

Lord of War Vol 3-51

Chapter 51: . Another transaction

In front of Sean, there are two exquisitely crafted boxes.

One rectangle, one square.

They are all wooden boxes made of a black wooden material. They have a peculiar silky feeling when touched by the hand, and you can feel a metal-like coldness from the belly of your finger, but if you put your palm on this If you stay on the wooden box for too long, you will feel the coldness on the box gradually becoming warm.

Sean soon knew what the material of this wooden box came from.

Warm and cool iron wood.

A tall tree belonging to the Arboraceae family that only grows in the north and west of the mainland, but not all Wenliang Ironwood can be made from materials. Only the core of the Wenliang Ironwood that has grown for more than ten years can be used as this Kind of materials for wooden boxes. If it is more than 20 years old, the hardness of the tree core will be like steel after being soaked in a special agent and air-dried; if it is more than 30 years old, it will emit a light fragrance.

In front of Xiao En, these two wooden boxes made of the heart of warm and cool iron wood not only exude a fragrance, but also engraved with a completely enclosed magic circle, which proves the materials of these two wooden boxes. It is definitely a warm and cool iron wood that has grown for more than 50 years. Because only the warm and cool ironwood tree that has grown for so long, the core of the tree will have a weak wave of magic elements, and it is precisely because of this that it can engrave a magic circle that can play a basic self-sufficiency effect on it.

In addition, in order to be beautiful, the wooden box is also inlaid with many small gems and golden, silver gilt and other things.

Only these two wooden boxes are worth more than one million pan-continental gold coins.

The rectangular wooden box has a larger area, so the value is naturally above the square wooden box.

Using such a precious box as a loading body, one can imagine how precious the contents are.

In fact. The contents stored in these two boxes are the two auction items to be auctioned at that mysterious auction.

Even though Sean already knew that one of the two boxes must be a snag containing the tree of life, Sean was really not sure which one it was. Because the broken branches of the tree of life do not have a prescribed length or width, as long as the branches and leaves are broken from the tree of life, they can be regarded as the broken branches of the tree of life. Of course, the more branches and leaves that are broken, the more complete the fragments of law contained therein.

is just judged by the situation in the game, the so-called completeness is also calculated by a few tenths of a percent.

At this moment, Rodesker was sitting next to Sean nervously, especially when he saw Sean rubbing the two wooden boxes with a face of intoxication and seriousness, his heart jumped to his throat. NS. There is no doubt that since Sean was able to recognize the rarer thing like smoky quartz fluorite. Rodsk knew that Sean's identification level was far superior to that of his normal peers, and he had even begun to doubt Sean's race.

Although black hair and black eyes are the characteristics of the Zenas, there are indeed one or two long-lived races in this world that also have this characteristic. Even if it is not these two long-lived races, there is no guarantee that Sean does not have blood of other races in his body-such as the father of Chenus and the mother of the elves, then it is very likely that half-elves with black hair and black eyes will be born. .

"The sealing is very good." After checking the two wooden boxes carefully, Sean said with a smile. "Very authentic burst bullet fire pattern stitching, standard master handwriting."

Lodeske's heart was shocked again.

The so-called fire pattern stitching refers to a miniature engraving technique of the magic circle, which is the same as that directly in the room and can automatically activate the magic circle with the opening and closing of the door. Like these two wooden boxes right now, if they are not opened in the correct way, the entire wooden box will trigger the magic circle trap engraved on it, which will cause the wooden box to explode directly and injure the person who opened the wooden box. The contents of the wooden box were also burned.

This is the so-called bursting bullet fire pattern stitching. It is a means of protecting valuables.

Basically all protective measures that use fire magic as a means can be called fire stitching. In addition to the fire pattern stitching, there are also engraving methods that correspond to different elements such as water pattern, wind pattern, thunder pattern, ground pattern, ice pattern, and rock pattern, and corresponding energy methods such as dark pattern, light pattern, and tone pattern.

It's just that fire stitching is the most common one.

Lodesk didn't see Sean's movement, he heard a small click, and an imperceptible light on the wooden box quickly dimmed and disappeared. This time, Lordesk was truly shocked.

Because he knew that the fire stitching magic circle of these two Wenliang Tiemu had been lifted!

Be aware that different interpreters will have different habits and preferences, so their methods of dispelling the magic array are different, and even the position of the magic node can't be the same. Therefore, you want to open this kind of suture magic circle without knowing it, unless you are a magic thief who is proficient in such magic traps. But Sean doesn't look like a master of magic thieves who are proficient in this kind of magic, but he just does this. How can Luo Desk not be shocked!

And Sean was not embarrassed at all, after he lifted the stitching magic circle of a wooden box. He did not hesitate to move towards the other wooden box, and as he said "Interesting, it's not the same master", the other wooden box was easily touched.

"This....."

"It's just a little trick." When Sean saw the shocked look of Rodesk, he knew what he was thinking, and smiled. "There is a person who is very sensitive to fire magic by my side, so I am very sensitive to the fire magic circle. I am also somewhat sensitive to things like that, and it can be interrupted by directly removing the magic node.... It can only be said to be a trick. If you change to a type of stitching magic circle, I am afraid it will not work."

Lordsk's smile was a little reluctant when he heard what Shaun said. He didn't think that Shaun was telling the truth.

Shaun didn't care what Rodesk thought, anyway, he had already opened both wooden boxes at this time.

As he expected, the rectangular box was not a broken branch of the tree of life, but a slender flat metal block about seven inches long. The two ends of the metal block present a semi-elliptical shape, and the whole presents a deep silvery white with a texture, and the whole body is covered with numerous small purple spots. When Sean's gaze fell on it, it seemed that the metal had a certain surging power.

"This is..." Xiao En's eyes couldn't move away in a moment, and even the broken branches of the tree of life next to him were completely ignored by him.

"In fact, we don't know how to call this metal, but we can only confirm that it is a precious metal with insulating magical properties." Rodesk said softly. "It can be said that its properties are completely Mithril-type materials. It is a bit like magic stone-type materials, but the difference is that this material can indeed be used for the forging of equipment after our experiments, that is, it is difficult to control. The only disadvantage is that it cannot be used for forging magic equipment."

Hearing Lodeske's introduction, Sean couldn't help but roll his eyes.

The omniscient and powerful impression of the Chamber of Commerce that he originally had was instantly disintegrated in his heart: he could not recognize the smoky fluorite. Sean can also think that it is because of the temporary auction, and there is no skilled veteran appraisal. However, the professional appraisers of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance could not recognize this kind of thing in front of him, and Xiao En couldn't help but doubt their professionalism.

Of course, as Rodesko said, if it is used as a demon-breaking material. This is also an insult to this metal block.

As we all know, Mithril-based materials have excellent magical guiding properties and are essential materials for making many magic materials. Basically all metals that can be used as magical materials are more or less contaminated with Mithril. Therefore, in materials science The classifications are collectively referred to as Mithril. As opposed to Mithril-type materials, it is magic stone-type materials, which are naturally anti-magic. But because it belongs to stone, it can't be used for forging at all except for fortification.

Purple-spotted Mithril bone, it is also possible to classify it into the magic stone class material as Rodske said.

But in fact, this material is not a metal material, but should be classified as a biological material. The essence of this material is the bones of a powerful monster that eats many special metal ores such as magic stones, mithril, etc. Although it is almost indistinguishable from metal materials, it is actually a bone material.

Shaun still remembers that this kind of warcraft was listed as an eighth-level world-class boss in the game, and every time it is refreshed on the world map, it is bound to be a ***** storm. Stronger than the Wings of the Void where Shaun was in the guild back then. For the material of this kind of monster, it would also have to use the power of the entire guild. Therefore, Sean's impression of this material is naturally far more than anyone-at least anyone in this world.

Because Shaun knew that the Purple Spot Mithril Bone was one of the necessary materials for forging the most powerful legendary equipment. And even if it is not used for forging, but only used for transformation, it can also add the powerful special attribute of "self-growth" to non-magicized equipment. In other words, if it is used on ordinary weapons, as long as the weapon is not damaged, then through long and careful training, even ordinary weapons may evolve into legendary, epic, and even mythical equipment.

And if Sean directly acts on the dead bones of the weapon he is used to now, there is a more than 50% chance that the dead bones will be transformed into the top epic equipment, and even completely change the attributes of the entire equipment.

With such a special material, Sean naturally ignored the broken branches of the tree of life next to him.

"Master Rodsk, let's make a deal." Sean said suddenly.

As soon as he heard Sean call himself an adult, Rodske fully realized what "egg pain" means. In fact, he wanted to refuse, but when he reached his lips, he turned into a sentence: "What kind of transaction?"

"I want this piece of metal." Xiao En smiled, "And as a reward, I can provide your Chamber of Commerce Alliance with an opportunity to tailor-made magical equipment.... You need to prepare the materials yourself. According to the materials you provide, I can make medium-efficiency gold magic equipment at the highest level.... Remember, it is tailor-made, which means that this is a real magic equipment that can fully utilize all the strengths of the holder."

Having said this, Sean paused for a moment: "Of course, of all the materials I prepared, I will draw 30% of my personal materials as a reward. After all, this is the rule that you also know. But if you change it to wait It's worth gold coins. I can also accept it.... Another point is that you can also auction off the opportunity I provided. I believe you will make good use of this opportunity, right."

Hearing Sean's words, Rodeske suddenly wondered if there was a problem with his ears.

Chapter 52: . Attitudes of all parties

Tailored.

The moment the word popped out of Rodesk's mind, it took root in his mind.

Because in this world, not any craftsman dared to say these four words.

In the Craftsman's Guild, although there is a set of strict to almost rigorous review process standards for judging the strength of a craftsman, in fact, this set of standards can only judge whether a craftsman's basic skills meet the requirements. In terms of technology and innovation In many aspects, such as comprehension and comprehension, the Craftsman Guild cannot make too many demands. Even if it compulsively restricts a set of standard audits, it is only the distinction between masters and grandmasters.

Anyone who dares to say the word "tailor-made" must be a master craftsman.

Even if he can only tailor-made silver-level demonized equipment, he is still a grandmaster, and no one will doubt the future achievements of this grandmaster. Because for this type of people, the audit standards set by the Craftsmen Guild simply do not apply to them.

What's more, what Lodeske has heard is a medium-efficiency gold-level tailor-made!

This level of demonized equipment has a very obvious qualitative difference with the previous grades of demonized equipment, so even if it is not tailor-made, it is also very attractive to ordinary sanctuary powerhouses. Now, when Rodske heard that Sean said that he could tailor-made this level of magical equipment for anyone, one can imagine how big a sensation it would cause when this news was released.

However, this kind of tailor-made has a very critical factor that must be clarified.

"Can the strong in the sanctuary also customize it?" Rodesk calmed down, calmed down the slightly rapid breathing, and then asked cautiously.

If there has been a qualitative difference between the medium-efficiency gold magic equipment and the previous grades of magic equipment, then tailor-made for the sanctuary strong and tailor-made for the non-sanctuary strong, this is also for the master class A qualitative change requirement of a craftsman.

Because the sanctuary powerhouse already has the special ability of the domain, which can use the rules to interfere, influence and even damage the opponent. Therefore, the demonized equipment tailored for this kind of powerhouse must conform to it as much as possible. The power of rules that can be used, in this way, is truly perfect tailor-made. Of course even if not. However, as long as it does not conflict with the power of its own rules, then it can also exert a powerful and amazing power in the hands of the sanctuary strong, but after all, it is not as good as the equipment that can fit their own domain capabilities. excellent.

For the non-sanctuary strong, there is no such requirement.

Because they have not fully understood the power of the rules and formed their own domain. Therefore, the demonized equipment tailored for them does not need to consider the requirements of their domain capabilities and the power of the rules, as long as they can exert their greatest strength advantages. And for the non-sanctuary powerhouses, this kind of demonized equipment tailored for their own strength can still exert the most powerful power after they step into the sanctuary realm.

Of course, there is a big difference in value.

Faced with Rodsk's question, Sean pondered for a while, and then replied, but this time he obviously became solemn and serious: "If the domain ability is related to the fire element or the ice attribute, I can do it. To the degree of perfect customization. And if the light energy system and the space-based system rules are related, then at least there can be no conflicts. As for the derivation of other rule lines, then it is not within my tolerance."

After that, Sean frowned and thought for a while, and then said: "And one thing is very important....I can't customize any dark energy system rules. Even the twin system rules. , As long as it involves dark energy. I can't customize it."

"I see." Rodesk nodded very seriously, but at this moment, his eyes on Sean finally became awed.

This is the awe of a grandmaster-level figure.

For the sale proposed by Sean, Lodeske naturally has no reason to refuse, or that the real benefit should be the alliance of their chambers of commerce. Just because of Sean's attitude, Rodesker also keenly captured a very important key information, that is, the idea of trying to use the purple spot mithril bone for forging by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance is feasible. Because as a member of the blacksmith, Sean is very interested in this material, and his interest is far beyond his imagination.

Lordsk also understands that this kind of thing is far more valuable than the Chamber of Commerce Alliance can imagine. In other words, it is that the value of this material far exceeds their previous assessment, after all, it is possible for grand forgers like Xiao En to propose such a transaction price. Then you can imagine how attractive and valuable it is.

It's just that, for the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, the biggest gain from today's private transaction with Sean is not this opportunity to tailor-made demonized equipment, but that they know the talents that Sean possesses.

