trickery is impossible.

But the thief can easily do this.

This is also the real reason why all gods hate god-thief.

There is no * who will watch that he can no longer collect the power of faith, and thus fall into the irreversible process of decay, and finally let his hard work over the years become the wedding dress of others. The gods will feel angry even if they fail in the battle of gods, not to mention that this kind of seeing themselves is on the path of destruction.

When Marz's will completely descended on this idol, Sean could clearly see that the divine power originally condensed in the idol suddenly became like a boiling pot of oil. Originally it was only pure divine power, suddenly there were various wave-like ups and downs, like emotional fluctuations. This was obviously the state where Marz's will and divine power had completely descended to the original plane.

Andrew can't see what Shaun saw, but he has a wealth of experience in the demolition of the kingdom of God in the Marvel Continent, so on the other hand, he also has a very rich experience in communicating with the gods. He only judged from the surrounding breath fluctuations, and knew that Marz's will had completely descended, and even resonated with the laws of this world plane.

The descendants of the gods use the saint sons and saints as containers, and they can only exert one-third of their own strength, which is mainly restricted by the laws of the world. It's just that under this rule, even the saint son and saint woman are killed in battle. As far as the gods are concerned, there will be no damage to their strength. After all, it can be said that there is no one who can directly capture the power of the gods like Andrew, and cause damage to the gods of his body.

Of course, there is another method for the descending of gods besides the descending of gods. That is the coming of the avatar will. This way of coming. It can play up to the strength of the deity close to 80%, but correspondingly, once the will of the clone is destroyed, then its body will also be correspondingly seriously injured. Its severity is even more terrifying than the direct capture of the divine will by Andrew, because the damaged part of the Son of God can be restored, while the destroyed part of the clone will is permanent.

As for the last one. The gods descended in person. No normal  would do such a thing.

Because of this kind of personal arrival, it is tantamount to abandoning its bonus in the kingdom of God, allowing oneself to be completely restricted by the will of the world and the rules of the world. In this state, the strength of the gods has an extremely obvious world-level correspondence, and gods of high divine power like Marz are no more than superpowers of the eighteenth rank after coming personally. However, if he were killed in this state, his godhead and priesthood would be taken away, and of course his  kingdom would naturally collapse completely.

at this time. The coming of Marz's will is exactly a fuzzy state between the will of the clone and the coming in person.

The reason why is said to be a fuzzy state. It was because Marz descended on his overall will, not just a strand of surviving will. But in the same way, what he descended was only the will, and his body was still far away in the kingdom of God on the wall of the plane, and he did not descend with the will.

In this state, Marz can see, hear and even feel everything, and can also reward believers with blessings, but he cannot participate in any battle.

What Sean wants is Marz in this state.

"My believer, I have seen your piety, you are my..." At this point, Marz's voice suddenly stopped, and his majestic style immediately became extremely angry. "You are not a descendant of my blood!"

The gentle and majestic aura turned into anger, Marz didn't even bother to continue the disguise, and just started roaring.

But at this time, Emily has no time to answer Marz's questions.

Blood Awakening Potion, under the deterrence formed by the coming of Marz's will, directly began to forcefully stimulate Emily's instincts to a large extent. At this moment, she was completely in a state of "reborn". Especially when Marz was angry, the surrounding pressure increased greatly, which made Emily's bloodline stimulation more intense. Although the pain to Emily would increase many times, the effect of her bloodline awakening was not. Obviously better.

Maybe, Emily can be born with her real name.

In this state where Emily can't reply, naturally Sean and Andrew will do it for her.

I saw Sean gently lifted his hood, and then looked at the statue of Marz, with a smile on his mouth, and even waved his hand gently, saying hello: "Marz, We meet again."

"It's you!" Marz roared again, "That..."

Andrew also lifted his hood, revealing his extremely bright golden hair. It's just that, compared with Sean's ability to keep smiling, Andrew's face is completely gloomy and terrifying. His gaze towards the statue of Marz is almost without emotional fluctuations, which is like being superior. Creatures despise inferior creatures. It's just that this kind of look is usually the result of Marz looking down at his believers. At this time, being looked at by Andrew like this, Marz looked extremely unaccustomed.

However, in Sean's eyes, he could see that Marz's divine fluctuations were very unique, and its wavy lines were even stretched extremely long, which was a manifestation of fear.

A  is actually in fear?

Sean was a little surprised.

"Look out, you have recognized me." Although Andrew couldn't see the waves of divine power, he could feel a different breath.

It is like a hound that has undergone rigorous training can easily distinguish the fear, killing and hostility of creatures.

"God's calamity." Although Marz's voice is still trying to maintain stability, he can obviously hear a trembling tone. "The rumor has guided the dusk of the gods and slaughtered several high-level ancient gods. "

Sean turned his head and looked at Andrew dumbfounded: "So you are so awesome?"

"Where and where, those old guys just give face." Andrew smiled modestly. "But I really didn't provoke the Twilight of the Gods. At most, I played a role in fuse and fueling the flames.... It was the guy Jibril who really caused the Twilight of the Gods."

Looking at Andrew and Sean communicating with no one else, Marz felt a sense of frustration. He doesn't know, when will it start. The gods have become so without dignity and sense of existence. Before in Adroan. He didn't know Andrew's identity, so he dared to fight, but after returning to the kingdom of God, Marz recognized Andrew's identity through communication with other gods, and now seeing him again, he had no idea of fighting. NS.

The horrible existence that can be called the "God's Calamity" is really cruel.

The gods who had been harmed by him. There are no one hundred and eighty. Especially the two gods who have obtained the full title of God of War. They all fell into Andrew's hands, which made Marz even a little desperate. Why didn't he honestly call him the God of Battle and War, and must be called the God of War? Is this the so-called fate?

All the gods of war will fall into the hands of the disaster of the gods?

Marz's will is quietly fading.

It's just that, just as soon as he thought about it, Marz was horrified to find out. My own will can't leave this idol!

"Since you are here, do you still want to leave?" Sean turned his head. Look at Marz.

"What do you want to do?" Marz asked in horror, his tone no longer even the kind of anger and majesty, and some were just strong fear.

As a  of high power, it is a shame and sadness to fall to this level.

But now, Marz doesn't feel that way. He just wants to leave here and return to his kingdom of God. He found that even in this large temple built in his name, which can even be said to be his home stadium, he did not feel the slightest sense of security. And from the moment he appeared, the whole thing revealed a very subtle strange feeling, and this feeling made him feel extremely uncomfortable.

"It's nothing, just want to keep you." As Sean said, he pulled out the Black King, and his right hand even held a dark and dark diamond-shaped crystal like an abyss. "I think you are the  of war. It has no value or benefit to the world. It is better to give up this job and I find someone to replace you."

"The Prisoner's Crystal." Marz suddenly screamed, as if he had seen something extremely terrifying, "You are a  stealer! ... What did you do to my god!"

"It doesn't matter what you move," Shaun said softly, and then suddenly his whole body jumped towards the statue of Marz.

Andrew next to also moved along, and the two people rushed to the statue of Marz at the same time, but just a few ups and downs, the two had already reached the top of the statue of Marz. After that, Sean suddenly raised his sword and stab Marz on the top of the head. Before the Black King even pulled it out, there was already a strong breath of divine power gushing out, and Marz's will took advantage of it. This opportunity wants to escape.

It's a pity, there is also Andrew next to him.

Seeing Andrew suddenly lifted his foot and stepped on it, he let out a cold voice: "Get me back!"

All the divine power that gushed out suddenly fell back into the idol. Marz's will had already rushed out, but was suddenly rushed back into the idol by this inverted divine power. . And Xiao En immediately drew out his sword, and then inserted the dark crystal into the small hole pierced by the Black King. In an instant, he heard only a scream of horror and unwillingness from Marz, tightly. Then his voice disappeared completely.

But soon, this dark black crystal began to change at an astonishing speed.

The crystal that was originally dark black gradually turned red, as if red potion was poured into graphite, and a cloud of red mist began to roll and boil in the black crystal. In a blink of an eye, within ten seconds, the entire black crystal turned pink, but all of this was not the end, but just the beginning.

In Sean's field of vision, after the black crystal turned pink, all the divine power of the entire idol quickly converged into the crystal at an extremely alarming speed. It's like a pump pumping water, continuously pumping out the divine nature left in the idol for thousands of years. In just five or six seconds, the power of the divine nature in the entire idol is drained. This black crystal has also completely turned into a red diamond crystal that is more vivid and crystal clear than rubies.

In this crystal, one can still vaguely see a soul rushing from left to right.

But all this is in vain, because when this soul hits the barrier of the crystal, there is a reaction force that directly shook it back into the middle.

If you carefully identify it, you can still clearly see that this soul is like Marz.

Chapter 442: .Two people who are lonely but not alone

Shaun tossed the red crystal stone in his hand lightly, then curled his lips slightly.

Just now, after absorbing Marz's will, he actually received a system prompt asking if he wanted to extract Marz's soul. It was precisely because of this that Xiao En suddenly realized that his current bloodline power seemed to have entered the third stage.

【Bloodline: Hunting Spirit (child of the world—taboo), all attributes +30. Current bloodline level: Brand (third stage), two bloodline talents have been activated, and bloodline soul has been obtained. 】

[Blood Talent: Eye of Reality (Any history hidden under time cannot escape your eyes.)]

[Blood Talent: Hunting Brand (The soul of the creature killed by you will become your trophy.)]

[Blood Soul: Spirit Hunter (every time you activate the Spirit Hunter, your attack will bring soul damage to the opponent. The duration of the effect will consume your mental power. When the spiritual power is insufficient, you will not be able to maintain the Spirit Hunter Soul state.)]

He really wanted to know what kind of results the spirit of the essence of Marz would get, but it was a pity that he could not be satisfied with this idea for the time being. Because Marz's soul cannot be erased now. After all, as the main  of a church, although Marz is now trapped in the crystal stone, his faith has not collapsed because of this. All the believers of the Church of God of War can still do it. Get strength from here.

But if you erase Marz, you can indeed reap its related priesthood and godhood, but it is relative, not to mention that the entire Church of God of War will fall apart because of this, and all believers who believe in Marz will lose these powers. Even if Sean had seized Marz's godhood and priesthood now, he had to start from scratch and cultivate his own believers, then light the sacred fire, and then rise up the kingdom of God, repeating what Marz did back then.

This is not the value and meaning of a thief.

The reason why the thief is a thief. It is because they can directly steal everything that the gods have, without allowing themselves to re-experience the path of becoming a god.

In addition to this concern, there is another reason why Sean really does not want to erase Marz's soul. That is the reason why the Northern Principality Federation has become a behemoth against the surrounding empires is precisely because of the existence of the God of War church and the God of War ceremony. Once Marz fell. Accompanied by the disintegration of the Church of God of War. The Commonwealth of the Northern Principality will also fall apart, completely losing its foundation to compete with the two surrounding empires.

This is very unfavorable for Sean's next plan, and it will also drag Emily into another quagmire, which is not something Sean wants to see.

"Resolved?" Andrew just sat directly on top of the head of the statue of Marz, dangling his feet in the air.

"Well." Sean nodded, "It's a lot easier than expected."

"It's just an increase in strength." Andrew shrugged, "When your strength reaches a certain level. You will find out. This world is nothing more than that. There are many things that you didn't understand before, or you didn't understand and couldn't break it. , It's not really that difficult, just because you are in it, you can't discover the mystery. When one day, you have walked out of this circle, you will find out how much you were when you look back. childish."

"The same is true for the improvement of strength?" Sean asked.

"Yes." Andrew nodded. Then smiled slightly, "I and you. Although we are also aliens, we still live in two worlds.... You are responsible for your territory, your followers, and even your people. ...But I don't use it. So many times I can do more as I want....Of course, when your strength is strong enough in the future, you can also be at the top of this world, but at least not now."

Sean always felt that Andrew's words seemed to be insignificant. But just as Andrew said, he is now in this circle, so even with Andrew's suggestion, he still can't see through the fog. But Andrew's words are not completely meaningless, at least it gives Sean a feeling like a beacon, and he suddenly realizes the direction of his future development.

He is not only a small team like Andrew, even everyone in the team has the power against the sky, and can do whatever he wants.

He has his followers to take care of, and even his people, his friends-and he has regarded these followers and friends as his family a long time ago, so he needs to be responsible to them . He wants to become stronger, but this kind of strength is not the strength of his own person, but the increase in the strength of the entire force, which includes his followers, his territory, and so on.

Therefore, the strength and strength of the collective is the direction he wants to move forward in the future.

"You seem to figure out something." Andrew smiled.

"That's it." Sean also smiled and nodded, "Speaking of which, I really appreciate you....I wouldn't even have today without you."

"We are fellow villagers." Andrew smiled, "I am an orphan, and I had no friends when I was young. I have always lived with my master in the mountains and forests. It was like this for 16 years. Until later my master said that I should I went out for a walk and practiced, and then I made my first friend in my life.... I just didn't expect that after that, I suddenly came to another world inexplicably."

"I'm an orphan too." Sean sat beside Andrew, and said with a smile, "But I have an adoptive father and a... nominally older brother. They are really nice to me, but the adoptive father is a little staid and serious. It's been a little bit, but I know that I'm just an orphan and cannot cause trouble to my adoptive father.... To be honest, when I first came into this world, I still wanted to go back, but now..."

"Don't want to go back?" Andrew asked, tilting his head.

"That's right." Xiao En smiled, "and one of my adoptive fathers most often said to me is that people must learn to be responsible. I just feel that I now have my own life and responsibilities in this world. If I abandon these and choose to go back, my adoptive father will probably be really disappointed, because my behavior is really irresponsible."

"Everyone will have their life track." Andrew said softly, his voice a bit of nostalgia. "I also miss my master. I even want to go back and meet my master.... But, I can't leave my companions. I have experienced so much with them, so if I just leave. I miss them It will definitely be very sad and sad. And I don't want to make them sad."

"Understandable." Xiao En nodded, "However, if your master knows that you have become so strong, you are even stronger than him..."

Before Sean finished speaking, Andrew shook his head and interrupted Sean's words: "This is impossible.... Even if I am now, to be honest, I am not sure that I can beat my master. You are I don't know how bad he is. My master keeps saying that I'm a celestial spirit body. It's easy to provoke some unclean things. Once I saw a terrifying guy who wanted my life, but my master was just When standing in front of me, the ghost turned into flying ashes, that domineering..."

"Are you talking about novels!?" Sean looked incredulous.

"There are too many things on the earth that you don't know." Andrew curled his lips. "My master casually taught me a set of physical fitness boxing techniques, which will enable me to win multiple international martial arts league championships. Even teaching me a few killer routines is enough to make me break my name in the underground world. Don't underestimate the earth, it is a truly magical country."

"Okay." Sean didn't know what to say.

In Sean's impression. The earth is the world where the environment has been polluted all the time, and then the technology is extremely developed. As for the doctrines of monsters and monsters, in Sean's eyes, they are just stories like comics and novels.

But that is the old idea.

Now, after experiencing the so-called crossing first-hand, Sean has a state of awe for many things. He guessed that it was probably because he had never been in that circle before, so he couldn't understand what life on earth was like by Andrew. Just like in this world, those civilians simply can't understand what the life of aristocrats is like, just because they have never been in this circle.

"You are the first of my kind I met in a foreign land." Andrew said with a smile, "So I am very happy to be able to help you."

"So are you." Xiao En smiled, "Unfortunately, I can't help you much."

"No, you have helped enough." Andrew stretched out his hand and patted Sean on the shoulder. "A lot of things have already been moved before you know it, but you don't know it.... If In terms of quality, I think I owe you more."

"I don't feel that way." Sean smiled. He looked at Andrew sincerely, and then said with a serious face: "Thank you, Andrew."

Andrew responded seriously and solemnly: "Thank you too, Sean."

Neither of them said clearly what they were thanking for, but there was a tacit understanding between each other, knowing what the other party wanted to thank.

