

Lord of War Vol 4-161

Chapter 161: .penetration

Saint Maggie, as the capital of the Maggie Empire, this is naturally a very prosperous city.

Different from the general country's governance policies, there are many related laws in the Magi Empire that stipulate that some special products can only be sold in designated cities, including various magical goods and so on. To a certain extent, this naturally promotes the prosperity and development of the entire royal capital. Although it may be difficult to understand for people from other countries, the residents of the Maggie Empire can understand it. After all, the royal capital has the most famous Maggie Empire. Magic academy and a large number of magicians, so the supply of magic goods is naturally a priority.

Cecilia, as an excellent magician, she came to St. Maggie, the royal capital of the Maggie Empire, and naturally she had to take a good stroll around this huge magic market—according to incomplete statistics. , Maggie Empire's magic raw material market output occupies two-fifths of the entire Miracle Continent, and the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce only accounts for one-fifth, and the remaining two-fifths are from other Miracle Continents. The country, chamber of commerce, etc. share.

At this time, one of St. Maggie's largest supply of magic materials, the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce is located in the branch of the Maggie Empire, and Princess Thea is walking around with Cecilia.

"To be honest, the magic materials of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce are indeed complete, but this is not the largest supplier of magic materials to St. Maggie."

"But it's one of the best, isn't it?" Cecilia chuckled, and at the same time put down a magic material in her hand, and then picked up another one. "And there are some things, only The Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce is only available for sale."

"Huh?" When it comes to magical related fields, Thea's performance seems a bit fanatical, "Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce only has materials for sale? But these materials are not widely used. Have you found any new uses? Way?"

"Well, I recently thought of a new idea, so I plan to buy some materials and go back to the experiment." Cecilia smiled, "I originally planned to go to the trading capital to buy it, but I rarely come back to St. Maggie. So just come here and buy them together."

"What kind of idea?" Thea's attention was completely attracted by Cecilia, and she didn't notice one of the two entourages following Cecilia, who had already bypassed all at this time. People then set foot on the fourth floor of the branch of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce.

Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce, as the top ten chambers of commerce in the Pan-Continent Chamber of Commerce Alliance, they have very large financial resources. After all, it is easier to make money in the business of magic materials, magic accessories, scrolls and other magic-related fields. Therefore, they are located in this branch of the Maggie Empire. Naturally, they are also very luxuriously built. Basically, they can be found in the trading capital. The magic materials found can also be easily found here.

It's just that it belongs to a special area from the fourth floor, and not everyone can enter it at will.

However, the two guards guarding the door on the fourth floor did not seem to see Cecilia's entourage, and let him pass by them without squinting, and then walked to the special VIP area on the fourth floor. .

This person is naturally a disguised rupees.

Just as Rupi stepped on the fourth floor, a young man dressed and even looks exactly the same as Rupi was coming down the stairs on the fourth floor and passing by. The two did not look at each other, or even greet each other, as if they were two transparent people who did not exist in this physical realm, and they just passed by once—this kind of complete replacement phenomenon makes no Anyone finds that Rupi disappears from the public's sight for two or three seconds.

But even if someone finds out, no one will be suspicious of a person who is temporarily out of sight for two or three seconds.

Rupee, who was climbing up the stairs, stretched out his hand and wiped his face, then tore off the mask on his face. Immediately after he took off his coat, and then turned it over and put it on again, it had become a superbly crafted aristocratic dress coat instead of the black coat that followed the standard. Then, when Rupi stepped on the fourth floor and picked up a top hat and a stick with rubies on the top of the stairs, the whole person's temperament suddenly changed, and he had become a distinguished nobleman. .

At the moment when Rupiah appeared on the fourth floor, a graceful blond woman walked out of the corner, reaching out her hand naturally to tidy up the collar and sideburns for Rupiah-in fact, at this moment, she had already taken care of her. Ruby put on a new mask: a mature middle-aged aristocratic man who looked about forty years old.

"Honey, I just fell in love with a necklace."

"Buy." Ruby squeezed his throat, and after a light cough, his voice appeared low and full of magnetism.

"But the price is not cheap." The beautiful woman smiled.

"As long as it has a price tag, it's not expensive." Ruby laughed, and then took a step forward, "Then, my dear, where is the necklace you fancy?"

"It's right in front." The beautiful woman turned around and took Rupi's arm, and then the two continued walking toward the front at the same time.

"Where is Avery?" Ruby asked in a low voice as he walked.

"I'm making other preparations. If there is no surprise, I should enter the city tomorrow at noon." The beautiful woman replied in a low voice. The earl named Starley borrowed an identity. There is no clue to track down the Maggie Empire, but we can't be too high-profile, because this earl is a hereditary earl who was conferred by the Maggie Emperor several generations ago. Now he 'S family is already in decline."

"I see." Ruby nodded.

At exactly this time, Rupi and Heberly passed by the window, and saw that Cecilia and Thea had left the branch of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce, talking and laughing along the way. No one noticed that one of Cecilia's entourage had already been replaced.

Soon, after buying the necklace that Hebrew "fancy", the two of them also left the branch of the Magic Tower Chamber of Commerce, and then boarded the carriage that had been prepared.

"What's the next plan?" Because Hebrew and Avery Kate arrived two days later than Ruby and others, they only knew part of the plan. For example, the lady disguised by Hebrew fancy this necklace and The earl played by Rupee spent money to buy it, but Hebrew is not clear about the next plan steps.

"A servant of Albares will visit us soon and ask to buy this necklace. We used the opportunity of selling this necklace to contact Albares." Ruby replied in a deep voice. "However, the Maggie Empire will definitely not relax its surveillance of Albares for the time being, so we have to wait until Albares finds the opportunity to host a dinner before we can get a short opportunity for private conversation."

"So what Avery is responsible for is to provide Albares with an opportunity like this..." Thinking of the mission action request that Avery Kate had received, the smart Hebrew reacted immediately, "As expected of Lord William, completely avoiding it. All suspicions."

"Whether we want to avoid suspicion or the Maggie Empire has concerns, they will certainly not allow us to contact Albares easily." Ruby looked at the prosperous streets of St. Maggie, and then said in a deep voice, " So William will make Avery disguise as the butler of Albares, and he will bring good news to Albares before noon tomorrow, and we will also sell the necklace to Albares tomorrow. No matter who comes here, no one will doubt us."

"I hope everything goes well."

"I am not worried about the meeting with Albares. What I am really worried about is that Albares has only come to the Maggie Empire for less than three months. I am afraid it is difficult to grasp the clues about the source of magic nuclei."

"That's why the three of you, me, and Avery are all over here." Hiberly sighed lightly, "Master William obviously planned to steal intelligence for a long time. And all of this requires proficient intelligence analysis. I, Avery, who can pretend to be anyone at will, and you with unparalleled mobility."

"Everything is for Lord Shaun."

Hebrew glanced at the firm Rupiah, and did not continue the topic. But Ruby obviously didn't care, because he knew very well that the reason why the void empire was able to grow at such an astonishing speed was precisely because of such an enlightened spiritual leader as Sean, he would not mind that his subordinates had other people. Belief and loyalty, as long as all private interests and desires do not destroy and affect the entire empire, then no one will care about whom the other party will dedicate loyalty to.

Just as Clover's loyalty was dedicated to Cecilia, the wild tribes also have different loyalties, so the object of Hebrew's pledge of allegiance is also not Sean, but Hela Garcia.

It's just commendable that, whether it's William, Hela, or Neil, Alfred, Abaza, and other top leaders of the Void Empire, they are all sworn allegiance to Sean. Therefore, the void empire was prevented from falling into an internal struggle of partisan consumption.

Just when Cecilia made a series of infiltration plans in order to obtain the magic nuclear source energy of the new generation of energy supply system secretly developed by the Magi Empire, the other in the northern continent became after a series of reorganization and reforms. The flourishing and prosperous kingdom finally set its sights on the expeditionary force of the void empire led by Hela at this time.

The reason why the Expeditionary Forces of the Void Empire led by Hela attracted the attention of this powerful country that is not inferior to the rapid development of the Void Empire, precisely because of the secret envoys sent by the Saint-Joles Empire.

Chapter 162: .The Kingdom of God of War

The Northern Principality Federation, the full name of the Northern 36 Principality Alliance, is a powerful Principality Federation government formed around the Church of God of War. It radiates control of dozens of smaller principalities in the surrounding area, and aims to become the second theocratic kingdom of the Marvel Continent as its lifetime goal. And developing.

Of course, all this is in the past tense.

After being privately referred to by many behind-the-scenes powerhouses in the Marvel Continent as the "War of Destiny", the pivotal battle, although it once led to the weakening of the Church of the God of War and the stagnation of the Northern Principality Federation. But it is a pity that, as the most qualified and opportunity to eat the entire Northern Duchy Federation, St. Joel's Empire also fell into various chaotic situations, which led to the complete loss of this opportunity to conquer the opponent.

After that, under the leadership of Emily, the saint of the Church of God of War, not only the Church of God of War re-emerged with a tough posture, but even the Commonwealth of the Northern Principality also completed a rebirth change.

Today's North Principality Federation has become the second theocratic kingdom on the Marvel Continent: the Kingdom of the God of War. In a sense, Emily, the saint of the Church of the God of War, can be regarded as the realization of the Church of the God of War for thousands of years. All are eager to obtain a major achievement.

However, as the second theocratic kingdom, the Kingdom of God of War is more extreme in some actions than the Empire of Saint Joles.

For example, there is no kingship in the Kingdom of God of War.

The highest authority of the kingdom is the Church of God of War, and the Church of God of War abolished the position of the pope, and the saint will lead the church with the highest authority and concurrently serve as the king. All the territories of the thirty-six duchy returned to the Church of God of War. The top leaders of the thirty-six duchy, the thirty-six grand dukes, retained their titles, but no longer enjoyed the power of the kingdom's territories: in other words, these thirty If the six grand princes want to divide the territories to their retainers, they can only divide them from their direct territories.

Instead, Emily has the power to enclose and reclaim the territory of the entire Kingdom of War God: this can greatly strengthen the piety of the followers of the God of War.

However, in order to guarantee the rights and interests of the original princes, the Kingdom of the Gods of War also made a promise: without obtaining merits that are significant enough to be recognized by more than half of the princes, the highest ranking of the lord of any of the people of the Kingdom of War is a duke. Regarding the distinction between the Duke and the Grand Duke, Emily has also worked hard and set many gap lines: for example, the Duke's immediate territory is only two-thirds of the Grand Duke's, and the Duke's commercial taxes and agricultural taxes. The annual tax paid by the Territory is 15%, and the Dagong is 10%, and the Dagong can have up to two duty-free caravans with a size of no more than four cars.

The tariff system, this is a very important source of tax revenue for the Kingdom of God of War-at least during the Northern Principality Federation period. In order to guarantee the rights of these nobles, Emily did not abolish this system, just The setting of tariffs is strictly limited.

After Emily's series of reforms, the proportion of the benefits that the noble class of the Kingdom of War can obtain is more obvious than that of other countries. A perfect pyramid authority also brings cohesion, morale and fighting spirit to the Kingdom of War. On the promotion.

And it is precisely because of this series of brand-new reform policies that the Kingdom of the God of War can develop into a giant in just a few years. In the new era opened up by Sean, the Kingdom of the God of War has also become A hegemon who has the qualifications to compete for the empire.

Of course, all of this, apart from the reforms attributed to the new policy, is also inseparable from the powerful military capabilities of the Kingdom of God of War.

Even the most representative six of them are called "Six Gods Generals" by the people of the Kingdom of War God.

War Duke Tenny: One of the six gods, a family knight who originally swore allegiance to Emily, a war-god knight who believed in the * of war Marz, regarded Emily's life as everything, not only Emily's sword, but also Emily's shield. Received the training of generals secretly sent by William Yale, the military commander of the Void Duchy at the time, and after Emily carried out drastic reforms to the entire Kingdom of God of War, he took over as one of the three original regiments of the Church of God of War, the regiment of the War Corps. He held a post, and then went through hundreds of battles within two years without a single defeat, and was honored as the "son of the * of war."

Duke of Fear. Arkham South: One of the six gods, a young man who lived next to the original South family. He has very good command and management abilities. After Akaz Beisen went through the conspiracy of Ryze, he and Joanna Become the only two survivors, and then take refuge in Emily at the hint of Sean. After Emily reformed and reconstructed the entire Kingdom of God of War, she took over as the commander of the Jagged Legion, one of the three legions of the Church of God of War. Although her record is not as dazzling as Denny's, she privately deduced it from Denny's sand table. Nine losses and ten wins, because it was often used by Emily to suppress opposition within the Kingdom of War God, because it was also called "the devil that spreads fear and death" by some people.

Death Grand Duke Anton Symes: One of the six gods, the former earl of Hecarrom of the Principality of Jordan, after marrying the second daughter of the Principality of Jordan, he gave up the seat of the Principality of Jordan and moved to When Emily needed excellent generals, she nominated herself to become one of the three legions of the Church of God of War, the commander of the sanctioner legion. Different from the situation of the other two legions, the Sanctioner Legion is often used to punish and punish infidel forces in the war. Almost all within the Legion are the most devout fanatics, which has led to the Sanctioner Legion becoming the least tactical content. The result of almost every battle of the regiment was * rivers and corpses all over the country. Therefore, Anton Symes was called the "Duke of Death".

Shield of the God of War. Joanna: One of the six generals, a soldier of the mercenary group formed by Arkham. Although the name is quite feminine, he is an out-and-out man with a burly body almost comparable to a bear. , Can wave a huge tower shield weighing hundreds of kilograms with one hand, and use the halberd flexibly. Since Denny took over as the commander of the three legions, he has replaced Denny as Emily's shield, replaced Shawshank's original guard of the God of War Knights, and is responsible for the security and defense of the entire Church of God of War.

War God Sword. Shawshank: One of the Six God Generals, a War God Knight exiled to a remote town because of the internal corruption and collusion of the God of War Church. He has excellent commanding ability and a sense of justice and mission. After Emily mastered the power of the God of War Church, she was reused by Emily. She initially served as the captain of the Guard of the God of War Knights. Later, after Emily swept the many potential seeds of the Hall of War baptism, she served as a newly formed special unit. : The commander-in-chief of the war fanatics, responsible for special operations in the Kingdom of God of War.

Shadow of God of War. Sarah: A woman called "Shadow of Emily", commanding Emily's Guards: Lady of War. If Joanna is Emily's shield on the bright side, then Sarah is Emily's shield in the backlight. It has always been hidden from view. Few people have seen her take action, but in fact But he is the second strongest in the kingdom of God of War after Emily, with amazing swordsmanship skills, even Shawshank and Tenny call him a teacher. Because the origin of the identity is quite mysterious, it has always been rumored to be the guardian spirit given to Emily by the God of War. In fact, it was the commander secretly arranged by William to teach relevant tactics and strategy courses. The liaison work and the intelligence work of the God of War are one of the orphans adopted when Sean and William first developed the Void Intelligence Network plan.

It is precisely because of the existence of the six gods, that the development of the Kingdom of the God of War can be so stable and rapid, and even brought unparalleled pressure to the Empire of St. Joles.

This time, the Saint-Joles Empire secretly sent a delegation to the Kingdom of Gods of War, which is the best proof-if it was the Empire of Saint-Joles before the outbreak of the battle of destiny, not to mention whether the Kingdom of Wars had a chance to complete this Transformation, even if there is, is unlikely to bring much pressure to the Saint-Joles Empire. Because St. Joel's empire has always been a multi-line warfare: the predecessor of the Kingdom of God of War, the Northern Principality Federation, is constantly fighting, and the Maggie Empire is constantly fighting, and the death thorn is endless, and the undead of the northern black soil is endlessly fighting. The war with the heathens in the northwest did not end, but it never showed the slightest fatigue. On the contrary, except for the battlefield with the Maggie Empire, the other battlefields have the upper hand with a strong advantage.

But this time, the Saint-Joles Empire cannot continue to maintain this huge advantage.

The reason is simple.

Cecilia appeared in the royal capital of the Maggie Empire, Saint Maggie.

The appearance of this kind of action, in the eyes of the Saint-Joles Empire, as long as the people of the Maggie Empire don't have brains, then the alliance between the Void Empire and the Maggie Empire is the result of a certainty. In particular, Cecilia has another identity: the orphan of the former Grand Duke of the Duchy of Rembel.

The reason why the Principality of Lembel rebelled and killed the former Grand Duke was also entirely the secret enlightenment and support of the Saint-Joles Empire.

It can be said that Cecilia and St. Joel's Empire have an indirect blood feud. So even this time, the Void Empire came to attack the Principality of Lumber in name, trying to regain the old land, but the Empire of St. Joel cannot be interpreted so simply. They must do a good job in the Empire of the Void after taking the Principality of Lumber. , The psychological preparation to attack the Saint-Joles Empire. Even after the Principality of Lembel was taken, it was not only the Void Empire but the Maggie Empire that might attack the Saint-Joles Empire.

In view of this situation, the Saint-Joles Empire also had to send envoys into the Kingdom of God of War.

Although today's Kingdom of the Gods of War is only called the Kingdom, in fact, under the rapid expansion of the past few years, the Kingdom of the Gods of War has no less than the military strength of the Void Empire, and the name of the Empire of the Void Empire is truly countless. It was played out in a war.

In the face of the attacks of three empires at the same time, no empire on the Marvel Continent today dares to dare to win—whether it is the old military power of the Zenus Empire, the Millennium Covenant Empire known as a behemoth of war, or owning the continent. This is true of the Emilia Empire, which is known as the Wall, and the Maggie Empire, which has a huge magical empire heritage. The only difference is how long they can resist the invasion of the powerful forces of the three empires.

Just think of the Void Empire, a mad dog that stirs the wind and rain in the Southern Continent, suddenly came to the Northern Continent to bite people, and even more outrageous, it actually allowed them to successfully win the trade capital that countless empires dream of, and easily establish it. After a logistical supply line spanning the entire continent, the Pope of the Saint-Joles Empire wanted to vomit blood in depression.

If it weren't for the clergy of the God of Luck in the Marvel Continent, the Pope of the St. Joel's Empire would think that the people of the Void Empire had grown up drinking the milk of the Goddess of Fortune.

This * luck, it is estimated that it is a must in the ages.

.....

Different from the previous mission visits, because the missions of the Saint-Joles Empire came secretly, and they had already informed in advance that the most powerful person in the Kingdom of God of War: Saint Emily, so the parliament was naturally established in Temple of War.