When Sean left the office of Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce in Lane with the purple-spotted Mithril bone. Lodeske got in touch with the headquarters of the trading capital as soon as possible.

.....

The trading capital was originally an empty plain.

At the beginning, the location at the center of the entire continent has always been a battleground for military strategists. Several great kingdoms and empires have fought for decades, and naturally there have been several changes of hands before and after, even the Millennium Covenant Empire and Ai The Melian Empire has lost this land many times. It was not until later that the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance finally became the climate, and decided to establish their "free capital" here, that the major empires and kingdoms finally gave up the fight for this area.

Of course, what kind of agreement the parties have reached is beyond the knowledge of outsiders.

But anyway, the trade capital has indeed become the most important place in the entire continent.

at this time.

Located in the most central oasis of the trade capital, here can be said to be the most core hub of the entire chamber of commerce alliance.

Basically, all the orders received by the offices of the Chamber of Commerce on the mainland are all issued from here. In the same way, all the feedback information received from various places on the mainland is also summarized here. After that is a series of intelligence screenings that have formed a fixed routine. Only those really important information will be sent to the upper level, and then there is another set of intelligence screening mechanisms.

But today.

In this central building called the Oasis Origin by various chambers of commerce, the atmosphere is obviously different.

Because. The heads of the ten most powerful chambers of commerce in the whole continent actually appeared one after another at this time and met in the top secret. It is precisely because of this that at this time, with this building named Oasis Origin as its core, there are countless levels, secret guards, and guards within a few kilometers.

Although such scenes have appeared three times in the past year. But this time the atmosphere is obviously different, because many people seem to be able to hear the arguing faintly between the secrets, which has almost never occurred in the occasion of the meeting of the ten business leaders.

"This is the situation now." An old man who seemed to be very old gently threw something that looked like a report on the table, and then whispered, "I think we are very necessary. Readjust all the action plans against Sean Connery."

"I don't agree!" As the old man's words fell, a middle-aged man who looked particularly burly began to speak.

His voice was as loud as Hong Zhong, but in fact he showed too much anger at this time.

If you want to say that among the top ten chambers of commerce, who has a hatred that is almost impossible to resolve with Sean, then it is the middle-aged man in front of him.

He is the president of the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce.

Van Denier.

As the fifth-ranked Leiyun Chamber of Commerce among the top ten chambers of commerce, this chamber of commerce mainly sells various Warcraft materials and alchemy materials. The overall strength of the Chamber of Commerce is very strong. Basically, if it is to be calculated strictly and carefully, then the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce can be tied for third place with the Seddings Chamber of Commerce and the Harvest Clarion Chamber of Commerce. The reason why it ranks fifth is simply because the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce cannot compare with these two in terms of the base of sellers because of the differences in its business items.

but. This is all in the past tense.

In the last year, Leiyun Chamber of Commerce has suffered unprecedented heavy losses.

The head and tail snake route established in the wild land is jointly funded by the top ten chambers of commerce, each accounting for 10%. Therefore, the annexation of the Great Rift Valley by Sean naturally has an impact on the top ten chambers of commerce. This is also one of the important reasons why the opinions and attitudes of the top ten chambers of commerce are so unified. But after a series of tit-for-tat confrontations, the top ten chambers of commerce wanted to target Shaun to basically disappear. Because they found that Sean was not as easy to deal with as they thought, in fact, the idea of handing over the Great Rift Valley to Sean in the top ten chambers of commerce actually appeared.

Of course, the premise is that Sean has to show enough "sincerity".

But after that, because of the actions of some radicals in the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, the conflict with Sean eventually escalated, so the Gray Shadow Black Market was looted by Sean. in this aspect. The Leiyun Chamber of Commerce's loss was undoubtedly the heaviest, so the Chamber of Commerce was temporarily silent and stopped mentioning the argument that Sean would become the agent of the Great Rift Valley. It's just that no one thought that with the disclosure of some details of the war that Darbion was annexed by Ryan, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance had to attach importance to Sean's value.

But this emphasis is only based on a certain principle of temporary equality.

Actually. For the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, the reconciliation with Sean was only for the convenience of the next transaction. Therefore, the Chamber of Commerce Alliance did not particularly care about Sean's big opening. Because this transaction will be shared by the top ten chambers of commerce, it seems that it will cost tens of millions of losses, and the amortization is only one million each, which is very important for the daily income of hundreds of thousands of gold coins. As far as the top ten chambers of commerce are concerned, it is simply a negligible loss.

but now.

When this report appeared in front of the heads of the top ten chambers of commerce, they could no longer calm down.

Sean Connery is a master-level alchemist who can tailor-made medium-efficiency gold magic equipment for the sanctuary powerhouse!

This identity is more impactful and threatening than Shaun's lord identity.

Almost immediately after receiving this report, at least five of the top ten chambers of commerce immediately changed their positions. But this change in position only changed from a hostile attitude to a neutral attitude. It did not mean that they decided not to take any targeted actions against Sean.

In fact, for the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, everything is based on interests.

As long as you have enough benefits, your position is not unchangeable.

But among the remaining five heads of chambers of commerce, it's not that they really don't have any feelings towards Sean at all.

Like the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce, it is a firm and hostile attitude.

And in the remaining four chambers of commerce. Only the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce and the legendary Firehammer Chamber of Commerce have changed Shaun's attitude from neutral to friendly. However, considering that the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce and the Legendary Fire Hammer Chamber of Commerce are respectively the two major chambers of commerce that sell magic materials, magic accessories, scrolls, and sell various weapons and armors, they will pay more attention to alchemists like Sean. blacksmith.

"This lord has become a climate, do you still want to fight against him?" The old man glanced at Van Dinier and said softly. "Facts have proved that we have hardly obtained any benefits in the hands of this lord, so I proposed a truce with him."

"Huh, that's because you didn't have any losses!" Van Dinier snorted coldly, "If you and I have suffered such a heavy loss, then you won't say such things."

"At most, he will only cost you one month of profit. Isn't this a big loss?" Another middle-aged man said with a carefree expression.

In fact, the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce has suffered some heavy losses in the past year, but the losses caused by Sean's disruption and destruction accounted for only 30% of this loss. As for the remaining 70%. In fact, it was just because the Thunder Cloud Chamber of Commerce was eager to retaliate and was eager to find Sean's troubles. Therefore, several industries in the Wildlands and the Western Continent had defensive loopholes, and they were ransacked by others.

The loss this time made the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce really feel the pain.

is also because of this. Therefore, the Leiyun Chamber of Commerce deducted all the faults on Sean's head.

"Huh!" Facing the middle-aged man's slap in the face that was almost uncovering his scars, Van Dinier also knew that he was a bit wrong, so he just gave a cold snort and did not answer.

Seeing that the scene fell into a stalemate, after the heads of the Ten Chamber of Commerce looked at each other, all their eyes fell on the old man.

This old man is exactly the leader of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce among the top ten chambers of commerce. Ruenz Zola.

Among the ten major chambers of commerce, the first ranked Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce and the second ranked legendary Firehammer Chamber of Commerce are very close in terms of background and strength, but the president of the legendary Firehammer Chamber of Commerce is a dwarf. In human society, it is a place where impression points are deducted. Therefore, in many cases, it is assumed that Luens is the leader of the top ten chambers of commerce. Of course, this chamber of commerce is indeed worthy of its leadership. Because the establishment of the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance was when the first president of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce was responsible for leading the bridge and finally was able to be established.

Furthermore, for so many years since the establishment of the Chamber of Commerce Alliance, the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce has always firmly held the first position and has never been surpassed by anyone.

So no matter from which aspect, the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce is ultimately the leader in the minds of many chambers of commerce. Even if Van Dinier's performance in dealing with Sean was so intense, he still had to respect Ruen's opinion-of course if he was dissatisfied. In fact, it is still possible to request a vote.

"Since everyone's opinions cannot be unified, and there are disputes, let's vote." Ruens sighed, and then said softly, "But this time we have to get information about teleporting magic circle with Sean. One thing is beyond doubt. Therefore, any subsequent hostile actions and actions against Sean must be carried out after this incident is completely over."

"agree."

"agree."

.....

Nine leaders from major chambers of commerce agreed one by one, and no one raised objections. Obviously, the alliance of chambers of commerce will not be so stupid on such a major matter, or be angry because of hatred and cause damage. A matter of overall interest. This is also why the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance can grow bigger and bigger, until today it has become a powerful organization that can compete with the seven empires.

"Very well, since everyone agrees on this matter, then I will move on to the next business." Runs glanced at the other nine people, and then continued, "About Sean Connery, the Kingdom of Lane The relationship between the Void Duke... I propose to negotiate with the other party to dissolve the hostile relationship with each other."

"agree."

"Refuse!"

Almost as soon as Luens' words fell, two voices sounded at the same time.

These are Nasso Firehammer, the president of the legendary Firehammer Chamber of Commerce, and Van Dinier, the president of the Thundercloud Chamber of Commerce.

After the voices of the two people rang in unison, they looked at each other for the first time, and both saw a bit of hostility in each other's eyes.

"Abstain." Seeing that the atmosphere in the venue became dull again, the presidents of the other chambers of commerce did not immediately make a statement, but after a full silence for more than three minutes, finally there was a third person to do it. Express your stance.

Seeing that a third person finally spoke, and the fourth, fifth, and sixth people all gave up this vote. But when it came to the seventh person, there was another rejection, which naturally attracted the attention of others. If they can understand why Leiyun Chamber of Commerce does not like Sean, it is very puzzling for the president to disagree with Sean at the moment, because this president is the tenth chamber of commerce among the top ten chambers of commerce. President.

Somas Chamber of Commerce.

The main business items of this chamber of commerce are all related to the alchemy industry. It stands to reason that there is no need to refuse, because since the alchemy blacksmith has put the word "alchemy", it is conceivable that his chamber of commerce can also make a profit.

The two people after the president of the Chamber of Commerce gave up the right to vote.

As a result, the proposal proposed by Luens to reconcile with Sean was temporarily shelved with two consents and two rejections. The next vote on this proposal must wait until seven days later.

.....

At the same time, two people were leaving the residence of the Marquis of Floris in the Royal Capital of Ryan.

This is a man and a woman.

The young woman has a heart-shattering mature charm, her every move reveals a natural charm, and the eyes of countless men next to her have become a little crazy. Only because of the man next to him, no one dared to come up and strike up a conversation.

In fact, no matter who sees such a beautiful woman standing beside a burly man who can hold a huge hammer of more than 1.7 meters or eight meters in one hand, no one will dare to approach it easily. No matter how anxious people are, they must carefully weigh the gap between themselves and this strong man. Of course, a certain coldness radiated from the woman's body also made many people with slightly more sensitive perceptions dare not approach it easily.

"It seems that it was not easy for the guy who broke the good deeds of the adults that night." The strong man lowered his voice and said.

"En." The woman nodded slightly.

"What should I do?"

"What else can I do?" The woman gave the brawny man a white look. It was supposed to be a very charming and charming move, but it made the brawny man shiver. "I can only go back and talk to the adult, Marquis Floris. Refusing to do business with us...a person as savvy as an adult can definitely understand."

"But adults won't let it go."

"I know." The woman nodded, her eyes showing a bit of cruelty, "So the next thing is the highlight."

Chapter 53: .Visit of the Marquis of Floris

Now Ryan has officially announced that he will be upgraded and restored to a kingdom, leaving the vassal of the millennium covenant empire.

Things like this are naturally very important in the entire Miracle Continent, even if it is not on the South Continent, they will devote so much attention to this side. Of course, these people are more observing the reaction of the millennium covenant empire. After all, the separation of the vassal state is tantamount to a resounding slap in the face of the overlord. Therefore, any overlord's attitude towards a vassal country that has left its affiliation is It is surprisingly consistent.

Destroy the country.

Only this time, the attitude of the Millennium Covenant Empire seems to be so abnormal.

They actually allowed Ryan to leave completely, and did not take any radical measures or actions, even without a word of condemnation, which made the kingdoms and empires with certain strength and foundation on the mainland feel a little confused, so they couldn't. Don't pay more attention to this aspect a little bit.

Although a demon appeared before, it blocked the way from the Millennium Covenant Empire to Lane.

But in fact, if the Millennium Covenant Empire really wants to retaliate, there are many ways it can take. At least, as long as you use a large army to detour from the savage land and penetrate directly into the rift valley to invade Ryan. Especially in the current situation, Darbion has just been annexed by Ryan. At present, the territories of the Kingdom of Darbion are almost completely undefended. Only heavy troops are stationed in a few more important areas, but this so-called Heavy soldiers can never be an opponent of the main force of the empire.

Therefore, in strategic analysis. The Thousand-Year Covenant Empire directly attacked the Gorge Rift from the outer edge of the Barren Land. This tactic can be said to be 100% successful, and there is absolutely no possibility of failure. It is even possible to directly swallow all of Ryan's current battle results.

However, the Millennium Covenant did not take this approach, which is really puzzling for many people.

In fact, the Millennium Covenant is hard to say.

Before Andrew's sudden shot, it was too horrified, and his position in assisting Sean and others also clarified his attitude. What's more, in the subsequent war of annihilation against Darbion, the news that the frontier army of the fascist kingdom was blocked by one person was leaked out. How dare the millennium covenant empire continue to trouble Ryan? Even if they really dare to attack for the sake of face, they are very clear about the situation of the Gorge Rift, as long as they can't pass this canyon road for one day. No matter how much their army is, it won't help.