But soon, this serious and solemn atmosphere was completely broken: after looking at each other twice for a long time, they laughed heartily at the same time. At this moment, both of them have the mentality of play and companionship that belong to the same people on earth. Perhaps for Andrew and Sean, they never thought about getting any benefits from each other, but just wanted to help their fellow villagers in this different world.

Because for them, they are lonely with each other.

And only they know that they do not actually belong to this world. However, they are also very clear that they will never be able to return to the earth, to the real world that belongs to them. So both Sean and Andrew actually already have another "home", but Andrew's home is not here, so he needs to find a way home.

In this regard, Sean is much luckier than Andrew.

Of course, whether it is Andrew or Sean, they are not alone.

Because they have many companions, friends, and even their enemies, they are not destined to be lonely, and life in this different world is destined not to be boring. Especially at this moment, Sean suddenly understood why Jibril had become an observer, and wanted to leave this plane world.

"I don't know how you plan to use this sacred stone, but I can only say, don't imprison yourself." Andrew glanced at Emily who was still twitching on the ground, and then said faintly, "This plane of There is a lot of room for development, so becoming a  is not a good choice."

"I see." Sean nodded, his eyes couldn't help but fall on Emily.

The awakening process of blood stimulation requires Emily to support it by herself, and no one else can give any help at all. As for the extent to which Emily's bloodline can be awakened, it depends on Emily's own will and endurance, but from the current situation, Emily's bloodline awakening effect may get unprecedented benefits.

Thinking of this, Sean suddenly knew how to make good use of the  stone in his hand.

When Marz's will was imprisoned in the crystal, Marz, who was far away in the kingdom of God, also became a sculpture-to put it simply, Marz did not fall, his kingdom of God still exists. His divine body is still in the kingdom of God, and it is very safe. Even the believers of Marz can still get power from Marz, and the power of faith formed by the devout prayers of the believers will continue to be concentrated in Marz's hands.

It can be said that all this is no different from before.

But it can be said that all this is slightly different from before.

The difference is that the current Marz is unable to surrender, nor can he communicate with the believers. All the prayers of the believers will be blocked and can no longer be passed on to Marz's ears, so he can no longer know who is his devout believer and who is a false believer. Moreover, the power of faith generated by the believers will not converge in Marz's hands, but will be concentrated in this sacred crystal of Shaun.

In other words, no one will ever know what happened to Marz.

This kind of thing is naturally pros and cons. The advantage is that no one will ever know the existence of the stealer. The downside is that if the gods of a church haven't performed miracles or brushed up their sense of existence for too long, this will have a certain degree of impact on the cohesion and beliefs of a church.

But for this, Sean naturally has already figured out a strategy to deal with it.

As he said before, he asked Emily "Are you ready to become a god?" This sentence is not a joke.

Shaun really wants to make Emily the  of war.

In other words, the God of War agent.

Chapter 443: .Agent of God of War

When Emily woke up, she found that only Sean was left in the Hall of God of War, and the blond man named Andrew had disappeared.

Sean saw Emily fainted because of the powerful stimulus of blood awakening, so he stayed by his side to prevent any other accidents. Seeing Emily waking up at this time, she smiled and said, "Wake up."

Emily nodded, she found that her clothes had been soaked in sweat, and all the clothes were close to the body, which made her graceful figure visible. The shame of being naked, instantly made Emily's face flushed, like a ripe fruit.

She hurriedly reached out to cover her breasts, but she didn't know that this action made her * more full.

Sean coughed lightly, then turned his back to Emily, then took out a long cloak from the storage ring and threw it to Emily. He hadn't considered this before, and in fact didn't think about it, but he didn't expect Emily to make such a move subconsciously after waking up, but it made the atmosphere more ambiguous.

However, Sean obviously noticed one thing. After Emily's bloodline awakened, her figure seemed to have undergone some changes.

"Okay... Alright..." Emily's voice was very soft, which was obviously very embarrassing.

"Cough." Xiao En concealed the embarrassment and ambiguity just now by coughing, "What are your plans next?"

"Me?" Emily was taken aback for a moment, then shook her head, "I don't know.... Lord Shaun, don't you want me to become a god?"

"This is my idea, but I don't intend to impose this idea on you." Sean looked at Emily, and then said, "You still have a choice. You can continue to be your saint. Girl, and I promise no one will dare to trouble you anymore...but..."

"But?" Emily was puzzled.

"But once you choose to become a god, then your future may become very difficult." Sean stretched out his right hand, and in the palm of his palm was the bright red crystal, which was in the crystal. Marz's soul is still rushing tirelessly from left to right. "If you want to be a god, take this crystal with you. But I must remind you that from the moment you take this crystal, you will always endure the grievances from Marz. And spiritual harassment, if one day you cannot bear it, then your soul and will will be corrupted by Marz and become his puppet."

"What about you? Why can it not be affected?" Emily did not go to get the crystal immediately. Instead, he looked at Sean. Asked with a puzzled look.

This attitude made Sean a little bit relieved.

If Emily did not make any inquiry but took the divine crystal directly, then Sean would really have to be careful of Emily. To be honest, he has some feelings of guilt towards Emily, so he is willing to make some remedies for Emily, such as helping her establish her own power and have stronger strength, but this does not mean that if I was betrayed by Emily one day. He can choose to be indifferent or forgive her.

Of course, if there is a day. Perhaps Emily is no longer the Emily in front of her.

"Because I am a * thief." Xiao En said in a deep voice, "The biggest difference between a * thief and a * slayer is that I can steal everything from the gods and make their fall unconscious. You can even continue to pretend to be a god....Of course, if you want to talk about harvest, the harvest of the godslayer will actually be greater, because people who have killed gods will have a deeper understanding and knowledge of the nature of the world. Of course It will also have a stronger deterrent aura."

Emily is still confused.

"Forget it, explain this to you, you probably can't understand it now." Sean shook his head, and then gave a wry smile, "I can provide you with a very safe way to become a god, but this process may be longer, maybe It takes more than ten years or even decades. But this method is better than you can easily replace everything that Marz has established now, and there will be no danger of being attacked by other gods."

"And the only thing I need to do is to withstand Malz's grievances and mental harassment?" Emily asked in a deep voice.

Shaun nodded.

"Can I try it?" Emily asked.

"Of course." Xiao En said, "but I don't mind if you hold it directly in your hand, you can touch it first."

Hearing Sean say this, Emily's heart suddenly became a little more nervous.

But after taking a few deep breaths, Emily stared at the divine crystal intently, and then stretched out her right index finger to gently touch the crystal. The touch at the beginning is a bit cool, and as Emily reaches out and touches it lightly, the touch is no different from normal crystal minerals. Of course, Emily did not feel the horror that Sean said, so she raised her head and looked at Sean with some doubts.

But at this moment of slight loss of consciousness, a terrifying howling sound suddenly exploded in her mind, like countless howling female demons screaming. Emily's face suddenly turned white, and there were two nosebleeds directly flowing out of her nostrils. The whole person was more like a frontal impact by an invisible force. After a few steps backwards, she was finally able to stabilize her figure. , Will not fall to the ground.

However, Emily's look is obviously very ugly, and her spirit is in a state of extreme fatigue.

"This..." Emily looked at Sean with some horror, her eyes full of disbelief.

"This is just the beginning." Sean said lightly, "As you carry this crystal for longer, Marz, who is imprisoned in it, will become more and more manic, and will eventually become an evil spirit. At that time, the mental pressure you need to endure will be ten or a hundred times as much as it is now."

"Then if one day, I finally can't bear it and choose to give up and want to return this crystal to you?"

Emily's voice is a bit weak, it seems that the mental impact of the moment just now has too deep an impact on her, but this is also a very normal thing, after all, Emily's current strength is not strong, just the golden realm. And Marz's mental coercion is the willpower of a super strong, Emily did not faint in the moment just now, her bloodline talent is already at work.

"Then your hard work these days will probably be wasted." Sean thought for a while. Then said. "Every day you hold this divine crystal, the power of faith generated by all the Marz believers will gather in your hands. You can use this to quickly improve your strength and make yourself more powerful. Strength.... But all of this is not yours until you officially take over for Marz, so you must use this divine crystal to be able to maintain this strength. Once you return this crystal to me . It is tantamount to abandoning all of this, your strength will dissipate at an extremely fast speed."

"Then if this is the case, can I still regain my strength through my own training?"

"No." Shaun shook his head and said with a little regret, "This is a shortcut that has no turning back. Once you give up, then you will never be able to recover your strength, and it will even cause serious damage to your strength. , Directly return to the Silver Realm.... But once you finally persist, then you can become a * of high power and completely replace everything in Marz."

"I see." Emily nodded. "Give me this stone."

"Do you really want to accept?" Sean was a little surprised, "Do you think you can really endure the mental shock just now?"

"I have no choice, do I?" Emily smiled slightly at Sean, her face was very pale, so her smile looked particularly weak, but it had a very unique delicate beauty inexplicably. "In the entire Church of God of War, apart from me, you have no one you can trust."

"This crystal stone is in my hand. You can still pretend to be the saint of the Church of God of War, and no new pope will appear from now on..."

This time, Emily interrupted Sean before he could finish talking.

She shook her head slightly, then looked at Sean very seriously, and said word by word: "If there is no miracle to show for a long time, and believers cannot communicate with the gods, the cohesion of the Church of the God of War will be reduced, and it will even trigger the Northern Principality. The disintegration of the Federation...I don't know what you want the Church of the God of War and the Northern Principality Federation, but I believe you will never want a completely disintegrated Northern Principality Federation, so...only I can help you in this matter."

"But..." Shaun wanted to say something else.

Emily shook her head to stop: "To be honest, we may have been just a deal at the beginning. So even if Mulu really did to me that day, I have no right to resent you, of course I might regret it with you. The deal... But anyway, you saved me later, and the look in your eyes also shows that you feel that you owe me anything, but in fact you don't owe me anything. Everything at the beginning is just a deal, isn't it?... So from then on, I made a decision, and my destiny can only be controlled by myself in the future."

Shaun opened his mouth, but didn't know what to say.

"So, I need strength." Emily said in a deep voice, "And in the process of my pursuit of strength, if I can help you, then I will be more willing to do so....For me, just every day I have to endure the chatter of another unlucky ghost, and the benefits I can get are practical, so strictly speaking, I have no loss, have I?... If one day I really can't hold it, it's just My overestimation and blind confidence in my strength are nothing more."

Listening to Emily finished these words, Sean's mouth raised slightly, and then smiled: "I can't tell you.... But if there really is such a day, I will also protect you, and I will never let anyone else. hurt you."

"This is what you said." Emily smiled slightly, then walked to Sean, and she reached out and picked up the divine crystal without hesitation.

In an instant, Emily's face was pale as paper, and her blood faded completely in an instant.

When she really clenched this divine crystal, Emily realized that this kind of mental shock was completely different from the moment of contact just now. In her mind, there are endless shouts and screams from Marz, as if countless thunderbolts are blasting wildly, almost all of them are going to mix her brain into a ball of mud. In particular, the constant strong pressure emanating from the divine crystal directly affected the surrounding space, and it seemed that there was endless pressure that was constantly squeezing her body, as if it were to burst her body.

But the more so, the less Emily was willing to admit defeat, and instead held the divine crystal tightly, as if to vent all the pressure and anger on this crystal. She only knew that if she couldn't even hold this level, then she didn't have the face to say that she was going to complete this for Sean, so she could only clenched her teeth and persisted.

I don't know how long it has passed, but at least for Emily, it's like several years. Finally a warm feeling came from the side, driving away all the pressure and mental shock formed by Marz. Let Emily finally catch a sigh of relief.

She glanced sideways at Sean who was supporting her, smiled weakly, and said, "Thank you."

"Really all right?" Sean frowned, still a little worried in his eyes.

Emily's failure to become a * does not affect the plan for him, as long as Emily continues to serve as her saint here. Although he said he wanted Emily to become a god, he actually helped Emily prepare another path to become a god. Of course, this would be much more difficult, because he wanted Emily to start from scratch, which was tantamount to re-experiencing. Everything Marz experienced when he became a god.

It's just that, this won't be right now, at least after he settles the matter of the Duchy of Lembel.

At that time, whether the Northern Principality Federation still exists is actually not important to Sean. So at that time, even if Marz's will is wiped out and Marz's kingdom of God falls and crashes, it doesn't matter. It's just that he didn't expect that Emily would choose this seemingly shortcut, but it's actually a very torturing path to godhood—of course, compared to starting from scratch, this path to godhood is indeed going to be A lot easier.

"It's okay." Emily shook her head, her expression still very strong, "Do you think that in my current capacity, can I call myself the agent of the God of War."

"Of course." Sean said with a chuckle, "...Congratulations, you have become the agent of God of War."

Emily smiled sincerely and nodded, with joy that no one could understand in her eyes: "Thank you!"

Chapter 444: . Sean and Emily's Plan

In the next period of time, Sean did not leave the Marz Cathedral immediately, but stayed to assist Emily in handling some of the internal affairs of the God of War Church to help her consolidate her current position and power. Because with the death of the Pope, many unstable factors of civil strife appeared within the Ares Church. Among them, many cardinals bypassed Emily and directly performed the * ceremony.

The so-called  ceremony, in fact, to put it bluntly is to send pious beliefs to Marz, and he will select and send a new pope.

But now, Marz's soul is trapped, so he still has the ability to select. Therefore, the rituals performed secretly by these cardinals carrying Emily on their backs were naturally "unfortunately" discovered by Emily, who was imprisoned by Marz's divine crystal stone, and so in the rituals of these cardinals Before it was over, Emily had asked the servants of the Marz Great Sanctuary to block the entire Hall of Wars, and swept all the cardinals in one go.

The accusations on these bishops are naturally "hypocrites."

At first, Emily was still worried about how to solve these so-called high levels of the church, but she didn't want these greedy guys to just die by themselves. On the contrary, it made Emily a lot easier. As for the servants of the  of war around these bishops, according to the ideas of Sean and Andrew, they should also solve them together. After all, these guys are the accomplices of the so-called high-level nasty things, plus their souls and beliefs. Defiled, they belong to "unclean people", so no  will allow them to enter the kingdom of God.

It's just that Emily didn't think so much. She felt that these women were poor people and deceived, so she kept them. Sean felt that if Emily went well in the future, she would definitely take over the position of Marz, if she was willing to let these women enter the kingdom of God after death. Then it didn't matter, so he didn't oppose Emily's decision.

It's just that this kind of staying is naturally a matter of choice, and it is impossible for all the goddess of war ladies to stay indiscriminately. After all, the Church of the God of War is now in a relatively turbulent period, so it naturally needs people who can be loyal to Emily, as for those who are still trying to protect their former masters. Even if Emily felt sorry for these war goddess maids, she knew how to choose.

The wave of the invisible butcher knife. Soon a terrifying shadow of death formed, covering the entire Marz Great Church.

In the past few days, the entire Marz Great Sanctuary has fallen into an atmosphere of panic.

In addition to all the bishops of the entire cardinal regiment have been dealt with, there are also many high-level personnel of the Ares Church who were responsible for clerical and missionary work. Of course, most of these acts were executed secretly, and they were not made public, except that a big living person suddenly disappeared. It is impossible to hide the internal faculty of the Marz Cathedral. The only thing that can be concealed is the flow of people in the bazaar built around the Great Sanctuary of Marz.

Although the internal bloodbath is still continuing, the God of War ceremony in the Great Sanctuary of Marz has not stopped because of this, and it continues every day.

The only thing that has changed is that the security level of the Great Sanctuary of Marz has been upgraded several levels, becoming extremely strict, and those young geniuses who are fortunate enough to be able to use the third and fourth ceremonial halls have also received the saints. Emily's summons. These geniuses are men and women. Although they have different personalities, they are surprisingly consistent in spirit. And many have the exclusive characteristics of geniuses: unruly.

Sean knew what Emily was thinking, but just wanted to recruit all these geniuses to his subordinates. Build a strong team with a wide range of coverage and a large coverage area.

It's just a pity that this work is actually very difficult, at least not a feat that can be accomplished overnight. So in these days, among the dozen geniuses that Emily has summoned in total, although eight or nine have shown some interest in Emily's new world concept, only two or three are willing to serve Ami. Li serves.