Originally such an important meeting, Liushen will naturally need to be there in full.

It's just that the three major legions all had missions, and the notification of the Saint-Joles Empire was too sudden, so the three major legions did not arrive. If it were not for the convenience of teleporting the magic circle, even the other princes would not be able to participate. Although the Kingdom of God of War had become a theocracy, in order to create the illusion of the previous federation, it had set up a grand council with a total of forty-eight seats.

In addition to the 36 former princes of the Northern Duchy Federation, the other twelve who won the title of prince were the six gods, the four surrounding principalities who joined them before the creation of the God of War, and two nobles who were exceptionally promoted due to various achievements. .

However, there are actually only forty-six people in the Temple of War.

In addition to the 42 noble grand princes, the remaining four are Joanna, Sarah, Shawshank and Emily.

In the Temple of War, at this time, because the guests have not yet arrived, there are constant discussions.

However, the theme basically revolves around the significance of the move of the old opponent of the Saint-Joles Empire: to be a member of the Grand Ecumenical Council, the brain is naturally easy to use. Basically all the Grand Duke can guess what it is coming from, but it is only aimed at There are different opinions on the meaning of the actions, and the demands for benefits derived from this are naturally strange, but on the whole they are still beneficial to the Kingdom of the God of War, unlike the Northern Commonwealth when they only consider themselves.

Emily, who was sitting on the main seat of the temple, did not open her eyes, as if she was closing her eyes to rest.

The princes underneath have long been accustomed to Emily, who has become more and more indifferent over the years, so it is natural to see Emily's behavior.

But in fact, Emily is not closing her eyes to rest her mind at the moment, but is fighting against Marz spiritually.

After so many years of mental torture, Emily's will has never been diminished. On the contrary, Marz's divine aura is getting weaker and weaker. If it weren't for Emily's intention to keep Marz's life, as early as half a year ago Marz is about to fall. It can almost be said that as long as Emily is willing, she can replace Marz at any time, become a new generation of God of War, and directly take over everything about Marz.

"I promised you to become a * of war, and I have succumbed to you and become a * of war, why do you still refuse to agree!"

In Emily's mind, Marz's furious roar never stopped.

"Kill you, I can also take over everything about you, can't I?" Emily's voice seemed very cold and did not move the slightest, "Marz, you are not as important and irreplaceable as you think. ."

"Woman!" Marz's voice turned into thunder and torrential rain, raging in Emily's mind.

But this level of mental torture is nothing to Emily today. Not only did her face not change the slightest, but her voice was as calm as ever: "I will save your life, just Because I still don't want to take your place as the new God of War, and it's not that I can't kill you.... So you and I know everything you do."

"What did I do!?" Marz roared angrily, "Which time in these years I have not suggested to you that we should join hands with each other! But how did you answer?"

"Holy Marz Church, War Church, Battle God Cult... Do you think I really don't know anything?" Emily said coldly, her tone seemed to be a bit of disdain, "I know you often use I have the opportunity to suppress your will to transmit information to the outside world, to transmit power to the believers you choose, and let them form the so-called "authentic Ares Church" to try to overthrow my rule, but I don't care, because those believers can just become me. The target of actual combat training for corps recruits."

seemed to be shocked by the truth that Emily knew, and Malz did not speak for a while.

Where did the prestigious name of the Sanctioner Corps come from?

Naturally, it came out of these so-called "infidels"-fighting to support war, which is also the consistent policy of the Sanctioner Legion. What Marz didn't know was that it was precisely because of the overlap of the high beliefs of these "infidels" and the Sanctioner Legion that the Sanctioner Legion had a continuous means of replenishing its forces, because it was only after experiencing these fanatic wars. The undead soldiers are the real elite soldiers.

"Before, I can understand that you sneered at my proposal. After all, you are worried about the devil." Marz's voice seems to have become a lot softer, but anyone with a discerning eye can hear it. In fact, he is just suppressing. The fury in his heart, "But! Now that the devil's breath has suddenly disappeared completely, he can no longer control you, what are you still afraid of?... Are you afraid of the monitor? Not to say that her strength is not as good as you, In other words, the strength she has now is basically what you bestow, as long as you want, you can withdraw her strength at any time, so why are you still obedient to that demon heresy!"

"Take Sean's orders..." Emily murmured softly, then turned to look at Sarah's position, but her eyes had not opened.

And Sarah, who was also closing her eyes and rested, seemed to be aware of it. She opened her eyes slowly, and then looked at Emily who was "looking" to her side. Her emotions are calm and stable, and the expression in her eyes is very pure and natural, without the slightest strangeness: there is no doubt, no worries, and no confusion, and some are just quiet.

"Now! Now is a good opportunity!" Marz's voice was full of a different kind of demonstrative power, "As long as you and Chen Xi's subordinates work together, you will be able to snipe the demon's subordinates well! I heard that that expeditionary force is almost half of the demon's entire country. As long as their supply line is cut off, they will be a deep lone army. Then, they will all die!"

"Your news is pretty good."

"Although I am imprisoned by you, I am neither blind nor deaf!... The smell of that devil has completely disappeared from this world, as long as..."

"Here." Before Marz could finish speaking, Emily opened her eyes and looked at the door of the Temple of War.

As soon as Emily opened her eyes, an extremely powerful aura suddenly escaped from Emily, sweeping across the hall of the Temple of War, and the noisy discussion suddenly disappeared completely. All the princes bowed their heads with fear and fear to show their respect to Emily.

The door of the Temple of War opened, and a young man wearing a round-necked high priest's white robe, accompanied by two guards in red and black heavy armor, stepped into the hall together.

The two guards are wearing special black heavy armors. The helmets are covered and sealed helmets. It is completely impossible to see the gender and age in the armor. However, this armor had strange red textures, and these textures seemed to have life, exuding weird red glow. Although neither of them drew their swords or shields, the tyrannical aura exuding from the two of them also made all the princes present except Shawshank, Sarah, Joanna, and Emily feel for a while. Difficulty breathing.

These are two high-ranking powerhouses!

And like this strong, in the report that Emily received before Sarah, it seems that there are as many as fifty. Only because of Shawshank's previous arrangements, not all of the fifty people arrived at the Temple of War, and only two of them were able to enter the temple with the messenger who came to negotiate the secret agreement.

Emily's gaze fell on the messenger.

This is a young man who seems to be less than twenty years old. His face is pale, and he does not know whether it is caused by the fatigue of the boat or the sickness. However, that short silvery-white hair is like liquid silver. It is exceptionally soft and beautiful. Coupled with his golden pupils, if it weren't for the narrow corners of his eyes that made his eyes look unusually sharp, he was also a very handsome young man.

"Dear war goddess, please forgive me for the presumptuous interruption." After this young envoy entered the temple, he immediately said, "I am the envoy of the Saint Joel's empire. I can be white."

"Then Mr. Bai, tell me what you are here." Emily said.

"The Empire of Saint Joles hopes to form an alliance with the Kingdom of God of War." Bai said straightforwardly, "I believe you should already know about the Expeditionary Forces of the Void Empire, and now the Queen of Phoenix of the Void Empire, Cecily Yazheng is going to the Maggie Empire, and it is rumored that the two countries are acting for the alliance."

"You really don't know how to negotiate, Mr. Bai." Emily chuckled. She didn't know that Cecilia was going to the Maggie Empire. "You are not afraid of exposing all the cards so quickly. Does my lion speak loudly?"

"Negotiating is not something I'm good at." Bai shrugged, "but the lion speaks loudly about this kind of thing... Our St. Joel's Empire came with sincerity, and I hope that Lord Sainte can listen to our suggestions. "

"I am more curious than advice, what are you good at."

"Solving some troubles for the Saint-Joles Empire is just like now." Bai continued, "The disputes between the Saint-Joles Empire and the Kingdom of God of War have been constant, and I know that this actually caused our friendship with each other. It caused a certain amount of damage, so this time I came with great sincerity, hoping to resolve the misunderstanding between our two countries."

"What kind of sincerity?"

Looking at Emily, Bai did not have the slightest fear, but said in a deep voice: "If the Kingdom of God of War can not initiate a war from the side when a war breaks out with the Void Empire, then we will completely withdraw the garrison of the Kuval Corridor. "

"Um..." Even Emily raised her brows when she heard this.

The Courval's Corridor is a grassland terrain between the Kingdom of God of War and the Empire of Saint-Joles. There are tens of thousands of elite church cavalry troops stationed in the Empire of Saint-Joles. The radiating center of influence of the kingdom and the principality is also a strategic location and the front line of the war of the Saint-Joes Empire's plan to embezzle the Commonwealth of the Northern Duchy. Constraints on external development of the Principality Federation.

Even if it is the Kingdom of the God of War today, as long as it wants to expand, the Koval Corridor is still a strategic threat that cannot be avoided-unless the Kingdom of the God of War wants to expand westward and fight the Emilia Empire.

Therefore, if the Saint-Joles Empire gave up the Courval Corridor, it would be tantamount to giving up the remote control and surveillance of at least two surrounding kingdoms and four principalities. This content was equivalent to a gift to the six nations of the God of War—the Kingdom of God has always been Trying to spread the faith to these six countries, it is only because the garrison of the Saint-Joles Empire stationed at the Courval Corridor has always had little effect.

"Promise him!" In Emily's mind, Marz started hissing again.

"Well, sincerity can indeed be seen, but this sincerity is not great." Emily chuckled.

If there is a first buffer zone, naturally there will be a second buffer zone.

The Empire of Saint-Joles has been able to dominate the Northern Continent for so many years, and it is natural that multi-line combat is still standing. Putting aside the incomparably powerful background, in terms of the Northern Duchy's Confederation, the suppression of the St. Joel's Empire is not a joke. After removing the Courval Corridor, the chaotic zone of the Twelve Kingdoms, the Tropic of He is also the strategic point of the Saint-Joles Empire that has been painstakingly managed step by step for the Northern Duchy.

"Indeed, so I suggest you listen to my next proposal."

"You want my God of War Kingdom to cooperate with your expeditionary force in the Nether Empire." Emily looked at Bai with a smile but not a smile, but she glanced at Sarah from the corner of her eye, but saw that Sarah's expression was still as calm as before.

"It's easy to communicate with a wise person like Master Saint, and my second suggestion is indeed the case." I nodded in vain, did not deny this, in fact, as long as it is a normal person, it can be guessed.

"How about sincerity?"

"To the west of the frozen river, all garrisons of the Saint-Joles Empire have evacuated." He said directly without blinking.

If the withdrawal of the Kouvar Corridor is equivalent to adding six more places for the spread of beliefs in the Kingdom of the Gods of War, then the withdrawal of the troops west of the frozen river in the Saint-Joles Empire is equivalent to giving up all the more than twenty countries west of the frozen river. NS. And the most important thing is that after crossing the frozen river, it is the birthplace of the Saint-Joles Empire, and from here all the way east to the Plain of Holy Light, the Saint-Joles Empire is safe to defend.

This concession is not the word "sincerity" to describe it, but it should be said that it is a big gambling gift.

Knowing all the key princes in it, he couldn't help but become short of breath at this time.

The area west of the Frozen River was completely ceded. This is the spread of dozens of faith areas. With the spread of these faith areas, it will be sooner or later that the Kingdom of the God of War will become an empire. There will be nothing to suppress on the northern continent. The rapid development of the behemoth that lives in the Kingdom of God of War.

In Emily's mind, Marz was already arrogant.

"Don't forget, you're just a dying god!" I couldn't stand Marz's crazy roar, and Emily finally had to scream.

"Promise him! Promise him! The rise of the Church of God of War is no longer a dream!" Marz roared frantically, "As long as you promise him, you will be given one more year at most, and you will become the most powerful king of God. At that time, even if the demon appears again, he can't help you! And you, you don't need to look at anyone's winks! Even, you might still have a chance to swallow the old man Chenxi together, and then you will be the same. Take control of the Saint-Joles Empire! Promise him! Woman!"

"God King..."

"Yes! King of gods, king of gods! Since the dusk of the gods, gods have no kings! And you! And you will have the opportunity to become king again!"

Emily's sudden silence naturally caused the people around him to misunderstand: No matter who is such a huge benefit, it is impossible not to be moved. The faces of all the princes showed extreme excitement, even Joanna and Shawshank were equally inevitable.

Even Sarah finally found a strange mood swing in her calm eyes, but it was quickly suppressed by its reconvergence: because the mood swings in her heart at this time were not excited and excited.

Chapter 163: .Emily's Power

"Really, a proposal that people can't refuse." Emily chuckled lightly.

Even she was always indifferent and expressionless, and her face seemed to have a rare expression of relief: "Master Saint, you can rest assured, we..."

"I didn't seem to say that I would agree to it?" Emily's face changed slightly, and she looked solemn and cold.

"Woman, what are you doing!?" Malz's voice roared again, almost shaking Emily's soul trembling, but with such a huge pain, Emily's face did not change at all, as if This kind of intense pain didn't happen to me.

As the envoy of the Saint-Joles Empire, Bai's face suddenly changed, and his eyes were a bit surprised: "My Lord Saint, what are you..."

also showed a strange look, not just white, all the grand princes who were present with excitement and joy, the smiles on their faces were all frozen, and everyone did not understand why Emily would say such a thing. Their brains haven't even reacted yet, almost everyone focused on Emily, trying to see a hint of joke from her.

Only one person.

Sarah.

Her face didn't change the slightest from beginning to end, but her hand was lightly resting on her saber.

"Didn't I say it before? My appetite is very big." Emily smiled again, the confident smile appeared unusually bright, "West of the frozen river, it can't be satisfied. I... You said that if I join forces with the Void Empire and Maggie Empire, can my soldiers cross the frozen river?"

The white face sank slightly: "My Lord Saint, you said and laughed. I personally suggest that you should consider my proposal."

"Hmm..." Emily reached out and tapped her temple lightly, then suddenly laughed, "I have already considered it."

"Sir, please don't let us down." Bai's voice seemed calm, but he couldn't hear any emotions.

"My answer is rejection." The smile on Emily's face remained the same, but the words spoken made everyone present except Sarah, Joanna, and Shawshank feel a tremor, especially Bai, His face became even more gloomy, and a kind of emotional indifference had changed in his calm eyes.

Bai breathed out gently. It should have been a slightly disappointing emotional ups and downs, but when Bai made a gesture, it showed a kind of cold emotion. He stared at Emily, and then he said, "My Lord Saint, this proposal of yours is really disappointing."

"Only you, Saint-Joles Empire, will be disappointed." Emily smiled indifferently, "You can leave now. I am not here to host your dinner party. Oh, yes, by the way. ...It hasn't been there since the beginning."

"That's it." Bai nodded slightly, "Remember Saintess, did you ask me just now?"

"What are you talking about?" Emily looked amused at the young man in a priest's robe in front of her.

"You just asked me what I am best at." Bai looked at Emily, and then said softly.

"Didn't you answer that what you are best at is to solve the trouble for the Saint-Joles Empire?" Emily looked at Bai with interest. She knew the meaning of Bai asked, but she didn't care, because The powerful force has brought her extremely powerful self-confidence.

"Yes, what I do best is to solve trouble." Bai nodded frankly, "Because the fastest way to solve trouble is to cut off the source."

"You are right." Emily nodded also, "So what?"

"so....."

White stared at Emily, and the momentum of the whole person suddenly burst out at the next moment, like a wild beast, shocking the hearts of almost everyone living in the field. As for himself, he moved with just one step, and his whole person was like a violent wind hitting Emily who was sitting in the middle of the hall.

Emily's pupils shrank suddenly. He did not expect that the priest, who seemed to be completely powerless, had such terrifying power. Like everyone else present, she thought that the two heavy armored warriors who followed Bai were the most dangerous enemies, but she did not expect that it was not these two people who were really terrifying, but the lobbyists themselves. White!

Looking away!

A trace of annoyance flashed through Emily's heart.

But it was only annoyance, the look on her face did not show any fear or panic, even if the speed of Bai almost made her unable to catch the trace of the other party-but it was only "almost".

The white figure suddenly appeared in front of Emily, clenching his right hand and hitting Emily's face.

The air around even produced a whistling sonic boom because of Bai's punch.

No matter who it is, you can fully feel how terrifying the power of Bai's punch and how fast it is.

only.

Meaningless!

A pale golden light curtain suddenly appeared less than three centimeters in front of Emily.

has become an absolute barrier to stop the mortal blow of Bai!

The intense energy exploded completely in front of this golden curtain of light, and tore open along the curtain of light to both sides. Not only was the floor of the temple torn out a huge gap, but even the surrounding ground had many fine cracks and breakages. It's just that no matter how much damage is caused to the surrounding environment, all this damage still cannot affect Emily's body. This is a meaningless move for Bai.

"Divine protection!?" Bai's face was slightly dark, and there was a trace of surprise in his eyes. This was the first time that he showed expressions other than indifference.

"Oh? You know a lot." Emily smiled, but there was still no panic on her face.

Divine refuge is usually regarded as a symbol of the deity's special favor to believers, because its defensive ability is far beyond anyone's imagination. And even more commendable, is that the divine refuge can be completely immune to any form of harm-of course, it is not that there is a powerful existence that can directly break the divine refuge, but no matter what you think, Emily does not think that this is hidden in front of her. Priests have this kind of combat power.

There was no trace of frustration on Bai's face. After exclaiming, the color of surprise on his face quickly recovered. Emily still looked at the priest in front of her with interest, as if she wanted to see him. What other means.

The whole process, although the eruption was unusually abrupt and intense, it was actually only a short second.

And until this time, at the position where Bai stood before, the ground suddenly shattered.

The explosion of the ground seems to be a signal.

Two followers wearing heavy armor, immediately drew their swords. It's just that when they drew their swords, they also reached out their hands to remove the square shield behind them, and then threw them into the crowd on both sides, seemingly intending to cause as many casualties as possible.

"Bang Dang!"

Two muffled sounds sounded at the same time, but Shawshank and Joanna shot at the same time, blocking the attack of the two entourages one by one. Immediately afterwards, the two of them swung their swords to greet the two heavy armored soldiers at the same time, because they both knew very well that the princes present would not be these two tyrannical entourage opponents at all. Only they can stop the destruction and killing caused by these two people.

As for Emily, Sarah was there, and neither of them thought that the priest could do anything.