Because the situation in this canyon is simply a natural defensive barrier for the defensive side-this is a Jedi that can be used forever, and the defensive side can block tens of thousands of people with only a small amount of force. Of the enemy.

Now it is in the analysis of the battle reports of various countries. The Void Duke defending this place. The three main armies under his command are particularly good at defensive warfare.

But as more targeted details were revealed, many people thought they finally knew why the Millennium Covenant Empire didn't bother Ryan.

Because, the Millennium Covenant Empire broke out again in civil strife.

The reason why said again, it is because the Millennium Covenant Empire had already had a civil unrest twelve years ago.

And the cause of the civil unrest in the Millennium Covenant Empire this time is exactly the same as the cause of the civil unrest in the Millennium Covenant Empire!

The battle between old and new nobles.

This is a large-scale melee that has engulfed the five provinces of the entire millennium covenant empire. The latest battle has officially announced that more than 20 noble families have been directly annihilated. It is even said that the intensity of the battle has reached the use of the town. The level of the country's strongest person.

As everyone knows, it is a town-state powerhouse at the level of the Seven Empires. Those are all legendary powerhouses above the sanctuary. Once this level of power is shot, how high its destructive power is completely conceivable. Therefore, in the circulated battle report data. It has been determined that at least three provinces of the Millennium Covenant Empire will undergo post-war reconstruction, and the only ones that have not been affected are the two provinces where the capital is located and neighboring the capital.

With the outbreak of civil unrest in the Millennium Covenant Empire, the news that the Principality of Lane has been upgraded to a kingdom does not seem so exciting.

However, this is only for the outside world.

Ryan, who can be regarded as a kingdom today, is still celebrating the nationwide celebrations. All the merchants in the royal capital offer a 50% discount. This kind of joy from the heart is indeed very easy to infect other people. .

However, these things are nothing to celebrate for Sean, and he is still the same as usual.

On the contrary, the three of Xuefanio, Venia, and Marton were very interested in such a celebration. For this reason, Sean had to arrange a few people who were familiar with the capital to lead the way for them, and let these guys Enjoy the joy of this nationwide celebration. Anyway, Sean just made a lot of money recently, so even if these guys spend money everywhere, he won't feel bad about it.

And Cecilia did not go out. Although she has not been able to learn new magic in that magic book now, she has stayed in the lower position of gold for a long time, although the blood power in the body has not been more obvious. Evolution and activation, but in recent days Cecilia has become more and more able to clearly feel that there is a huge force in her body about to move.

She knew that she would soon break through to the upper level gold.

So these days, Cecilia is constantly practicing all the magic she has mastered so far, as well as various magic skills and new ways of using it. Because as long as she officially becomes a high-level golden wizard, she can begin to fully contact elemental magic, which naturally includes the three elements of wind, water, and earth, and once she can officially master other magic elements Time, then it means that in the future combat methods, she will start to become more varied, and even be able to cast compound magic, which has an extremely significant increase in the power of a magician.

To put it simply, it is a qualitative change.

And Sean, the same is true.

The only difference from Cecilia is that Sean did not continue to work ***** personal strength, because after all, the warrior profession is not as good as the profession of the mage or the priest. This requires constant training of his physical fitness to improve combat effectiveness. For players who are already accustomed to being lazy and quick, this will naturally appear to be slower and slower, so Sean no longer intends to continue wasting time in this area. He decided that he should have this time and energy instead of brushing a few more to increase his proficiency. Click the task to improve your attribute value.

So, Sean directly devoted all his energy to how to strengthen his equipment.

Purple spot Mithril bone.

If this biological material is used well, Sean believes that he can directly change the dead bones, and even become the top epic equipment. Of course, in this way, then it is very likely to cause some huge traumas that are completely irreparable to the dead bone itself-to put it simply, it is to change all the inherent properties of the dead bone. At least, the ever-changing attributes of the dead bones will definitely be cancelled, and it is even possible to be directly washed into non-magical weapons.

But this way, Sean would have spent so much effort to complete the deadly task, it would be worthless.

This makes Sean feel like a fool.

It's just that if you don't use it on the dead bones, Sean also doesn't know where to use it. Anyway, with the attributes of the purple spot mithril bone, it is absolutely impossible to make a special equipment for a magician or a magical equipment. After all, this weapon is inherently anti-magic. But if it is just made into ordinary weapons, then this thing will appear to be very wasteful. After all, if you want to cultivate from ordinary equipment to the legendary or epic level, the time it takes is not ordinary.

Playing with the purple-spotted Mithril bone about seven inches long in his hand, Xiao En was thinking about how to transform it, or how to build it.

If you want to build a legendary equipment directly, it's not impossible.

Only, equipment above the legendary level must have special recipe drawings.

So far, the other drawing parts of the Bavarian arm armor that Sean wants to build most have not been found. So no matter how hard to collect the forging blueprints of other legendary equipment, Xiao En felt that neither his time nor energy was obviously enough, and he might as well go to the tasks that could get proficiency when he had this time.

But Sean hasn't thought about the specific transformation plan, so this naturally means that Sean hasn't figured out what materials he needs next.

The rhythmic but courteous knock on the door suddenly sounded, directly interrupting Sean's thoughts, which made Sean's face look a little ugly.

"What's the matter?" Sean asked in a deep voice.

"My lord, there is a guest requesting a meeting." The knocker was the butler hired by Sean to manage the ducal residence. Hearing Sean's tone at this time, he immediately knew that the new owner felt about his knock on the door. dissatisfied.

"Didn't I say, don't bother me if there is something particularly important?"

The housekeeper hurriedly replied: "My lord, this guest said he is the Marquis of Floris."

"Marquis Floris?" Sean frowned even more.

"Yes." Hearing Sean's voice changed, the new housekeeper was a little relieved, "He said that if you say so, you will definitely meet him."

"I see." Xiao En nodded, "Please invite the guests to the reception room, and I will go down right away."

"Yes." The butler stood outside the door, nodded, and then hurriedly turned and left.

"Marquis of Floris?...What did he do for me?" There was a trace of doubt on Sean's face.

Chapter 54: .Floris's intent

Void Mansion, this is the residence of the Void Duke who was bestowed on Sean by the Royal Family of Lane, one of the new seven dukes of Lane.

The house has always been cleaned by servants from the palace, so when Sean took over the house from King Ryan, the house was not only exceptionally clean, but also all the things it should have were available. There is no need for Sean to spend extra to add any new furniture or decorations.

So when Sean moved into this mansion, the only thing he needed to do was to ask a housekeeper to help him manage the mansion.

Because Sean cannot always live here in the capital.

For him, this mansion is actually just a symbolic meaning, at least as long as the mansion is still there, then no one will forget him, the Void Duke. Of course, if it is an ordinary traditional nobleman, then they will definitely choose to stay in the mansion located in the royal capital instead of returning to the fief. The closer the intelligence center is, the better.

But Sean is no ordinary traditional nobleman.

Although it has been assimilated into this world a lot now, the adventurous blood gene in the player's body has still not weakened. In fact, if it weren't for being dragged here by some things now, Sean would have wanted to leave King Ryan for a long time, and didn't want to waste even a minute and a second in such a place.

And this is why Shaun will personally choose a housekeeper.

As for the servants, they were the servants originally sent from the Royal Palace of Ryan. For these experienced and quick-working servants, Sean is still very satisfied, even if the rewards to be paid to them are three times that of ordinary servants. But in this way. The housekeeper's salary is naturally not so low, and to be worthy of this salary, the housekeeper must be an experienced veteran, and at least he must have excellent abilities in many aspects.

Now the housekeeper who has full authority to manage the entire void mansion is recommended by Asuna. His salary is fifty gold coins a month-enough for the monthly expenses of seven to nine ordinary families.

But a housekeeper with such a high salary is naturally worth the money.

So when Sean pushed open the door of the meeting room. What I got was not a greeting, but a sincere compliment from Floris, one of the big three of Ryan's dark giants: "Although you spend more on servants, the entire mansion is really cleaned up. It's clean. And your housekeeper is not easy.... These costs are still worth the money."

Hearing Floris's compliment, Sean just smiled politely, and did not reply.

In fact. He almost let the housekeeper go away just now. Because he disrupted a life-threatening plan that Sean had finally figured out.

As an excellent housekeeper, he naturally needs the most basic cognition of those powerful and powerful figures in China. Even if he doesn't recognize his appearance, he must at least recognize symbols such as family crests. However, the Marquis of Floris is the most mysterious Marquis in Ryan, and this time the visit has not used the carriage with the family crest, so it is very normal for the housekeeper to be unable to recognize it. If it is not recognized If Floris's aura was really different, the butler recommended by Asuna would certainly not bother Sean.

Unfortunately. Sean is not clear about these things.

In a sense, this housekeeper is indeed somewhat innocent.

"This time. There are actually two things." Seeing that Sean didn't answer, the Marquis of Flores didn't care too much. He sat casually on the sofa in the reception room, looking nothing like it. It's a guest.

But Sean, who was face to face with him at such a close distance, felt an invisible pressure constantly pounced on him.

In his field of vision, it was endless darkness, like a bottomless abyss. Along with this abyss-like aura constantly permeating out, and endless **** auras constantly emanating, Sean alone is sure that Floris is also a hidden powerhouse, at least It is definitely a real powerhouse in the golden realm. Because the breath radiating from the Marquis of Floris was fully surfaced, there were at least 800 people who died in his hands.

Like William, there is almost no guy who has killed people with his own hands. Although his aura will become uniquely majestic and powerful due to long-term command, he is full of deterrence, but it will never be like Foluo. Reese exudes an astonishing **** breath all over his body. No matter how much he suppresses and hides, for those with keen perception, he can still feel this breath.

Of course, as far as Sean is concerned, another reason why the Marquis of Floris can be judged is a strong one, that is, there is no flaw in him.

Although it is just a casual sitting, it looks like there are flaws all over the body, but if you look closely, you will find that these so-called flaws are actually traps. If anyone thinks that Floris does not understand anything and rashly attacks, Then the end will definitely be very tragic.

This is a strong man who really lives in the dark world.

"Which two." Xiao En finally spoke after a moment of silence, but his back was already wet with sweat before he knew it.

"Heh." Floris suddenly chuckled.

As a mature middle-aged person, Floris actually has a lot of charm, especially the dangerous aura that exudes from him, which is naturally terrifying for people with keen perception, but for some things People who don't understand--especially women, will look very charming. It's just that at this moment, Floris's smile may be charming to some women, but it is nothing to Sean, because the breath in him hasn't diminished in the slightest.

"Don't be nervous." After a chuckle, Floris said again, "I have no hostility or malice towards you.... Your current strength is still slightly insufficient, so you will still be affected by my natural aura. The influence of coercion, after you step into the golden realm, you will be able to feel the real changes in my body."

"I know." Sean took a deep breath, and then said, "I mean. You have no hostility or malice towards me. Otherwise, I won't come here alone to meet you."

"Oh?" Floris raised his eyebrows, and the look on his face became interested.

In fact, when Sean saw the Marquis of Flores for the first time, the color of light he saw from him was the green that represented kindness, not other colors. So from then on, Sean knew that the Marquis of Flores had no hostility towards him. Of course, the color that radiated from that King Ryan's body was also green. In this way, Sean was concerned about the men who killed the Marquis of Floris. On the contrary, I felt a little embarrassed, but the Dark King didn't seem to care about those things at all.

Sean did not know the past of the Marquis of Floris, but from his attitude towards King Ryan, Shaun was at least certain. That is, the outside world's evaluation of the Marquis of Floris is wrong. This is not a man who is purely loyal to the throne. In fact, it should be said that his truly loyal person is the current King Llane—Ingus Llane. From this point, Sean knew that there must be a very important and strong bond between the Dark King and the current Llane King.

"It's just an intuition." Sean sat on the sofa next to him. Although he tried his best to calm his inner resistance to the dark atmosphere, perhaps as Floris said, there are still some gaps between the two sides, so much more. Shao still showed some reflexive physical behavior, "Let's talk about business."

"Alright." Floris nodded. Then he said, "The first thing is private."

"Private matter?" Can utter such a word from Floris's mouth. Sean was also very curious.

"I want to make a deal with you." Floris nodded slightly, confirming that Sean had not misheard the meaning, and then continued, "I know this time the Chamber of Commerce Alliance made a deal with you, although it is specific I'm not sure about the trading items and content, but part of my trading is about slave trading..."

As for why Floris knew this, Sean didn't doubt it at all, because he had already learned the walking route of the slaves of the Chamber of Commerce from Lodeske-from crossing the Viper Gobi. In terms of the size of the team of the Chamber of Commerce, let alone a dark king like Floris, I am afraid that the slightly capable nobles in the country have already received the news.

So Sean did not speak, but continued to listen quietly.

"...So, I hope you can transfer at least five thousand barbarians to me. For some reason, I urgently need a mercenary group to complete the task in the near future, but if hired, it may cause information leakage. So I need to form a team to complete the task, and the barbarian is the most suitable quick fighter."

In fact, in the case of a big man like Floris, it is completely unnecessary to explain to Sean, but at this time he opened his mouth to explain why he needs a barbarian. Although the important information is still not mentioned, this is actually It is already a way of paying respect, at least Floris thinks that Sean is already qualified to sit on an equal footing with him.

"I see." Sean nodded, "What about the transaction?"