However, Emily did not have any frustrations or complaints about this, and she continued to work hard every day with vitality and spirit.

I couldn't tell at all, Emily was tortured every day by the divine crystal stone with Marz's soul imprisoned.

Although the entire Church of the God of War is in an atmosphere of extreme gloom at this time, it can be seen that the Church of the God of War is completing its transformation at an astonishing speed. This kind of transformation may not see any effect in the short term, but in the next one or two years, it will inevitably be seen that the Church of the God of War will usher in a terrible period of expansion and development, and this expansion is still beneficial. The development of the entire Church of God of War, and even its impact on the future, is very far-reaching.

It's just that all of this is based on the premise that Emily can survive.

Because all this is the result of Emily's hard work.

But like all the essence of this world, where there are people, there will inevitably be competition for power. Perhaps there is now Emily, and these newly elected talents of the God of War Church will not have any contradictions and disputes. They will make efforts to make the Church of War God stronger. But if one day, Emily is not there, then these people who will not obey anyone, will inevitably cause the entire Church of God of War to fall into even greater chaos.

This is an unavoidable drawback that an organizational force will usher in a period of rapid expansion and development after shuffling.

Even Sean and Andrew can't offer any advice in this regard. The only thing they can do is to take advantage of this time to consolidate Emily's power and influence to ensure that after Sean and Andrew leave, Emily can avoid the threat of death.

Of course, it is not easy to kill Emily now.

Because of Emily's strength, she is advancing by leaps and bounds at a speed that is not much weaker than the development momentum of the Church of God of War. This is because Sean has taught Emily how to absorb Marz's power of faith and transform this power of faith into divine power to strengthen herself. Although the growth rate of strength is terribly fast, all of this is vain before Emily becomes a god. One day she can't bear the mental pollution of Marz, then all this will be far away from her.

In addition to the extremely rapid growth of her own strength, the personal power belonging to Emily is also growing at an astonishing speed.

She first integrated all the goddesses of the * of war church. The ancient decree of the privatization of the Ares Maid was cancelled, and these Ares, who were not much weaker than the Ares Knights, were trained into a private force exclusively dedicated to Emily. Secondly, after a series of rectifications, the guards of the God of War Knights of the Marz Great Temple have also become Emily's private troops, but they are different from those of the Lady of War. The God of War Knights Guard is responsible for the security and defense of the entire Marz Cathedral. The Ares Maid's troops belonged to Emily's personal guards.

In addition to the rectification of the guards, the command power of the three armies formed under the name of the God of War Church has all returned to Emily's command. In fact, during this process, the commanders of these three armies deliberately disobeyed Emily. After all, the cardinals who were secretly executed by Emily had their relatives. They just knew if they really wanted to resist the saint Emily. Those believers in the army will definitely resist, so what they adopt is a method of obedience to the evil.

It's just that when Enkos and Beth converge with Andrew, the commanders of these three armies naturally failed to escape death. Even with Sean's strategic support, Emily directly wielded a butcher knife against the families of these three commanders, and confiscated all their properties to maintain the Church of God of War. Under Emily's series of reforms, it was forced to increase Bottomless pit overhead.

In this regard, Emily's family and the Earl of Hecarom, Anton Symmes have all helped a lot.

But Emily's feedback to Earl Anton. The same is not light. Today, the still young Earl of Hecarom is already the hottest figure in the entire Duchy of Jordan. Even some of the marquis of strength treated Settlement with an equal attitude, instead of looking down at him in the posture of the superior. In particular, it is said that after the royal family in the Principality of Jordan learned of Anton's personal friendship with Emily, they frequently invited the Lord Earl into and out of the palace.

According to current intelligence, the Earl of Hecarom is likely to acquire a larger territory and become a veritable Marquis of strength.

This kind of promotion of nobility can be said to be an exceptional recruitment. Because the title of the Northern Duchy is not very valuable in fact, the real value is the territory, and only the lords who own the territory are the real nobles, and it is not a trivial matter to obtain a territory that can match the status and title. —At least, if Earl Anton really becomes a Marquis, then this means that at least one Marquis in the Duchy of Jordan will be unlucky.

However, it can also be seen from this that how high Emily's worth is in the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy.

And this Earl of Hecarom can get such a rich return, the attention and friendship that Emily's family has received can't be less.

It's just that all of this is just part of the plan that Emily and Sean are making.

In that unfinished real ambition, Anton Symes is the candidate to become the Grand Duke of Jordan. And this also means that Earl Anton is the enemy who is destined to pull down the royal family of the Principality of Jordan from the throne. Perhaps, it is also an expert in the royal family of the Principality of Jordan who vaguely discovered this, so it will be frequent. Invited to settle down to the palace, trying to build some kind of friendship.

Of course, marriage is actually a way.

In Shaun's view, the Principality of Jordan is currently trying to preserve the royal bloodline in this way. The only thing that needs to be paid attention to is to settle down. However, whether Settlement chooses to take care of the royal family of the entire Principality of Jordan or accept the arrangement of the marriage, Sean does not care. His only concern is whether Emily's plan will succeed in the end. Of course, instinctively speaking, he actually hoped that An Dun chose to marry, because this at least proved that An Dun was not such a cold-blooded person.

It's just that, judging from the fact that Anton and Emily's clan in the Emilia Empire tried to kill Emily, this future Grand Duke would probably not choose such a gentle way of becoming a king. Therefore, Shaun felt that he really had to remind Emily to be careful of this ambitious Lord Earl.

However, what really surprised Sean was the arrival of Arkham and Joanna.

These two are the only survivors of the adventure group that Sean met in Akazbesen. At that time, Sean felt that the two men were very strong and had good potential. The most important thing was that Arkham had some territorial management experience and was very suitable for Emily, who was in short supply. It's just that when Sean hurried back to the Marz Cathedral, he didn't see these two people, thinking they had their own ideas. He didn't come to take refuge in Emily, so he didn't say anything even though he was a little disappointed.

but didn't want to, the two of them finally came to take refuge in Emily, especially when Emily was carrying out a drastic carnage-style shuffle in the Church of God of War, the refuge of these two men became especially important. Because of Emily's side. There is really no talent that can really apply-the paperwork of the Church of God of War. It can be selected from other uncorrupted lower-level staff. The guard job of the Warlord Knight in the Marz Cathedral can also be handed over to the former Warlord Knight Shawshank who was exiled to the town to be in charge of the command.

Strength is not a problem. With Emily's current agent status as the God of War, she can forcefully enhance the strength of believers to a certain extent.

The real problem is the three Ares Church troops that have now been returned to Emily.

Born in Emily's deputy head of the Rose Mercenary Group, a family knight from the Emily family. Denny can be in charge of one. Emily does not ask for how outstanding her ability is. But at least it is necessary to ensure that this army is loyal and obedient enough, so Tenny is naturally the best candidate-anyway, the ability to command combat can be gradually cultivated, especially in the current situation of the Church of God of War. There is time for Tenny to learn.

But for the remaining two armies, there is no way to solve this problem.

So the arrival of Arkham helped Emily solve this problem to a certain extent, especially since this is also a believer of Marz, the  of war. Emily can be displayed through the identity of the saint and the miracle of the agent of the  of war. Come to shock this believer, and add that because Sean saved his life. It can ensure that Arkham will not have a heart of rebellion, and that he was a lord and has the same experience in leading the group as Emily, and he can be analogous in command.

In this way, there is only one army left without a commander, and this problem is solved.

Even if it doesn't work, Sean can ask William to send a commander over and even teach Tenny and Arkham. In today's Void Principality, William has trained a large number of middle and lower-level commanders. They have indeed learned almost the theoretical knowledge. What is lacking is the ability in actual combat. After all, the position of the Void Principality is destined for these commanders. It is difficult to have a real opportunity.

But the Northern Principality Federation is different here.

Here, there are all kinds of actual combat experience, let alone small-scale conflict wars, even large-scale wars are common. Sean can use the Northern Principality Federation as an actual combat training base for commanders, and continuously transport talents here for actual combat training. After all, there is Emily, the God of War agent, and there is no need for Sean to worry about something happening. Bad things.

It's just that there will be losses. After all, the reason why famous generals on the Northern Principality Federation are rare is because many commanders have fallen when they become famous.

Speaking of the number of commanders killed in battle, the chaotic Northern Duchy Federation is the largest on the continent.

When all these things were arranged in the same order, under the intervention of Andrew and Sean, the three legendary powerhouses who belonged to the Church of God of War were also burned out of temper. Especially the three of them are all believers of the God of War Marz. Basically, Emily is now in the Church of God of War as a GM. She can modify the strength of any believer at will. The ability to cheat is the real reason why all of Emily's decree can be issued and implemented unimpeded, no matter how ridiculous.

Of course, this kind of modification is not omnipotent. There are also certain restrictions, and the adjustment range cannot be too great.

Being busy with many things, Levi, who had been in a coma for more than twenty days since the battle of fate, finally awakened in a room in the Great Sanctuary of Marz.

With Levi's awakening, Sean, Andrew, Enkos, Beth and others soon received the news.

Xiao En knew that his day to go to the floating library had finally come.

It's just that, at this moment, he suddenly thought of Cecilia, who was far away in the Void Duchy.

Chapter 445: .Secret Order Information

The climate of the South Continent is slightly different from other places on the Miracle Continent. In summer, the South Continent is slightly hotter, especially in the surrounding areas near the wild land. Because of the scarcity of rain and the blow of wind and sand, it is not just It's hot, and it will become very dry at the same time. Although in the past year or so, the Void Principality has implemented many strategic construction policies tailored to local conditions, and even spent a lot of materials and money to hire druids and a large number of magicians known as "natural fanatics" for green construction. , But as far as the current short-term situation is concerned, the effect is very little.

But anyway, the environment of the entire Void Principality is indeed changing for the better.

The Black Swan Castle, one of the five most famous castles in the Southern Continent, has finally ushered in the arrival of a large number of black swans since the first Ryan and Darbion war.

So after the news spread that the black swan reappeared in the black swan castle, the reputation of the castle soon returned to a peak state.

Of course, many aristocrats in Ryan cursed Sean in a low voice. After all, the Black Swan Castle had a legendary method long ago. It is said that if these black swans that are not afraid of living in the Black Swan Castle appear in the Black Swan Castle, then this symbolizes that the owner of the castle has been favored by the goddess of luck.

The afternoon sun shines on the Black Swan Castle, covering the entire castle with a golden brilliance.

After several renovations, the Black Swan Castle has not only completely restored its former glory, but even because it is a product of Shaun's real name, the value of the Black Swan Castle has increased geometrically.

Any nobleman cannot do without face engineering.

Even if Sean is a Duke, and may be the most unassuming and indifferent Duke in the history of Marvel Land, it is impossible for his followers to ignore him because of Sean's randomness.

The Black Swan Guard, which was originally responsible for the security work of the Black Swan Castle, has only a hundred people, but it has now expanded to three hundred people. These guards are composed of the most elite selected from all the armies of the entire Void Principality, and each of them has the personal strength of the upper silver pinnacle. Although they do not pay more attention to various combat skills than adventurers and mercenaries, they are born as soldiers but they have a strong combination of strikes and battle formation skills.

After a series of selections, these three hundred people have undergone hell-style training by Rena, William, Alfred, and others. Now they can be comparable to a thousand-man level four army. Their equipment supply and selection have the highest priority among all the armies of the entire void duchy, because of this guard. Nowadays, it is more than just being responsible for the guard work of the Black Swan Castle. They are also the guards that William built for Sean.

Void Shadow.

In the study room on the second floor of the Black Swan Castle, there is a huge floor-to-ceiling window.

From this position, you can see the vestibule of the entire Black Swan Castle, the outer city wall and the mountainside. When the afternoon sun was shining down, most of the study room was illuminated through this window, and the brightness of the whole study room was improved a lot.

Cecilia was standing behind this window, staring at the scenery outside.

The sun shines on her body, making her golden hair look more brilliant. It's like being bathed in divine light.

Now Cecilia. It is no longer the ignorant little girl back then. After going through a series of things, Cecilia's growth rate is extremely rapid, and it can even be said to be astonishing, especially her dual talents in politics and military have almost been tapped to the limit by Neil and William — In the past year, almost all the military and political discussions related to the Void Principality have all had the shadow of Cecilia's participation.

Especially in the discussion and decision of some major events, whether it is William or Neal, the final decision will be handed over to Cecilia. It's up to her to decide.

Because all followers of Shaun's inner circle are very clear, Cecilia is the most irreplaceable person in Shaun's mind. So in the Void Duchy, where Sean is not. Cecilia's identity seems to be in control of the whole situation like a mistress. Of course, her abilities did not disappoint. The entire Void Principality has been thriving at a steady and rapid pace during the year that Shaun left.

Especially when it comes to diplomacy with the Wild Federation, Cecilia's decisions and actions are even more impeccable.

The plan of the Wild Federation that Shaun formulated at the beginning was just a rudiment. His consideration was to obtain an alliance and friendly cooperative relationship with the twelve-seat parliament of the Wild Federation. However, this plan is based on mutual trust. If Sean cannot satisfy the appetites of his parliamentary allies, then the so-called alliance will appear unbinding, and there may even be a breakdown. .

And Cecilia, in the last six months, her main goal and direction is to deepen her influence on the Wild Federation.

The twelve-seat parliament of the Wild, under the strong intervention and intervention of Cecilia, now five seats have sworn allegiance to the Void Duchy-it is the Void Duchy, not Cecilia. Although at this point, Cecilia and Klov had a serious disagreement. According to Klov's idea, Cecilia's contribution to the Void Principality was understandable, but in the policy of the Wild Federation, Klov Believe that Cecilia must consider herself, especially for the future restoration of the country, so these wild tribes should swear allegiance to Cecilia, not the Void Duchy.

Everyone knows that the Principality of the Void will only be Sean's words, even in the absence of Sean, Cecilia has the identity of the hostess and the authority to match it, but this principality will not be Cecilia after all. of.

But Cecilia still chose to ignore Clover's advice.

The five seats of the Wild Council now sworn allegiance are the Winter Tribe commanded by Tydamir, the Wall Tribe commanded by the old werewolf who sent his daughter to the Void Principality to study, and it is composed of Ataba. Heavy Hammer and the Blood Eye Goblin Card. The Red Rock tribe formed by the merger of Ross, the Eye of the Storm tribe commanded by Saloqi Xuefeng, and the Luo Xiluo tribe ruled by Krumah and Cruz.

As for the two dwarf tribes of Bronzebeard and Anvil, although they did not swear allegiance, their most important mineral resources are firmly grasped by the Void Principality. Unless more powerful foreign forces intervene, these two tribes are not. It may turn against the Void Principality. Even in the Coalition Parliament, these two are steadfast and empty parties, so whether or not they actually swear allegiance. It's not important anymore.

As for the remaining five seat tribes, the Great Drum Tribe, Lionheart King Tribe, Eagle Tribe, Stone Hammer Tribe, and Hadex Tribe, the first three have also been shaken recently under Cecilia's offensive— -This kind of shaking does not simply refer to the shaking of the tribal chief's will, but the loosening of faith within the entire tribe.

The reason for this is that the Wild Winter tribe formally swore allegiance to the Void Duchy. He received a series of important support from the Void Principality. These include scientific research forces, mineral resources, a large amount of food and seeds, and even the training of commanders, and so on.

You should know that among all the barbarian special class tribes, the Mandong tribe can only be regarded as a toddler who has just learned to walk. But now, within a year, this toddler has become a behemoth able to sit side by side with the four barbarians tribes-in a competition that was composed of all the savages in the wild a few months ago. , The Winter Tribe has a terrible result for the championship. He has become a well-deserved  in the hearts of all barbarian tribes except the four major tribes in the entire wild land.

was originally in the barbarian tribe. The strongest individual combat power is undoubtedly the Great War Drum Tribe, and the champions in group combat have always been born only between the Lionheart King and the Eagle Tribe, and the display of totem and witchcraft is firmly controlled by the Stone Hammer Tribe. As for other horse racing, hunting, battle of positions and many other events, they are only produced in this big tribe. However, in this competition, all the champions of the project were all taken into the bag by the Wild Winter tribe. The four tribes are not shocked, then there are ghosts.