Few people know Emily's true strength, so Sarah naturally has the honorary title of the strongest person in the Kingdom of God of War.

shot at the same time with two entourages, and Bai who stood less than three centimeters in front of Emily.

"Sin purification!"

White body burst out a deep black breath that was visible to the naked eye, as if it were substantive, and this breath was full of an evil, corrupt, and depraved smell. When these substantive black auras dripped on the ground, wisps of black smoke suddenly emerged from the ground. The ground that was originally subjected to divine magic to keep it shiny and clean forever is even more so. Corrupted quickly.

Seeing that Bai's body had such terrible corrupting power, even Emily's face couldn't help showing a look of surprise.

Immediately afterwards, as if she did not intend to give Emily any chance to react and think, Bai's right fist once again slammed on the golden light curtain.

Unlike the previous one that easily blocked Bai's attack, this time the golden light curtain was like a thin layer of paper, and under the bombardment of this fist, it shattered directly into countless golden star points.

A strong and foul-smelling breath rushed towards Emily!

Facing this punch, Emily's face quickly became solemn. She did not dodge, but waved her hand to stop Bai's punch.

It's just that unlike Bai's fist wrapped in black mist, Emily's right hand is full of golden brilliance-this is a sign of divine strength.

At this point, Bai did not look surprised. After all, he was also a priest himself, so he had long expected Emily's resistance. Just as Emily was indifferent to Bai's attack before, Bai was also indifferent to Emily's interception, because he did not think that Emily's power could block his own punch, after all, he had a fist. The fist blasted the head of a big demon with a terrifying record.

Confidence comes from strong strength.

This is no exception whether it is Emily or Bai.

It was only the result, but it surprised Bai once again: Emily blocked his attack! And not only did he block his attack, he even felt that his abdomen received a very violent blow. The strong blow made him completely lose his balance ability, and the whole body was involuntarily flying backwards. He exited, and then fell heavily to the ground, but even such a tyrannical strength still did not offset, but directly led him to slide across the ground until it hit the threshold of the hall.

But Emily is not without harm.

The black breath that radiated from Bai's body began to spread to Emily's right hand and leg directly, and even continuously swallowed her divine power.

"Divine filth!"

Emily's face changed sharply, and she looked at Bai incredulously: "Are you the heretical presiding judge of St. Joles?"

"It seems that we all looked at each other." Bai stood up from the ground, and then pulled off the priestly robe on his body, revealing a set of leather armor inside, "The Church of the God of War, it really seems to be well-deserved. . Even a saint has such superb fighting skills, it is obvious that many people, including me, underestimate you. But... how long can you last?"

Emily did not speak, her right palm was downward, and she quickly forced out a black sphere wrapped in golden light, and inside it was the filthy power that had been invaded just now because of the confrontation with Bai.

For Emily to use such a means to force this filthy power out of her body, it is tantamount to completely giving up this part of the divine power used to wrap this filthy power.

Any clergyman, their strength is inseparable from their own divine power. It can be said that the amount of divine power possessed by a priest largely determines the strength of a priest. This kind of complete abandonment is equivalent to completely depleting these divine powers. It takes countless days and nights of pious prayer and * worship to gain power. In essence, this is a loss of one's own strength.

And this is naturally the reason why Bai will ask how long Emily can last.

As long as every confrontation with Bai is contaminated with some of these filthy powers, then Emily has to constantly abandon the divine power to erase the impact of this filthy power on herself, which is essentially The continuous weakening of Emily's own strength. But if Emily does not do this, then this filthy power will continue to devour Emily's divine power. Although Emily's strength will not be reduced in a short time, Emily needs to The divine power of abandonment is likely to be several times this, and this result is undoubtedly more terrifying than the first.

only.....

This method may be feasible to deal with ordinary people, but it is obviously impossible to deal with Emily.

the reason is simple.

Marz was imprisoned in the sacred stone, and this sacred stone was also carried by Emily, continuously providing her with divinity. And divinity, it is a matter that is more powerful than divine power: if you use the concept of numbers to metaphor, then a little divinity is probably equivalent to a hundred divine power. If it is just a war of attrition, I am afraid that Emily's divine power will not be completely consumed when she is exhausted.

After all, Emily at this time is equivalent to God of War.

and Bai, in any case, he would not think that he was not fighting a saint, but a  who landed in the mortal world.

"Interesting." Emily stood up from the main seat, and then walked a few steps forward, "You failed in the negotiation. Did you force it to assassinate?"

"It's up to you to understand." Bai Leng said, "I said, I am good at solving troubles.... Or, I am good at killing."

More than a dozen soldiers wearing red and black heavy armors soon appeared outside the gate of the God of War. Their armors had extremely obvious traces of blood, and they had obviously fought all the way. It's just that compared to the two who fought against Shawshank and Joanna, the aura of these people is undoubtedly much weaker, but overall they generally have the strength of the lower sanctuary. In other words, it is obviously an invincible moat.

These soldiers controlled the main entrance of the Temple of War. Obviously, they did not intend to let Emily and others leave. One of them even sent a long sword to Bai.

Taking the long sword, Bai looked over Joanna and Shawshank who were in the confrontation, and then fell on Emily: "Honorable Saint Lady of the God of War Church, you still have a chance now, as long as you agree to fight against the void with us. The expeditionary force of the empire, the promise I said before is still valid."

"Haha." Emily smiled and shook her head, "If I don't agree, then are you planning to kill all of us?"

"Yes." Bai did not deny, "I think this is also a great opportunity for the Kingdom of God of War to fully join the Empire of St. Joles."

"You can't be a lobbyist. You can't be a strategist." Emily smiled and shook her head. "It seems that you are exactly what you said, you are really only suitable for being a killer. This kind of brainless act of fighting and killing is indeed very suitable for you."

White brows wrinkled slightly, and he instinctively told him that something was clearly out of the plan, but he was not good at strategy but could not tell him the truth.

"Look, I have hinted so obvious, you still don't understand." Emily shook her head, even looking at Bai's eyes, full of compassion, "The six gods of my War God Kingdom only came three. But the three major princes representing the highest military power are absent, don't you understand it yet?"

The white face suddenly changed.

"I believe that at the latest the day after tomorrow, the Courval Corridor should be taken down by me." Emily smiled happily, looking at the ugly white face, "And I also believe that not long after, Twelve Kingdom Chaos Zone and Tropic Line will also be merged into the territory of my War God Kingdom.... So you see, the sincerity you said before is really meaningless, because I have always felt that the strength of my War God Kingdom is also You can seize these places."

"Even if you can win the Koval Corridor, you will not be able to win the Twelve Nations Chaos Belt and the Tropic Line."

"Why not?" Emily looked at Bai very strangely, "Your Saint Joles Empire has lost four paladins and two angel outfits, and it is still the most important combination of swords and shields. After the White Wing Knights lost their sharpest sword, can they become the strongest knights in the world?... As for the three major legions you call, the Guardian Knights are stationed in the royal capital all the year round, and the Judgment Knights have been After losing the most fierce blade of the Darkface Knights, the loss of combat power may not be able to recover in a few years. The only remaining Knights Templar also need to guard against the Void Empire and Maggie Empire, so you are still Are there any elite troops that can be used?"

With what Emily's words revealed, Bai's face became more ugly and gloomy: "How do you...know these secrets?"

Emily sneered disdainfully: "You seem to have forgotten where the four great paladins fell."

While Emily was communicating with Bai, the two powerhouses, who should also have the legendary realm of strength, got rid of the struggle between Joanna and Shawshank, retreated to Bai's side, and completed the rendezvous with the other companions. The tyrannical killing aura exuding from these people was already very obvious, but when the body was constantly exuding the white side with thick black mist, the tyrannical aura became even more intense.

The shouts of killing outside the main hall also became louder. As more and more soldiers in red and black heavy armor appeared, the guards of the God of War knight guards around the Temple of War would naturally not be fate. It's self-evident.

Just looking at the tyrannical aura of these fifty black armor soldiers, it is not difficult to understand why those war-god knight guards died in the hands of these people.

After all, you can't force some guards with only silver and gold strength to deal with these powerhouses who are generally in the sanctuary realm.

A total of fifty soldiers with black armor, apart from two legendary realms and a dozen golden realms, there are more than twenty people who have reached the realm of sanctuary.

This is a very shocking number for the Kingdom of God of War and even the Church of God of War as a whole.

Facing Emily's ridicule, Bai did not speak, but his eyes were staring at Emily. After a long time, he finally let out a soft breath: "You're right, the Saint Joles Empire seems to be true right now. Is facing a great crisis, so you have strengthened my determination to kill all of you here in order to seize the Kingdom of God of War."

"Only you fifty people?" Emily let out a laugh.

"I think that only fifty of us are enough." Bai Chensheng said, the black aura that radiated from his body suddenly converged back into his body, but then a set of black aura quickly appeared on his body. The armor came out, and the long sword with the white body that was originally held in his hand quickly turned into a black long sword, full of sinful corruption.

"A weapon made of the bones of gods?" Emily ignored the armor on Shiro's body, but focused on the long sword in his hand.

But Bai did not answer Emily's question, but after letting out a roar like a beast, he rushed towards Emily again.

This time, his speed is much faster than before.

However, what intercepted him this time was not the divine refuge, but a silver sword light that suddenly pierced through the sky.

The strong explosive air flow suddenly exploded, being forced by this sword light, Bai also had to retreat.

A woman with long blond hair is holding a silver-white long sword, lying between Emily and Bai, her expression is indifferent, but a priest's robe makes her look heroic and prosperous-obviously a priest. She is dressed in her body, but for some reason, people always feel that she is more like a peerless swordsman, rather than a priest who spreads the faith.

"Shadow of God of War. Sarah." Bai's gaze also had to shift from Emily's body to Sarah's body, "Unexpectedly, you are also a super strong."

and also.

Everyone clearly noticed this word.

There are only two people who have fought with Bai. Except for Sarah, who is called "Emily's Shadow", there is only Emily. Almost all the princes present turned their eyes to Emily obviously unnatural: this is not just because Emily's strength is far beyond their imagination, even Sarah is clearly beyond their expectations, even if Sarah has always been known as the powerhouse of the town, but people who have never seen her take action think that she is nothing more than a powerhouse at the pinnacle of legend.

The successive information was wrong, which made Bai's mood also look a little out of anger.

Originally, he came to be a lobbyist, but if Emily refused, he planned to kill people directly. Because in the intelligence, Emily is just a saint, and she may have divine protection, but this is not a problem for Bai, and the only thing that may cause obstacles is probably the only one known as Zhen Guoqiang. Sarah of the actor, but in the intelligence, she should be a legendary powerhouse between the fourteenth and fifteenth steps.

"Master Emily, please leave it to me here." Sarah's gaze did not leave Bai's body, and as Sarah's voice sounded, it started from other places in the Temple of War. A lady of the * of war ran out, and soon formed an encirclement net with a group of people waiting.

And those princes, at this time, under the arrangement of the goddess of war, quickly retreated to the back hall of the * of war hall-if it were not for the only entrance and exit of the * of war hall, the lady of * of war had already begun to arrange these hindering princes to leave. .

"No need." Emily shook her head, "Now is not the time to keep your hand, and it is not easy for you to deal with the presiding judge... The power of evil that he possesses is still let me handle it. It's better... You and Joanna and Shawshank go to solve his subordinates, try to avoid the expansion of casualties."

Although her heart was unwilling, Sarah finally nodded. After all, a brief confrontation with Bai just now made Sara realize that her strength had declined slightly, which made Sarah face the opponent's hands. That weapon with the power of pollution. Similarly, Sarah finally understood why Bai asked Emily if she could hold it at first, but unlike others who didn't know Emily's details, Sarah knew Amy very well. Li's bottom line.

Because when she came to the God of War church, Sean had already told her: Emily is the God of War.

So Sarah didn't insist on opposing Emily's suggestion that he should play against the opponent.

Chapter 164: . Attitudes of the Maggie Empire

The Empire of Saint Joles is a theocratic empire. The biggest feature of this country is the "state of believers". Therefore, it is almost impossible to infiltrate and instigate rebellion in this country. Even their old rival Maggie Empire can only have a certain degree of influence on the lower classes and business people at most, so the information obtained is obtained. Usually very limited.

In other words, it is often only when there is a large-scale action in the Saint-Joles Empire that the Maggie Empire can get some news and respond.

The turmoil, fall and defection of the Duchy of Lembel are a major shame of the Maggie Empire in recent thousands of years.

Because they hadn't received any news of St. Joles' Empire beforehand.

But after that, the Maggie Empire naturally learned to be smart.

The annual expenditure on intelligence accounts for almost one-third of the military department, which undoubtedly greatly aggravated the difficulty of the Maggie Empire's annual revenue and expenditure balance. Therefore, Alvarez's surrender is especially important. Even the Maggie Empire did not spend much energy and time to study its origins in detail, and it was directly used for the promotion of the official title. In just a few months In the time he became the hottest celebrity in the entire Maggie Empire.

Of course, this is another story.

The benefits of such a huge investment in the Maggie Empire are naturally great. The result is that the Maggie Empire has learned about the results of the major battles about the battle of destiny, which makes the Maggie Empire have In the past few years, the battle with the Saint-Joles Empire has prevailed. However, this kind of superiority did not bring greater advantages and rights to the Maggie Empire. It was probably just a few breaths of suffocation that had been held in his heart for a long time.

So, the Maggie Empire received information about the secret troops sent by the Saint-Joles Empire.

is just more information about this force, but they can no longer obtain it.

However, it is precisely because of this that the Maggie Empire attaches so much importance to the arrival of Cecilia, and even sends a huge and grand welcome scene.

And all of this, naturally, was also seen in the eyes of the Saint-Joles Empire, which naturally led to the pressure of Bai who was going to the God of War to negotiate with Emily: his mission this time was an unacceptable one. Failed negotiations. If they can't get the support of the Kingdom of God of War, although it will not lead to the destruction of the kingdom of St. Joel's Empire, in the long-term future, they will all fall into a situation of severe damage.

This long-term future does not refer to more than ten years or decades, but hundreds or even thousands of years.

This is exactly what the Saint-Joles Empire cannot allow.

In the Northern Continent, there are two empires enough to share all the benefits, and there is no place for a third empire to intervene.

However, at the same time as the fierce battle broke out on the God of War, in Maggie Palace, a meeting had just ended.

The main chamber had been closed for several hours, and the door was opened by two guards. Cecilia took Kozilek, Alexis and two entourages and left calmly. There were no less than ten important ministers of the Empire standing nearby. Everyone paid tribute to Cecilia as he passed by- this was not only for Cecilia's identity, but also for Cecilia's strength, because Yesterday, Cecilia and Thea had a friendly magic game.

The competition items are three items: knowledge theory, magic analysis and actual combat magic.

Except for the theory of knowledge, Thea and Cecilia are on par, and the other two projects both ended with Cecilia's victory. Especially the magic analysis, which is known as the highlight-the Maggie Empire has high hopes for Thea in this regard, because magic analysis has always been the most important knowledge ability of magicians, and it has a vital influence on rule analysis. .

And Thea is also the most outstanding magic analysis ability among the younger generation of Maggie Empire, even compared to many old legendary magicians.

Thea's highest record is to successfully resolve a key node of a seventh-level magic within three seconds and invalidate the active magic—this is also the most commonly used method of warfare by magicians, especially in On the battlefield. After all, it takes a long time and a lot of magic power to activate any large-scale magic at the battlefield level, and a magician who can quickly and successfully resolve the key nodes and force the magic to fail and explode and backlash can almost be said to be The key to a war.

But in the end, Cecilia defeated Thea with a strong advantage of nearly one second.

As for the actual combat magic project, the Maggie Empire never expected Thea to defeat Cecilia from the beginning. After all, what Cecilia activates is the Phoenix bloodline. Regarding the forbidden bloodline magic of Solomon's Seventy-two Heavy Flame, Maggie Empire has often heard about it, and it can even be said that it was once fortunate to have awakened this with the Rumbel family. The bloodline magicians have fought side by side, so there are secret files about this in the royal library of the Maggie Empire.

It's no exaggeration to say that the royal family of the Maggie Empire probably knows better than Cecilia the terrifying and powerful Solomon's Seventy-two Heavy Flame.

Defeating the Maggie Empire in the most proud area of the Maggie Empire, nothing can make the people of the Maggie Empire feel the power gap more powerful than this.

Therefore, the name Cecilia has become Saint Maggie's most influential legend in just one day.

This result also led to Cecilia almost mastering the rhythm of the entire meeting in the meeting earlier today.

Along with Cecilia's departure, the ministers who were guarding outside the hall were finally summoned by King Maggie.

The atmosphere in the conference hall seemed a bit solemn. After taking their seats one by one, the princes of the empire did not speak for a while.

"Queen Phoenix did not agree to our alliance request for the time being, but she did not say anything to death." After a moment of silence, the current emperor of the Maggie Empire broke the silence first, and then said, "The hope of alliance with the Void Empire, It's still very big."

"What does Queen Phoenix want?" someone asked.

"She didn't say." The answer was that an important imperial minister who was fortunate to be able to participate in the talks was responsible for the diplomatic work of the Maggie Empire. This is the ticket for him to be eligible to enter the conference hall to participate in the talks. It's just a pity. Wei Zhongchen's performance today did not satisfy his emperor, "but I guess it should be related to our energy project."

"Energy?"

The several important ministers in the conference room looked a little surprised.

"There is one thing I have to raise here." A man who was upright even sitting on a chair said in a deep voice. Although he is more than half a year old and his hair has turned white, he is awe-inspiring, just like one. The sharp sword with its handle out of the sheath, "Recently, I received some reports from the intelligence department. Recently, people started to inquire about the magic nuclear energy project.... Although they are very concealed and it is difficult to catch the trace, any No intelligence spying can be absolutely confidential."

"You mean..." The emperor sitting in the first seat frowned slightly, "Queen Phoenix is coming for our magic core energy?"

"I'm not sure, but if Master Auburn's guess is true, then I have to doubt it." The old man who should be a minister of military affairs said in a deep voice, "I have heard that the Void Empire has the most The powerful and most outstanding intelligence service. What if the Queen of Phoenix is not just the five people who appear to be on the surface?"

"This energy plan is just an unfinished product, not even a semi-finished product." Another old man with gray hair and weak speech frowned. "We have been studying this plan for 20 years, but The progress made so far is still pitiful. Even... If it weren't for that Sean, we might not be able to make a breakthrough. Why does the Void Empire want this? You know, the guys in the Heerson Institute are basically standing there. Behind the Void Empire, they already have the most advanced research capabilities in the entire continent."