"In the next year, you can get any information that I know for free from me." Floris said in a deep voice, "I know that my condition is not so generous. After all, with the information you have now It's only a matter of time before you have the ability to collect information to be equal to me. But if I provide it directly, then you can definitely speed up progress in this area."

"It's true." Sean nodded, "But in that case, why not change to intelligence sharing?"

"Information sharing?" Floris glanced at Sean deeply, "If you ask so, then I can accept it."

Information sharing and free access to any known information are two completely different concepts.

The former is an unreserved way of exchanging information. This method is naturally a mutually beneficial way for both parties on the same basis, but for two parties like Sean and Floris that are completely unequal. In terms of nature, Floris will suffer, because it is only the information currently possessed by Floris. At the very least, it took him more than two decades, and it was accompanied by countless sacrifices.

In terms of instinctive reaction, in the collection and control of intelligence. It is true that Floris hasn't regarded Sean as an equal.

This is also the reason why Sean will propose sharing.

It's just that Floris agreed to Sean's condition so quickly, which surprised Sean a bit, but it can also show from the side that Floris really needs these five thousand barbarians. In other words, the task he currently has is very urgent and very important, otherwise Floris would not have to make such a big concession. Because in the coming year, the real beneficiary will only be him.

"Then regarding the barbarians, I will transfer them to you at the normal individual transaction price of the slave market."

"Yes." Floris nodded.

The so-called regular individual transaction price does not refer to house type transactions. It's an individual transaction.

House type transaction refers to a transaction of one household.

Under normal circumstances, each barbarian household is composed of at least two people, both a male and a female husband and wife; there are more individual households. Then there may be around five people. Both a couple plus sons and daughters or parents, etc. And for a house-type transaction like this, the selling price largely depends on the combat power of the barbarians in this household, but no matter whether the combat power is high or low, it is usually not less than ten gold coins. If you add food expenses, Expenses, then it is likely to reach fifteen gold coins per household.

In house type transactions, it is usually necessary to buy an entire tribe.

The size of the tribe is naturally large and small. Usually, even the smallest tribe will have two or three hundred households. But such a small-scale barbarian tribe can truly act as a barbarian slave driven by warriors. I am afraid there are only a hundred people or even fewer. For this reason, if you want to form a barbarian army of a normal level, then it is very likely that you will have to buy several tribes, or a medium-sized tribe.

In this way, for many nobles or warlords, there are obviously too many people wasting food, and such expenses are not affordable for everyone.

For this reason, there is a targeted sale specifically to satisfy this type of customer.

Individual transactions.

The so-called individual trading refers to the trafficking of young and middle-aged barbarians who are mainly slaves between the ages of sixteen and thirty.

The barbarian slaves of this age are almost of the type that can go to the battlefield as soon as they are equipped with weapons, and because they have been "trained" by the slave owners in advance, there is almost no possibility of rioting and rebellion, but the level of combat effectiveness is down. It will also be more mediocre, and it is difficult to do assault operations like those barbarians who trade in apartment types.

So, whether these individual traded slaves can be restored to the heroic ability of fearless death depends on the technology of the purchaser.

But even so, even if it is mediocre or even used as cannon fodder in many cases, individual barbarian transactions now occupy a very large share of the slave market, and almost become the mainstream transaction method that replaces the house type transaction. Therefore, with the increase in the share and flow of such transactions, the transaction volume of individual barbarian transactions has gradually increased.

Nowadays, the transaction volume of each individual barbarian ranges from twenty to one hundred gold coins.

The higher the transaction volume, the younger the barbarian, and the greater his potential or knowledge, and so on.

This time, in order to show its sincerity, the Union of Chambers of Commerce sent these five thousand barbarians to Sean as young and middle-aged slaves with a value of 50 gold coins. Among them, the barbarian slaves over twenty-five years old only accounted for no more. To three thousand people, the remaining 12,000 people are between 18 and 24 years old. However, even these three thousand barbarians over twenty-five years old are still very rare pieces for the outside world, because they are all Jingu barbarians.

"Are there any requirements for slaves?" Sean said, "Lordske gave me a record sheet. If there is a specific need, then I can give this record sheet to you, and you can choose it. "

"No need." Floris shook his head, "I don't have any requirements for height, age, birthplace, strength, potential, etc. The only thing I require is that they can go to the battlefield immediately. Of course, it is best to know some battles. It doesn't matter if it's impossible to cooperate in the battle."

"If it's a battle formation, I have a lot of good stuff." Sean chuckled lightly. "Three thousand Jingu barbarians."

Floris' eyes suddenly lit up: "It is indeed a good batch of goods.... The price is not cheap."

"Anyway, it was given by the Chamber of Commerce Alliance. Just give you fifty gold coins." Shaun shrugged. "But the remaining two thousand people don't have such a good product. However, the potential is not bad for the victory. After getting it. If you spend more time training, you should still be able to exert some effects."

"Yes, it's up to you to arrange it." Floris nodded very satisfied.

If you buy at the market price, how about the two thousand savages? Just the three thousand 25-year-old Jingu savages, and the transaction price for each of them will definitely not be less than eighty. Gold coin. Now he bought 5,000 barbarians with excellent "fineness" for two hundred and fifty thousand. This is equivalent to saying that Sean has given him two thousand barbarians with superior potential and strength.

"At that time, I will arrange for someone to trade with you."

"No problem, these will be arranged by you." Maybe it was because it solved a problem that made Floris very difficult. So at this moment, Sean could feel Floris's visibly relaxed mood. It was a truly relieved feeling. This made Sean a little more curious about what Floris was about to do, but Floris didn't say it, and it was really hard for Sean to ask anything. "That's right. I almost forgot to tell you one thing.... That fellow Arnoum is asking for your news."

"Anom?" Sean was taken aback for a moment. "That former silversmith from Darbion?"

"Yes." Floris nodded, and this time his expression became a little serious. "You broke his good deeds at the auction, and you also caused him to lose two apprentices. This is something that must be paid for. The old man is definitely a very face-slapped thing, so that old man has already begun to inquire about your identity."

"That's it." Sean hadn't really expected the old man to have this kind of revenge. But even so, he didn't care much.

"You better be more careful." Seeing Sean's disapproval attitude, Floris couldn't help but speak again. "Since you are also an alchemist, you should know what kind of guys are willing to follow the craftsman. This time, although I rejected the old man's assignment to investigate you, but the old man's social circle, I believe It won't take long to find out your identity, and it's obvious that the old man seems to be very serious, because this time he sent out two of his strongest followers, so no matter how you say it, you'd better be careful."

"The strongest?" Hearing such a word, Xiao En's face showed a bit of curiosity, "How strong?"

"Both of them are high-ranking golden peaks." Floris replied, "It is a bit troublesome to explain. Due to some professional habits, I have conducted investigations on these two people before, so the information about these two people , I will send you the information later.... But to be safe, it is best to leave a stronger follower by your side these days. One of the two is very tricky."

"I see." Sean nodded, "Thank you very much for your advice."

"You are welcome, after all, we are now in a mutually beneficial relationship." Floris shrugged, "Okay. Now that the personal affairs have been dealt with, then let's have a business negotiation."

"Official business?"

"Well, this time Ryan has been upgraded from a principality to a kingdom, and some neighboring countries have also sent people to participate, so according to the default unspoken rules on the mainland, a martial arts festival will be held for competition." Marquis of Floris Shen Sheng said, "This is the easiest way to judge the national strength of each other... Generally speaking, the martial arts festival is divided into two stages, one is a military competition, and the other is a duel of personal strength. "

"Your Majesty wants me to play?" Sean already knew what the business was about.

"Yes." Flores nodded. "The two military battles have been determined to be in charge of Lord Asuna G. Evans and Lord Devon Soder Sabre. The individual part of the game, Saint The strong above the domain are not allowed to participate in the battle, so in fact the event is divided into the silver group and the gold group, and people of different strengths compete for the championship. However, given that this time the event has a relatively strong tentative purpose, so It adopts a single elimination system, and there is no loser group."

"I understand." Sean nodded, "So His Majesty wants me to participate in the silver competition?"

"Of course, if Lord Shaun agrees, His Majesty the King hopes that you can allow your followers to participate at the same time."

Hearing this, Xiao En roughly understood what was going on with the martial arts festival that was decided temporarily: "That is to say... in such a competition, there is a great risk of death?"

"Yes."

Chapter 55: .War Fight Festival

The appearance of the Martial Arts Festival was indeed a bit beyond Sean's expectations. However, considering that Ryan was upgraded from the principality to the kingdom, there would definitely be a variety of unkind gazes, so the appearance of the Martial Arts Festival did not make it so much. He was surprised. On the contrary, this is what Sean believes is the best way to resolve the current national disputes, and he is sure that the madmen of the Peace Association will definitely intervene, and will not let other countries take advantage of this time.

After all, this war with Darbion was actually a loss for Ryan. Especially in the latter part of the war, if it weren't for the tyrannical intervention of Andrew and others, no one could be sure what the outcome of the battle would be. A powerful army as a result of the battle.

In order to prevent the third garrison, known as Darbion's strongest army, from blocking the orc tide, the Kingdom of Llane now counterattacks and plunges into the abdomen of the old Darbion's territory, even causing some other unpredictable consequences. , Had to build a border line on Broken Dragon Valley, and even invested a lot of military force as a defense. This is equivalent to creating an additional defensive direction out of thin air, so naturally, Ryan, who is already attacked on all sides, gets into greater trouble.

Today, around the territory of the New Lane Kingdom, apart from the three directions of the Trade Capital, the Wild Lands, and the Millennium Covenant Empire, the Fascist Kingdom, the Kingdom of Hales, the Principality of Robin, and the Carosha are bordered by the border. The tribes and the United Nations all put on an eye-catching appearance ready to invade.

Among the four countries, the Kingdom of Hales is better to say, because the territory bordering it is the original territory of Ryan. In this regard, both military and materials are relatively sufficient, so even if facing the Kingdom of Hales The massive invasion is also sufficient to resist.

It is really headache and worrying. It is also the Fascist Kingdom, Robin Principality, and the Karosan Tribes that border the territory of the old Darbyan Kingdom.

At the end of the war with the Kingdom of Darbion, the Kingdom of Fascism tried to take advantage of the fire, so even if the war has now been settled, the Kingdom of Fascism is still indispensable. And the one who is responsible for guarding this line of defense is Kos Hopson, the newly promoted Duke of Mandala, after all, during the period when the Kingdom of Darbion still existed. The Duke has always been in charge of this line of defense, and he has fought more than 20 battles with the frontiers of the Fascist Kingdom. It can be said to be rich in experience, and because the Duke also shouldered the rations of Broken Dragon Valley in the past. In order to resist the third garrison in Broken Dragon Valley, the newly established line of defense is also under the jurisdiction of the duke.

On the whole. The Kingdom of Lane is now the largest investment on the fascist-Leyne sideline.

The border between the Duchy of Robin and the United Nations of the Karossa tribe is located in the northwest of the old Darbyang territory.

In these two aspects, the Kingdom of Lane has invested in four reorganized legions, plus the private soldiers of the nobles who have officially acquired this land as a fief. The total force invested here is basically not weaker than that of the southeast theater. Fascist Ryan touches the line. It's just that there is a huge gap between the two in terms of the level of military strength. In particular, the Karosha tribe and the United Nations have adopted an attitude of invaders that is not inferior to that of the Fascist kingdom. This makes people on this sideline feel more pressure.

So the official convening of the martial arts festival has become a matter of course.

After all, in order to secretly spy on the overall comprehensive strength of the now-upgraded Kingdom of Ryan, these four countries have sent envoys to congratulate Ryan's upgrade.

Before, Sean was still wondering why these messengers came to visit and congratulate, and they brought so many people. Now that I think about it, I understand: everything is prepared.

just according to the words of the Marquis of Floris. In the two games at the military event, Sean didn't worry much. Because Asuna's ranking is 37th, which is on the third watershed after the ten generals, except for several generals in the Kingdom of France who are at the same level as Asuna, whether it's Hales The kingdom is still the Principality of Robin, and the Karosha tribe and the United Nations have no generals comparable to Asuna, so as long as Asuna does not make any mistakes, it is easy to win the next event.

In particular, she is also a Valkyrie.

The title Valkyrie is more than just a display.

Since there was a title system in the game, all titles obtained naturally have various uses.

The thundering Valkyrie.

Sean if he remembers correctly. This title can increase the attack power of the army directly commanded by Asuna by 5% and the mobility of 10%, and it can also get an additional 3% power bonus when charging.

The title is the title of the Valkyrie with the largest increase among the seven Valkyrie titles on the mainland. Even if it is ranked separately according to the degree of combat effectiveness increase, it can also be ranked third.

So the event attended by Asuna. Sean doesn't think she will lose.

As for the Ryan Sword, there is nothing for him on the list of outstanding generals, so in terms of actual command and combat, it is very likely to lose. It's just that the real power of the Lion's sword is that he is still a strong man in the sanctuary. In real battles, he will always lead the charge, so if you want to confront this general, you need to arrange a saint at the very least. The domain-level powerhouse can be restrained.

So even if he loses in the event, other countries will not underestimate such a commander.

Basically, Ryan singled out these two men in the military match, and it can be said that he is basically invincible. And there is one more point. On the Marvel Continent, a new leaderboard will be released about every five years. At this time, it has been more than five years since the last announcement, so the latest update should also be released in the near future. Spread out. Of course, if something unexpected happens midway, there will be a temporary update.