So when the event is over, in addition to the Stonehammer tribe, the connection between the other three tribes and the Void Duchy instantly becomes closer.

at this time. It's a rare break for Cecilia.

In the recent period, Cecilia's daily sleep time has been compressed to only four hours. Sometimes even shorter. Of course, this is not to say that she has inexhaustible official business, but after the normal official business, she also set a very strict training time for herself. Cecilia didn't want to give up her inherent uniqueness. Cecilia's talent and ability, and the achievements of the lower sanctuary, obviously can't be satisfied with Cecilia.

From the lower sanctuary to the middle sanctuary to the upper sanctuary, the improvement of these three realms does not depend on the degree of accumulation of a person. The improvement of the sanctuary realm is not like the accumulation of fighting energy in the silver realm or the condensing of fighting energy in the golden realm, but depends on a person's ability to perceive and understand the law.

On the Continent of Miracles, there are many people who have been unable to break through to the middle sanctuary in their entire lives, but there are also many people who are suddenly promoted to the middle sanctuary or even the upper sanctuary on a certain day. What's more, in just one or two years after entering the lower sanctuary, he broke directly into the middle sanctuary and even the upper sanctuary.

It can be said that the real interpretation of "genius" is the length of time the sanctuary has improved.

But Cecilia has been stuck in the lower sanctuary for more than a year, but she has not been able to become the middle sanctuary, which makes her a little confused. It is precisely because of this confusion that Cecilia tries to find opportunities for enlightenment through other means, and therefore will formally intervene in all affairs of the Void Principality, but in this way, her rest time will naturally be greatly shortened. .

William and Hela once expressed their concern and deliberately not to discuss with Cecilia. But I can't bear that this beauty who has grown to be an overwhelming country will go to the Void City to find William and Hela by herself, and even just stay in the meeting room without leaving. William and Hela both expressed their feelings about this. Frustrated, so he had to conduct strict consultations on the rest time.

The four-hour break is the result of a whole day of bargaining between Hela and William.

In this regard, Hela once said that if Cecilia was exhausted, would Sean cut them both?

After thinking for a minute, William said that Hela might be able to survive, and he might be out of luck.

So, Hela calmly continued to arrange tasks for Cecilia, but William looked extraordinarily sad.

"Huh." Cecilia let out a soft cry, exhaling a sulky breath, and then her face became ruddy again, and her eyes brightened, "The rest time is over.... Next, let me see how to proceed. What is your job."

While talking, Cecilia turned around, then returned to the desk and began to read the documents on the desk.

Soon, a document bag sealed with a red label attracted Cecilia's attention.

The document bag is marked with a red seal with the word "Confidential" written on it. Cecilia is sure she hasn't seen this document before—all the documents on the desktop are escorted by a special person sent by the Void City. If there are special or confidential documents, then the Void Shadows will be dispatched with her own hands. Responsible for the transportation, and this time this batch of documents was escorted without the Void Shadow Guard.

"Come out." Soon, Cecilia realized what was going on, so she said in a deep voice.

was located in a shadowed corner of the study room, and there was a moment of blur, and a figure walked out of it, came to Cecilia and knelt down on one knee.

"Who are you?" Cecilia looked at this young strange face, "You don't seem to be in charge of the Black Swan Castle, right."

Today's Void Realm Intelligence Network has completely covered the entire Void Principality, and even radiates toward the surroundings with this as the core. It is also because of the fact that there is too much information to be responsible for in the Void Realm, so new class powers have been established internally, including the upper-level leaders and lower-level executives of each region, and of course, there is also a general leader who coordinates a region.

Black Swan Castle is one of the two important areas of the Void Principality. Now Cecilia is sitting in person. She naturally met the person in charge of this area for the first time, and also met all the subordinates under her. But the person who appeared calmly in the castle in front of her was someone Cecilia had never seen before, so she would naturally ask who the other party was.

As for there was no immediate attack, it was because it would be impossible to enter the Black Swan Castle if it were not for the insiders of the Void Realm.

Don't look at the Black Swan Castle, there are only 300 Void Shadows in charge of guarding, but in the shadows, there is a special force of Void Dark Blade responsible for interception and anti-assassination. And if someone wants to sneak in from the ground, then they will find even more terrifying things-Hina has now officially become a figure that can be alone, especially the ice spider queen who has a soul contract with her, and even the black swan The underground of the castle is a nest, forming a terrifying underground spider cave world.

"I'm Spector." The young man kneeling in front of Cecilia said in a deep voice, "I'll bring a secret order from Master Hela's order.... The second phase of the Void Empire plan has been successful, do you want to Start the third phase of the plan?"

Chapter 446: .Busy business

"Spector?" Cecilia frowned, and looked up and down the strange young man in front of her with a look of extreme suspicion, "Are you a disguise?"

"Oh! Sorry." Spector apologized suddenly, "I was in a hurry before, and I forgot to take off the mask."

Soon, Spector took off the mask covering his face, revealing a complexion that was tanned somewhat almost wheaten. Compared with the previous situation when he met Cecilia and others in the Wildlands, Spector now clearly looks a lot more mature: his eyebrows are a bit more determined, and his eyes are not as good as before. Like floating, it's a bit more vicissitudes of suffering.

Since the excellent performance of Spector's mission in the Wildlands last time, Sean felt that this young man was a talent, so he made a special proposal to William. So now Spector doesn't need to run errands like before. Currently, there are more than 80 subordinates under his direct control. Two of them are from the Void Dark Blade for his convenience. The special operations team dispatched, a total of 16 people.

In the division of the administrative area of the Void Realm, the Wild Land is divided into a total of 20 areas, of which 12 areas are the core areas that need to be monitored and controlled. Only the head of these twelve areas will have two special operations teams dispatched from the Dark Blade of the Void-according to the current internal system of the Void Realm, in addition to William and Rupee, including Eli Kate and Xi None of the two Big Three characters, Gerry, has the command and dispatch authority of Void Dark Blade.

But there are a total of twelve area leaders in the Wildlands, but each has the command of two Void Dark Blade teams, which is enough to show the importance of these twelve areas.

With Spector's current status, the delivery of confidential documents like this one does not require him to act in person.

But this time, he still came in person, and from this he can see the importance of this confidential document.

Cecilia's frowning brows did not stretch, she sat back in the chair. However, she did not open the confidential document at the first time, but was thinking that the secret intelligence network of the Void Principality might need to be re-modified and deployed. In the Black Swan Castle, it is difficult for ordinary assassins to sneak in, but in order to prevent harm to their own people, there are actually a few secret paths for members of the Void Realm to enter and exit. It's just that under normal circumstances these people who come and go are familiar faces. Therefore, no additional fortifications and inspections were carried out.

Judging from the expansion speed of the Void Principality, this method has become a bit dangerous.

Once the spy personnel of the Void Realm are bought out, these secret paths can easily fall into the enemy's intelligence network, thereby providing the enemy of the Void Principality with an extremely perfect path for beheading. Although Cecilia is confident in the defense capabilities of the Black Swan Castle, this does not mean that the defense system in other places can be so perfect, just like the Void City and Void Fortress that are now in a state of emptiness.

Because Shaun's departure gave others a vacation, Noro didn't know where he went. Rorty Kabas went out to find the remains of the riding god.

Currently, only Rena is left behind in Void City. Because Xuefanio and Ruby both went to the Kingdom of Fascism to investigate information about Wuling.

And Harding from the demonic clan of the underground world followed Hela. Since the last time William was attacked, now the three giants of the void are traveling, besides the guard, there is bound to be a strong man with high-end combat power. . Therefore, the severe lack of high-end combat power naturally led to the emergence of huge unavoidable loopholes in the defense system of the entire Void Principality, especially in the Void Fortress, where there is a lack of strong players.

The Void Fortress was originally built based on the old site of the Darbion Kingdom Fortress in the Gap Rift Valley.

The overall scale of this fortress is based on the core goal of accommodating one hundred thousand soldiers and storing enough rations for one hundred thousand people to consume for three years. Just because of the lack of alchemy puppets and special skills, even today a large number of magic apprentices and dwarves, gnomes, goblins and other natural master builder races have been invested. However, after nearly two years of investment in a large amount of materials and manpower regardless of gains and losses, only the main city wall at the beginning and the end of the Gorge Rift and the inner city main building on the side close to the wild land have been built. There is still a long time before the actual completion.

Originally, this fortress was used by Sean to guard against the invasion of the tribe in the Wildlands one day after they turned their faces.

Just after Cecilia and Hela, William, and Neal jointly re-formed the plan of the Void Empire, the status of this fortress seemed a bit embarrassing.

According to Neil's idea, this fortress is no longer necessary to exist. It would be better to save resources and use them as expenses for other places. Although both Hella and William believe that the construction of the Void Fortress is still necessary, the two people have a disagreement about the location of the Void Fortress: Hella built the Void Fortress on the original site; and William advocates Move the location of the fortress to the entrance of the fissure rift.

Because in William's view, the enemies of the human side are much more terrifying than the enemies of the Wildlands. Especially since the territory of the Void Principality lacks sufficient strategic depth, the existence of a defensive fortress is very necessary; on the other hand, in the wild land, near the side of the strait valley, the former Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance built a large scale. The Rift Valley Trade Nation is still under the control of the Void Duchy, so if the tribes of the Wildlands want to build their troops, they can completely defeat them in a region with a vast strategic depth.

Hella's view is just the opposite of William. Hella believes that the original location of the Void Fortress remains unchanged. It can not only serve the purpose of deterring the tribes in the wild land, but also can be used as a special line of defense. Once the Void Duchy and the surrounding lords of humans have conflicts and conflicts, they can retreat to the wild. The land has another plan, and with the unique topography of the gorge rift, in this square strip area, it is completely possible to achieve a situation where one man can do nothing.

It can be said that whether it is William or Hella, their considerations have certain desirability.

But in the end, it was Cecilia who made the decision. She simply adopted the suggestions of William and Hella and built two fortresses directly at the beginning and end of the Rift Valley. This is also the first child and mother on the Marvel Continent. One-piece fortress. And it is precisely because this fortress must take into account the defensive facilities with two gaps at the beginning and the end. Therefore, the construction work and time of the entire void fortress have been greatly slowed down.

As for the defenders of this fortress, William, Hella, and Cecilia are surprisingly consistent: Stalin, who is proficient in defensive operations.

For this reason, the First Infantry Regiment has also been urgently expanded to 100,000 people. Even the Second Infantry Regiment commanded by Nok is directly incorporated, and the First Infantry Regiment was officially renamed the First Legion. Stalin became the commander of the army. Knock is the deputy commander of the army. The positioning of the First Corps is a regiment specializing in fort defense, mostly heavy infantry and shield soldiers, supplemented by archers, pikemen, and a small number of swordsmen and other types of troops. Although the First

Army has directly become the most powerful army of the Void Principality, the corresponding price is a serious decline in the combat power level of the entire army: currently it is barely maintaining the strength of the quasi-three army, even the real The three-level army is not counted.

For this reason, Stalin and Knok were extremely busy, even if a large number of veterans took over the positions of middle and lower commanders of the entire army. But the army of 100,000 people is no bigger than the previous 20,000 or 30,000 people. Training alone is enough to make people feel extremely helpless. Not to mention, a large number of arrows and other consumables for fortress defense warfare need to be consumed by a legion that specializes in fortress defense warfare in training.

However, the First Legion and the Void Fortress are the most important part of the entire Void Empire plan.

Speect came to report that the second phase of the Nether Empire plan had been completed, referring to the real formation of the First Army.

The first phase of the plan is to divide the cohesion of the Wild Federation and at the same time expand the influence of the Void Duchy in the Wild Federation. The second phase of the plan is the formation and formation of the First Army and the winning of twelve seats in the Wild Federation Parliament. As for the third phase plan. This is the real prerequisite plan for the construction of the Void Empire: to absorb tribal members of the Wild Federation, and start to build the embryonic form of the Void Empire in the wilderness.

The fourth phase plan after . It is to promote the prototype of this "human and multi-racial peaceful coexistence" in the wild land, completely absorb the entire wild federation into the territory of the void empire, and begin to radiate to the wild land and the surroundings of the void duchy. Then the fifth stage plan is to promulgate the relevant laws and systems of the Void Empire and formally announce the establishment of the Void Empire.

This is the void empire plan made by Cecilia, William, Hella, and Neal.

Hella is responsible for grasping the overall situation and building the general trend, William is responsible for solving potential threats that may arise, and Neal is responsible for the related improvement of the economy, law and system. Cecilia, on the other hand, was responsible for diplomatic work with the Wild Federation, as well as friendly exchanges between the Void Principality and surrounding lords before the establishment of the Void Empire.

It can be said that in this plan, four people are indispensable.

And as long as the fourth stage can be completed, no one can stop the establishment of the void empire.

Cecilia quickly sorted out the related finishing ideas of the Void Realm in his mind, and prepared to wait for the return to propose to William the loopholes that the Void Realm had neglected. Then I picked up the paper bag with the word "Confidential" and opened it, but after Cecilia's gaze glanced over from above, her expression became shocked: "William knows this. Is something wrong?"

"I don't know very well, Your Royal Highness Cecilia." Spector shook his head and said, "I was summoned by Master Hela directly. She asked me to personally send this document to you. As for the other I am not clear about the matter... However, I guess Lord William should have no idea what happened, otherwise Lord Hela can use magic communication to communicate with Lord William instead of letting me send this document personally. ."

Cecilia's brows frowned, her eyes fixed on the documents in the file bag.

It can be clearly seen that Cecilia's emotions are a bit fierce, because the right hand holding the paper is a little harder, and the knuckles can be seen prominently, and even the paper is pinched a little wrinkly.

"Cecilia... Your Highness?" Spector asked in confusion.

"Sean has been away for almost a year, right?" Cecilia suddenly asked, "Is there any news from him?"

"I'm sorry, I am not the intelligence officer in charge of this aspect." Spector said helplessly, "Moreover, the first task of the Void Realm is to serve the Empire Plan..."

Spectre's meaning is very clear, that is, there is no news of Sean at all.

About a year ago, Sean suddenly disappeared, and there was no news at all. Those in the inner circle who follow Shaun know that Shaun is looking for a way to break through the sanctuary. No one knows where he went. The only thing that can be clear is that Noro's regular intelligence transmission indicated that Sean is still alive, but where he is, but he doesn't even know where he is. He said that only Sean sent the summoning message. He can feel the position of Sean.

to this end. Others are also quite helpless.

"The civil strife in the Millennium Covenant Empire is over." Cecilia sighed, "I need to trouble you with one thing."

"Your Highness, please give instructions." Spector said in a deep voice.

"Tell William that Reyes has been secretly transferred, and there is a good phone meeting right now." Cecilia said lightly, "As for whether to rescue Reyes, it depends on William's own thoughts... If William decides to rescue you, go back and tell Hela. You must cooperate fully with William's actions."

"Yes." Speck nodded characteristically. "Any other orders?"

"Hela said what happened to the intelligence on the Sith Kingdom?" Cecilia thought for a while, and then asked.

"No." Spector was really helpless, because Cecilia's questions were clearly beyond his ability.

At this moment, a knock on the door outside the study suddenly sounded.

Cecilia glanced at the door, then turned all the documents in her hand into the file bag, then pushed to the edge of the table, and said: "Give it to William, it's up to him."

"Yes." Speck nodded characteristically. He got up and took the file bag, and then quickly disappeared into the shadows.

Until Spector disappeared completely. Cecilia opened his mouth to the door and said, "Come in."

The door was quickly opened, and a young woman with golden waist-length hair calmly walked in. After entering the study, she first turned and closed the door, and then walked in front of Cecilia. Put several documents in hand on the table: "Miss Cecilia, you have worked hard."

This blonde woman is Diana of the Simon family, and is now the Deputy Minister of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Void Principality.