The old man's doubts seemed to have become a fuse, and the entire conference hall quickly became noisy.

"Quiet." It seemed that I was getting a headache because of the arguing, and the emperor yelled angrily, "Everyone, don't you think that the topic of your discussion is already biased?"

"Your Majesty, but if the Queen of Phoenix really came for this research, then we might be able to use this as a bargaining chip." The foreign minister suddenly said, "Judging from the current progress, there is no In the case of foreign aid, it may take a very long time for us to completely perfect the magic core source. But if the Void Empire is also brought into it to cooperate with our research, then we can not only obtain the scientific research strength of the Heerson Institute , And at the same time being able to form an alliance with the Void Empire. This is a plan for us that only benefits but does no harm."

"I think this plan is feasible." Soon, some important ministers spoke.

With the first place, naturally there were second and third important ministers who spoke to support it. In an instant, more than half of the people in the conference hall supported this plan.

"Then the problem is here." Saibal, who had been silent for a long time, finally spoke at this time, "How can we be sure that Queen Phoenix came for the magic nuclear energy source? What if this is not what she wants?"

"Then we have nothing to lose. Instead, the friendship between us and the void empire can be enhanced." The foreign minister named Auburn said again, "we only need to pay attention to the wording and invite the void empire to join in the name of collaborative research. "

"Very good." The emperor of the Maggie Empire was finally satisfied with his foreign minister, "Just do what Auburn said."

"Yes."

Chapter 165: .trade

Since the end of the first meeting, Cecilia really spent several days of relaxing and happy time.

And Thea has been by Cecilia's side these days. On the one hand, it was because of Cecilia's profound knowledge and strong strength, and on the other hand, because Thea had no friends who could talk to her since she was a child. I felt the meaning of the word "friend" for the first time.

As the most legendary magician of the Maggie Empire, Thea Maggie has always been highly anticipated by the entire empire, and the royal family has cultivated her as the heir of Saibal. If Thea does not fall in the future, she will definitely become the next dean of Maggie Empire Mage Academy and the owner of one of the Twin Star Mage Towers.

In this way, Thea will never have friends who can be regarded as "close".

Even the word "friend" has become a luxury.

All of this stems from Thea's amazing magical talents and powerful strength. Since three years ago, Thea defeated another genius magician who has always been as famous as her. The legendary name became a symbol of the Maggie Empire. Saibal also directly asserted that Thea's future will never stop at the ranks of the 16th-order super powers, and is definitely expected to break through the 18th-order traditional limit.

Given such high hopes, Thea's pressure can also be imagined. She spends almost all of her time learning magic.

To some extent, Cecilia defeated Thea head-on in public, in fact, to a large extent, it was the relief of Thea-this is naturally due to Thea's subtle emotional intelligence and self-esteem. If it's the magic genius who was defeated by Thea three years ago, it's probably "I've tried so hard but I can't beat you, a woman who has been sleeping and unconscious for a long time!", "Do you know how hard I have worked all these years? "Such extreme ideas.

And Cecilia also asked Thea, don't you hate her? In front of so many people, defeated her.

In this regard, Thea's answer was: "Why should I hate you? You defeated me upright, which proves that my strength is indeed inferior to you. It also allows me to clearly see the gap between us and let me know. I still have a lot to learn on the path of pursuing the truth of magic."

It is precisely because of this sentence that Cecilia truly became friends with Thea.

In a way, Cecilia thinks Thea is much cuter than Angel. And when she thought that Angel, the guy who made her hate, was actually in the royal capital of the Void Empire, Cecilia felt unusually dissatisfied.

It's just that, as the friendship with Thea deepens, Cecilia's guilt for Thea grows deeper.

After all, Cecilia had impure motives for the Maggie Empire from the beginning.

And in recent days, according to the news from the rupiah, although Albares has not been closely watched and monitored, the chances of meeting have been greatly reduced. Celia and William were naturally unwilling to expose the piece of Albares. Therefore, this has naturally increased the difficulty of the progress of the work of Ruby, Elickett, Hebrew and others.

However, this question did not bother Cecilia and others for long. On the ninth day after the end of the first meeting, the Maggie Empire held a second meeting.

Originally, Cecilia and others thought that after Cecilia took control of the pace of the meeting for the first time, the second meeting should be held within three to five days, and the Maggie Empire would definitely be more prepared. Ways to overwhelm Cecilia's strength. And William even gave Cecilia an idea for this, so that she must cooperate with the preparations of the Maggie Empire and make some appropriate steps to stabilize the Maggie Empire and buy more time for Ruby and others. .

As a result, the second meeting was held later than Cecilia and others had expected. This undoubtedly made Cecilia and others feel very puzzled, and it is even possible that the originally prepared plan would be aborted.

So, when this second meeting was held, Cecilia, William and others were all ready for the tug-of-war.

Unexpectedly, at the second meeting, the Maggie Empire did not have any greetings and politeness at all, and went straight to the topic.

Moreover, this topic is quite different from the content of the first meeting.

The theme of the first meeting was basically around the alliance and cooperation between the Maggie Empire and the Void Empire and the issue of ownership of the Duchy of Lumber. However, during the second meeting, the content was directly changed to "to discuss together the possibility of cooperation on the Magic Technology project."

This is really a surprise for Cecilia.

"This one is the latest scientific research project of our empire, the Magic Nuclear Energy Project." The Minister of Foreign Affairs of Auburn directly handed over a dozen drawings to Cecilia's hands. His expression was frank and sincere. Obviously, I really intend to study this project together with the void empire represented by Cecilia. "According to our evaluation and testing, once this project is successfully studied, it is conservatively estimated that the current magic power machine should be improved by five times the power performance. ."

Cecilia didn't reply, but looked down at the dozens of drawings in front of her.

As a magician, Cecilia can naturally understand the contents of these drawings very clearly, and with her current level of intelligence, she can quickly complete the magic construction directly in her mind based on the data listed on the drawings. mold.

But in fact, Cecilia doesn't need to complete the modeling of this magic model in her head.

She knew that the "Magic Nuclear Source Energy" project was naturally not an accident, but what the Heerson Institute told her-no matter what the price is paid in Ceciliati, the subterranean fortress must be made After the path of the abyss successfully resumed the plan, the Heerson Institute did spend a lot of effort to finally develop a new type of magic power machine.

In terms of conception, the performance of this new type of magic power machine is about five to eight times stronger than that of the magic power machine that has been popularized on the Marvel Continent. If it can achieve the maximum boosting power effect, this new magical power machine can basically meet the requirements of Cecilia, and can at least ensure that a hundred fully armed soldiers can be sent to the underground world in each cooling cycle.

And this cooling cycle, according to the results of multiple tests, is estimated to be about five to seven days.

Although Cecilia is slightly dissatisfied with this result, it is still acceptable.

Only when the research and development work on the new magic power machine was halfway through, it had to be stopped. The reason is simple, because one of the core components of the magic power machine-the power source cannot meet the power output of the magic power machine. In other words, it is completely unable to reach the expected level of five to eight times, and can only double the level of the first-generation magic power machine at most. This means that it is not only impossible to send one to the underground world every five to seven days. A hundred soldiers, even the transportation volume of soldiers has to be reduced.

If you want to overcome this problem and make the second-generation magic power machine reach the corresponding level, then you must redevelop the core components that provide power. This process is likely to take three to five years.

This made Cecilia unacceptable.

At this time, the Heerson Institute received a message indicating that the Maggie Empire had secretly developed a brand new power source for more than ten years. Although no more information has been circulated, judging from the existing intelligence clues, the power source developed by Maggie secretly matches the second-generation magic power machine to a very high degree, and the increase ability can exceed the original second-generation power source. The idea of the magical power machine is fifteen times astonishing as the current first generation.

Therefore, Cecilia will immediately leave the Maggie Empire.

The purpose of is to get this drawing.

But now, when this drawing is really in front of her eyes, Cecilia's face doesn't look good.

The reason is simple.

Everything is exactly as the other party said, this is an unfinished work, not even a semi-finished product. Judging from the data and conditions listed on the drawing, everything shows that this power source is still at the stage of material review and processing, and even the model machine has not been produced.

Noting Cecilia's face, William next to him looked curiously at Cecilia. Although he was also a little puzzled in his heart, why did the Maggie Empire propose this cooperation agreement at this time? Could it be that the Maggie Empire discovered their little actions? But in any case, William of course will not show it at this time, after all, his current status is just an entourage.

On the contrary, Ulamo picked up a drawing and looked at it.

As a magician, Ulamog naturally understands these contents, and his calculation ability is undoubtedly better than Cecilia. Even from these drawings and data, he has found two errors, and as Ulamog who understands that the Void Empire is now developing the second-generation magic power machine project, he also knows the magic core in the hands of the Maggie Empire. If the source energy plan is really successfully developed, it will definitely not be as simple as the other party's claim that it can increase performance by five times.

"It's really a great plan." Cecilia put down these drawings. She can see the sincerity of the Maggie Empire, so her attitude is much more sincere. "But I don't understand why you should be at this time. Proposed."

"To be honest, with the current scientific research capabilities of the Magi Empire, it is difficult to develop successfully in a short period of time." It was the current emperor of the Magi Empire who spoke. The experience of the magical power machine, and it is said that you are also involved in the research and development project of the teleportation magic circle, so I thought of this."

Whether it is the first-generation magic power machine or the teleportation magic circle, it is actually the result of scientific research by the Heerson Institute.

But there are some things, just know it well, and there is no need to make everything completely public. The Maggie Empire is clearly aware of this, so it is said that the Void Empire has experience. After all, as far as the current situation is concerned, the Helson Institute is basically the research department of the Void Empire, and all of this is naturally due to some ideas that Sean has put forward continuously, and these ideas alone are enough for Helson to study He served for the Void Empire for hundreds of years.

Although no one knows how Sean has such advanced knowledge and technology, the Heerson Institute is not disgusted with solving these scientific research problems for Sean.

"I believe that your country will not make such a huge concession of benefits for no reason." Cecilia took a deep breath, and then slowly said. At this moment, she has regained the supreme queen temperament. "In my opinion, if this plan is completed by your country, it should be able to occupy a great position of interest. But now, you have proposed to cooperate with me and give me the initiative. I really want to know, what are the reasons why your country is willing to make such concessions?"

The emperor of Maggie Empire did not immediately reply, but reached out and tapped on the table in the conference hall.

The entire conference hall fell into silence for a while.

And Cecilia did not urge at this time, but chose to wait quietly.

She and Thea are now considered close friends, but this is only because of her personal relationship. If it is from the perspective of the interests of the Void Empire, Cecilia's first consideration must be the Void Empire. This is why it is clear that she and Thea are already friends, but they still did not let Ruby and others stop stealing the magic core. The plan of the source energy blueprint is all because the Void Empire needs this blueprint.

So now, the Maggie Empire suddenly made this blueprint completely public and expressed its intention to cooperate with the Void Empire, so Cecilia must figure out what caused the Maggie Empire to have this intention. And this kind of result caused by this intention, is there any danger to the future of the void empire?

These are all things that Cecilia must figure out.

"The expeditionary force of the Void Empire came for the Duchy of Lembel, right?"

"Yes." Cecilia nodded. The movement of the Void Empire Expeditionary Army was too great to hide it at all. Even the arrangement of the reveal of the supply is already a well-known thing. "The Principality of Lumber is my hometown, but since the current Grand Duke Lembel brutally murdered my parents, it is no longer my hometown.... Before I was unable to avenge my parents, but now I have this. Ability, then I must avenge my parents."

"Then, may I ask the Queen of Phoenix, what do you plan to do after retaking the Duchy of Lumber?" The emperor of the Maggie Empire asked again.

And this question also happens to be the question that Cecilia has not been able to discuss results with William and Hela so far.

In a strategic sense, the Principality of Lembel has nothing to do with the Void Empire except for a symbolic meaning. On the contrary, because of an extra enclave, it will diminish the military power of the Void Empire. After all, if the garrison force in the Duchy of Lembel is weak, then the Saint-Joles Empire can be conquered by force at any time, but if the garrison force becomes strong, the force of the void empire will definitely be weakened. This is necessary at the same time. It is naturally unfavorable to guard against the void empires of multiple countries.

Especially, after losing the natural buffer zone of the Kingdom of Fascism, the Chenas Empire and the Void Empire are already neighbors to each other.

In the face of this extremely powerful military empire, the Void Empire does not trust how charitable they are. The reason why there is no aggression against the Void Empire at the moment is only because the Void Empire has not exposed any weaknesses, but once the weaknesses are exposed, neither Hela nor William or Neil will believe that the Zenus Empire will give up such a good invasion. opportunity.

So how to deal with the enclave of the Duchy of Lembel has become a difficult problem for Cecilia, Hella, and William.

"Queen Phoenix, since you used to be a member of the Duchy of Lembel, you should know the importance of the Duchy of Lembel on the northern continent." Without any oblique temptation, the emperor of the Maggie Empire said straightforwardly. "Then I have a proposal here. I don't know if Queen Phoenix is willing to listen."

"Of course I would like to listen to the teachings from the elderly." Cecilia said with a smile.

"The retaking of the Duchy of Lumber is a burden for the Void Empire, because it is the result of the geographical location and cannot be reversed." The emperor of the Maggie Empire said in a deep voice, "Moreover, the Duchy of Lumber is now Lean towards the Empire of St. Joles, so once your army of the Void Empire launches an offensive, the army of the Empire of St. Joles will definitely intervene, and a larger war will inevitably break out at that time, which is likely to cause your hometown. An irreparable devastating blow."

Cecilia didn't speak, because these results were already in their expectations.

"In fact, as the Queen of the Principality of Rembel, you should also know that our Maggie Empire and St. Joel's Empire have always been at odds with each other. So if we both form an alliance, then

I can even send troops to help you. Stop the reinforcements of the Saint-Joers Empire, thereby confining the war in the Duchy of Lembel to your personal affairs."

"Do you mean that the Void Principality and the Maggie Empire form an alliance?" Cecilia frowned. Although from the very beginning, Hela led the expeditionary force on the expedition. He had also thought about this plan, but this is for As far as the Maggie Empire is concerned, there is no interest at all. After all, the most important reason for forming an alliance is the unification of interests. Therefore, Hela and William did not let Diana go to the Maggie Empire, if it were not because of the magic nuclear energy project. , Cecilia will definitely not come to Maggie Empire, "But this is not good for Maggie Empire, right?"

"It's no good. The geographical location of the Duchy of Lembel has always been a bridgehead. No matter which side our country and the Saint-Joles Empire have, it will pose a large threat to the other." Maggie Empire The emperor replied directly, with a very frank attitude, "As long as the Queen's policy is biased towards our Maggie Empire after retaking the Duchy of Lembel, then this is a very big advantage for us.... And, if it were us As an ally, then our country can also send some troops to assist you in your defenses. In this way, the Void Empire does not need to deploy too many troops in this enclave. Isn't this two birds with one stone?"

Hearing this, Cecilia finally knew what the emperor of Maggie Empire was making.

After thinking about it for a moment, a smile appeared on Cecilia's face: "I have better suggestions here. I wonder if you want to hear it?"

"I listen carefully." The emperor of the Maggie Empire was stunned, but Xuan even nodded with a smile, because as far as he was concerned, he was afraid that Cecilia would not speak, and as long as Cecilia was willing to speak, then Things are easy to talk about.

"I can sell all the territories of the Duchy of Lembel to the Maggie Empire." Cecilia said with a smile that made the emperor of the Maggie Empire and all the important officials of the Maggie Empire in the conference hall feel A frightening sentence.

Chapter 166: . Sean's Foreshadowing

The Void Empire has officially confirmed its dominance in the Southern Continent.

Of course, this is due to the special geographical environment of the southern continent.

At the southern end of the continent, there has been only a hegemonic empire such as the Millennium Covenant for a long time. However, due to the limitation of geographical environment factors, the influence of this hegemonic empire has been limited to its neighboring small and medium-sized kingdoms and principalities. Among them, the most influential one is naturally the Principality of Lane. As for other countries in the Southern Continent, such as the Kingdom of Fascism, they have always ignored the Millennium Covenant Empire.

The reason for this situation is that the distance between the Millennium Covenant Empire and the Emilia Empire is too close, and the border between the two countries can't hide from the other side's investigations. In addition, the Millennium Covenant Empire needs to allocate a large amount of troops to suppress the path of the abyss that may recur. It always gives the illusion that the Millennium Covenant Empire is relatively weak, so its influence has always been difficult to radiate to the entire South. mainland.

Compared with the Millennium Covenant Empire, the other empires on the Marvel Continent-let alone the other two empires, just talk about the other four ancient empires that are as famous as the Millennium Covenant Empire: the Maggie Empire and the Saint Georges Empire divided the entire For the interests of the Northern Continent, with the existence of these two overlord-level empires, it is difficult for any country to get ahead in the Northern Continent; the Zenas Empire has the highest military capabilities in the entire continent because of its military gods. It is a well-deserved top hegemon of the Eastern Continent, even if it is another country with the real empire, it dares not provoke the authority of the Zenas Empire; as for the Emilia Empire, it can block many outlanders with its own power. The invasion of the orc, elves, and dwarf empires deserved the title of the overlord of the Western Continent.

So, fundamentally speaking, the existence of the millennium covenant empire is not unreasonable.

And this is also the situation that the man on the pure white throne wants to change. It's a pity that his plan had not been completely completed, and he encountered Rek opening the door of bones and directly launched an undead invasion. Now the entire eastern border of the Millennium Covenant Empire is almost a mess.

Under such various opportunities, the Void Principality, which has unified the tribes of the entire Barren Land, is naturally impossible to miss. Of course, the core of the imperial dream is still due to the existence of Ulamog, Kozilek, and Alexis. If it were not for the existence of these three superpowers, Sean wanted to change the void duchy It will take at least twenty years to become a void empire.

Don't say anything else, just annexing the Kingdom of Fascism, leading to the border of the country and the Nether Empire living next to the Zenas Empire, is not a kind neighbor.

In any case, the Void Empire absolutely dare not launch an expeditionary army plan at will. After all, half of the empire's forces were pulled out in such a breath, which is equivalent to dropping a large piece of meat in front of the lion of the Chenas Empire, tempting the opponent to eat-so the plan was to be in Chai from the beginning. Before the Nas Empire completely digested the fascist kingdom, this expedition plan ended.