This time the list ranking, Sean knew that William could definitely be on the list, because in the game, the name William Yale officially appeared on the stage in the offensive and defensive battle between Darbion and Ryan. As for people like Menso Helian and Hela Garcia, although they did not become famous at this time, but this time it was because of Sean's disturbance that caused these people to be on the stage of history in advance, so this time The names of these people will definitely appear in the rankings.

Of course, the ranking may not be too high.

But no matter whether it is high or low, as long as it can squeeze into the top 100 generals on this continent, it must be an absolute deterrent.

So the real highlight is the event that shows personal strength. This is also the real reason why the name Martial Arts comes from.

Sean thinks that he wants to win the silver championship is not a problem, after all, his title of the strongest silver is not blown out.

But the silver competition is at best to show the potential of this country in terms of young people, and it is the ability to compete in the future. It is imperative that we want to dispel the aggressive attitude of the invaders of various countries, we still have to work hard in the gold group event. Only the more people who have emerged in this event, can we explain how powerful a country's individual combat capability is at this stage. .

After all, whether it is the Kingdom of France or the Kingdom of Hales, or the Duchy of Robin or the United Nations of the Carrosa tribe, the strongest person that can be dispatched is the level of the sanctuary. Therefore, when the number of sanctuary powers is equal and checks and balances each other, the competition is the army level and the number and combat capabilities of the golden realm powers. Therefore, if the Lion Kingdom can show more stronger and more outstanding golden realm powerhouses in the gold group, then other hostile countries will have to weigh their losses.

Because even if these four countries are united, the first country to do it will definitely lose a lot.

At that time, the allies from the previous moment may become the enemy stabbed in the back in the next moment.

Ingus Lane, the meaning of His Majesty has been very clear, that is, hope that all followers of Sean now can play. This ownership naturally refers to the two elves including Marton and Winia. In the eyes of King Ingus, these two people are followers of Shaun, so their identities are the people of Ryan. , Contributing to Ryan is also a matter of course.

But in fact, these two people are not really followers of Sean.

But it was difficult for Sean to explain this kind of thing to King Ryan, so he had to ask the two for their opinions.

Fortunately, whether it is Mardoon or Venia, it has nothing to do with it, and Sean can be regarded as finding the problem with these two highland elves.

Single-celled organisms.

For Vinia, white is white and black is black. There is no gray. Since she doesn't understand anything in human society, and now she has an "alliance" relationship with Sean, so for Sean's arrangement, Vinia felt that it was not too excessive, so he could accept it; and Marton, because of Princess Saloqi's orders, so he must unconditionally obey all the orders of Sean, of course, there is a prerequisite that does not harm the interests of the Xuefeng tribe. .

This makes Sean think that these two knives seem to be very useful.

So after finishing the two people, Sean asked the butler to contact the Marquis of Flores and asked him to help declare the list. All six people, including himself, were all ready to participate in this martial arts individual competition. middle.

Before that, Sean had to solve a problem.

"Lord Lord, are you looking for me?" Rina stood in front of Xiao En, her aura was already well restrained, so that no one could see anything unusual.

Chapter 56: .Porter Tavern

In the small tavern, the laughter resounded like waves crashing on the shore, without stopping.

The area of this tavern is not large. If it is full, only about eight or nine round tables can be placed. Based on the calculation of four guests per table, it can only entertain 36 guests at most. However, if you count the single or double seats on the stage and the walls on the left and right sides, you can still entertain nearly fifty guests. It's just this amount, compared to many other taverns in the capital, it is really shabby and crude.

However, since this tavern is opened in a slum, its popularity is still very high.

Almost every night, this tavern will be completely full, which makes many people who come late can only sigh with excitement.

Of course, since it is a tavern in a slum, there must be some small confusion here.

For example, relying on force, number of people, etc. to seize the table.

However, these have nothing to do with Sean at this time.

A silver coin was thrown on the stage.

It bounced a few times on the stage, and when it was about to roll off the edge of the stage, it was suddenly caught by a big hand. Immediately afterwards, this hand retracted at a lightning speed, and even the silver coin on the stage disappeared.

"What's a drink?" A rough voice rang along with the disappearance of the silver coin.

"A glass of golden Roland." Standing on the other side of the stage, a young black-haired young man pulled a chair a little away, then sat down calmly, "Add honey and ice, and sprinkle some mint leaf."

"The season now. Add mint and ice and honey, be careful of the cold." The bartender in the counter and a middle-aged man who also serves as the wine owner raised his eyebrows slightly.

This is a person who is not very tall. The height is about less than one meter and seven, and compared to the strong and powerful bosses of ordinary taverns, this boss looks very thin. But even such a thin person, his voice still has a strong penetrating power in this tumultuous wine.

"I heard that your spicy meat here is very good." The black-haired young man chuckled softly, "So I won't be afraid of the cold."

"A cup of special gold Roland and a portion of spicy meat, this silver coin is not enough." The wine owner hummed lightly.

The young man with black hair is naturally Sean.

I saw that Sean took out another silver coin from his body at this time. But this time he did not flick the silver coin onto the stage, but gently put it on it, and then pushed it over: "Is it enough?"

"Wait a minute." The wine owner exhaled. Put away this silver coin, then turn around and get busy.

Sean waited with a smile on his face.

His elbows of both hands are supported on the stage, crossed, and his chin rests on the back of his hands. Began to observe this wine.

This is the reward link for his current tasks.

The task is actually not difficult. It's just very troublesome, anyway, it's nothing more than running errands, fighting monsters and the like. But at the beginning, Sean still ignored some details that are different from reality, so some small oolongs came out.

Imagine that a duke who is now almost at the pinnacle of power suddenly ran into a commoner's house. What was it like?

So even at this moment, in the tavern in this slum, Sean is a little bit more disorganized.

certainly. This disguise technique is really not that good.

At least people who are familiar and close to Sean can easily find the disguise on Sean. To this. Sean can only express helplessness. After all, Eli Kate is not following by his side at this time, so that kind of magical disguise is naturally impossible, and at this time, following Sean is the only one who knows some disguise skills. There was only Rina who was once a mercenary. What could Sean force for?

Following the task flow to this step, you can buy a cup of gold Roland and a special spicy meat at the price of two silver coins in this tavern.

Just like the "blade" and "good wine" that Sean drank in Andrew's hotel, the two delicacies of Golden Roland and Special Spicy Meat can also bring players a proficiency point when they eat for the first time. , And compared with the expensive prices of sharp blades and fine wines, two silver coins are still very easy to accept. The only problem is that the process of this task is more troublesome. It took Sean three days to complete it. Fortunately, it is finally time to harvest.

Soon, Golden Roland and the special spicy meat were brought up by the tavern owner.

Golden Roland, is a kind of rum with Roland orchid, the liquid presents a light amber color, and it emits not a strong aroma of wine but a fragrance of flowers and plants. After adding honey, the liquid of this wine will be golden yellow, which looks like liquid gold, plus it exudes sweet honey and mint flavors, so it is also called Golden Roland.

As for the special spicy meat, it is very visually impactful at first glance.

The sauce topped on a large piece of steak is crimson, but there is no other color at all. It's just the smell from the sauce, but it's not very choking. On the contrary, it has a rich aroma that makes you appetite. And when the knife is cut, it feels that the meat is very tender, this kind of tenderness. It is almost like tofu, and its production method is far beyond normal people's imagination.

It's just that when Sean took the first bite, he instantly experienced a taste stimulus that was completely different from that in the game.

At that moment, he only felt that his mouth was filled with magma.

.....

This dinner took longer than Sean imagined to finally be resolved.

Of course, the final cost is definitely more than two silver coins, but a whole gold coin.

The portion of the special spicy pork steak is very generous, and it has to be more than five or six catties, and the charge is only a silver coin, which is very cost-effective in every aspect. But usually no one in this tavern would order this food. It is purely because if you want to enjoy this food, you need to spend several times the cost to solve the spiciness-like Sean's solution, that is, nine cups of golden Roland.

certainly. Even if Sean drank nine cups of Golden Roland, the proficiency point he could actually obtain was only a little.

However, after eating and drinking enough, Sean felt several ill-intentioned glances.

In the slums, the standard for people here to judge strength is whether the body is strong enough, or whether it is fierce enough.

Sean, no matter how you look at it, there is obviously a big gap between him and the people in the slums in judging whether they are strong enough. Therefore, it is natural for those who think that they have a little bit of strength to look at Sean. After all, the standard of living in the poor is like one or two gold coins a month, and Sean is obviously a big fat sheep whether he is dressed or looking at his consumption level tonight.

To say that no one is moving. That was obviously joking.

However, for these ordinary people who are not even "apprentices", Sean doesn't care at all.

He tapped the stage lightly, and the sound of his fingers tapping on it was light and heavy. There seems to be a unique law. Ordinary people probably sound like a simplified version of the melody of a piano score. But it sounds obviously different to the tavern owner.

"Boss, do you have any good job introduction?"

"I'm just a tavern owner, can I introduce you to any job." The tavern said without looking up while wiping the cup in his hand.

"Old Potter said that you not only have good food, but also good food." Shaun said softly, and at the same time handed out a gold coin from his hand.

This is the last link to start the tavern mission.

The task of running errands that Sean spent three days on was of course not purely for gaining two proficiency points.

His real purpose is to start the "Underground Mission in Potter Pub" system. For this reason, he had to complete the predecessor of this task, "Old Porter's Errand". The task reward, in addition to gaining two proficiency points. Another reward is to open this underground mission system.

As one of the three dark kings who are as famous as the Marquis of Floris, Old Potter's underground mission is the easiest mission system to open, unlike other dark kings that need to go through a very cumbersome mission process before they can be opened. Although in terms of rewards, the other two Dark Kings' underground mission rewards are very generous, but those are actually basically equipment rewards, which don't make much sense for people like Sean.

On the contrary, most of Old Potter's underground missions are rewards such as proficiency points and attribute points, which are more attractive to the current Sean.

Although there is no time limit for the mission of "Old Porter's Errand", in fact, if the mission is completed in a shorter time, the higher the evaluation from Old Potter will be, so once it is officially opened" After the "underground missions in the Potter Tavern" system, the level of missions that can be accepted at the beginning will be higher. On the contrary, you must start from low-level tasks, and gradually accumulate evaluation to be able to accept more advanced tasks.

Like Sean, he completed the tasks assigned by Old Potter in three days. Now he can directly accept the A-level tasks in this tavern, instead of starting from the F-level tasks. This saved a lot of time for Xiao En, because at this time, there was only half a month left before the Martial Fight Festival, and he had to increase his personal strength as soon as possible within these ten days.

Because just the day before yesterday, the Marquis of Flores had sent a copy of the information on the list of players in the silver group from various countries.

There are several opponents that Sean needs to treat carefully.

From the tavern owner, after Sean chose an A-level contract task, he turned and left this simple tavern in the slum.

At this time, a few brawny men also got up.

"Aru, if I were you, I would definitely not provoke that guy." Seeing that one of the strong men who got up was regarded as a regular customer, the tavern owner couldn't help but reminded him, "That's not something you can deal with. People."

"Little Potter, what is wrong with that skinny monkey." Hearing the words of the tavernkeeper, one of the strong men grinned disapprovingly, "Bring us some golden Roland, we will come back soon to taste. Yes... The last time I drank this thing I almost forgot it was a few years ago."

"Oh." Seeing these brawny men did not mean to stop, the tavern owner looked at their back and shook his head helplessly.

"Boss, do you need me to go out and have a look?" A maid with glamorous makeup next to her asked in a low voice while she returned to the stage to pack her things.

"No need." Little Potter shook his head, "People who can be directly approved by the father to accept the superior contract, don't need your help....Be careful when you go and be killed as an enemy by the other party."

"No?" The maid's eyes widened in surprise, "That little guy actually..."

"En." Xiaobo nodded, "If I guessed correctly, that person should be the Void Duke." At this point, the tavern owner reminded again: "What happened tonight, you remember to tell others by the way. People, just assume they haven't seen anything, you know? We can't afford to provoke such a big man."

Chapter 57: .Rena's Plan

Contract missions, whether in the game or in the real world, are common mission types.

In other words, the mass mission.

Like mercenaries and adventurers, they can occasionally receive such contract tasks in their respective guilds. Of course, these contract tasks such as adventurers and mercenaries basically have a relatively high level of competitiveness, so often even F-level tasks often have a certain degree of mortality.

But for mercenaries and adventurers, if you die, you can only blame yourself for inferior skills. As for whether there will be revenge, it is another matter.

In the classification of task levels, only players can see tasks such as f-level and a-level. For NPCs, the judgment is the classification of upper-level contracts, middle-level contracts, and lower-level contracts. For example, a-level tasks are the superior contract; b-level and c-level tasks belong to the middle-level contract; and then the three levels of d-level, e-level, and f-level are the lower-level contracts.

On top of the superior contract, there is also a special contract, which is commonly known as the s-level task in the player's mouth.

However, this type of s-level task usually requires the cooperation of several people to complete, basically there is no single person that can complete it. And basically all s-level tasks will not appear on the taskbar, but it is possible to receive such tasks through specific summoning methods.

Like Sean, if he can receive the A-level quest in the Potter Tavern, he has already reached the top. In the eyes of Old Porter and Little Porter, Sean's situation can only be regarded as a novice. When there are s-level tasks, they will not consider Sean in the first time.

this is the truth.