In the revenge battle of the Void Principality against the Simon family raising the blood flag, she wisely chose to surrender and take refuge in Sean's command. After the complete destruction of the Simon family, she abandoned her surname and was willing to be an ordinary citizen of the Void Principality—but in fact, neither Sean nor Neal could let Diana go. Her talent was wasted, so she soon assumed the post of Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Void Principality.

Beside Diana, two dead men trained by the Void Dark Blade kept staring at him. This was also William's idea.

And Diana, of course, it's impossible not to know, but she really doesn't care. Because she didn't have much sense of family glory and pride for the Simon family, it was not a loss for her to join the Void Principality. Instead, it was a wise choice for her to reach the pinnacle of her life. Because the power and status she has now is even higher than what she can obtain in the Simon family.

Before Shaun left the Void Duchy, he gave Diana a noble status: Viscount. He didn't mind Diana still using the "Simon" surname, but Diana resolutely refused to use it in order to show her loyalty—she wanted to use Sean's surname, but this kind of thing was obviously impossible. Therefore, Diana has remained silent in the choice of surname.

Before Cecilia took over the foreign affairs of the Void Principality, Diana's name had already swept through the intelligence network of all the nobles who were closely following the affairs of the Void Principality like a hurricane. They have some thoughts about Diana, because this woman is not only as beautiful as a stunner, but her talents and abilities are also amazing. Many nobles want to use her as a breakthrough to intervene in the affairs of the Void Principality. The contact is extremely frequent.

And Diana is really smart.

For those who have other purposes, she is all willing to come. But after the contact, everything will be recorded by him, and everything will be handed over to William the next day. Nowadays, among the Big Three of the Void Principality, they basically acquiesced that Diana would become the fourth giant, and Cecilia also acquiesced in Diana's plan to join the Void Empire.

It's just that the title of "Deputy Minister" will not be taken off for the time being, because the Void Principality has no manpower to send to Diana to protect it.

So the Minister of Foreign Affairs who is responsible for attracting firepower outside. It was Cecilia Lembel sitting in the study of the Black Swan Castle at this moment.

"Are these new documents?" Cecilia picked up the documents that Diana had sent, and pointed to a pile of documents like a hill on the other side. "These have been reviewed and approved and some Rejected... You can sort out and understand a little bit. The explanation work will trouble you."

"I'm just running errands and talking nonsense as a vase. It's not hard." Diana smiled, her smile is very sweet, "Miss Cecilia is the real hardship....Mr. Hasas again coming."

At the last sentence, Diana's smile seemed a little narrow.

"Why is that guy here again?" Cecilia's brows frowned, her expression a little impatient, "When you look back, you find someone to write a sign that says'Dogs and Hasas are not allowed'. Then insert it in the castle. Outside the door."

"Master Cecilia. Are you kidding me?" Diana shook her head helplessly.

Although she admires Cecilia's skill in handling things, she has handled many things better than her, and even in the attitude and aspect of looking at things, there are many things that she can learn from. And such a person who is almost like a natural diplomat is actually younger than himself, which makes Diana only secretly sigh for the unfairness of God. There are indeed legends in this world who can be called geniuses.

Of course, this legendary character is indeed no different from a child in temperament sometimes.

"No, I'm serious." Cecilia tilted her head. I thought about it very carefully and seriously, and then spoke. "If he comes to propose again, then you can kick him out.... By the way, what do you think of the wooden sign saying 'dogs and suitors are not allowed to enter'?"

"Oh." Diana sighed and said helplessly, "Miss Cecilia, your identity is Lord Void, the sister of Lord Sean Connery, as long as you can marry you, you can get the whole Void. With the help of the Principality, there will naturally be many people who want to propose to you.... And, I believe, there are many depressed aristocratic young people who don't mind getting involved, because in this way, as long as Lord Sean falls unexpectedly If you do, then according to the right of inheritance, you will inherit everything in the Void Principality and become the second Grand Duke of the Void Principality."

"A bunch of whimsical trash." Cecilia curled her lips. "According to you, that Hasas is still barely a man."

"Although Mr. Hasas is not ranked high in the succession rights of his family, he is indeed a very good person himself, and he can only blame his family for the birth of too many geniuses." Dianna simply said. Explained, "Moreover, having Mr. Hassas publicly showing his love for you can prevent many unnecessary flies from turning around you. At least... there is no person with the same strength or status as Mr. Hasas, at all You are not qualified to pursue you."

"Do you think I need him to help me block those flies?" Cecilia sneered, her expression showing deep disdain, "In my opinion, Hasas is more disgusting than ordinary flies, because he buzzes. The buzzing sound is too loud and too noisy."

"Okay." Dianna sighed helplessly, "But today, Mr. Hasas really didn't come because of a marriage proposal or because he wanted to see you."

"Oh?" Cecilia raised her eyebrows, "Then what is this fly doing?"

"Mr. Hasas said there is something he wants to cooperate with us." Diana pulled out a piece of paper from the document he was holding in front of him, and put it in front of Cecilia. "I think this matter may be worth ours. Intervene. Because we can not only make huge profits from it, but also reap the friendship from the Zoanton family.... And at this point in time, Mr. Hasas asked for help, I suspect that the internal strife of the Millennium Covenant Empire should be coming to an end. , So now is the harvest time for the nobles on the Millennium Covenant Empire to grab the profits."

Hearing Diana's words, Cecilia gave her a surprised look.

As Diana's current identity, she is naturally not qualified to access the surrounding investigation intelligence of the Void Realm, because she does not need to be responsible for these. Just from the negotiations with Hasas Zoanton, we can accurately discover some dynamic intelligence of the Millennium Covenant Empire. This keen observation and analysis ability cannot be possessed by everyone. From this, it can be seen that Diana is indeed worthy of Sean's high look.

The most rare thing is that after Diana's previous negotiations with Hasas, she has already completed the risk assessment report-now she is handing the piece of paper to Cecilia. The gains and risks that Hassas can obtain when trading. Although the risk value is a bit high, this is not in line with the first consideration of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of a Principality, but combined with the current situation of the Void Principality, the gain is far more than the return required to bear the risk.

Cecilia may not care about the gains in this cooperation plan, but there is one place that has attracted Cecilia's high attention. Her fingers tapped gently on the desktop. This is a kind of thinking movement she has developed recently. Diana has assisted Cecilia for more than half a year, so she knows Cecilia's state at this time. He stood quietly aside, and did not interrupt Cecilia's thoughts.

After this moment, Cecilia's sound of tapping the desktop stopped, and then stood up: "Let's go, let's see what the big fly wants to do."

Chapter 447: . Negotiations

Black Swan Castle has been very lively in recent months.

Because the black swan reappeared on the Black Swan Lake of this ancient castle, the long-lost castle was finally restored to the ranks of the famous castles in the southern continent. For this reason, the reputation of the already famous Void Principality once again swept the entire Southern Continent, especially in the aristocratic circle of the Kingdom of Lane. Many nobles even uninvitedly wanted to visit this castle famous for viewing.

In this regard, originally Cecilia did not agree to let these unnecessary people in and out of the castle.

It's just that Diana didn't know how to persuade Cecilia, so the Black Swan Castle has now become a holy place in the Void Principality for a limited time. Of course, the inside of the castle is forbidden to visit. For this reason, the workload of the Void Shadow Guards has been forced to increase a lot-but this is also part of the strength of the Void Duchy. In addition, the movement path to the top of the castle is strictly limited. , Visitors who enter the castle must abide by this rule, otherwise they will be triggered by triggering the private property protection law of the Void Principality.

Private property protection decree, this is an important new decree issued by the Void Principality.

It clearly announced the privatization of property, that is, nobles must not maliciously occupy the property of civilians. It is seriously inconsistent with the system of "property lord ownership" issued by the lords of other territories—if it is not true that the Void Principality is not defeated, the surrounding lords want to declare war on the Void Principality, because the promulgation of this decree makes other lords' territories appear A large-scale relocation of civilians was initiated, for which Neal had to issue a new decree.

At the same time, the Void Duchy's citizenship certificate is more difficult to obtain than ever before—In Void Duchy, without the nameplate to prove your citizenship, you will not be able to enjoy the protection of Void Duchy, you can only be protected by the vagrant issued by Void Duchy. It is only protected by law. Although this behavior has effectively prevented a large number of foreign residents from moving. However, there are still many vagrants who are willing to stay in the Void Principality, trying to obtain the official status of the leader of the Void Principality.

Of course, the Void Principality has a large number of job opportunities and various favorable treatments, which are also potential factors to attract these vagrants.

Hasas Zoanton, the son of a noble family from the Millennium Covenant Empire. It's because when I came to visit the Black Swan Castle. I accidentally ran into Cecilia, who was also walking, and was shocked on the spot, so he launched a series of dating requests that he considered romantic, but Cecilia was extremely annoying. Even more than a week ago, this aristocratic child with a very good reputation has formally proposed to Cecilia.

It's just that, he thought of a handsome and romantic proposal, but Cecilia relentlessly and straightforwardly rejected it. Don't even say anything polite.

If it is a narrow-minded and powerful noble. Will definitely be so irritated and choose revenge. Even if it is an ordinary nobleman who is so rejected by the other party, most of them will lose face.

As for Hasas, it is unclear whether he is narrow-minded, but the Zoranton family behind him is indeed powerful according to William's statement. Because this is one of the few veteran aristocrats who support the new emperor of the Millennium Covenant Empire, with a heritage of more than a thousand years, the highest rank of the family has been among the princes. In the entire family history, there have been double-digit dukes, and this alone is enough to explain everything.

Now the patriarch of the Zoanton family. It's the Duke of Hamson: Purhus Zoranton. He is more than eighty years old this year. He has served as the marshal of the Millennium Covenant Empire, commanding the southern frontiers of the empire. The most popular thing is that he has resisted three outbreaks of death in the black earth, not to mention his achievements in the wild land. -Even now, Puhuus's name and his black wolf banner with a black wolf head on a green background and red border are still the nightmare of many old people in the wild.

After retiring from the position of Marshal of the Southern Xinjiang Front Army, this legendary duke entered the Millennium Covenant Empire's military headquarters with the highest decision-making power. After that, he stayed in this position for a full thirty years. Until two years ago, the internal unrest of the Millennium Covenant Empire could not be stopped, and there were even signs of intensification before the old duke was re-armored. Go into battle.

According to the investigation information of the Void Realm, this time the internal strife of the Millennium Covenant Empire was finally suppressed and stopped, and this old duke had a very strong feat. However, because of his perseverance and interception tactics, the old duke is said to have suffered a very serious injury-he has never stepped into the sanctuary state in his life, and after this injury treatment, it is said that he has regressed to the bronze state.

There are other rumors that the next patriarch of the Zoanton family will be selected from among his grandchildren. That is, the generation of Hasas, and regardless of the side branch or direct line, can participate in the election-and unlike the patriarchal elections of other families, those with excellent combat talents cannot run for the patriarch. Bit.

The selection of the heir to the patriarch of the Zuo Anton family does not test personal force, but political, military strategy, and even economic talents.

Hasas, it happens to be the one who has the right to compete among the younger generation of the Zoanton family, and his main talents are concentrated in the political and economic aspects. It's just that his inheritance right ranks third, and there is a sister and a brother above him. These three of them are called the three masters of Zoan Dun-in other words, if there is no accident, the next one The patriarch of the Zoanton family was born among these three.

For many nobles, whether or not Hassas can successfully win the position of the patriarch of the Zoanton family, he is a very ideal marriage partner. And if he is lucky enough to become the next patriarch of the Zoanton family, then unless Shaun can upgrade the void principality to an empire, even if it becomes a first-class void principality, the power possessed by Hasas Zoranton will Not necessarily much weaker than Sean.

Of course, the level of a super-class kingdom is another matter.

This is the glory and power brought by family heritage.

And this is also the same that Diana will try her best to dissuade Cecilia, so that she will not conflict and contradict Hasas because of her temper. However, the future fourth largest tycoon of the Void Principality is obviously not a kind-hearted person. She is also making arrangements in private. If Cecilia and Hasas are really quarreling, then she will It must be ensured that this man of heaven will never be able to return to the Millennium Covenant.

The traffic of Black Swan Castle has been increasing day by day recently.

Many of them are regular visitors who have been here several times-although the daily opening hours of the Black Swan Castle are only four hours from 2 pm to 6 pm. But every time, some food is carefully prepared. Of course, the visit to the Black Swan Castle is not free, but the nobles who can travel thousands of miles here will naturally not lack this little money, so it is naturally also very good to prepare exquisite food for these nobles. Necessary.

So far, the Black Swan Castle has not held any dinner or banquet. Nobles who had come here made suggestions to Cecilia. But Cecilia declined with a smile.

If Hasas hadn't been blocked by this fly, there might be many people who would really express their love to Cecilia.

This can be seen from the time Cecilia walked out of the study to the conference room-she had to walk through a public staircase to the Black Swan Castle, so she also spent almost 20 minutes smiling with many people Say hello, and then finally be able to successfully escape from this  that made her feel impatient.

"I think the castle must be rebuilt. We are going to build a new staircase. External!" Cecilia whispered.

"I feel that if Lord Sean comes back, I'm afraid there won't be so many people coming to visit." Diana replied with a smile, "Maybe, if Lord Sean finds it too noisy and troublesome, it will be closed. The current visit day."

"If it's Sean, it's really possible." Cecilia thought for a while, then smiled. The impatience on his face quickly disappeared, "However. You must have a way to persuade him, just like you persuaded me in the first place."

Seeing Cecilia's sincere and sweet smile, Diana smiled, and then said, "I don't dare... Master Shaun doesn't care about these superficial images. I don't dare to make any rebuttals about what he decides. Opinion. Only Master Cecilia can you dare to say these things in front of Master Sean."

"You are wrong about this." Cecilia said seriously, "Sean is not the kind of unreasonable person.... However, he really hates trouble. Although you have been in the Void Duchy for a while. It's more than a year, but you haven't been in contact with Sean a few times, so it's normal not to know him. You'll know when you have the opportunity to work together in the future. He is probably the lord who is the least like a lord in the world."

Dianna just kept smiling and did not answer the conversation.

She knew that Cecilia couldn't understand how terrible Shaun was in her mind. Because the first time she met with Sean, she had been severely shocked by Sean, I am afraid that she would never forget the feeling of fear and suffocation that made her feel. As long as she is in front of Sean, she feels as if she is naked, and everything will be thoroughly seen through. This is also one of the main reasons why she never thought of betrayal after taking refuge in Sean.

Soon, Cecilia and Diana came to the door of the conference room while talking and laughing.

Maybe used to casually in the Black Swan Castle, so Cecilia pushed the door of the conference room open without even thinking about it, and stepped in.

"Oh, my dear Miss Cecilia, your smile today is like the light from the brightest pearl in the world." A pleasant male voice suddenly sounded with a little exclamation, "In you In front of him, even Tiffany Pearl was overshadowed by it."

Hearing this sound, Cecilia's face turned black in an instant, and her smile disappeared completely: "Who is your dear? We are not so familiar with each other."

It is Cecilia's number one suitor, Hasas Zoe, who can say these words of praise so naturally. He has brown hair, blue eyes, and handsome facial features. He is a rare beautiful man, especially the clothes on his body are obviously tailored by the hands of a famous teacher. This kind of elite temperament is unparalleled.

At this moment, he was showing a sad look, looking at Cecilia, and then said: "Oh, we have all met so many times, and even have eaten several meals together. Isn't this still familiar? ?"

"It doesn't count." Cecilia said mercilessly, "And in the future, I won't dine with you anymore. You have to die."

is probably already used to the conversation between Cecilia and Hasas, so Diana just showed a helpless wry smile, and didn't interrupt to say anything. As for the several guards brought by Hasas, they would not even interrupt in this way. Because they serve the family knights of Hasas Zoanton, even Hasas did not speak, and of course they would not be boring.

"Oh, beautiful Cecilia, I am to you..."