Of course, the original purpose of the Void Empire Expeditionary Force was to divert the internal conflicts of the Void Empire.

But no matter how these actions and measures are, they cannot completely reverse the essence. Really want to solve the internal problems of the Void Empire, there are only two solutions: one is to retrieve Sean; the other is to elect a new emperor-but in fact, except for those who have not figured out the situation at all. , William, Hela, Neil, Cecilia and others are very clear that if anyone wants to become the emperor of the void empire at this time, then Alexis and others will absolutely not agree.

The void empire that lost the shelter of these three superpowers can still be called the void empire?

At this time, the Void Expeditionary Army has arrived at the border of the Kingdom of Ganesh. For the march on this road, the Void Empire Expeditionary Army did not evade the marching route. Except for the dangerous places that cannot be directly crossed, the Void Expeditionary Army's The marching route is a straight line to the Duchy of Lembel. The kingdoms and principalities that were to be passed along the way were all negotiated by a diplomatic team led by Diana, who paid a certain price in exchange for military access.

In fact, with the current Southern Continent hegemony of the Void Empire, it is naturally possible to force it through at no cost. After all, there are really few countries that can compete with the Void Empire. And even if they have the strength to challenge, they will never compete with such a revenge division, because this is a matter of no benefit to the country.

It's just that, in order to take into account the issue of the reputation of the mainland-this is also the responsibility and image issue that the overlord-level empire needs to bear, so the Void Empire has to come up with some benefits as compensation.

Of course, for those who dare to refuse to let the Nether Empire pass, whether they really want to swear their national sovereignty and refuse to let the Nether Empire pass, or to obtain greater benefits, the response of the Nether Empire is very simple: just run over. .

After the main forces of the four kingdoms were eradicated by the Nether Empire's army, this naturally saved Diana's diplomatic negotiations a lot of trouble.

But right now, the expeditionary force of the Void Empire still had to stop temporarily outside the border of the Kingdom of Ganesh.

The Kingdom of Ganes, as a vassal state on the side of the pro-Saint Joel's Empire, this country has the top ten knights in the Northern Continent-although the ranking is not high, it fluctuates between ninth and tenth all year round. , But in terms of combat power alone, it belongs to the more powerful one. After all, it is a knight group that has been personally instructed by the leader of the pure white wings knight group.

The reason why the ranking has been low is purely because the order of the knights in the Northern Continent is not like that of other continents. As long as the knights have been certified by the Knights Guild, they can participate in the ranking. The ranking of the knights here has always been restricted to a scale of one thousand. That is to say, if you want to participate in the assessment and review of the knights' guild, you can only conduct a test of a thousand people at most.

And the Holy Knights of Ganes, the staff is full of fifty thousand people-this is the reason why the Holy Knights of Ganes has been unable to squeeze into a higher ranking.

Hela did not want to head-to-head with the Holy Knights of Ganesh, because according to the information she collected, the national strength of the Kingdom of Ganesh is less than 400,000, while the strength that can become a regular army is only 150,000, and the rest is The two hundred and fifty thousand of that includes all the troops including logistics, baggage, reserve service, etc. Except for the 50,000 troops of the Holy Knights of Ganesh, the second echelon of the Kingdom of Ganesh has only 100,000 troops.

But in the countless battlefield deductions envisioned by Hela, in order to completely swallow the 50,000 troops of the Holy Knights of Ganesh, Hela needs to pay at least a price of more than 100,000 troops. Although this time the expeditionary force is half-national, which is as large as 500,000, in fact, apart from being responsible for protecting the safety of the logistics supply route and leaving some as a reserve force, it can actually be regarded as a front-line combat force. There are only two hundred thousand.

Pay the price of 100,000 troops in one breath-although it is not a battle damage of all personnel, this is still a big loss for Hela. And once it stops here in the Kingdom of Ganesh, it will be extremely unfavorable for the Void Empire-the Zenus Empire is still a beast that looks at it, and neither Hela nor William can ignore the natural possession of this behemoth. Threatening.

However, the Kingdom of Ganesh is also very smart. They did not explicitly reject Hela's request for military access. Instead, they hoped that Hela could wait for a while on the grounds of the need to hold a meeting to discuss. But how long this period of time is, the Kingdom of Ganesh did not say clearly, this is undoubtedly a sufficient message: they are trying to delay the time.

But delaying time must be accompanied by certain strategic goals and plans.

What Hela was thinking about at the moment was what Ganes' plan was.

She has received a letter from Cecilia yesterday, stating that the Void Empire has already entered into an alliance with the Maggie Empire, and the Maggie Empire will contain the Saint Joles Empire from the front, so they can't give them to the north. Hela provides any military support, but relatively, because the Maggie Empire is holding the St. Joles Empire from the front, it also makes Hela's logistical route on the northern continent not need to invest too much force.

In general, that is, 50,000 more available troops.

"Wait another three days. If the Kingdom of Ganesh does not give a reply after three days, then we will force an offensive." In the combat meeting, Hela could only make such a decision in the end, because he did not know Ge Before the trump card of the Kingdom of Nest, Hela did not want Gnes to continue to delay time, even if the price to be paid is quite heavy.

"Then who is in charge of the pioneer?" Alfred asked in a deep voice.

"I'll do it." Clofe said directly, the closer we get to the Duchy of Lumber, the more passionate Clofe's emotions become. "My army is not a display. I have played less than four times since the expedition. I'm almost back at the door, don't you plan to let me go into battle?"

"That's not the case." Alfred shook his head. He knew Hella and William's plan. After all, in terms of loyalty, Alfred would never be lower than Hella, William, Neal and others. When it comes to qualifications, Alfred is a well-deserved third person.

The only pity is that Alfred's potential has been tapped to the extreme.

Because in this world, he did not experience the tragic loss of his daughter, so Alfred failed to break through the shackles of his own potential.

In the game, Alfred was once active on the Northern Continent as the vengeful  of war. His strong personal combat power and ruthless personality made him a companion for countless players to solicit. It is precisely because of this that Sean will be impressed with the character of Alfred, and he will be recruited to his own ranks in the first time-and in fact, Alfred did give him an early impression. Sean was a great help.

Although it is regrettable that Alfred has not been able to reach the height of the strong in the game, if Sean is allowed to make a choice, he is naturally more willing to be in this situation. Besides, although Alfred could not become the God of War, at least his talent in leading soldiers was much stronger than the one in the game, which still proved that Alfred was a rare talent.

For Alfred's words, even Clover would not refute it explicitly.

Because in today's void empire, if you want to find a regiment that is as sturdy as the Cecilia's Guards, and is also good at gnawing hard bones, then it must be the Thunder Lion who is not Alfred. And in terms of personal charm, Alfred is far more popular than Cloff-whether it is in the military control department or the love of soldiers at the bottom, Alfred is truly popular.

"Then General Fred, do you have any opinion?" Cloff endured the restlessness in his heart and asked in a deep voice.

"We've been fighting together for so long, don't you still believe in Hella?" Alfred replied evasively, "Hella's strategic layout, even William is praised, so we should trust her. She. We will listen to whatever arrangements are made. Hella will definitely have her intentions."

"Humph." Clough snorted softly, but since Alfred has already moved out the old comrade-in-arms friendship card, of course he can't continue to refute anything, "I don't care about the others, but attack the portal of the Duchy of Lumbel. In the first battle, I must be the vanguard."

"Even if you don't mention it, I prepared it this way." Hella said with a calm face, "After all, this was once the home of you and the Queen, so now that you are home, you must knock on this door."

Hearing Hela said this, Klov's dissatisfaction gradually subsided: "Then Gnes, what are you going to do?...According to the report of the scouts, the opponent's formation has almost taken us all the way forward. It's all blocked. If you really want to pass it directly, then it must be a tough battle."

"In dealing with cavalry, only the troops of Alfred and I can come in handy."

"Not necessarily." A loud voice broke Clover's speech.

This made everyone present in the conference room frowned, because the voice did not come from inside the camp, but from outside the camp.

A man wearing heavy armor, without a report from the soldier, opened the curtain of the camp and walked in.

Almost everyone's eyes were locked on him instantly.

Hela glanced at Alexis who was sitting on the side, and saw that she had no expression or reaction, and she was relieved: "Who are you?"

"I'm sorry, please forgive my intrusion." The man in heavy armor bowed slightly and saluted, and then said, "I am Anton, Anton Symes, the commander of the Sanctioner Corps of the Kingdom of War. Come to support your army on the order of the Lord Saintess."

"A person from the Kingdom of God of War?"

"What does it mean?"

A loud voice rang in the camp, and everyone looked inexplicable. Because according to their knowledge, there should be no intersection between the Void Empire and this newly promoted Northern Continent powerful kingdom, so all the people present could not understand what the heavy armored man meant. Of course, the more important thing is that this man who doesn't know his enemies or friends can walk into the camp calmly, and the camp has not issued any alarm, which makes people feel more uneasy.

"Why didn't I know that our Void Empire still cooperates with your War God Kingdom?" Hela frowned.

"Because this is an instruction from Lord Sean."

"Shaun!?"

"When did Lord Shaun give such instructions?"

"Have you seen Sean? He is now in the Kingdom of God of War!?"

In the camp, it became more noisy again.

"Quiet!" Hela let out a deep cry, and everyone was quiet instantly, but everyone looked at Anton with curiosity.

Of course, many people in the camp have just heard of the name "Sean Connery", but in fact, they don't know who Sean is. After all, when the Void Empire was officially established, Sean was no longer in the empire, and they only knew some of Sean's legendary deeds.

"Shaun is in the Kingdom of God of War?" Hela asked in a deep voice.

"No." Anton shook his head.

"Then what did you mean by Master Shaun's instructions just now?"

"Master Shaun once had a deal with the saint of the Kingdom of God of War. He said that one day in the future, he will lead the army all the way north and step through the gates of the Principality of Lembel." An Dun said softly, but with plain words. But still failed to conceal the pride in this sentence, "At that time, our War God Kingdom will carry out corresponding support work.... Now, although your Void Empire northward army is not led by Lord Shaun, But our Lord Saint still asks me to come to support you and fulfill the promise that year."

"You mean, Lord Sean has already started layout a few years ago?" Alfred's face showed a touch of excitement.

Anton looked back at Alfred, and then laughed: "If I'm right, and you're right... Then you can say that. I have not seen many wise men. We are from the Kingdom of God of War. The Lord Saint is one, and the Emperor Shaun of your Void Empire can also be regarded as one."

Hela did not respond immediately, but glanced at Alexis.

Alexis knew what Hela meant by looking at him, so he said: "He didn't lie, he did have traces of Sean on his body, and there was no fishy or murderous aura, at least it can prove that he is not an enemy."

"Honorable Alexis, I am indeed not an enemy." Anton saluted Alexis, "Of course, if you still don't believe me, I have another letter here, which is handed over by Lord Saint. Yes, it can prove my credibility."

Soon, this letter reached Hela's hands.

The letter did not include any substantive content, just a trivial sentence to prove the identity of Anton Symes. But what really makes Hela have to pay attention to is the seal at the end of this letter-Hela has read such a stamp in the relevant documents of the Void Realm, and it is also the stamp that William asked Hela to remember. Zhang, because the meaning of this seal, means that the owner of the seal is a person from the Void Empire.

"You mean...this letter was written by the saint Emily of your God of War Kingdom personally?" Hela suddenly realized that since she took refuge in Sean, she seemed to have never seriously observed this kindness. , Be close to the people, and always boldly delegate power to subordinate lords.

"Yes, it was written by Master Saint, I will be watching it by the side." Anton replied, "Is there anything wrong?"

"No, no more." Hela shook her head, "This letter really proves the authenticity of what you just said, and I can now believe that you are indeed here to support it....Be able to obtain the Six Gods of the Kingdom of War I believe that our actions will be much smoother this time."

"I can't guarantee anything else, but the holy knights of the Kingdom of Ganesh will definitely not be a threat." Anton smiled confidently, "My sanctioner legion is a legion created specifically to deal with such infidels. ... So, I will deal with the knights of the Kingdom of Ganesh. You only need to deal with other people."

"In that case, I wish your legion prosperous military luck."

"Each!" Anton smiled and hammered his breastplate, then quickly turned and left.

Chapter 167: . Showdown with Clough

Anton. The arrival of Symmes really helped Hela solve a very difficult problem. But in fact, this kind of war is actually a means for the Kingdom of War God to establish its prestige. As long as the commander of the sanctioner's legion can lead his army to win this victory, then the prestige of the Kingdom of War God can be increased again. Even influence can be widely radiated as a result.

After all, the Saint-Joles Empire is now in a situation that cannot be guaranteed by itself, and it is really difficult to divide its forces to take care of these vassals.

But even after knowing the information and knowing the news, there is still a panic spreading in Hela's heart.

She looked at the excited and happy colleagues in the camp, and Hela had a hard smile on her face. She could not express this panic, otherwise it would have an immeasurable impact on the expeditionary army. . And all of this is definitely not what Hela wants to see, but I don't know why, but there is still a very tired feeling of powerlessness in her heart.

Alfred, very keenly noticed this situation.

So, he reached out to stop everyone in the camp from rejoicing, and instead said: "Well, the biggest problem that is about to be before us has been contracted by someone else, but we still have to face other resistance. But I believe that these problems It's not enough to stump us. Let's follow our previous rhythm. That's it for today's meeting. Let's go back and rest first."

"Yes." A group of generals stood up and responded. Many people could see that Alfred obviously had something to talk to Hela, so it was not very convenient for them to stay here, so they left one after another. The camp account.

But this time, both Hela and Alfred could hear the whispered conversations of these generals as they left. The frequency of appearances of the name "Sean Connery" has obviously become unusually high. .

And all this naturally stems from what Anton said before.

Even if Sean is not in the Void Empire right now, he still arranges everything about the Void Empire. This almost prophetic ability makes these generals who have not fought side by side with Sean unable to help but recall the original Sean's title.

Lord of miracles.

The Lord of War God.

The lucky child.

These titles fully demonstrate Sean's achievements and influence back then, but as time goes by, few people will remember them again. Of course, the reason that caused these people to subconsciously choose to ignore is actually related to the situation that Sean rarely participated in large-scale army operations in the later period-since Sean's most recent action, it has been traced back to the one with the Peace Council more than two years ago. Conflict.

But now, these generals finally recalled Shaun's past achievements and the rumored magical command ability.

"Clover, you stay too." Seeing that Clover was about to leave, Alfred also called out. The former looked back and saw that Hela meant the same thing before stopping.

In fact, Croft has always been aware of his embarrassment.

He is the confidant of Cecilia's personal guards. Although he also obeys the commands of Hela, William and others, in fact, Clover has always felt that they are just colleagues in the two systems. Therefore, he has never been too close to Hela, William, Alfred, Rena, etc., of course, he also knows very well that the other party will not be willing to go too close to himself, after all, the object of his pledge of allegiance It's not Sean.

But at this moment, Hela and Alfred want to stay on their own. This is not common.

"Saint Emily, how much do you know about this name?" Seeing everyone in the camp had left, Hela finally spoke in a deep voice.

"The saints of the Church of the Gods of War are said to have taken the position by very iron and blood. Within a few years, they integrated the entire Northern Duchy Federation into a new theocratic kingdom, and the conflict with the Saint-Joles Empire has become increasingly fierce." It's Alfred. Although he is a general, he was also the commander of a mercenary regiment at the beginning. Coupled with the influence of William and Hella, he has always been very serious about intelligence work. Anton Symes should be one of the six gods in the Kingdom of God of War today. I can't comment on his personal strength, and there are very few battle reports out of the information, but judging from the fact that he dared to come to us alone, I'm afraid The strength is not weak."

"Legendary powerhouse." Alexis, who has not spoken yet, added at this moment, "In terms of personal strength alone, everyone in your camp just now is not his opponent... He dares to be alone. It's not without reason that one person escaped the heavy patrols you arranged and entered here."

"You knew it a long time ago?" Clough frowned. "Why didn't you tell me?"

"He has the breath of Sean, and there is no hostility or killing intent. Why should I say?" Alexis asked back. For Clover, who is not loyal to Sean, she has never been loyal to Sean. There is no good face.

Klov was a little depressed in his heart, but he didn't dare to show it, after all, he was facing Alexis now.

This extremely murderous killer Wu Ji had a "horror record" of slaughtering hundreds of thousands of people. The legendary powerhouse who died in her hands alone was more than two palms, and Klov was just Barely regarded as a sanctuary powerhouse, or a lower rank, how dare he be tough in front of Alexis.

However, what really depressed Clover was not the difference in strength.

It is such a super strong, but only loyal to Sean, a spiritual leader who has disappeared. Even William and Hela were completely unable to let her do what she was told. They could only move out of Sean and the plan that was beneficial to the Void Empire, and Alexis could choose to cooperate. Klov has always believed that if Alexis Ken supported Cecilia, Cecilia would have been the queen of the void empire.

"This is what I want to say." Hela saved a lot of trouble because of Alexis's words as the opening remarks. "Whoever of you remember, a few years ago, when Sean was not a strong man in the sanctuary. , Once left the Principality, saying that he was going to embark on the road of becoming a strong man in the sanctuary?"

"The trial?" It is no secret that Sean left the Void Duchy when he was in the upper gold. Almost all of Sean's followers knew about it.

"Now I can say with certainty that Sean's original trial was on the North Continent." Helayang said the letter in Yang's hand. Female Emily...Even, even the changes in the Kingdom of God of War today must be Sean's handwriting. The seal on this letter is not the seal of the Kingdom of God of War, but... the chapter of our Void Empire print."

"What do you mean?" Clover's face was surprised.

"It should be what you and I understand." A smile appeared on Alfred's face. "It's really Mr. Sean, who actually took the entire Kingdom of War God under his command without saying a word. If we come to attack the Duchy of Rembel this time, I am afraid we don't even know about it yet."

"Even if we don't come to attack the Duchy of Lembel, Sean will do it sooner or later." Hela looked farther than Alfred. "Otherwise, wouldn't he need to subdue Emily?... It's just that even Sean himself didn't expect that he would have such an accident. Perhaps in his plan, he should have personally breached the gate of the Duchy of Rembel and let Cecilia sit on the throne. "

"But, how is this... possible?" Clover's face still showed an incredible look, "That's the saint of the God of War Church, then..."