In the dark night, Xiao En walked out of an alley, behind him, a faint smell of blood filled the air.

In the alley. There were six bodies lying in total.

No more, no less, just in line with the number of brawny men who left the Potter Tavern behind Sean.

Originally for such a person, Sean also felt that it was unnecessary to kill them all, so it would be fine to teach a little lesson. Because he knew that the slum area was originally an area that believed in the law of the jungle, and it was more naked than the outside world. It's just that for those people who have been malicious and still want to kill, then Sean feels that he has no need to keep his hands. Of course, he is not cruel or frantic enough to get pleasure from ravaging opponents.

Each of these six brawny men was killed by a direct blow, without wasting even a little bit of energy.

"My lord." After coming out of the alley and passing a corner, Rena walked out from the shadow of the corner next to him, and followed Xiao En.

"Are you familiar with the terrain of the royal capital?" Xiao En asked.

"Yes." Rina nodded.

Every time you go to a new place, if it is determined to be stationed or staying for a long time. Then familiarity with the terrain is the first priority for mercenaries or adventurers. Although Rina, who was born as a mercenary, now has her own title and title, she still maintains many of the habits of the mercenary period. These good habits have allowed her to gain a lot of benefits in many aspects.

So these days, although Rena is also visiting the capital like everyone else, she has also clearly engraved almost all the terrain in the entire capital in her mind.

"I need you to help me develop a course of action." Sean said softly. "I just got a mission..."

"Mission?" Rina looked at Sean in an incredible way.

As Sean's current status, the only person who can give him tasks is probably the current King Ryan. But at this time, Sean didn't leave the palace. Naturally, it was impossible for King Ryan to visit privately, so it was really difficult for Rina to understand what Shaun was talking about.

Seeing Rina's appearance, Sean knew what Rina was thinking, and explained with a smile: "It's just a little extra money, not a big task. In fact, it's just killing someone."

"Will this affect you, my lord?" Rina frowned slightly and said in a deep voice, "After all, in your current identity..."

"No." Xiao En shook his head, "Unless someone who is familiar with me, it is difficult to recognize me who is there.... This time the target person is not a big person, just an ordinary businessman. I just pick it up. I got an assassination commission, so I kill individuals. As for other details, disputes, or other things, I don't want to think and pay attention."

"If this is the case, my lord, please leave this task to me." Rina whispered.

"No, I'll be fine." Xiao En shook his head and refused.

Contract missions like this one need to be completed by the person who accepts the mission in exchange for rewards. Although I don't know what is going on. However, at the beginning, someone in the game actually asked relatives and friends to help solve the task goal, but after the death of the task goal, he himself could not complete the task, and it directly showed that the task failed. So even though it was in the real world, Sean still didn't dare to risk Rena to try.

After all, this task is related to the reward of five proficiency points.

is considered the most rewarding task in the Potter Tavern, and then there are three tasks with proficiency rewards, namely three points and two points.

In other words, if Sean has good hands and feet, then he can swipe four tasks that can increase proficiency points in the Potter Tavern, and finally get ten proficiency points, plus the previous ones from Saloqi Snow. The two that Feng started with were a total of twelve points of proficiency. Although this was six points away from the eighteen proficiency points that Sean expected to increase his agility, he did not expect to be able to gain eighteen proficiency points before the start of the battle festival.

For the remaining nearly half a month, Sean only prepared three to five days to remove these four tasks to increase proficiency. In the remaining nearly ten days, Sean was going to use it to transform his dead bones. . Although intuition made Sean feel that the dead bones will definitely involve a huge task, maybe it may even be an epic or even mythical task, but in the current situation where there is no sufficient clues, Sean really does not bother to explore. NS.

Of course, the most important thing is that judging from the current clues, this task might have to find a demon lord or demon commander in trouble.

Existence like this is already an existence beyond legend.

In the game, it is said that ranks above twelve are the updated content after the sixth expansion.

One can imagine how difficult the task is.

So Sean only thought for a while and decided to give up.

Under Shaun's description, Rena quickly recognized where Shaun was going to perform the task.

"Rosahn Hall." Rina said, "I think this is the best place to start."

"Reason."

"This is a high-end guild hall, basically a place that recognizes money but does not recognize people. Although it will definitely be very strict in guarding, it also gives us enough opportunities." Rena opened the analysis and said, "No matter what your status is as an adult, as long as you have enough money, then you can get enough space and authority for action here."

"Not bad." Xiao En nodded with satisfaction, "But this hall seems to allow entourage to enter."

"Yes." Rena nodded, "but basically there are places for the entourage to rest. As long as the adult your target person is not resting in a public place, then his entourage can only rest and wait in a specific place. , This is your chance, my lord."

"What about the evacuation route?" Sean thought for a while, and found that the idea provided by Rena was still very concise and clear, and the most important thing was that the feasibility was great. Although the randomness and unexpectedness were not low, in this respect Shang Shaun doesn't think it will be too troublesome, because he can use player experience to make up for these problems.

"Because of something in the guild hall itself, this guild hall has a total of six exits, including two underground underground passages." Rena said like a few treasures, "but sir, you don't need to leave the underground underground passage, you You can leave from the south side. After exiting, pass the corner and you can enter Earl's Avenue. There is an Earl's Square where many people gather around the clock."

Places with large crowds are indeed very suitable for tracking or other unexpected situations that may be pursued.

At this point, Rena's theory is naturally correct.

It's just that Sean can't judge whether this is caused by Rena's past survival experience, or is it a abilities trained by William. But in any case, the ability that Rina now masters has completely demonstrated that Rina is now a very qualified commander.

"I understand, just do what you said." Sean thought for a while, and found that he really couldn't think of a better way, so he nodded in agreement.

"One more thing, adults, please remember." Rina said very seriously.

"What?" Sean asked.

"There are four roads leading to Earls Court, two of which are very prosperous roads, one is a road directly out of the city, and one leads to a slum." Rina looked at Shaun and said very carefully. "Regardless of the circumstances, adults, you can't choose these ways to leave."

"so?"

"Sir, you must choose a place where no one can find you, remove all your disguise and possible clues, and then choose a place to rest.... At that time, I will pick you up with Master Cecilia ."

Hearing Rina's words, Sean instantly understood what she meant.

Reverse Thinking!

Chapter 58: .Rosane Hall

Roshan Hall, this is a very high-end hall.

This guild hall is located in the center of the relatively prosperous business district in the capital. With the scale of the capital's prosperity, the traffic in the business district alone is about 100,000 people per day. It is conceivable how many gold coins will be brought to Ryan in tax revenue every day. . However, it is also because the business district is extremely active here, so of course there are not too few people who are eyeing this land. Basically, all aristocrats with a little bit of strength want to get a piece of the pie here.

And the floor area of the Luoshan Hall is no less than the scale of the large aristocratic mansions on Lane Seventh Avenue, and it is naturally impossible to look at it less. However, after so many years, the Luoshan Guild Hall still stands in this golden inch of soil for so many years, and there has never been anyone who dared to make trouble. It is conceivable how powerful the manipulator behind it is.

Although before coming, Sean also wanted to go and investigate the real people behind the hall.

It's just that Sean, three people who are good at spying on intelligence, like Ruby, Avery Kate, and Sigley, has not been brought out, so if you only rely on Rena, it may take at least several months to be able to find out. This is the result of Rina's current intelligence collection and analysis capabilities. If it were the same Rina who had just started to follow Sean, she might not be able to succeed even if she was given a few years.

So Sean naturally gave up this idea.

Anyway, his goal was not the owner of the club or the real behind-the-scenes owner, and the information given by the Potter Tavern did not involve any trace of the club. So Sean can judge that his target person is just a regular visitor to and from the hall.

Roshan Hall, Sean had been before and in the future, but after listening to Rena's detailed account, he finally knew what the club was doing.

To put it simply, this is a salon similar to the one on Earth with complete functions and facilities. Of course, in a world like the Marvel Continent, some things will definitely be modified, but on the whole, many functions of the salon are still preserved.

And the higher the grade hall. Naturally, the charges will be higher.

In halls like Luo Xian, he adopts a membership system to limit the threshold of entry and exit.

There are a total of four hierarchical systems in the entire hall. The highest level is naturally the owner of the hall and the real big figures who need him to curry favor. At this time, Sean also remembered, before he became one of the seven dukes of Ryan. This club sent itself a beautifully crafted membership card. If you have this membership card, you can move freely in all areas of the Luoshan Hall.

But today, Sean was obviously here to kill, so he did not intend to use this membership card, but reissued one.

The membership card located in the third tier is the highest-level membership card that can be exchanged for money. Basically, except for the fourth floor area of the clubhouse, the independent backyard and the third underground floor area cannot be accessed, other places can be unblocked. Unobstructed.

And such a membership card, you have to pay 30,000 gold coins as membership fees every year.

This number is an astronomical figure for many people, but for the nobles and wealthy merchants in the capital who have nothing to do with their meals. It is still in a state of being able to pay. So many people buy such a membership card for the sake of face and a little vanity.

However, the target person that Sean wants to kill this time is not a big person of this level, so he handles the same second-tier membership card as the target person.

The annual fee is 10,000 gold coins.

Of course, the free movement area is naturally subject to further restrictions.

But this also allows Sean to reduce the search area.

The interior of the hall is a very typical European retro decoration.

Although the architectural style and decoration style of Miracle Continent are basically European style. But in fact, according to the preferences of those architects, there will be more or less different details and performances. Of course, this refers to the same type of architectural style, but in fact, on the Marvel Continent today, the architectural style actually presents a situation similar to the blossoming of a hundred flowers. At least three architectural style schools are in line with today's human vision and trends. Big category.

The current mainstream architectural style on the southern continent was formed by a master named Sybas about a hundred years ago. Therefore, this architectural style is also called Sebastian architectural style. However, in Sean's eyes, this so-called architectural style is actually no different from the Rococo architectural style. It uses a large number of relatively abstract architectural colors, which are characterized by gorgeous, exquisite, slender and complicated, and there are more decoration styles. A kind of hollow and trivial.

However, considering that this master named Sebas once studied under an elf who is also a master architect, it is natural that this style will be born.

But the Luoshan Hall is in architectural style or decoration style. It is a more retro architectural style.

Marisu architectural style.

This is an architectural style that only began to emerge after the Ashes, so it is also called the Revival style.

This style likes magnificent colors, carvings and decorations. It is characterized by freedom of appearance and pursuit of dynamics. It is almost the most gorgeous and beautiful architectural style of all architectural styles so far. Even if the design is cumbersome, it must be deliberately pursued. This style. There is a shocking aura that is so solemn. In the architectural world, the influence of this style is second only to the Gothic architectural style of the Ashes. Even today, it is still the mainstream architectural style of many elven tribes, even many of them including the Sebastian architectural style. The magnificent architectural styles are all developed from the architectural style of Mary Su.

The decoration of the entire hall hall is almost all with gold and red as the background color, presenting an extremely rich and tall atmosphere.

There are not a few people resting in the hall at this time, but the breath radiating from almost everyone reveals a tyrannical blood. Except for a very small number of people who would sit together, chat, drink, and play cards, everyone else would keep a proper distance, would not approach randomly, and was obviously very vigilant-even though Sean didn't when he came in. He found that someone was looking at him, but at this moment he still felt that more than half of the people were looking at him.

However, these gazes are not hostile, and they are basically alert.

Sean knew that this hall was the so-called bodyguard rest area.

is located at the left and right ends of the hall, and each has a room, where not only some equipment that can be used for sports are placed. There are also many foods. However, the quality of the food is naturally impossible to be as high as possible. Basically, it is mainly based on barbecues, supplemented by some fruits and simple drinks.

In fact, not everyone can bring bodyguards in.

Like the first-tier membership card, bodyguards are not allowed. The second tier can bring one, the third tier can bring two, and the fourth tier is free. Of course, the bodyguards brought by the big-faced figures of the fourth class will naturally not rest in this hall. There is also a lounge dedicated to bodyguards on the fourth floor of the hall, and the grades of various food and drinks must be improved. high.

These gazes did not stay on Sean for long. After realizing that Sean had only the upper silver strength, many people had completely ignored him.

Lane Kingdom, although the number of gold powerhouses is not as large as those of the countries with a solid foundation, this only refers to the amount of upper-level gold. The number of low-level gold powerhouses still has two or three hundred people, and of course, the upper-level gold powerhouses also have more than one hundred people. However, how many of these people can be truly strong is open to question.

Ignoring these people, Sean quickly left the place.

His destination was the third floor of a separate building located in the southwest of the Guild Hall.

This is one of the places where members of the second-level authority can get involved.

According to the information provided by the Potter Tavern, this is the place that Sean's target person-Robert visits every day. Because he has a very favorite dancer here. So he spends most of the day in this place almost every day, no matter how busy he is, there will be no exceptions. In fact, if it weren't for his wife who is very domineering and also has a power that is not inferior to him, he might really bring this dancer home.

According to the investigation of the big businessman by the Potter Tavern, the businessman named Robert controls three secret transportation channels, and is connected with the Black Hawk, one of the three underground kings of Ryan, because two of the secret transportation channels are made by the black eagle. Provided by Eagle. But actually. These channels, as well as the protection and contact of the Black Hawk, are in fact the credit of his wife, and Robert just sits on it.

The network of relationships and intelligence in it, if you really want to investigate it in depth, it must be a busy clue.