"I came here when I heard that you have something to discuss with me. If it's still such nonsense. Then I don't have time to waste here." Cecilia interrupted this mercilessly in her opinion. It was obviously nonsense from a person with a "brain hole", and he said indifferently, "Dianna, I must remind me to make a sign when I look back. The suitor and the dog are not allowed inside! I want to put it outside the castle!"

The bitter smile on Diana's face was even more obvious. In the study, she might still be able to discuss something with Cecilia gag. But now in this conference room, especially in front of the person who was listed by Cecilia as one of the three greats of Zoanton. Of course she would not speak so ignorantly. Because Cecilia said it would be fine. But if she also followed up, she might become the target of revenge for this noble child.

"Okay, okay." Hasas' expression looked extremely sad and disappointed, and he said helplessly, "Then, let's talk about business."

Cecilia then sat down on the side of the meeting room, Diana quickly closed the door of the meeting room, and several void shadow guards stepped forward quickly. Guarded in front of the room.

"Let's talk about the project you want to cooperate with Void Duchy." Cecilia said lightly. Although she has read the summary information sent by Diana and knows what Hassas wants to cooperate with, she knows that she can't talk about this kind of thing first, otherwise she will fall into a disadvantage. middle.

Hassas glanced at Diana from the corner of his eyes, but saw her look calm and normal. He sighed slightly in his heart, and then quickly reduced his expression and turned to a serious look. He cleared his throat, and then said: "I think Miss Cecilia should know the current situation of my family, the Zoanton family?"

Hasas, who has converged his courtship mentality, does possess an unparalleled elite temperament and charm. When talking about official affairs, he looked serious and solemn, and his words were clearly organized, and even contained a lot of tentative confrontational words. It can be said that Hasas at this moment is the third pick of the Zoanton family. The true gesture of the heir, not the romantic man Cecilia saw during this period of time.

However, Hasas is testing Cecilia's intelligence, and Cecilia is not evaluating Hasas.

The intelligence between the two parties is not equal to each other, and it can even be said to be incomplete. Therefore, mutual evaluation, review, and testing are all very normal diplomatic methods. It's just that Hasas is accustomed to strong offensives, so he spied on Cecilia's Zoanton family intelligence now, which feels a bit aggressive. Of course, Cecilia was not a fledgling newbie, her expression remained calm and indifferent from beginning to end.

is the same as the previous attitude towards the proposal of Hasas.

"Slightly heard." Cecilia said softly.

The content of the discourse is not much, only four words, but the derivative content that can be guessed is extremely wide. Of course, this also tests the interlocutor's thinking ability and shrewdness, because different people will naturally have different understanding of these four words. Some people think it is bluffing, some people think that this is also an intelligence spying strategy, and some people think it is a humble statement.

But Hasas knew that Cecilia's statement was not humility or bluffing, but an attitude.

Not blindly, nor conceited, but sincerely express one's position.

"If I hadn't thought about competition, then I'm afraid I don't even believe in this kind of thing." Hasas gave a wry smile.

However, Cecilia remained indifferent, but quietly waited for the following of Hasas.

This attitude and reaction caused Hasas to make a helpless move of reaching out to stroke his forehead—but people who are familiar with Hasas' temperament and behavior know that this is a small gesture that Hasas will only appear when things are tricky. He was observing his opponent with the stroke of his forehead, thinking about the rhythm and content of the next negotiations, and at the same time, he could conceal some of the expressions in his eyes.

"This time, I met a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity." Soon, Hasas decided on the next negotiation strategy, because he found that Cecilia had given him enough hints, if he is not good. If you are sure, then this negotiation will probably end in failure. "As everyone knows, the empire fell into a political civil unrest before the millennium. This war has been going on for a long time, and it wasn't until a few days ago that the war finally entered. It's the end.... It's just that the rebel party is still stubbornly resisting, so the final clean-up action did not go smoothly. Of course, no matter whether it goes smoothly or not, the final victory is only a matter of time."

"I have received news before that the Resistance Party has a group of secret support. It is entering the empire from the savage land, and the marching path has been found out." Hasas saw Cecilia signaling him to continue, so he continued to speak. Said, "But what is helpless is that I am not good at military strategy and tactics, and my subordinates do not have enough troops...or in other words, my subordinates simply don't have any troops capable of fighting fortified battles."

"So you mean, you want to borrow someone from me?" Cecilia finally said.

"Yes." Hasas did not deny, "I have heard that Archduke Void has three ace armies. The lion of thunder is the best at attacking tough battles, the steel wings best at defensive battles, and belongs to Cecilia. Your Royal Highness, your guards who claim to be able to meet all tactical requirements....I don't expect to be able to invite Commander William to take charge of this opportunity, but as long as you can invite the Thunder Lion or your Royal Guards, it will be enough. "

"This appetite is not small." Cecilia let out a chuckle. Although there is no meaning of sarcasm or contempt, the meaning in the words is very obvious: Where is your bargaining chip?

"I will give you half of all the supplies of that secret army." Hasas said in a deep voice without even thinking about it. Obviously, he has already thought about the reward, "Moreover, you can choose first. There is no limit on the quota... According to my information, this batch of materials is enough to allow the rebels in the southern part of the empire to persist for more than half a year, so the material reserves are extremely abundant."

"But if this attack plan is successful, your gains will not be small." Cecilia smiled, her voice very soft, but the content of the words made Hasas a little dull, "At least, your future He is destined to become the Patriarch of the Zoanton family.... But in turn, it is our Void Principality who endures enemies. In general, our losses are far greater than this gain. So if it is only this kind of reward, then please forgive me. Rejected."

Chapter 448: Hasas Zoanton

Hassas's brows were always frowning.

He looked at Cecilia's gaze very calmly. Even though he had some appreciation before, and then turned into admiration because of his appreciation, at this moment, the two sides at the negotiating table have completely different identities and positions, so it is naturally impossible to Some slack. Basically, the children of elite aristocrats from a large family like Hasas is absolutely impossible to cede a large margin because he loves the other party. Even if he likes Cecilia, his first principle must be ensured. I can reap the core benefits.

Of course, this does not prevent him from admiring Cecilia's talents and abilities very much.

Especially at this time, the more calm Hasas is, the more he can see Cecilia's potential and talent.

In the Zoanton family, people with fighting talents will not be included in the evaluation of the family heirs. The only thing they need to consider is continuous practice to hit the legendary realm at the fastest speed. Because in the Millennium Covenant Empire, the powerful and powerful nobles are not limited to the Zuandun family. Even if they are now completely shuffled due to the civil strife, the old nobles like "survivors" have truly powerful backgrounds and strength-if you say , If the family itself can be regarded as the realm of strength, then these families must at least be close to the super power level.

The Zoanton family can stand for thousands of years in the Thousand-Year Covenant Empire. The * and cruel battles here are naturally indispensable. It can be said that even under the leadership of the new emperor, there are still many emerging nobles and many survivors and old nobles. It is the enemy of the Zoanton family.

This kind of enemy is not simply a political enemy. Many of them are enemies of interest. What's more, it is the family that was once used as a stepping stone by the Zoanton family, but some families have fallen and perished, some families have become loyal dogs of other powerful families, and even more families are experiencing After various ups and downs, it rises like a comet in an instant.

so. In order to ensure that the Zoanton family can continue to prosper, the family motto of the Zoanton family clearly stated that geniuses with fighting talents are not allowed to participate in the family's internal affairs. In the same way, those members of the Zoanton family who have no fighting talents but have other talents must provide all guarantees to these geniuses after taking charge of the family. So that their path of cultivation can be smooth. Become the guardian of the Zoanton family.

Hasas, from an early age, has shown an excellent political sense and overall economic outlook. But unfortunately, he was unable to practice martial arts due to his weakness, and his magic talent was even zero. Because of this, he will become one of the candidates for the future successor of the Zoanton family, and even more because of this, so he learned about Cecilia's situation. I will appreciate her more and more.

Cecilia not only possesses the same excellent political sense and judgment as him. She also possesses very good diplomatic methods. Although she is inferior to him in terms of the overall economic and trade construction, she relatively possesses military and strategic capabilities that Hasas does not possess. And more importantly, Cecilia is still a strong man in the sanctuary-she can still step into the sanctuary even when she has a lot of government affairs. This talent is no longer a simple "genius". can explain.

According to the intelligence of the Zoanton family, if Cecilia does not fall due to an accident in the future, stepping into the legend is definitely a sure thing. As for the level of impact on the super power. No one dared to make any assessments and predictions.

It can be said that Cecilia has the talent and ability. Enough to make anyone envy.

This is also the real reason why Hasas can stay in the Void Duchy to pursue an offensive against Cecilia, while the Zoanton family has no intention of interfering. As long as Hasas can marry Cecilia, before his brother can find someone who is more talented and talented than Cecilia, he will be the first heir to the Zoanton family. . As for his sister, unless she gave up her candidate status as the successor of the Zoanton family, she would not be able to marry—the Zoanton family never let the position of the patriarch fall into the hands of other bloodliners.

But it was different from what the Zoanton family expected.

Hassas himself is very clear, how can Cecilia, who possesses such an outstanding talent and talent, be willing to accept others. He originally thought that the marriage should be regarded as a strong alliance, and Cecilia had no reason to refuse it. After all, the structure of the Void Principality was too small. In terms of Cecilia's future potential, it was impossible to continue to stay in this Principality. Unless the Void Principality intends to continue to be upgraded to an empire.

But this idea was quickly overthrown by Hasas.

Void Duchy wants to be upgraded to an empire, not to mention whether the Millennium Covenant Empire will agree, but the Chenas Empire, which is only two neighbors from Void Duchy, will definitely be the first to stand up and oppose it. The reason is very simple. If the borders between the two empires are too close, the small country next to it will become a buffer zone between the two countries, and it will be the object of both parties to fight for. In this way, the interests of the empire will be fundamentally affected. Shock.

Given the strength of the Zenus Empire over the years, Hassas does not believe that the Zenus Empire will allow the Void Duchy to rise to an empire in a leisurely manner.

Unless, the military * is dead.

But when he wanted to kill the miracle army god, Hassas laughed when he thought of this at the time.

It's just that, with the contact these days, Hasas discovered that Cecilia really didn't take her identity and status into consideration. She can communicate with herself, but this premise is based on a certain interest relationship. In addition, Hasas can see that Cecilia doesn't want to have any contact with herself at all. Especially after he showed his love, Cecilia was not even willing to maintain the exchange of interests. Recently, Diana has always been in charge.

And today's meeting is also the last fight that Hasas is making.

He knew that what he was plotting was too big for Diana to be the master.

And why is this not a kind of compromise from him?

It's just that Hasas found that he underestimated Cecilia too much after all—or, he did not expect that Cecilia's will would be so firm, and he also possessed an amazing acumen in evaluating the value of benefits. And accuracy.

Judging from the current results, if he no longer makes compromises, then this negotiation will probably end in failure.

Hasas has been watching Cecilia, trying to find some emotional details in her facial expressions. But the result still disappointed him. Because Cecilia's face did not change the slightest from beginning to end, Hasas had no way of judging Cecilia's thoughts at this time, and he did not dare to gamble.

He can become the third heir to the Zoanton family because of his complete control of the situation. Even if it is to give up some benefits and pay the price. He also wants to keep the situation firmly in his own hands, and will never allow any mistakes. Of course, because he has always been cautious, so far he has not left any handle, let alone put himself into any dangerous situation.

sighed lightly, Hashas smiled bitterly and said, "I lost it."

Cecilia kept a calm and indifferent look, and finally raised the corners of her mouth slightly. A smile appeared. Hasas saw Cecilia who was smiling. There was such a momentary loss of consciousness, and even an impulse to take Cecilia as his own recklessly appeared in my mind, but soon this kind of  was quickly extinguished by Hasas himself. , A lonely wry smile appeared on his face naturally.

"Mr. Hasas will not regret today's decision." Cecilia said softly, as if she hadn't seen the moment of loss of Hasas at all, "Then...the details will be discussed later. Mainly. For the question of direction, let's negotiate directly while both of us are here."

"Yes." Hasas constricted his mind. Then he said in a deep voice, "In addition to what I said before. I don't know what else the Void Principality requires."

"There are two more requests. If you can agree to it, then we will not be rude." Cecilia pretended to think for a while, and then pretended to communicate with Diana in a low voice, actually just acting.

"Please speak." Hasas nodded.

"I heard that your grandfather once had three battles with the undead in the black soil of southern Xinjiang, and he also sorted these three times into relevant battle report data. All members of your Zoanton family can read it at will. I don't know if it's true?" Cecilia asked.

Hassas was a little confused and didn't know the meaning of Cecilia's words, but he nodded: "It's true."

"I need these information." Cecilia paused for a moment, then said, "Complete and detailed, including the topographic map of the black soil and the information about the undead that have appeared. Basically about this black soil. I want all the information in the land.... Please don't get me wrong, this is my private thought, it has nothing to do with the Principality of Void, it is just a use of my fake public for personal gain, after all, I don't want to make the void because of my personal behavior. The intelligence personnel of the Principality were sacrificed for this."

"If it's Miss Cecilia's personal request, then I can give it to you on my own terms, and it doesn't need to be a transaction condition." Although Hasas retained considerable thoughts regarding Cecilia's statement, But he will not say anything about it.

"It's not the same." Cecilia shook her head. "I know very well that if it is a personal gift from you, there will be no detailed battle report data and terrain survey maps of the Black Earth, at most some are in that piece of information. The information on the undead found in the black soil is nothing more than... But what I want is all the data in the black soil. This is probably only after you become the Patriarch of the Zoanton family, you have the qualification and ability to send the data to Me."

"Although I don't want to admit it, but...I understand." Zoanton is a smart man, he immediately paid attention to what Cecilia meant, so he did not continue to say anything brave, but agreed. This trading condition.

Of course, this is actually a good thing for him. After all, this intelligence data is not classified as confidential. The only topographic map that is classified as confidential is probably the topographic map, but if the Void Principality is willing to sacrifice manpower as the premise, it would be true. Able to survey a topographic map. With this as a trading condition, Hassas actually took advantage, but the more so, the more Hassas would guess what Cecilia wanted to do, because in his cognition, Cecilia Not like such a foolish person.

"So, what about the second condition?" Hasas asked.

"I hope that Mr. Hasas can, as the Patriarch of Zoanton, sign a ten-year trade contract with the Void Principality." Cecilia said, "I think Mr. Hasas should also be aware that now he dares to make peace. There are almost no chambers of commerce in the Principality of the Void. Even some lords have given up trading with our Principality for various reasons, so I need a stable and normal trade that will not be affected. Trade route."

Hasas did not reply immediately, but let the knuckles of his right hand tap the tabletop, which was a subconscious action when he was thinking about a problem.

Dianna glanced. But he quickly retracted his sight. She found that many people have this kind of subconscious thinking action. William has it, Hela has it, Cecilia has it, and Neil has it, and now she sees it in Hasas, she has some doubts whether the guys with higher IQs will have this kind of subconscious percussion on the desktop. Look for a sense of rhythm to stimulate the movement of your mind.

"Yes." Soon, Hasas made a decision. "This is a win-win situation. I didn't have any losses.... But I have an idea on this proposal. I hope Miss Cecilia can also listen to my opinion."

"Please speak." Cecilia said.

"I heard that the Void Principality has several very good alchemists. This allows you to guarantee that one or several pieces of bronze enchanted equipment are produced every month, and sometimes there are even silver enchanted equipment, and the quality has always been high." Hasas opened his mouth and said, "I hope that while we are trading, I will be able to allow me to purchase magic equipment at a discount of 20% lower than the market price. Of course, in return. I will also provide lower prices for the Void Principality. 30% of the market price."

A discount of 20% lower than the market price, this sounds like a loss for the Void Principality.

Because the market for magic equipment has a very large profit margin. In particular, no one can guarantee a shipment of magic equipment at all, basically it is only two or three times before it is possible to forge a magic equipment. Therefore, the calculation of costs, labor, sales channels and many other expenses is the real reason for the high price of magic equipment. Even though the trade of magical equipment during the honeymoon period between the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce and the Void Principality has been controlled by hunger sales, it still has a shocking impact on the entire Southern Continent's magical equipment market to a certain extent.