"What's impossible." Alexis sneered. "It's just a * of war. If he didn't hide the kingdom of God, I would be able to kill him, leaving the world without a * of war. ...The guy Shaun, his methods are more than you think. If he really wants to kill the gods, just give him a coordinate to open the door of the kingdom of gods, and he can become a godslayer in minutes."

God Killer!

This kind of title, just like the dragon slayer, belongs to the title of legend.

But since the dusk of the gods, there have been no godslayers in this world, because the gods have completely closed the gates of the kingdom of gods. Unless mortals die or choose to become slave gods, they cannot enter the gods of gods. Country.

As for the dragon slayer, after the chaotic era, the dragon has long disappeared from the continent, and now the last remaining dragon in the world is in the Kingdom of Satagastan. Only the brave who slays the real dragon is qualified to be called a dragon slayer. As for slaying a dragon or some dragon lizard, it is considered a ghost dragon slayer.

As for Alexis, who was so sure that Sean would kill God if he wanted to kill God, the three people present subconsciously had no choice to refute it. Maybe Croff wanted to rebut, just thinking about the things that Sean had done-others don't know it, but Croff never knew it. After all, he was a comrade-in-arms who had fought with Sean for many years. —So after thinking carefully about the things that Sean had done, he really couldn't refute it.

"Then Hella, what do you want to say?" After finding that he could not refute Alexis, Clover couldn't help but speak.

"Give up your meaningless actions, the emperor of the void empire can only, and can only be Sean." Hella looked at Clover, without any emotions in her eyes, and the whole person looked unusually indifferent, "You think Let Cecilia become the first emperor, I can only say that it is futile. And you should be very clear, if you completely anger Cecilia, what will happen....Kill you certainly not Yes, but you can't be reused by Cecilia anymore."

Klov didn't speak, but stared at Hella directly, before turning his head to look at Alfred a moment later: "Master Fred, you already knew it?"

"What do you mean?" Alfred asked.

"You know what I'm asking." Klov said in a deep voice, his attitude was a bit rude, but Alfred didn't care.

"If you are asking about the Kingdom of the God of War, then I, like you, have just learned about it." Alfred said, "But if you were asking about the plan of the expedition this time, then I would have known it a long time ago. I'm here to grab credit and prestige with you.... Do you think that no one knows the actions behind you? It's just that William, Cecilia, Hela, and Neil are too lazy to care about them. After all, you are also a founding hero."

"Since Sean is gone, what's wrong with making Miss Cecilia the queen?" Clover glared at everyone in the room, but he subconsciously avoided Alexis.

"Then you have considered, is Cecilia willing?" Alfred asked back, "If Cecilia really wants to become a queen, the first emperor of the Void Empire, will Sean object? He obviously won't, and given our understanding of Sean's character, maybe he would be happy to comment on such a situation. But in that case, why is Cecilia unwilling to become the first emperor of the Void Empire? Haven't you thought about the reason?"

Clover did not speak, but chose to remain silent.

Reason?

reason?

It's not that these Cloves don't understand, but they just don't bother to understand.

He followed Cecilia at the beginning because Cecilia has the purest blood of the Duchy of Rembel, which is the most important place for a loyal minister like him. Because only the purest blood of the Royal family of Lembel can rejuvenate the entire Duchy of Lembel and get rid of the fate of the Duchy of Lembel that has been the puppet of the two empires since its founder.

"Cecilia has sold all the territory of the Duchy of Lembel to the Maggie Empire." Looking at the silent Clover, Hela suddenly spoke again.

"What!?" Croft raised his head and looked at Hela, his eyes were bloodshot, and his entire expression looked strangely hideous.

"The Duchy of Lembel will be the province of Lembel of the Maggie Empire in the future." Hela naturally knew that William and Cecilia had negotiated with the Maggie Empire. "But Cecilia is also in the Void Empire. On the map, a new area is planned as the place of residence for the people of Lembel. Anyone who wants to leave the Principality of Lembel and follow Cecilia to the Void Empire can live in this new province. , Neil has already begun preparations."

"The Principality of Lembel...is destroyed?" Clover looked at Hela, and for the first time there was confusion in his eyes.

"Not perish, but new life." Alfred stood up, walked to Clover's side, patted Clover on the shoulder, "The blood of the Royal family of Rembel is the blood of the Phoenix, and the core of the blood is not Is Nirvana rebirth?... This is actually a new birth, getting rid of the resident status of the principality and completely annexing it into the void empire. This is actually a win-win plan, after all, the principality of Lembel is too far away from us, spanning one On the mainland, the Void Empire cannot have so many troops stationed here, so I think there is nothing wrong with Miss Cecilia's arrangement."

"But!" Clover let out an angry roar, but only said the word "but".

"I understand how you feel." Alfred nodded, "It is precisely because I understand how you feel that I want to remind you.... The Lemberians have not become history, and Miss Cecilia will still be in the void. The empire fights for the benefits they deserve for the people of Lembel. Don't forget that the core purpose of the void empire created by Lord Sean is that everyone is equal, no matter what race or color, as long as they are in the void empire, he will The others are no different. They are equal residents. Anyone can rely on their own efforts to get what they need or want."

"I understand." Cloff closed his eyes, opened them again after a long silence, and then said, "This is the decision of Master Cecilia, and it is also the best result of the entire Duchy of Rumbel. Since I have sworn allegiance to Master Cecilia forever, then I will respect all the decisions of Master Cecilia."

Clough only said this sentence very simply, but in fact it has already revealed many meanings.

At least, after this expeditionary war is over, he will not continue to toss after returning to the Void Empire. This will undoubtedly play a very positive role in the current unstable situation in the Void Empire.

So Hela and Alfred didn't say anything, after all, the real purpose of their expeditionary force operation this time had been achieved.

Afterwards, Clover left the camp, and for a time only Alfred, Hella, and Alexis were left in the camp.

"This seal is really the seal of our Void Empire?" Alfred carefully checked the letter brought by Anton, and then asked.

"Yes." Hela nodded, "William once asked me to remember this mark, because this mark represents the meaning that the other party is our own people in the Void Empire.... It is said that this plan was originally William and Sean. They worked together and secretly selected a group of dead men who were willing to work for the Void Empire, but I don't know how many people there are in this group.... Now Sean doesn't know where he is going, only those who know this plan William."

"Then William, do you know that Saint Emily is from our Void Empire?"

"I don't think I know." Hela shook her head, "Otherwise, we should have been in contact with the Kingdom of God of War, and it is impossible to have no contact at all."

"Then you mean..."

"I think it is necessary to inform Cecilia and William as soon as possible about this matter. If the Kingdom of God of War joins, I believe this will be of great help for us to open the path of the abyss as soon as possible."

Chapter 168: .Sender

The rough roar resounded in a house, but soon there were angry roars of men and screams of women.

Not long afterwards, another chaotic noise sounded one after another, as well as the sound of tables and chairs overturned, pot lids falling, and porcelain smashed. Immediately afterwards, the woman's scream quickly turned into a pleading, and then into a stern cry.

Several sturdy men quickly rushed out of the house.

The faces of these people have a hideous look and crazy eyes. They are rough in their movements, and their eyes are full of fierceness, looking around, seeming to be choosing the next target. They carried several packages on their backs, and they carried different weapons in their right hands: rolling pins, kitchen knives, and wooden sticks, but the most threatening one should be a double-edged sword that was clearly opened.

If it is normal, thugs like them will certainly not have any chance of robbing the house.

But it's different now.

The fire light reflected everything around, just on both sides of this street, several houses have been plunged into the sea of flames, and there were crowds of fleeing for their lives and thugs taking advantage of the fire.

There are a few women with pretty good looks, but in a hurried escape, they are overtaken by another group of thugs.

The two men, who should be the husband and the eldest son, quickly turned around and tried to protect their wives and daughters, but the stalemate had not lasted for a minute, and the two men were knocked to the ground. It should be the middle-aged husband. The man was stabbed in the abdomen and blood gurgled out; while the young man, who was supposed to be the eldest son, was stabbed in the chest by a dagger, and his eyes fell to the ground in anger, motionless.

A woman was crying on their bodies, but she was quickly pulled away by the mobs. No matter how hard they struggled, they were only torn their clothes to pieces by these mobs.

But soon there was another old man who stepped forward to take care of it, but the old man was obviously too old, and he fell to the ground with a rough wave of a thug.

The scream of crying, the crackling of flames, and the crazy roar of the mobs resounded like a doomsday music in this city.

This is the border city of Ganez, Saitan.

The most proud knights of the kingdom of Gnes, the holy knights of Gnes, were raided by the sanctioners of the Kingdom of God, and it was only passed from the front five days ago. However, at that time, the front-line report only said that the two sides' military forces were deadlocked, and several small-scale fighting conflicts were mutually successful. It is still not clear which side can easily win, but the overall situation, the Kingdom of Gnesia still has a lot of Big advantage, because the main army of the Kingdom of Ganesh has arrived at the main battlefield.

Everyone knows that it is the Void Empire Expeditionary Army on the main battlefield that determines the fate of the Kingdom of Ganesh.

However, just when all the people of Ganesh thought that the war would not break out so quickly, in fact, the Nether Empire Expeditionary Army launched its first attack on the army of the Kingdom of Ganesh the next day. When the border city of Gnes received the news of the outbreak of the border war, it was already three days later. At this time, in fact, the main force of the Kingdom of Gnes had been completely annihilated, and the Void Empire Expeditionary Army had already moved in.

In the next two days, although Ganesh's front line continued to gather the ruined troops, trying to block the entry of the Void Empire Expeditionary Army, but the effect was very little.

When Saitan knew the news of the defeat on the front line, the vanguard of the Void Empire Expeditionary Army had arrived at the gate of Saitan.

The next thing is a well-known story.

After the Void Empire's failure to persuade to surrender, a siege was officially launched, but Saitan's combat effectiveness was not as strong as the city owner imagined. This siege battle could not even last for half a day. In less than an hour, the city wall was completely lost. Then the city gate was opened, the Void Empire Expeditionary Army captured the city wall, and the Lord Saitan turned the war. For street fighting.

Only at this time, the entire Saitan City has completely turned into chaos.

A large number of civilians began to flee towards the north gate, and the mobs who fished in troubled waters also began to do evil in the city. Soon the whole city became a scene of apocalypse.

There are not a few civilians who have died abducted by mobs.

Similarly, it is not rare to die from the crazy and blatant rape.

At this time, even if it is a nobleman, if there is not enough deterrence, there will be thugs who dare to fight hard.

On the only way to the north city gate, there are no less than five noble carriages that tip over on the ground and are inlaid with family patterns, and there are not a few rich men who died on the side of the road and dressed luxuriously.

"Swish——"

There was a whistling sound in the air.

The thug who threw the old man to the ground and then rode on a plump woman was overturned half of his head by a feather arrow, and the red and white liquid was sprayed under his crotch in an instant. The woman who was so scared that she was already naked let out an even worse scream.

Several thugs saw the tragic death of their companions, especially the lustful color that still remained on his face, which made them feel a panic and scalp tingling.

Regardless of other things, these people immediately got up and wanted to leave this place of right and wrong.

They know very well that with the military quality of the city guards, it is absolutely impossible to have such a strong combat effectiveness. After all, they are all natives. How can they not know what the city guards of Saitan are like? .

But soon, there were several sharp whistles in the air.

These mobs who tried to escape were immediately killed by arrows shot from the heart of the back, and they couldn't even run five steps away.

The surrounding sight quickly followed the position where the arrow was shot, and then saw a group of twelve soldiers running out of an alley.

The twelve soldiers wore black leather armor. From the point of view of the material, it should be leather armor processed by a special process, although these civilians did not understand the specific performance of these leather armors, which are not ordinary goods. But this does not prevent them from being able to see that the soldiers wearing these leather armors are definitely well-trained elite soldiers. This can only be seen from the spirit of the twelve soldiers and the usual city guards. Comparing the spirit of the spirit, you will be able to find it clearly.

Each of these soldiers has a black longbow with a quiver behind the waist, three small axes on the right waist, a broad combat sword on the left waist, and an iron buckler on the back. The obviously protruding long handle on the boot was obviously a short dagger.

This is simply a group of elites armed to their teeth!

This army is the well-known Cecilia Guards-almost no one in the Southern Continent does not know the attire of this army. Basically, as long as they look at this tooth-like equipment, they know it. The horror of the army.

Because of the direct showdown between Hela, Alfred and Clover, Clover has already recognized the current situation in the empire, so he has no objections. After all, he himself knew very well that no matter how much he did, if Cecilia really didn't intend to be the emperor, then everything would be futile. And the most important thing is that Cecilia is not the kind of puppet that can be manipulated at will. She has extremely strong strength. If Clover really wants to force the palace, there is only one final result.

So after recognizing the situation, Clover transferred all his motivation to the battlefield.

This time the vanguard of the attack on the Kingdom of Ganesh, he and Alfred's army took turns taking turns.

At present, the Thunder Lion is responsible for defeating the remnants of the Kingdom of Ganesh. By the way, it cooperates with the Punisher Legion from the Kingdom of God to encircle and suppress the Holy Knights of Ganesh. Therefore, the important task of attacking Saitan, the border city of the Kingdom of Kegan, has naturally fallen. The body of Cecilia's guards.

At the moment, although these Gnesians don't know which unit these well-equipped soldiers belong to, all the mobs on the scene know very well that they are absolutely impossible to be opponents of these soldiers.

The leader of the twelve soldiers was a young man with an indifferent look.

He looks very old, he should be no more than 30 years old, and his appearance is not very handsome—especially at the corner of the right eye, there is a straight line from the corner of the forehead, as long as the slightest deviation will make his right eye. The hideous scars that were completely blinded, this destroyed his appearance even more. But contrary to his slightly hideous appearance, this young man has a very sharp aura, like a sharp sword out of its sheath.

He glanced around at the miserable scene around him, and many thugs felt a panic that made their heart palpitations from his indifferent eyes.

These thugs don't want to stay here for even a second, but they don't know why, they can't move their steps to leave here.

As if, it was like being held here firmly by a magician who had cast a hold technique.

"All thugs, all shot." The young man said coldly, and then the first one to loosen the string and shoot an arrow.

Feather arrow with a sharp whistling sound through the air, directly penetrated the heart of a mob holding a wooden stick, and then firmly nailed to the wooden door of the wooden house where he had just run out of the robbery. The strong penetrating power even made the arrow of the feather arrow penetrate the thug's body, and then plunged into the wooden door three minutes deep before stopping, leaving only the arrow feathers still trembling slightly at the end swaying.

The mob looked down at his chest in disbelief, and a three-finger-wide blood hole was clearly exposed in his chest.

The next moment, his consciousness was immersed in the darkness, and then slowly fell to his knees, and the belongings in the cloth bag on his back soon fell to the ground.

This arrow seemed to sound the horn of attack, and the eleven soldiers around immediately began a new round of free shooting.

Almost all the mobs present were shot on the spot in less than ten seconds. Even though some mobs were very clever to find temporary shelters to hide, but with the advance of the Cecilia's guards, it was impossible for these mobs to escape the fate of being killed. Occasionally a few mobs try to take hostages as a shield, but these methods do not pose any threat to the Cecilia Guard soldiers who are already hostile. The shooting is still shooting, and there is hardly any. Possibility of mercy.

But although this behavior scared the hostages, they soon discovered that these enemy soldiers in black leather armor were very good at archery, because the mob who held them was dead, but they still survived.

The only troublesome thing is the thugs who saw the situation was not good, so they ran into the nearby house.

But this is just a little troublesome, far from being troublesome-and the so-called trouble does not refer to the difference in combat effectiveness, but the current Cecilia Guards has only twelve members.

After all, the Cecilia's Guards are an all-terrain adaptable and versatile combat force. No matter whether they are in the field or on the plains, street fighting, indoors, etc., there is no environment where they cannot fight. Even if they can't use bows and arrows, they still have shields and broad-bladed swords, and even bodyguard daggers and delicate hatchets that can be used for throwing.

As more and more soldiers of the Cecilia Guards arrived at this northern gate, it became easier to sweep the mobs in the house.

"The 15th Squad, Seventh Division of the Cecilia Guards, report to Commander Spean!" Another group of Cecilia Guards soldiers arrived here and was already occupied by the young man. The established front-line command center, but this team of Cecilia Guards has only five soldiers. Obviously, the fighting along the way is extremely fierce. "The captain and deputy captain have been killed. I am temporarily acting as the captain."

"Need a rest?" The young man named Spean asked in a deep voice.

"No need!" The soldier of the temporary captain spoke back.

"The seventh sub-group is currently only you and the eighth and eleventh teams arriving. You temporarily formed a team and advanced 500 meters to the west of the city, and then set up temporary strongholds to rescue civilians and kill mobs and city guards." Spean nodded slightly, and then said in a deep voice, "The rescued civilians are temporarily placed in temporary strongholds, waiting for new orders."

"Yes." The soldier saluted, then turned around and took the person away, and immediately moved to the west of the city after meeting with the new teammate.

With the continuous integration of Spean, the soldiers of the Cecilia Guards who arrived at the command point one after another, and then continuously issued new orders to these soldiers. With this stronghold as the center of the circle, the strength of the Cecilia Guards Soon the control range was extended to an area within a radius of one mile. If you count the completely occupied South City Gate and the route that is constantly advancing from the South City Gate to this command center, it can be said that two-thirds of the entire Saitan City has fallen into the vicinity of Cecilia. The hands of the guards.

At this moment, only three hours have passed since the start of the Cecilia's Guards siege.

When the time shifted to the fifth hour after the Cecilia Guards launched the siege, the entire city of Saitan has completely fallen into the hands of the Cecilia Guards, and the forces of the city defense forces retreated to the city's lord's mansion. . However, there are still many city defense forces and sporadic resistance forces composed of civilians in the city that are constantly fighting, which still caused a certain degree of trouble for the Cecilia's Guards.

And when night began, nine hours had passed since the siege war broke out. The city lord's mansion officially declared its fall. The city lord and the city defense commander were killed in battle. Although some of the city defense forces escaped and joined other resistance forces in Saitan, Basically difficult to become a climate.

After , as Clover took over the command of Spean, the Cecilia Guards began to conduct raids throughout the city. All of this is due to the fact that Saitan, a border city at the beginning, only set up two gates for the convenience of control. Therefore, except for the residents of Saitan who escaped from the north gate early in the morning, when After Speen took the North City Gate, the entire Saitan City was actually a turtle in the urn.