But after the Potter Tavern determined that Robert and Black Hawk did not have any direct contact, they stopped further investigation. Instead, he accepted the commission. It's just that the intelligence has clearly indicated that this businessman named Robert has a very powerful bodyguard next to him. It is conservatively estimated that he is at least the level of the upper gold power, and may even be the upper gold peak.

And most importantly, Robert also applied for a membership card for the bodyguard. So no matter where they are, the bodyguard and Robert are actually inseparable.

This is the real tricky place.

"Is Miss Wei Er here?" Stepping into the courtyard of this independent building, Xiao En asked what seemed to be an information desk.

However, what Shaun said was in exchange for the chuckle of the young and beautiful woman opposite, which made Shaun a little confused.

"Your Excellency, are you here for the first time?" the other party asked with a smile.

"Yes." Sean has nothing to conceal about this. Anyway, as long as he kills Robert, his identity will definitely no longer be used, so it doesn't matter if it is exposed. The most important thing is that no one knows. He is the Duke of the Void Sean Connery.

In fact, if it is not to prevent his true identity from being exposed, and at the same time he does not want to turn his face with the owner of this club, Xiao En simply does not bother to do so much unnecessary work. With his strength, as long as Rena entangles the opponent's bodyguard, Sean will be able to solve the target character simply and neatly. It is also necessary to disguise, to explore the way, and to prepare to escape.

For players, how can there be so much trouble.

It's just Sean but couldn't do it.

Because when he became the Void Duke, whether he brought it into the royal capital or not, he has become the focus of the entire Kingdom of Ryan. Especially those like Rena, Venia, and Marton, because of their recent activity in the capital, no one in the capital does not know these people, so their appearance will naturally result in Sean. Bring some unnecessary troubles.

Similarly, so does Cecilia.

Because for the outside world. Cecilia's full name is Cecilia Connery, not Cecilia Rembel.

"This gentleman, in our place, there is no stipulation which dancer must serve whom." This woman who is very capable of arousing desire in both body and appearance continued to explain with a smile. "As a guest, you can indeed choose dancers, but at the same time we dancers also have the right to choose guests.... Therefore, whether we can make dancers willing to dance for you or take you back to the room, it depends on the guest. Skilled."

Speaking of this, maybe it is the first time that Sean has come to this kind of place. This woman who seems to be also a dancer leaned forward slightly, revealing the spring light on her chest.

The vocabulary that appeared in Sean's mind instantly was only majestic and spectacular.

"However, as for Wei Er, no matter how hard you work, it is impossible for her to perform dances for you. So you still don't want to humiliate yourself." When the dancer smiled, there will be two little girls on her face. The dimple looks unusually sweet, "Why don't you, sister, let's do a dance for you."

"Why can't Miss Wei Er work? I was outside but heard that her dance is the best here. That's why I wanted to come and see it." Xiao En deliberately pretended to be stupid.

"Ville's dance is indeed one of the best in our place, but her dance is only performed by one person." Suddenly there was a voice of sweet laughter next to her, "But it's a pity that you are not that person."

"Why?" Sean pretended to be puzzled, "If it's money, I have a lot!"

"Comparing money with Mr. Robert, this is really the funniest joke I have ever seen."

"Even if you can compare money with Mr. Robert. You may not be able to make Weier dance. Wasn't there an earl who was called to make Weier dance last time? As a result, he was not driven away by Mr. Robert."

"Yes, yeah, I really envy Weier."

Perhaps he could see that Sean was a stunned young bird, and soon there were a lot of dancers coming up here.

These dancers are not necessarily outstanding in appearance, but they are definitely enchanting and good in temperament, and each of them has a faint fragrance on their bodies. This kind of breath is not strong, but it is just right and refreshing. Obviously, the Luoshan Guild Hall definitely invested a lot of money in these dancers, and the origins of these dancers can naturally be imagined.

In the slave market, there are such slave trades. And the price is usually not that expensive.

"So, now you should understand why you can't see Wei Er." It was the dancer that Shaun first asked about.

"What Robert, I've never heard of it." Shaun's performance at this time is like an aristocratic young master who refuses to admit defeat and is a little stubborn. "I must let Wei Er dance for me. Tell me where you are. If you can see Wei Er, I will give her a reward for the first person to say it."

"I know I know, it's in the room to the north of the second floor." A dancer with a slightly round face smiled and said.

"Annie." The dancer who first talked to Sean turned her head immediately, her voice was a little low, and she could clearly hear a bit of anger.

"What are you afraid of." The dancer named Annie was snorted by the dancer, and her voice became timid, but she was still a little unconvinced.

So Xiao En knew that the dancer he had spoken to might not have a low status here, maybe even the manager of this building might be possible. Her existence should be to avoid conflicts between some guests who come here for the first time and other guests, or any unexpected and unexpected occurrences, so according to the conventional inference, this dancer should also have some strength, at least it should be Huang Jinqiang. By.

But Sean couldn't feel any strong breath in her body, so there were only two possibilities.

One is that she really does not know any martial arts or magic, and the other is that she has something on her body that can shield her from induction.

If it is the former, Sean can still ignore the opponent, but if it is the latter, then Sean feels that he should be careful. With his current strength, if all his cards are fully used, he can still fight a high-level golden power in three to five minutes, but if he deals with two at the same time, even he has to retreat. especially. He still doesn't know the true strength of that Robert's bodyguard, so from the very beginning, Sean put the opponent's strength at the strongest level.

However, since Sean is doing a show at this time, of course he has to make a full set.

He took out a gold voucher worth 10,000 gold coins from him. Then he threw it to the dancer named Annie, and this action immediately caused the dancers around to exclaim.

"I, my words always count." Sean snorted pretentiously, and then began to move towards the second floor.

As a result, the dancer who first talked to Sean couldn't help but frown. Although she tried to stop it, she had to retreat when she felt that Sean was really impatient. As a result, she could only look back at Annie fiercely, so that the dancers around who were still a little envious of Annie getting a big reward were also very clear. This money is probably very hot, and no one will envy it anymore.

"What are you still doing? Don't hurry up and invite Mr. Seya over!"

For Robert's temperament, these dancers are very clear about what will happen next. You don't need to think about them. Therefore, when the dancer who was guessed by Sean as a manager spoke, the dancer named Annie did not dare to stay here, and hurriedly turned around and ran towards the door. I hope that the farce caused by my own mischievous mentality just now will not become out of control, otherwise it will only be her that is bad.

The atmosphere at the door instantly became somewhat depressed and stagnant.

Fortunately, there are almost no guests in this building at this time. Apart from Robert, there are only one or two guests upstairs, so it will not cause other problems. But if it really turns into a conflict between two guests, then no matter which guest has the problem, it will definitely be the dancers who will be punished in the end.

Because of Robert, but he is a character who can retire even the real power earl.

And a guest who is willing to give a reward is 10,000 gold coins, how can his identity be so simple?

All the dancers are looking forward to it. That Seya can come over quickly.

However, at this time, Sean didn't know these things, although it would make him more likely to find an excuse to make things happen, but the results that will appear right now are much bigger than Sean had imagined. Because the dancers at the entrance of the first floor are now anxiously spinning around like ants on a hot pot. Even the dancer who Sean thought should be the manager didn't know what to do.

But no matter what other people think or look at, Sean is now standing outside the room on the north side of the second floor.

There is still ten meters away from the door of the room.

The door was not guarded, but when Xiao En stepped forward again and shortened the distance to nine meters, a man who was only about 1.5 meters tall suddenly blocked the door. In this world where the average height of men is at least over 1.75 meters, men with only 1.65 meters like this are usually short, and they are often despised or even despised.

But when Sean saw this man, he stopped in an instant and stopped going forward.

Because of the breath emanating from the opponent, Sean felt an extremely dangerous feeling.

It is a terrible breath that has been honed after countless life and death battles.

All this is enough to prove that even if the strength of this short man is only high-ranking gold, he can never be treated as an ordinary gold powerhouse, because in terms of actual combat ability, he is enough to surpass the level of waste in the main entrance hall of the guild hall. .

"Boy, this is not a place where you can approach." The short man, after a glance at Sean, said in a deep voice, "No matter how big your background is, if you go one step further, I will treat your behavior as It's a declaration of war..."

The chill instantly exploded on Sean's body.

From the eyes of this short man, Sean did not see any contempt of the opponent at all, even if the breath he exuded at this time indicated that he was only a master of the upper silver pinnacle, but the opponent still did not relax at all.

Sean knew that his plan of action was slightly off course.

But in the next instant, his fighting spirit became intense: after being in this world for so long, he finally appeared a third opponent who could make him serious.

Chapter 59: .White-hot temptation

Slightly surprised appeared in the eyes of the slightly short man.

The strong fighting spirit emanating from Xiao En's body, he can naturally feel it too.

Because of this, there is so much surprise in his eyes.

After all, the strength between the two sides has a completely insurmountable gap: there is a huge difference between the upper silver and the upper gold. If this were not the case, there would not be a difference between a master and a strong one. What's more, no matter who sees this short man at the moment, he will never regard him as an ordinary high-ranking golden powerhouse, because the aura on his body is really terrifying.

Even Sean has only seen this kind of breath in five people so far.

Demonized Mario, Furious Silver, William on the battlefield, Rina at the time of Dragonization, and Bass.

The first place, has died under the sword of Sean.

This is also the first enemy that Sean took when he came to this world to take it seriously and use his best to defeat him.

The second place, also has died under the sword of Sean.

This is the second enemy that Sean defeated after he came to this world and let him really use all means.

In this long period of nearly three years, so many things have been experienced, but only these two people made Sean really serious. Afterwards, even if it was the dispute on the black market in the gray shadows, or the decapitation tactics against Hela, or even the fight in other situations, although Sean could use his cards to the full, his attitude was never serious. .

until today.

On the short man in front of him. Xiao En finally smelled the breath that could make the blood in his body completely boil.

That is a real death threat, just like Mario and Silver back then.

"You actually want to fight me?" The short man truly felt that Sean's fighting spirit was serious, and his eyes were a little bit more surprised.

"If you want to get out of the way." Sean shrugged. "Maybe we can live together peacefully."

The face of the short man changed abruptly, the aura on his body instantly became strong, and the whole person was as fierce and fierce as a sword out of its sheath. He took a sudden step forward, and the invisible momentum surged like a wave, and at this moment it was howling like a gust of wind, and Xiao En could even feel the tingling sensation on his face like a knife.

"You are here for Mr. Robert!" The short man's face became very gloomy.

Shaun did not look at the man, but looked sideways at the wall beside him.

Under the man's almost-like aura. There have been traces of cracks on the surrounding walls, and these traces are constantly expanding. Seeing this, Sean's eyes also officially became bitter. At least he could already infer from this the real strength of the short man in front of him.

The upper golden peak, not far from the half-step sanctuary.

"Yes." Sean did not deny it.

He already knew that a-level tasks were never so simple.

In the game, the a-level missions are prepared for players of the seventh and eighth levels, which means that this mission is a gold-level mission. normal situation. If the strength has not reached the gold level. Even if the task evaluation is high enough, there is no way to receive these tasks. But Marvel Continent is not a game after all, and Sean is not a person in this world, so in the case of cheating using game knowledge, Sean will naturally be able to receive such A-level tasks that require strong strength.

The short man in front of him is equivalent to the final boss in the mission.

As long as he can successfully defeat him, then the so-called mission goal Robert is naturally not a problem. Even in Sean's view, that Robert was just an ordinary person, probably not even an apprentice. So the real difficulty lies in the short man in front of him.

Hear Sean's official confirmation. The short man clenched his hands tightly, and the diffuse aura suddenly shrank back, and the air became heavy and suppressed.

The next second, the man disappeared from Sean's sight.

Move quickly!

After clarifying the purpose of Sean, the man acted decisively. He did not despise Sean because he was only a superior silver. On the contrary, he acted with all his strength.

Sean's reaction is also not slow.

Almost aware of the disappearance of the short man, Sean sprinted out, not retreating but advancing.

At the same time, his right hand was slightly raised, the storage ring flashed with an imperceptible light, and the dead bones were already tightly held by Sean. In the next moment, Xiao En, who was still rushing forward, swung his right hand backwards suddenly, and a sharp whistling sound was emitted in the air, and a piece of black sword light spread out, completely covering the space behind Xiao En. The invisible sword energy raged wildly in the air.

"break!"

Although the short man has a short stature, his voice is not weak at all.

Under the bell-like roar, there was a crisp sound like glass shattering in the air, dense and ear-piercing.

But Sean's heart sank suddenly.

This attack of invisible sword energy was a sword skill he had comprehended from the soul. Of course, judging from the current situation, this is obviously not a skill, because there is no option for this skill in his skill bar, so at best it can only be regarded as the rudiment of the soul, the only problem is that these exudes The sword energy that came out was completely out of his control.

But even so, in such a dense sweep of sword energy, Sean still knows how powerful its destructive power is. Sword Qi will encounter completely indiscriminate attacks within two meters in diameter, and its power is enough to easily kill any creature below the golden realm.

However, these sword-qi full-coverage attacks were easily cracked by this short man.

The dense and crisp sound like glass breaking, represents every sound. It means that a sword aura is blocked by the opponent.

Stop, turn around.

What Xiao En saw was the scene of a short man fighting in the area covered by this sword aura.

All the sword energy. They were unable to cause even the slightest harm to them.

At this time, Sean also saw clearly the pair of metal gloves on the hands of the short man.