However, Cecilia, who knows the assembly line forging process of the Void Principality Armory, knows very well that Void Principality has far fewer problems in making magic weapons.

If Hassas can stably provide the Void Principality with various materials and materials that are 30% lower than the market price, this will definitely benefit the Void Principality without any harm.

In this regard, Cecilia almost didn't need to think, and agreed to Hassas's proposal.

It can be said that this time the negotiation between the two parties is a perfect end.

As for the subsequent detailed exchanges, that is about Hasas and Diana, and Cecilia will only make the final decision.

Before leaving, Hasas finally couldn't help but ask Cecilia about the most critical purpose of the transaction: "I don't know, which army will Cecilia send to support this operation? "

"On the details of the march, Your Excellency William will be fully responsible, so I can't guarantee which legion will be dispatched." Cecilia smiled, "But if I can promise, there will definitely be actions this time. Two or more elite legions are dispatched, so you can rest assured about this.... As I said, I will never let you down. You will find that this sale is definitely worth the money."

"Indeed." Hassas was taken aback for a moment, and then smiled bitterly. He already understood it at this time. Even without the additional conditions behind, Cecilia will agree to his action, but there will be no such a luxurious lineup. It is probably the dispatch of a legion, and it does not necessarily guarantee the success of the action. Of course, Hasas didn't feel deceived, but as Cecilia said, he was full of confidence and expectation for this action.

After Hasas left, Cecilia exhaled slightly, and then rubbed the slightly tired eyebrows: "Notify William, tell him about the content of the negotiation, and let him and Reina set off to the castle immediately. Here....In addition, send a letter to Hela, asking her and Harding to return immediately. The Void Principality needs her to sit here, and at the same time ask Harding to come to the castle to report. By the way, give Ruby and Xuefanio also An order was sent to tell Ruby to conduct a more concealed investigation. If necessary, the investigation can even be suspended temporarily and tell Xuefanio that the Void City needs her to protect Hela."

Listening to a series of orders from Cecilia. Diana looked horrified.

Nowadays, the representatives of the top combat power of the Void Principality are Noro, Rena, and Xuefanio. The second step is Harding, Rorty Kabas and Cecilia herself. However, currently Noro and Rotti Kabas are not in the Void Principality. Among the remaining four, Cecilia sits in the Black Swan Castle, and Rena sits in the Void City and protects William. Harding is responsible for protecting Hela from going to the Wild Federation to implement the Nether Empire plan. And Xuefanio and Ruby went deep into the Kingdom of Fascism to prevent a possible attack by the mist spirit.

But now, except for Noro and Rorty Kabas, who are temporarily unable to contact, Rena and Harding have been dispatched back, and depending on the situation, Xuefanio will definitely be involved in this action. With the combination of the three sanctuary powerhouses, Diana absolutely does not believe that this lineup is just for this action. Therefore, when she negotiated with Hasas before, she had a certain degree of secretly returning to the territory of the Millennium Covenant Empire. Understanding.

It can be said. As long as any one of the three elite troops of the Void Principality is dispatched. Adding a Rena is definitely enough. How could it be necessary for William to take action personally, and even dispatch three sanctuary powerhouses and two elite troops.

But since Cecilia gave the order herself, Diana could only send the order immediately even if she was shocked.

.....

On the other hand, Hasas, who had left the Black Swan Castle, did not know the series of orders Cecilia was issuing at this time.

He only knows that if there is no other external force to interfere with the plan this time, the future Patriarch of the Zoan Dun family must be him. If there is any regret, it is probably that Cecilia is destined not to be his woman-he has already seen that Cecilia really does not have any good feelings for him, this is something that will never belong to him Woman. It is better to be a community of interests instead of continuing to entangle yourself in a situation where you will end up just taking the humiliation or even turning your face.

At this point. Hasas is indeed a person who can afford to let go.

"Master Hasas, we are not the only ones who receive information, your brother..." A knight of the Zoanton family who belongs to the mother of Hasas reminded in a deep voice.

He is slightly older than the other knights accompanying him, but these are just his appearances. This family knight also has another identity, that is, the uncle of Hasas. However, in his mother's family, his uncle is an illegitimate child, so he is not treated much. It can be said that if it weren't for Hasas' mother, his uncle would have died long ago.

So, Moro is really grateful for the mother of Hasas who brought herself to the Zoanton family and gave him all the opportunities to practice.

Because of gratitude, Moro is not like Hasas' uncle at all.

Of course, in terms of strength, Moro is indeed very good, and it is now a high-level sanctuary. On the Southern Continent, this strength, except in some large foreign countries, is basically a rank that really can be regarded as walking sideways. But I don't know why, the feeling that Void Principality gave to Moro was very dangerous, especially Rina, who had a relationship with one side, felt extremely dangerous to Moro, so he did not presume in Void Principality.

"I know." Hasas sighed, "I can only hope that William of the Void Duchy is really as godly as the rumors, and even the * of war praised him."

"If you can really marry Miss Cecilia..." Moro frowned, then said in a low voice, "Although the Void Principality feels very strange to me, it also makes me realize the danger, but if you're more careful, I'm still sure to stun Cecilia and bring it out, as long as..."

Before Moro could finish speaking, Hasas raised his hand to stop: "Then what? As long as I dare to use strong against Cecilia, then I can only kill her, because a woman like her recovers sober. I will definitely kill me as soon as I am in action.... And I only have to kill Cecilia, huh... The blood flag of the Void Principality before revenge, I think you should know about it, uncle."

"I'm the one who made a mistake." Moro said in a low voice with a look of shame, without any pretensions to be an elder.

"I know Uncle doesn't want to see me so lost." Hasas shook his head, and then his face returned to smile, "I admire her, so I like her from the heart.... But I also belong to For my mission and family glory, I don't need to do it. It's good as it is now. I can draw on Cecilia's power. As long as I have a choice, I will never stand against her. "

Having said that, Hasas stretched his waist and showed a vigorous and confident smile: "It's a pity that I didn't see the legendary Grand Duke of the Void at the wrong time. His sister is already so good, and he follows Every one of them possesses enviable talents and talents. Even if the Grand Duke is not in the Principality, the operation of the Principality is in order, and no one wants to rebel and seize power. I really want to see it. See, what kind of talent can gather so many geniuses around."

"Master Hasas, you are no worse than him." Moro said.

"It's different." Hasas shook his head, "He... is much better than me."

Chapter 449: . Journey

"Ahee!"

Sun suddenly sneezed into a big sneeze, and slightly surprised the people next to him.

He reached out and rubbed his nose, and whispered, "I'm sorry."

"It is said that someone is cursing you with just one sneeze." Andrew on the side looked at Sean, and then smiled.

"Nonsense." Sean didn't believe in this strange "Earth Theory".

Andrew let out a hearty laugh, and did not say anything, he enjoyed this rare leisure time.

Since the matter of the God of War church was handled, Andrew originally wanted to take Shaun directly to the floating library. But Shaun wanted to go back to the Void Duchy. Of course, if he could, he also wanted to take Cecilia to the floating library, so Andrew had to accompany Sean back to the Void Duchy.

So the people who returned to the Void Duchy together were Sean, Andrew, Beth, Enkos, and Kozilek. Levi, however, was not suitable to use the teleportation formation because of his physical discomfort, so he temporarily stayed in the God of War church to recuperate, with Alyssa by his side.

The Magic Teleportation Array is the greatest invention of this era on the Marvel Continent. Because of its appearance, the entire short-distance trip on the Marvel Continent has become extremely safe and stable. Although the cost of using the magic teleportation array is a bit expensive, ordinary civilians can still afford a short-distance trip with a frugal one year— -This is much cheaper than the cost of hiring a group of mercenaries for protection.

Of course, the emergence of the teleportation magic circle still cannot solve the problem of trade routes. Although small trades within short distances can be acted through the teleportation array, the magic teleportation array cannot be used continuously, especially the long-distance teleportation, which is also harmful to the body. Therefore, with the emergence of the teleportation magic circle, the work of the doctor industry has become popular, especially the apprentice pharmacist and the trainee doctor, which quickly became one of the most popular and promising professions.

Speaking. I don't know whether to say that Sean and the others have too good luck or bad luck.

On the way back to the Void Duchy, because Tonys Fortress did not set up a magic teleportation array, it is said that the Kingdom of Lane was considering the security of the fortress, so Sean and others could only purchase mounts to return. Therefore, the return journey will take about two more weeks. And in this more than a week. Shaun passed through many villages and towns in the Kingdom of Lane, and he also saw the Kingdom of Lane, which was now showing its prosperity.

I don't know if I really have luck.

But after the Principality of Lane successfully annexed the Kingdom of Darbion and became a kingdom, the overall level and strength of the entire country have risen to a great level. In the past, it would be good if the family background level of the Principality of Ryan could have a middle-ranked sanctuary strong, and even the golden realm strong in the country is extremely rare. But now, there are obviously many golden powerhouses in the Kingdom of Lane, and on the way, Sean also encountered a powerhouse from the lower sanctuary.

The two sides just had a face-to-face encounter. However, it can be seen that the other party is showing a cautious appearance as if he is facing an enemy. Probably because of the posture of this sanctuary powerhouse. Therefore, Xiao En and others didn't encounter any inconspicuous things in that small town to make trouble.

It's just Sean who is inexplicable, and has a subtle sense of uneasiness towards the Kingdom of Lane.

Because of the speed of expansion of the power of this country, it is too fast.

This is like a poor family who suddenly gained a lot of wealth and became a nouveau riche. His temperament and heritage have not been thoroughly nurtured and accumulated, and the whole person will therefore exude a kind of arrogant and domineering aura. Perhaps it was not the case at the beginning of the Kingdom of Line. She would try to restrain this momentum, but the many nobles in the Kingdom of Line had no brains. Especially once the strength is over-expanded, they will always find ways to show off.

This kind of show off. It is an extremely dangerous behavior.

So along the way, Xiao En and others maintained an almost low-key attitude, and quickly passed the Tonis Fortress and entered the territory of the Void Duchy.

Only in the territory of the principality, Sean's spirit has been significantly relaxed.

At this time, Sean, Andrew and others were on their way to the Black Swan Castle. In addition to Kozilek and Sean riding on the same horse, Andrew, Beth, and Enkos are all riding a horse-Sean suppresses it, and the mount under the crotch is okay. Andrew also has the ability to communicate with creatures. It didn't take much effort, but the mounts of Beth and Enkos had been trembling, abruptly slowing down everyone's progress.

In Xiao En's view, they would have arrived at the Black Swan Castle a long time ago if they did not ride their mounts, but just let go of their speed and sprint with all their strength.

It's just that Andrew really wants to experience this kind of "outing"-like journey, so everyone will buy so few ponies that are known for their endurance.

Encos, who was slightly behind Sean and Andrew, drove his horse and tried to get close to the bass-but Enkos's mount was not very cooperative, so the old horse made a loud noise, basically as long as he was not deaf, he could hear it. Enkos was tossing his mount again. Of course, everyone pretended not to notice it so much. Only Beth glanced at Enkos from the corner of his eye, not knowing what this guy wanted to do.

finally approached the bass, Enkos whispered: "Hey, bass."

"What are you doing." Beth replied lazily, his voice was at a normal volume, neither loud nor small.

"Want to die! Be quiet!" Enkos yelled angrily, of course in a whisper-like voice, but the weakest of the people present was also the lower sanctuary. This voice was actually true to them. There is no difference in the volume of normal speech.

Beth really didn't want to talk to Enkos, but couldn't bear Enkos's endless yelling to himself, the voice sounded like it was urging the soul. Even Beth, the undead king, can't stand it, not to mention the two of Sean and Andrew who are slightly forward. Especially if Andrew wants to know what Enkos wants to do out of curiosity, he wants to turn his head back. How Enkos told him to shut up.

As for Sean, he is the weakest in the field and he is the least familiar with Enkos, so he had to bear with him.

And Kozilek?

In front of Enkos and Beth, this guy is so well-behaved that he really looks like a child.

"What are you doing." Beth replied feebly. He really wanted to say that he didn't know Enkos.

"Can you sneeze?" Enkos asked.

"Huh?" Beth obviously had a momentary crash in his brain. It was completely unrecognized that Enkos was wrong.

"It seems that you won't be anymore." Enkos nodded slightly, his face looked a little disappointed, "Why doesn't anyone curse you for a guy like you? No reason, I know no one will curse. I'm normal. But I curse you every day. Why haven't I seen you sneeze? Hmm..."

Beth looked at Enkos, wanting to make out what this guy was just talking about cold jokes, right? But seeing that Enkos was really serious about showing the appearance of thinking, Beth felt that he was still too young and actually tried to guess the thinking of this idiot.

"Enkos is... a demon, right?" Sean asked Andrew in a low voice.

Andrew also showed a helpless look, and said to Sean, "I made you laugh."

Demons and undead, it is very normal not to sneeze, if you sneeze. Then it is something that is worthy of surprise. certainly. That kind of deliberate behavior is not counted. On the other hand, Andrew, although he still sneezes occasionally in his physical state, this kind of thing is very rare- mainly if Andrew can sneeze, then the consequences are really terrible.

Enkos is still thinking about something.

"I never sneeze once, but when I sneeze, I will sneeze twice in a row." Listening to Enkos's muttering, Beth said directly, too annoyed.

"Two sneezes, what do you mean?" Enkos asked curiously.

"Go ask Sean." Beth said with a smile on his face. He knew that Andrew would definitely not tell Enkos, so he had to change the target. "he knows."

Enkos glanced suspiciously at Beth, then turned his head and thought about it, he should go to Sean immediately.

Although the conversation between Beth and Enkos lowered their voices, this approach is completely the same as that of stealing the ears and stealing the bell. Both Sean and Andrew heard clearly, but Sean was a little curious about how Beth knew the meaning of sneezing twice. He looked at Andrew suspiciously, but he didn't want to recall it at all. Looks like, so I can only put this problem in my stomach.

"Mr. Beth... isn't it an undead?" Sean looked at Andrew who pretended to be deep, and asked softly.

Andrew didn't want to speak anymore. He felt that letting these two idiots out was simply the stupidest thing he had done in his life. He was already considering putting these two men back in the coffin. Watching Enkos approaching Sean quickly, Andrew glanced at Enkos coldly, the warning in his eyes was very obvious, which made Enkos smirk a few times, and then backed away cautiously.

After that, Andrew's gaze turned to Beth again, and Beth stared at the front pretendingly, without squinting.

Andrew stared at these two guys who were barely safe for several seconds, then finally turned his head and smiled at Sean: “Well, it’s okay.”

Sean nodded slightly, the murderous aura from Andrew just now almost stopped his heart beating. This was also the first time Sean saw Andrew showing such a murderous aura. You must know that even when he was dealing with Marz in the Northern Continent, Andrew looked calm and calm, but he had never shown such a might.

The group of five people quickly left the grassland and entered the main road outside the Black Swan Castle Pass.

Because of the Black Swan Castle, Sean’s purpose for winning this place was a bit impure, and the castle was not a defensive castle, so there was only one official road from the Black Swan Castle to the Void City. The so-called official road refers to the flat moving path where the government regularly maintains the road. The first priority is to facilitate the walking of carriages, trucks, and horses, and there are certain guarantees for safety.

From the Black Swan Castle to the Void City, it takes about five days at the fastest.

In a sense, the Black Swan Castle is a lonely castle. If you encounter a surprise attack, this castle that is not known for defense is difficult to defend. It is precisely because of this that William has specially trained an all-around elite guard for the Black Swan Castle. Almost everyone has a very strong fighting standard, especially under the combined killing technique of the army. . The combat effectiveness has increased exponentially.

However, because Sean and others traverse the black reef grassland, the direction and destination of their movement are highly selective.

When everyone crossed the grassland and entered the official road, they had already arrived at the foot of the Angroda mountain range where the Black Swan Castle was located.

Originally set off from the foot of the mountain, and when it arrived at the halfway point, it was the Black Swan Castle.