With the continuous investigation, sweeping, hunting, and killing of the area, at dawn the next day, all living resistance forces in the entire Saitan City had been completely wiped out. All those who were unwilling to surrender and obey the distribution and command were all ordered to be beheaded by Clover-the name of Clover's "butcher" was obviously not a joke.

The only difference from the past is that the soldiers who were willing to surrender were not slaughtered by Klov, but all were put into custody after the weapons were collected.

After _____, after another two days and one night's rest, Clover did not delay time, but ordered Spean to lead the Cecilia Guards to move forward.

Because the previous diplomatic rhetoric requesting the right of military passage was completely rejected by the Kingdom of Ganes, this all-out war affecting the Kingdom of Ganes has been completely unavoidable. After all, the Kingdom of Ganes is a country that believes in the * of dawn, and they are naturally the most loyal guard dogs of the Saint-Joles Empire. Faced with a void empire that is incompatible with the Saint-Joles Empire, there is naturally no possibility of peace talks. .

So, once it is decided that the war breaks out, Hela will of course not give the Kingdom of Ganesh any breathing opportunity.

Especially after the Kingdom of Ganes dispatched the entire kingdom's main army to the frontline battlefield, it was even more impossible for Hela to let go of the kingdom of Ganes that was so empty in the rear. With the strength of the Void Empire Expeditionary Force, after they captured the first border city of the Kingdom of Ganesh, they could set up a blocking line to completely prevent the Legion of the Kingdom of Ganesh from leaving the front line and returning to the current empty rear of the kingdom. .

This is also the reason why Hella will let Clover lead the Cecilia Guards to start the vanguard battle.

And Clover, apart from not being obedient to Sean, in fact, he is also a very clever military commander. Therefore, he naturally knew how to cooperate with Hela to make Hela's strategic plan easier to succeed and bring greater war gains to the entire void empire.

.....

In just seven days, the news of the complete fall of the frontier of Ganesh quickly spread to the surrounding kingdoms.

Although _____ is one of the three legions of the Kingdom of God of War, and the intervention of the Punisher Legion, the terrifying combat power of the Void Empire is enough to shock the small and medium-sized kingdoms around the Kingdom of Ganesh. Especially after Gnes, the other two kingdoms listed as the route of advance by the Void Empire Expeditionary Army were caught in a panic. They actually wanted to send troops to help the Kingdom of Gnes, but the kingdoms next to them were not all allies that supported the Empire of St. Joel.

The intricate entanglement situation of the Northern Continent is far more complicated than the area controlled by any empire.

However, soon, the emergence of a new news shocked all the countries on the entire wonderland once again.

A super strong man who didn't know his identity, tore the space barrier and returned from the void.

On that day, people on the entire Miracle Continent could clearly see that a huge crack appeared in the southern sky—even the people on the North Continent could see that the void opened by this crack was almost one The thumb cover is so big, then it is not difficult to see how big the space barrier actually is. According to the description of the person closest to the incident, the space that was broken was almost one kilometer in radius.

Such a grand and powerful momentum, it is impossible to hide anyone from it.

Especially when many people know that the place where this super strong appeared is near the void empire, it is said that many people have the mentality of watching a good show.

It's just that this kind of mentality of watching a good show became very depressed after a few days.

Because this newly-emerged superpower is said to be sending the letter for the missing spiritual leader of the void empire, Sean Connery.

Chapter 169: .I'm very good

The person receiving Imoku is Neil.

When this super-powerful tearing space barrier appeared near the void empire, he naturally received the news the first time.

It's just that at that time, the Void Empire was in an almost undefended state-the only ones that could deal with the super powers were super powers. This wise saying is not a joke. And the only three superpowers of the Void Empire are not in the empire, so for such a superpower who does not know the relationship between enemies and friends suddenly appears near the Void Empire, it is naturally difficult to determine whether it is a good thing or a bad thing.

This is also something that other countries that have received the news are happy to see.

After all, the dignity of a super strong is not allowed to be underestimated by anyone. And the reason why an empire dared to be called an empire naturally does not allow anyone to look down upon it, otherwise it will only cause damage and influence on the prestige of the empire.

So almost everyone in the entire continent felt that this super powerhouse had a fight in the void empire is an inevitable result.

In fact, thousands of years ago, there was indeed a superpower who returned from Outer Void and had a conflict with a great empire at that time. As a result, this super strong made a big fuss in the capital city on the spot. Although this empire also has three super strong men, compared with the super strong who has returned from the void without any concerns, this The two super powers are naturally at a loss.

In the end, although the super strong was forcibly killed, the empire was also destroyed by nearly two-thirds. The three super strong had two serious injuries. After all, the super strong's counterattack before death was not a vegetarian. of.

In less than fifty years after that, this empire, one of the seven empires, was replaced by another super-class kingdom.

Because there are historical precedents, almost all people in the continent are waiting to see a good show.

It's just a pity that this good show of them is destined to be unseen.

After Imoku descended on the main material realm, he immediately locked in the person closest to him, who had the strongest breath of Sean. That is, Neil, who works in the capital of the Void Empire, descended directly into the Void Palace.

It is said that at that time, the entire Void Palace was like an enemy.

However, this also fully demonstrates that the training of William and Hela is extremely effective—even if these guards knew that they would not be the opponent of the super strong, but they still did not retreat, but put on a look of death. He bit his head and stood in front of Imoku.

Even Neil felt that this super-powerful man was coming to trouble the Void Empire, and he was even ready to sacrifice.

Just, the next moment he heard something very incredible.

Imoku said: "I brought a letter for my lord, Sean Connery."

Not only Neil was shocked, even the guards were shocked.

The point is not that Imoku said he brought a letter for Sean.

is the two words he said.

My lord.

What is the Lord?

Only those orthodox knights who swear allegiance to a master will call their master "my lord".

This is a super strong who has sworn loyalty to Sean! ?

This news spread throughout the entire Void Palace in an instant, and then spread through the entire Void Empire's capital through the Void Palace. Next, in just a few days, everyone in the entire void empire knew that their empire had a fourth superpower.

There is no concealment, or it is impossible to conceal the news. Since even the Void Empire knows it, how could the other countries on the entire Marvel Continent not know it?

Cecilia, to be precise, returned to Oasis City from the Maggie Empire on the night of Imoku's arrival in the Void Palace. Followed by many generals and strong men who were fighting outside, all returned to Oasis City that night.

This day, after the establishment of the Void Empire, is the day when all the senior figures of the entire Void Empire will once again gather together.

.....

The royal hall in the middle of the night is brightly lit.

Along with the heavy sound of the door being pushed open, Cecilia walked into the hall hurriedly.

Then, she saw a bandaged weird man in a black evening dress standing in the center of the royal hall, seeming to admire the decoration of the royal hall. Standing next to him was Neil, known as one of the four giants of the Void Empire.

Other than that, there is no one else in the entire royal hall.

Seems to hear the sound of the door being pushed open, Imoku turned his head, and saw Cecilia and the three following Cecilia at a glance. Although he couldn't see the specific appearance and expression because he was covered with bandages, the smile in his eyes still clearly infected the people around him.

"You must be the Cecilia that our lord Sean said, you really are a very beautiful beauty." Imoku looked at Cecilia who came in anxiously, then bowed slightly and saluted: a very standard Ancient knight etiquette, "Long time no see, my two brothers."

"Long time no see, my brother." Ulamo saw Imoku standing in front of him alive, his face also showed joy.

And even Kozilek, who doesn't like to speak very much and always feels indifferent, has a warm smile on his face at this moment: "Ha."

"You...know?" This time, it was Cecilia's turn to show a look of surprise.

"Miss Cecilia, do you remember what I told you?" Ulama let his body aside with a smile, and then said, "The three of us brothers."

"Imoku!" Cecilia quickly realized the keyword she had just ignored because of excitement, "Are you Imoku?"

"Yes, Miss Cecilia, I am Imoku." Imoku gave another salute, but this time the etiquette was for self-introduction.

Ancient knights and ancient nobles have reached a level of inhumanity in terms of etiquette. There are different corresponding etiquettes in different situations. They salute the high-ranking ones, pay tribute to the low-ranking ones, introduce themselves to the high-ranking ones, and talk to the high-ranking ones. Side quotes, and even seeing audiences, pledges of allegiance, self-introductions by peers, etc., all have a completely different etiquette.

However, Cecilia doesn't care about the difference between Imoku's two salutes before and after. She is more concerned about what Ulamog said to her a long time ago: "You didn't mean that there was Imoku. With Ku, can he protect Sean back to the surface? How about Sean? Where is he now?"

Ulamog touched his nose with some embarrassment, and then looked up at Imoku. The meaning was obvious: I blew the cowhide, but now the cowhide is broken, you have to put this pot on my back.

"Ah." For their brothers, they don't need much explanation at all. They often tell everything with a single look, so Imoku knows what Ulamog means, so he can only cough lightly, to both himself and also to stop him. Cecilia created a buffer time for mental calmness, "Because the underground world is not underground."

"What do you mean?" Cecilia was impatient, so she didn't figure out the meaning for a while.

However, compared to Cecilia's eagerness and neglect, Ulamog, as a magician, understood in an instant: "Planar barrier?"

Imoku nodded: "The underground world is said to be underground, but it is actually a demiplane projected under the shadow of this main material world. It is still a demiplane that has been basically formed but has died.... Originally changed according to the law, the final result of this demiplane would be to depart from the main plane, and then form a new plane, which gave birth to a new species unique to this plane, but because his master died in the world. God twilight, and this demiplane has been anchored on the main plane and cannot be separated, so after a long time, it is assimilated by the main plane."

"In other words, apart from the normal plane channels, we have no way to enter the underground world." Ulamog immediately understood the meaning of Imoku's words, "And the ability to tear the space barrier is at least necessary. Only at rank sixteen or higher....If you don't reach rank sixteen, even you can't guarantee Sean's safety, right."

"Yes, this is still because we have space coordinates, and we just stay in the void for a while." Imoku nodded again, and then said, "If it is normal to directly tear the space barrier and proceed between planes. Even if Lord Sean has the strength of Tier 16, I can't guarantee its safety."

The legendary powerhouse can carry out long-distance space teleportation, but this is only limited to the same plane, and the premise is still to master the space coordinates.

If you want to directly tear through the space barrier for transmission and travel between planes, at least the level of a super strong will do.

Ulamor's Chaos Portal, although it can directly teleport between coplanar planes regardless of the distance, but in fact he folds the two spatial coordinates and directly ignores the distance between them, unlike traditional teleportation. Just like the door, a relatively stable passage is formed directly between the two coordinate points. Therefore, although Ulamog's technology can reach the target location in an instant, it will actually cause violent violent passages in the space. Generally speaking, if it is not a truly powerful person with outstanding strength, it will not be able to resist this void. Violent air currents.

In some ways, Ulamog's Chaos Portal is very similar to void travel.

"So, the problem is back to the original point, we must solve the problem of the transmission of the path of the abyss." In Cecilia's eyes, a trace of perseverance flashed.

Unlike the previous hopes, Cecilia can truly affirm that Sean is in the underground world, and as long as the transmission problem of the path of the abyss is solved, then they can immediately welcome Sean back, which is very natural. Greatly inspired Cecilia's confidence and conviction.

"If you are also involved in the analysis and development of the magic nuclear source energy, can you speed up the progress?" Cecilia turned her head and looked at Ulamog, although she knew that the fact that Ulamog could do it was true. Too big and underwhelming, but she really wanted to see Sean too much.

"I have seen the drawing. Whether I join or not is actually of little significance. It is a difficult issue for the Maggie Empire. The Heerson Institute has long been broken, but it lacks some practical and feasible technology, so I never thought about it. The concept of "combination" is nothing more than." Ulamog said, "But if I join, I can avoid the problem of several experiments, and maybe the progress can be accelerated by about a month."

"One month will do!" Cecilia said without hesitation. For her, even one day soon was worth it.

Looking at Cecilia's serious eyes, Ulamog nodded and said nothing: "Then I will not accompany you back to the Maggie Empire anymore. We happened to bring the drawings back. Wait a moment for me. Just go and discuss with the people at the Heerson Institute."

"Thank you. Your Excellency Ulama." Cecilia saluted Ulama very seriously.

"It's my job." Ulamog smiled, and then he saw Imoku winking at him.

The meaning of , Ulamog naturally understood, and Imoku was asking if Cecilia was the hostess. But on this topic, Ulamog really doesn't know how to answer it, let's say no, but according to his observations that he has been in Marvel Land for so long, Cecilia is definitely in the group of Sean. The second person, everyone is very convinced by Cecilia, and this conviction is obviously not only because of Cecilia's outstanding ability, obviously there is also the factor of Sean.

Should you say yes, Sean never made it clear that Cecilia was their "hostess" relationship intentions.

So in the end, Ulamog could only respond with a look that "you think".

What Ulamo didn't expect was that Imoku, the fellow, directly gave Cecilia a meeting ceremony to meet the hostess.

Unfortunately.

Cecilia, a modern nobleman, was completely ignorant of the etiquette of those ancient aristocrats and ancient knights, so there was no idea why Imoku suddenly had to perform a etiquette that was completely different from the two just now. In the end, Cecilia could only regard this as a quirk of Imoku. After all, based on her contact with Ulamog and Kozilek over the years, she basically knew that the two brothers have different quirks, and Imoku was It does not seem to be surprising that one of their brothers has a strange hobby.

Soon, as the followers of the group army with Sean at the core returned to Oasis City one after another, the originally empty royal hall was soon filled with people.

Needless to say, the core followers of the first generation like Rena, Alfred, Neal, Hella, William, Clover and so on. The followers of the second and third generations, no matter how important their tasks are at the moment, all temporarily put aside and rushed back, even part of the fourth generation that was valued by the void empire because of their "contributions." The talents of the Void Empire also obtained the qualifications to participate in this royal hall meeting.

Among them, it includes Spean, the second most powerful figure in the Cecilia Guards.

He is the demon hunter that Sean brought back when he went to the Black Market of Gray Shadow. His uncle is the Paladin of the Bulwark. Bennock, now the chief guard of the Void Palace, is responsible for the security of the Void Palace. Of course, more are Responsible for personal protection of Neil.

Spenn's personal potential was squeezed out very early, and because he admired Cecilia, he joined the Cecilia Guards and became a knight determined to protect Cecilia. After dozens of fierce battles, the young man not only did not die on the battlefield—even though he passed by the * of death many times—but as the battlefield became proficient, he was gradually caught by Clover. Valued.

After , after the establishment of the Void Empire, he enrolled in the military course of the Void Empire Academy under the recommendation of Clover, and studied under the command of William and Hella. Later, in a series of battles in the expeditionary army, he began to become one of the few new-generation commanders in the expeditionary army based on his years of battlefield experience and the knowledge he learned from William and Hella. Zhong's personal reputation is basically equal to Hina and Oriana.

Basically, it can now be regarded as one of the pillars of the fourth generation of talent in the Void Empire.

The reason why Clover appreciates this young man, or the young man, is naturally because of his almost fanatical loyalty to Cecilia.

Seeing that the people in the hall of the royal hall were all there, Cecilia did not hesitate, and directly reached out to introduce Imoku who was standing aside: "This one is the Lord Imoku. He is Kozilek and Wu. Ramo's brother, he has sworn allegiance to our emperor, Sean Connery, so he is now also a family member of our Void Empire."

Along with Cecilia's introduction, the royal hall burst into applause, and Imoku also saluted everyone.

Of course, no one can understand his weird etiquette.

Cecilia looked at everyone standing in the royal hall. She did not sit on the throne herself, but stood on the side of the throne. During the time when Sean disappeared, countless people dreamed of sitting on this throne, but these countless people will definitely not include these people standing in the royal hall at this moment.

It's not that they are not qualified to sit. In fact, the person who contributed the most to this country should be Neil, because without Neil, even if William and Hella's leadership capabilities are strong, they would not be able to carry out such a large-scale one after another. War of consumption. But whether it is Neil, or William and Hella who have supported the entire void empire all the way down without being defeated by any invaders, or Cecilia, who led everyone to move forward during the disappearance of Sean, they are all never thought of sitting in this chair.

Yes, for others, this is the throne that symbolizes the supreme power of the entire void empire.

For Neal, Hella, Cecilia, William, and even Diana, Alfred, Rena, and many others, this is just a chair. A chair that is no different from the chair in your own home is at most a little bigger and softer.

They are qualified to sit in this chair, but they will never sit in this chair.

There is only one reason.

They respect Sean.

"I know that for a long time, everyone has had questions about whether Sean is still alive. Even if we all say that he is alive, but we have no evidence, we can't show that he is alive, we can only believe that." Cecilia spoke again, and the people in the royal hall gradually stopped applauding, "But now, I can tell you clearly that Sean is in the underground world! He is also thinking of a way to return!"

Speaking of this, the eyes of everyone in the royal hall became unusually bright.

It is true that as Cecilia said, they can only believe that Sean is still alive. But there is sufficient evidence to show, and there is no evidence to show that this is basically a matter of two beliefs-and it is precisely because there is no evidence that the Void Empire began to have more people and power aspirants, so William chose to run. Go to fight with the undead army, and Hela will launch an expeditionary army plan with Diana.

But now, there is ample evidence that Sean is still alive and in the underground world.

Then all this is completely different.

"This letter is the handwritten letter from Sean that Master Imoku brought back today." Cecilia raised the unopened letter in Yang's hand, and then said, "I'm getting this letter. At that time, I could not wait to open it on the spot to see what the  Shaun wrote. But I know, I can't, because the person who cares about him is far more than me, so I must be here and wait until all of you are together It can only be opened after gathering."

In Wang Hall, someone made a kind laugh, and this laughter quickly infected many people.

"Hurry up and take it apart, Master Cecilia, we are all here, I really can't wait."

"That's right, Master Cecilia, take it apart and see what the king wrote."

In response to the expectations of everyone, Cecilia opened the letter under everyone's gaze, and then took out a piece of letter paper glowing with the fragrance of vegetation: "Sean...he wrote on it. The first sentence is, I am fine."

"I'm very good."

The opening is just these three words, but the meaning is very deep.

Its subtext is that there is no need to worry about Sean's disappearance.

Their king is still comforting them.

On the seemingly desperate road several times in the past, it was Sean who showed them hope and the future.

Someone laughed kindly.

But in the laughter, many people have ruddy eyes.

Especially Cecilia, her vision suddenly blurred and she couldn't control it.