This pair of metal gloves seems to be ordinary, but the faint silver brilliance on it clearly shows that this pair of metal gloves is definitely silver-grade magical equipment. And from the fact that this pair of gloves can defeat Sean's sword qi so easily, and it has not been damaged at all, it proves that this pair of metal gloves must at least have a magical effect above the medium effect.

Medium-effect silver magic equipment, not particularly rare. But not all the time. Even the auction held in King Ryan this time only had a few pieces, but Sean, who had read the auction book, remembered it clearly. There is no equipment suitable for use by fighters, so this short man's equipment must have been acquired for a long time.

However, in contrast to Sean, he was surprised that the short man could block his sword aura. The surprise degree of the other party was completely higher than that of Sean.

As a golden powerhouse. Naturally, there is the pride and dignity that belongs to the strong.

He was almost doing his best, and the blow that he thought was a killer still made Sean escape, which was completely beyond his ability to understand. And most importantly, looking at Sean's reaction and speed at that moment, he already has the level of a high-level gold powerhouse, and even better than the average gold powerhouse, especially the last backhand swinging all over the sky. Sword Qi is raging, and it has a super-class level that can make any swordsman marvel.

Such a person is just the strength of the upper silver?

Short man would never believe it. At this time, his thinking was that Sean absolutely hid his own strength.

After a short life and death confrontation, both sides have a closer understanding of each other's strength.

So the next second. The man who broke through the scope of the raging sword aura rushed towards Xiao En again with a single stride, but it was not the kind of close short hitting, but a elbow hit directly after a single step. The majestic and mighty power was as if a real mountain was crushing towards Xiao En, so dull that he could almost completely unable to breathe.

Bump against the mountain.

Sean's pupils flashed suddenly, and he immediately recognized this skill and the opponent's profession.

This is actually another branch of the advanced profession of Fist Fighter, Fighter.

The difference from boxing fighters is that in the profession of fighters, almost all parts of the body can be used as weapons. And unlike boxing fighters' point-adding direction, fighters are also the only professional system in the entire Marvel professional system that can increase attack power and increase attack effects whether it is increasing strength, agility, or endurance.

As such a special profession, there were naturally a lot of players involved in the game at the beginning, so Sean did not miss pk with players of this kind of profession.

For bumping into a mountain, naturally there is a unique set of coping methods.

I saw that Sean did not retreat but moved in, and the long sword in his hand also slanted out at the same time. At the same time, the whole person turned slightly to the side: not close or far away, but it happened to be rubbed against the opponent's elbow. past.

In this way, not only did he easily pass the opponent's attack, but at the same time, Sean's attack was also enough to threaten the opponent. If it is in the game, then once Sean's sword is smashed, it may not kill the opponent on the spot, but it will definitely affect the movement speed, and once the gladiator loses its own movement speed, then the most At least it will be weakened by nearly half of its combat effectiveness.

But in reality, once this attack method hits exactly, with the sharpness of the bones, the whole right leg of this fighter must be cut off.

But if Sean had a leg dismissed so easily, then he would not let Sean feel any danger or threat of death.

Almost when Sean passed the collision and fought back, the man also leaned down at the same time, evading the sword cut by Sean.

This kind of reaction ability is relatively fast even among the gold powerhouses.

With Sean's judgment, he instantly recognized the genre of this short man.

Although it is a profession to be a fighter, in fact this profession can also be divided into several genres.

Like a short man with such terrifying speed and reflexes, he obviously belongs to the fighting genre of Haifengliu. This genre is based on agility plus points, supplemented by stamina points, which not only greatly increases combat capability, but also increases survivability. It can be described as a genre with very cost-effective and highest actual combat performance.

only.

The existence of the blast genre has not only improved the combat ability, survivability and speed of the fighters, but it also restricted some of the routines of this genre of fighters.

Should be the backhand hammer or the breaking palm? -Sean looked at the short man, and said silently in his heart.

Immediately afterwards, I saw this short man dodges Sean's sword on his side. He slipped his right foot and returned to his original position. Then he turned sharply to the right, and his right hand naturally followed his body shape. Turned and waved over.

At this moment, in Sean's eyes, he saw that his right hand was falling through the atmosphere like a meteorite. The blazing flames wrapped his right fist, carrying a terrifying power as if to burn the entire space. Boomed over by himself.

Meteor backhand hammer.

Seeing the emergence of this skill, Sean became more convinced of the other party's genre. Because the Meteor Backhand Hammer is a unique enhanced skill of the Gladiator's blast genre-to put it simply, the Backhand Hammer is a skill that can be strengthened, and according to the emphasis of the gladiator, the style of the genre is different, so the result of the enhancement is natural. It is also different.

Meteor Backhand Hammer, a skill strengthened by the backhand hammer, a very agile skill, this skill will become more and more terrifying as the agility value increases.

Looking at the power emanating from the right hand of this short man, the agility value is at least one hundred and sixty points. Calculated as a power bonus, even if it is a general golden powerhouse, if it is not a professional defensive class, it will not rashly accept the meteor backhand hammer of a blast style gladiator with all its strength, because it is no different from looking for death.

So only the agility value can bluff people, and other personal attribute values are not necessarily much stronger than the upper silver, Sean naturally does not dare to toughen this gladiator skill with strong genre characteristics.

Two consecutive attacks failed, which made the short man's face extremely difficult to look at. Because at this time, even if he didn't want to admit it, he had to admit that the opponent clearly understood his fighting ability, because every time he dodges, he completely wiped the limit. If the first time to dodge and counterattack is good luck, then the second time is to successfully dodge and leave, it is definitely not luck.

The least thing he believes is luck.

Especially, while dodging the limit distance, you can also counterattack easily, which is not a lot of luck.

Two rounds of confrontation, no one took advantage of others.

Chapter 60: .Kill

After a brief but fierce trial, Sean finally figured out the opponent's attribute limit.

Gladiator said that there are many genres because of the difference in the way they add a little—it is naturally the training method in the Marvel Continent, but in fact there are only four mainstream genres. That is, the first-heavy agility is supplemented by stamina plus points, the first-heavy strength is supplemented by agile thunder currents, the first-heavy strength is supplemented by endurance, and the first-heavy endurance is supplemented by strength.

This short man is a fighter who belongs to Hayate.

His greatest feature is his speed and reaction ability, and he has excellent endurance in terms of anti-strike ability.

The sky full of sword energy that Xiao En just raged out of just now was not really completely ineffective, more or less still left a few traces on him. It was only because the short man tightened his muscles in an instant, and the wound was not deep, so there was no bleeding. But at this time, after slightly relaxing the control of his own muscles, blood still oozes from the skin.

The agility value is about 180 points, the endurance should be about 120 points, the strength is between 80 and 100, and the will is more than 80 points.

Although there is no more specific attribute value, Sean believes that there will be no errors in his estimation. Even if there is an error, it is definitely within ten o'clock, and judging by the various attributes of this short man, the only effect that can cause a qualitative change is strength. Others, whether it is agility or endurance, are more than he expected. After ten o'clock, there will be no qualitative change reaction.

This made Sean finally relieved.

Gently shook his right hand. Sean moved his bones a little, and then he glanced sideways at his surroundings.

Although the fight between the two sides was only a matter of seconds, the surrounding situation seemed to have been devastated and destroyed for a long time at first glance. Everything has already seemed embarrassing. And downstairs, there were even panicked voices. It was obvious that the dancers were panicked when they heard the strange noises upstairs due to the fighting. Sean believed that there would be a hall in the hall soon. If he hasn't won the opponent, then things will become very troublesome.

This is not to say that the mission fails and loses proficiency. At the same time, it may even have a certain impact on his title.

Sean is still very satisfied with the title of the duke, and many things still need to rely on the status of the current title, so in a short period of time, he does not want to cause unnecessary trouble to himself because of such things.

But the most important thing is. The short man in front of him at the first glance he saw, he knew that he had to play all his hole cards to be able to deal with it. This was an opponent he had to use up all his hole cards as soon as the battle started. If this weren't the case, Sean wouldn't know the opponent is the third opponent worthy of seriousness and all-out effort when he saw the opponent.

I saw Sean stretch his hand into the bag on his belt. Take out Guru.

The faint golden brilliance radiated from Gulu's body.

Since the most recent period of time. Sean's strength is steadily improving, but it does not mean that others have not made any progress. Even if it is a existence like Guru, it is also changing quietly. At least the golden brilliance from its body can be controlled by its will to change the brightness of the brilliance. It is no longer taken by Sean every time as before. Coming out, it feels like holding an oversized light bulb.

However, this is more in line with Shaun's definition of Guru: hidden weapon.

Seeing that Sean took out such a round, unidentified object, the man's vigilance couldn't help but improve a bit. Finally, the rare attention that had been locked on Sean was divided into two points to Guru.

This time, there was no more communication between the two parties. As if it were a stage play that had been rehearsed for a long time, there was a full understanding between each other.

Both sides rushed towards their opponent at the fastest speed.

As always, Xiao En Yang's hand is another sword spirit raging out.

But this time the sword aura is different from the invisible sword aura at the beginning, because Sean has already begun to use the power belonging to the demon hunter-all the sword auras that are stirred up all over the sky are dark black sword aura, and the sword aura is strong. The trajectory is clearly visible.

Suddenly saw the difference in the color of the sword aura. Although the look in the eyes of this man was obviously becoming cautious, his shots were still crisp and neat, without the slightest lag or hesitation, and there was even no sign of muddy water. It was only this time that when his fists touched these sword auras with a distinctly strong dark aura, a peculiar vibration instantly spread from the back of his hand, as if to shake all his power away.

Sword injury. Dark collapse.

This is the special ability that Sean has figured out over the past period of time-he can use this special ability by directly attaching the dark power in his body to the sword, and completely darkening his own fighting spirit. Just this way, it will increase his dark energy bar by 3%. This is something that Sean is more taboo, because once this energy bar reaches 100%, then he is likely to really be like the punishment skill said. In that way, become a servant of darkness.

So if it is not necessary, Sean will not use this special ability.

And what makes him a little bit helpless at the moment is that the special ability "Sword Wound. Dark Rip" he has researched has not been recognized by his own system. That is to say, in terms of the true damage effect of this skill, Sean is It is impossible to get a comprehensive understanding. The only thing he discovered at the moment is that this ability can crush the opponent's vindictive energy, basically every sword qi can crush about 10% of the vindictive energy.

In other words, if the short man gets entangled with the sword qi for a long time, then the less grudge he can gather.

But, Sean still underestimated the opponent's actual combat experience.

After only waved his hand to break the three sword auras, he was already aware of the trap of sword aura, and would rather fight against the damage of the sword aura than to shake these sword auras, unless it really caused a deadly threat to himself. .

Seeing his opponent do this, the corners of Sean's mouth raised slightly.

Guru, who had been gripped tightly in his palm, was immediately thrown out by him.

Because of the relationship between the soul, Gollum did not show too strong or special place under the instructions of Xiao En, only slightly faster, and indeed reached the level of the so-called "hidden weapon" in general.

The short man has been guarding against the "ball" in Sean's hands.

From the previous confrontation, he completely regarded Sean as a strong man who could be compared with himself, insisting that Sean is definitely a pig-eater, tiger-eater and silver master, so he is natural for what Sean has been holding in his hands. Very vigilant. At this moment, seeing that Xiao En finally threw this hidden weapon out, he felt a little relieved in his heart, because he thought that he had not guessed wrong, it was indeed a hidden weapon.

I just don't know why, but there is a lingering sense of danger enveloping him, and it seems that the threat of death has not gone away.

This feeling made him subconsciously stare at the "hidden weapon" that Sean threw out, but at this moment he was still in the raging range of the black sword aura, plus Sean was also the first time after throwing the Guru. Charged at him, and three consecutive flanking attacks made it difficult for the short man to determine the source of the real death threat, but if it is to be fully guarded, the pressure on him is indeed very high.

All thoughts flashed through his mind.

The next moment, the short man decided to abandon all distracting thoughts and chose to shoot Sean directly.

Because in his opinion, as long as the target person is directly solved, other things are useless even if there are threats.

As for the ball that flew toward him, the short man's right fist suddenly squeezed. The fighting energy that had been broken because of blocking the sword energy was once again condensed by him, and the glove even began to emit blue light. It actually gives people a sense of spectacular breath like the sea. Immediately afterwards, he saw the short man stepping down, his weight sinking, and after he exhaled, he slammed his fist directly towards Guru.

At the same time, with a slight step on his right foot, the whole person changes from a horse step to a tiger step, as if he will rush out at any time in the next moment.

Offensive and defensive conversion!

This is a special ability of the gladiator. The effect is that any offensive skills and defensive skills can be switched at will within a certain period of time. The punch he shot to attack Gollum is a defensive counterattack of the gladiator, and preparations are like going straight to the thunder. The attacking tiger step change is the blast boxing. With the two skills of one defense and one attack, he got the most ingenious conversion under his special abilities, and in terms of timing and skills, he is also an extremely powerful powerhouse.

It's just that, the moment his right punch hits the grunt, his face changed instantly.

If you look closely, you can see that there is still nearly a millimeter between the short man's right fist and Gollum at this time. But it was this distance that completely blocked the short man's right fist, making his attack completely just, the moment his right fist hit the Guru, his face instantly changed.

If you look closely, you can see that there is still a distance of nearly one millimeter between the short man's right fist and Guru at this time. But this distance completely blocked the short man's right fist and made his attack complete