But when Xiao En and others came to the foot of the mountain, Xiao En looked at the scenery in front of him with an incredible expression.

A small town of considerable scale. It was just presented in front of Sean.

The facilities in this town are basically complete. These include stables, taverns, hotels, markets and other living facilities, and even military facilities such as walls, outposts, and barracks. From this point of view, it can be seen that this small town is not simply an ordinary village, but can be regarded as a village where the military and civilians live together. According to the general control law, such a small town is mostly under military control. Most of those living in small towns are military family members.

But what Shaun and others saw. The whole town is permeated with a lively atmosphere. You can see people walking in luxurious and expensive clothes everywhere. These people are obviously nobles, and how can there be no followers around the nobles? Only in the flow of people that Sean saw, you can find a dozen strong people who are all at the top of the golden peak. These people are obviously already preparing. Assault the sanctuary.

What's more, Xiao En also saw several low-level sanctuary powerhouses with hidden aura.

This discovery, but Sean was really shocked.

At the foot of the mountain closest to the Black Swan Castle, there are actually close to double-digit lower sanctuary powerhouses. What is going on?

"You don't know the situation?" Andrew glanced at Sean. Looking at Sean's expression, he knew that he didn't know anything about this small town.

"When I left about a year ago. There are no villages and towns here." Xiao En said in a deep voice, but he continued on the road soon, and Andrew and others immediately followed. Everyone quickly traversed the entire town, and then began to face. Walked to the Black Swan Castle halfway up the mountain.

At this time, I just met some people coming down the mountain.

From the perspective of clothing, these people are also nobles and followers responsible for protecting them. However, the strength of the followers is not strong, but the strength of one of them has attracted the attention of Xiao En and others. This person is actually a strong man in the upper sanctuary, compared to the lower ones in the small towns at the foot of the mountain. The sanctuary powerhouse is much stronger, and the two sides are not at the same level.

Sean was able to spot this sanctuary powerhouse, and of course the opponent could also spot Xiao En and others.

It's just that besides Sean, Andrew, Kozilek, Beth, Enkos and other four people, the other party can not see the strength-or that, did not feel any fluctuations in strength at all. Usually this situation is either that the strength is too much beyond its own to be completely undetectable, or it is a genuine ordinary person. However, in the eyes of this high-ranking sanctuary powerhouse, the four people who followed Xiao En were just ordinary people.

On the Southern Continent, the strength of his upper sanctuary is already very good. If he is stronger than him, there will only be the powerhouse above the legend. However, if it is a legendary powerhouse, he can more or less sense it, and the inability to sense it proves that the strength of the two sides is too far apart. If it is in other places, he might be more cautious, but on the Southern Continent, he doesn't think there will be so many legendary powerhouses.

Xiao En's gaze shifted slightly, and soon he discovered the person who was responsible for the protection of the upper sanctuary powerhouse, who was a handsome young man. His clothes are tailored very close to the body, which makes his elite temperament more obvious, and his short brown hair is also neatly combed. It can be seen that this is a noble child who pays great attention to image.

Watching Xiao En and the others step forward, the other nobles passed by Xiao En and others indifferently.

Only this young brown-haired nobleman stepped forward with a smile on his face and said, "My friend, the visit to the Black Swan Castle is almost over. You won't let you in if you go up now, so let's wait until tomorrow. "

"Visit?" Xiao En was taken aback for a moment, somewhat confused about the situation.

"Aren't you here to visit?" The brown-haired young man had a keen focus, and he caught Sean's slight astonishment in an instant.

"When is the Black Swan Castle open for visitors?" Sean asked instead.

"Probably, it was seven or eight months ago." The young brunette said in an uncertain tone. "I only arrived here more than a month ago, so I am not the exact opening time. It's very clear... However, the Black Swan Castle is indeed one of the five famous castles in the entire southern continent. The Black Swan Lake and Black Swan on the top floor are really beautiful."

"The black swan has come back to the Black Swan Castle again?" Sean was a little shocked. He had only been away for a year. How did it feel as if he had been away for a century.

"I said, my friend, what are you doing here at the Black Swan Castle." The brown-haired man shook his head helplessly and laughed a little. , Now you go up, those guards won't let you in."

"Uh...Thank you for your kindness, but I still want to go up and see." Sean was originally worried about what happened to the Black Swan Castle and what danger Cecilia would encounter, but now it seems that everything is He was worried, but even so, he still wanted to go back as soon as possible.

"Hey, okay." The young brunette smiled, "If you get kicked back later, don't say I didn't remind you."

"Okay, thank you very much for your reminder." Sean smiled back.

"That's it for now." The brunette young man waved his hand, and then quickly left with someone.

The two sides never exchanged each other's names from beginning to end, but this is really unnecessary, because the noble names are not so worthless. But this small episode can easily become a symbol of friendship between the nobles. If the two sides have a chance to meet next time and can prove that they are not in opposing camps, then it is necessary to introduce themselves and exchange information.

Otherwise, for the nobles, any other nobles encountered on the road are just passing by.

After watching the young brunette leave, Xiao En hurried to the mountainside again, and Andrew and others also followed. It's just that Andrew's face has a thicker smile: "You don't look like a person who has been here for a year, but like a traveler who has been lost in a certain plane for a long time."

"Yeah, I think so too." Sean looked back at the darkening of the sky and the lights of the hotel at the foot of the mountain. The whole town sounded like a carnival, with a wry smile on his face. The color is even more obvious, "...It feels like I have really been away for a long time."

Shaun's heart is a little bit uneasy.

Chapter 450: .I am back

Following this man-made mountain trail in the southwestern mountains of Angroda, you will find the Black Swan Castle, one of the five castles in the South Continent.

This old castle is built on the halfway of the mountain, with an altitude of more than 500 meters. The fortress is built on the hillside. Basically, more than two-thirds of the castle area is in the midway of the mountain. It's just that this castle is not famous for defense, so it wastes a lot of geographical advantages that can be called unique. However, since this castle was built, except for once destroyed in the hands of Asuna, the Black Swan Castle has never been destroyed due to war during the Kingdom of Darbion. Later, after Sean took over, he also invested After many reconstructions with few materials and manpower, the castle was finally restored to its former glory.

The mountain road leading to the castle is much smoother than when Shaun left before, and even a stone ladder is built to make it easier for passers-by to walk.

Xiao En climbed up the level all the way, observing silently all the time.

He did not expect that he had only left for a year, and the Black Swan Castle had changed so much.

And if the Black Swan Castle had this change, then don't think about it, the entire Void Principality must have undergone earth-shaking changes.

On the road, young powerful children in other noble costumes continue to descend from the direction of the Black Swan Castle. These people have followers of different levels of strength around them, but they are basically only at the level of the golden realm. The sanctuary realm seems to be apart from a few in the villages and towns at the foot of the mountain and the followers around the young brown-haired young man just now. I never encountered it again.

It is hard for Sean to believe why these guys are so honest.

According to his understanding of the regional customs of the Southern Continent, the Sanctuary powerhouses can basically walk sideways in the Southern Continent. Except for the old powers and empires, the Southern Continent rarely encounters legendary powerhouses. After all, the Southern Continent suffered the heaviest losses in the two underground world invasion wars. Therefore, if you want to completely restore your vitality, you can't develop it overnight.

Of course, these situations are also deeply related to the people in the southern mainland generally prefer to enjoy.

At this time, Cecilia, who was located in the Black Swan Castle, was also running out of the study in a panic. Then hurried to the gate of the Black Swan Castle. Behind her. It was Diana, who also seemed a little cautious. She dared to persuade Cecilia to open the Black Swan Castle, but she didn't dare to face Sean too much.

After the two of them had negotiated with Hasas, they went back to the study to discuss some of the overall issues. The bottom line of these transactions will be taken care of by Cecilia, and the other details will be handed over to Diana when they negotiate with Hasas. To deal with. However, not long after the discussion began, someone from Void Darkblade came to report. Said that Sean was back. There were three young people and a child with them.

Although I don't know the identity of the other three people and the child, when he heard that Sean had returned, Cecilia immediately left everything and hurried to the gate of the castle. Originally, she wanted to clear the site and drive away all the visitors in the castle, but looking at the time, it was almost the end of the visit, so Cecilia didn't do anything extra.

But seeing Cecilia look so eager. The Void Shadow Guards who were not on duty in the castle were naturally nervous as if they were on the verge of an enemy, and they all rushed out.

Because of the expansion of the Void Shadow Guard. Therefore, the Black Swan Castle could not accommodate so many people, so it built military camps and related defense facilities in the small town at the foot of the mountain. Today's Void Shadow Guards are divided into three teams, each team is responsible for the guard work of the Black Swan Castle for a week, and the remaining two teams are responsible for daily patrols and public security issues in the small town at the foot of the mountain.

Of course, the team in the castle also has a division system. There are three shifts a day, and there are about 30 people standing guard in each group. In the past, at least 80 people were required to be in charge of the castle. Therefore, the early guard barracks of the Black Swan Castle were built outside the castle, but with the opening of the Black Swan Castle, in pursuit of beauty, the barracks were built at the foot of the mountain.

At this time, following Cecilia's actions, there were more than 30 people who were supposed to be on night shifts. In addition, more than 30 people who were going to rest after eating, all hurriedly put on the armors they just removed and removed them. Ran out of the lounge.

The nobles who had not had time to leave, also ran out with a look of curiosity. They really want to know what happened to the Black Swan Castle that actually made Cecilia show such a panic. Many people here have stayed here for a long time, and there are also four or five. Over the month, if it weren't for the appearance of Hasas, the flies that bothered Cecilia should be them, so they had never seen Cecilia show such a look.

Cecilia hadn't made such a big noise before, and when she found out, the situation was already a bit delicate.

If there were no "guests", Cecilia would definitely let these guards go back, because this is not a big deal at all-Sean would never do these extravagant high-profile moves. It's just that there are still more than a dozen guests and their entourage present, so it is naturally impossible for Cecilia to let these guards go back to rest. In front of outsiders, Sean must be protected as the Grand Duke anyway.

So, Cecilia quickly lined up all the guards, standing on both sides of the city gate.

Void Shadow's guards are not many, only sixty people, but their equipment is the best in the entire Void Principality. Basically, as long as they are slightly damaged, they can apply for replacement from the military workshop. After all, this team is the guard team created by William for Sean, so the image project still needs to be done. It is precisely because of these many generous rewards that every Void Shadow Guard is a carefully selected member, and their qualities and strengths can be said to be the best and strongest in the legion of the same level.

At this time, under the arrangement of Cecilia, more than sixty Void Shadow Guards stood in two teams, each with their heads tall and chested, paired with their very bright and clean armor and shields. The mental outlook of this army made many nobles shine on the spot. A powerful aura that belongs only to the elites is radiating from these soldiers, and then condenses together, as if a terrible spiritual coercion permeates the audience.

And among these guards. Standing in the direction of the main gate of the city gate was Cecilia.

Diana, a step behind Cecilia, clearly distinguished the priority.

As a figure slowly appeared on the horizon of the mountain road ahead, Cecilia's originally slightly nervous expression gradually calmed down.

The corners of her mouth raised slightly. A smile of joy appeared on Cecilia's face. She folded her hands gently on the clothes line. The whole person looked elegant and calm, with a breeze blowing gently, curling up her hair and dress. At this moment, Cecilia looked extraordinarily dazzling among the crowd. Almost all the eyes of the audience were concentrated. On her, they had never seen Cecilia showing such a charming smile from the heart.

Everyone followed Cecilia's gaze in unison. Looking at the end of the mountain road ahead.

Sean. Slowly stepping up from the stone ladder.

His vision gradually widened. When Sean's vision finally reached the horizon, the first thing he saw was Cecilia with a smile on his face, and then Di who stood behind her. Anna and the Void Shadows on both sides. Then, the entire Black Swan Castle was completely renewed, and the other guards still standing guard on the castle wall.

All of this, one by one, is in Sean's eyes.

Sean, who was originally a little disturbed. When I saw Cecilia's smile and such a neat military appearance. Finally disappeared completely.

When Xiao En appeared from the end of the mountain road and started walking towards the Black Swan Castle, his face also showed a sincere smile from the heart. At this moment, he really realized what it was like to be at home, and finally understood that it was such a joyful and happy thing to have someone waiting for his return at home.

Andrew looked at everything in front of him, the corners of his mouth were also slightly raised, and then his footsteps also slowed down a bit.

He had been parallel to Sean after a few steps, but he was half behind Sean.

Beth seems to have a silent understanding with Andrew, because he and Andrew have the same speed. It's just that he is slightly behind Andrew, which is equivalent to a distance behind Sean. Only Enkos, with a silly look on his face, still after Beth pulled his sleeve and gestured with his eyes, did Enkos react and maintain the same position as Beth.

As for Kozilek, his appearance as a child at this time is a very good disguise. He pulled a corner of Xiao En's clothes, followed behind Xiao En with a dazed and curious look, and was looking around cautiously. Of course, behind his curiosity and dazedness, he is full of not curiosity, but a kind of , but although he is taciturn, at least not really stupid, so he knows that everything he sees is It can't be eaten.

As Shaun approached gradually, without Cecilia's reminder, all the Void Shadow Guards replayed their shock shields to the ground at the same time.

A full six or seventy of the sound of impacting the shield landing, but it made a shock-like an earthquake-like roar and strong vibration fluctuations. This neat and consistent tacit understanding and concert made all the nobles who stayed here immediately felt a horror: at this moment, the strong momentum emitted by these void shadow guards made them all feel that their hearts seemed to be An invisible giant hand holds it in general, and it will be completely squeezed with just a little effort.

All the people looked at Sean in horror, and they had already begun to guess the identity of this young man in their hearts.

Of course, there are more people who have some answers in their hearts when they see this scene. It's just that before getting personal confirmation, many people still can't believe it, or they are subconsciously unwilling to believe that the black-haired young man in front of them is the one in the rumor—just as no one wants to admit that they are inferior to the other. The same age, especially these proud noble children.

But whether they will admit, approve, or have any other ideas, it's not a big deal for Sean.

His steps are always as firm as ever, and there is no other look because of the falling shield of the Void Shadow Guard.

There is neither pride nor pride, nor even pride.

There is only peace.

As if all this is so taken for granted.

Then, as Sean slowly approached, when he started to approach the guards standing on the two sides, the two guards on the left and right began to kneel down on one knee. And as Sean walked all the way, all the guards began to kneel down in front of Sean one knee—they did not draw out the knight sword tied to the waist, but the left hand was placed on the tower shield, and the right hand held it tightly. The guards with spears lowered their heads.

Andrew stopped when he was two steps closer to the guards.

He knew that these people were kneeling so solemnly to their king, not to him. No matter how strong his strength is, he can easily control the life and death of a kingdom with his gestures, but he still did not follow Sean. This is not because he thinks he is not enough for Sean, but to respect Sean. Respect his achievements and the glory that belongs only to him.

Beth and Enkos, they also stood behind Andrew, watching everything in front of them quietly.

As Sean got closer and closer to Cecilia, these guards, who seemed to have rehearsed countless times, began to accelerate their kneeling speed. Soon they stopped kneeling when Sean approached the two positions, but began to accelerate to three positions, four positions, and even more positions.

And when Sean walked three steps away from Cecilia, all the Void Shadow Guards on both sides finally knelt down on one knee. Then there are all the guards standing guard on the city wall. They all knelt down on one knee at this time, followed by the guards on the guard tower, and then the guards from other places in the castle—just like a beacon tower. Ring after ring, no matter if they can see Sean or not, no matter if Sean can see them, they are all on one knee at this time.

to their king, conveying their respect, their faith, and their glory.

This glory belongs not only to Sean, but also to them.

"Welcome the Lord's return."

A thunderous sound, with extremely strong cheers and excitement, echoed across the entire Black Swan Castle.

Cecilia took a step forward, shortening the distance between herself and Sean to only two steps, and then looked at Sean with a smile: "Welcome back."

Sean smiled and nodded, then suddenly took two steps forward, embraced Cecilia lightly, and smiled: "I'm back."