She ran out her hand to wipe her face indiscriminately, not caring how helpless and cowardly this behavior seemed, not as strong as she usually showed. At this moment, Cecilia seemed to have returned to the little girl who was surrounded by a group of obviously malicious people on the rainy night fifteen years ago, and then appeared very helpless.

"Sorry, my tears can't stop suddenly." Cecilia's voice was a bit choked.

In fact, not only Cecilia, but Alfred, Rena, William, Hina, Oriana and others, all seemed a little choked.

Of course, more people have red eyes and endure desperately.

No one spoke. Perhaps some third- and fourth-generation people could not understand the reason why so many people in the royal hall had red eyes, but at least they were smart enough and knew the five words "Sean Connery" enough. What kind of meaning does these high-levels of the Void Empire mean?

"Second sentence..." Cecilia's voice was somewhat intermittent, obviously in a situation of extreme emotional fluctuations, "I just beat all the dark elves to the ground, and the forest of deep knowledge is already My place is now, and the arrogant blood elves dare not come to provoke me now."

In the hall of the king, there was a burst of cheers.

"Ha, it's really my king's style."

"Unexpectedly, Lord Lord will go to the underground world, and still feel uneasy at all."

"Unified the entire forest of deep knowledge. This is a major thing that no one has ever done before. It is worthy of Sir Sean."

"It seems that the beasts in the underground world encounter big hemp and annoyance. My king is not the kind of person who will be satisfied if he unifies the forest of profound knowledge."

Looking at the cheering people in the royal hall, Imoku said nothing, because only he knew how dangerous it was to help Rorty Kabas in the process of unifying the forest of deep knowledge. Not to mention the one who was able to evade his interference and perception, but the several assassinations that he encountered afterwards were all battles that almost killed Sean. The hardship and danger in this were simply It's not as simple as the letter says.

Imoku, this letter was written while watching Sean endure the severe pain-on the eve of unifying the entire forest of acquaintances, Sean was wounded by a fanatical blood elf with a self-explosive magic, and he was completely unconscious. He only woke up in a week, and then he immediately wrote this letter, asking Imoku to return to the ground as soon as possible to report his safety.

Cecilia glanced at Imoku, who looked calm. She knew that things must not be as easy as Sean had written. But she knew better that Sean just didn't want them to worry about it. After all, there was a plane barrier, and it was no different from two worlds. It would be useless to tell her own plight, because they in the surface world simply helped. Nothing is busy.

"Our king is really as fearless and love to cause trouble as always." Cecilia resisted the urge to cry in her heart and smiled, "I believe that the guys in the underground world must be very annoyed now. And unhappy... I don't know why, Your Majesty Sean is really good at making people angry."

"Hahaha."

In the king's hall, there was a burst of knowing laughter.

These old people who have followed Sean for a long time know that Sean's ability to cause trouble is really not low at all.

"Master Cecilia, what else did the Lord Lord write?" someone asked.

"Yeah, yeah." A sound of echoing sounded.

"Let me see." Cecilia's gaze fell back on the letter paper, "The third sentence is... There is a * vampire who wants to have trouble with me. To be honest, I was not interested in paying attention to him. But I heard that he has a path to the abyss in his hands, which really arouses my interest."

Someone whistled: "That vampire is done."

"Yes, he must be finished, but Mr. Sean actually has wealth that is taken care of by him. He is going to be unlucky."

The relaxed atmosphere filled the royal hall, and no one thought that Sean would fail.

Because the history of the past ten years tells them, do not underestimate Sean, who is dubbed the "Lord of Miracles", he can always do something beyond anyone's imagination.

It's like no one thought he could become a lord, but he almost overthrew the entire kingdom of Darbion and became a grand duke. Similarly, under the strong intervention of the Peace Council, almost everyone thought he wanted When he confessed, the grand prince overturned the entire peace council; and when everyone thought that the grand prince should start developing with peace of mind, he disappeared.

This is an arrogant grand duke.

This is a restless grand prince.

This is a great prince who loves to cause trouble.

But it is also a great prince who performs miracles.

"Last sentence." Cecilia chanted softly, "When I come back, I will be back soon."

In the royal hall, there was a moment of silence.

Their king, their lord, and their emperor wrote this letter in his own hand, and then the precious letter sent back by a super-powerful who broke through the plane barrier was not asking them for help, but asking them Be relieved, let them calm the restlessness, anxiety, and fear in their hearts, and let them wait for his return.

At this moment, those generals who had never fought side by side with Sean, those third-generation and fourth-generation imperial talents who did not understand Sean, suddenly understood why their elders and seniors would treat this king. Offer your loyalty.

Why those super strong, legendary strong, top strong, will be willing to remain loyal to this missing imperial emperor.

Not because he is the emperor of the void empire.

It is not because they call him king, lord, and emperor.

Because of Sean's unique leadership qualities.

Even if you are alone.

Even alone.

Even if you are helpless.

He still did not give up, still standing like a king, propping up the sky for them.

Cecilia gently folded the letter, then put it back in the envelope, and then carefully stored the envelope.

Her eyes were red, tears gushing silently from her eye sockets, blurring her vision, and then dripping to the ground. But she still stood in front of everyone, "looking" at everyone present, a peculiar breath emanated from her body, and Alexis and others looked at Cecily in a little surprise at this time. Ya, they can feel that Cecilia is undergoing a new transformation, she is getting stronger and stronger.

"Our king, he said let us wait for him to come back." Cecilia's voice was very soft, full of a sense of peace and security, "Do you agree?"

"No!" In the royal hall, there was no hesitation or silence. Almost everyone at this moment uttered the cry that they had been holding in their hearts.

"Yes, I don't agree." Cecilia said softly, "How can our king come back alone. Then, tell me, what should we do?"

"Welcome!"

"Let's go to meet the king's return personally!"

"Our king, we must go and welcome him back!"

"Yes." Cecilia nodded, "Sean is our king, our leader, our emperor, and our lord. How can we let him come back alone. We must go and welcome him back, Tell him in front of him that he is now the emperor of the Void Empire, the emperor of the eighth empire of the Marvel Continent, and his return must be grand and grand!"

took a deep breath, Cecilia shook her words with immense magic power, making her words echo throughout the void empire: "Our king, we must personally welcome his return!"

"Our king must personally meet his return!"

"Our king! We must personally welcome his return!"

"Our King!"

"Our King..."

Mixed with all kinds of negative emotions for a long time, finally under the roar of Cecilia, it was completely vented.

The people in the king's hall also responded with bursts of roars.

This roar passed through the royal hall to the entire Oasis City, to the entire wilderness, and to the entire void empire.

The king of the void empire, Sean Connery, how can he walk home alone alone?

This is their king.

This is their emperor.

This is the leader who leads them to build a settlement.

They must personally greet his return!

Chapter 170: .Rotti Kabas' Plan

Shaun lay on a soft bed with his eyes closed and rested.

This is a luxuriously decorated room, but judging from the texture on the wall, it should be a tree hole dug out of the body of a big tree, not a normal building with building materials. However, the tree hole itself is dissipated with a very soft energy, which is full of extremely exuberant vitality. Resting in this tree hole can not only accelerate the recovery of energy, but also some dark diseases, minor injuries and minor illnesses. The recovery speed of the class is also much faster than normal.

Shaun rolled his body slightly, but the sharp pain from his chest and abdomen made him groan.

"How's the injury?" A thick voice sounded, and along with the sound of footsteps passing from far to near, Rorty Kabas, who had taken off a heavy armor, stepped into the tree hole.

Sean opened his eyes a little weary, then glanced at Rorty Kabas, showing a weak smile: "This time it seems to be a big game."

Looking at Sean's appearance, Rorty Kabas frowned slightly, he quickly stepped forward, and then directly lifted the quilt that Sean was covering.

On Xiao En's chest and abdomen, there is a scorch mark of a large area, and a faint red light flashes on the scorch mark from time to time. From the frequency point of view, it is not difficult to analyze that the flashing time of this red light is connected with the pulse time of Sean's heart. It looks like this red light has its own breathing rhythm. .

This red scorch mark is the famous horror magic of the blood elves: the blood elves curse.

This magic can only be performed by a legendary powerhouse with a pure blood elf bloodline. It will squeeze the blood and soul of the blood elven powerhouse to form a powerful explosion of energy. Its power judgment is roughly equivalent to the power of ninth-level magic, and the damage range is about one kilometer. All substances that cannot resist or save damage will be erased by the energy shock in an instant.

And even if it can withstand the destruction of this energy shock, it will be a curse.

The specific effect of this curse is to weaken all the resistance and strength of the recruited, and it will continue to consume the vitality of the subject.

Shaun originally possessed the strength of a legendary powerhouse, and his body was also a silver body, but because of this curse, his current strength has greatly decreased, and even the level of a sanctuary powerhouse cannot be used. Bear the pain of being swallowed by his own vitality.

This is why Rorty Kabas will place Sean in this tree hole.

You should know that this tree hole is not an ordinary tree hole, but the core tree hole of the only tree of life in the entire forest of deep knowledge that is about to start to hit the level of the world tree. The life energy here is strong enough to allow a severely injured and dying legendary powerhouse to recover to the level of walking on the ground within five days, but for Sean, who has been lying in this tree hole for almost two weeks, However, it only maintained the vitality of the blood elves curse, and Xiao En's strength was damaged and could not be recovered.

But fortunately, as long as he is in this tree hole, Sean can at least use the power of the law, and he won't even lose the ability to protect himself.

This is also one of the reasons why Imoku agreed to deliver the letter for Sean temporarily.

"Didn't you say that at most two weeks, you can suppress the injury?" Rorty Kabas's voice was very serious. "It has been two weeks now, but I can't see any improvement in your injury. Signs!"

"It's only been a week since I woke up. It's still a long way from two weeks. Don't be nervous." On the contrary, Sean comforted Rorty Kabas, without the consciousness of becoming a useless person again." I didn't expect that there would be a sneak attack by a legendary powerhouse. I didn't pay attention for a while before I was hit. But don't worry, the blood elves curse this magic. I am very familiar with it, so I really don't need to be nervous."

Blood Elf Curse, the signature magic of the blood elves, belongs to the forbidden level.

In the game, when players were fighting with people in the underground world, many players had tried this trick. Of course the player was very panicked at the beginning, because this skill is too foul: it will continue to deduct the player's experience value, and when the current experience value drops to zero, it will drop the level, and it will also weaken the player's current percentage. Of thirty.

But later, when players discovered that this skill can be restrained by powerful life energy-after all, any magic needs energy as fuel to activate, and if the fuel supply is more expensive than the consumption of magic, then It is very easy to destroy the structure of the magic itself-after that, players are not very afraid of the self-destructive skill of blood elves. At most, I think this skill is particularly disgusting, so it is generally better to miss it, otherwise it will be an endless rest period- according to the exchanges of the forum players, it generally takes at least two weeks of rest period.

Only at that time, the players recruited in the game are generally only the tenth and eleventh sacred domain powerhouses. Sean is now a legendary powerhouse anyway, and his resistance is definitely much stronger than that of the players.

But just to be on the safe side, Sean would say that he needs two weeks of rest.

Because he felt that his injury this time was not without benefits.

Let alone Rorty Kabas directly let Sean enter the core tree hole of this fifth-level tree of life to rest. Just the continuous tug-of-war between the two energies is constantly strengthening Sean's silver body, and he can even feel that his silver body is becoming stronger and stronger, and once this sense of solidity is complete, Sean believes that his silver body will definitely usher in a transformation.

So what will be the qualitative change of the silver body?

The answer is naturally golden!

This is one of the prerequisites to the super strong.

In addition, the powerful life energy continuously nourishes his body, and also allows Sean's physical fitness to be continuously improved. The most obvious sign is that in Sean's personal attribute data, he can see his endurance. The attributes are constantly improving.

Judging from the laws of time and space that Shaun now controls, if he wants to maximize his laws and abilities, then strong physical fitness is a must. Therefore, the improvement of endurance attributes is absolutely beneficial to Sean without any harm-although it may be painful even to turn over a little at present, it is an indisputable fact that this kind of pain decreases day by day.

When these conditions get better, Sean will show the confidence of indifferent appearance.

It's just that Rorty Kabas is not Sean after all. He can't really feel the changes in Sean's condition. The only thing he can see is this scorch mark on Sean's chest and abdomen, which has not disappeared or healed at all. Signs of, that's why he was so angry.

"Don't be nervous!?! You actually made me nervous!" Roti Kabas's decibel could not help but increased a few points. "You were in a coma at the time, and Imoku ran away, almost ruining half of the coalition troops. If you get there Time can't be healed...No, let alone healed, if you can't recover and walk on the ground, your followers will definitely tear down the entire forest of knowledge!"

"Don't worry, that kind of situation will never happen." Sean smiled weakly, still comforting Rorty Kabas.

In fact, Sean did not make a mistake, because if he died, all the followers he summoned through the guard system would die with him, and there would be no time and opportunity to take revenge in the underground world.

It's just this kind of relief that obviously can't satisfy Rorty Kabas: "You tell the truth, don't feel embarrassed, we are allies. After all, you are hurting only to allow me to control the entire forest of knowledge, maybe many people I think we dark elves are ungrateful, but I am not Roti Kabas. I know you are very knowledgeable and know a lot of secrets in the underground world that even I don't know. Tell me directly, what do I need to do? Let you recover. Whether I can do it or not, I will try my best to do it."

Sean looked at Rorty Kabas in a little surprise, but he didn't expect Rorty Kabas to tell him this to himself.

In fact, the dark elves have always had a bad impression, because they are all people who do not keep their promises. The only way to make the dark elves surrender is to have a powerful strength that completely surpasses them, making them completely unable to raise any thoughts of resistance.

But what Rorty Kabas said is obviously not because of Sean's strong strength, but because he really regards Sean as a companion and his own.

"I can feel that my body functions are constantly recovering. This is not a joke. If you really want to help me, then don't let anyone enter this tree hole until I fully recover." Sean Looking at Rorty Kabas, he said seriously, "In the Forest of Deep Knowledge, there are not many people I can trust, but you are definitely one of them. Now you have just unified the Forest of Deep Knowledge.

People with ulterior motives must Quite a lot, especially... your dark elves are already good at fighting for power."

"I understand what you mean." Rorty Kabas nodded, "I will let my  be responsible for the safety here, and make sure that even a fly can't get in."

Sean nodded slightly, but perhaps the movement was too great, and his brows wrinkled slightly.

"You have a good rest." Seeing that Rorty Kabas couldn't help, he could only sigh helplessly, "If you need anything, just let people come to me."

"What I am more worried about now is whether what will happen to Imoku after returning to the surface world." Sean said helplessly. "After all, when I came to the underground world, the void Principality was in a very difficult situation in the surface world. It's a bit embarrassing. Although I'm not worried about what will happen to Cecilia and the others, I'm more worried because in my absence, those guys will do some completely unpredictable horror."

"E.g?"

"For example, let the Void Principality become an empire, or keep fighting to divert the internal conflicts that I have disappeared."

"You trouble maker, you still have a chance to worry about others?" Roti Kabas coldly snorted, "How long have you been in the underground world, you have stirred up the whole underground world, and now it is even a well-known forest. They were all directly beaten down by you. William and Hela were deeply influenced by your influence. I think your worries are simply unnecessary. It is not whether they will do it, but they will definitely do it."

Sean looked helplessly at Rorty Kabas: "If I can, I really don't want it.... You know, I established a principality just to let those who follow me have one. It's just a place to stay, but now I've found it, and I can't help myself a lot of things."

"Indeed." Rorty Kabas nodded, "I didn't feel that way before, but when I really unified the entire forest of knowledge, I discovered that many things are no longer what I want to do. Now, I have to consider the balance and position of the entire dark elves.... But for this, I would also like to thank you for messing up the entire underground world, otherwise, even if it really unifies the entire acquaintance for me Lin, countless troubles will follow."

"It's not the same now." Although Sean was in a coma for a week and lay in this tree hole for another week, Serena and Kane would still send a lot of information here to let Sean understand the situation, so Xiao En, for the current changes in the forest that he knows well, it is not a slander.

"But at least for now, I have a very simple and rude solution." Roti Kabas smiled, this smile looked very murderous, "This is still learned from you.... So I said, you really Is a good teacher."

"Because the winner on the board is not necessarily the one with good chess skills." Sean knows what Rorty Kabas means. After all, what Rorty Kabas wants to do now is what players do most often in the game. : Since I can't beat you on the chessboard, then I won't fight with you. I just flipped the chessboard and said, "Who are you going to play against?"

"It's the one you think in your heart." Rorty Kabas smiled.

"Yes, there is indeed a good excuse." Sean also laughed, "In that case, when you win, I want the blood elves to put something in the treasure room."

"what?"

"A drop of source blood from the blood elf ancestors." Shaun said, "There are ten drops of source blood, but I guess after so many years, there will be at most three to four drops left. Whether it's three or four drops. , You have to take one drop to me, and you have to take one drop by yourself. This thing can purify your elven bloodline and make your bloodline more inclined to the ancient elves. If you still plan to attack the realm of super power, then It must not be wasted."

"This thing is useless to you, right?" When Sean said that he could purify the bloodline, Rorty Kabas knew that this thing was meaningless to Sean, because Sean's bloodline was not the bloodline of the elves.

"It's useless for me, but it's useful for Kane." Sean said in a deep voice. "The blood race is a very special race. Basically any thing that purifies blood is very useful to them. It can almost be said that there is no taboo.... ...I want to train Kane and let him take the place of that tyrant. Then his strength, or the purity of his blood, must not be so bad, otherwise it will be meaningless."

"It seems that you really care about this little guy, and you have made such a big investment in him." Rorty Kabas smiled.

"No way, after all, the ethnic groups in your underground world are very exclusive. If you have a choice, of course I will find a spokesperson from the surface world." Sean sighed helplessly, "But Kane, this person, is indeed very good. I have been observing for so long, and I will never misunderstand the person....With him, at least the forest you know well will have an eternal ally."

"What about Serena?" Rorty Kabas asked.

"That woman...it's hard to say." Shaun shook his head, "Now I and her have the same interests for the time being, but she also resents me. Maybe she can coexist with Kane, but it's absolutely impossible with me. Yes, if there is a chance, she will definitely cause me another trouble."

Rorty Kabas didn't have any doubts about what Shaun said. He nodded and said: "Okay, I know what to do, don't worry, I will definitely grab this drop of source blood for you."
